University Life...

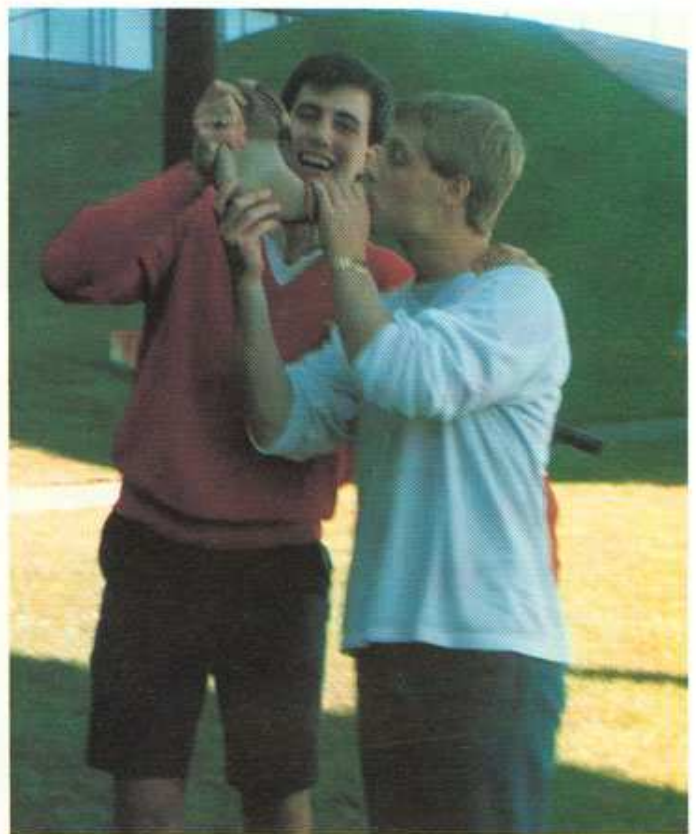

How will you remember it?

Books and studying.

Good times and good friends.

Parties that ended all too soon.

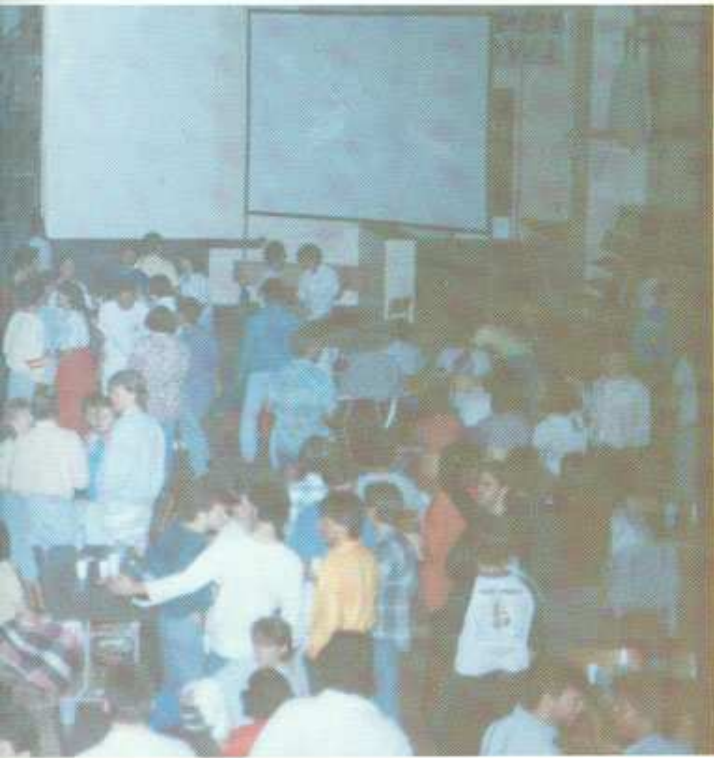

Classes that never ended soon enough...

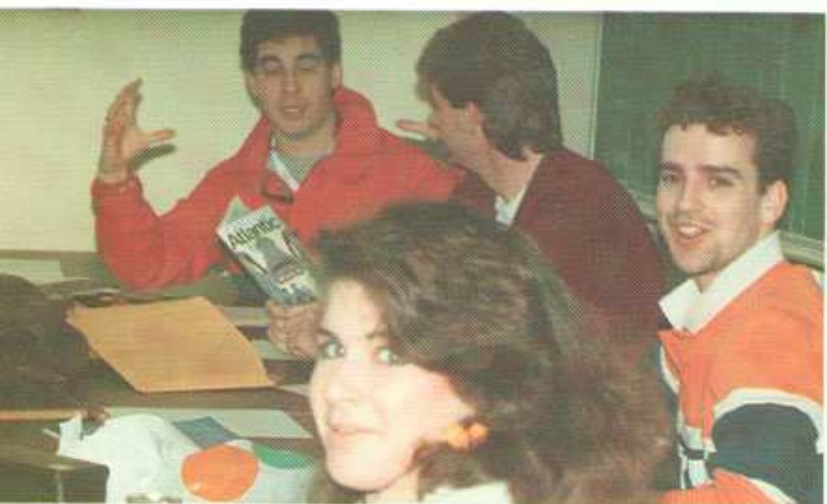

Will just one thing stand out?

Will everything blend together?

If you could change anything,

would you?

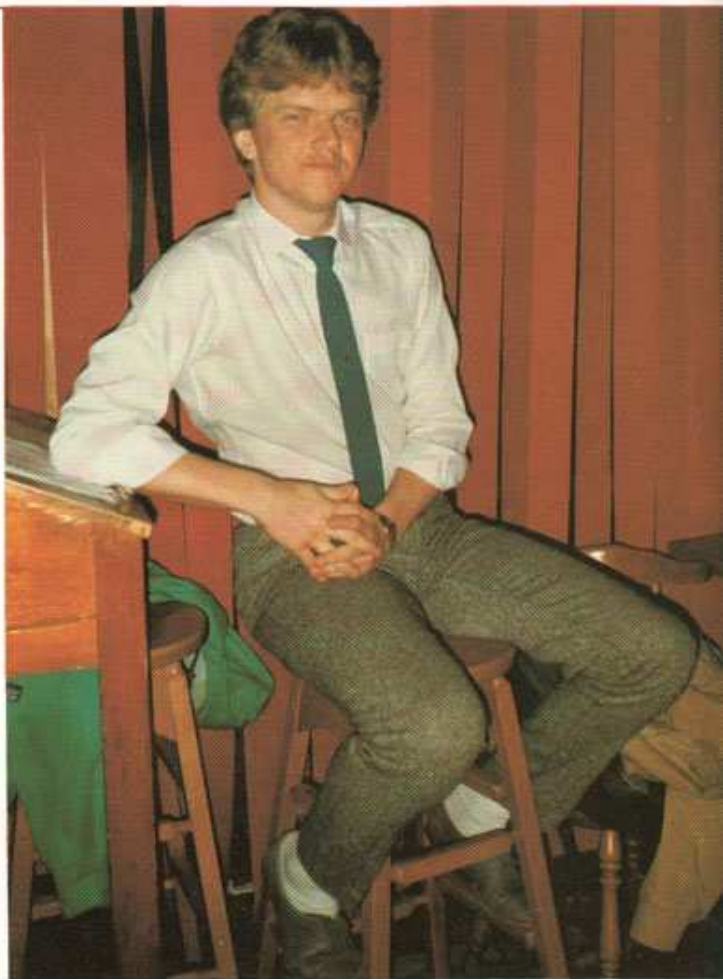

If you could have done it differently,

would you.

Or will it be left alone

and filed in your mind

As the experience of a lifetime.

PEOPLE AND PLACES

Fond Farewells... A tribute to those who have

For eleven years, Dorothy Martin was a familiar figure to students in the residences as she cleaned and tidied up after them. She put her heart and soul into the job and says "We all got along just like one big happy family." She really enjoyed her work and says "I liked to make it all nice and clean for when they come in and I know the girls appreciated it."

Dorothy was born in Halifax and has devoted most of her life to keeping things clean and neat. She worked at the VG hospital for a number of years and also worked as a maid for a wealthy family whose house once stood on the site of the new Grace hospital. She says "We use to have rich parties and people visiting from New York and I used to have to suggest meals and desserts to follow. I wore a black and white uniform with a cap and collar for serving meals."

Dorothy has worked in the men's residence as well and remembers "When I first went there, some of the boys were very untidy in the TV rooms. After a while, though, I guess they saw me trying to make it nice and they took up the papers and tidied up when they got to know me. If you take an interest in their floor, they will take an interest."

But it is "My girls" that mean most to Dorothy. "It has been my life, working with students," she says. She is still in touch with many of them, and says "I receive letters and postcards from several of the girls in New York, the Bahamas, Antigua and across Canada."

Asked whether students have changed over the years, Dorothy, or "Dottie" as the girls call her, says "I don't think so. A new student comes and the other girls tell her, 'This is Dorothy, she will see to you.' They sort of blend in and always look after new students. They are really super, over ten years I have found them really super."

Dorothy and her husband Lester, who have lived in the married quarters of the Loyola residence during most of Dorothy's time at Saint Mary's, are moving to an apartment on Victoria Road. It seems unlikely that Dorothy, who says "I love to work" will allow her busy hands to grow idle. She will still be cleaning for a number of private clients and will be popping back to visit her girls. She will take with her many fond memories, including that of her final treat. "I got gifts all the time," she says "and my Christmas present from them this year was supper at Hogies. The girls took me out to supper, it was very nice of them."

given so much of their lives to the running of this university.

Florence came to the University to work for two days, but stayed 26 years! Back in July 1960, she agreed to fill in for a couple of days, despite the fact she and her husband Bruce were preparing to move and to go on holiday.

She arrived at the Registrar's office to start, but was flabbergasted to find the three girls on the staff all wearing identical skirts and two of them identical blouses. "If they expect me to dress exactly like they do, they are crazy" she thought, "What kind of place is this?" It turned out the girls had all shopped independently and worn their identical purchases to show off on Monday! Florence stayed for two weeks, then left for her holiday.

When they got back, she and Bruce began the move from Timberlea to Halifax. They arrived at the new house with the house with the moving van, and Florence says "I was just taking a step over the threshold and the telephone rang. 'Somebody got the wrong number', I thought, but it was Saint Mary's asking me to come back permanently." That was in July 1960, but she says "I really didn't mean to stay 26 and a half years."

For ten years Florence worked in the Registrar's office. "We were the Registrar's office, we were the Admissions office, we were Continuing Education and the High School" she says. It was still a Jesuit college then. Father Fisher was President and Father Stewart was Dean of Studies. Mrs. Lana Judd was Registrar and Florence remembers that she left to devote herself to a successful career writing thrillers.

The dress code was very strict when Florence started at Saint Mary's. She remembers "The boys were not allowed to wear jeans and had to wear a collar, tie and jacket. She describes how, "Sometimes they used to slip into the dining room wearing a tie, but without a shirt, just to see if it would be noticed." She once told one of the priests "The boys are not allowed off the floor without shirt, tie and jacket, but you have not mentioned trousers. One of these days you are going to see one of these boys down there without trousers." She adds, "Next year trousers were mentioned."

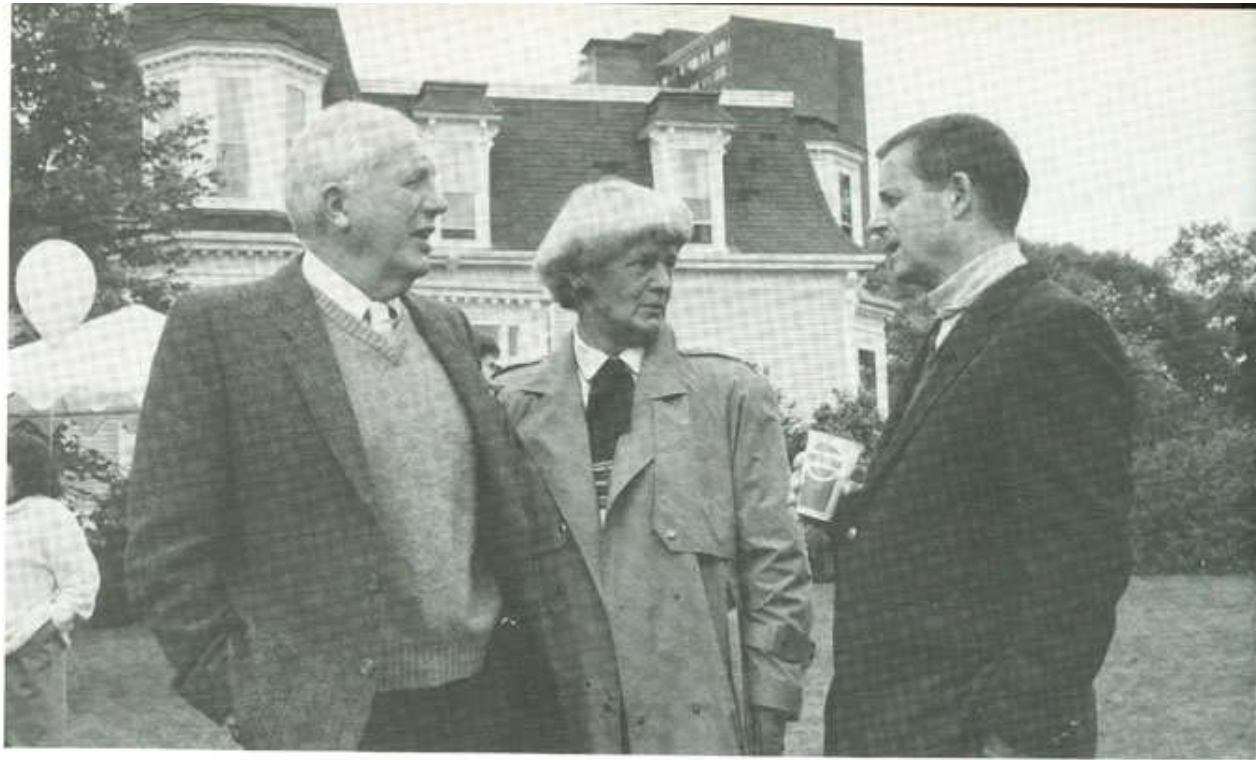

Florence worked as secretary to the dean of Commerce for several years and remembers how busy the department was. "It was growing and growing" she says. Then she worked for the Religious Studies department and for a while divided her time between Philosophy in the morning and Religious studies in the afternoon.

In 1976 she became departmental secretary for the Astronomy and Philosophy departments and there she stayed until her retirement. One highlight of this period was her first introduction to word processing. She had been typing a book for Dr. Welch for a year, but remembers, "Suddenly he said 'It has been accepted and now we are going to get it ready for printing.'" Dr. Welch brought in his word processor and Florence learned to use it while trying to meet the deadline for the book. A copy of that book, with its printed acknowledgement of her yeoman service, is now a treasured possession.

It seems unlikely Florence will be idle in retirement. She and Bruce still sing in the choir of St. Phillips Anglican church, she is a member of the IODE and an enthusiastic bridge player.

FLORENCE ELLIOTT

From Our President . . .

Another year has come and gone!

I'm sure for most of you, looking back it now appears to have passed quickly. As you look through your yearbook again in future years it will seem even more so.

Even though they pass swiftly, and take up only a small part of your life, your years at Saint Mary's are now indelibly etched in your minds.

Your experiences on our beautiful and friendly campus, from freshman orientation through Convocation, have played a large part in forming your ideas and your personalities.

Just as you will remember us, so we will take great pleasure in remembering you, in our lectures and labs, on field trips, in the gym and the rink.

We'll take pleasure in those memories, and pride in your future accomplishments as well. You became part of our family when you arrived on our campus.

To those of you who graduate this year, our sincere best wishes. To those of you whose graduation picture will appear next year, as well as pictures of you in more unguarded moments, we'll look forward to seeing you back in 1987.

Our very best wishes to all.

The Birth of a Sportsplex

For eighteen months the university community as well as travellers of Tower Road were witness to the formation of a concrete monstrosity that began as a muddied practice field and was transformed into the city's newest fitness and recreation centre. Construction began in October of 1986, and the centre finally had its grand opening on June 8, 1987.

The latest addition to the Saint Mary's University building family, dubbed "The Tower," endeavors to cater to every aspect of the sports world. It houses the usual gym, weight room, squash and racquet ball courts, aerobics room, and sauna and whirlpool facilities, as well as a physiotherapy and sports medicine department, pro shop, and restaurant and lounge. The complex was a long awaited and much-needed facility on campus.

The "Queen" of the carnival

What to do when there's nothing to do . . .

The '86/'87 academic year at Saint Mary's was a poor one, if one relies on bashes for their main source of entertainment. Due to dire economic straits SMUSA was left with the only option of having the vast majority of bashes consist of nothing more than videos. Most of these video bashes were well attended, but by the end of the year it seemed that everyone was weary of videos in any way, shape, or form.

Fortunately, there was some live entertainment throughout the year: Tony Quinn, Risqué, Spice, The Hopping Penguins, and Rox all provided some good live entertainment. It was certainly a welcome sight to see a band at St. Mary's this year and all of these bashes were well attended.

Winter Carnival was an oasis in a rather dry year, as the Collonade became the epicenter of a campus wide party for one week of fun and games for everyone. Throughout the week there was literally something for everyone, including games of chance, movies, a bash and other events sponsored by different societies.

Many societies on campus helped us forget about classes for a while. The Residence Society held a very successful Halloween bash, Off Campus hosted a Male Beauty Pageant, and C.F.S.M. sponsored and hosted a Talent Show that was most impressive.

Weekly movies in the Education Center and The Gorsebrook Lounge provided some good entertainment — not to mention free — but oddly enough the majority of these were overlooked by most people.

Sadly, overall this was the worst year for entertainment on campus here, but hopefully things will get better. A referendum to raise student fees was soundly defeated this year, so cuts will have to be made elsewhere before we will see more live acts at our bashes. With any luck, next year council will channel more funds for bashes so we will not have to be faced with so many video bashes.

Fellow students:

During 1986-87 I had the unique privilege of serving a second term as Student's Association President. My second term has succeeded in being even more interesting and exciting than the first.

The SMUSA executive and staff worked diligently and cooperatively in 1986-87 to see the continued success of the gains made in 1985-86 and to expand and establish new and better programs and services for the student body.

This past year saw the establishment of a student typing service, photocopying service, postage service, construction of a Student's Association Conference Centre.

SMUSA removed its membership from the Student Union of Nova Scotia in 1986-87. SMUSA expanded its liquor service operation into the new Saint Mary's Fitness and Recreation Centre as well in 1986-87. This was the year that also saw a student referendum to increase student fees by $25, which was turned down by the student body.

In 1986-87 SMUSA executive and staff travelled to London, England, Toronto, and Boston for Canadian and international conferences on student services and programming. Also a new general manager was hired to fill the old full-time position of Business Administrator. These are just a few of the highlights of 1986-87.

I wish to thank all of the SMUSA executive and staff for their hard work and dedication during 1986-87. It is through their efforts that SMUSA is able to provide a full year of programs and services, manage and administrate a large business operation, and represent the students of Saint Mary's in a fair and effective manner.

Another year is behind us and a new group of student leaders are stepping into positions of responsibility. I wish the best of luck and good fortune to all of the new Students Representative Council members.

My congratulations and best wishes to the Graduating Class of 1987. I know that you will remember Saint Mary's fondly.

BUSTERS!

From the Desk of the Editor. . .

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. It was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness. It was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity. It was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness. It was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair. We had everything before us. . ." 1.

1. Charles Dickens, A Tale of Two Cities

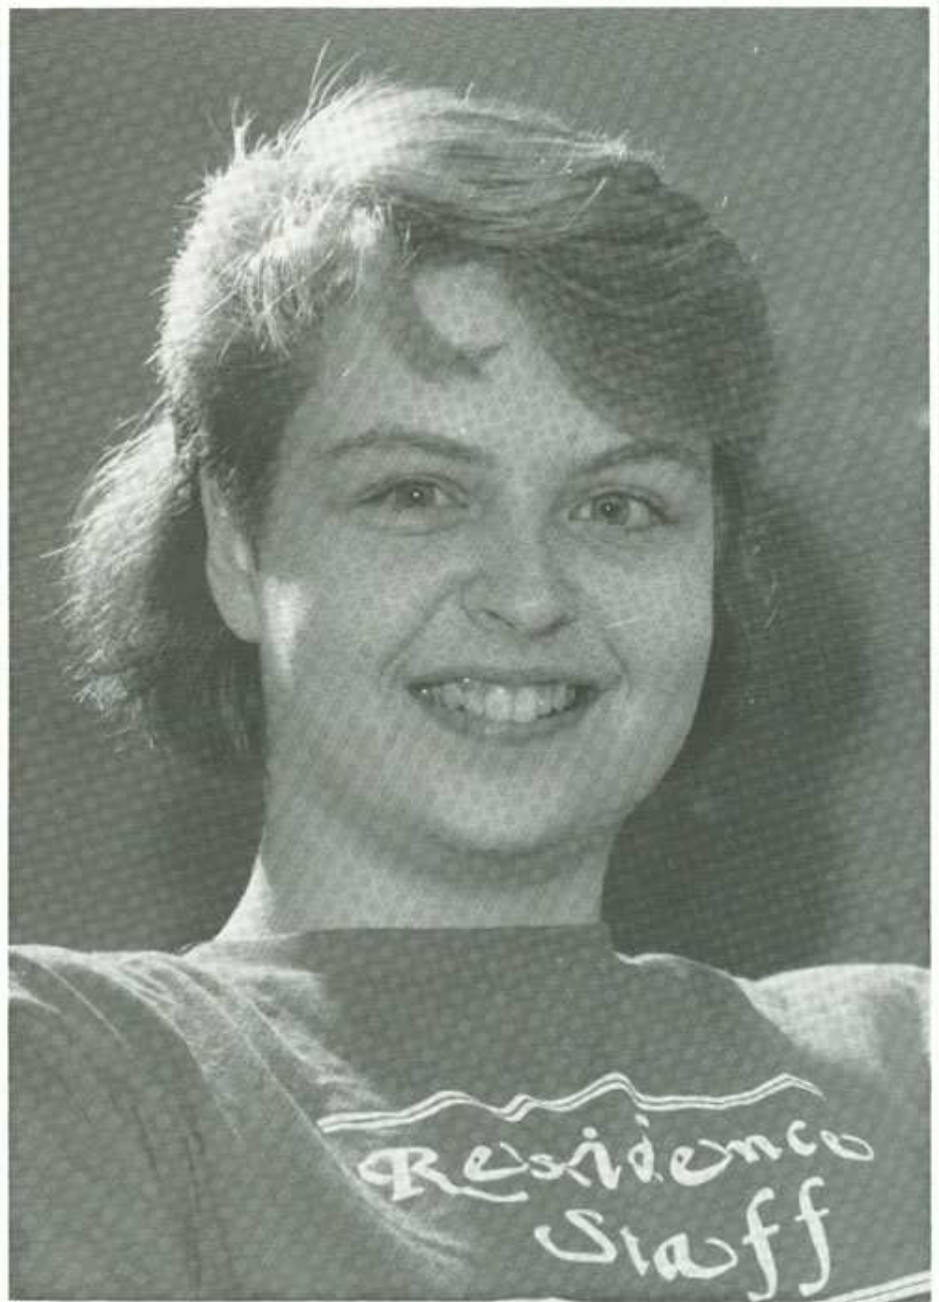

Looking back over the multitude of quips, quotes, stories, and various literary works I could find no other quote that so wonderfully and neatly described this past year, not only for me personally, but for everyone in the university community. The past months have been filled with numerous emotional turmoils, happiness, depression, changes, and challenges. The going was tough, but there was a light at the end of the tunnel, and everyone managed to find it. Some sooner than others. Spring came, the faculty cleared their classrooms, the graduates cleared our halls, and now, as summer draws to a close, I prepare to clear my office and wrap up production of the Santamarian, 1987 edition.

A yearbook, by definition, is a collage of memories, a source of reminiscing, and this year's Santamarian staff (limited as it was) sincerely hopes that this edition lives up to those expectations. The toil was ours, but the book is yours, and we hope the results live up to your standards.

In closing, allow me to wish our graduates the best of luck, as they go on to further their studies or to finally meet the real world. May your memories of Saint Mary's fade to let only the good ones remain. And to everyone else, keep at it, and don't give up. Your turn is coming, no matter how distant it may seem. I now relinquish my command, and rest my case. Best of luck to everyone, whatever the endeavor.

Hoo ha.

As everyone of course knows, the 86/87 incarnation of The Journal was infested with Narco-Sex Terrorists, Socialists, and other such undesirable species of Libertarian vermin; sniffing at the rancid underbelly of a society gone loopy. This country Canada — I just want to give it a big sloppy kiss.

Journalists, professional or un-cultured hackers like us, are a loathsome crew; the motley sludge of the welfare state, belligerent sub-culture nerds with no respect for non-smokers. Who needs 'em?

Like leaches on the scab of human nature, we feed off scandal and misfortune. Misbegotten pen-cretins with an insatiable lust for decadence, darkness . . . the dialectics of drivel.

Check under the nearest rotting log, you'll see us.

Problem is though, we seem to be an endangered species. This year has seen a marked decline in the numbers of impressionable youths, lilywhite and virginal by nature, that we've been able to lure into the fifth floor web of sin.

Want some candy?

Y'see, without a well rounded staff of parasites to dig through your private lives, we can't claw up the filth and slime that we so desperately crave. I believe we've done a grand job this year, but if we'd had more people, we could have gotten to the real issues, and the dirtiest of laundry.

So, like . . . I'm soooooory. Okay?

I mean, we know . . . I mean KNOW, that underneath the smiles and suits and glowing faces that permeate this trip down memory lane, lurk all the hidden desires of a species driven to complacency and conformity. You're all just darn lucky that we didn't have more staffies this year, cuz we would have found ya sooner or later.

God I love dirt. I just want to smear it all over my body . . .

Or at least the front page.

Great moments of

OUR MASCOT

In 1960, Saint Mary's University adopted "Huskies" as the nickname for their men's teams. The Siberian Husky became the official mascot for qualities which paralleled the teams' motto, "In the Pursuit of Excellence."

Huskies are used as a form of transportation in northern areas, search and rescue dogs, seeing eye dogs, ski patrol dogs, and house pets; as well as racing dogs. Pound for pound, the Siberian Husky is the strongest draft dog in existence. A versatile and gentle dog, the Husky is a perfect example of "Mans' Best Friend."

The husky serves to represent our teams and what they are capable of achieving.

Currently our Husky mascot is "Kimo," owned by Marilyn Cote.

"Hennessey the Husky," SMU'S own representation of the husky mascot, has been seen throughout the years cheering our teams through the best and worst of times.

This year the secret person behind all that fur was Brenda Anderson.

THE SIBERIAN HUSKY
"HENNESSEY"

THE SPECTATORS

SPECTATOR: (N) One who participates in a sport by watching, cheering, screaming, praying, and criticizing. Also one who endures hard seats, cold weather and bad plays to support their team to the end. A much overlooked but nonetheless essential part of any sport.

SAYING GOODBYE TO THE GYM...

What a send-off!

SMU triumphs over the rival St. F.X. team.

FLASHBACK...NOV. 24, 1973

HUSKIES WIN VANIER CUP!

The weather was less than cooperative, but it served to dampen the body only, and not the spirit as the Saint Mary's University football team won possession of the Vanier Cup, the highest award in Canadian University football. The team achieved this top honor by defeating McGill University at the Toronto championship game, and despite the leaky locker rooms and the absence of a dry football to play with, the team triumphed, with a final score of SMU : 14 to McGill : 6.

Twenty-one of these team members went on to careers in the Canadian Football League, and two of them are there still. In honor of this team's accomplishments in both the provincial and national sports world they were inducted into the Nova Scotia Sports Hall of Fame in a ceremony this past fall.

Spring Convocation

A black and white photograph of three individuals in academic regalia. On the left, a man with glasses and a white scarf. In the center, a woman with a white scarf and a white flower on her lapel. On the right, a woman with glasses and a white scarf. They are standing in a line, looking towards the right. The background is slightly out of focus, showing what appears to be a building entrance.

But life can be easier if you plan for it. Especially if those plans include taking care of your financial future.

That care is something Scotiabank has given graduates for more than 150 years. Because no matter how times change, the principles of personal money management remain the same.

So remember the name that treats you not as a number—but as a person with a future.
