Sodality

— more active than ever.

Delegates: J. Thoma, '44, Philip Vaughan, '43.

ACTIVITY crammed was the year 1942-43 for S. M. C. Sodalists. Besides the weekly meetings, such projects as the Press Exhibit in February, the providing of pamphlets and pamphlet racks to service clubs, the distribution at Christmas of toys and food to the city's poor, the maintenance of a lively bulletin board, the furnishing of Our Lady's altar with flowers throughout the month of May, the dispatching of delegates to the C. F. C. C. S. Convention at Chatham, the provision of material on Catholic literature for a Journal editorial campaign rounded out what has undoubtedly been the busiest season since the Sodality's inception three years ago.

REV. E. CHABOT, S.J.
Director: Senior Sodality

St. John Berchman's Society

UNDER the moderatorship of Mr. Francis Farrell, S. J., the members of the St. John Berchman's Sanctuary Society brought an ever increased efficiency to their sacred duties of serving Mass and Benediction and acting as student sacristans. Their number was raised to nineteen on the feast of their patron, November 26, when Rev. F. Elliott, S. J., formally admitted ten new members.

Front: R. O'Keefe, J. Mackey, O. McCarthy, Rev. F. Farrell, s.j. Moderator, K. Griffin, Pres., E. Boyd, D. Campbell. Second Row: R. Johnston, J. Mombourquette, J. Gillis, A. O'Driscoll, J. Rice, J. MacDonald. Back: L. Gillis, P. Sullivan, J. McNeil, J. Lefrank, P. Hardwicke, T. Amirault, A. MacDonald.

League of the Sacred Heart

IN MARCH the League of the Sacred Heart in both College and High School was reorganized. About 95 per cent of the entire student body became active members, with seven Promoters appointed to distribute the monthly leaflets.

A copy of the Canadian Messenger of the Sacred Heart was provided each month to the College Library, while a second was circulated through the High School classes.

Debating

SENIOR Debating this year was quite successful; teams representing Saint Mary's won every debate in the schedule, with the University of New Brunswick, Acadia University, St. Thomas University the respective victims.

The inter-faculty debates, as vigorous and acrimonious as ever, provided at year's end the largest crop of contestants for the Public Speaking Competitions in many seasons. The winner was eventually Philip Vaughan, '43, with James MacDonnell, '43, second and James Hanrahan, '46, third.

JOURNAL

THE JOURNAL assumed a dual personality this year when in October it suddenly became a fortnightly in an attempt—subsequently proved vain—to provide adequate coverage of the multiple activities at S.M.C. Two staffs, unimaginatively dubbed "A" and "B", split the labor of alternate issues under the suave editing of Seniors Bob Walsh and Laurie Smith.

The new situation gave an added filip of interest to the ever-current discussion of "Who is the 'Campus Jotter'?" Now doubly difficult, it became "Who are the Campus Jotters?" and speculation was never more rife. Actually it was only Ray Beck, who for two years managed to pretend he was the Circulation Manager and nothing more.

Besides producing a special Catholic Press issue (widely quoted) for the occasion, the Journal contributed its own display to the Sodality Press Exhibit. A goodly portion of the McCurdy plant was transported hither, set up in the library, and admiring throngs allowed to see the evolution of the paper from reporters' copy to finished product.

New features of abiding interest were Ed Boyd's and Joe Penny's "Quiz Quotes"—a deservedly popular canvass of student opinion—and Jim Hanrahan's "Journal Survey of Current Books"—a monthly report on book sales in ten key cities across Canada, which eventually had to be abandoned because of war time delays in the postal service.

However, the most notable improvement was probably in "Journal Jr." Under the smart handling of Bill Mingo and his assistants the section took on a gratifyingly professional tone.

Also, this year, the Journal became the first Canadian college paper admitted to the Catholic School Press Association.

Canadian Officers Training Corps

THIS YEAR the Saint Mary's College Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps had the largest personnel in its history. The Contingent is now awaiting official authorization to form a battalion organization.

The unit at present has two companies made up from seven platoons. Each company has its own company commander, platoon commanders, sergeant-major, and quarter-master sergeant.

Captain E. C. Thomas was succeeded as Officer Commanding by Captain M. H. McManus, who recently was advanced to the rank of Major. Captain A. L. E.

Crosby was appointed second in command of the Contingent.

Other officers include Lieut. J. L. Ryan, and Second Lieut. J. C. Lynch, company commanders; Second Lieutenants G. Moffatt, E. Cosgrove, G. Reardon, A. Sabean, C. O'Brien, and Hon. Harold Connolly, platoon commanders.

At Right:

"If we only had a band!"

It was the fall of 1941, and the football squad was trooping off the gridiron.

"Just listen to that cheering section. They deserve a band."

These and similar remarks led Father Elliott, the director of music at Saint Mary's, to the organization of a College band. That the combined efforts of the director and the four original members—Dick Beaton, Don Messervey, Roy Tanton and Joe Hennessey—have been richly rewarded is proved by the fact that the Band now numbers fourteen full-time players and six understudies.

From the start it has had a true friend in the person of Reverend Father Rector, whose unflagging interest has been an inspiration to all the players. Also, a debt of gratitude is owed to Mr. James Hammond, President, and Mr. William Hopewell, former Director, of the famous St. Patrick's Band. Their aid in the early stages was invaluable.

The Band was officially recognized as a permanent organization in the College when special crests, designed by Mr. Stanley Selig, were presented to each member.

LADIES AUXILIARY

MRS. J. W. DYER
President

THE Ladies' Auxiliary held regular meetings on the second Sunday of each month throughout the year. In the annual election Mrs. C. C. Hanrahan was chosen successor to Mrs. F. M. O'Neill in the office of Corresponding Secretary; the rest of the executive remained unchanged.

Besides three Teas sponsored by the society during the year, the Auxiliary constituted itself a most efficient refreshment committee on several other occasions as well—the most recent instances being the C.O.T.C. Show and the Graduates' Tea. A faithful group made up a sewing circle, which met each Thursday and repaired altar vestments and the like; a further example of their work is the College Banner now hanging in the Assembly Hall.

Generous gifts to the College included the equipping of the Assembly Hall with new chairs and the presentation of a new organ to the Chapel.

ALUMNI

HOLDING the centre of the social spotlight very frequently this year was the rejuvenated Alumni Society, under the dynamic presidency of Father Donald McPherson.

Informal get-togethers, aptly named "Nights of Fun," were sponsored early in the year which—admirably achieving their purpose of re-acquainting members with one another—invariably tapered off into long, hearty sessions of reminiscing over the pop and doughnuts.

In the spring a Communion Breakfast was held at the College. Very Rev. C. J. Keating, S. J., President of Saint Mary's, was the speaker.

On the evening of Convocation, an intelligent innovation was introduced when Father McPherson and Eric Mullaley, Society Secretary, made formal presentation of certificates of Alumni membership to each of the graduates.

“ . . . SANE HUMANISM . . . ”

HAMPERED by war-time conditions, the activities of Tau Gamma Sigma—Arts fraternity—took on a new and significant aspect with the sponsoring this year of a series of public lectures. The first speaker was Rev. M. W. Burke-Gaffney, S. J., of the College staff, who spoke on “New Stars” in general, and that one in particular which a few evenings before had popped into sight. In November, Dr. M. M. Coady, Head of the Extension Department at St. Francis Xavier University, lectured on “The New Order,” and in February, Mr. Harold Connolly, M.L.A., concluded the series with a discussion of “Post War Reconstruction.”

Senior Artsmen were to the forefront of the various organizations about the College this year, with Richard Murphy head of the Debating Society, Laurie Smith and Robert Walsh Journal Editors-in-Chief, James Hayes COLLEGIAN Editor-in-Chief, Thomas Sullivan, President of the A. A. A.

Junior Artsmen invaded new fields when they undertook to publish an anthology of living Catholic Authors. The project is under the direction of Thomas Purcell, and is to be completed in the early fall.

Art teams entered every field of interfaculty sport with enthusiasm—and were eliminated with dispatch.

THE Engineering Society of 1942-43, under the capable leadership of President Philip Vaughan and executive may look back on the past year with pride—a year studded with successes in all branches of College activities.

The Society was officially opened for the year by the Rector, Very Reverend, C. J. Keating, S.J., early in October. Later in the month, Father Burke-Gaffney, Honorary President of the Society, gave a timely address on "The Position of the Student Engineer in Wartime."

In October, the Engineers gathered together in a smoker to renew old friendships and to welcome new members into the fold. The following month a social evening was held for the members and their friends at the Gorse Brook Country Club. On the 26th of this same month the Annual Banquet and Prom took place at the Nova Scotian.

In athletics, the Engineers emerged with the American Sixes Championship. The newly inaugurated Canadian Rugby Squad was composed mainly of Engineers. Four of our members proved to be the leading lights in intercollegiate circles.

Late in the last term technical papers were prepared by the members, but owing to lack of time and the close proximity of examinations, were not all delivered. This was a new idea designed to create more interest in Engineering subjects.

The Society also took an active part in debating and proved themselves to be no mean orators.

"... PREPARING A MAN FOR WHAT HE MUST BE ..."

DELTA LAMBDA KAPPA
Executive: A. Allen, Treas., R. Miller, Vice-Pres., G. Morrissey, Pres., D. Moriarty, Sec.

THIS year the business-men of tomorrow pulled many a hitherto untried trick from the old, weather-beaten "Commerce Hat," providing a season packed with activities—social, scholastic, athletic.

"Few in number" can no longer be considered a characteristic of the Commerce society, Delta Lambda Kappa. This year additional membership numbered about fifty, which, joined with the old guard, made Lambda a society more than ever to be reckoned with.

To start the ball rolling, a rip-roaring, hilarious public initiation was held for three days at the College. With dress consisting of bandanas, rolled-up pants, whisk brooms around their necks, and odd socks, the sad-eyed, blushing Freshmen came gloomily to classes. Now that the B. S. U. had been disbanded, many of its versatile members joined the ranks of the Commerce Society, and were formally received into the fraternity at a special ceremony at Saint Mary's Boat Club.

Most notable achievement of the year was the formal "Millionaires Prom" sponsored by the Society at the Nova Scotian in November. This, the first prom ever held by the Society, marks out a new milestone in its progress. Eminently successful, thanks to the energy and ingenuity of the executive and the co-operation of the members, this prom promises to be but the first of an annual series of like successes.

Commerce men engaged in widely disparate activities about the College throughout the year, but still maintained a majority representation in things athletic, with six men on the Senior Football Squad, eight on the Intercollegiate Hockey Squad, the victorious team in the Interfaculty Baseball League, Bun Mulcahy, Ron Duffy and Don Campbell on the Journal Sports Staff, and Gerald Reardon, Secretary of the A. A. A.

HAROLD BEAZLEY, B. Comm.

Sigma Gamma Phi

THE two-year-old Sigma Gamma Phi was rejuvenated this year and proved itself an important unit in the extra-curricular activities of the College. Meetings were held regularly, usually on Monday afternoons. A number of theatre parties and two smokers were held. In the realm of sport the Society sponsored a hockey team which downed that of Senior Arts in a two-hour session in the Forum; final score, 14-12. Not numerous enough to enter a team in the baseball league, the Science men still took an active interest, awarding a trophy to the winning team. A Science Society pin, modeled after that of the Engineers, made its first appearance this year. As a new die had to be cast, it was decided, by a system of ingenious long-range planning, that the cost should be borne jointly by present and future members.

PRESIDENT GORDON MADER, '43

Chi Epsilon Phi

Treasurer J. McNeil, Secretary E. Ross, President J. Moriarty, Vice-President T. Hanrahan.

THE LARGEST Freshman Class in years banded itself together late in the first term in a new organization whose name, Chi Epsilon Phi (Chalkeis, Ergopareteis, Philosophoi), was calculated to indicate its all-embracing nature, Engineers, Commencemen, and Artsmen making up the personnel. Its initial act was the contribution of over half a hundred dollars to the Library towards the completion of a special Chesterton Section; its final endeavor the sponsoring of a debate between the Convent of the Sacred Heart and the society which packed into the Assembly Hall and adjoining hallways, the largest crowd of this year and of several previous. Throughout the year meetings were held weekly, fruitful in the developing of executive ability and a true appreciation of the Saint Mary's spirit.

RUGBY

THROWING tradition to the winds, Saint Mary's College this year discarded English Rugby in favor of the Canadian game. Under the tutelage of Gene Savard, of Loyola and Western Ontario fame, the Maroon and White made a very creditable showing. After a month of strenuous work in transforming them over from the English style of football, Coach Savard was finally successful in rounding out the twenty-odd inexperienced gristers into a well-balanced, fighting football-machine. But, well-down in weight and experience, the Santamarians lost a pair of tilts to the champion Cornwallis Salvos, came back strong to drop the Navy Stokers, 11-8, in the first game, and battled a greatly strengthened Stoker squad to an 11-11 tie in their second encounter.

Third row: Asst. Coach Sutton, Mgr. D. Fogarty, D. Moriarty, O. McCarthy, W. Foley, T. Sullivan, J. MacDonnell, G. Reardon, Coach Savard.

HOCKEY

LOOKING BACK on the hockey season, we see another true Saint Mary's squad — light, fast, spirited, and tricky. They battled their way this year through a limited, but torrid, play-off series only to be thrown in the final session for the Provincial Crown which they were defending.

At the beginning of the season, things were really bright for intercollegiate hockey: a league with Dalhousie, Tech, and Acadia was in the offing. But this, along with the projected College-Service League, failed to materialize. Outside of a couple of exhibition games, the Intercollegiate Playoffs were the only hockey available.

In the Provincial Semi-Finals, the Irish downed Acadia in a total-goal series, 14-11. The two games were fast and exciting, with the Maroon and White outclassing the Axemen in both; first game, 8-6, second, 6-5.

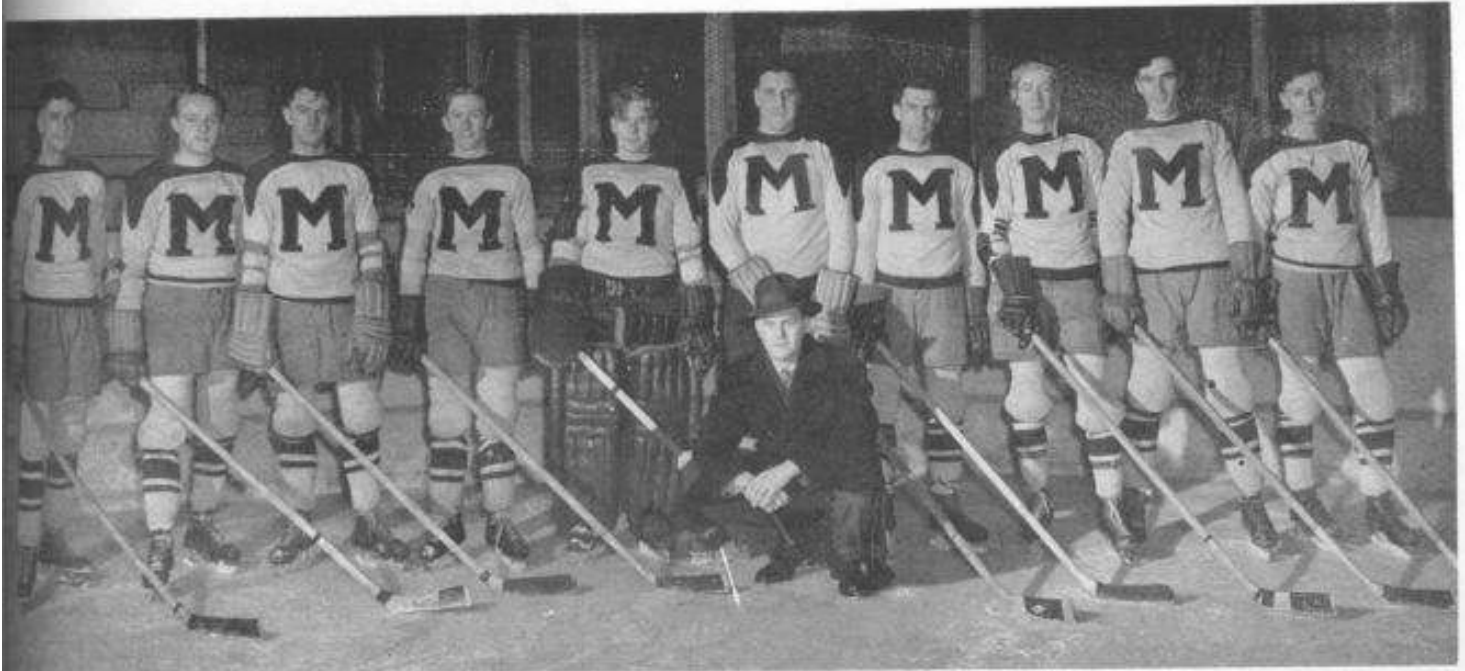

In the Finals, Coach Beazley's squad battled St. F. X. to a 3-3 draw at Halifax. The game was a close-checking affair with the Irish holding on to a one goal lead up until the closing minutes of play when a St. F. X. ganging attack batted in the equalizer.

COACH BEAZLEY

With the scene shifted to Antigonish for the all important final game, St. F. X. succeeded in pulling a 11-4 victory out of the waters of Memorial Rink.

BASEBALL

—*brief
but hectic*

USHERED IN amidst snow flurries and a strong, cold northwest wind, baseball once again took its place as the favorite extra-curricular activity at the College. Remembering the success achieved last year by the interfaculty baseball heads, this year's moguls, assembling before the College hockeyists had so much as hung up their skates, arranged a tentative schedule of twelve games that would have taken the four teams up until the final exams to finish. However, adverse weather conditions plus Easter holidays and exam repetitions forcibly cut down the schedule to six games. At the end of this round Commerce was found to have a firm grip on the number-one position by virtue of three clean-cut wins, while Arts, Engineers, and Boarders were all tied-up for second place, each team having won one game and dropped two. This three-way tie necessitated a knock-out schedule to decide the winner to be pitted against the league-leading Commerce squad. Arts and Engineers tangled in the first encounter with the Artsmen coming out on the short end of a 12-7 score. The Engineers continued their winning streak to nose out the surprising, hard-fighting Boarders in the semi-finals. In the finals the highly touted Commerce nine proved a little too strong in all departments for the up-and-coming Engineers, and in a two-out-of-three series they dropped the transit men to cop the league championship.

MATRICULATION

REV. C. C. RYAN, S.J.
Class Master

Although this year's edition of Matric doesn't pretend to be the "brainiest" in the history of Saint Mary's, we certainly cop top honours as the happy-go-luckiest class of graduates ever to pass out through the portals of this venerable institution. Here are the leaders:

Most popular—Donald Morrison
Best hustler—Frank O'Neill
Best athlete—James McManus
Best orator—John Lefrank
Best dressed—William McCoombs
Best looking—George Hanrahan
Most likely to succeed—Bill Mingo.

Now meet the whole gang:

Basil Boylan (Porky): A hard worker, a good student and a renowned story-teller.

Carl Brackett (Butch): High School hockey and swimming star; likes shows, Russell's bull-sessions.

Charles Brodie (Phil): Popular class socialite and enthusiastic Sea Cadet.

Douglas Casey: A promising Quiz Kid, never at loss for a question.

John Cochrane: Class humorist; good football player; pastime: fooling with Chuck Fabie.

Patrick Connors: Pat's the "Red Skelton" of Matric, and a Juvenile and Senior High hockey star.

Thomas Courtney: One of the "better" students; activities: shows, swimming.

Frederick Cross: Popular with everybody; likes jokes, and driving O'Neill nuts.

Bernard Currie: Enjoys a "good time" better than most; now in R.C.A.F.

James Delaney: A personal friend of Bobby Bauer, Jim is an "authority" on hockey.

Allan Duggan: Lucky man; misses finals but still passes.

Charles Fabie (Chuck): "Dimples" considers school a big joke; favorite sport: annoying teachers.

Frederick Fennell (Moose): The "man with a beard" has yet to be seen with a haircut or shave; good sport and popular.

Gordon Feron (Dolly): Matric's tennis champ, likes day-dreaming, doughnuts, and curly hair (his own).

Douglas Flemming: Doug, good natured and well-liked, plays hockey and football.

Medford Fry (Dumbo, Genius): Easy-going Med is a terror to all professors.

John Gallant: An excellent student, John will carry the stamp of Saint Mary's wherever he goes.

Joseph Gillis: An earnest worker and a good debater, Joe is "Cape Breton" to the core.

Lawrence Gillis: Larry, a good scout, has his M.R. (Master of Relaxation).

Bernard Granville: An incessant talker, Bernie is also an enthusiastic philatelist and a talented violinist.

Bernie Greene: Dartmouth's representative in Matric makes friends and keeps them.

George Hanrahan: The best looking boy in the class, Hammer is a favorite with all the gang.

Phillip Hardwick: Egerton's contribution to Saint Mary's; plays on all Boarders' teams.

Louis Hennessey: Modest and unassuming, Lou is going places in this world.

John Kennedy: A quiet likeable chap, Jack is an all-round athlete.

Deryk Kingsley: Industrious, diligent, and strongest supporter of all things S. M. C.

Second row: P. Hardwick, L. Murphy, J. Lefrank, G. Theriault, A. Duggan, J. Cochrane, K. Lawrence, D. Casey, C. Matthews.

Third row: B. Boylan, J. Delaney, J. Gillis, B. Greene, M. Fry, B. Sullivan, F. Cross, P. Lahey, M. Marvin, J. McNeil.

Fourth row: D. Morrison, J. Rice, F. Morris, F. Turner, J. McManus, L. Hoganson, B. Currie, J. Scallion, B. Kline.

Francis Morris: Better known as "Curse"; a good egg if not an ideal student.

Donald Morrison: Matric's President is destined to be a leader of men.

Francis Murphy: Smiling and congenial, Frank, a south-ender, is certain to succeed.

Lawrence Murphy: Popular Larry is Norbie's partner on Journal Jr.

Francis O'Neill: Tall, golden-haired, good-looking, Greek-god TUESKER, the class's hardest worker.

James Rice (Rogue): One of the ambitious Boarders, Jim likes Kentville, math. C.O.T.C.

James Scallion: Cheery, good-natured Scal is a strong contender for the most agreeable student award.

Bernard Sullivan: One of the gang, Bernie's good looks carry him through.

Peter Sullivan: The strong silent type, Pete's interested in farming and P.E.I.

George Theriault: The smoothest outfielder seen in these parts for some time.

Joseph Wadde'l: Joe is Jack Cochrane's strongest rival as class humourist.

Paul Lahey: Matric's tall thin man; likes wrestling and yachting.

Kenneth Lawrence: Kennie, an ardent reader, is the class historian.

John Lefrank: A brilliant orator, John's in a class by himself when it comes to debating.

Norbert Lyons: Baseball, football and hockey star, co-editor of Jotter Jr., class sec-treas., Norb will study medicine.

John Hugh MacDonald: Capable, popular Dude will support C. B. miners anytime, anyplace.

James McNeill: The most serious student in the class, Big Jim also hails from C. B.

Murray Marvin: Dartmouth's tennis fiend is also a staunch Santamarian.

Christopher Matthew: A clever scholar, Chris' home is London. Likes literature and music.

William McCoombs: Bill, a smart hockeyist, is a past-master in ball-machines.

James McManus: Spectacular right wing of famed Frawley-Kehoe-McManus line.

Nicholas Meagher: Talkative, ambitious, Nick will be an engineer.

Kervin Miller: Content to do nothing in any form; fond of boats, the ladies, Gene Krupa.

William Mingo: Editor of Journal Jr.; Prefect of Sodality. The genial genius of Matric.

REV. GORDON GEORGE, S.J.
Class Master

SO that envious people may know what goes on we'll sketch a typical period in the championship class of 10 A.

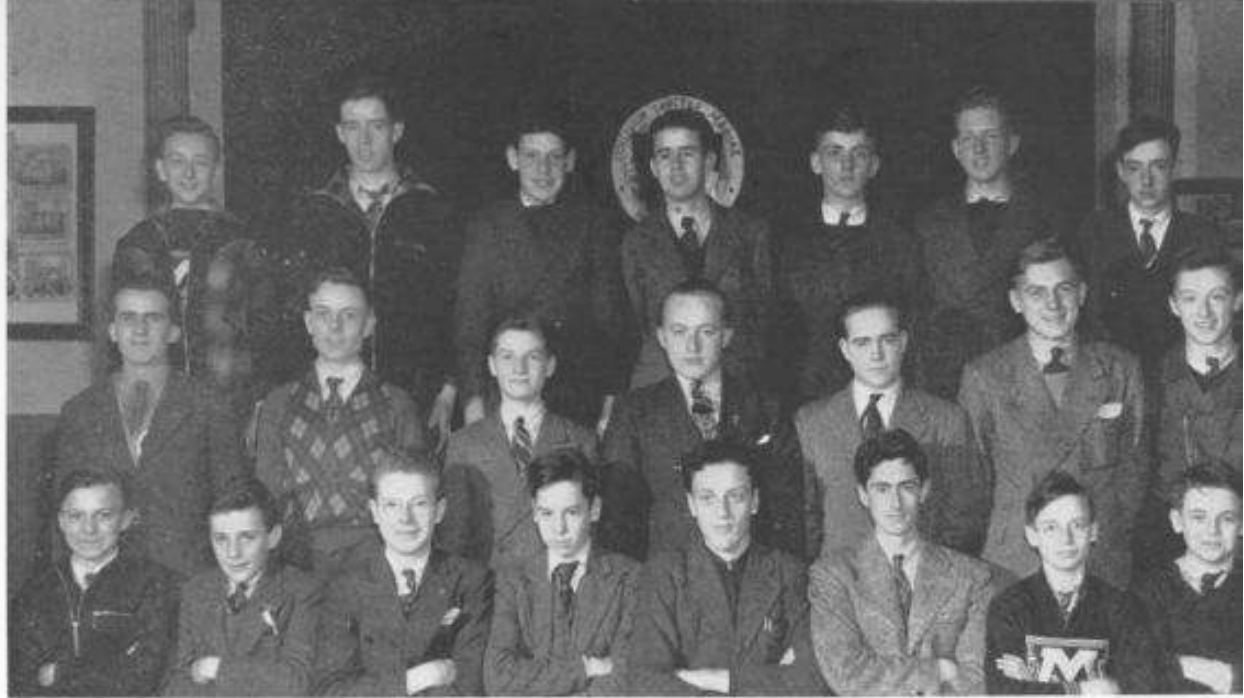

Joe Mombourquette has opened the doors and behold, a spotless classroom. All the pupils rush quietly to their seats. Harold Kilroy, Dartmouth's contribution to the class notices a new pupil. Oh no! He's not new, it's just Frawley in for a short visit. Meanwhile Fred Kelly gets Al Ferguson to bend down and tie his shoe. Don Boyd and Ev. Chambers discuss one of Einstein's theories as Ken Napier looks on dumbfounded, Mahoney is reading quietly the Pocket-Book of Great Tragedies.

Class has started as tall, fair-haired Raleigh Hunter recites 36 lines of Lepanto without a hitch. Shortly Leo Belair moves to places unknown, as brother Alan is bathed in tears. Wilf (or is it Wolf) Warner, reports to the teacher about not doing their homework and automatically leave for their due punishment along with Gervase Pittare, sometimes known as "Ed." In a quiet moment Barton and Donovan slip their dues for the next few months to Steve (Treasurer) Hagarty, who receives it as a matter of course. Jerry Courtney tells of the life of Shakespeare and Bill O'Connell absorbs it all.

Then Ralph Tully drops a pencil. Oh! Oh! The class is getting out of hand. Joe Hemsworth, White, and Flemming talk military strategy as Paul Lee and "Duke" Downie compare wallets, Frank Graves asks Charlie Connors for another three cards. Paul Dempsey won't join in the game because it's not bridge. Jack Flynn dreams of fellows like Lyons to pitch to. Over in the sunny northeast corner Tom Trainor is giving Bob MacDonald an earful. Bob believes it all. Claude Bienvenue and Carl Smith do what they're best at, sleeping. Bob Ashe is absent today. Oh no! We can see him now—he just faced front. Tom Murphy is quiet as usual, studying nautical navigation. The period is drawing to a close, the boys look forward to a rest after this hardwork. Chemistry is the next period. All this time Ken Reardon hasn't said a word.

Seated: L. Sampson, D. Kirk G. Parsons, G. Wall, A. Casey, C. O'Leary, J. Metzler, W. Russell.

"Ten—B picture at once — immediately", booms Mr. Farrell above Ten—B's hushed, four o'clock silence. "Right now, Father?" innocently asks "Herring-Cover" Frank Dempsey. Laughter.

A race downstairs, across the Assembly Hall. Everyone stands in the back row. George "Webster's Dictionary" Isben shoves John "Pee-wee" Metzler up front where he belongs. Stan Selig, "zoot-suit", saunters in, full-width smile turned on. John "Wolsey" Fenton, "hystorean", "kemyst", "champon spelor" elbows good-natured Al Bates.

Colin Boyd offers to have it out with Pete Ryan over who'll stand where. George Wall and Derek Currie discuss social life. Charlie O'Leary strides in with brief case and intelligent look. Leo Samson tells Cliff O'Laughlin how he convinced Mr. Lynch he couldn't see black. Mr. Lynch saw red.

A plane roars overhead. A frantic sketch. Another plane in Art Casey's "Dondo". Paul Granville and Terry O'Toole earnestly discuss—Chemistry, Bruce Lavers, examining the camera, starts, looks frightened, is relieved to see that it wasn't the flash-bulb but only Fred Kent's $1,000,000 snile appearing around the corner.

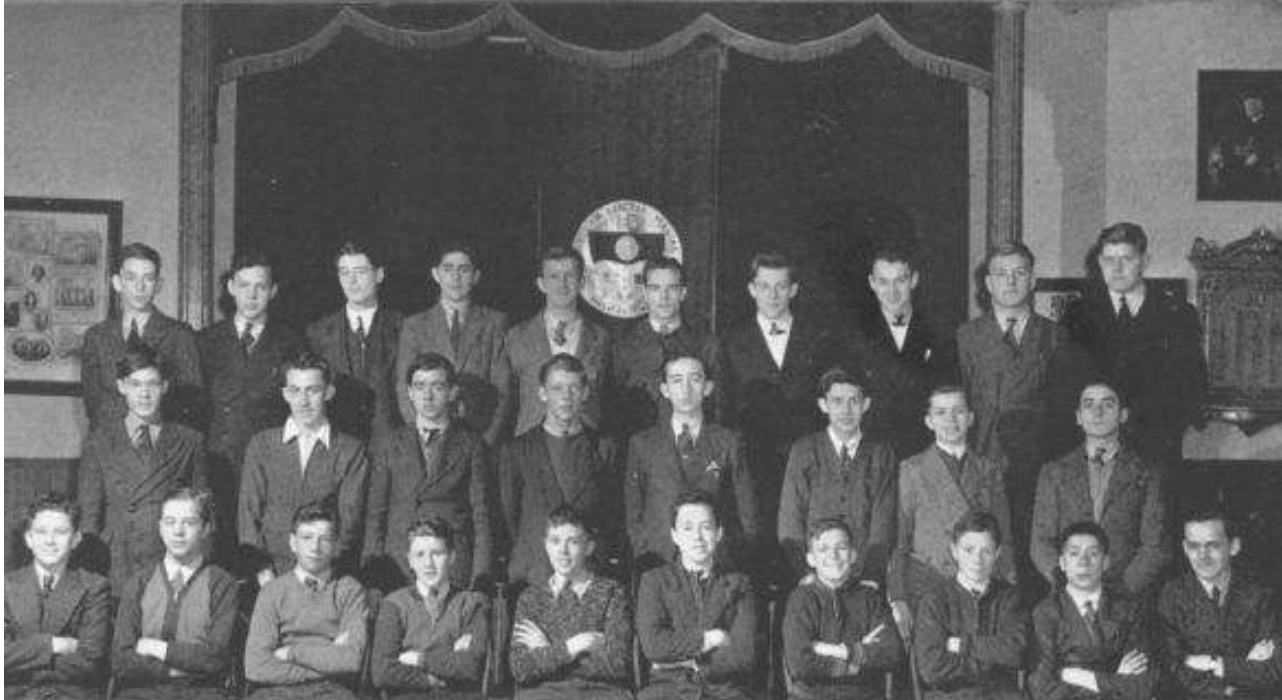

George Frain looks his youthful, sprightly self. Is it Grape-Nuts or his daily, 200 yard dash home for his Latin Book? Ken Fraser, elocution critic and Jean Reux (Vive La France! Vive de Gaulle Vive . . .!) step back. Reg. Coombs squeezes into the space they left. John Purdy!! On Friday afternoon!! Angus Macdonald raves about Ottawa Commandos in Doug McNeil's direction. Doug chews gum. Gerard Parsons, librarian, is trying to say something about Library books. Bill Russell forces an ancient joke on Kevin McIntyre. Kevin, a hero, smiles. Paul Chisholm, Dan Kirk, Doug Macdonnell, Gaels-all, would like to see any six Irishmen move them to the front row.

Ken Kehoe, class president, athlete, and John O'Malley blink lazily, rub their eyes, yawn disapproval as the photographer's bulb flashes. They'll have to move again now that the picture is taken.

Tick, tock, tick, tock. . . They Tell Me is on the air. . . Shall we go in? Your Grade Nine Reporter is back again with a new stack of stories.

They tell me that Taylor, our Ancient Mariner, is from the Merchant Marine. Last Fall Gourlay's spot passes to Keith and Perrin brought us the Junior Crown, while Phillips' silver skates led the way to the hockey laurels. As I talk Brewer, the pride of the Yankees is holding the initial sack, while I can hear Chouinard calling "O'Tool!", as the ball sails out to left field. Drillio, the Brylcream Beau, Fougere and Porter, the Armdale twins, and Inglis, the Bay boy manage somehow or other to keep suburban Halifax in the news. What possible connection can there be between Fry and Dumbo, Bartlett and De Gaulle, Kennedy and "Home, Sweet Home", Gordon and "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair," Duffy and glamour, Courtney and silence, Crosby and Bing, Conway and Beck? Ah, sweet mystery of life!

They tell me, too, that Connors fell headlong into Father Elliott's Band, that Jones has a way with Algebra unknown even to Mr. Lynch, and that Murphy makes bargains with the Prefect,—four for each hand! Speaking of bargains, don't overlook Soldier Boy Cameron, Cautious Chisholm, Adolf DeYoung, Calm Cummings, Mascot Fitzgerald, Slim Flinn, or McNeil, the Blond Bomber, Did you know that Drysdale rises early, that Gunn is a sailor, that Hatchette can twist himself into knots, that Fultz has anchored those molars, or that Horner dreamt he was a private, Ibsen a poet, Martel a bowler, Mason a debater, Ryan a milkshake, and Pelton a hobbyest?

Tick, tock, tick, tock. . . Our time is up. . . Well, that's all for now, folks. We'll be back again next year. See you then!

FOOTBALL

City Football

ALTHOUGH very few games were played, this, the second season of Senior High Canadian Rugby in Halifax, saw a gratifying advance both in playing skill and spectator interest.

All games were held at the new Navy League Recreation Centre, with full panoply of cheerleaders and College Band. The S. M. C. entry, a smooth-working aggregation under the tutelage of Mr. Gordon George, S. J., took its games and the City Championship handily, downing Queen Elizabeth 10-4, and St. Patrick's 13-0.

Forty aspirants to the team reported to Coach Mr. Gordon George, S. J., at the beginning of the season, and from these a capable twelve, with ample reserve strength, soon took shape. The tackling power of the ends and defensive backs was the outstanding feature of this year's team, Kennedy, Hyland, McNeil, Hemsworth and Lyons being at times sensational in this department. Captain Kehoe's kicking, combined with Frawley's field generalship, contributed greatly to the ultimate success.

In the games for the championship, Queen Elizabeth High was defeated 10-4 and St. Patrick's 13-0.

JUNIOR HIGH TOUCH FOOTBALL

The Junior High team, coached by Mr. Ryan, S. J., also came through with a City Title. After meeting and defeating St. Peter's, St. Patrick's and Oxford in its own section, it went on to take St. Thomas', champions of the Southern Section, 11-0 and 17-0 in strongly contested games on the College campus.

Front row: Keating, MacLellan, McManus, Kehoe, Chambers, Veniot, Hanrahan, Lyons.
Second row: Graves, Hemsworth, O'Connell, H. McNeil, Mombourquette, Moriarty, Hyland, Flynn.
Back row: Rev. C. C. Ryan, S. J., Connors, Hyland, J. McNeil, Laurie Smith, Manager, Mahoney, Rev. G. George, S. J., Coach.

H O C H C i t

Senior High: First row: J. McManus, F. Kennedy, J. Wade, T. Hanrahan, McNeil, B. Hyland. Second row: C. Lyons, Manager, D. Frawley, K. Kehoe, Mr. Ryan, S.J., McCoombs, F. Graves, P. Connors, Father Carroll.

THE three High School hockey teams brought in three city titles this year, with the Juvenile team (which alone was allowed to go to further competition) reaching the provincial semi-finals. S.M.C. entered Juvenile M.A.H.A. competition this season for the first time in its history in order to provide some hockey for Grades Ten and Eleven, since the City High League was practically moribund. Sparked by Ten B's "Dugger" McNeil, the Juveniles took the Blue Devils, the Canadians, and Spryfield handily for the city championship. Dartmouth was the next victim, followed by Windsor for the sectional title. However, a strong Antigonish squad blasted further thought of a provincial title with decisive 7-5 and 9-4 victories. Next year, with most of the same players eligible and very strong replacements coming up, the team will be aiming at the Maritime championship.

Senior High School play consisted of two games in March for the city championship, with S.M.C. downing Queen Elizabeth High 10-8 and 10-6. While not as strong defensively as former championship squads, this year's team was markedly smoother and more potent. Feature of the series was undoubtedly the precision play of the famed Kehoe-Frawley-McManus line, although the Boivin-McCoombs-Hyland trio were almost as potent in making the red light flicker. Father Carroll, coach of this as well as the Juvenile M.A.H.A. team, has brought three championships to S.M.C. in two years.

Despite a dearth of material and a very small Grade Nine to call upon, Mr. Ryan, S.J., coach of the Junior High pucksters, iced a team which by season's end compared favorably with any of the teams of past years. Characterized by dogged determination and a fine spirit of team play, the squad swept through their seven-team schedule without a defeat, and in the play-offs for the Herald Trophy they took Oxford into camp 5-2, 4-1. It was noted by the Halifax papers that Saint Mary's Junior High teams have lost but one game since they returned to competition three years ago.

Below: M.A.H.A. Juveniles: J. Philips, C. Brackett, R. Tully, D. McNeil, B. Hyland. Second row: Father Carroll, S. Kemp, N. Lyons, W. McCoombs, F. Graves, P. Connors, Mr. Ryan, S.J., C. Lyons, Manager.

THANKS to the untiring efforts of Coach Jim MacDonald, the High School swimmers did splendidly this year despite inadequate opportunities for practice. In the City Meet this spring, two-year provincial champ, Ken Kehoe, with newcomer Joe Gordon, salted away first and second positions in the diving, while "Dugger" McNeil and Carl Brackett acquitted themselves well in the sprints.

S. M. C.'s first Army Cadet unit was formed this year, under the direction of Lieutenant Eric Mullaley, in October, and has since then been put through a strenuous course of instruction and drill, which culminated in the military inspection, May 31st, and camp at Aldershot.

BOARDERS

FATHER O'DONNELL, Moderator of the College Boarder's Society, assembled the resident students at the very outset of the year for elections and the group got off to an auspicious start with the return of Arthur Leahy as President; Kevin Griffin, Secretary, and Donald Campbell, Treasurer.

Two committees were formed, the first—consisting of Al O'Driscoll and Owen McCarthy—to supervise the social activities of the Society; the second—Donald Campbell and Ronald O'Keefe—to handle the athletic. Both committees fulfilled their offices superbly. The Social Committee's biggest achievement was probably the fitting-out of a very pleasant and comfortable Social Room for the leisure hours (rare though they be) of the Boarders. Under the deft management of the Athletic Committee, strong Boarder teams were entered in the interfaculty American Sixes and Baseball loops, while special exclusively Boarder schedules in Hockey, Baseball and Softball were arranged as well, in which the ancient Boarder tradition of wild and internecine athletics was admirably maintained.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARDERS:

Front: B. Boylan, L. Gillis, J. MacDonald, R. Coombs, L. Hennessey, P. Sullivan. Middle: J. LeFrank, J. Reux, G. Bartlett, J. Mombourquette, T. Cameron, M. Chouinard. Back: J. Gillis, A. MacDonald, J. McNeil, T. Brewer, P. Hardwick, J. Rice.

The College Diary

DURING college years, youth is revealed in the fullness of all its capacities. Characters are moulded not only in the class-room but on the playing-field and through the club and organization. Associations at college develop into life-long contacts and from college the student carries with him a chain of pleasant memories—memories that can be evoked by mere words.

It is with this intention of future remembrances that the Diarist writes of events during the scholastic year 1942-'43.

Sept. 24—The old halls of the College, dormant for three long months, once more re-echoed with the sounds of old pupils exchanging greetings and welcoming the new ones. Mass in the Assembly Hall officially opened the new year. Students came back to find record registration in all faculties, several faculty changes, the absence of the "B.S.U." from the curriculum, and Dick Murphy cultivating a moustache.

Sept. 29—Saint Mary's welcomed famous Father Daniel Lord, S.J., who this morning lectured to the Catholic Collegians of the city in the Assembly Hall. His public lecture this evening at the Nova Scotian ended a short but active visit.

Oct. 2—Engineers held their initial meeting of the year. They were addressed by their Dean, Rev. M. W. Burke-Gaffney, S.J., and Assistant Dean of Studies, Rev. Eugene Chabor, S.J.

Oct. 8—Freshman Arts were officially received into their society at a social held in the St Mary's Boathouse, climaxing a gruelling initiation of three days.

Nov. 1—Engineers defeated the allegedly invincible Commerce team in American Sixes, 27-12. 'Tis said Gerald Reardon suffered the ignominy of defeat admirably.

Nov. 4—First of the bi-weekly editions of the Journal was published today.

Nov. 6—S.M.C. Delegates, Phil Vaughan, '43, and Jack Thomas, '44, left for Chatham to attend the Convention of Maritime Catholic College Students.

Nov. 7—Salvoes again overpowered our courageous Collegians by a score of 26-0.

Nov. 8—Three-Day Retreat opened this afternoon, conducted by Father Hynes, S.J., of Montreal.

Nov. 11—The College honoured her deceased Alumni and faculty by a Requiem Mass in the Seminary Chapel. S.M.C. tied Navy Stokers 11-11 as the Ruggers hung up their cleats for the season. Engineers held a Bridge Social in the Assembly Hall and the four tables present enjoyed the affair.

Tobin's Teas Always Please!

THIS caption is as true today as it was Anno Domini 1825 when John Tobin, founder of this firm, opened his first consignment of tea from the Orient.

But Tobin's are not confined to a few grades of China Teas, as in that far off day over a century ago. For today the best teas are Empire grown in India and Ceylon—and from their choicest gardens John Tobin & Company import the fine teas which make up their two most popular brands: Rakwana Golden Orange Pekoe—the choice of connoisseurs; and Rakwana Crimson Label, the best all-round family tea.

March 25—Saint Mary's debaters, Phil Vaughan, '43, and Michael Edgar, '44, won a close decision over the visiting Acadia team when they debated the affirmative of the resolution, "Resolved that social security should be a function of the Dominion Government."

April 3—At Chatham, a Saint Mary's team, composed of Robert Walsh, '43, and Cyril Lynch, '46, climaxed the year's successes in debating by defeating St. Thomas College in upholding the negative of the resolution, "Resolved that the socialization of Medicine under state control be adopted in Canada."

April 6—Society representatives met to finalize plans for for Inter-faculty Baseball League.

At this juncture the writer closes his diary of the current year, not unmindful, however, of the events that loom up on the not too distant horizon—Final exams, Convocation, Army Camp, etc.—events which, though unchronicled, will linger on in the memories of St. Mary's College students of the year 1942-'43.
