

Saint Mary's University

Spring Convocation

Wednesday, 17 May 2017

Thursday, 18 May 2017

Friday, 19 May 2017

O C A N A D A

O Canada! Our home and native land!
True patriot love in all thy sons command.

Car ton bras sait porter l'épée,
Il sait porter la croix!

Ton histoire est une épopée
Des plus brillants exploits.

God keep our land, glorious and free!
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee,
O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

Convocation is a joyous yet solemn event, bound by traditions which have evolved over centuries. It is a continuum with a formal beginning and end. By being present here today, you have indicated your interest in being part of this academic tradition. Graduating students and their guests are therefore expected to remain in their seats until this formal ceremony has been completed in its entirety - the Chancellor of the University has officially closed Convocation and the stage party and graduates have recessed.

Facility Awards

The Reverend William A. Stewart, S.J., Medal for Excellence in Teaching

In 1983, the Alumni Association, in cooperation with the Faculty Union and the Students' Representative Council, established the Reverend William A. Stewart, S.J., Medal for Excellence in Teaching. The award is open to faculty members who have made an extraordinary contribution to the education of Saint Mary's students through teaching in the University's tradition of quality undergraduate education.

The recipient of the Medal for 2011 is Dr. Marc G. Doucet in the Department of Political Science.

Dr. Doucet is an Associate Professor and Chair of the Political Science Department at Saint Mary's, where he has taught since 2000. He earned his Bachelor of Arts in Social Sciences from University of Moncton, his Master of Arts in Political Science and Ph.D. in Political Science from University of Ottawa.

Dr. Doucet describes his teaching philosophy as "facilitating the creation of an environment, inside and outside the classroom where students can cultivate their learning capabilities and hone their analytical skills." This philosophy is proven in his engaging classes and tireless work with the Model UN Delegation, which sees great success each year under Dr. Doucet's guidance.

Highly regarded by his colleagues for his teaching methods, service as department Chair, and published academic works, Dr. Doucet proves again and again his passion for the study of politics and world issues. Students greatly enjoy his classes and have found his in-class learning exercises to be engaging and thought provoking. In their comments on his teaching, current and former students often highlight his Model UN course, which is described as "the gem of the Political Science Department and the University as a whole" and has been credited with "shaping students future aspirations in academia and beyond". Dr. Doucet guides students through the course, which culminates with attending the annual National Model UN (NMUN) Conference in New York, where Saint Mary's students have received numerous awards and honours/recognition of their outstanding individual and group achievements.

For the great impact he has had on his students in their current and future studies, and for the inspiring leadership he provides his colleagues, Dr. Doucet is a deserving recipient of this award.

The Father William A. Stewart, S.J., Medal for Excellence in Teaching was created in 1983 by the Alumni Association, Faculty Union, and Students' Representative Council (now SMUSA), in honour of Father Stewart who faithfully served the Saint Mary's community for many years, both as a teacher of Philosophy and an academic administrator.

The Dr. Geraldine Thomas Educational Leadership Award

In 2007, the Quality of Teaching Committee (now the Senate Committee on Learning and Teaching) established an Educational Leadership Award to recognize the long-term commitment of faculty who develop, enhance, and promote the quality of teaching at Saint Mary's and beyond. The Committee gratefully acknowledges the support of the Saint Mary's University Faculty Union for this Award. The Award is named for Dr. Geraldine Thomas, national teaching award winner and founding member of the Quality of Teaching Committee. Throughout her academic career, Dr. Thomas supported efforts to improve teaching and learning within the University, the Atlantic region, and nationally.

The recipient of the Award for 2017 is Dr. Kathy Singfield, faculty member in the Department of Chemistry

As both an educator and an administrator, Dr. Kathy Singfield has made an outstanding contribution to student success at Saint Mary's University. Since joining the Department of Chemistry in 1997, through her work as Department Chair, and as Associate Dean of Science - Curriculum, Dr. Singfield has been guided by a single passion: to help shape and manage the experiences through which Saint Mary's students prepare for their own life-long learning in careers, further study, and as engaged citizens.

From classroom to community, Dr. Singfield has demonstrated remarkable leadership and mentorship of both her fellow faculty and students. In the Department of Chemistry, she championed the implementation of active learning strategies, creating over fifty popular YouTube instructional videos for first-year chemistry student lab and coursework. As Chair of Saint Mary's Department of Chemistry in 2009, she was instrumental in the development of the unit's first strategic five-year plan.

Drawing from her commitment to staying abreast of high-impact education practices, Dr. Singfield has made significant contributions to the success of new students at Saint Mary's. Within the Faculty of Science, she initiated and managed a science faculty-student mentorship program that ran for over a decade until, under her leadership, it evolved into the PEER One Mentors! program in 2013. In recent years, Dr. Singfield has led academic orientation for all science students

At the university-wide level, her colleagues credit her for her tremendous leadership of the Committee on Academic Planning, which spearheaded many of the initiatives that will form the core of Saint Mary's comprehensive new first-year student experience. Following these, the conceptual framework she introduced through her role on the Community and Student Engagement (CASE) Committee, will further guide the development of this new programming

A true scientist, Dr. Singfield believes that "change involves decision making that is supported by evidence." Consequently, she is deeply committed to the employment of high-impact practices and developments in teaching and learning, and higher education development. She believes strongly in sharing this information with her colleagues across disciplines, because, as she would say, "It is always about the students."

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENTS

WILLIAM RITCHIE, Doctor of Commerce, Honoris Causa

Born in Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, J. William (Bill) Ritchie has raised millions of dollars for governments, businesses, charitable institutions and individuals over a nearly six decade-long career in the investment industry. He has also mentored and assisted many start-up companies and aspiring entrepreneurs during his career.

In 1951, Mr. Ritchie received his B.Sc. (Agr.) from McGill University (Macdonald College) specializing in economics. After his graduation he joined a leading investment firm, A.E. Ames & Co. Limited, where he spent four years being trained in the art of finance. From there he and a partner acquired a small firm in Fredericton, which was later sold to Eastern Securities Co. Limited of Saint John. That firm transferred Mr. Ritchie to Halifax in 1958, where he managed their operations until resigning in 1963 to acquire Scotia Bond Company Limited with a silent partner.

From a relatively modest beginning with only one salesman and two assistants, Mr. Ritchie grew the company to a total of fifty five employees in four offices. Along the way, the company acquired seats on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges. The company engaged in both institutional and retail business and acted as a fiscal agent for the Province of Nova Scotia.

During the seventies, Mr. Ritchie worked very closely with Michael Donovan helping him with the establishment of the film industry in Nova Scotia. He was a director of Salter Street Films Limited which was subsequently sold to Alliance Atlantic, a leading Canadian film production company of that era. Subsequently, Mr. Donovan incorporated DHX Inc. which in twelve years has grown to become a leading owner and provider of children's television programming with a market capitalization of nearly one billion dollars. Mr. Ritchie assisted with the financing of that entity and served as a director from inception until his retirement from the board in 2014.

Mr. Ritchie has been involved in numerous business ventures over the years including his role as Chairman and CEO of Scotia Bond. He was a founder of Keltic Savings Corporation Limited. He served on over forty boards of directors for various periods of time including over twenty-five years on the boards of Empire Company Limited and Sobeys Inc.

Mr. Ritchie is currently active on the boards of Kivuto Inc., SimplyCast and Morien Resources

LOUISE BRADLEY, Doctor of Science, Honoris Causa

Louise Bradley, MS, RN, CHE, has dedicated her professional life to improving the mental health of Canadians

Ms. Bradley's own deeply personal experience with recovery has informed a leadership style that is both compassionate and courageous. Unwavering in her commitment to reimaging a recovery-oriented, person-centred mental health system, Ms. Bradley has influenced improved patient care through large-scale hospital administration and pioneered recovery within a forensics and corrections setting.

An impassioned advocate, Ms. Bradley feels her professional perspective is enriched and authenticated by her lived experience. In her current role as President and CEO of the Mental Health Commission of Canada (MHCC), Ms. Bradley oversaw the development of Canada's first Mental Health Strategy, undertook the signature Opening Minds anti-stigma initiative, and created a globally recognized Knowledge Exchange Centre. A tireless advocate for workplace mental health, Ms. Bradley has overseen the creation of the world's first workplace psychological safety standard, which has gained international acclaim.

Trusted as a transformational leader by the Canadian Psychological Association (CPA), Ms. Bradley will receive the 2017 Humanitarian Award for her work to enhance the psychological well-being of Canadians. Ms. Bradley is also the recipient of the Innovation Award for Health Care Leadership, bestowed by the Canadian College of Health Leaders, as well as the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal.

She holds degrees from Dalhousie University and Northeastern University in Boston, and is frequently called upon to speak and write; nationally and internationally on various mental health topics. Ms. Bradley uses her platform to urge increased mental health funding, and highlight the need to work inclusively to address the mental health needs of vulnerable and at-risk populations.

Ms. Bradley has a passion for nurturing emerging mental health leaders, and prioritizes the mentorship of young champions in the hope of inspiring the next generation of transformational leaders.

DR. JOSEPH JABBRA, Doctor of Civil Law, Honoris Causa

Dr. Joseph Jabbara has played a prominent role in higher education and accreditation in Atlantic Canada and the United States for decades.

Currently the President of the Lebanese American University, Dr. Jabbara has served in this capacity since 2004. He has also served as Vice President of Loyola Marymount University (LMU) in Los Angeles. He is well remembered at Saint Mary's University as both an active member of the Political Science Department and as the Vice President, Academic and Research from 1980 to 1990.

During his time at LMU and SMU, Dr. Jabbara gained profound experience in academic administration. He served on and chaired over 100 academic committees and boards, ranging from academic senates to boards of trustees. At both universities, Dr. Jabbara was fully engaged in strategic planning and fundraising.

In Canada, he played a major role in the Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission (MPHEC), which accredits university and college programs in the three Canadian Maritime Provinces. In the United States, he was very active in the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), a leading U.S. accrediting commission. He always participated vigorously in the revision of accreditation standards and served on accreditation visits for many institutions. He also was active in the accreditation of American law schools for the American Bar Association (ABA).

Dr. Jabbara earned his law degree at the Universite Saint-Joseph in Beirut, and a Ph.D. in Political Science from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

He is the author, co-author, and co-editor of 12 books. The latest, Public Administration in Transition, was recently published in London, England. He has also published over 33 articles and chapters in books and scholarly journals, over 26 book reviews in both English and French, and scores of scholarly papers and keynote addresses given at society meetings and professional gatherings.

DR. DONALD JULIEN, Doctor of Civil Law, Honoris Causa

Dr. Donald Julien is a Mi'kmaq Historian, Human Rights Advocate, and Leader. With over 40 years of experience in research and documenting Mi'kmaq history, Donald shares his knowledge and experiences through speaking engagements, University Lectures, and research papers. His lifelong advocacy has also helped to preserve important archaeological sites in Nova Scotia. No matter the topic, Donald brings a well-grounded, informed, and unique Mi'kmaq perspective to current issues.

Donald has 30 years of experience with the Confederacy of Mainland Mi'kmaq, and has held the position of Executive Director of the Confederacy of Mainland Mi'kmaq since 1994. Donald is a member of both the Order of Canada and the Order of Nova Scotia. He has earned the United Nations Peace Keeping Medal (Cyprus), the Canadian Peacekeeping Service Medal, the Queen's Golden Jubilee and the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medals. He has received two Honorary Doctorate Degrees in Civil Law and Humane Letters from Acadia University and Mount St. Vincent University, respectively.

Donald is a peacetime veteran of the Canadian Armed Forces, has served with the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, in both the Second Battalion in Calgary, and with the First Battalion in Esquimalt, and has served in the United Nations Peacekeeping Tour in Cyprus. Donald is presently serving on the Community Liaison Advisory Committee for Maritime Command for the Admiral of the Canadian Navy. He has been an Advisor to the Commissioners of the RCMF and the Advisor to the Auditor General of Canada on First Nations Issues.

In 2012, he donned the Canadian Army uniform once again becoming the third Honorary Lieutenant-Colonel of 3 Intelligence Company at the very same location where he signed on 45 years earlier. In 2016, he was appointed Full Colonel to 5th CDTC, Gagetown N.B., for another three-year term as the first honorary colonel to a Canadian Army Training Centre in Canada.

Donald is a family man, and currently lives in Truro, Nova Scotia along with his wife Diane and four children, eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. In his spare time, Donald is a sports enthusiast, an avid golfer and enjoys reading and researching history.

PROFESSOR EMERITUS

JIM MORRISON

Since joining the Saint Mary's community as a part-time lecturer in 1976, Dr. James Morrison has built an extraordinary legacy as a teacher, scholar, and colleague, and has consistently taken a leading role in defining the University's commitment to local and global outreach.

Dr. Morrison's contributions in these areas go back to his earliest years at Saint Mary's. Between 1979 and 1983 he served as Executive Director of the International Education Centre, and so was one of the earliest advocates of an international role for the university. He was Dean of Arts between 1983 and 1989, and then returned to full-time teaching and research as Professor of History. Also active in interdisciplinary programs, and one of the architects of the development of interdisciplinarity as a key and distinguishing element of the intellectual life of Saint Mary's, Dr. Morrison has held Coordinatorships at various points in both the International Development Studies and Asian Studies programs.

Dr. Morrison has balanced these on-campus commitments with a similarly impressive record of community service. He has been President and Vice-President of the Royal Nova Scotia Historical Society, historian and archivist with Frontier College since 2000, and an advisor for the Black Cultural Centre for Nova Scotia and the Black Loyalist Museum. Since 2007, he has been a member of the Advisory Committee on the Interpretive Master Plan for Heritage in Nova Scotia. For many years, Dr. Morrison served as an advisor and historian with the Pier 21 Museum, where he contributed to developing educational programming and exhibitions and thus helped to prepare for the transition of that institution to become in 2011 the National Museum of Immigration at Pier 21.

As a publishing scholar, Dr. Morrison has also attained distinction. The broad scope of his research interests is shown in his authorship and editorship of 13 books and monographs, which range from Nova Scotian history to the history of Southeast Asia and Japan. Recurrent themes include his leading contributions to the development of oral history methodology, and his longstanding interest in the social history of Frontier College. These areas are also prominently represented among his many important articles and reviews.

Over the years, Dr. Morrison has received well-deserved national and international recognition. In 2008, he was appointed to the Order of Canada for "lasting contributions to his province and to the field of historical research." In 2013, he was awarded a Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee medal in recognition of his research and advocacy on immigration and oral history. He has also been the recipient of many fellowships and accolades, including Senior Visiting Fellow at Singapore's Institute of Southeast Asian Studies (1989-90), Visiting Scholar at Hokkaido University of Education (1996, 2004), and a Visiting Fellow at Jawaharlal Nehru University (1999).

With all of this, Jim Morrison has always maintained the true values and demeanour of the scholar-teacher. His gift to Saint Mary's is represented not just in his many achievements, but also in the depth of his commitment to the humane qualities of higher education. His remarkable legacy will be long-lasting, at the university and in the wider community, and will undoubtedly be further augmented in his role as Professor Emeritus.

RETIREMENTS

JUDY HAIVEN

On July 1, Judy Haiven is retiring as a Professor at SMU after 17 years. She taught industrial relations and human resource management in the Department of Management in the Sobey School of Business. However her passion includes social justice, workers' rights and civil liberties. She has published widely in the fields of industrial relations and HRM, in scholarly journals and in popular magazines, newspapers and blogs. She took her students on field trips to food banks, picket lines and art galleries. Some students completed paintings, made sculptures and prepared videos to fulfill their course requirements. Judy served as department chair of the Management Dept., President and activist in the Saint Mary's University Faculty Union, and on many university committees. In 2016, she was awarded the NUCAUT (National Union of Canadian Association of University Teachers), Patricia Baker Award for union activism and advancement of equity in the post-secondary education sector.

Dr Haiven has travelled across Canada and in the UK where she completed her M.A., and her Ph.D. in Industrial Relations at the University of Warwick. After many years as a factory worker, a journalist, a filmmaker and a union organizer, she began her career at Saint Mary's University. She continues to live in Halifax, NS.

JAMES MORRISON

NAJMA SHARIF

Dr. Najma Sharif joined the Department of Economics as a full-time member in 1997. After taking time off to raise two children, she returned to graduate studies and earned her Ph.D. degree from McMaster University in 1992. Her teaching and research interests were primarily in the areas of development economics and the economics of immigration. She taught courses in development economics, monetary economics, and social cost-benefit analysis, among others. Her research ranged from topics like youth livelihoods, micro-credit programs and the empowerment of women, and the status of girls in poor countries, to immigrant entrepreneurship in Nova Scotia, the socioeconomic implications of mixed unions, and the labour market outcomes of immigrant women in Canada. Her research was presented to national and international audiences, academic and non-academic, and she has published in acclaimed journals such as the Journal of Development Studies, the Canadian Journal of Development Studies, the Canadian Journal of Economics, and the International Review of Applied Economics. Najma is an accomplished water-colour artist, and looks forward to further pursuing this passion during retirement.

DOUG STRONGMAN

Doug Strongman came to the Biology Department at Saint Mary's in 1987. There have been many highlights in his career but some of the fondest memories are sharing the Biology Field

Course teaching duties with friend and colleague David Cone and the enthusiasm showed by many students who experienced biology first hand in the great outdoors. In the later stage of his career, Doug was very fortunate to be able to pursue pure taxonomic research on a group of fungi found living in the guts of insects. This work was extremely satisfying and he is planning to continue this aspect of his career well into retirement.

MARTY ZELENIEZ

Marty Zelenietz first taught anthropology at Saint Mary's in 1980, shortly after receiving his Ph.D. from McMaster University. He resumed his relationship with Saint Mary's upon his return from Papua New Guinea in 1982. Over the next three decades he made numerous contributions to the Anthropology Department as a part-time instructor, sabbatical replacement, and honours thesis advisor, while also participating in the International Development Studies Programme. In 2010, Marty's relationship with Saint Mary's was formalized with a full-time tenure-track appointment. This new role allowed him to be an integral part of the University's LEAP program. As a full-time faculty member, Marty helped guide the intellectual development of undergraduate and graduate students over their academic careers at Saint Mary's. He took great delight in watching students mature as scholars and as human beings. He will miss this aspect of teaching the most.

Over the course of his career, Marty published many scholarly papers based on his fieldwork in Papua New Guinea. He focussed on basic ethnography of the Kiienge people, as well as the impacts of social change on indigenous cultures in Melanesia.

Heading into retirement, he looks forward to spending more time with his young grandchildren. An active eBirder and citizen scientist, Marty also plans to devote more time and energy to travel and to birding.

LUKUNDO NAKAZWE - Wednesday Afternoon.

Lukundo Nakazwe is from Lusaka, Zambia and came to S-int Mary's in the Winter of 2013 to pursue a Bachelor of Commerce. Raised as an only child, the concept of gratitude was introduced to her at a young age and thus Lukundo has a strong pass >n for help ig others and i mply believes in treating others the way you would like to be treated. Fondly called Lu by her ft ends, Lukundo worked in Residence for 3 years as a Residence Ass ant and Residence Service Officer. In her final year, she worked as a Career Assistant and Student Ambassador with Career Services and the Admissions & Recruitment Departments on campus. She has also been an active member of the Commerce, African, Speak UP and Habitat for Humanity societies. This past winter she visited South Can na and assisted in build g a home for an economically disadvantaged family. Lukundo was also heav v involved at the International Centre as a SAGA Volunteer (Students Acting for Global Awareness) where she co-hosted the 19th Annual International N^ht and helped organize on and off campus events that promote cultural awareness at S?`nt Mary's.

Lukundo is looking forward to staying i Halifax and fe.ving back to the community that has become her second home away from home. She would like to thank Heidi Weigand for empowering and help ig her become a successful re. lient student while she attended Saint Mary's. Lastly, Lukundo is incredibly grateful to her parents Gift & Chitambala Sikazwe who continuously prayed for her while she pursued her academic studies and ensured she had everything to successfully complete her studies.

YU TING (KIERA) CHANG - Thursday Morning

Kiera Chang is originally from China and now calls Canada home. Today she is graduating from Saint Mary's University with a Bachelor of Science Degree, with honours in Biology and a Diploma in Forensic Science. In her time at SMU, she has been a Residence Assistant for 3 years and used that opportunity to improve herself. She fulfilled her undergraduate degree by volunteering with Peer One, participating in SMUSA and societies and involvement in Animal Care in biology department.

Kiera will be enjoying life and will look at the world in a different perspective before moving on to her next new chapter. She is grateful for all the support and help she got at SMU in the past years. Besides the faculty, staff, professors, friends and family, she would like to give special thanks to her Biology Honours 2017 Class for making her last year at Saint Mary's University more than wonderful.

JODI-ANN AERA FRANCIS - Thursday Afternoon

Jodi-Ann came to Canada in 2012 from the island of Jamaica to pursue an undergraduate degree in Environmental Studies. She then decided to follow her passion and pursue a graduate degree in Geography.

A teacher at heart, Jodi-Ann spent eight years as an educator in her home country, and followed up on that experience to become one of the Senior Writing tutors here at Saint Mary's. Jodi-Ann also worked in various student leadership positions which highlight that she is dedicated to working with students; she has been invited on three occasions to speak on Confidence and Leadership at the Leadership Summit, as her presentation is timely and well received by the student population.

Having been a LEAP Peer Mentor, a Research Assistant, and the Co-Curricular Record Engagement Facilitator, Jodi-Ann has become a familiar face on the University campus; she makes these roles a central part of her personal, academic, and professional development. Jodi-Ann was also a member of the Conflict Resolution Society's team that visited Belfast, Northern Ireland in February, to teach Peace Education and Conflict Resolution to elementary school students. Jodi-Ann was also a panelist at the 19th Annual Metropolis Conference held in Montreal, QC, where she stated the findings of her research. Further, she is also the 2017 3-Minute Thesis Winner at SMU.

Her passion for working with students has led to her research which sought to understand international students' motivations to remain in or leave Nova Scotia post graduation. It is her hope that this study will enhance the understanding of international-student dynamics throughout the province.

Jodi-Ann is the mum of a dynamic seven year old who she is hoping can join her someday soon as she strives for a future here in Canada.

SYDNEY A. HULL - Friday Morning

Sydney Hull was born and raised just outside of Cole Harbour, Nova Scotia. Her parents, Rosalind and Robert Hull, are local small business owners from whom Sydney gained her approbation for hard work and perseverance.

Today, Sydney graduates with a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Political Science (summa cum laude). Her Honours thesis, "Past and Present Populism and Protest in the Labour Party and New Democratic Party: Comparisons and Contrasts", examined ideologies, organizations, and identities in movement challengers to the leading left-wing parties in Canada and Britain.

As a student at Saint Mary's, Sydney was an active participant in the Political Science Department's Model United Nations (UN) Program, where she debated pressing real-world issues at the National Model UN Conference in New York City in 2015 and 2016. Representing Ukraine and Switzerland, Sydney was a part of delegations that were awarded Honourable Mention and Distinguished Delegation recognitions, respectively. This year, as the administrative assistant and student coordinator for the program, Sydney helped prepare the 2017 Saint Mary's delegation to successfully represent Portugal in New York. Through Model UN, Sydney developed a number of critical skills, such as the public speaking abilities she used today.

Outside of academia, Sydney works as the Atlantic Regional Director for Sinerama, a (Canadian) fundraising initiative for Cystic Fibrosis Canada. She eagerly anticipates the day that "CF" stands for "Cure Found" instead of "Cystic Fibrosis", Although Sydney has yet to finalize where she will be pursuing graduate studies next year, she looks forward to continuing her academic journey. Above all, Sydney is thankful for Saint Mary's University, the Political Science Department, her professors, especially Dr. Alexandra Dobrowolsky and Dr. Marc Doucet, her classmates, and of course, her fellow Political Science Honours students (Cassie, Alex, John-Paul, Elinor and Aaron), for an outstanding undergraduate experience.

JOHN-PAUL NDUKA NWAEZEIGWE Friday Afternoon

From an early age, John-Paul Nwaezeigwe discovered a passion for politics, public policy discussion and government. As a student born and raised in Lagos, Nigeria, these topics were never far from every day conversation as well as academic debates. This passion coupled with his background were key in his decision to pursue a double major in Economics and Political Science at Saint Mary's University.

A diverse range of valuable experiences, from being a research and teaching assistant for department professors to being a member of this school's delegation in 2016 to the National Model United Nations Conference in New York, have all helped to profoundly shape his outlook towards the world. Over the years, John-Paul has come to deeply appreciate this University and its culture of accepting and valuing diversity, which has allowed a multitude of students to flourish in their academic and general pursuits.

Today, John-Paul graduates with a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) in Political Science and Economics (summa cum laude). He looks forward to continuing his academic journey by pursuing a Masters of Arts degree starting in September, 2017. He is extremely grateful to his family, friends and his cohort of Political Science honours students for their advice, words of encouragement and constant support. Aside from his family and friends, John-Paul would also like to thank the entire Political Science department especially Dr. Edna Keeble, Dr. Marc Doucet (his honours supervisor) and Dr. Alexandra Dobrowolsky (his honours seminar facilitator) for their immense guidance throughout his studies here at Saint Mary's.

HISTORY OF SAINT MARY'S UNIVERSITY

Saint Mary's University was founded in 1802 to provide opportunities for higher learning to young Catholic men. Its founder, the Reverend Edmund Burke, had meagre resources to work with, but on later being named Bishop with responsibility for Nova Scotia, he continued to support the college as essential to the development of the Catholic community. In 1841, the Nova Scotia House of Assembly gave formal recognition of its academic role. Its legal status was confirmed permanently by enactment in 1852.

In 1913, the Christian Brothers of Ireland, a teaching order, were invited by the Archdiocese of Halifax to direct the college and its academic program. During the ensuing years, Saint Mary's University became more widely known for the quality of its undergraduate teaching and continued to develop new instructional programs, most notably within its Faculty of Commerce

In 1940, the Upper Canada Province of The Society of Jesus was invited to succeed the Christian Brothers as administrators and teachers in the University, and for thirty years until the enactment in 1970 of the new act of incorporation, the college remained under Jesuit supervision. The long-standing emphasis on liberal arts and commerce was extended to include new programs in science, engineering, and teacher education. Extension courses became an important part of the University's commitment to an active educational role in the community. The Sobey Building, opened in the fall of 1998, houses the Sobey School of Business and provides meeting rooms as well as state-of-the-art classrooms for all three faculties of the University. In the last decade, the University has totally rebuilt the Loyola Residence and the Science Building such that they are essentially new buildings and major renovations were completed on the McNally Building. New additions to campus include the Atrium Building featuring the Global Learning Commons and the Homburg Centre for Health and Wellness

In the year 2002-2003, the University celebrated its 200th Anniversary in a year-long series of celebratory events. The celebration provided a marvelous retrospective of our past and set the stage for the University's significant role in the 21st Century. This has been guided by the Academic Plan, most recently updated for 2012-2017.

In December 2005, a new focus on the image of Saint Mary's University was unveiled. "SAINT MARY'S UNIVERSITY. ONE UNIVERSITY. ONE WORLD. YOURS." This powerful statement captures the fundamental nature of today's Saint Mary's. It encompasses our strategic directions and our vision to be the University of Choice for aspiring citizens of the world. Each of the three elements of rallying cry has a significant and thoughtful meaning:

One University: Our singular vision and commitment

One World: Unlimited possibilities

Yours: The challenge and the responsibility for all Saint Maryians

AN EXPLANATION FOR OUR GUESTS: THE CONVOCATION CEREMONY

The Procession

The ceremony starts with the procession — the entering of the members of Convocation, joining with the Marshall of Convocation, the Alumni Honour Guard and the students who will be presented with degrees, diplomas, and certificates during the service. As the students fill up the chairs in the Theatre Auditorium, they will give the impression that today's ceremony really is, as convocations traditionally were, a meeting of the whole University. The word "convocation" means "calling-together". Indeed, the Theatre Auditorium could not hold all the individuals who are part of Saint Mary's — the students, the professors, the administration, the staff, and a large number of alumni around the world — not to mention their families and friends.

Next in the procession are special guests, the Members of Faculty, the Board of Governors, and the Deans of the Faculties

Next are honorary degree recipients. In addition to "earned" degrees awarded to students who have studied and met the usual requirements, annually the University confers several "honorary" degrees on individuals who have been designated by the University's Board of Governors and Senate as deserving special honour. To symbolize the degrees, they will receive hoods trimmed with specially designated colours. The persons receiving this honour will be introduced during the Convocation ceremony and a brief text is read to explain why he/she merits the award. Details are found in the earlier portion in this program.

The final members of the academic procession are the Vice President, Academic and Research (who presides over Convocation), the President, and the Chancellor.

Many will have colourful gowns and hoods of institutions from across Canada, the United States, and many nations of the world

The Ceremonial Mace

The ceremonial mace, which is carried by the Marshall of Convocation at the head of the academic procession, was presented to Saint Mary's in April 1980 and used for the first time at the Spring Convocation of that same year. It symbolizes the University's authority to grant degrees. It was made and presented to the University by Major General Command in recognition of Saint Mary's alumni killed in both world wars and also in recognition of serving members of the Canadian Armed Forces who have been students at the University.

The mace is made of oak with a cast brass crown and brass plates carrying traditional ceremonial engravings. The plates represent the contributions to Saint Mary's by the Jesuit Fathers, the Chilian Brothers of Ireland, the Archdiocese of Halifax, the LaSalle Christian Brothers, the Lay Teachers, and the Armed Forces.

University Crest

Designed in the 1940's by the Reverend Daniel Fogarty, S.J., then Dean of Education, each symbol in the crest has significance relevant to the various phases and history of the University. On the outer portion of the crest, the name and location of the University are inscribed in Latin and in Roman numerals (1841), the date the University received its charter authorizing it to grant degrees.

The book shown above the shield represents learning and knowledge. The inscription on the page of the book is in Latin — "Age Quod Agis". This is the motto of the University which exhorts all those connected with the University to strive to do their best in everything that they do. This quotation is from the Irish Christian Brothers and symbolizes their contribution to the development of the institution.

The upper part of the shield has the official seal of the Jesuits with I.H.S. being the Greek initials for Christ's name. Below these initials are the three nails which represent the Crucifixion, and surrounding these is the Crown of Thorns. The two crowns represent a dual loyalty - to the then Dominion of Canada and to the British Commonwealth. Below these crowns is the thistle, which stands for Nova Scotia's Scottish heritage.

The Presidential Medallion of Office

On 22 October 2000, a Medallion of Office was officially presented to the University and used for the first time that same day at the installation of Dr. J. Colin Dodds as President. Designed and crafted by James Bradshaw and Bruce Babcock of James Bradshaw Jewelry Design Studios, Halifax, its centre is a University Gold Medal, traditionally awarded to the top graduating students. It symbolizes the University's deep commitment to academic excellence. It is surrounded by contrasting sterling silver, representing the diversity of the institution's students and its academic programs. It was generously presented by Mary Eileen Donahoe and her family as a memorial to the late Senator Richard A. Donahoe, Q.C., K.S.G., LL.D. (Hon.), a member of one of the University's earliest Boards of Governors, in recognition of his career of public service and his love of Saint Mary's.

The Hooding Ceremony

As you will observe, all the graduates and members of the academic procession are attired in the basic elements of formal academic dress, which at Saint Mary's follows the general guidelines established at Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England. Formal attire consists of academic robe, hood and mortar board, although at Saint Mary's the latter is limited to Master's graduates only. The academic dress worn by each participant depends upon that academic level attained. There is special attire for the Bachelor, Master, and Doctoral level candidates. While tradition has diluted the style or cut of the academic attire, each post-secondary institution, for the most part, will amend certain details of the attire to suit its own particular tastes and traditions.

The academic hood which each graduate is wearing symbolizes the degree into which the student will be or has been admitted. The hood itself traces its tradition back to the Middle Ages, when its prototype, with a cow-like appendage and tail, was used to cover the shoulders in the cold and draughty medieval buildings or in inclement weather. Gradually this garment was modified and the hood assumed an academic rather than functional significance. The hood has two basic elements: the trim on the outer edge and an inner satin lining. Each hood has its outer edge trimmed with a colour to indicate a particular faculty and degree: white symbolizes Arts; gold, Science; grey, Commerce and green for the new Bachelor of Environmental Studies. The hood for the Master's candidates is essentially the same as the Bachelor's hood except that the trim is usually an inch or two wider. All the Bachelor level hoods are lined with satin in the colours of the institution granting the degree. Hence at Saint Mary's the hood is lined with maroon satin with a white chevron. The Master's hood at Saint Mary's is lined with maroon satin only to give a added distinction from the Bachelor's.

A symbolic hooding ceremony has become a traditional feature of all Convocations at Saint Mary's.

Flags on the Stage

Each year Saint Mary's has a number of international students. The flags which you see displayed on the stage for Convocation are from some of the countries from which these students come, not necessarily graduating students, but those in any year of study. The globalization of the Saint Mary's University community is a feature of justifiable pride which contributes markedly to the growth and understanding of both Canadian and non-Canadian students.

Included in the University's permanent collection of flags is one from the International Year of the Disabled signifying the University's permanent commitment to people with disabilities. Also part of this collection is that of the Mi'kmaq's in recognition of their First Nation's Status. Since our Spring 2002 Convocation, the University's Bicentennial flag has taken its rightful place in our permanent collection.

Graduation Alumni Pins

The Alumni Association of Saint Mary's University has generously provided an Alumni Pin again this year. This is a tradition which started with the 1990 Spring Convocation. Graduates are encouraged to wear theirs with pride and to consider becoming an active member of the Association.

Degrees and Diplomas Awarded with Distinctions

At Saint Mary's University in the general undergraduate degree and diploma programs, academic distinctions are awarded to successful candidates on the basis of the following cumulative grade point averages of all courses taken at Saint Mary's University. There are no distinctions awarded in graduate and certificate programs.

B.A., B.E.S., B.Commi., & B.Sc.	Grade Point Av.	Diploma in Engineering
summa cum laude	4.00 - 4.30	with greatest distinction
magna cum laude	3.85 - 3.99	with great distinction
cum laude	3.70 - 3.34	with distinction

The President's Hall of Academic Excellence, located in the main hallway of the McNally Building, directly outside the President's Office, displays the names of all students who earned one of these distinctions. The Hall also includes the names of students who won academic medals at graduation.

The University's symbols and traditions reflect its roots as well as looking to its future and the ritual of Convocation looks to the roots of the University as well as being a beginning for the students who now enter a new stage in their lives. Indeed, both the symbols and the Convocation look back far beyond the beginning of this University to the centuries of academic life in western civilization. Today the University dresses in clothes which are symbolic, not functional, and goes through the 600-year-old ritual of a convocation for the conferment of degrees, diplomas, and certificates.

We thank you for being present to share in it with the Saint Mary's Universe community.

Photography

Family and friends are welcome to come forward and take photos of your favourite graduates as they exit the stage. However, we ask that you do not impede the flow of the ceremony or obstruct others taking their photos.

Stage trappings will be left in place for approximately one half hour at the conclusion of Convocation for graduates who wish to have photographs taken by family and friends against the backdrops on the stage.

There will also be photo backdrops of the University in the Conference Hall for pictures after the ceremony.

Framing of Parchments

The Saint Mary's University Bookstore, is pleased to provide an on-site, instant framing program following graduation ceremonies. (Please note: This service is NOT available during the Convocation ceremony.)

Simply present your diploma at the designated area in the BMO Lounge area outside of the Conference Hall. In seconds, it will be professionally framed in a high quality, Canadian-made frame, complete with a mat emblazoned with the official crest of Saint Mary's University.

Flowers

Fresh flowers are available for purchase in the McNally Lobby, before and after the ceremony, but not during the ceremony.

DVD

DVD videos of the convocation will be available and can be ordered from the website
