FOOTBALL HUSKIES 1982

Head Football Coach Al Keith stood at the helm of his Huskies on September 18th with a young squad of 20 new and 20 returning players, eager for the opening kickoff to begin their 1982 league schedule on the year-old AstroTurf surface in Huskies Stadium.

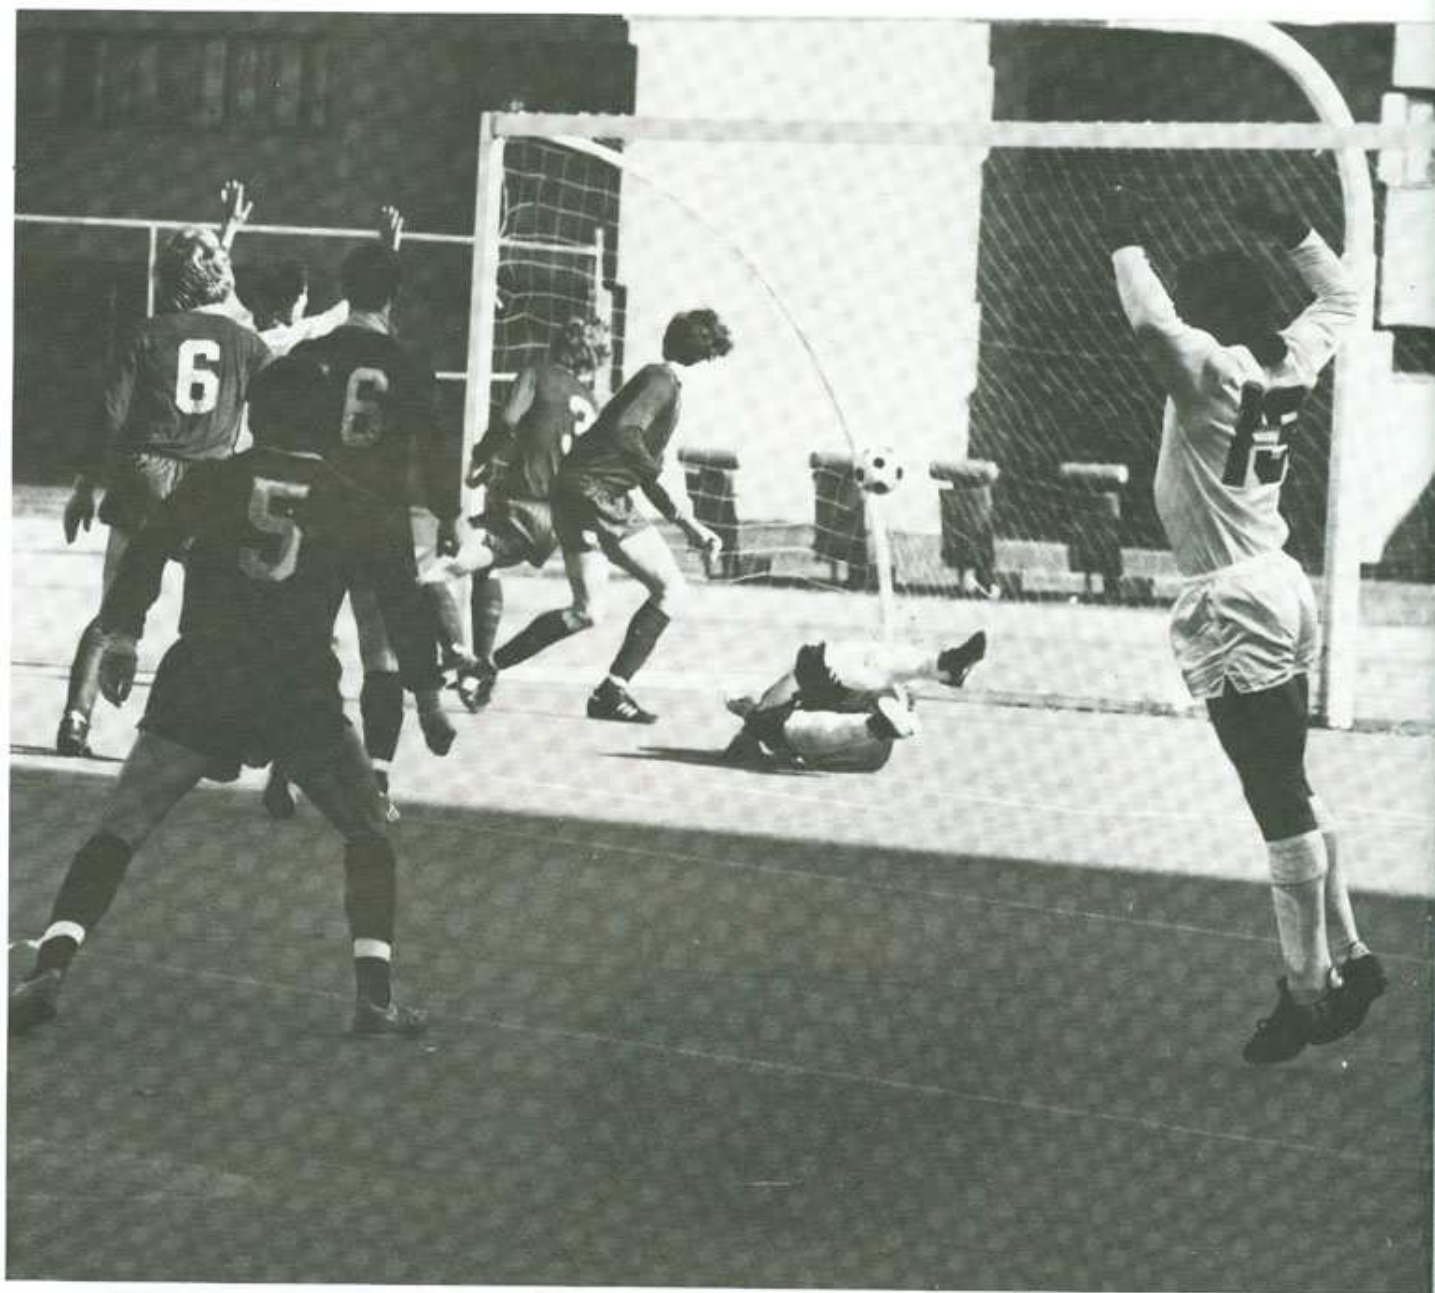

Optimism and Confidence with a capital "O" and "C" were the words thought and heard most, and despite five consecutive losses, it wasn't until the final gun sounded to end their sixth game that a chance for a playoff berth dissolved.

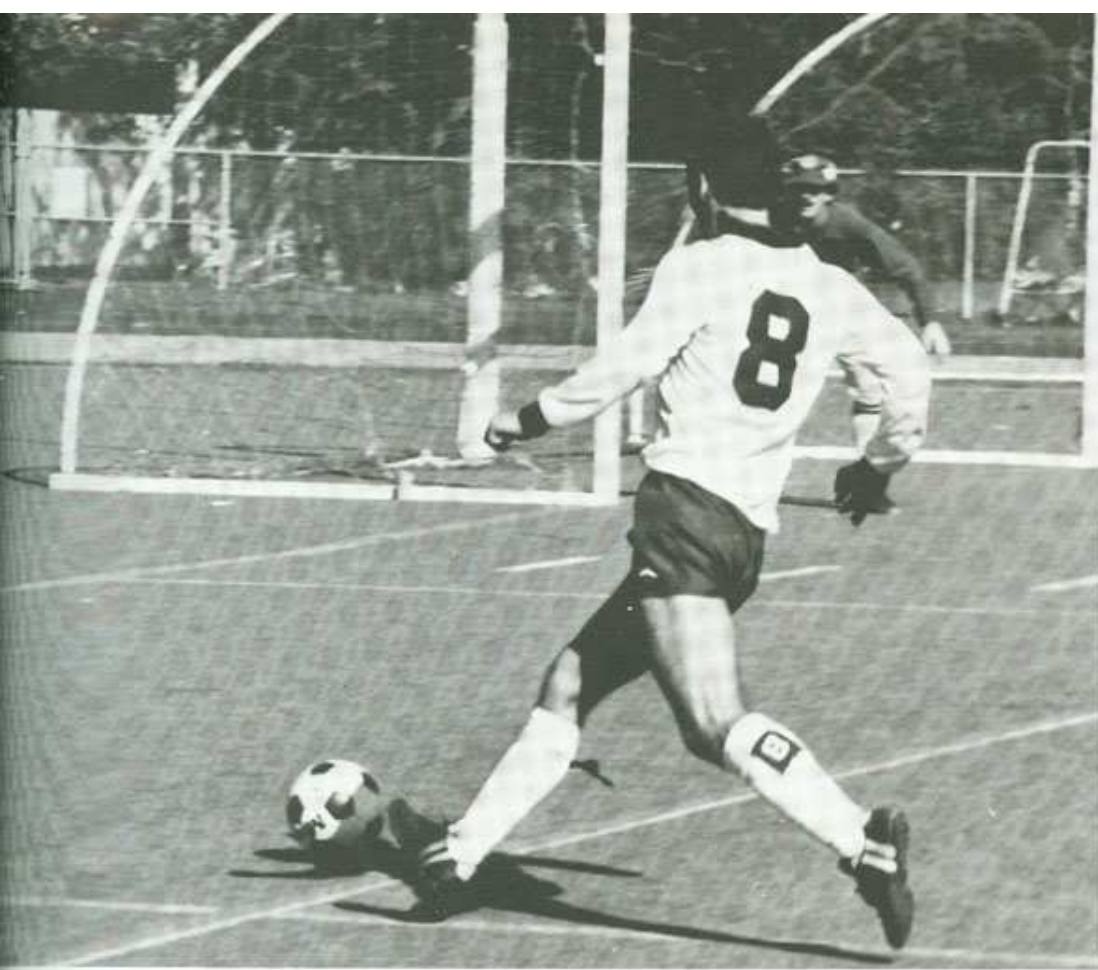

The Huskies went on to finish in fourth place with a dismal 0-7 winless season; but it was a strong start for the 1983 season with several extremely talented football players already forming the base for a much improved club . . . one capable of challenging for the title with a few key revisions to the roster.

Wide receiver John Kowalski broke a conference record for most receptions in a single game with 13 completed passes on October 23rd at St. Francis Xavier University. Kowalski was joined by teammates Steve Molnar at linebacker, and Chris Tzaneteas at Kicker on the All-Conference squad, and Kowalski also received All-Canadian honours. Linebacker Jim Czenze was selected as the winner of the coveted Block and Tackle award as the Huskies' top lineman.

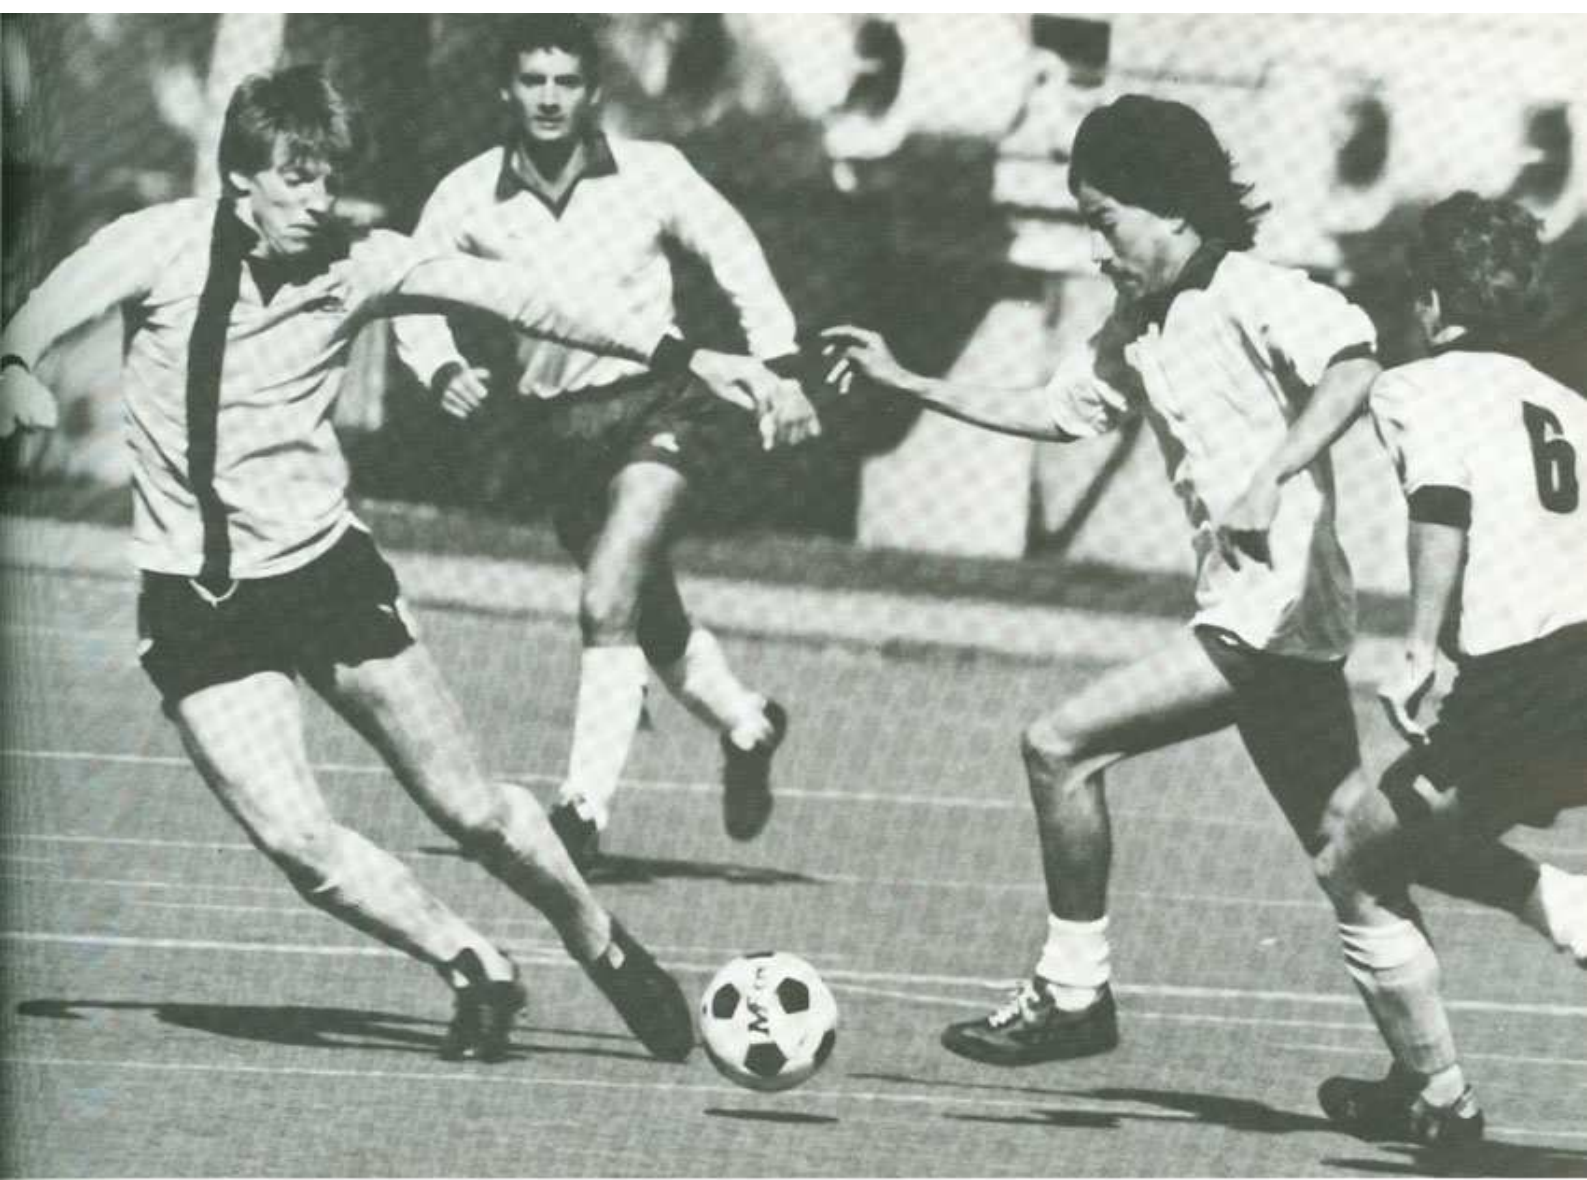

After nine years as Head Coach, in which he won four Atlantic and one Canadian championship and was named A.U.A.A. and C.I.A.U. Coach of the Year, Al Keith stepped down from his position at the season's conclusion to make way for a rising star on the coaching horizon, former C.F.L. all-star Larry Uteck. With Coach Uteck comes the dawning of a new age for the return of Huskies dominance on the gridiron.

SOCGER HUSKIES 1982

The Soccer Huskies embarked on their 1982 season with the conference title to defend. A strong lineup led by All-Canadians Geoff Agostini at midfield, and forwards Jim Sidey and Ross Webb, lent credibility to their claim for another banner year.

A ten game schedule became tougher as it progressed for the Huskies who recorded ties to rival Dalhousie Tigers and the Mt. Allison Mounties, and a late season 3-1 loss to the Tigers. The Huskies hung on to their first place, finishing with a 7-1-2 record and the right to host the A.U.A.A. Championships.

A home crowd in your home stadium should spell success, but the Huskies continued the jinx which has never allowed them to take the championship in familiar territory. Once again, they failed to capture league laurels at home when a disappointing 2-1 loss to the U.P.E.I. Panthers in opening round action put them out of contention. The game was not decided until the completion of two overtime periods and a shootout.

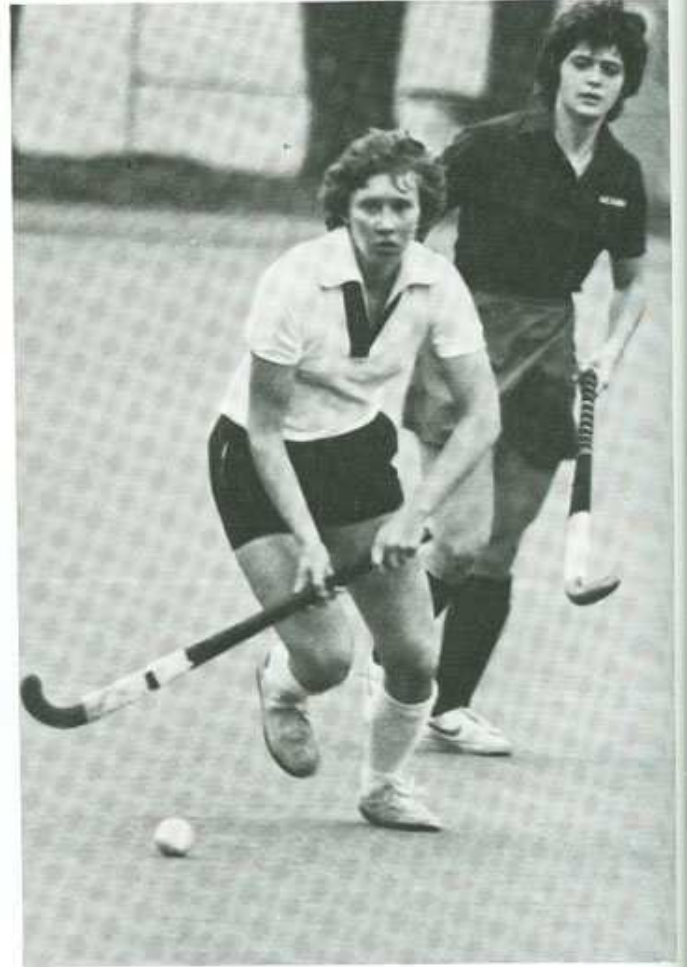

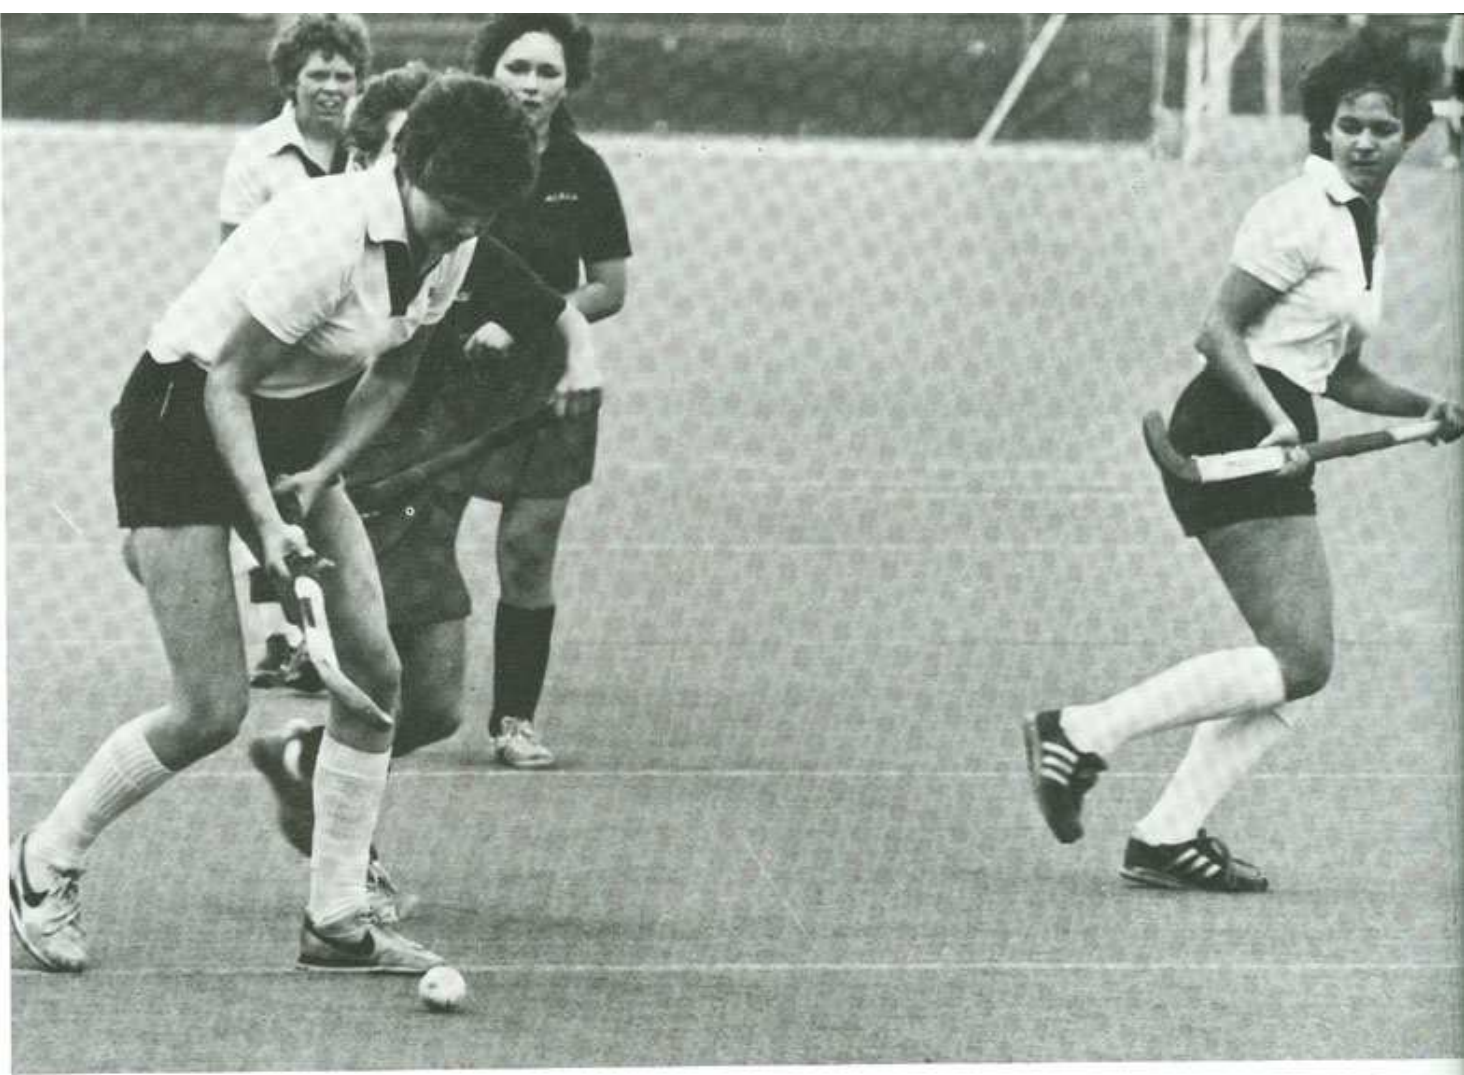

Fullback Peter Wicha was selected the team's Most Valuable Player, and Captain Ross Webb was chosen the University's Athlete of the Year.

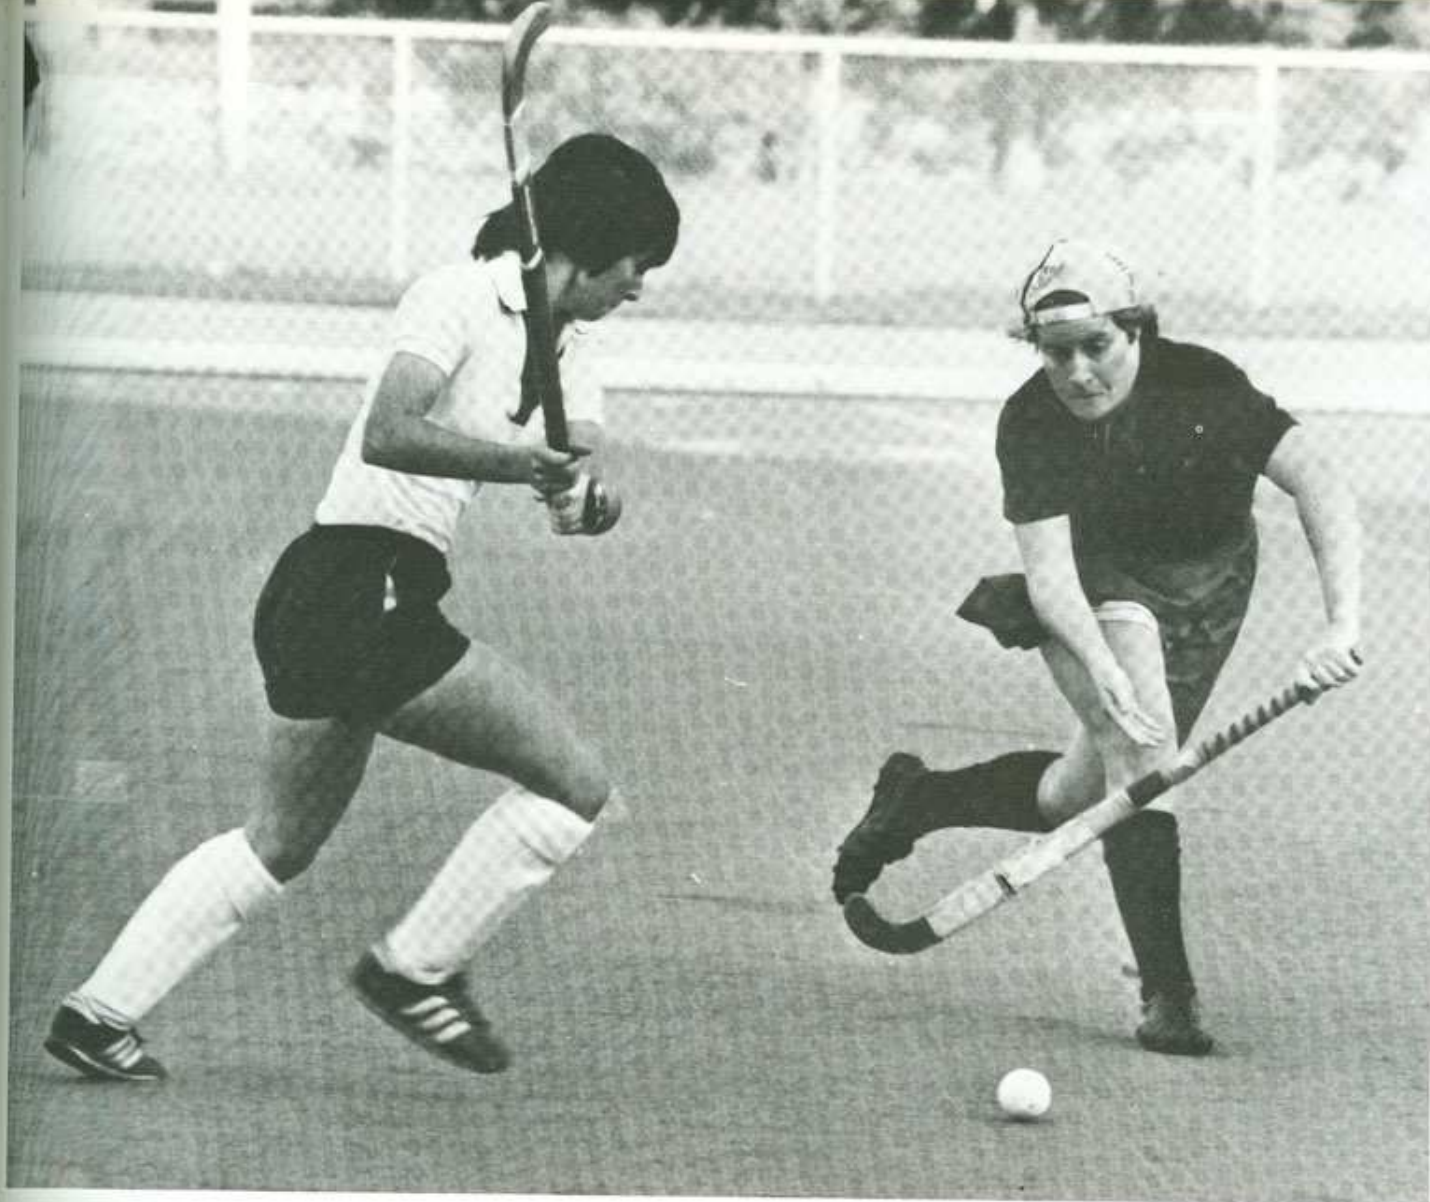

The graduation of Webb, Sidey, Wicha, and several others poses a problem for Head Coach Roy Clements, but several skilled rookies are ready to move into a starting role in the 1983 season to carry on the tradition of excellence the Soccer Huskies have built in the last few years.

Missing: Manager Theresa Nicholls

FIELD HOCKEY 1982

Head Coach Helen Castonguay took the reins for her first year and steered her field hockey squad toward a demanding schedule.

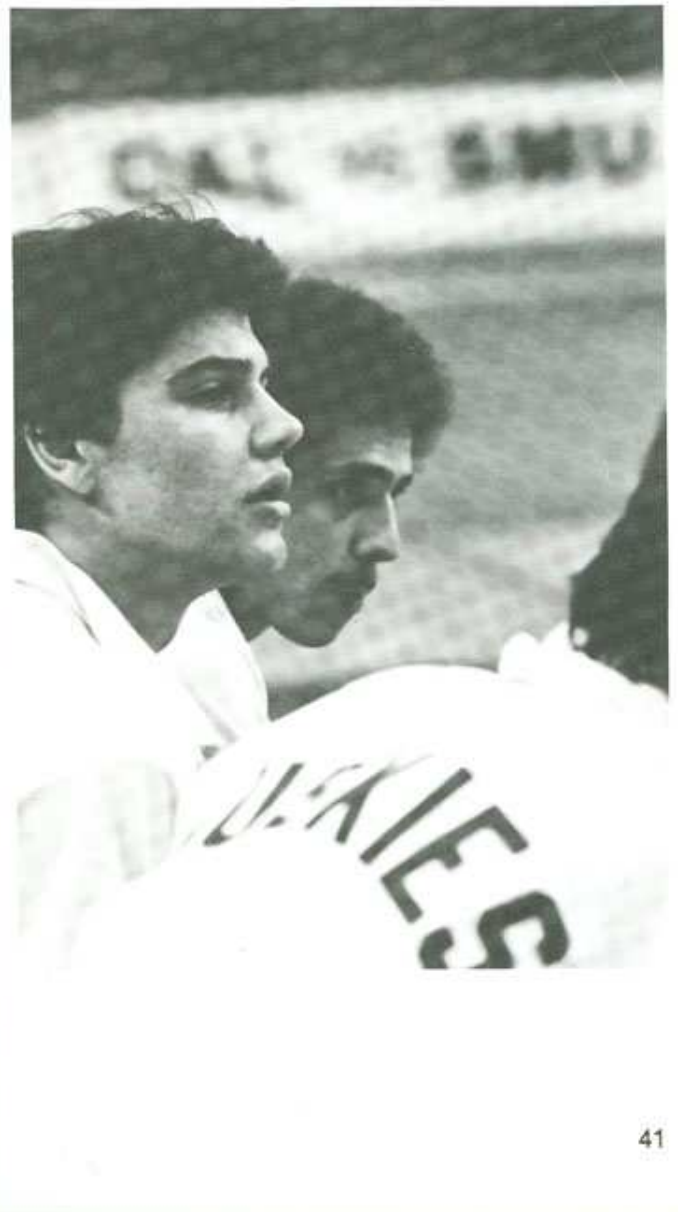

The first four opponents of the season were the eventual competitors in the league championships, and a 4-1 record in the opening half of the season left little choice except to go undefeated in the backstretch to insure a playoff berth. A 5-1 tally gave them an overall 9-5-1 record and third place, one short of a trip to the A.U.A.A. Championships.

Captain Karen McKellar and converted goalkeeper Margie Longley were chosen to the All-Conference team. Longley was chosen the team's Most Valuable Player and McKellar was selected Athlete of the Year at Saint Mary's for her second consecutive year.

The loss of McKellar, Longley, and several other players leaves a large gap in the lineup, but returning Head Coach Kathy Mullane is confident of a league contender in 1983.

MENS' BASKETBALL

Missing: Manager Steve MacCormack, Assistant Coach Hugh MacDonald, Trainers Kathy Reid and Jan Sutherland

1982-83 MEN'S BASKETBALL

After a highly successful 81-82 season, the 82-83 Huskies inherited an admirable reputation, minus the graduated stars of the previous year.

Head Coach Gary Heald stated from the outset that his 82-83 club would not repeat the previous year's performance, but would be a title contender when the playoffs arrived.

Key injuries at mid-season left the team without a bonafide guard, but capable fill-ins from the lineup handled those duties until the squad was healthy again. Haligonian guard David Smith was the only player who failed to return to active duty due to a back injury.

A see-saw struggle with league opponents throughout the schedule ended with the Huskies in second place on a 12-6 record. Post-season action elevated the underdog Santamarians to national prominence where their pursuit of excellence has so often led them.

Conference playoffs placed the tough Dalhousie Tigers and St. Francis Xavier X-Men in the Huskies' path, but a thrilling one point victory over Dal and a convincing win over the X-Men gave Saint Mary's a hard-earned A.U.A.A. title.

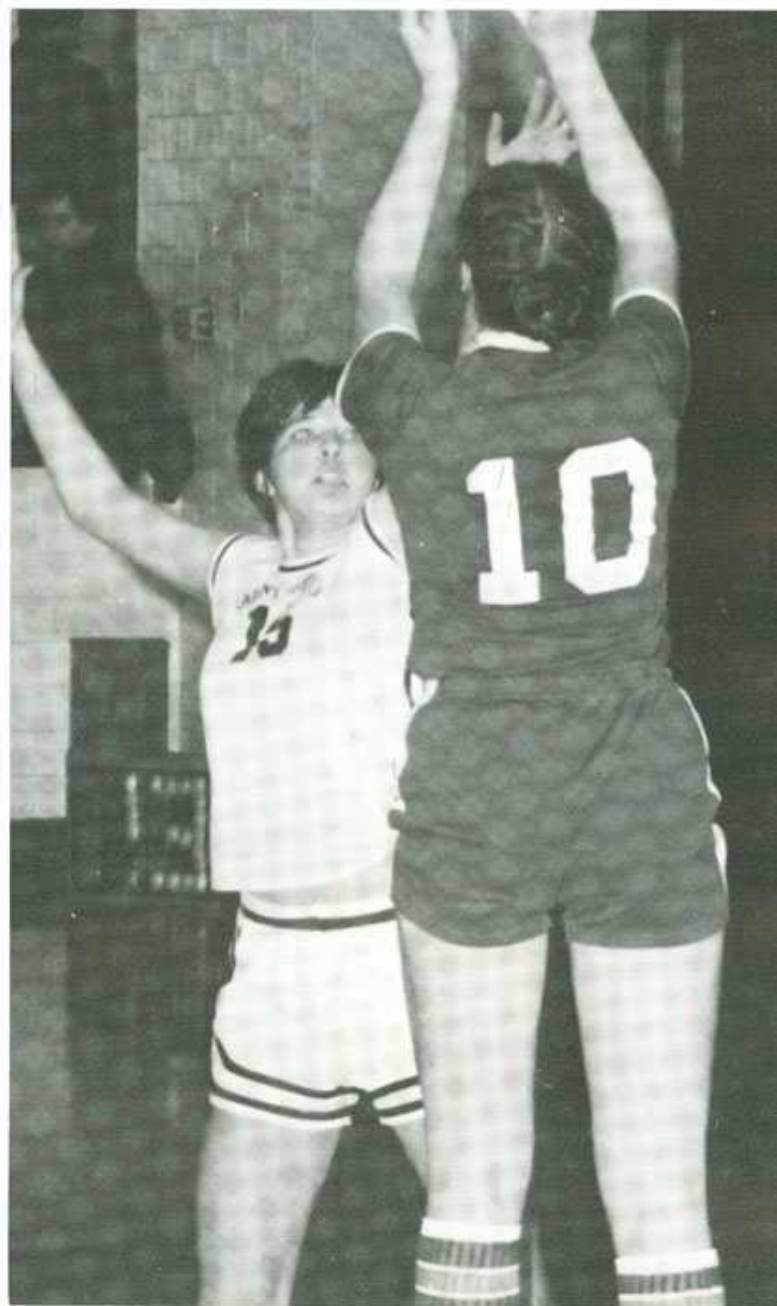

The Eastern Canadian Regionals next faced the Atlantic Champion Huskies on the road to the Nationals, and wins over the Brock Badgers and York Yeomen for the Eastern Championship send the Huskies on to Waterloo for the four team finals.

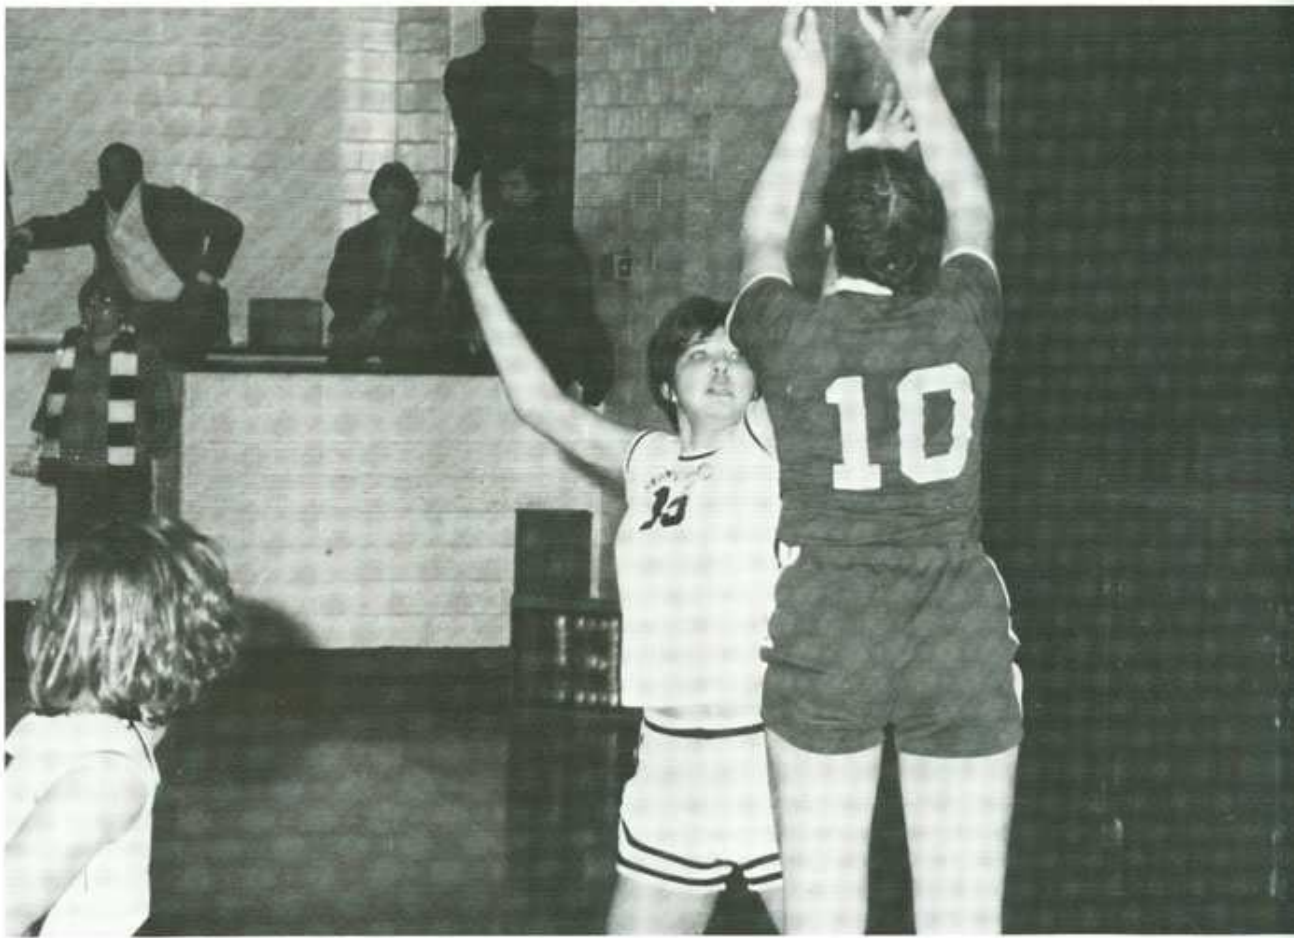

Finally . . . Waterloo! Only four teams remained for the Canadian crown. The defending national champions, Victoria Vikings, once again stood in the way of ultimate success for the Huskies. The Vikings escaped opening round action with a narrow six point victory over the Maroon & White.

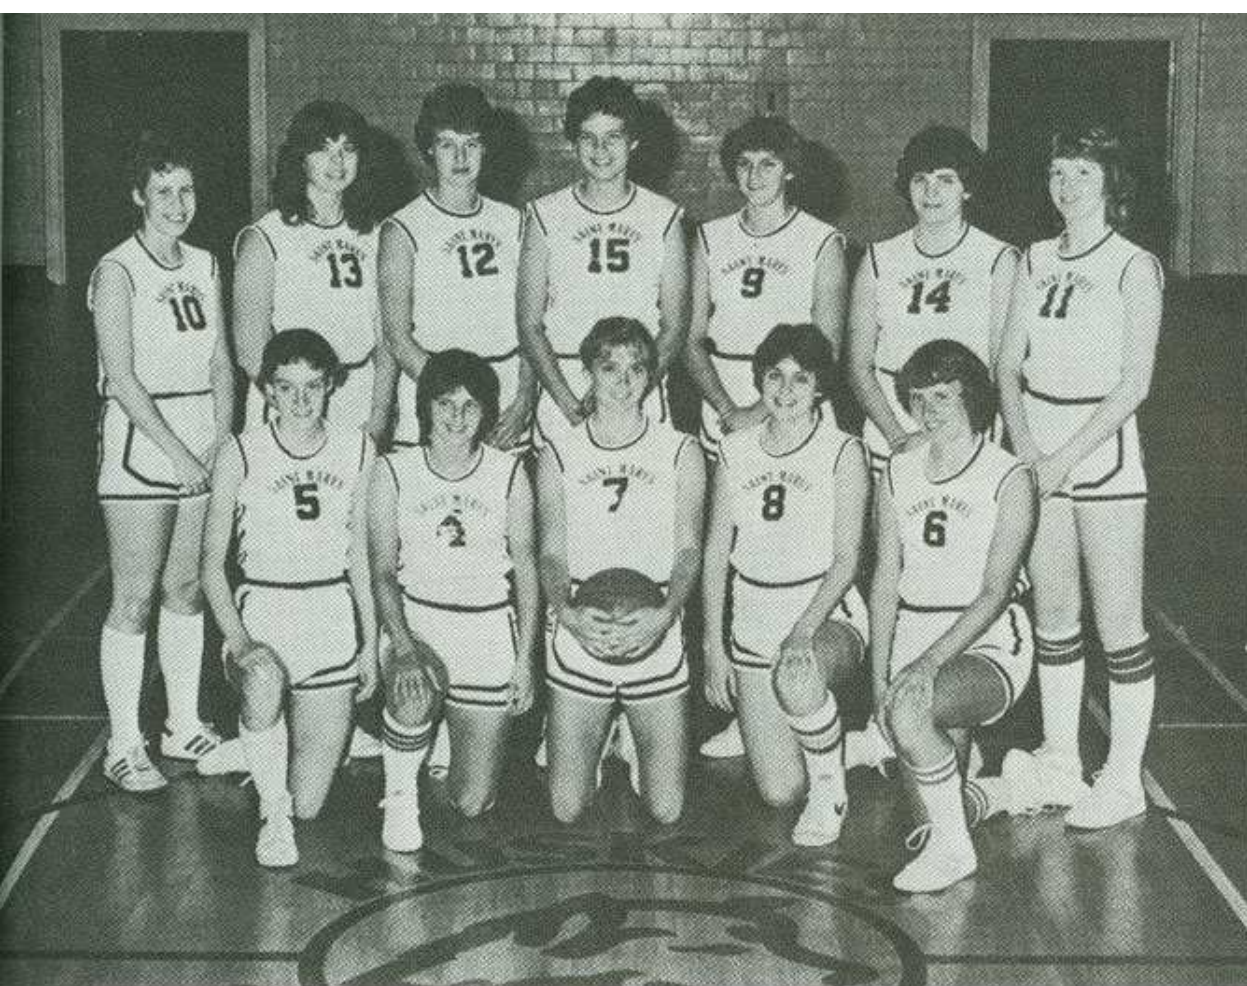

Very few looked at the Huskies in late January as a league contender, let alone a national threat. But, true to Coach Heald's predictions in the pre-season, the Huskies captured the A.U.A.A. title, Eastern Canadian Championship, and Canadian semi-final berth.

1982-83 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Under the tutelage of Head Coach Helen Castonguay, the women's basketball team worked hard for a 7-7 league record and fourth place finish.

Once again, the Dalhousie Tigers and University of New Brunswick Red Bloomers stood in the way of a conference title, shutting out Saint Mary's hopes for victory in four league encounters and one playoff meeting. The A.U.A.A. Championships were held in Fredericton and the Saint Mary's club faced U.N.B. in first round action. Their third defeat of the season to the Red Bloomers halted any further progress for the Maroon & White in the 1982-83 campaign.

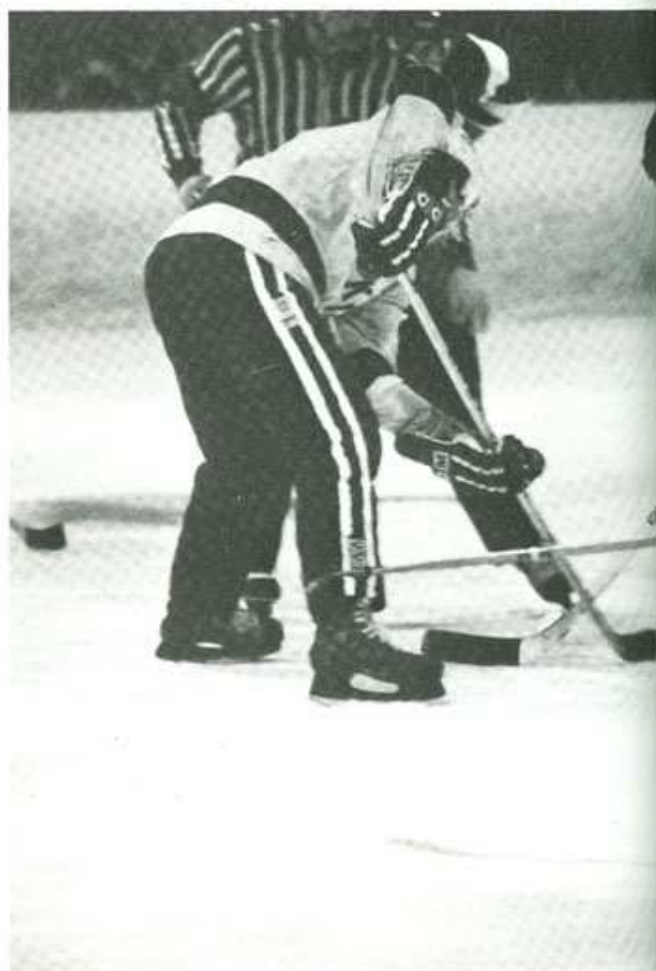

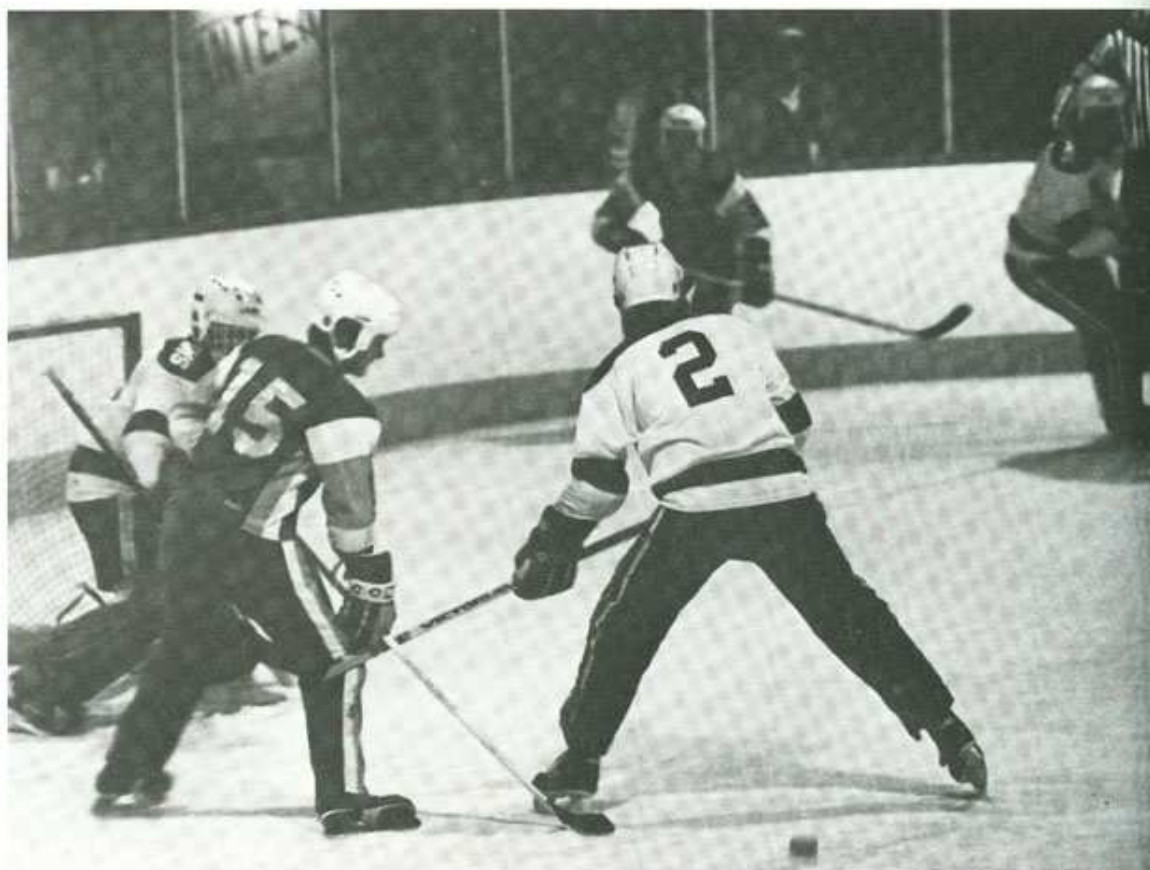

The S.M.R. Invitational was held in mid-November with both university and senior teams competing. The host Santamarians were the eventual champions.

Second year player Sandra Mumford was selected to the conference all-star team for her outstanding performances in rebounding and scoring statistics.

The graduation of captain Karen McKellar left a major gap in the lineup, but Coach Castonguay was optimistic about finding a very capable replacement.

With a little luck, and team experience paired with talent, the 1983-84 season promises success.

1982-83 HOCKEY HUSKIES

The 1982-83 Hockey Huskies enjoyed moderate success with a young team. After upsetting hometown rival Dalhousie Tigers in the last conference game, the Huskies finished fourth and clinched the final league playoff spot on a 12-11-1 record.

A tight race for the playoff berths developed in the post-Christmas stretch, and while the Huskies had their share of disappointments they hung on for semi-final playoff action against the defending national champion Universite de Moncton Blue Eagles. The Blue Eagles eliminated the Huskies from further competition in two games.

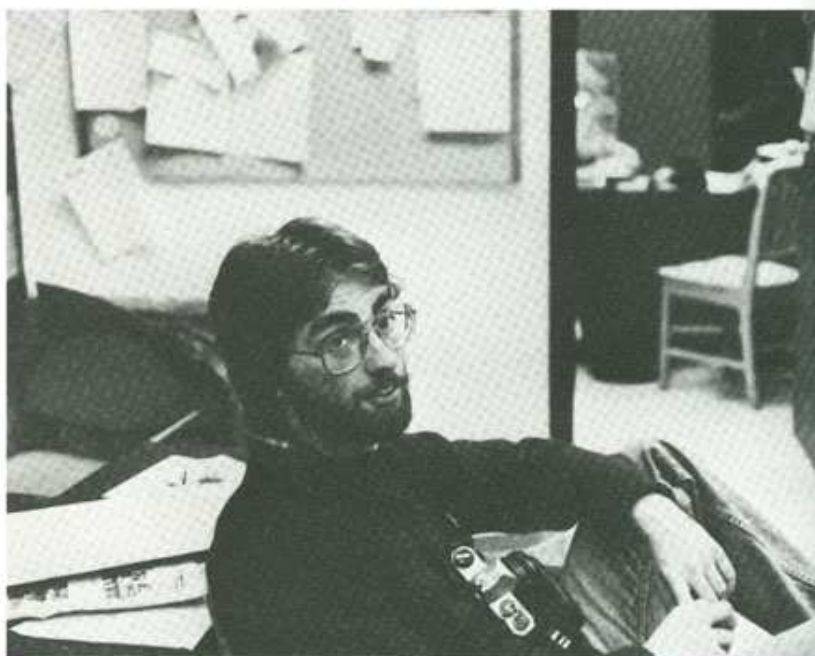

Highlights included a 9-1 exhibition victory over the touring Chinese National Team amidst a packed house in a fog-shrouded home arena. The Chinese dubbed Huskies all-star goaltender Mark Locken with a nickname which translates to mean "Iron Gate".

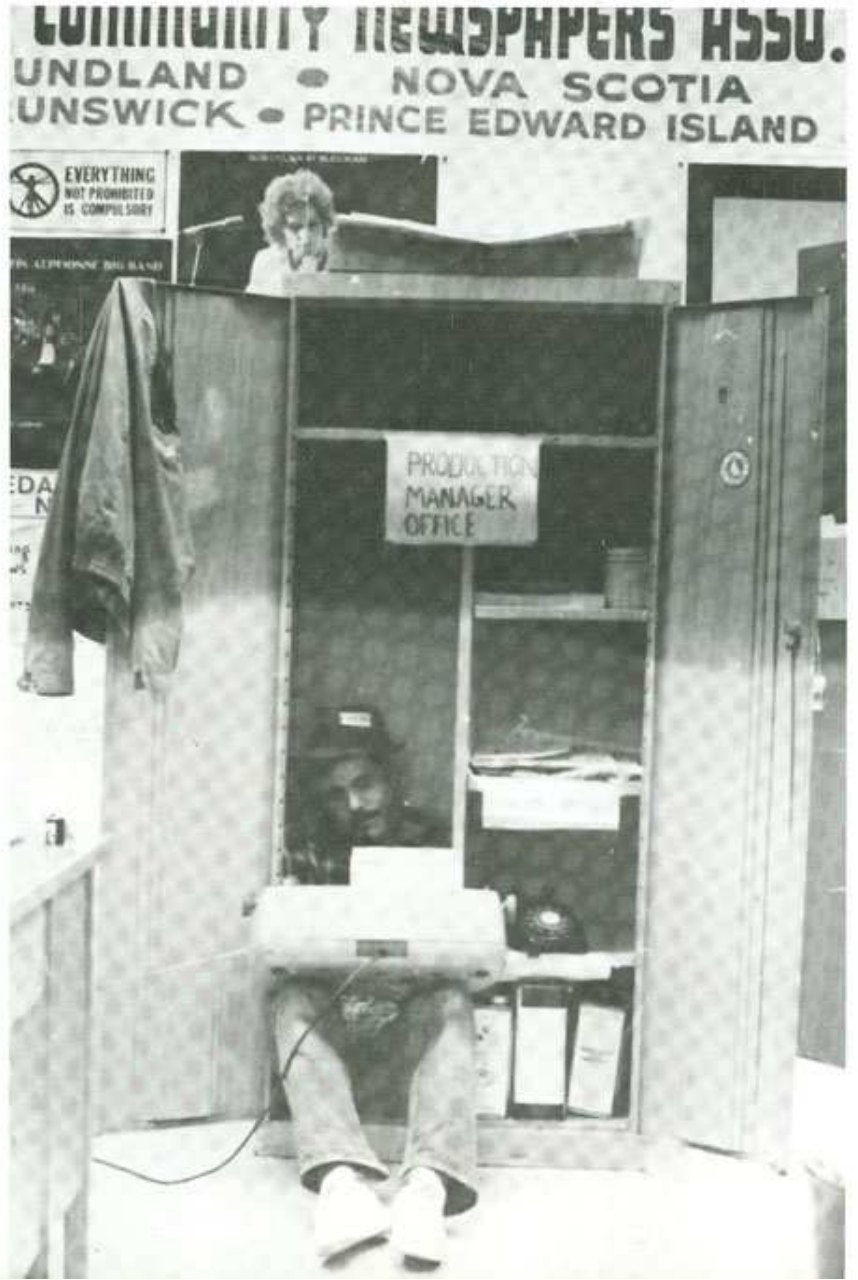

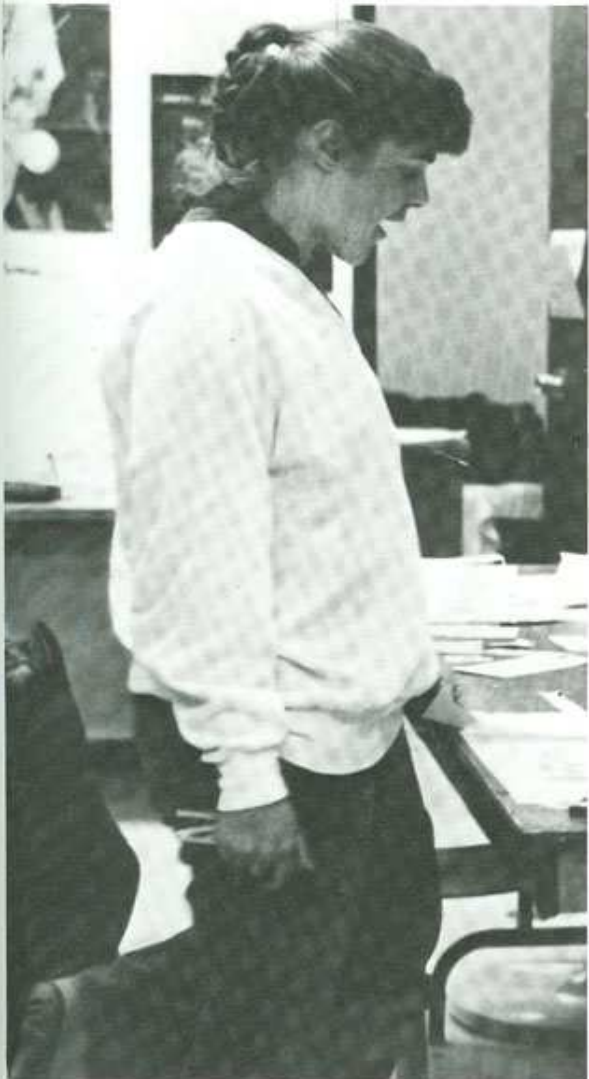

The label was appropriate as Locken went on to complete his fifth year in Huskie colours as the M.V.P. in both the A.U.A.A. and C.I.A.U. He was selected for All-Conference status for the fifth consecutive year and voted to the All-Canadian squad for his fourth time.

Second year defenseman Mike Kelly joined Locken on the Atlantic and Canadian all-star teams; and both players were selected to Canada's Olympic training squad.

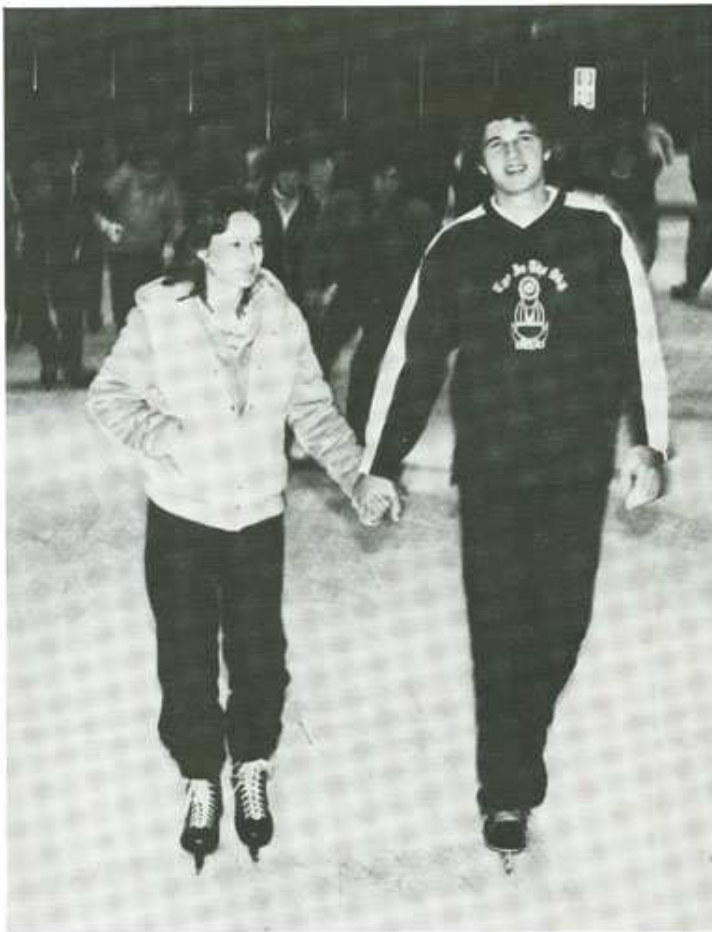

A multi-talented, but young, roster failed to return the A.U.A.A. championship to the Saint Mary's campus in 1982-83, but with experience and a key replacement for departed netminder Mark Locken, the Huskies await their chance to again capture the league silverware in the 83-84 season under Head Coach Brian O'Byrne.

Dear Graduates:

When I was asked by the Yearbook Editor to write this letter, I reflected on my own graduation some years ago. At that time my primary objective was to finally get my degree and enter "the real world". Once the graduation list was posted and I knew that I actually made it, the parties, receptions, and the graduation ceremony with my friends and family took on a new and joyous meaning. Groups of us reveled in the destruction of our old note and textbooks. It was obvious to us that we would not need them again. We were through!!!

Fifteen years later I have learned two lessons; one painful and one pleasant. The pleasant reality is that education never stops and my previous attempts to sever all academic ties by ritual book burning was nothing short of folly.

We have now entered a new phase of education. Some have labelled it life long learning, others have called it learning throughout life. I was lucky. Somehow, through various quirks of fate, I ended up continuing my formal education.

Few of you will select this option. However, there are a multitude of other educational avenues open to you. Your current Commerce degree is good for about five, and at the best, ten years. After that, what you have learned may not necessarily be obsolete, but will definitely be dated. Therefore, I urge you to take advantage of any educational opportunities that come your way. These may arise in the form of continuing education courses, company training programs, or special seminars. Whatever the form - grasp the opportunity. You will find that this new form of learning will be immensely satisfying.

My second lesson is far less pleasant. Since my graduation, I have not been back to my alma-mater once; I have never had any contact with my old professors, and except for one individual, I have lost complete contact with my graduating class. True, there were the 5 and 10 year reunions. I could have attended, but I was always too busy or the trip would have cost too much. Ironically if given the chance to relive any part of my life, my university days would always be on the top of the list. Yet, through my own action, I have failed to grasp such an opportunity by maintaining contact with the people who were so integrally involved in this period of my life. Don't make the same mistake I did. Keep in touch. Be involved. Maintain the contacts. Saint Mary's was the real world and you won't know what you've lost until it is gone.

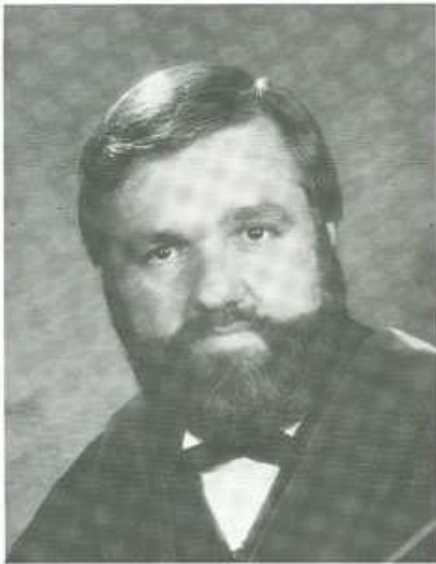

I guess at this point, I should wish you luck in your new endeavours, but I will not. Luck has very little to do with success. Successful people make their luck, unsuccessful people always talk about how unlucky they are. I will, however, congratulate you for your efforts and perseverance. Increase both and you'll be successful.

Yours sincerely,

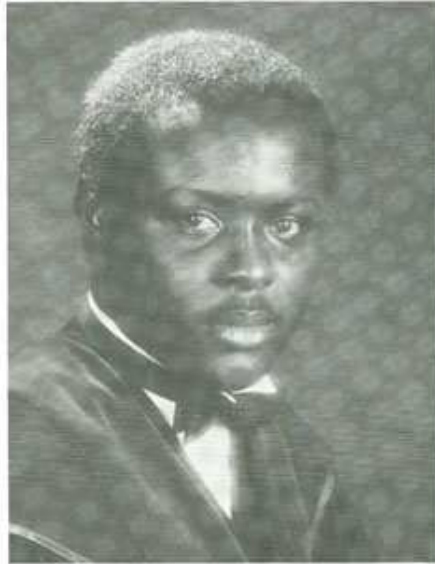

F.C. Miner

OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF ARTS

May 1983

Dear Class of 1983:

Our world of high technology and rapid change forces many people to turn their attention to very specialized interests in the hope of keeping up with "the state of the art" in their field.

I sincerely hope that your education in the Faculty of Arts has brought you to a level of intellectual awareness that is higher, and ultimately more useful, than mere specialized technical competence . . . a level of understanding that is characterized by a broad and integrated view of human nature, of social institutions, of the physical universe, or of the spiritual realities which pervade them all. This overview is more important today than ever before. Without it, a person lacks vision and perspective and is condemned to chasing flitting fragments of a transient world at a fatal speed.

I extend my sincere wishes for your personal success. Keep up with change. Develop as much technical competence as you can. Know where the state of your art fits in its larger contexts. Give intelligent and principled direction to the future.

May all the best be yours,

T. J. Muzial

Saint Mary's University

Tel. (902) 422-1201

This has been a very successful year for the students of Saint Mary's University; especially the senior students who have attained their objective - to graduate with a degree.

I would like to personally salute all of you in your success in fulfilling your academic goal.

I wish you the very best in your life and I am confident that you will carry on the Santamarian tradition - "To Strive for Excellence" - in all of your future endeavors.

I hope that the education you have received here will help develop in you a desire for goodness, an appreciation for beauty, a concern for others and a capacity for friendship.

The purpose of a yearbook is to have a recorded memorial of your stay here at SMU. As you flip through the pages, you'll probably reminisce of the times spent here and reflect on how much these past few years have changed your life.

That change is a very positive experience and it shouldn't be avoided by anyone. Most of the education we obtained came from outside the classroom. Experiences and relationships we had with the people we encountered has helped us grow into a more complete person. Friendships developed in the many places where students met. For instance, the classrooms and library; in residence; in carpools and buses; cafeterias; social and athletic events; and even at the favorite "downtown" establishments.

Friendships are what make this place worthwhile.

The pictures contained within this book's binding will bring back fond memories of "those-days-gone-by" and I hope that in the future that the bond between you, your friends and the University will become even fonder.

Congratulations to the Graduation Class of 1983.

May all of you have peace, happiness, and success in your lives.

VALEDICTORY SPEECH

Rev. Chancellor, Mr. President, Mr. Minister, Your Worship, Distinguished Guests, Graduates, Ladies, Gentlemen, Bee, Millie, Gordie, Janis, Anne, John, Ian, Leonard, Lisa, Laura, and Mom:

We have reached a juncture in our lives, that approximately four years ago, we would not have dreamed was possible. It now becomes our turn to reflect upon an experience that has moved us one more step along the road to realizing our personal objectives in life. This relatively small, but fiery little institute has cranked out some of the most well polished and prepared graduates in this country.

But in looking back, it is only fitting that we pay tribute to Saint Mary's and, more importantly, to the people behind the scenes whose efforts have made an unforgettable mark on our lives.

With this in mind, we ponder the changes we have experienced during our tenure. The addition of artificial turf in Huskies Stadium, the renovations to the Alumni Arena, the Student Centre, and to the beautiful Theatre Auditorium.

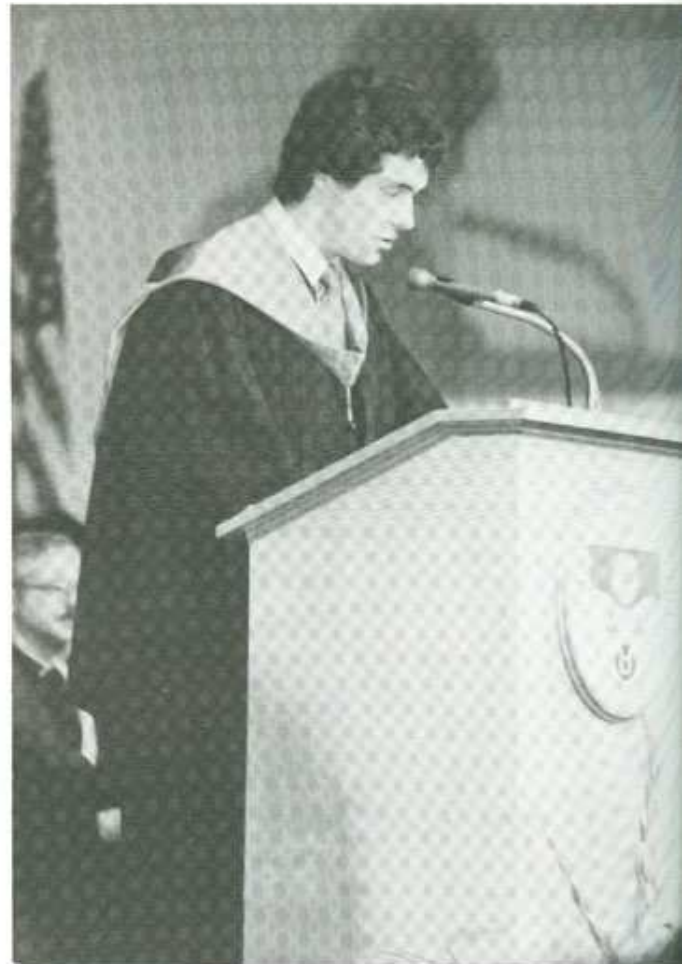

The passing away of Father Hennessey, who had become an institution in himself and akin to everyone's heart, marks a low point in our reflection. It is our duty to ensure that the memory of his kindness and patience lives on forever.

We have experienced changes in the economy that took their toll on everyone, and are continuing to cause a lot of misery to millions in this country. Prices continually change . . . the only things that never seemed to increase were student aid and the price of a Midtown Steak!

But some things did not change. Our varsity athletic programs winning tradition and Huskies Pride lingered on. Saga Foods left the same traditional impression on everyone. 8:30 a.m. classes didn't get any easier to get up for. Most importantly that same old living, loving, and learning community that Saint Mary's prides itself on, lived on.

That genuine personal treatment, which we probably never believed existed at Saint Mary's, was truly realized. That sense of informal relationships among the members of our university community was evident everywhere. From the maintenance workers, to food services, to administration, we were always made to feel that though the student was the most important thing this campus had to offer.

When the thought of study turned us off, or when we just wanted to get away from it all, the university community was there to offer a wide range of extra-curricular activities. If nothing else, they taught us to manage our time properly (one of the key concepts a student must master). If you were into "ALL NIGHTERS", you could get away with it, but there were many important social events that had to be left unattended in order to get those papers in on time.

Then, there is the cultural aspect. Through Saint Mary's students from all over the world we have had the experience of our educational system. As they have benefited from our culture, we too, as Canadians, have become aware of the many intriguing societies the surrounding world has to offer. Even from within our own country, we can notice differences. Many times it is difficult to admit to a Maritimer that you hail from Upper Canada.

Nevertheless, we have become a closely knit, yet culturally varied university family, which makes Saint Mary's unique. As we look around at the faces, we should all remember the many incidents, both good and bad, that we experienced together. Even though we will go in our separate directions, those memories will always be held close to our hearts.

Grad day is a great tribute to the persons who have been the most important catalyst in the attainments of our degrees. Without our parents' encouragement and direction, all this would not be possible. For many, had Mom and Dad not pushed us, we would not be here today. The success we have achieved can be our biggest "Thank-you" to them.

As we press on to the next stage of our lives, we shall look back from time to time and say, "Thanks, Saint Mary's". In the future when we will be, perhaps, many miles away from where we are now, we will look back with fond recollection of our days spent at Saint Mary's, and realize the contribution to our experience our years spent here have been.

We must take great pride in our degrees and the experiences that we have lived and learned through. We must carry "HUSKIES PRIDE" high, and we will go far.

Mark Herlehy

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

DEAR READER:

I would like to take this opportunity to personally congratulate those of you who have obtained the academic success you set out to accomplish.

The purpose of a yearbook is to help its reader reflect upon the times and events which occurred at St. Mary's and to bring back some fond memories. Many older and wiser people tell us that these will probably be some of the best years of our lives, so we should enjoy them. I hope this yearbook will help you to remember some of the good times you had while attending university and I wish you success in the future.

I would like to thank Dave Peters, Karen Rustige, Dave Main, Roy Fenderson, Owen McInerney, and Gerald Voliere for their photography help in the preparation of this yearbook.

Sincerely yours,
