STUDENTS TALK ON SEX, SOCIETY, RELIGION

BY REID BARRY

Although left-wing radicals do not rampant through the Student Christian Movement as the Journal was warned it might, the group proved itself to hold some rather progressive views;

This was demonstrated January 25th when delegates from the five Halifax colleges met at SMU to sum up opinions expressed at the recent SCM meeting in Fredericton.

The group demonstrated its insight into a number of social problems, especially poverty, and showed that it has definite ideas on how these problems should be tackled. They shun "bourgeois values" and bright-eyed idealism.

The group discussing the Sexual Revolution reached no real consensus but had definite views on the question of premarital sex: of the nine participating in this group, six favored pre-marital relations. Of these, four stipulated that there should be a relationship only in the case of two people intending to marry. The other two advocated free love.

Other topics brought up included homosexuality ("Are the laws fair") and abortion. (The question of mother-or-child cannot be solved") On extra-marital relations, one student suggested that it is a "solution to boredom".

Another group, discussing the Maritime mentality, condemned it for its lack of initiative due to a lack of education, industry, and other factors. One speaker suggested that the Maritimes simply suffer from "a general lack". Another commented that "All we have to depend on is lumber, lobster, and fish". The group felt that there is a conservative mentality caused by the strong influence of the Church and of those who are loyal to the British Empire". Most Maritimers are content with the status quo, and are indifferent to change", was the summary of one speaker.

Institutionalized religion as it exists now was criticized sharply by most speakers; some condemned it in principle. A sampling of

HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA

FEBRUARY 3, 1967

HALIFAX (JNS) - A special committee, appointed by the St. Mary's University Students' Council, is studying recent JOURNAL affairs. A motion, passed by a unanimous Council vote two weeks ago, empowers a group of five to "study the JOURNAL with respect to

1. its relationship with the council
2. its relationship with the student body
3. its editorial policy
4. its literary content
5. its criterion for priorities
6. student reaction to recent publications
7. any other facet of the publication which the committee deems worthy of consideration."

Members Appointed

The committee is led by SRC President Len Rambeau, assisted by Mr. Dave Moriarty. Other members of the group include: Mr. Roger Aubin, Mr. Jerry Clayton, Mr. Joe Polito.

Mr. Rambeau brings to the committee his experience as president of the SMU Students' Council, a year as secretary of the Arts Society, and a half year as President of the Maroon and White Society.

Mr. Moriarty, Cultural Affairs Vice-President, is remembered for his two years of experience with the Drama Society.

Mr. Aubin is a 3rd year English major with two years experience (1962 - '64) as a JOURNAL staff member, and was an Editor of the non-publishing JOURNAL of the fall of 1964.

Mr. Polito, former Internal Affairs Vice-President, is known for his work on this year's Winter Carnival booklet.

An amendment requesting that one of the investigating members be appointed by the Editor-in-Chief of the JOURNAL, was defeated in the same council meeting.

Committee Meets

The committee opened its investigations last Saturday in a five-hour, "in camera" session, during which members of the JOURNAL staff were questioned regarding their relationship with the JOURNAL. Editor-in-Chief J. P. Goldring and Managing Editor Bob Howell got the most attention from the group; each was grilled for one and a half hours in the investigation meeting room.

Mr. Rambeau stated that he plans to issue a questionnaire to the students in the coming week, asking their views concerning the JOURNAL.

SMU Aroused At Last

Journal columnist Rick Morrison is surrounded by a mob of complaining students who wanted to get in the act by criticizing the newspaper for everything from radicalism to conservatism. It was the first time on record that the students demonstrated so much enthusiasm for anything except sports events. The uproar quieted down when a few well-known agitators took over and started heckling Journal spokesmen by dragging up old personal grievances.

SEX and SOCIETY

the comments includes "The Church is not where the action is," "Are we jazzing up a lost cause?" or "For me, the Church makes no difference". Others stated that "The Church is the people of God, not a building", and asked "Was Christ institutionalized"? Father B. Tiffan S.J., summarized the group's consensus as an affirmation that more lay people should be involved in the Church and that individual Churches should be smaller.

The groups discussing education distinguished between book-knowledge and education through interaction of people. One of the discussion members held that because co-education was shunned at Catholic universities and colleges in Halifax, the second aspect of education is not being exploited to the fullest.

Some courses, said the students, are dull in high school and don't influence the students. This trend continues in university, they said. More guidance counsellors, it was said, are needed in high schools and more high-school contact with universities. A suggestion was made that high schools students be invited to visit universities and attend a few classes so as to become acquainted with the life. There was a general agreement against free education.

The last topic provoked the most discussion. It was "The Crippled Community", defined as a city wounded by ghettos and slums. Two reasons were given for the existence of these things, namely lack of initiative on the part of the people involved and the unwillingness of governments to allocate the funds necessary to wipe out these "sore spots".

The ensuing discussion centered around the students' role in helping the "crippled community". A unanimous consensus was reached that those of the middle class should not try to impose their values on them. Either they reject these values or they try to help themselves overcome their plight. The best means of achieving this, it was decided, was through communication, particularly television.

Another point discussed was that students can change society. If students are made aware of social wrongs, then the process by which the less fortunate are absorbed into the Establishment, it was decided, can be simply a process of change of attitude on the part of all concerned.

ON CAMPUS ...

DANCES CURTAILED

In a letter addressed to Mr. Leonard Rambeau, S.R.C. President, Fr. C.J. Fischer, S.J., has declared that student dances in the university gymnasium will be restricted to a maximum of once a month.

Mr. Rambeau replied to the University President, asking that one additional dance be permitted, in order to fulfill a previous contract with a local dance band. He was told that his request did not comply with the President's instruction on the matter.

Father Fischer felt that Council "should be able to renegotiate your (Council's) contract with a local band without too much difficulty."

STUDENT PLANS DANCES WITH BEER

St. Mary's student Gary O'Neill announced plans last week for weekly off-campus dances at which beer will be served. Mr. O'Neill plans to cater to Halifax-area university students over the age of twenty-one years with his licensed dance hall on Gortengen St. across from C.F. B. Stadacona. "We'll admit couples only", he stated, "and charge them $5.00 at the door. Once they're inside they can have all the beer they can drink". Plans at present call for the use of local dance bands, expanding to out-of-town groups as business improves.

Mr. O'Neill said that the idea was new to Canada, but that he was assured by reliable sources that dances of a liquid nature for college students had been popular in the United States for about two years. "I'm checking the feasibility of patenting the plan for all of Canada. It will probably cost me at least ten thousand dollars, but it should be worth it!"

When asked by the JOURNAL if the location of his dances would encourage a rough, coarse clientele, Mr. O'Neill replied "Definitely not. All of my advertising is aimed at the college crowd, and we'll be screening our patrons carefully. Also I intend to make the atmosphere so pro-university that "that type of people" won't be interested in getting in anyway".

Mr. O'Neill said that he thought the dances would start later this year, possibly about February 10th, and that he should easily fill the hall to its 300-couple capacity. "We can only wait and see", he concluded.

Student Government In Perspective

BY BOB BRITTON

Since the Christmas break the Journal has been a weekly - not so the Council: on two consecutive Monday evenings, the regular Council meetings did not come to pass. Several members of Council seem to deem such meetings as a waste of time, and therefore consistently fail to attend. Of course, a case can be made to substantiate the claim that Council meetings are a waste of time. The President, Len Rambeau, recently informed the members during a meeting that "You're just playing games." Games are generally well-received by the average person, but when the game involves the complete depletion of some $13,000 of the students' fees, perhaps the rules of the game ought to be defined and examined. For such an examination, a rather important document is an up-to-date Treasurer's report. This, Mr. Dean, has not been forthcoming.

Father Fischer, President of Saint Mary's University, has recently seen fit to limit the number of dances to be held at SMU in one month. Certain members of student government seem rather upset because of this decision. Indeed, some feel that this action is unwarranted and unjust. Objectively speaking, IT'S ABOUT TIME. The dances this year have generally been financial and social failures. At the same time, they constituted the grounds on which were based some very blunt jokes concerning the university and its population. It is therefore obvious that Father Fischer is acting in the best interests of the students, something very few "student administrators" can boast of doing this year. The Internal Affairs department, alias the "Dance Committee", despite the fact that it is centralized to the ultimate, has not yet indicated any plan to raise money for the societies. Perhaps the societies might benefit from this word of advice: "Do it yourself".

The results of the referenda on the By-laws and CUS have been tabulated, and in both cases approval came from a vast majority of those students who voted. There are those who would contend that the By-laws were passed because they were well prepared and presented. On the contrary, they probably passed on account of the reaction of the students to the Journal's Friday morning issue. True, they were well-formulated, but since January, little or nothing was done to inform the students, unless poorly publicized and unorganized general meetings can be said to have informed the students. But Council would contend that it is the students themselves and not the Council who are responsible for the poor turnout at these meetings. Had the Journal not come out Friday morning, bringing with it a controversial headline, it is most unlikely that many students would have bothered to vote, and it is equally likely that those who would have voted in any case, would not have even read the proposed By-laws.

At this point in the year, it must be accepted that the Council has matured probably to its fullest capacity, but obviously, that capacity is not very great. The Council has three speeds: slow, stop, and reverse, and it is most commonly found in the latter gear. Only once this year have the students been "stirred from slumber", and this once was last week, due to Journal activity, not Council's. Just a few news items and perhaps predictions might be in order here:

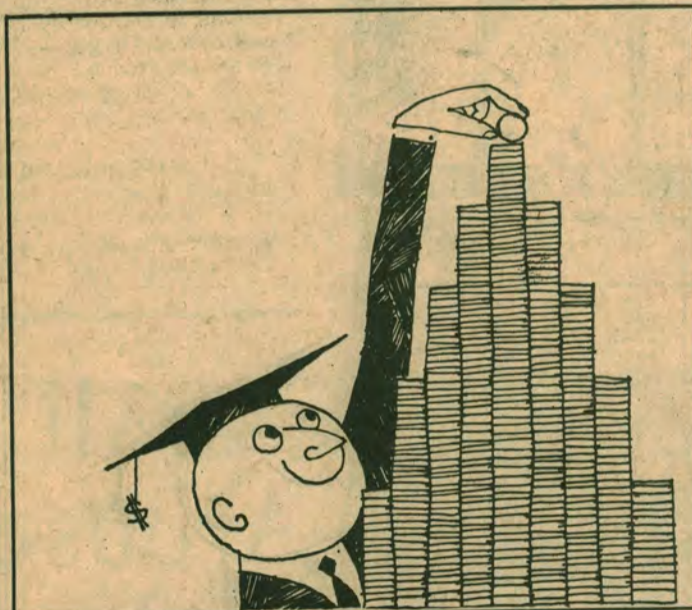

The campus Police Force is going to be disbanded. The Journal is being investigated and in less than three weeks, corrective recommendations are to be made. Those recommendations, if implemented, should effectively destroy the Journal. (And it appears that that's what the general idea is.)

HISTORY CLUB REVIEW

On Sunday, January 29, a History Club meeting was held in the common lounge. The guest speaker was Dr. Bobr-Tylingo, Associate Professor at St. Mary's. He spoke on his years at university at the Sorbonne - the problems which he encountered and the satisfactions which he experienced. He interspersed the talk with his personal observations on research work and his joys and fears during the eight years he spent working towards his doctorate.

A special feature on Dr. Bobr-Tylingo will follow in a future issue of the Journal.

The next meeting of the history club will be Sunday, February 26. The topic will be posted within two weeks.

ED. NOTE:

This is the second article dealing with Edmund Rostand's immortal five act heroic comedy, "Cyrano De Bergerac", which the students of Saint Mary's and the people of Halifax will have the opportunity to enjoy on February 23rd through 26th.

Again this year Saint Mary's is honored to have our production directed by Mrs. Faith Ward. Not only is Faith Ward an outstanding directress but also an actress of renown. She has worked in the professional theatre all her life and is currently involved in radio and television drama in Halifax (now rated among the top five centers in Canada for this type of programming).

In a play of the magnitude of "Cyrano De Bergerac", the important part that the stage crew has in the greatness of the production cannot be understated. Under the direction of Father Stewart, S.J., and Dave Creamer, I am sure that no other university in Halifax has such a devoted stage crew. For the past two months, they have been working long hours to ensure the actors complete leverage to bring to the students of Saint Mary's the finest dramatic presentation ever presented on the stage of Saint Mary's.

The lead role is played by Rick Minicheillo. The other principle parts are: John Walton as Christian de Neuville, Sharon Meadows as Roxanne, Michael de Verteuil as Count De Guiche, and Andy Nowas-ad as Ragueneau.

On February 23rd all the effort put into this production will be displayed to the audience when the curtain rises at eight o'clock in the evening. I am positive that each and every member of the audience will remember the production as the highlight of the years for the Saint Mary's Drama Society - if not for all of Saint Mary's and even Halifax.

From the Editor's DESK

At the beginning of the week, the Student Representative Council decided that it was time to find out just what was happening to the JOURNAL. The result was that several members of the JOURNAL staff appeared before a Council board of inquiry, and tried to explain how a paper is run, its relation to the student body, and its responsibilities to this group. The results of these endeavours will be known sometime in the next three weeks.

On Friday, a referendum was held on the proposed By-laws of SMUSA, and the question of Saint Mary's membership in CUS. Though the Journal violently opposed the acceptance of the by-laws, the students disagreed and voted them in. The CUS question received a 48% approval, so that Saint Mary's membership in CUS was reasonably assured.

The nominations for the executive positions on next year's students' council closed this week, and there was at least one application for each post. However, incumbent president Len Rambeau informed us that they were giving serious consideration to re-opening nominations for a day or so in order to make it a better race.

For the first time since we came to Saint Mary's, this week gave us a chance to see the student body get aroused over a question of student politics. While the JOURNAL staffers and council members were lobbying during the By-laws referendum, a large portion of the student body became vocal to the point that for a while it looked as if we might have a riot. The next few years will show the validity of the various opinions expressed at that time. On one side the JOURNAL said the students should send the By-laws back to council. Incidentally, one of the Political Science professors expressed a similar opinion. Len Rambeau and many of council however prevailed, and convinced the students to vote in favor. Posterity will tell the tail.

The JOURNAL came under very close criticism during the voting on the referendum. The most vocal of the students said that the paper did not express their views, and in fact, was composed of the ravings of a small group of students who control the publication. If this is the situation, it has come about because those on the staff are the only ones interested enough to expend the time and energy necessary to keep the paper publishing. If the students want their opinions expressed, then let them submit them in writing to the JOURNAL office, and as long as they are not libelous or profane they can be printed.

With the new council looming on the horizon, and with the students starting to show some interest in the campus, changes will be effected, and we hope they will be for the better.

EDITOR'S NOTE - The foregoing editorial is a response to numerous demands for unopinionated writing in the JOURNAL. We believe it says nothing new to any student who is reasonably well informed. What do you think? (We are not mind-readers).

Letters to the Editor

THE TRUTH ABOUT WUSC

A recent issue of the JOURNAL had in it two pleas for Saint Mary's withdrawal from WUSC. The reasons given were: not enough interest in or knowledge of our organization, and that too much money was spent in Canada for its administration. We of the WUSC committee intend to answer both of these statements.

The first reason for withdrawal is a clear case of the "give it up if it doesn't work" attitude of Saint Mary's which has become so prominent in the last few years. WUS is working out on campus, BUT no one realized it because so little is said concerning the organization. WUS is valuable in many respects to the students of Saint Mary's not the least being that it enables SMU to maintain contact with the University community on the international level.

WUSC will provide, at the local level, the means of international education, if we will make a slight effort. Throughout the year we have brought various topics of concern to the student body. Treasure Van, films, a lecture and discussion of SMU exam procedure, and the January 25th slave auction were all well received. WUSC is not merely a propaganda organization. Support us and all will benefit but don't sit back and criticize because you don't know anything about WUSC.

Secondly, those figures quoted in the JOURNAL concerned only the money received in government grants and Treasure Van proceeds. Monies received from all other WUSC activities go overseas to needy universities in their entire amounts.

As for the $60,000 spent on administration expenses. Simple mathematics will reveal that only $3,500 is paid to each employee. Further a national headquarters is necessary to work effectively in developing inter-campus communications.

In some overseas universities conditions are so deplorable that six or more students are forced to share one text book. Lack of the basic living, study and health facilities are quite common. The aim of WUSC is universal accessibility and not to, as some people think, to exist for the sake of bureaucracy. WUSC is the concrete embodiment of universal accessibility. It is students helping students over the entire face of the globe.

- SAINT MARY'S WUSC COMMITTEE.

WUSC Too - Answered

In your editorial "From the Editor's Desk" of January 20, 1967, there was mention made of WUSC and its irrelevancy on campus. This, in my opinion, is a profound and valid observation. Nevertheless, with respect to the claim that the last four WUSC Chairmen have done little, I could not disagree more. Nor do I accept the statement that two of these have used it as a stepping-stone to higher places. I do not feel qualified to speak for all four past WUSC Chairmen, but for the Chairmen of 1964-65, Mr. Denis Cassivi, I consider it my duty to present the facts, since he is too modest to do so himself.

Unquestionably, WUSC would have been long dead at Saint Mary's had not Mr. Cassivi revitalized it during his year of office. Despite many obstacles and a serious lack of funds, he was able to circulate on campus a wide-spread knowledge of WUSC carry out a successful "Treasure Van", initiate a "Share Campaign", organize a "WUSC Week" and begin a Book Drive.

Certainly, it is an invalid claim that Mr. Cassivi would stoop to using this office as a "stepping stone". The most obvious argument against this and any other claim which you or anyone else might bring against Mr. Cassivi, is the fact that during his undergraduate years at SMU, not once was his integrity, intentions, or ability questioned. He is one of those few students who might be singled out as an exemplary Santamarian. Since we don't have too many, does it not seem appropriate that praise and not a buse ought to be heaped on Mr. Cassivi.

A Reaction . . .

I fail to see the "excitement and thrills" of a man our age getting his legs shot off. Would you send the mother whose son was just killed in Viet Nam, a congratulations card because her son saw the "excitement and thrills" that you advertised in your latest issue of JOURNAL, dated January 20th.

I, myself, have had three buddies of mine killed in Viet Nam.

I defy you to show me, or even God, how "excited and thrilled" Steve Chase, my neighbour for twenty years, was when he stepped on a mine on his twenty-fourth birthday - only eight weeks from being discharged.

To quote a letter written in TIME, January 20, 1967, Page 7, by Dale T. Taylor, Danang, Viet Nam:

"... let's not get on our knees with the moral cowards who would negotiate away our liberty, freedom and principles every time a Commie says "nuclear". Let's not leave the job half done as we did in Korea . . .

"And if we can't do that, then let's teach our children guerrilla warfare. They'll need to know it".

CAVEAT LECTOR

By Richard C. Morrison

A meeting was held January 29 between Mr. Hoffmann and a delegation of representatives from the Resident Students' Society. Each floor of the residence had a representative present. Also, Joe Hebert and Bill Dineen were present in their capacities as the two top members of the society. As was to be expected, food was the main topic of conversation, since this was the first meeting of the Food Committee.

This is a definite step forward, as it is the first time such a committee has been formed. Now that this has happened, communications have been established between those serving the food and those eating it. Perhaps the misunderstandings that have previously existed between these groups can now be removed, as everyone will now be able to express his views on the situation that exists in the kitchen. In this way, Mr. Hoffmann can be informed on the students' likes and dislikes, so that he will be able to meet them to the best of the abilities of his facilities.

This organization has great possibilities, and I shall watch with avid interest to see whether or not they are realized.

A newspaper has to be independent, for the main reason is that it must question basic societal beliefs, in the process sometimes inflaming the Establishment.

The student paper need not be a place where redundant facts are reported; but where meaningful ideas are discussed and analyzed.

What should the Council do in the case of a dispute. Nothing. And the Council should have no right, expressed or implied, to do anything.

A Council that picks fights with the newspaper is a Council with nothing better to do.

Council-Newspaper Relations

by BILL MILLER

Editor-in-Chief, University of Alberta Gateway

Delegates to the 28th national conference of the Canadian University Press, in formal discussions, decided the relations between student councils and student newspapers generally fall into two basic categories.

One category is composed of newspapers which are an extension of council, in the sense that it permits the council to request that certain ideas be expressed in the paper, that certain projects of the students' union be supported, that certain editorial decisions be made with the agreement of council. It sees a newspaper conforming to what the council happens to believe is the truth.

The second category is represented by those newspapers which define their role more in terms of an organ providing intellectual leadership instead of a redundant reporting of campus events. Such a newspaper has to be independent, for the main reason that it must question basic societal beliefs, in the process sometimes inflaming the Establishment.

Members of CUP are striving to exist in the second category, where the type of newspaper is the only type which can adequately meet the needs of a rapidly-shifting society.

Members of CUP are faced with councils who believe that the newspaper's sole function on campus is to exist as a bulletin board, announcing upcoming meetings and events and reporting what goes on at these gatherings in great detail. These people look on the editorial page as a necessary evil, where the student editor can gratify his desire for power. This concept of a student newspaper is dying out, and a new concept, that of an "agent of social change", is coming into use.

The student newspaper and student government are realizing that they can be a vital force in the eradication of society's abuses and in the promotion of a new social order. Part of this rethinking is that the student paper need not be a place where redundant facts are reported; but where meaningful ideas are discussed and analyzed.

Ideally, such action would be embraced by both major forces on the campus — the newspaper and council — but quite often a council embracing some progressive action will be faced with a "bulletin board" newspaper or one that is conservative in its thinking.

On the other hand, a newspaper attacking, destroying and rebuilding will be faced with a group of petty administrators who think the greatest good is in maintaining harmony with the Establishment, and are not given to "social change".

When a progressive council is teamed up with a progressive newspaper, no problems should exist. But when a conservative council meets a progressive paper, or vice-versa, trouble is likely to occur. What should the council do in the event of a dispute? Nothing. And the council should have no right, expressed or implied, to do anything.

Council might argue that since it pays out the majority of the money for the newspaper it should have some say in editorial policy, and should be able to hire and fire the editor. While we all agree that the campus needs a newspaper, and a newspaper needs money to operate, and in most cases the majority of the money comes from council, this hardly gives council any knowledge of how to run a newspaper. Student council types are notorious for knowing little of what constitutes a good newspaper, what qualifies a news story for the play it receives, what one newspaper has been confiscated by council, but was later returned for distribution.

Two papers allow members of council to read their copy before publication, and one, THE GAUNTLET, is required to let a member of council read editorials. This implies a little censorship and restriction of the freedom of the press on the part of the council. How is the newspaper to point out a glaring fault in the work of council if the newspaper is not allowed to print anything about it in the columns of its editorial page?

CUP Charter

WHEREAS THE CANADIAN STUDENT PRESS BELIEVES IN THE FOLLOWING PRINCIPLES:

that the freedom of expression and debate by means of a free and vigorous press is essential to the effectiveness of an educational community in a democratic society;

that one of the major roles of the student press is to act as an agent of social change; that it should continually strive to emphasize the rights and responsibilities of the student as a citizen, and use its freedom from commercial control to examine issues that the professional press avoids;

that for the student press to fulfil this role it must present the varied opinions of the students it represents irrespective of the paper's editorial opinions, it must present news fairly and without bias, it must interpret local, national and international events, issues of interest and import to students to the best of its ability;

that the Canadian student press must stimulate student thought and awareness of the problems and topics that affect students, the nation and the world; and that the Canadian student press should incorporate as its primary purpose an educative function which is vital to the development of the student-citizen;

AND WHEREAS FREEDOM OF THE STUDENT PRESS HAS BEEN ABRIDGED IN THE FOLLOWING WAYS:

by suspension, expulsion or threat of similar action, and/or confiscation of issues of the student newspaper because of the publishing or proposed publishing of matters which faculty or administrative authorities considered uncomplimentary or critical of the institution;

by expulsion, suspension or threat of similar action against student editors and reporters; by financial pressure used to limit or retaliate against editorial policy;

by censorship of articles and/or editorial comment by faculty, civil or administrative authorities, or the student government, so that the student newspaper tended to become an organ of the institution or an instrument of the student government;

by excessive social pressure and by informal pressure, such as commentary intended to be a threat, used to prevent publication of particular issues, opinions, or articles;

THEREFORE, THE CANADIAN STUDENT PRESS AFFIRMS ITS BELIEF THAT IT MUST BE FREE FROM THE ABUSES LISTED UNDER ARTICLE II, AND DECLARES THE FOLLOWING FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES NECESSARY FOR THE EFFECTIVE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE PRINCIPLES OF ARTICLE II:

that the Canadian student press should be free from pressure by student governments, university authorities or any external agencies, whether or not the press is a part of such an organization and that it is, therefore, essential to a free student press that it be responsible for the views it expresses;

that within the restrictions of the laws of libel and within the scope of the principles outlined in Article 1, Canadian student press should be autonomous, and that it is, therefore, necessary that the Canadian student press abuse neither its freedom nor the principles outlined in Article 1;

that the Canadian student press should be free to develop so that it may continue to fulfil its role in the academic community, and that the Canadian student press must, therefore, always be aware of its role in the academic community and its role in democratic society and must continually strive to best fulfil those roles.

(revised December, 1965)

CUP Code of Ethics

The student journalist should strive continually to be unbiased and accurate in his reports, and should strive to equip himself adequately with fact to support his published statements. He should realize fully his personal responsibility for everything he submits for publication. He should not falsify information or documents, nor should he distort or misrepresent the facts.

The student journalist should reveal his identity as a representative of the student press before obtaining any interview for publication.

The student journalist should respect all confidences regarding sources of information and private documents.

The student journalist should be familiar with the laws of libel and contempt of court, which exist in his country, and should observe the international copyright agreement; unless this interferes with the freedom of the press or the need to inform the public on vital matters.

The editor should not automatically exclude a student point of view because it is contrary to the editorial policy. This does not place a duty on the editor to print an article from a non-student source.

The editor should rectify in print, at the first available opportunity, all culpable mistakes.

All copy, including advertising, should adhere to the canons of morality and good taste of the student community which that paper serves.

Racial bias or prejudice should have no place in editorial policy in any student publication.

constitutes a good editorial, or, in some cases, what an editorial is.

The political nature of their office, where they are constantly forming agreements or lobbying, does not permit them to look at such an agent of social change in any objective fashion. It is said by some that a council that picks fights with the newspaper is a council with nothing better to do.

In a survey of 40 campus newspapers, four papers report losing an editor under the axe of council — three times for bad taste or religious satire, once for refusing to retract a libellous statement — and only Four editors must make a statement of policy to council before they get the nod for the job. In other cases, an interview is involved or editors may make a voluntary submission to council.

All papers report the council cannot directly dictate policy, but some parenthetically explain the policy is dictated by the choice (when there is one) of editor. It is impossible to ask council to refrain from dictating policy through their choice of editor, but the cases of implied control through the control of the purse strings or the firing of the editor should be and can be eliminated.

DAL STUDENTS SAY "GO"

In a referendum held Jan. 26, Dalhousie University students gave overwhelming support to an increase of $10 in fees to cover projected costs for their new Student Union Building. With the initial capital this gives to the SUB committee, building is expected to begin in April this year.

Of the 48% representation of the eligible student body who voted, 90.7% approved increase. A surprising 1,283 to 133 margin was felt by one observer to be "the most exciting thing to happen to Dal students in years". Although the results show actual approval of only 44.3% of the total student enrolment, Campus Co-ordinator Dennis Ashworth felt they were "conclusive".

The Dalhousie Student Union Building is to be a five-storey building situated on the south side of University Avenue, between Seymour and LeMarchant Streets. As it is to be a "Student" building, the character of the building is appropriate to the informal nature of the activities it will house.

The basement floor of the building contains the main recreational and commercial areas: a bank, bookstore and barbershop are to be located here for the students' convenience. This area also contains a color television lounge, a room for card-playing, and a large room with a dozen ping-pong and billiard tables. On this floor are the maintenance facilities and the main kitchen, which, by means of dumb waiters, will serve the cafeteria and banquet rooms on the third and fourth floors.

The second storey, with the main entrance facing University Avenue, will contain the area most used by the students. The largest of the lounge areas is on this floor, overlooking the courtyard and University Avenue, and includes an international lounge and Reading Room. On this floor are the dining facilities, comprised of a Snack Bar for light lunches and coffee breaks, and the main cafeteria, which will be able to seat five to six hundred persons. Vending machines are to be used as well to provide round-the-clock service.

The third level houses the Student Council offices and the student meeting room as well as the offices of the Building Administrator and the University Alumni. The rear portion of the floor contains the conference and General Purpose Room. The fourth floor includes the offices for several student organizations, the University Chaplains, a number of meeting rooms, and a Ladies' Lounge. The fifth floor is devoted to large office space for the Student Placement and the Student Counselling Services. As well, on this floor will be two meeting rooms and the Student Radio station.

St. F. X. SUB Plans Underway

Plans for a student Union Building at St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish are progressing satisfactorily. S. U. B. Committee Chairman Guy Dumouchel announced last week. The project, sponsored jointly by the Student Union and the university administration, is expected to cost between $1.7 and $2 millions.

Student Union Vice President Bob Bentley stated that the university will donate the land for the building and will assume responsibility for the bulk of the financial obligations. However the students themselves will raise the capital and pay for maintenance and operational expenses. "We are deducting $10.00 per student from their tuition each year now, and plan to raise the fee to $15.00 in the fall of 1967, and to twenty dollars in 1968. This will give us enough to cover the annual operating expenses of S. U. B. The students will operate the building themselves without any supervision or interference from the faculty or administration", he added.

TO START FEB. 1969

Mr. Dumouchel said that once a working capital fund of $200,000 had been accumulated, actual construction of the S. U. B. can start. We should be able to begin in February, 1969, and complete the building by July 1, 1970. Preliminary architect's drawings by Larson and Larson of South Carolina will be ready this fall, with final plans approved by December of 1968.

Construction on the controversial St. Mary's Student Centre is "progressing steadily", reports Mr. G. H. Somers, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, Scheduled for completion this spring the building will be open for student use by mid-April of this year.

Advisory Committee, Fischer Meet

Recent discussions concerning the interior design of the building has subsided, following a meeting of the Student Advisory Committee for the Centre. The group met with Fr. C. J. Fischer, S. J., President of SMU, just after release of the revised plans for the Student Centre. The committee drew up a set of further recommended additions to the Centre's floor plan, notably in the basement level, and are now awaiting final word as Fr. Fischer is discussing their recommendations with the Dean of Men and the architects.

Mr. Somers stated that the outside of the building is finished and the contractors are now working on the Centre's interior. "The late arrival of several basic building materials, including plate glass, has been a problem," he added, "but the added delay shouldn't affect the completion date."

Improved Facilities Provided

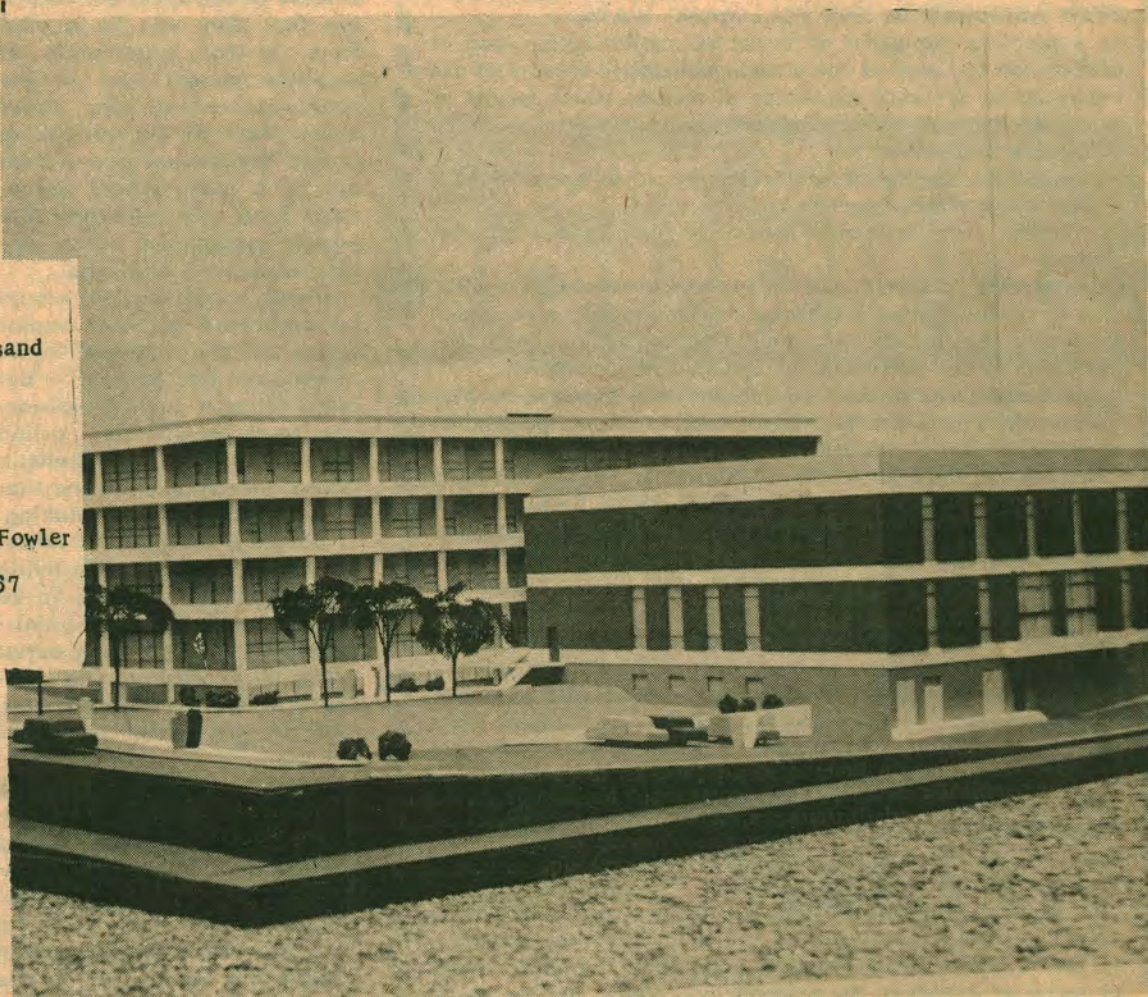

The SMU Student Centre is intended to be the focal point of all student activities on campus. The present structure has been built with reinforced foundations to support an additional two floors, to meet the needs of an expanding student body. The 'box' design also permits extensions without destroying the architectural appearance of the building.

The Student Centre provides better facilities for all present student organizations. The building permits these groups to move out of the main Administration Building, thus leaving space for professors' offices, and research area. The cafeteria will operate in the north end of the main floor of the Centre, and with its improved surroundings, can offer better, faster, and more varied meals and service.

Common lounges, a TV room, and offices for student counselling and the Manpower Department are also provided. The student publications (the JOURNAL and the yearbook) will set up operations in the basement, next to the Students' Council offices.

ture similar to Dalhousie University's S. U. B., except that it will be on a somewhat lesser scale. The building will contain the usual student offices and entertainment facilities. A catering firm will rent and operate a large cafeteria, and negotiation are now underway with the Bank of Montreal to establish a branch on the first floor. Mr. Dumouchel said that the project is still in the very early stages, but that it will be more definite and faster-moving by next fall. He also expressed the wish to be at St. F. X. when the building is completed. He expects to graduate next spring.

SMU Dump X-Men

The Huskies put on a display of basketball that completely overpowered St. F. X. and delighted partisan fans who packed the gym on January 18th.

The Huskies took over the lead early in the first quarter and never looked back. At the half the score was 34-27 in their favor.

In the third quarter the Huskies broke loose with an impressive display of shooting and checking to open a 65-40 lead. At this point coach Les Goodwin juggling his lineup, and the results were far from disappointing, as Mick Ryan, Brent Sabeau, Bill Harper, Terry Murphy and Charlie Decker showed good poise and ball handling.

The story of the Huskies' superiority was told on the backboards where the taller Huskies had complete domination. The star of the game in this respect was Al Brown who, time and again, came up with the ball despite the crowded conditions.

In the scoring department, Jim Daniels was the leader with 23 points, Joe O'Reilly had 20, Clem Maynard and Al Brown 12 each, while captain Rick Dougherty contributed 10 points.

For the X-men, John Gorham had 16 points, most of them on soft, accurate, jumpshots. Guard John Gabriel netted 14 points, John Power added 13, and John MacDonald had 12.

Huskies Beat Listless Mt. A

Huskies went on their first real road trip last weekend, and on the first stop in Sackville, overran the Mount Allison Mounties for the third time this season.

Leading by a 46-24 at the half, the Huskies slowed the pace in the second half to walk away with an easy 74-55 victory.

As usual, Jim Daniels and Joe O'Reilly led the scoring parade with 20 and 19 points respectively. Clem Maynard scored 12, Rick Dougherty 9, and Al Brown had 8 points. Al and Clem also shone on the backboards as they pulled in 35 rebounds between them.

For the Mounties, Johnson and Chisholm had 12 points each, little Bobby Wynne had 11 and Battis contributed 9. The lanky Coupland brothers were held to a mere 11 points between them, which is one of the reasons the Mounties were so ineffective.

SMUSKI

SMUSKI, Saint Mary's University Ski Club, is quite likely the most active club in the University, with a membership of 90 persons. SMUSKI's executive consists of President Barry Frewer, Vice President Doug Kane, Treasurer and Secretary Doug Artz.

SMUSKI plans many activities for this semester. Bus trips to Wentworth every weekend, Parties (recall the first on January 20th at Winnie's Lodge), Instruction at 50¢ an hour to members at Wentworth, a four day trip to Sugarloaf (in Maine) at March Break, A Joint venture with Dalhousie at Mt. Martock during Winter Carnival, February 3.

1967 marks the first year that Saint Mary's has entered the M. I. A. A. Ski events competing against Dal, X, UNB, and Mount A. Saint Mary's will have a nine member team entering four events, shalom, downhill and cross country. The individual winners in each of the events is to go to Banff for the Second Century Week that occurs later in March.

Four Saint Mary's students passed the Canadian Amateur Ski Instructor's course, held at Wentworth in January. They are Andy McGrath, Barry Frewer, Donna Lohnes and Doug Kane.

On The Ice

With Ed LaPierre

With two rounds completed in the "A" Intramural "A" league, no sign appears of a winner as the Juniors and the Sophs both sport two wins and one tie. The tie coming about last Monday as they battled to a 1-1 draw in a well played contest. Anybody seeing this game must have been impressed with the calibre of hockey played. I think we would finish no lower than fourth or third in the present Intercollegiate league. The Frosh "A" team battered the Frosh "B" team for seven goals and for the first time this season find themselves in the "win" column. Deyoung and Fraughton were the power tools for the frosh "A" team, each collecting two goals and one assist.

In the "B" league, it looks like the Juniors are going to be the team to beat as they took a firm hold on first place last week by beating the seniors 7-1. The Seniors with their collection of veterans looked scuffy as the Juniors scored with ease. Holmes, Murphy and O'Keefe were the top men for the Juniors. In the second game of the week, the Frosh "C" teamsqueezed by the Sophs 6-5.

Huskies Hit Visitors' Jinx

The Huskies invaded Fredericton, the home of the U. N. B. Red Raiders Saturday, and ran into a fact that is becoming well known around the league. That is, on their home court, the Raiders are almost invincible.

In a close game that was poorly refereed, the Huskies had a slim 37-35 lead at the half, but the hot shooting Raiders fought back, and walked off with an 80-72 win.

Captain Rick Dougherty and Joe O'Reilly, who is becoming the take-charge man on the floor, had 19 points each. Jim Daniels had 18, Clem Maynard 10, and Al Brown 6. As he has been in the past few games, Al Brown was in charge of the backboards as he pulled in a fantastic 23 rebounds. Maynard was also fantastic in pulling down 16.

For the Raiders, Nutbrown had a game high of 25 points, Cox and Cotter had 16 each, and Hill contributed 15 points.

Cheerleaders Disband

A spokesman for the Maroon and White Society affirmed that the cheerleading squad which attended some of our athletic events this year has been disbanded.

After conversations between the Maroon and White the Athletic Department, and the cheerleaders, all of whom are from Mount Saint Vincent, it was agreed that the group would break up. All equipment supplied by St Mary's is being returned to either the Athletic Department or to M. & W.

Huskies Take Oland Trophy

Saint Mary's students showed their superiority in yet another line of sports January 14, as they took top honors in the annual Hillal Bowlathon. SMU was represented by two teams which placed first and second in a field of twenty-seven, including teams from Dalhousie Men's Residence, the various Dal fraternities, Nova Scotia Technical College, and King's College.

In the opening round, the team captained by Dave Stull walked away from the rest of the field with the other SMU team, with Simon Rosenblum at the helm, a distant second. However, in the finals, the tide was reversed and Stull's team ended up second, 14 pins behind Rosenblum.

With this victory, Rosenblum, whose team included Rene Gagne, Brian Ferguson, Gene Carew, Ray Whitman and Bill Mathews, was presented with the Colonel Oland Trophy for their efforts. Dave Stull also received two trophies for rolling the highest single and the highest double in the bowlathon.

Through The Hoop

WITH TIM SULLIVAN

The Huskies are now down two games in the loss column and its going to be a long uphill road, paved with a little bit of luck, if the Huskies hope to capture the title. The 80-72 loss at UNB was a real tough one to take. Sparked by Nutbrown's fantastic shooting and the refs, the Huskies fell to the hot handed Red Raiders. Now the Huskies have to beat Dal and hope someone else can knock them off. If UNB is hot against them they can do it. But the rest of the league won't help too much.

HOSPITALITY

The Huskies received quite a reception at Mt. Allison for their game on Friday night. The fans there don't cheer for Mt. A., they cheer against the other team. "Yankee go home" was a familiar cry heard from the infantile minds of those so-called university fans. Its a shame that the athletes in any sport have to be subjected to this sort of garbage. Dalhousie, well, you can understand their crying. For years a joke in Maritime sports, Dal now has a good basketball team and they certainly tell you about it. But credit where credit is due, Dal is a good, well coached team. Too bad the fans don't have a taste coach.

ON THE NATIONAL SCENE . . .

This is the most amazing thing I've come across in weeks. The top ten ratings in basketball as of Jan. 20 have been posted and may be seen on the sports board downstairs. Yes friends, Acadia is ranked FOURTH. Unbelievable? No it's not. St. Francis Xavier with one win under its belt is ranked SEVENTH. And Saint Mary's is ranked NINTH. Not a word about undefeated Dal. Too much!!

OUR CHEERLEADERS? . . .

Believe me, girls, this is no conspiracy or plot to undermine the solid relations between the charming young ladies from the Mount and St. Mary's but only my honest opinion of the cheerleading squad you lend us sometimes. They are wicked. In all my born days I have never seen a poorer organized group. True, they may have potential, but no polish. But the little thing that bothers me is the fact that they are a big-game group. The only times I've seen them this year were at Dal and here for the X-game. I don't want to say that it appears that they are using their uniforms for tickets to the good games and to heck with the others. They could have had the flu or been campused for the other games. I just don't know. I just know that I for one get a good laugh out of their antics when they do show up. They don't built team spirit but they do get a chuckle.

POLICY MAKING

I notice that since the Dal game where the official timekeeper came in for some sharp criticism (plus a fat lip) that league referees have been keeping time. I attended last week's Dal-X game and I cannot say there was much of an improvement. The haltime score was wrong, the final score was wrong and usually throughout the whole game the score was wrong. Big improvement.

PROVINCIAL TEAM . . .

The Boston Bruins basketball team drubbed the Dal studded Provincial team coached by Al Yarr. The score 101-67 was a good indication of how inept the provincials were. The Bruins were amazed at the referees hp here. Ed Washington, a former Boston University star, said it was the most interesting game he ever played in. The big difference is the body contact called. In the States a lot of body contact is overlooked if it in no way interferes with the play. That means if a man without the ball backs into someone they don't blow the whistle.

No, I'm not kidding here. In the UNB game, Clem Maynard, sick of being pawed and held under the basket, grabbed a rebound and rattled his elbows to clear the air. Al Brown, his teammate, caught one in the chest. The whistle blew. Clem was called for a deliberate foul and the closest UNB player was awarded two shots. Quod erat demonstratum!

CUS official explains withdrawal

REGINA (CUP) - A Canadian Union of Students Official has termed the recent withdrawal of eight universities from CUS as "healthy sign" that students are trying to relate to their academic communities.

Students are beginning to think realistically about what the academic community is, and how they can best relate to it, field secretary Rolli Cacchioni said in an interview here last week.

Some universities feel they can't relate through CUS, Cacchioni added, and this is why they have withdrawn.

The field secretary said CUS will only become relevant to Canadian students if local students' councils relate its programs to their electorates.

"What the SRC is doing at Regina campus is quite irrelevant to the individual student," charged Cacchioni. "They are tied up with petty administrative matters".

"Until they realize the difference between being a legislative rather than an administrative body, they can't be active on this campus. The student council must realize it is an integral part of the university community - not an adjunct to it".

Cacchioni claimed Canadian Universities are "middle-class ghettos which function like corporations in which the raw material - students is fed in one end, computerized and processed, the exuded at the other end as university students who have achieved the union ticket necessary for success in our society."

He called on students and faculty to become responsible for making the university "a more humane place" in which to live.

Regina students protest pressure

REGINA (CUP) - University of Saskatchewan students demonstrated here recently in an attempt to get university officials to ease academic pressures to which they have been subjected.

About 400 students jammed the halls and stairwells leading to faculty council president's office to present their grievances.

The students, carrying placards reading "We Like Our Sanity", "A Care for Today is a Cure for Tomorrow" and "Down with the Semester System", sat in the halls, waiting to air their complaints and to get university authorities to agree to further consider their requests.

Student leaders later met with the faculty council president to request that a student-faculty seminar be set up to discuss mutual problems, that a study time be set aside between completion of lectures and beginning of final exams, and that the faculty council meet with students to discuss the semester system.

UVIC students want say

VICTORIA (CUP) - The University of Victoria's students' council recently adopted its report on student participating in the university's government.

The report, which documents the rationale behind student participation in the senate, the board of governors and the faculty and senate appointed committees, will be presented to university president Malcolm Taylor.

Council says it hopes Dr. Taylor will accept the report and act on its recommendations as soon as possible.

"Fundamentally, the report defines what we feel should be the relationship between the student and the university," said Council president Stephen Bigsby.

"By admitting students their legislative rights on decision-making bodies of the university, it will be possible for students to contribute to the evolution of the university", he said.

Not invited, Came anyway

QUEBEC CITY (CUP) - Lack of an invitation failed to keep Laval University students from paying a visit to Quebec's unsuspecting finance minister Thursday (Jan. 19).

About 100 students seeking more money from the provincial government went to Paul Doxios' office to deliver a brief.

The students were protesting that only one of six suggestions made recently by an educational planning committee will be put into effect this year.

The suggestions, made by the Planning Committee on General Accessibility to Education, would aid pre-university students and cost $5 million.

Education Minister Jean Jacques Bertrand had said his department could not implement the other five suggestions - which would cost $17 million more - "because the economic and financial situation forces it to delay and application of the other measures proposed by the committee".

Calgary students represented

CALGARY (CUP) - University of Calgary students have won representation on the general faculty council, the body which controls the university's operation and has final say in student affairs.

The 44-member council voted Thursday to give students three seats on the policy-making body.

The students will be represented by the student's union president and two students at large who will be appointed by the general faculty council upon recommendations by the student's council.

Council president Roger Timms says he believes this makes U of C the first university in Canada to gain student representation on the university's decision-making body.

The U of C general faculty council is similar in function to the academic senate at most Canadian universities.
