Here's to a new year

Stevens

A welcome to Saint Mary's University is extended to all members of the University community, to new and returning students and faculty, and to the new people on campus.

Students and faculty returning this fall will be saddened by the death of Father John J. Hennessey, S.J., a loyal supporter of the University and a well-loved priest and friend.

An enthusiastic sports fan, Father Hennessey would have been delighted with the success of the Pan American Wheelchair Games, declared by many of the athletes to have been the best games so far. Despite chilly weather and only fair attendance, more than 500 athletes from 17 countries participated and a number of world records were smashed. The Canadian team did well, finishing just behind the number one American team.

Earlier this summer, the campus became home to 74 elderly students who converged from across North America to partake in the Elderhostel program. The program is designed for senior citizens who wish to combine an inexpensive vacation with academic study.

Looking to the new academic year, Greg Ferguson, Assistant Director of Admissions, reports that the number of students who applied to and were accepted by the University is up by ten percent. Some 2300 new students have been accepted, although it is too early to know the number who registered.

As usual, applications for admission to the Commerce Faculty lead the way. However, applications to the Division of Engineering have reached the limit, according to Mr. Ferguson. The Arts and Science Faculties are holding steady gains and the Education Faculty retains an enrollment of 60 to 70 students despite the economic outlook for teachers in Nova Scotia.

In the Continuing Education Division, Dr. Alan Gordon reports that his office has handled more requests than usual and that the standard of mature students applying for admission to degree programs is exceptionally high. This coincides with a remark by Mr. Ferguson that the average age of students applying to the University appears to be increasing, possibly as a result of the current economic climate in Canada. More people are planning to upgrade their educational qualifications.

Dr. Gordon remarked that interest in the co-ordinated business programs offered by the University is steadily growing and that a greater number of students are expressing interest in non-credit courses such as Writing Skills, Science Fiction Writing and An Introduction to Basic Computers.

At Saint Mary's, the residences are filling up and Clay Fowler, Acting Director of Residences, reports a lengthy waiting list of 90 Saint Mary's students. However, he anticipates that all students on that list will eventually be accommodated. Some 28 will be given temporary beds in residence in the interim.

During the summer months the University received a facial uplift, partially in preparation for the Pan American Wheelchair Games. Most renovations included minor repairs and fresh paint, but the Alumni Arena has been improved with new glass and penalty boxes, and students frequenting the O'Donnell-Hennessey Student Centre will be pleased with improvements made to the common room and the cafeteria.

Activities for the fall semester are gearing up. The Athletics Department has appointed volunteer managers for each of the varsity teams and the games schedule is ready.

The Art Gallery has already booked some exhibitions as well as a number of evening concerts and lunch hour performances.

By next week the University will be in full swing and another academic year will be underway.

Saint Mary's loses a friend

Last month the Saint Mary's University community lost one of its most loyal supporters and beloved friend.

On August 10, 1982, Father John J. Hennessey died of a heart attack at a hospital in Peterborough, Ontario. He had been staying at the Jesuit Seminary in Pickering, Ontario since last spring after the Halifax Order decided he was no longer well enough to be cared for at the Jesuit home in Halifax.

A special memorial service will be held in Canadian Martyrs' Church at Saint Mary's on Wednesday, September 22 at 7:30 p.m. All members of the University community, alumni and friends are invited to attend.

Father Hennessey's association with Saint Mary's began in 1961 when he was appointed Dean of Men, a position he held for the next seven years. He was also advisor to the University's athletic teams. Although he officially retired in 1972, Father Hennessey continued to serve the students of Saint Mary's as Counsellor-in-Residence until this year.

As Dean of Men, Father Hennessey quickly became a legend as an irascible Jesuit who kept a firm eye on his charges. Any alumnus who lived in residence during his tenure will quickly attest to Father Hennessey's method of meting out justice to those who infringed on his code of ethics (usually a sharp rap across the knuckles with his familiar cane). Yet he was loved by the students. "Hen Alley", the dark tunnel beneath Vanier House, now adorned with student drawings, was so named because he was known to patrol the tunnel at night, ensuring the female residents of Vanier House slept undisturbed by unwelcome male visitors.

In 1970, the students honoured him by creating the Father John J. Hennessey Medal for the student who best upholds the spirit of the University. Last year's winner, David Hendsbee, dedicated his valedictory speech to Father Hennessey during the May 1982 Convocation ceremony.

In his Eulogy to Father Hennessey at Our Lady of Lourdes Parish in Toronto, Father William Stewart spoke of Father Hennessey's tremendous contribution to Saint Mary's. He said, in part,

Registrar honoured by the CIAU and YWCA

Elizabeth A. Chard

Elizabeth A. Chard, first woman President of the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU) and Registrar of Saint Mary's University, was elected to serve a second term as president of the Union at the annual meeting held last June in Winnipeg.

During her first term, one of the most controversial issues in CIAU history was debated, namely, the awarding of scholarships to athletic students. In a compromise decision it was agreed that certain types of athletic scholarships would be made legal.

In recognition of her contribution to the CIAU and to the development of interuniversity athletics, Mrs. Chard was presented with the prestigious Austin-Matthews Award by the Union on June 15.

In a summer of accolades, Mrs. Chard was also presented with one of three Recognition of Women Awards for 1982 by the Halifax branch of the Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA). These awards are presented for outstanding service to the community. Among the nominees were Dr. Wendy Katz of the English Department and Dr. Linda Christiansen-Ruffman of the Sociology Department.

Mrs. Chard graduated from Dalhousie University with a Bachelor of Arts degree (honours history) and subsequently obtained Master of Arts and Bachelor of Education degrees from the same University. She has also undertaken graduate work at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario.

Prior to her appointment as Registrar at Saint Mary's in 1973, she was an associate professor of history, and she held various administrative positions at the University, including Chairperson of the History Department, Dean of Women, Dean of Residence (Women), and Residence Advisor.

Mrs. Chard was a member of the Board of Directors for the 1982 Pan American Wheelchair Games and is currently a director of the Canadian Bureau for International Education (CBIE) as well as an elder in the Presbyterian Church of Saint David.

Father O'Donnell arrived at Saint Mary's in 1941, just one year after the Jesuits took over direction of the University.

He put strong emphasis on the quality and standard of education at Saint Mary's and he withstood no nonsense from his students as a professor of English and Latin. He also supported the debating society and public speaking. His nickname, "Buck", derived from his well-known tendency to fine a male student $1.00 if he was seen in the halls of the University not wearing a mandatory tie.

Despite his belief in the standard of teaching at Saint Mary's, like Father Hennessey, he was also an active supporter of the sports teams and served as Moderator of Athletics for a time.

Although Father O'Donnell retired from the University some years ago, he remained an active supporter of the Alumni Association and, until his recent illness, contributed regularly to the "Snippets" column in the Alumni newspaper, The Maroon and White.

Father Bathurst retired from Saint Mary's in the early 1970's but he remained at the Jesuit residence in Halifax until last spring.

He came to Saint Mary's in 1960 and held the position of Treasurer until his retirement. Although he was not as active in student affairs as Father Hennessey and Father O'Donnell, he is well remembered and loved by alumni for his generosity. A student out of cash and facing a hungry week could always rely on Father Bathurst for an advance or a meal ticket to tide the student over.

The fourth Jesuit to leave Saint Mary's this summer was Father Stewart. Father William Ryan, the Jesuit Provincial in Halifax, has decided he can best serve the Order now in pastoral work.

Speaking from the Jesuit retreat outside Halifax, Father Stewart admitted that he did not know where he would be sent but that he hoped to be able to remain in the Halifax area and so not sever all his ties with Saint Mary's.

"Saint Mary's has been my whole life," he said. "I have only had one job really and I have never left the University. I hope they leave me near Halifax. I hope I won't have to sever all my connections with the University."

Father Stewart was on his way to Rome to complete doctoral studies in 1951 when he was diverted to Saint Mary's for a year to substitute for a philosophy professor who had been taken ill. The trip to Rome never materialized and he stayed on at the University.

In addition to his teaching position, Father Stewart held a number of administrative appointments, including Acting President, Dean of Arts, Dean of Studies, University Librarian and Acting Director of Student Services.

However, he will probably best be remembered as moderator of the Saint Mary's University Dramatics Society. He became involved in 1954 when, in his own words, "I went down to the stage and saw so many things being done incorrectly I took off my coat and got to work. I have been at it ever since." He was the mainstay of the Society, always recognized by his "Super Bill" apron, as he hammered sets together or painted scenery.

"Father John could be obstinate, stubborn. He was an endless fighter for good causes, whether on behalf of his beloved students or members of staff. And few stirred up the student spirit as he could, or led them on as many forays against the arch opposition of sister universities. Some of you may recall the time when the Dalhousie fiberglass tiger had been captured and a Dal delegation came to Saint Mary's in search of it. All the while, of course, it was secreted in Father John's own room! I wonder, too, how many students over the years he rescued from the clutches of the local police? . . .

"A special area of John's loving concern was that of varsity athletics. . . . John travelled with the teams, and when the excitement of a game grew too fierce, he was known to retire to the dressing room where he contributed prayerful support. His familiar figure standing or striding along the side-lines will be sorely missed . . .

"In the last year or two a series of strokes deprived him progressively of speech. For John, what a tremendous cross this was to carry. A lesser person would have retired from all active participation. Not Father John. His courage, his determination to keep going were an example to all of us. Indeed, he loved Saint Mary's and all its members in a very deep and genuine way. Needless to say, he was loved deeply in return."

Regretfully, Father Hennessey is not the only Jesuit who left Saint Mary's recently. Father Michael J. (Buck) O'Donnell and Father Charles Bathurst were both moved to the Jesuit Infirmary in Pickering last spring because of ill health.

The 1981-82 academic year was one of special recognition for Father Stewart. After years of staging productions in the "inhospitable gymnasium" he was able to oversee major renovations to the Theatre Auditorium. When the Theatre re-opened in March 1982, one of the first performances was a full-scale production of Lady Windermere's Fan by Oscar Wilde. That play was Father Stewart's last at Saint Mary's.

Later in the year the Nova Scotia Drama League presented him with the Dramatist of the Year Award in recognition of his contribution to drama in Nova Scotia.

The Saint Mary's community will miss the warmth and vitality that Father Hennessey, Father O'Donnell, Father Bathurst and Father Stewart brought to the University.

Noteworthy Notes

DR. JAMES C. AHIKPOR (Economics) presented a paper on The Behavior Pattern of Foreign-owned Companies in Less Developed Countries to the International Business Division of the Administrative Science Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference in Ottawa, May 1982.

PROFESSOR JOHN CHAMARD (Management) presented a paper on Historical constraints on Entrepreneurial Activity in Nova Scotia with DR. COLIN HOWELL (History) and DR. VICTOR CATANO (Psychology) to the Business Policy Division of the Administrative Science Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference in Ottawa, May 1982.

DR. HARI DAS (Management) presented a paper on Political Strategies for Survival: the Case of Nova Scotia Universities to a joint session of the Administrative Science Association of Canada and the Canadian Society for the Study of Higher Education at the Learned Societies Conference, May 1982.

DR. DAS, with DR. RICHARD M. SPARKMAN (Marketing) and DR. EARL ROBINSON (Finance and Management Science), participated in a panel discussion on Teaching Research Methodology to MBA Students.

PROFESSOR IZZY ELKHAZIN (Accounting) and DR. FRANK DOUGHERTY (Accounting) presented a paper on Decision Support System for the Inventory Management of a Merchandizing Firm to the Information Systems Division of the Administrative Science Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference, Ottawa, May 1982.

DR. FREDERICK C. MINER (Dean of Commerce) was elected Chairman of the Organizational Behavior Division of the Administrative Science Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference, Ottawa, May 1982.

DR. MINER has been elected to the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement (J.A.) for 1982-1983. He was also a judge for the last J.A. contest.

PROFESSOR DERMOT MULROONEY (Engineering) has been selected chairperson of the Technical Papers Committee for the combined Engineering Institute of Canada/Canadian Society for Civil Engineering/Canadian Society for Mechanical Engineering/Canadian Society for Electrical Engineering Annual Congress, to be held in Halifax, May 1984.

PROFESSOR MULROONEY was awarded the APENS Service Award at the Association of Professional Engineers of Nova Scotia's annual meeting held in June, 1982.

DR. THOMAS J. MUSIAL (Dean of Arts) spent three weeks in England during May and June as a guest of the British Council to meet with researchers in the field of second language learning and to study recent developments in teaching English as a second language. The study-tour followed visits earlier in the 1981-82 academic year to several Canadian and American universities and language institutes to gather information on these same topics.

DR. SHRIPAD PENDSE (Management) presented a paper on Organizational Development in the Classroom to the OB Division of the Administrative Science Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference, Ottawa, May 1982.

DR. PETER RICKETTS (Geography) received a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Southampton, England, June 30, 1982.

DR. HERMAN F. SCHWIND (Management) participated in a symposium on Japanese Management: Its Applicability in a Canadian Context and presented a paper on Advantages and Disadvantages of the Culturalist Approach to the International Business Division of the Administrative Science Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference, Ottawa, May 1982. He was also a discussant on three papers.

DR. SCHWIND was a guest speaker at a monthly meeting of the Northwestern Rotary Club in Halifax. His topic was Japanese Management.

DR. SCHWIND spoke at the Annual Meeting of the Data Processing Management

Association in Halifax on Innovative Performance Evaluation.

DR. RICHARD SPARKMAN (Marketing) chaired a joint session of the Marketing and Organizational Behavior Division of the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada at the Learned Societies Conference, Ottawa, May 1982.

DR. GILLIAN THOMAS (English) presented a paper on Looking Well After the Pence: The Abundance of Misers in Nineteenth Century Popular Culture at the annual conference of the Northeastern Victorian Studies Association at Drew University, Madison, New Jersey, April 1982.

DR. HENRY VELTMEYER (Sociology) was a discussant of three papers in a special session on International Developments in Rural Sociology at the Canadian Sociology and Anthropology Association, Learned Societies Conference, Ottawa, June 1982.

DR. TERRY WHALEN (English), as editor of the Atlantic Provinces Book Review (APBR), has been travelling throughout the Atlantic region, calling on newspaper editors, radio executives, booksellers, librarians and teachers in an effort to promote both the APBR and a new Book Service, which will enable subscribers to receive copies of book reviews for reproduction in their publications. Dr. Whalen's trip is supported by a grant from the Canada Council.

DR. MICHAEL WILES (Biology) was interviewed on the national CBC radio program, Quirks and Quarks, August 4, 1982.

DR. WILES has been assisting 11CA/Jamaica in the preparation of a project profile for the Jamaican government on the production of crayfish in the Rear Tree Bottom area of the Belair Property in the parish of St. Ann, Jamaica.

Dr. R.M. Sparkman	Marketing	Associate Professor
Prof. G. Walsh	Accounting	Assistant Professor

Pan American Wheelchair Games . . .

August 21 to 29, Saint Mary's University hosted the VII Pan American Wheelchair Games. Some 500 athletes from 17 nations converged on the campus, testifying to the University's capacity to accommodate the disabled.

The Games were of the highest calibre: many world records were established. The athletes competed in track and field, swimming, weight lifting, basketball, table tennis, shooting and archery. Although only a few of the events took place at Saint Mary's, the University housed and fed the athletes and their coaches.

With only three full-time paid employees, located in an office in the O'Donnell-Hennessey Student Centre, the Games Committee organized some 1500 volunteers who handled everything from greeting athletes arriving at Halifax International Airport to officiating at registration, time-keeping, waiting on tables, acting as interpreters and generally ensuring the guests on campus were comfortable and enjoyed themselves.

A number of members of the Saint Mary's administration served on the Games Committee, all voluntarily: Al Keith, Football Coach, acted as Secretary; Elizabeth Chard, Registrar, organized the hostesses; Don Readon, an alumnae, aided by other alumni volunteers, oversaw the medal presentations; Keith Hotchkiss, Director of Student Services, arranged residence accommodation; Pat Lyall, Conference Office Co-ordinator, ensured the security of the athletes; Mike Tingley, Computer Office, arranged for the tabulation of computer results; and Mario Lisi, through Saga Foods, organized meals and the food outlets that sprang up on campus.

Without the help of these people and the hundreds of volunteers drawn from both the University and local communities, the Games would never have been the success they were declared.

Summer renovations on campus

The summer months have been a busy time at Saint Mary's, a time for plans to be made and a time when the sound of students rushing about the campus was replaced by the noise of hammering and sawing. University Services used the summer hiatus to put carpenters and plumbers to work, making renovations and repairs.

One of the projects was the Common Room in the O'Donnell-Hennessey Student Centre. Used as a cafeteria, a gathering place and an all-occasion facility, the Common Room has been given a stylish new decor. It has been divided into raised, enclosed eating areas, built of light-coloured wood. Each enclosed section has a row of plants set into planter boxes that run along the top. A new floor has been added, and the walls have been given a bright, orange colour scheme.

The Director of University Services, Guy Noel, says the idea was to make the Common Room more attractive and to provide a cozy atmosphere.

More improvements have been made to the Arena. "The Home of the Huskies" has new puckboards and enclosed penalty and time-keeper boxes. As well, the old, scratched Plexiglass around the ice surface has been replaced with a new, tempered glass that is more resistant to marring.

Another project, completed in time for the Pan American Wheelchair Games, was the renovation of several washrooms to make them accessible to people in wheelchairs. Mr. Noel added that most buildings on campus have now been remodeled to accommodate wheelchairs.

Other changes include improvements to some gymnasium facilities such as the shower room in the McNally Building and removal of the weight-training room to another site. In the Rice Residence, carpeting has been replaced with stone tiles and hinged closet doors are being replaced with sliding ones.

Much time was spent making renovations to accommodate the wheelchair athletes. In addition to a temporary wooden ramp built outside the Loyola Residence to allow the athletes to disembark from buses and enter the building, a permanent concrete ramp was built, leading from the track and field to the main door to the Colonnade. Asphalt walkways were mended and a new one, wide enough to accommodate wheelchair traffic flowing in either direction, was installed between the Student Centre and the Alumni Arena. Speed bumps were shaved at either end to allow wheelchairs and bicycles to manoeuvre past; slatted manhole covers were replaced with solid ones; external lighting was fixed; and signs, indicating washroom facilities and elevators, were posted.

Student Cafeteria

Many temporary renovations were undertaken in the residence rooms reserved for the disabled, including adjusting room mirrors for wheelchair athletes; replacing doorknobs with levers that could be manipulated by quadriplegics; installing curtains instead of doors to the bathrooms; and lengthening the string on closet lights so that they could be reached from a wheelchair.

The campus was thoroughly spruced up in time for the athletes and registering students. Most buildings received a new coat of paint, loose mats and carpets were tacked down and minor repairs mended.

appointments

New Dean of Commerce

The appointment of Dr. Frederick C. (Rick) Miner as Dean of Commerce at Saint Mary's University has recently been announced by the President, Dr. Kenneth L. Ozmon. Dr. Miner has been a member of the Faculty of Commerce for six years, and from 1978-81 he was the director of the Master of Business Administration program. He succeeds Dr. Samuel Jopling who completed his appointment as Dean of Commerce at the end of June.

Prior to coming to Saint Mary's University, Dr. Miner held teaching positions at the University of Minnesota. He also served five years with the United States Air Force as a Field Maintenance Officer.

Dr. Miner holds degrees from Gettysburg College, the University of Utah, and from the University of Minnesota where he received his doctorate in Management.

He is active in research and is the author of numerous publications. Along with two other Saint Mary's professors, he co-authored the first Canadian Personnel text which was published in June of this year. In 1981, he was editor of the Organizational Behaviour Proceedings for the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada, and this year he was elected chairperson of that division.

Dr. Miner is active in the business community of Halifax, both as a professional consultant and a speaker at various conferences and meetings of professional organizations.

He is a member of several professional organizations, including the Administrative Sciences Association of Canada, the Academy of Management, the Halifax Board of Trade, and the International Council of Small Business—Canada.

Director of Student Services

Keith Hotchkiss has been appointed Director of Student Services, effective last month. He held the post of Acting Director last year in addition to his position as Director of Residences.

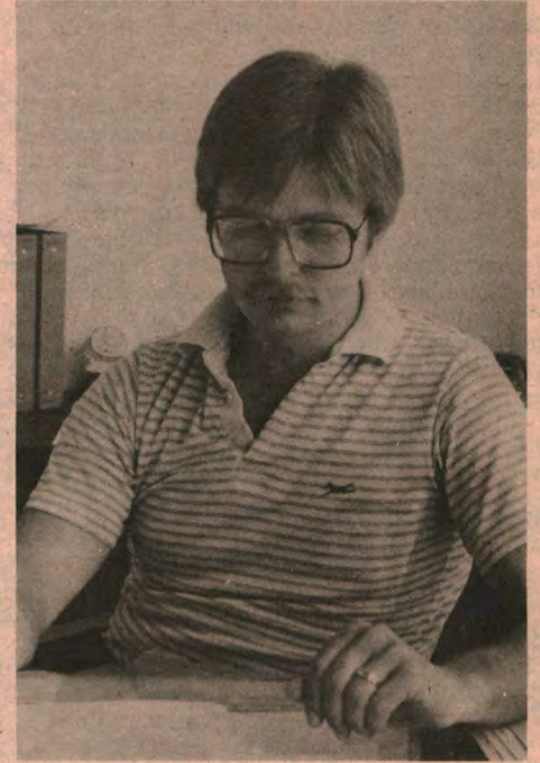

Mr. Hotchkiss graduated from Saint Mary's University in 1973 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in history. In August 1974 he was appointed Assistant Director of Residences, a position he held until he was promoted to Director of Residences in November 1977.

Mr. Hotchkiss has served on a number of organizations since coming to Saint Mary's. He was the Student Services Housing Representative for the Atlantic Association of College and University Student Services from 1977 to 1979, and President of that Association from 1979 to 1980.

From 1981 to 1982, he was regional Vice-President of the Canadian College and University Food Services Association, and in 1981 he hosted the Northeast Association of College and University Housing Officers Conference. This past year Mr. Hotchkiss has been on the Board of Directors for the Pan American Wheelchair Games.

Acting Director of Residences

Clay Fowler has been appointed Acting Director of Residences, effective August 1, 1982. He replaces Keith Hotchkiss, who has been appointed as Director of Student Services.

Mr. Fowler graduated from Saint Mary's with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1976 and then went to work in Student Services. He became Assistant Director of Residences in August 1977, a position he held until last month.

Commenting on the residences this year, he explained that all rooms have been assigned and there are no vacancies. The waiting list includes a number of Saint Mary's students but he hopes these students will be accommodated by the end of September. He added that this is a difficult year for students outside the Halifax-Dartmouth area as all university residences in the city are full and there is little alternative housing available.

Assistant, Art Gallery

Laura Bryson, a recent graduate of the Nova Scotia College of Art and Design, has been appointed Assistant in the Saint Mary's University Art Gallery.

A native of Ontario, Ms. Bryson received a Bachelor of Arts degree in art history from Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario. She then completed studies for a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree at the Art College.

Ms. Bryson is interested in a career in art galleries while pursuing her own painting in her spare time. She hopes to have some of her works ready for the Faculty, Staff, Alumni Art Exhibition in January 1983.

She replaces Sandra Hamm, who accepted a position in the Patrick Power Library last spring.

Assistant Director of Residences

Candace Reynolds, a native of Ontario, has been appointed Assistant Director of Residences.

She will be responsible to the Director and will assume the administration of the undergraduate student residences as well as working with the dons.

Ms. Reynolds graduated from Laurentian University, Sudbury, Ontario, in 1979 with a Bachelor of Commerce degree in sports administration. She then worked for two years as Director of a Community Information Centre in North York, outside Toronto, and for one year in the Public Information Office for Revenue Canada.

Off to Ottawa

Stamping passports in Lusaka—that, and rescuing Canadian citizens who have run afoul of the law in foreign countries, may be what is in store for Mary Boyd.

Mary, who was assistant director of the International Education Centre during 1981-82, resigned her position to accept a job with the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa.

Her first year, a probationary one, will be spent in Ottawa, although she may be assigned to a consulate office in the United States for a few months. Then, if things go according to plan, she anticipates being sent to a Canadian embassy in one of the Commonwealth countries.

Eventually she hopes to work in social affairs, attached to an embassy or consulate, interviewing immigrants and refugees, arranging student and cultural exchanges, and helping Canadians incarcerated in foreign prisons. Having spent two years studying in the People's Republic of China, she hopes that at some point in her career she will be assigned to Peking.

Mary graduated from Saint Mary's in 1975 and then spent two years of post-graduate study in London, England. In 1977 she was awarded a Canada Council Scholarship to study Chinese language and history in the People's Republic.

On her return to Saint Mary's in 1979, she taught Chinese language and history before being appointed to the International Education Centre.

Mary's ties with the University will remain, however. Not only is she an alumna, but her father, Professor Gavin Boyd, teaches in the Department of Political Science.

Marketing Society at Saint Mary's and Dalhousie

The Marketing Society, a new student organization of marketing majors from Saint Mary's University and Dalhousie University, has recently been incorporated.

The Society, an affiliate of the American Marketing Association, received its Charter of Affiliation in March 1982.

The American Marketing Association is a professional organization with members drawn from the marketing industry in Canada and the United States, although about 10 per cent of its members are academics teaching in colleges and universities across North America.

One of the Association's prime objectives is to encourage students and offer them guidance in their careers. Hence, the Association sanctions the establishment of societies, with close ties to the parent Association, at select universities.

Dr. Richard Sparkman, a marketing professor at Saint Mary's and a long-standing member of the American Marketing Association, was instrumental in establishing the new Society on the campuses of Dalhousie and Saint Mary's. He explained that one of the Marketing Society's main functions is to bring guest speakers to the two universities to lecture to members on career-orientation. Last year, although the Society was not established until January 1982, the executive sponsored lectures by representatives of Gillette and an advertising agency in Halifax, and a Commerce professor from Dalhousie.

Dr. Sparkman added that the Society is jointly funded by the Commerce Council of Saint Mary's and Dalhousie.

Nine NSERC grants awarded

Dr. D.H. Williamson, Dean of Science at Saint Mary's University has announced that nine members of the Faculty of Science have been awarded general research grants by the Natural Science and Engineering Research Council.

Those who received the grants, and the titles of their projects are:

Dr. P. Dodd Psychology	Factors affecting human contingency learning and depression	4,950
Dr. W. Finden Mathematics	Interpolation procedures to solve singular perturbations	1,600
Dr. K. Mailer Chemistry	Investigation of the UV spectral properties of glutathione peroxidase	2,650
Dr. G. Mitchell Astronomy	The application of combustion chemistry to interstellar shocked gas	4,500
Dr. A. Rojo Biology	Comparative osteology of the commercial species of the family Mugilidae from North Atlantic and Mediterranean waters	1,725
Dr. E.U. Rojo Biology	Karyotypic variability of Nova Scotia species of the family Cyprinidae	950
Dr. Q. Siddiqui Geology	Cenozoic ostracods from drillsites in the MacKenzie Delta and Beaufort Sea	3,500
Dr. K. Vaughan Chemistry	Synthetic studies with open chain Triazenes	5,000
Dr. J. Young	Solar gain and building heat loss estimation by microcomputer	2,500
Total:		$27,375

Group Equity Values

For the information of Saint Mary's faculty and staff concerned with pension contributions, the following figures are provided by Dr. J.J. Vostermans, Department of Economics:

2 April 1982	— 799.15
8 April 1982	— 806.71
16 April 1982	— 810.32
23 April 1982	— 801.75
30 April 1982	— 794.73
7 May 1982	— 793.08
14 May 1982	— 793.45
21 May 1982	— 779.82
28 May 1982	— 784.98

Library receives gift of books

Mrs. Lawrence Scobbie recently donated her husband's collection of books to the Patrick Power Library. Dr. Scobbie was a professor of education at Saint Mary's.

Atlantic Canada Studies acquires Hickman papers

The William Albert Hickman collection of papers has been purchased by Saint Mary's University for the Atlantic Canada Studies program offered at the University.

Hickman, Canadian inventor and novelist, died 25 years ago in Boston, Massachusetts. Although some of his short, satirical novels were compared to Kipling in style, he never achieved prominence as a major Canadian writer. He is, perhaps, better known as an early designer of highspeed boats.

Hickman was born in Pictou, Nova Scotia in 1875 and spent his early years there. He attended Harvard University and graduated in 1899. At Harvard he was best known for his skills as a sculler.

This interest in boats led to experiments with speed boats and, in 1906, he developed the Viper speedboat. He then formed the Viper Company in Pictou and began manufacturing the boats. Although he later relocated his company in Connecticut, he continued to design

Saint Mary's students to study law

Dr. Tom Musial, Dean of Arts, recently announced that all six Saint Mary's students who were recommended to the Dalhousie Law School have been accepted: Kenric Byron, Lynn Connors, Gavin Gils, Tim Hill, Karen Oldfield and Cathy Smith.

Lynn Connors has also been awarded the Beaverbrook Scholarship at the University of New Brunswick Law School, making her the second Saint Mary's student to win the prestigious scholarship in the past five years: Camille Cameron won it in 1978.

Cathy Smith was accepted by law schools at the University of Ottawa and University of British Columbia as well as Dalhousie. Karen Oldfield has also been admitted to study law at Queen's University.

Kenric Byron has elected to study for his Master of Arts degree before pursuing studies in law.

1981-82 was an exceptional year for political science students at Saint Mary's. In addition to six political science graduates being among the Dalhousie Law School's class of 1982, two other students won important scholarships: Lynn Connors the Beaverbrook Scholarship; and Toni Maioni, the Queen Elizabeth Silver Jubilee Medal.

speed boats. In 1914 he offered the British Admiralty a plan for using 50-foot highspeed Sea Sleds to carry and discharge torpedoes. Larger versions of these boats were built by the British and American navies during World War I.

Hickman's novels were based on Pictou, a town he returned to every summer during the 1930s. The Sacrifice of Shannon (1903), the adventures of an ice-breaker captain ferrying his ship between Pictou and Prince Edward Island, is probably his best known work. However, he also wrote a collection of humorous short stories about Nova Scotia, entitled Canadian Nights (1914), a Handbook of New Brunswick (1900), and two novelettes, The Flat Major Polonaise and Compensated.

The Hickman papers were acquired through a "Fleeting Opportunities" grant from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council. These grants are intended for the purchase of material that might not be offered for sale again. The University matched the $2000 grant awarded by the Council.

Art Gallery News

Lunch with ART, the popular noon-hour performance series, will return to the Art Gallery on Fridays at 12:30 p.m. Once again, admission is free and coffee is provided.

For the first semester a line-up of varied artists has been booked, beginning October 3 with a recital by folk singer, Robert Scott. Other scheduled events include chamber music, mime, modern dance, folk music and multi-media performances.

In January 1983, during the Third Annual Faculty, Alumni and Staff Exhibit, members of the Saint Mary's University community will perform during Lunch with ART, including the Folk Choir and the Dramatics Society.

Saint Patrick's Day will be celebrated on Thursday, March 17, with a special show with an Irish flavour, replacing the usual Friday performance that week.

A mini-series of evening concerts has also been arranged for the fall semester. Performances will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the Art Gallery. Tickets are $2 and $1 for students and senior citizens, and may be purchased at the door.

The first performance, a multi-media show with musicians John Grey and David Barteaux, will feature a combination of live music, audio-visual tapes and electronic music. The concert will be held on Thursday, September 23.

Other concerts scheduled during October and November include a recital by mezzo-soprano Elvira Gonella; chamber music with the Halifax-based Pro Musica String Quartet; and an evening of Bach performed by soprano Judith Wright and an eight-piece chamber ensemble.

Help your students learn to use the Library

This year Library staff again have offered to conduct library instruction sessions to teach students to find information in specific disciplines and help them undertake class assignments. The instruction sessions are held in the conference room of the Library during regular class periods.

Last year the Library organized 57 such sessions attended by 1139 students or almost 50% of the full-time student body. Faculty in the three departments of English, management and accounting took greatest advantage of this service, arranging for a total of 40 of the 57 sessions.

Library instruction sessions ensure that students will know how to find library materials before they undertake class assignments. To arrange a class session, please call Jane Archibald at extension 175 at least two weeks in advance.

Refugee from Ethiopia finds a new life at Saint Mary's

Saint Mary's University is both the end of the rainbow and the start of a new life for Ethiopian student Hamtom Embaye.

The 25-year-old fled war-torn Ethiopia in 1978 as he believed his life was in jeopardy. A number of his friends had been murdered or imprisoned. Despite a bad limp, the result of poliomyelitis as a child, Mr. Embaye travelled overland to seek refuge in Kenya. Once in Nairobi he was granted political refugee status but was unable to continue his education. He has completed high school and was teaching illiterates in Ethiopia before being forced to leave.

Through the auspices of the World University Services of Canada (WUSC) and the Canadian Embassy in Nairobi, he has been offered a chance to study at Saint Mary's.

Mr. Embaye arrived at the University on August 19 and is registering for courses in the Faculty of Science. He hopes eventually to complete a Bachelor of Science degree and then enter medical school.

Saint Mary's will cover the cost of Mr. Embaye's tuition and residence fees for one year. Saga food will contribute a free meal-plan and the Bookstore will provide his books. As a landed immigrant he will be able to work in Canada and so the Student Council's executive is finding him part-time work in the O'Donnell-Hennessey Student Centre.

Although Saint Mary's will cover his costs for only one year, Mr. Embaye will be eligible for student loans in ensuing years and so will be able to complete his education.

WUSC began its refugee student aid program in 1977 and since then has assisted more than 25 students in coming to Canada. Nearly triple that number, however, remain on the WUSC list of students seeking sponsors in this country.

The aim of the program is to help legitimate refugees whose studies have been interrupted to continue those studies at Canadian institutes. There are no geographical restrictions, although most of the refugees admitted to date are from African countries.

Upcoming Events

Public hearings on the New Democratic Party's Task Force on Older Women will be held September 24-25 at the North Branch library, Halifax.

The objectives of the Task Force are to uncover the serious problems faced by older women in Canada.

Further information is available from Barbara Levy, R.R. 3 Wolfville, Nova Scotia (542-5589) or Aileen O'Connell, 6252 Shirley Street, Halifax B3H 2N6 (422-5190).

The annual Atlantic Philosophical Association Conference will be held October 1 to 3 at Saint Mary's University. Between 40 and 50 philosophers from the Atlantic provinces will attend and about 20 papers will be read and discussed.

Testimonial dinner for "Mr. Hockey"

Laurie Smith, once known as "Mr. Hockey" to high school students at St. Patrick's School, will be honoured at a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Novascotian on Friday, September 24.

The Saint Mary's University Director of Alumni Affairs coached the St. Patrick's hockey team from 1944 to 1962, during which time he led his teams to 18 city championships and seven provincial crowns.

Robert Hayes, Director of Athletics and Recreation at Saint Mary's, will officiate as Master of Ceremonies. Other dignitaries at the head table will include the Honourable Gerald Regan, Secretary of State and Minister Responsible for Fitness and Amateur Sport; the Honourable Arthur Donahoe, M.L.A. and Speaker of the House; Fred Lapher, former manager under Mr. Smith; and former hockey player, "Dugger" McNeil.

Tickets are available on campus from Mr. Hayes at ext. 117 and Dan Stone, Director of Personnel, ext. 185.

The great company picnic

by Doug Vaisey, Patrick Power Library

From the three-legged race to the tug-o'-war, the Corporate Challenge '82 pitted 50 teams against each other in a spirit of fun and fitness. Saint Mary's, represented by a baker's dozen drawn from faculty and staff, participated for the third year in a row. While not in the top ten, the Thrilling Thirteen scored well in the obstacle course (Bruce Hopkins and Cindy MacLean), and the tug-o'-war. Nancy Bird and Walt Finden gave their all in the pool while, on the road, Faizal Junus, Mary Pace, David Lundrigan and Claire McPherson went the distance in the 10km race (that's 6.25 miles, folks!). Lundrigan and Bird demonstrated high-class pedalling in the bicycle relay.

Although it is rumoured that many of the team could barely walk the next day, and that the obstacle course and tug-o'-war did not improve Bruce Hopkins' bruised ribs, all team members enjoyed themselves. Special credit for this year's team goes to Mary Pace, whose recruiting and enthusiasm provided a full complement of participants.
