ALMANN AWARDED DRAMATIC MEDAL

It was announced last night that the Rector's Medal for Dramatics has been awarded to Al Mann, a sophomore Journalism student, who so expertly portrayed boxer Joe Pendleton in the Saint Mary's College Playshop's 1947 production, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." It was the winner's first experience in the field of dramatics.

Judges for the award were Rev. A. B. Leverman, Mr. W. A. Russell, Mr. J. E. Flinn.

Rector's Christmas

LONG ago St. John, the beloved disciple, surmised the meaning of Christmas when he wrote, "The world as to send His only-begotten Son". The message is fundamentally the revelation of God. Calvary our Saviour reached down for our sins, reached out for our hearts.

DESPITE the worldwide anxiety and distress and destitution in so many countries, there is joy. While we may not have the worldly peace and freedoms our statesmen so eloquently extolled, we can have the peace and happiness by understanding. It is realized in the present. Who gave us our first Christmas.

THE joy of Christmas, the joy of the crib is the joy that the world knows. If we wish true joy of Christmas we must look beyond the trappings of the feast to the heavenly Prince Who still points the way as He did from the cave of Bethlehem. May He guide you in His way; May He increase His love in your hearts; May He grant you His most precious gifts and blessings.

ANNUAL FACULTY TEA

The Ladies' Auxiliary held their annual Faculty Tea last month with about 200 persons attending. The Tea provided an opportunity for parents to meet the teaching staff of the college.

Mrs. G. F. Cline, Mrs. T. H. Hurlbath, Mrs. T. J. Moore, and Mrs. Joseph Donahoe poured tea. Assisting in the serving were: Mrs. T. M. Lee, Mrs. J. J. Napier, Mrs. J. D. Connolly, Mrs. W. Heenan, Mrs. J. W. Belair, Mrs. J. D. Devan, Mrs. E. ...

The Ladies' Glee Club, directed by Mr. David Asselin, S.J., made its debut Wednesday night when the organization rendered three negro spirituals, two old standbys, and a Christmas hymn between acts of the college play.

Next term, the club will annex some high school boarder talent and stage a vocal concert, according to current plans. The musicals will be held in the college gymnasium with about twenty ...

REV. D. FOGARTY, S.J.
Journal Adviser

The play centers around an enthusiastic and rather dumb pugilist attempting to find a suitable body after his soul is prematurely spirited to heaven by an over-zealous messenger. (Gerry Parsons). Assisted by a Paradise big-shot, Mr. Jordan (Ron Downie), boxer Joe Pendleton (Al Mann) first inhabits the body of a 20-million-dollar financier, Jonathan Farnsworth, who has just been drowned in his bathtub by his wife, Julia (Barbara McFarthy) and her heart-throb Tony ...

Joe feels another man's body for a while and hops into K. O. Murdoch's when the fighter is bumped off in the ring by gangsters. So Joe gets a good body and the light heavyweight championship and Mr. Jordan decides to let the fighter stay where he is.

Mrs. Farnsworth and Tony confer their mindlessness to police inspector Williams (John Delaney), Bette and Joe (now Murdoch) are attracted to each other, Mr. Jordan returns to his post in the other world, Max Levine and Lefty (Bill Russell)—K. O. Murdoch's manager—make a satisfactory deal, and everyone is happy.

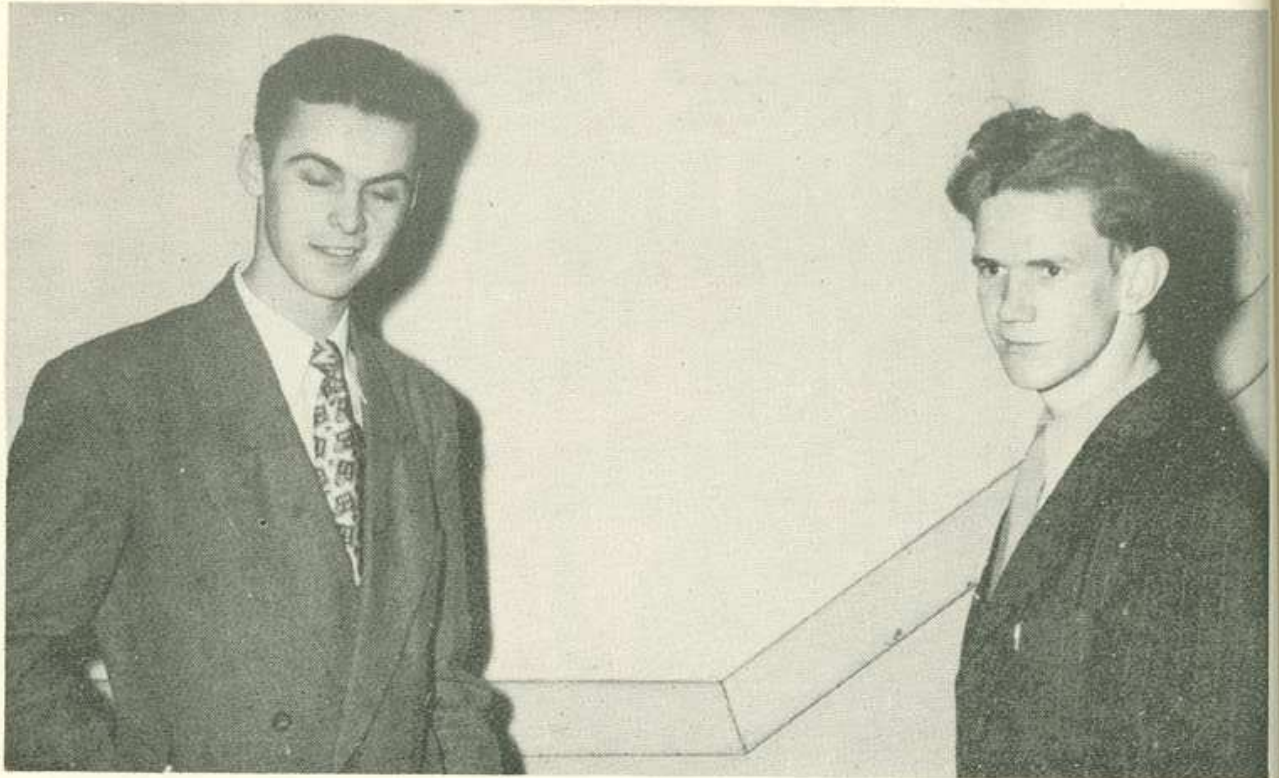

"Crime Does Not Pay" The play's moral seems to be that goodheartedness and generosity finally overcome adversity and the old standby—that crime does not pay. In certain sections, the dialogue leaves much to be desired, but skillful interpretation irons out this failing. While the theme of the drama is almost as old as the proverbial hills, it transcends the commonplace through the unique aspect of portrayal. Modernization of ancient credences gains audience interest and the plot complications hold it.

As Nova Scotian As Its Name!

OUR Head Office is in the capital of Nova Scotia our three Branch Offices span the Province from end to end our three hundred and eighty shareholders are all Nova Scotians but thirty-five our seventeen Directors are all native Nova Scotians. . . . So it may truly be said that our interest and activities are overwhelmingly Nova Scotian.

Familiar as we are from long experience with Nova Scotian affairs, we can therefore provide the most competent on-the-spot trustee, executor or administrator service for the largest corporation or the smallest estate.

Quality is never an accident—it is always the result of intelligent effort. There must be the will to produce a superior thing; a clear conception of what quality is; a knowledge and skill equal to the purpose at hand, a willingness to test the product under any conditions. A standard of quality once attained must be held by a will no less firm than which established it.—JOHN RUSKIN.
