

Student Dies After Mock Funeral

SASKATOON (CUP) — The 18-year-old man who died in a University of Saskatchewan residence last September 25 underwent a bizarre mock funeral before being stuffed into a garbage chute by unknown persons, a coroner's inquest has revealed.

A number of students and experts were called to testify before the inquiry in hopes of reconstructing the night's events, which culminated in Shawn Reineke's violent death.

Reineke died after plummeting 20 metres and, in the words of pathologist Dr. Fergus Murphy, sustaining "severe skull fractures, fractures in the pelvis, thigh and ankle areas, lacerations on the forehead, abrasions and scratches."

Murphy said Reineke went down the chute feet first, while Corporal Arnie Mainland of the Saskatchewan police said it is unlikely Reineke climbed into the chute himself.

Several witnesses testified Reineke was extremely drunk and passed out on the twelfth floor couch.

Two residents, Carey Barrett and Timothy Wall, doused Reineke with wine, shaving cream and mustard, covered him with newspapers and put a pickle on him.

No explanation was given for this strange behaviour.

"I don't know what made Carey and I do what we did," Wall said. "I had no intention of harming him in any way."

Barrett wrote a mock death tag for Reineke and taped it to his toe. Another unidentified student performed "last rites", and another took a picture of him.

Wall and Barrett then carried Reineke to the elevator, hoping security would find him.

One hour later, the two went searching for him. "Like an unseen force, we decided to go looking for him," Wall said.

When Reineke was not found on the elevator, the two followed a trail of shaving cream to the ninth floor garbage chute, into which they assumed Reineke had thrown up.

Barrett said he thought Reineke had fallen down the chute, and they went to the basement to look for him.

Kenneth Mark was the last student to have seen Reineke alive, sometime between 3:00 and 3:30 a.m. Mark testified that Reineke seemed quite drunk and was covered in shaving cream. Mark said Reineke was with two other students, Kelly Ham and Irvin Reekie.

Ham and Reekie started a beer fight and set off a fire extinguisher, behaviour Reekie admitted was "crude, loud and boisterous."

Ham and Reekie's testimony was vague and often contradictory. At one point, the coroner asked Ham why he was being so careful with his statements.

Ham said he did not trust the judicial system. "It's a big pain," he said. He later told lawyer Robert McKercher he was being careful because of the possibility of attempted murder charges being laid against him had been mentioned to him.

Monika Faber and Pamela Stimpson testified that Ham and Reekie were in their residence room between 3:30 and 4:00 a.m.

Stimpson told the inquiry she was well aware that "depending on what I said, I could help or hinder them." Her testimony was interrupted when the court warned her that perjury was a criminal offence. The inquest was adjourned for a brief recess while Stimpson re-read her original statements.

At approximately 4:00 a.m. on Sept. 28, seven students, among them Wall, Reekie, Barrett and Ham, went to the ground floor garbage area.

Donna Puto, another resident, discovered the badly injured Shawn Reineke in the garbage.

"He was kind of moaning," she said. "We tried to keep him still." Reineke died in hospital an hour later of massive head and body injuries.

Police constable Brian

Trainor, investigating the incident, came upon four people huddled in a residence room and overheard part of their conversation. "One woman was sobbing hysterically and said, 'Kelly didn't know what he was doing...he made a mistake'," Trainor said. The woman was Shannon Freeman, a woman Kelly Ham called his girlfriend.

Freeman denied she made this statement, but said she, Ham and Reekie got together the day after the incident, but said she didn't remember what they had discussed.

Senate Committee Set Up to Establish Procedures for Future Sexual Harassment Grievances

by Christine Soucie

At the recent February Senate meeting, the March/Grennan motion calling for a committee dealing with harassment complaints of students by professors was voted upon.

Professor Kay Tudor, of the English department, put forth an amendment requesting that this committee only be concerned with sexual harassment charges. "Harassment itself is a broad term and it does not zero in on the particular problem." Tudor further commented that there is a perceived problem on this campus and referred to a recent case where a Professor was fired but reinstated by an arbitration board.

The amendment was accepted and the new motion read, "Be it resolved that, the Executive Committee (of the Senate) look into the possibility of establishing procedures for dealing with allegations of sexual harassment, the principal constituencies of the university being involved in the establishing of any procedure decided upon." The motion passed with sixteen Senators in favour and three abstentions.

Lorraine Weatherbee, a student Senator, agrees that this is a positive measure. The Committee's function is to look into future procedures and to provide a definition of sexual harassment. Weatherbee did not feel that this would delay the formation of a sexual harassment grievance committee.

"Once the teachers are behind it, you will find it moving. I believe you will find it in place next year."

Blue Cross Deductable

by Kevin Biggs

If you have not yet mailed your 1984 income tax return, The Journal has come across some information that may save you some money.

According to Mrs. Brison, of Revenue Canada, money spent on private medical plans can be claimed on your tax return. In Schedule 9 of the General Tax Return you simply fill in the name of the plan and the cost.

This will benefit students because each full time student pays for a Blue Cross medical plan as part of their student fees. Single students pay $44.00 and married students pay $96.00.

This is the first year that the standard $100 deduction was not allowed. With the exception of the money paid for private group medical plans, receipts for medical cost must accompany income tax returns.

One drawback students may encounter is that 3% of net income must be subtracted from medical costs and only the remainder can be deducted. For students that were fortunate enough to have a good paying job last year this may well eliminate a lot of the medical deduction.

Courses in Summer Session, 1985

As soon as the timetable for the two summer sessions, 1985 at Saint Mary's is available, registration for the courses will commence. The dates for Summer Session I are 15 May to 27 June; for Summer Session II, 2 July to 14 August 1985.

Students who intend to take a course or courses at another institution during the summer months in the hopes of transferring the credit(s) earned back to their Saint Mary's degree programme are referred to academic regulation #21: Transfer Credit, page 26, 1984-85 Academic Calendar. The necessary forms to request a Letter of Permission are available in the Registrar's Office.

Academic Calendars for 1985-86

Students who are currently enrolled can obtain a copy of the 1985-86 Academic Calendar in the Registrar's Office. Due to increased postage costs, copies of this Calendar will not be mailed to currently-enrolled students. In the middle of the summer such students will receive information re: registrations and a copy of the University's timetable for 1985-86. These will be mailed to students' home addresses unless an "Alternate Address Card" has been filed with the Registrar prior to 1 June 1985. The cards are available in the Registrar's Office.

Mailing of Final Grades and/or Information

Grade Report Forms for 1984-85 will be mailed to students' home addresses early in May (unless you are on the "withhold lists" compiled by the University's Business Office and Library). Should you wish your grades mailed to an alternate address, please fill out the appropriate card available in the Registrar's Office. 29 April 1985 is the deadline for filing such information. Also, if you wish the timetable and information on the 1985-86 academic year sent to an alternative address, please file the appropriate card in the Registrar's Office by 1 June 1985.

Conference Held at SMU ... ARCUPies Invade

by Jude Ronayne

Last weekend, March 9th and 10th, the Saint Mary's Journal and the Mount Saint Vincent Picaro hosted representatives of seven other ARCUP (Atlantic Region: Canadian University Press) newspapers.

As this was the last of three Atlantic conferences held this year, the new executive was elected. The incoming representatives are:

President — John Gushoe (Memorial University — The Muse)

Vice President — Mary Ellen Jones (Dalhousie University — The Gazette)

Human Rights Coordinator

— Robert Stoodley (Memorial University — The Muse)

Honesty in Journalism Coordinator — David Olie (Dalhousie University — The Gazette)

Bureau Chief — Lois Corbett (St. Thomas University — The Aquinian)

Field Worker — Elizabeth Donovan (Dalhousie University — The Gazette)

It was decided that next year the three conferences will be held in Halifax, Fredericton, N.B., and St. John's, Nfld. Due to the slashing of the Journal budget by the SRC, it may not be possible for Saint Mary's to be represented at these conferences.

Two guests spoke on issues which are of great importance to student newspapers. Shawn Houlihan, former business manager of the Dalhousie Gazette and student union, spoke on the approaches to budgeting and the necessity of good business practices. Also, the issue of myths in journalism was addressed by noted author Walter Stewart.

The conference culminated with a motion to send official letters of welcome to ARCUP's newest member 'L'Oculus', the official student newspaper of Centre Universitaire Saint Louis Maillet in Edmundston, N.B.

Watts and Russell Win AIESEC Car Rally

by Kevin Biggs

The racing team of Watts and Russell pulled off an impressive first place finish in last Sunday's car rally. In their 1980 Plymouth TC3, they completed the course in a law-breaking time of one hour and thirty-two minutes.

The second place team of Sallashee and Morrissey crossed the finish line almost two minutes later, even though they had started the race in front of the winners.

The rally, sponsored by AIESEC, had a field of eight teams entered in it. Last year's winners, Dauphinee and Carland, were not entered in this year's race.

The course ran for 96 km through the streets of Halifax and the surrounding county. Driving was hampered by the poor road conditions brought on by the spring thaw.

Finishing last, in their Chevy Vette, was the Ludrigan and Drinnan team. Driver Joanna Ludrigan argued that "we were the only team that drove within the speed limit." The team of White and DeCoste, who finished last in the 1984 rally, improved their showing this year by edging by the checkered flag in fifth place.

Third place was jointly held by the ConradOwen team and the SmithRank team. Both were competing in Chevy Camaros.

Parking Camera Retires

by Colin MacMillan

Residents of St. Mary's who utilize the underground parking here may have noticed the removal of the video camera used for security purposes.

Clay Fowler, Director of Residence, cites unending problems with the camera as the reason for the camera's retirement. "Car lights kept burning out the lens mechanism," Mr. Fowler states. He also explains that it gave them a very limited view of the cars and security patrols were required in any case.

Mr. Fowler doesn't think that any security problems will arise from the camera's removal. As he says "a few years ago we went through a series of thefts and the cameras didn't make any difference."

Head Commissionaire, George Sommers, says that there will be frequent and steady patrols of the parking areas during both the day and night.

Thefts in the parking area are noted as having decreased over the last few years but this decrease is attributed to foot patrols and not the camera.

Computers Replace People in B.C.

VANCOUVER (CUP) — B.C.'s most well-known technological institute has fired nearly 80 instructors, dropped five programs and plans to introduce a new computer system as a response to huge cuts in its operating budget.

And it will lay off more instructors when it buys additional computers, the B.C. Institute of Technology administration says.

BCIT students and faculty oppose the layoffs and the computer technology which they say are a result of the administration's mishandling of a 10.7 per cent budget decrease.

"We have no confidence that machines will be able to replace humans in the classrooms," said Gregory Layton, BCIT staff society president.

BCIT administration president Gordon Thom, however, denies the administration has spent money on computers at the expense of jobs and programs. He says the provincial government is responsible for the firings because it has failed to increase funding.

The government has steadily chipped away at the institute's operating grants over the years and now the school receives about 25 per cent less than it used to.

"When it's poured all night, do you think the rain is going to stop?" Thom asked. "I don't know. If the cuts continue, we will have to radically restructure the institute."

Thom says the additional computers which the institute will buy as it brings its programs up-to-date will attract more students to school and entice the remaining instructors to stay.

"There will be some loss (of jobs) but the loss will be less if we use computers than if we do not."

Seventy per cent of the school's electrical and electronic students have signed a petition in protest of the computer system. They say they dislike the introduction into their programs at a time when instructors are losing their jobs, though they appreciate the need for modern technology in classrooms.

More than 4,000 full-time students and 18,000 part-time students attend the institute.

Two Student Papers at UNB

FREDERICTON (CUP) — After two years of feuding with the University of New Brunswick student newspaper, The Brunswickan, former student union president John Bosnitch is determined to start his own.

The Standard, with a projected circulation of 5000 to 10,000, will focus on students issues, particularly on student rights versus university administration, Bosnitch said.

"(The new paper) will allow for the expression of many of the opinions regularly censored from The Brunswickan," he said.

The Brunswickan has done a "dismal" job of fighting for students, because it "doesn't have the guts to stand up to the administration," Bosnitch said. The Brunswickan, a 10,000 circulation weekly, is 119 years old.

The Standard hoped The Brunswickan would give them free typesetting, but The Brunswickan said they would charge The Standard regular rates for the use of the equipment, as they do with all other student groups.

Accused of censorship, Brunswickan managing editor Mike MacKinnon said: "If we wanted to censor them, we could have point blank refused to deal with them. We're just treating them like everyone else."

MacKinnon said The Brunswickan had fought for students over the past year, including a call for a student owned and operated store on campus, and more strict safety regulations in residence.

"We don't stand up simply because they're administration and we're students. And we don't give the student union a break just because they're students."

The first issue of The Standard, a bi-monthly, will appear at the end of March.

Council Violations of the Constitution and the By-laws

A Constitution provides an organized body with basic laws and principles and by-laws regulate the affairs of the organization. There have been occurrences over the past year in which the Council had held the Constitution and the by-laws in disrespect. I have taken the liberty to discuss some of the violations.

Article 3, section (f) states that the separation between the election of the executive and the rest of the SRC should be three weeks. The SRC representative elections for 85/86 occurred four weeks after the executive elections.

By-law 5, section (2) stipulates that all cheques, money orders and financial instruments of any nature, drawn upon the several accounts or credit of the Association, shall require at least the signatures of two of the following persons: the President, the Treasurer or the SRC Business Administrator.

As the Treasurer did not return after Christmas, signing authority was given to the V.P. Student Affairs. As there was still a couple of months left in the present Council's mandate, the spirit of this by-law could have been maintained by appointing another Treasurer.

By-law 12 ensures that Council will appoint the following years SRC Chairperson by February 28. For the 85/86 Council, the Chairperson will be appointed at the March 17, Council meeting.

By-law 8 requires that no member of SMU Students Association shall hold more than one major job. President Dave Peters is also a desk clerk. Both these positions are major jobs and the Constitution does not provide an exemption if the President only fulfills part-time hours as residence desk clerk.

When students vote for their representatives, they are displaying trust and faith in SMU's political system. The elected representatives and executive should reciprocate by obeying the laws and regulations that bind them.

There are no stated repercussions that Council should face but perhaps the elected representatives should receive feedback from their constituents.

Commerce Elections

Dear Editor:

During the past month the campus has been cluttered with posters for various elections. As of this week, candidates running for positions on the Commerce Society executive will be adding to the already confusing billboards.

My name is Tina Harris, and I have been actively involved with the Commerce Society executive for two years: Freshman Representative, and promotions director for the 1984-85 year. This year I am running for the position of Vice-President of the Society. I feel that I will be able to support the President in this years office.

If elected I would encourage the development of such ideas as:

- the formation of a help line, whereby if students are experiencing difficulty in a subject the society would give them the number of a student who could be of help.
- more events for Commerce Students.
- better use of on campus information sources to keep students informed on commerce issues.

The elections are being held on March 18 in the Collonade so get involved and exercise your right to vote.

Thank you
Tina Harris

Survival of the Fittest

by Troy Meyers

I ran into a friend of mine the other day while in Maxwell's Plum and we began discussing the benefits of regular exercise. The topic was brought up because I had arrived at the tavern in my running clothes, complete with fresh sweat, after a slipper winter run in the park.

"Troy!" came the greeting.

"I see you're out trying to get in shape," said my short friend.

To this I replied, "Ya, I felt the fat starting to grow so today marks the beginning of the war against obesity."

"Well you deserve a beer," Tom said as he thrust one forward.

"Thank you, Tom," I paused only to say cheers before I said good-bye to the drink just given to me.

After the beer we launched into our discussion of staying healthy.

Tom told me that he had experienced the New Year's guilt trip, as I did, so he started his running shortly into 1985. He said he was doing really well up to about a week ago.

"What happened a week ago?"

"I was run over by a car," came the reply.

As Tom limped to the bar in quest of more drink, I thought, Wow, what a lucky guy, gets run down by a speeding automobile and walks away. It's a good thing, I told myself, that he was jogging. Can you just imagine what would have happened if he had been walking or, even worse, sitting at home watching TV?

Dead for sure.

I can just see the out of control auto crashing through his living room window, running him over while he snoozes in his lazy-boy. What a mess.

I know many people who pursue one or several areas of fitness. And almost all of them can give a similar account to Tom's. So what keeps them from throwing in the towel and living a slower and, you would think, safer life?

Well it is obvious that they know physical activity keeps the participant further away from mortal deflation than a sedentary life does.

Think of the guy who runs up the stairs everyday to his office. He hates it but he knows one fine day the elevator will malfunction and since his office is on the 21st floor he would prefer not to have any involvement with the elevator's dive to the basement.

Paranoid you say?

No, just looking out for number one.

Using exercise to avoid hazardous situations is a new angle to the fitness craze which I had not thought of before. Forget all the benefits of an improved mind and body given to us with regular exercise, these mean little compared to the extension on life we get when we are out jogging and not in the library as the building is blown up by militant demonstrators who are calling for a return to the Dewey Decimal system, or not in the donair on Spring Garden Road when a starving soul decides to park his car on the inside rather than on the street.

Participation now has more value than ever before. Being the difference between life on earth and life somewhere else makes it too important to ignore.

But maybe we should not tell people about this because it may start a wide-spread panic and bring everyone out of their cars and their homes in the desperate need to stay alive. And if this happened, we would be right back where we started, wouldn't we?

Video Bash/Air Band Contest

by Carter Newson

About 300 people showed up at the Multi-Purpose Room last Saturday night for the first bash on campus in over a month. This one was in the form of the first-ever Moosehead Breweries/Commerce Society video bash and air band contest.

The video bash, hosted by Q104's Andy Kay, began at 8 p.m., but people didn't really start to arrive until 10 p.m. when the air band contest got underway.

The contest featured six different acts miming to six different types of music. The acts included: the Orgasmics (featuring CFSM Debbie Williams, Krista Ohlmstead and Monica Ahluwalia) doing "Who's That Girl?"; the Pointless Sisters doing the "Neutron Dance"; reggae airband A Bunch of White Guys (dressed like a bunch of Rastafarians, sharing the same cigarette, and featuring Tony Fortune on lead plunger); the Blushing Grooms with "Satisfaction"; the Booze Brothers with "Soul Man" (drums by Alcan Foil), and the Slacks (featuring CFSM's Jim Driscoll and Peter Hoar) doing the Chipmunks' (?) version of "My Sharona".

The $300 first prize went to the Booze Brothers, while second and third place honours went to the Pointless Sisters and the Blushing Grooms respectively. Judges for the contest were Q104's Andy Kay, Moosehead rep. Barry Fader, and Liquor Services Director Joe Etter. The prizes were: 1st place: $300; second place: $200; and third place: $100.

Aside from the air band contest, there was also a great video show which everyone seemed to enjoy. There's just one thing: If there was supposed to be an air band contest, why did everyone bring up all those instruments on stage with them? Why don't they just call it a "mime" contest instead?

CFSM Station Manager 1985-86

by Jude Ronayne

The selection process for the 1985-86 CFSM Station Manager has been completed. The successful candidate is Charles Russell, a first year Commerce student.

Mr. Russell has eight years experience in the music business. For seven years he was co-owner of a local Disc Jockey business, and this year he is Production Manager of CFSM.

The manager is appointed by the station's Board of Directors. Jim Driscoll, a member of the Board and the outgoing Station Manager said, "This year's selection process was an exceptionally hard decision for the Board to make." Mr. Driscoll added, "Charles knows what is expected of him, and I am confident he will continue to improve the station."

This year CFSM has made great strides in improving their quality. A mixing board and cart machine have been two of the many improvements made to the station. Also, several format changes have been instituted which give CFSM a more professional sound.

The staff at CFSM are happy to have Mr. Russell as manager although they feel all candidates were well qualified.

Carter's Entertainment Quiz

by Carter Newson

Well, it's almost that time of year again, when exams are looming over us. Just to get you used to handling test-type questions again, here's a few for you. They may not be related to the courses you're taking, but give them a shot anyway. Good luck.

1. The musical "Grease" was first performed in what year?
2. How long did the TV series "All in the Family" run?
3. Name the first British band (other than the Beatles) to sell more than a million copies of a record, and name that record.
4. Who has the lead role in the film "1984"?
5. The Move were a band that featured Jeff Lynne and Roy Wood. In the early '70s, what did they change their name to?

- Answers:
1. 1973
  2. Seven years (1971-1978)
  3. The Kinks ("You Really Got Me")
  4. John Hurt
  5. E.L.O. (Electric Light Orchestra)

Graduation and then?

Right now you are probably thinking about the past several years and what you have to look forward to after graduation.

While you're at it, consider the personal growth and satisfaction you could experience at Procter & Gamble — a leader in the consumer products industry. We regard training and development as our most basic responsibility because we promote strictly from within Procter & Gamble. We know of no way to train people to become managers other than to have them learn by doing.

Economics, history, psychology, business — our managers include diverse backgrounds. More important than your specific field of study are such basics as intelligence, leadership ability, innovativeness, and a solid track record of achievement.

Representatives from our Company will be on-campus to conduct interviews in April. All resumes should be forwarded to the Canada Employment Centre on Campus no later than 10:30 a.m. March 28, 1985.

As a first step, we invite you to visit your placement office and obtain a copy of our literature. Additional information is also available in the library file in the placement office.

"Dr. Doo? That guy was my basketball coach in the Virgin Islands for 13 years." WBA lightweight champion Livingstone Bramble referring to his alleged "voodoo friend" who was supposedly to have put a spell on Ray Mancini in the pre-fight hype before their first bout.

SMU Has National Title

by Gerald Wood

Last weekend, Santamarian Jeff Watson finally succeeded in bringing a national title back to St. Mary's. Jeff travelled to Windsor, Ontario to compete in the CIAU Track and Field Meet and was quite convincing in achieving his goal. Watson was better than defending champion John Schmidt from University of Western Ontario and nine competitors in winning the event.

Jeff threw a personal best of 16.07 metres and was 27 centimetres farther than John Schmidt who had a throw of 15.80 metres. The third place finished was Ray Lazdins who threw a distance of 15.59.

The 6'3", 270 lb. Sackville, Nova Scotia native is a senior Arts student and is majoring in Sociology. Jeff was also an offensive lineman for the SMU football Huskies. Watson has been involved in throwing shot-put for many years, being one of the best in the Metro High School Circuit while attending Sackville High School. Jeff has set a goal of breaking 17 metres by spring and feels confident considering his constantly improving technique.

There was only one other AUAA athlete who was victorious at the meet, Paul McCloy of Memorial University won the 500 metre event with a time of 14:04.15. Norm Tinkham of Dalhousie won the Bronze in the 5000 with a 14:16.62 time.

Sports Trivia

by Scott Gillis

Every once in a while a fighter emerges on the U.S. boxing scene that captures the hearts of the fans. Currently, Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini is such a fighter. A few weeks ago Mancini lost in his attempt to regain the WBA lightweight title in a rematch against Livingstone Bramble. The champion won a unanimous decision with a one point margin on all three judges' cards (yes, it was that close despite the fact that Mancini, who is easily cut, looked like his face had been through a meat grinder).

When the movie on Mancini's life comes out (yes, there's one in the works) we'll all know a lot more about him; but until then let's see what you do know.

1. In January of last year, who did Mancini pummel until the fight was halted at 1:17 of the third round?
2. Bramble, a classic counter-puncher whose style is perfect to take on a brawling Mancini, took Mancini's title in June of 1984. In what round was the fight stopped?
3. Whom did Mancini beat to capture the WBA title on May 5, 1982 in Las Vegas? Was it a decision, knock out or TKO?
4. Was Mancini's father a boxer.
5. Whom did Mancini step in the ring against in his first title defence?

Answers

1. Bobby Chacon
2. 14th round
3. Arturo Frias on a KO in the 1st round
4. Sure was; he was a lightweight number one contender 44 years ago.
5. Duk Koo Kim (Kim was the South Korean who died tragically 4 days later due to injuries sustained in that bout).
