President's Message

Dear Graduates of the Class of 2010:

Congratulations! You can be very proud of your success. As you move on to the next stage of your career, I am sure that the time you have spent at Saint Mary's University has provided a strong foundation for the future.

While intellectual life is at the heart of what we are about as a university, we have never felt that our mission stopped there. A Santamarian is someone who, in addition to her/his classroom and laboratory learning, has acquired communication, leadership, cross-cultural skills and also has developed a sensitivity to the local, national and global competitive agendas.

I hope you will return to this book many times in later years to relive your memories of Saint Mary's – your professors, your friends, and the events which took place on campus, particularly in your final year. This past year has seen the opening of the Atrium and the commencement of the renovations to the McNally building.

I hope, too, that you will continue to think of Saint Mary's not only as the place at which you studied, but where you became more of a person, in every way. So please keep in touch with your graduating colleagues and with us. Join an Alumni chapter and be part of the 35,000+ alumni network worldwide.

My colleagues and I wish you well.

Yours sincerely,

J. Colin Dodds, Ph.D.
President

Saint Mary's University Students' Association

President's Message

Dear Class of 2010,

Congratulations on successfully completing your degree at Saint Mary's. I hope as you move forward in your life that you are able to keep a sense of pride in our institution. Cherish this yearbook, as this will help you bring back fond memories during your stay at Saint Mary's. During the past four, five, maybe six years, you've had many successes and many challenges. One thing that has been consistent is that you've always been able to rely on your friends to guide you through challenges and successes.

Upon graduation, you will embark on another challenge as you transition to the next step in your life. Embrace this challenge it will help you grow just like every other challenge you've had at Saint Mary's. Remember your friends as they will help you like they have always done. Lastly, remember this Saint Mary's for all the opportunities, friendship, and experience it has given and remember this school with pride.

Congratulations,

Matthew Anderson
President
Saint Mary's University Students' Association

TURF BURN ORIENTATION WEEK 2009

SMU Powers: International School of Mystery.
This year's Orientation Week theme was all about discovery and celebration; whether you live on campus or across the city, finding your way around campus can be complicated. Hopefully our Frosh Leaders made it easy and fun for you.

With the help of Frosh Leaders, we managed to assemble 700 Frosh Packs just in time for our new students' arrival.

Our TurfBurn activities included over 20 games for each Frosh team to participate in. The winners got to be first in line for the BBQ that followed. Not a bad prize when there are 800 people waiting for food.

ORIENTATION WEEK 2009

The Scavenger Hunt got all of our new students familiar with campus and the neighbourhood while the Society Expo and inflatable games got everyone familiar with the societies and services on campus. And everyone definitely enjoyed the terrific weather! Special guests Sue Johanson (from Talk Sex With Sue) and Adam Growe (host of Discovery Channel's Cash Cab) provided great entertainment. Adam even stayed late to be a special guest in The Gorsebrook Lounge for the kickoff of Open Mic Night.

Wednesday November 25th 1:30 pm - 3:30 pm

Cafe Santa Maria is an event SMUSA holds to get feedback from students, staff, and faculty at SMU in an effort to determine the key issues each group faces and how SMUSA can better represent its membership in response to those issues. Participants discuss three broad questions at their tables, writing down anything they wish to share on sticky notes and post them on the pillars in the Cafeteria. They also have the option to express their concerns to the crowd via the microphone.

Jay Ingram

Sustainability Week Guest Speaker

Jay Ingram, co-host of Discovery Channel's The Daily Planet, joined us on campus to give a two-part presentation focusing on sustainable living and creative solutions to some of our large and not-so-large problems. Prior to his presentation, Jay met with the university's Sustainability Committee, members of the Saint Mary's University Environmental Society and members of our student executive to discuss the university's current initiatives and the environmental responsibilities our students and its generation will be facing in the future. Jay was given a tour of campus, which included stops at the Dockside cafeteria and The Atrium and its living wall.

Jay is well known in Canada for his many achievements, starting with hosting the science program Quirks and Quarks on CBC Radio. Jay's written several books, including Theatre of the Mind, which was later used as the title for his internet podcast, and The Daily Planet Book of Cool Ideas, which he was signing following his presentation. In 2009, he was made a member of the Order of Canada for his contributions toward making complex science accessible to the public as a broadcaster, public speaker and author and for his leadership of future generation of science journalists.

AFRICA NIGHT

Saint Mary's African Student Society (SMASS)

The Saint Mary's African Student Society presented their unique culture, music and food. The event was a huge success, with national flags flying from each country that has students studying at Saint Mary's University, including: Botswana, Cameroon, Egypt, Ethiopia, Ghana, Gambia, Kenya, Malawi, Mozambique, Nigeria, South Africa, Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia, and Zimbabwe.

CARIBANZA

Presented by SMU CARIBBEAN SOCIETY (SMUCS)

Caribanza is a Caribbean festival where all different islanders come together and embrace each other's uniqueness such as food, music and culture. Saint Mary's has lots of caribbean students from different parts of the islands represented in the university. Students here represent Antiqua & Barbuda, Barbados, Bahamas, Bermuda, British Virgin Island, Dominica, Jamacia, Trinidad & Tobago, Turks & Caicos, Saint Lucia, Saint Kitts & Nevis and Saint Vincent & Grenadines, among others.

The Conflict Resolution Society is connected with Peaceful Schools International and fundraises to send SMU students to Northern Ireland to promote peaceful resolution. This year 16 students travelled to Northern Ireland during reading week along with Bridget Brownlow the Conflict Resolution Advisor. The group raised over $30,000.00. A few of the fundraising events included: Peace Conference for elementary students in Halifax, holding bake sales, working coat check at the Gorsebrook. In Northern Ireland the SMU students worked with children in both primary and high schools in Belfast. The SMU students facilitated workshops on communication to help the children understand where conflict comes from and how to avoid and deal with it in everyday settings. This was an incredible and rewarding experience not only for the children but especially for the SMU students.

Chinese Student Society

SMUCSSA (SMU Chinese Student Society Association) was founded in March 2004, and represents one of the largest ethnic communities on the campus of Saint Mary's University with more than 300 registered members. Mr. Feng Li and his team manage the administrative efforts of SMUCSSA. In addition, SMUCSSA have at least three large events every academic year and plan many other minor on-campus activities.

The three major events for the academic year: Chinese New Year Party; Mid-Autumn Celebration Party and Chinese National Day Celebration. All these events provide a chance for Chinese students to meet each other and functions as a window for people from other countries to experience the Chinese culture.

SMU Chinese Student Society Association is an open Association, we welcome anyone to join us; to have fun together and to learn each other together, no matter what kind of colour you are or which country you are from.

Saint Mary's University Environmental Society (SMUES) 2009-2010

We are:

- Saint Mary's University (SMU) students working towards a healthier environment and a more sustainable campus
- open to SMU students from all academic disciplines
- open to faculty of the Environmental Studies Program and other departments who wish to serve as advisers to the society

We aim to:

- bring students together to socialize, network and make a difference
- provide resources and opportunities for students to become more involved in environmental issues, initiatives and careers
- facilitate change on campus and help SMU become more sustainable
- provide education and opportunities to those wishing to learn how to help achieve a sustainable campus
- foster relationships between students, faculty and staff who are working to make SMU more sustainable

Projects and Events 2009-2010:

- PaperCut “Better-Sided Notebook” Campaign: Collected one-sided paper from campus and bound it into booklets to stress the importance of using and reusing things before recycling them.
- Muggy Mondays/Muggy Mornings: Set up a booth in Loyola and the Student Union Building where students could participate in a coffee quiz to win a free coffee voucher. The voucher was only redeemable if students used their reusable travel mugs.
- Get Caught Recycling!: Caught people in the act of recycling: rewarded those who sorted their waste properly and educated those who didn't.
- Mr. SMU: Male Students at Saint Mary's University Competed for the title of Mr. SMU by showing how eco-friendly they are! The competition included question, lightning trivia, eco-costume, talent show and obstacle course rounds. The winner received the crown and title, as well as a $200 gift card to Mountain Equipment Co-op (MEC).
- Film Screening: Canada's Amazon: A Boreal Forest Journey. Raised awareness of the need to preserve wilderness areas in Nova Scotia; recruited hikers for our WildernessAid Hike
- WildernessAid Hike – Snow shoed the Mount Uniacke Estate Museum Trails to raise money for the Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society to help preserve wilderness areas in Nova Scotia.
- Partner in Sustainability Week. Our events:
  - Kickoff to Sustainability Week: Screening of Dirt!
  - Nature walk in Point Pleasant Park
- Dump and Run: A yearly community-wide garage sale. Purpose: to divert waste from going into landfills, and to promote using products for their full useful life. Saint Mary's University was the donation drop-off location in the community this year.

Geography Society

We are a society organized by and for geography students at Saint Mary's University. We encourage anyone who is taking geography as a major or minor, as well as anyone who has only taken a geography course to come out and participate in any of our events.

This year, our events included a beach cleanup, a Graffiti Party fundraiser for a trip to Boston, a Jeopardy event bringing together students, faculty and geography alumni, participation in Geography Awareness Week, and fundraising $600 for the Haiti relief. With the Geography Department, several Pictures & Pitchers events were organized where faculty and students prepared a power point presentation, highlighting their trips on China and Tibet, Australia, Afghanistan, Gambia, and England.

Edmund Rice Residence

Rice is a 17-storey residence building that houses over 300 students in a self-contained and furnished apartment. Most floors have been recently renovated from a two bedroom style apartment to three bedroom apartments. This residence is a fun place to be with your own private lounging in your apartment.

Let's take a look at some of the residents of this building.

Vanier Residence

Small residence, big community. Vanier House, being the smallest of the three residences, has a great community atmosphere. Vanier is a low-rise building housing over 200 students (same gender and co-ed floor) in four separate houses; A house, B house, C house and D house.

Each floor in Vanier consists of a common lounge and three suites, newly renovated and technologically upgraded. The lounge on each floor is an area where you can socialize - it's much like a living room.

Loyola Residence

This high rise 22 storey building is like no other. Just a few floors away from classes makes it the most famour and loved residence to live in.

Loyola houses over 400 residents consisting of students and professors. With its mixture of co-ed or same sex suites, diversity is not concern. This residence also has famiiy housing, which makes being away from home much more tolerant when you are surrounded with familiar loved ones.

Newly renovated the lounge on each floor has mounted flat screen televisions and on open area to socialize with a kitchenette to grab a warm bite as well.

Women's Field Hockey Team

The Saint Mary's Field Hockey team 2009 did well during the season having no losses in the six Team Atlantic University Field Hockey League. The team's only loss of 1-0 came against UPEI at the Atlantic University Play-off Championships. A very good season as the team had only 3 starters back from the previous year's squad. Both Mandy Avery and Arron Bonin were named to the Atlantic All-star list. Arron Bonin then received a CIS 2nd Team All-Canadian Award. Mandy Avery received a CIS 1st Team All-Canadian Award and attended a Field Hockey Canada National Team Try-out in March in Vancouver. She was then invited to the National Indoor Team Camp in May and added to the roster to play for Canada against Australia, May 10-16, 2010 in Toronto. Mandy, a co-captain of the Saint Mary's Squad received the Most Valuable Player Award for the Team at the Sports Athletic Banquet. Coach Sharon Rajaraman was named the Atlantic University Field Hockey Coach of the Year 2009 and also received the CIS Field Hockey University Coach of the Year Award as well.

▲ HAITI'S DISASTER TOUCHED US ALL. It lasted just 35 seconds, but the 7.0-magnitude earthquake that shook Haiti on Jan. 12, killed an estimated 230,000 and injured another 300,000. It left a million people homeless, and destroyed government buildings, hospitals, schools and the National Cathedral (top) in Port-au-Prince, the capital city. Amid the immediate chaos, international aid and rescue efforts began to pour in, bringing troops armed with supplies and medical assistance. It will take years to rebuild this nation, the poorest in the Western hemisphere, but the world opened its heart and its wallet in the face of the devastation. Contributions and commitments totalling more than $2 billion will go a long way to get Haiti back on its feet.

▼ NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK. The young Obama family energized Washington and captivated the world from the minute they moved into the White House. People were intrigued by Michelle creating a vegetable garden on the historic grounds and Barack's enthusiasm for going out for burger lunches. While the Obamas tried to keep the lives of their girls (Malia, left, and Sasha with their parents below) as normal as possible, they did allow their children to tag along on foreign tours. Not every kid gets to brag that they had tea with the Queen of England!

► LESSON LEARNED. Elementary school kids in Britain took part in an agricultural project to discover where food comes from by studying all aspects of farm life. They raised lambs (like the one pictured right) and named one of them Marcus. Then, over the objections of parents and animal rights activists, the kids voted 13 to one to send Marcus to slaughter to earn money for the next part of the course: raising pigs. By pressing ahead with their decision, these kids learned about the full cycle of food production and insisted that no one was going to pull the wool over their eyes.

► GREEN FOR GOOD. Thousands of Iranians, decked out in the opposition colour of green, took to the streets after Mahmoud Ahmadinejad was re-elected president of the Islamic republic by a suspiciously wide margin. When Tehran banned foreign media from attending the demonstrations, opposition supporters turned to cellphones, Twitter, Facebook and virtually every other form of social media to spread news about their activities throughout the world. Now every repressive regime has to worry not only about political opponents, but ordinary citizens armed with "weapons" of mass communications.

▲ NATURE'S POWER. The volcano under Iceland's Eyjafjallajökull glacier erupted on April 14 when a massive explosion sent a dangerous cloud of volcanic ash drifting across much of Europe. Since glass particles trapped within the ash cloud can destroy aircraft engines, aviation authorities quickly grounded virtually all flights on the continent, stranding thousands of passengers. Ominously, everyone waiting for the volcano to quieten down was aware that the last time it erupted, in 1821, Eyjafjallajökull continued belching noxious plumes for two years.

► FIRST THE BANKS, THEN THE COUNTRIES.

After nations around the world spent billions to stabilize the banking system, those countries' balance sheets became a new source of worry. Many countries spent wildly during the good times and racked up staggering debts. Then, as the recession hit, their national accounts went from bad to worse and soon many were drowning in red ink. One of the most spectacular failures was Dubai, an emirate in the Middle East. Just before it opened its latest extravagance, the world's largest building, it was forced to suspend payment on its $60-billion debt. Its stock market crashed. Concerns that larger, wealthier nations like Greece, Spain and Britain could go the way of Dubai are keeping financiers around the world up at night, as they wonder where the next crisis may hit. (Stockphoto)

► A SHOT THAT SAVED THE WORLD. Late last year, health officials were bracing for a deadly crisis to sweep the globe. Scientists raced to create a vaccine that could be used to fight off H1N1, the flu that many feared would kill tens of thousands of people. Fortunately, the race was won, and a massive inoculation campaign spared most of us from getting ill. Still, H1N1 did kill about 17,000 people worldwide, and the virus may still linger among us, which makes rolling up your sleeve to get next season's shot a top priority. ▲ ERR, HAPPY BIRTHDAY! China's Communist party was determined that nothing interfere with a massive party to mark the 60th anniversary of the 1949 revolution that brought it to power. In addition to the usual parades and fireworks, the regime pumped billions into the economy to keep workers employed, tossed dissidents who could disrupt the party in prison and cracked down on protests by restive ethnic minorities like the Tibetans and Uighurs. Then, while the Asian power barreled its way through the Great Recession, experts blew out the party cake's candles by warning that China's real estate sector was dangerously overheated. ▼ UNBURIED TREASURE. Prowling around a friend's farmland in Staffordshire, England, with a metal detector last summer, Terry Herbert stumbled upon what has been described as the largest Anglo-Saxon treasure ever discovered. The massive collection of 1,500 pieces, dating from the seventh century, includes gold and silver crosses, sword decorations and other items, some of which are shown here. Experts have valued the hoard at $5 million, which will be shared between the treasure hunter and the landowner.

◀ GOLDEN GAMES. National pride spilled over in February as Canada hosted what many are claiming to be the best Olympic Games ever. From the dazzling opening ceremony—where 16-year-old Montrealer Nikki Yanofsky (above, on stage) belted out the national anthem—to the rollicking carnival atmosphere on the streets of Vancouver and our highest medal count ever for a Winter Olympics, it was a proud moment for Canadians. Everyone seemed to embrace a new patriotism, waving flags and dreaming big. There was a strong demand for everything Olympic: Yanofsky's rendition of the CTV Olympic broadcast theme, I Believe, quickly rose to No. 1 on Canada's Hot 100 and became the top song on iTunes Canada.

▼ THIS MUTT IS A HERO. When a two-year-old toddler wandered away from his family's campsite into the Yukon bush last September, a frantic search ensued. But tiny Kale was not found before nightfall, and his parents were bracing for bad news. Apparently, the boy had trailed after a local dog that was wandering nearby, and the furry pet stayed with him through the night and through the next day until a helicopter spotted the pair. Police said it's likely the boy survived by cuddling up with the mutt to keep warm through the night.

Koda's owner was so moved by the incident that she gave the dog to Kale's family, where, she said, she knew he would have a loving home.

▼ LIPS WERE SEALED. Governor General Michaëlle Jean (below) made a gesture of solidarity with Canada's seal hunters last year when she ate a piece of the animal's raw heart during a community festival in Rankin Inlet, Nunavut. While some found the vice-regal nibble to be in bad taste, others have since followed her lead. In March, seal meat appeared on the menu at the Parliamentary Restaurant in Ottawa for the first time in history. But despite our politicians' efforts to put their mouths where the money is, the European Union pressed ahead with a ban on the import of seal products.

◀ RESCUE ON THE HIGH SEAS.

Students, teachers and crew aboard the SV Concordia drifted for 30 hours in the Atlantic Ocean, 550 km off the coast of Brazil after their three-masted tall ship sank in heavy winds last February. The Concordia, a Nova Scotia-based floating classroom for senior high school students, was on a five-month trip around the world. When the ship lurched sideways, the students' emergency training kicked in, allowing them to scramble into life rafts where they and the crew, 64 people in all, floated until the Brazilian navy picked up their distress signal and got them to dry land. "It was like the Titanic," said one tired and shaken student.

▼ PROROGATION 2.0. For the second time in a year, Parliament went missing in action for two months when the Conservative government suspended the session after Christmas in order, it said, to "recalibrate" its agenda. The prorogation came on the heels of weeks of tough questioning by opposition parties about the torture of prisoners turned over to the Afghan government by Canadian soldiers. Voters were not impressed with this extended vacation, and the Conservatives' popularity plummeted in the polls. Lesson of the day: Parliament belongs to the people, and we want our House to be in session. (THE CANADIAN PRESS/Sean Kilpatrick)

◀ CANADA'S BLACK EYE. Canada distinguished itself among the 190 countries in attendance at the United Nations Climate Summit in Copenhagen last December by winning the Colossal Fossil of the Year award. The "prize" was awarded by the Climate Action Network, a coalition of environmental groups, to the country that most obstructed progress at the summit. Canadian politicians were criticized for failing to show leadership, especially when they insisted Canada had to hold off on our own greenhouse gas emissions regulations until the United States developed its policies. Since 1990 Canada's greenhouse gas emissions have soared 27 per cent, mainly due to the massive expansion of Alberta's oil sands (left). Emissions for oil sands production are on average three to four times higher per barrel than conventional crude oil produced in North America. The pressure on Canada, including calls for a boycott of oil-sands fuel, led Environment Minister Jim Prentice to call on energy firms to clean up their act.

◀ OPERATION AFGHANISTAN. Fresh troops deployed from Edmonton for a tour of duty with Canada's military mission in Afghanistan, which began soon after the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks on the United States. More than 2,500 Canadian soldiers are based in the dangerous southern part of the country, and more than 145 Canadians have been killed since the mission began. After U.S. President Barack Obama ordered 30,000 more American troops to join in the fight, hopes rose that this surge will stop the Taliban before Canada begins to withdraw its combat forces in 2011.

► ROAD WARRIOR. To say the auto sector has suffered during the recession is the mildest of understatements. After sales crashed, Chrysler and General Motors had to be rescued with billions in aid from the U.S. and Canadian governments. Even Toyota was under siege as millions of its vehicles, including the popular hybrid Prius, were recalled after experiencing unexplained sudden accelerations. There was good news, however. Ford posted its first annual profit in four years and the car of the year award went to its Fusion. Best of all, the Big Three unveiled some stylish new cars and began to ramp up production. (MCT)

Music

► TAYLOR STRIKES A CHORD WITH US. Let's see now: Last year Taylor Swift won four Country Music Awards and five American Music Awards. She was named entertainer of the year by the Associated Press, and her second album, Fearless, was the best-selling album of 2009 in the US with more than 3.2 million copies sold. Swift claimed both the No. 1 and No. 2 positions atop the most played songs chart (all genres), with You Belong With Me and Love Story, respectively. At the Grammy Awards in January, Swift won four statues, including one for album of the year. All these accomplishments were achieved before the singer had even celebrated her twentieth birthday. Her songs are usually highly autobiographical. And no wonder: this girl has a lot to sing about.

► DISCO DIVA. With her outlandish outfits, wild wigs and sparkly masks, Lady Gaga has grabbed centre stage. But behind her fearless fashion is a seriously talented performer who writes her own songs, and can sing, dance, play instruments and act. With her summer concert tour underway, fans are in for never-ending surprises, as Lady Gaga re-invents herself at every turn along the way. (Brian J. Ritchie/Hotsauce / Rex Features)

▲ SHE'S NOT LOOKING BACK.

After her very public split from abusive boyfriend Chris Brown, who subsequently pleaded guilty to assault, Rihanna has bounced back stronger and more confident than ever. Fresh from winning an award at the Grammys for the rap collaboration Run This Town, she began a concert tour, featuring her latest album Rated R, which includes the catchy single Rude Boy. Hmm. Wonder who that song was named after!

(Picture Perfect / Rex Features)

► THIS IDOL ISN'T IDLE. It's hard to believe that it was just last year when Adam Lambert grabbed second place in the eighth season of American Idol. With his flamboyant costumes and his tightly choreographed dance moves, Lambert asks Whataya Want From Me? But he already knows the answer, and he delivers. As his debut album explains, he does it all For Your Entertainment. And he does it with style.

▲ PEAS HAVE A RECIPE FOR SUCCESS. The pop sound of the Black Eyed Peas, is alive and well. After a four-year hiatus, during which singer Fergie was working on her solo career, the band was back with a new album, The E.N.D., which quickly became a multi-platinum seller. But then, who could resist that infectious party anthem I Gotta Feeling? Ooh-whooh! (Greg Allen / Rex Features)

► THE WORLD IS WAVING K'NAAN'S FLAG. As teams from 32 nations line up for this year's FIFA World Cup in South Africa, they're all moving to K'Naan's Wavin' Flag. The Somali-born rapper's song, which appeared on his 2009 album, Troubadour, is the official Coca-Cola anthem for the World Cup. For the artist, who was raised in Toronto, but who incorporates an African pride into his lyrics, being part of the world's biggest sporting event holds a deeper meaning. He hopes it will be an opportunity for the world to see Africa in a positive light, "because most of the images associated with Africa are negative." Earlier in the year, more than 50 Canadian musicians gathered in Vancouver to re-record Wavin' Flag. It was then released as a charity single, with all proceeds going to Haiti's earthquake victims.

► KINGS OF THE CASTLE. For the Kings of Leon, four country boys from Nashville, the past year has been amazing. Their fourth album, Only by the Night, sold six million copies worldwide and earned them two Grammy Awards for the hit single Use Somebody. The hard-rocking band comprised of brothers Nathan, Jared and Caleb Followill as well as their cousin Matthew, have mellowed from their earlier albums and now produce more melodic tunes. The catchier, the better, we say. That way, we can sing along. (Lawrence K. Ho/Los Angeles Times/MCT)

► SAY HALO TO BEYONCÉ. The superstar set a record for the most Grammy Awards won on a single night by a female artist on Jan. 31, 2010, when she took home six awards. And now she is catching a new whiff of sweet success: her first fragrance, Heat, did $3 million in sales during its first month on the shelves at Macy's stores.

(Jay L. Clendenin/Los Angeles Times/MCT)

► THE HIT MASTER. In its year-end wrap-up last December, Entertainment Weekly named Jay-Z's 2001 album The Blueprint to its list of the 10 best albums of the decade. And it's just one of nine Jay-Z records that have topped the charts and made this rapper perhaps the most influential poet of his time. The most recent songs to ride the charts include Empire State of Mind with Alicia Keys (above) and Run This Town with Rihanna and Kanye West. (Yong Kim/Philadelphia Daily News/MCT)

► YOUTUBE SENSATION. Thanks to the camera in every cellphone, anyone can be a star on YouTube. And no one found fame faster than Justin Bieber, from Stratford, Ont., whose golden voice and fresh face earned him second place in a talent contest when he was only 12. For family and friends who missed the competition, he uploaded videos on YouTube. By chance, a U.S. hip-hop promoter clicked on Justin's videos and soon set to work to build up his YouTube content before signing him to Island Records, Usher's label. Within a year Justin had played major venues in North America and Europe, including Madison Square Garden in New York City. He sang for President Obama in a Christmas show and appeared at the Grammy Awards in January. Meanwhile, his first album, My World, debuted at No. 6 on the Billboard 200 chart, attracting almost 2 million friends to his Facebook page. Next came My World 2.0, which topped the pop charts. ▲ AIRPORT A-GO-GO. What exactly are we allowed in the way of carry-on luggage these days? First there were restrictions on liquids: everything had to be trial size or smaller and packed in clear plastic bags. But after a would-be bomber tried to detonate explosives hidden in his underwear last Christmas on a flight to Detroit, the rules have tightened and slackened, causing lots of confusion. Things have again settled down to the old restrictions: all liquids must be 100 ml or smaller. But now there is something new at the airport: full body screening technology, a sort of high-tech strip search. It's enough to make you wish you'd taken the train.

▲ MISSION ACCOMPLISHED. Call Of Duty: Modern Warfare 2 takes a hard look at the disorienting effects of armed combat. The constant pace of the action challenges players' reflexes and accuracy, and ignites our survival instincts. It all adds up to some of the best shooter action money can buy, and millions of fans did just that, making Modern Warfare 2 one of the top-selling video games of all time, with sales topping $1 billion in its first two months. ► THUMBS DOWN. Texting while moving—whether walking, driving or cycling—can be tricky, treacherous, and sometimes tragic. In January, the U.S. government took aim at distracted drivers, and barred truckers and bus drivers from sending text messages while behind the wheel. The move followed a report from Virginia Tech that showed truckers who text were 23 times more likely to be involved in a crash or close call. Even walking can be a challenge for cellphone users. One New York teen fell into an open sewer manhole while texting as she walked. Fortunately what really hurt was her pride. (MCT/DOUG KANTER/KRT)

► A DREAM FULFILLED. Susan Boyle was a middle-aged Scottish spinster who wanted to be a professional singer. She got her wish with the help of YouTube when word of her amazing audition on Britain's Got Talent spread around the world. Soon more than 125 million people had watched her exquisite version of I Dreamed a Dream from Les Misérables. Though she didn't win the reality show contest, she did fulfill her wish. Last December her first album was released. It's sold more than nine million copies. (Photo by Ken McKay / Rex Features)

► TIGER IN THE ROUGH. After golfing superstar Tiger Woods had a mysterious car accident in the middle of the night last November, stories began swirling about trouble in his personal life as women went public with claims of affairs with the married father of two. As the scandal grew, sponsors dropped the billionaire sports phenom from their advertising strategies. Finally the ultra-private Woods publicly confessed his infidelity, apologized to his wife and fans, and vowed to make amends.

◀ THE KING OF POP. Michael Jackson was just days from starting a series of comeback concerts in London when he died suddenly in Los Angeles at the age of 50. The world grieved for his three children and devastated family, and questions were being asked about the drugs given to the pop superstar by his personal physician. While his song-making prowess was legendary, it was only at his memorial service that fans saw a more private side of the singer through the simple words of his daughter Paris: "Ever since I was born, Daddy has been the best father I could imagine. I just want to say I love him so much."

(Olivier Douliery/Abaca Press/MCT)

◀ CRAZY FOR YOU. Any doubt that Twilight has made stars of its actors vanished when the paparazzi recorded every second of a Rolling Stone photo shoot featuring Taylor Lautner, the series leading werewolf. Teens swooned over his physique—he packed on 30 pounds of muscle for the role—and his short-lived relationship with singing sensation Taylor Swift. At least he's been spared the fate of leading vampire Robert Pattinson, who's so hunted by fans that he was nearly run over by a New York City taxi while trying to escape from a crowd of screaming girls.

SEARCH TMZ: HOT SEARCHES: Britney Spears, Tiger Woods

1 Trick of a tiny belly: Cut down a bit of your belly every day by using this 1 weird old tip.

CELEBRITY JUSTICE
Britney Spears -- No Show In Court

EXCLUSIVE

Britney Spears was expected to show up in court today but her appearance has been delayed... however, the end game for the conservatorship may now be in sight.

Britney was supposed to sit down with Judge Reeves Geetz at 1:30 to talk about her progress, but her attorney says the judge has been unavailable since last week, so the parties need more time before the judge gets more info.

You don't need a PhD in psychology to see how much progress Britney has made in the last year.

As we first reported, daddy Jamie Spears and others have been pushing for the conservatorship to end--but no date has been set.

The Judge wants to sit down with Britney for a second time this year, but it's premature until the judge gets more info.

No date has been set for Britney's next command performance before the judge.

◀ IT'S TIME HAS COME. Goofy 3-D glasses are here to stay. The hottest trend on the big screen right now is making films in 3-D. Hardly a week goes by without a major motion picture coming out in that format, as studios rush to film everything from Monsters vs. Aliens to Christmas Carol in the mind-bending format. And of course none was as successful as James Cameron's Avatar, which broke virtually every box office record. The latest craze: 3-D televisions, all the better for capturing every moment of sports events.

◀ THE SOURCE. Hollywood gossip site, TMZ.com, has developed a reputation for breaking big celebrity stories, from announcing Michael Jackson's death to showing Rihanna's bruised and bloodied face, after her then-boyfriend Chris Brown beat her on Grammy night last year. In addition to the big stories, the site, which stands for the "thirty-mile zone" within which most celebrities live in Los Angeles, has an amazing knack for reporting on the wacky behaviour of the high and mighty. It is the new cop on the Hollywood block. (TMZ.COM)

A PERFECT 10. How much would you sacrifice for a shot at Olympic glory? The gymnasts of Make It or Break It will take on anything, even each other, to reach their lofty goal. And that conflict, combined with superb athletic prowess, makes for a drama that lets audiences dream the seemingly impossible dream.

(Craig Sjodin / © ABC Family / Courtesy: Everett Collection)

REVOLVING CHAIRS. The drama normally reserved for American Idol's stage moved to its judging table this year when the flamboyantly wacky Paula Abdul was let go after eight seasons, replaced by talk-show host Ellen DeGeneres (from left: judges Randy Jackson, DeGeneres, Simon Cowell, host Ryan Seacrest and Kara DioGuardi). In turn DeGeneres had barely settled into her seat when the curmudgeonly Cowell announced he was leaving at the end of the season to bring his British talent show, The X Factor, stateside. The judging twists and turns made the singing contest look almost staid in comparison.

ICED PERFECTION. It was only natural that Canada would have a hit reality show that paired female figure skaters with retired NHL players. From the start CBC's Battle of the Blades pulled in huge audiences, and nearly half of viewers were men who couldn't get enough of such hockey stars as Claude Lemieux and Tie Domi effortlessly hoisting their partners at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. Jamie Salé and Craig Simpson (right) won the contest, proving once again that Canadians are masters on the ice. (THE CANADIAN PRESS/Frank Gunn)

ADIOS, OPRAH. America's sympathizer-in-chief announced she's leaving her syndicated daytime show at the end of next year's season, her 25th. Oprah Winfrey isn't abandoning her millions of loyal followers. Instead, the billionaire hopes to take them to her own network, where they can watch Oprah-approved shows around the clock.

(Lionel Hahn/Abaca Press/MCT)

THE LITTLE SHOW THAT COULD. A series set in an Ohio high school glee club was the surprise breakout success of the TV season. Glee's irreverent take on the traumas of teenage life, combined with slick song-and-dance numbers turned its cast of unknown talents, including Canadian Cory Monteith, into stars. By the time Glee picked up a Golden Globe for best TV comedy series, it had been renewed for a second season, and an album of songs covered on the show had sold more than two million downloads. BITE ME. Fangs and blood mix with romance and horror in The Vampire Diaries. Based on a series of books with the same name, the TV show revolves around a small town girl, Elena Gilbert (Nina Dobrev), and her complicated relationship with vampire Stefan Salvatore (Paul Wesley, right, with Dobrev) and his bad-boy brother Damon. What sets the show apart is that its creators have populated Mystic Falls with so many interesting characters who go bump in the night. (Alan Markfield/The CW/MCT)

▲ THE ECO WARRIOR. Thirteen years after James Cameron was crowned the "King of the World" for his blockbuster Titanic, the Canadian director finally released his follow-up, Avatar. Instead of delving into history, Cameron created a faraway planet named Pandora. There a blue-skinned people called the Na'vi were fighting to preserve their land and stop humans from destroying the environment in their quest for a precious mineral called unobtonium. To make the magical world believable, Cameron created a camera system that translated live action into a virtual reality. The extraordinary result rewrote the box office record books, as the 3-D film unseated Titanic as the highest grossing film of all time. (Courtesy WETA/MCT)

► A SECOND BITE. When New Moon premiered in December the question wasn't whether it would be a hit or not, but rather how much it would rake in at the box office. Fans of Stephenie Meyer's Twilight series lined up for hours to watch the second theatrical adaptation of the romance between Bella Swan and her vampire love Edward Cullen. It quickly made $297 million in North America, another $400 million overseas, and left everyone panting for the next instalment.

◀ NEARLY FINISHED. For followers of the Hogwarts saga, Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince marked the beginning of the end of the beloved series. Only the seventh and final of J.K. Rowling's books remains to hit the big screen. At the heart of Half-Blood Prince was the increasingly close relationship between Harry Potter and headmaster Albus Dumbledore as they searched for the reasons why arch enemy Lord Voldemort is so evil. Even better for fans? The last book is being divided into two movies.

(Jaap Buitendijk/Warner Bros./MCT)

► GOLDEN GIRL. After decades building up a resumé of hit comedies and romantic chick flicks, Sandra Bullock finally struck gold in The Blind Side. She played Leigh Anne Tuohy, a Southern football coach's wife who takes in, and later adopts, an impoverished teen named Michael Oher. While Tuohy and her husband push the teen both academically and athletically, he, in turn, teaches the couple that doing the right thing can change their lives forever. (In real life, Michael Oher is an offensive tackle for the Baltimore Ravens.) When Bullock got her statue for Best Actress at the Academy Awards she thanked her mother "for not letting me ride in cars with boys until I was 18, because she was right."

▼ DOWN THE RABBIT HOLE. Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland is a magical childhood fantasy, and also one of the most difficult tales to translate to the big screen. But when director Tim Burton, known for his quirky imaginative movies, took an interest in the book, he made two crucial decisions: to cast Johnny Depp as the Mad Hatter and to release the film in 3-D. The result blew away the competition and racked up $116 million in its opening weekend. (Courtesy Disney Enterprises, Inc./MCT)

In Transformers: Revenge of the Fallen the evil Decepticons resumed their feud with the Autobots, led by Optimus Prime (right), with Earth again their battlefield. Still can't get enough? ▲ TO BOLDLY RETURN... After five TV series and 10 movies, the Star Trek franchise needed a shakeup. And that's exactly what director J.J. Abrams did. Viewers saw how the crew of the original Enterprise first met, long before the time of the classic 1960s TV show. James T. Kirk wasn't an arrogant captain but a brash cadet trying to stave off disaster. And Mr. Spock wasn't his trusty Vulcan sidekick, ears and all, but a fierce opponent. Though Abrams was faithful to Star Trek lore, his new vision of the future was so electric that a sequel was announced even before the first film hit theaters.

◀ BEST IN SHOW. When it first came out last summer, The Hurt Locker garnered rave reviews as the most authentic movie to date about the war in Iraq. Director Kathryn Bigelow's action-packed film followed a bomb disposal team as they dealt not only with unexploded devices but also with the psychological toll of such a deadly profession. While The Hurt Locker didn't blow up the box office, it ended award season with almost every big prize, including the biggest of all: Oscars for Best Picture and Best Director.

◀ KING OF THE HILL. It took Alexandre Bilodeau 23.17 seconds to fly down the moguls course on Cypress Mountain, and in the process, to make Olympic history. On the third night of competition at the Vancouver Games, he became the first Canadian ever to win a gold medal on home soil. After his race, Bilodeau rushed over to hug his older brother Frédéric, who has cerebral palsy, and who, Alex says, is his daily source of inspiration. When he thinks of Frédéric's bravery and determination, and what it takes for him to get through a day, Alex says it puts all his own aches and pains from training "back in perspective." ► SPEEDING BULLET.

We're not sure what drives grown men and women to launch themselves upon tiny sleds head-first down a chute of ice at speeds of up to 145 km/h, but we do know that Jon Montgomery, a prairie boy from Russell, Man., captured a first-place finish in his skeleton competition and in the process became Canada's most lovable Olympian. When he jumped onto the medal podium and struck an exuberant victory pose, the whole country joined the party.

► ICE DEMONS.

Ten of Canada's 26 Olympic medals were won by speed skaters, with short-track phenom Charles Hamelin (far right) the only Canadian athlete to win two golds in Vancouver. On both the short and long tracks, the men and women who skate in circles kept Canada in contention.

▲ THIS IS OUR GAME. It doesn't get more dramatic than the Canada-U.S. men's hockey final at the Winter Olympics. With 24 seconds left in the third period, U.S. forward Zach Parise tied the game, 2-2, and forced the match into extra time. The crowd fell into stony silence, and barely breathed as the overtime play got underway. Then, seven minutes into the period, Canada's Sidney Crosby slipped the puck past U.S. goalie Ryan Miller (top), and secured the gold medal for the home team. With that shot, Crosby capped off a Winter Games that many said were the best yet. Of course the men weren't the only ones to secure hockey gold for Canada. The women (above) had celebrated their own 2-0 victory over Team U.S.A. three days earlier. (John Lok/Seattle Times/MCT) (Harry E. Walker/MCT)

► NO BRAINER. After too many devastating injuries, including a hit to Boston Bruins' Marc Savard that saw him carried from the ice on a stretcher during a game against the Pittsburgh Penguins in March, the NHL finally activated a temporary rule which calls for an automatic league review and possible suspension for any hit to the head against unsuspecting players. It's about time the league got serious about reducing injuries and concussions. (AP Photo/Keith Srakocic)

◀ A SQUEAKER. For most of last season the Montreal Alouettes rode the strong throwing arm of quarterback Anthony Calvillo (shown here hoisting the Grey Cup with teammate Anwar Stewart), but in the final seconds of the 2009 Grey Cup, when they were trailing the Saskatchewan Roughriders by two points, the Alouettes pinned their hopes on kicker Damon Duval to boot a 43-yard field goal for the win. When Duval missed the kick, the Roughriders began to celebrate a bit prematurely. They had 13 players on the field and were flagged for too many men. So Duval got another chance to kick that field goal. The second time, the ball sailed through the goal posts, and made the Alouettes CFL champions, with a score of 28 to 27. (THE CANADIAN PRESS/Adrian Wyld)

► THE FACE OF COURAGE. Rallying a calm demeanour in spite of the aching grief and turmoil welling inside from her mother's sudden and fatal heart attack just days earlier, Canadian figure skater Joannie Rochette took to the ice at the Vancouver Olympics and delivered a bronze-medal performance. She also delivered one of the Games' defining moments. (Robert Gauthier/Los Angeles Times/MCT)

► CANADA'S SWEETHEARTS.

They started skating together 13 years ago when she was only 7 and he was 9. Obviously it was the perfect pairing. Ice dancers Tessa Virtue and Scott Moir skated flawlessly, executing intricate spins and high-risk lifts to capture gold at the Vancouver Games. One month later the pair, who aren't romantically involved, capped off their perfect year by taking the top prize at the world figure skating championship in Turin, Italy. Sometimes, fairy tales do come true.

► THE BIG APPLE BITES BACK.

For Alex Rodriguez, last year was a roller coaster. A few months before opening day, the New York Yankees third baseman—the highest paid athlete in baseball—admitted using steroids from 2001 to 2003. After missing spring training because of a torn hip ligament, Rodriguez and his batting prowess helped propel the team to a first place finish. Then he got his first World Series victory when the Yankees defeated Philadelphia 7-3 in the sixth game. It was the team's 27th series win, something even its opponents grudgingly had to acknowledge was a job well done.

▲ WELCOME BACK. One of the world's rarest turtle species—the Arakan forest turtle—has been observed for the first time in the wild. A team of scientists discovered the reptile deep in the jungles of Burma in Southeast Asia last fall. The adult turtles measure less than a foot in length. The species was believed extinct until 1994, when conservationists found a few specimens in a food market in China. Before then, the last known record was of a single animal collected by a British Army officer in 1908.

▲ MIGHTY MINI REX FOUND IN CHINA. The nearly complete skeleton of a dinosaur that is believed to have roamed the earth about 125 million years ago was unveiled last autumn. Raptorex kriegsteini likely lived at least 40 million years before Tyrannosaurus rex. Though just three metres long, it has all the main characteristics of its legendary descendant—big head, sharp teeth, small arms and fast legs. One scientist studying the skeleton, which was discovered in China, said this mini T. rex was a spectacular carnivore. Weighing only 70 kg, Raptorex "was running things down, dispatching them with its powerful jaws, and clutching them with its two-fingered hands"—the same hunting strategy that apparently worked for six-tonne T. rex. ► GARDENS GO VERTICAL. Patrick Blanc is a French botanist who observed that plants in rainforests often survive without soil. He has patented a technique for hanging plant tapestries on the sides of buildings, and has created multi-story living walls on urban structures around the world, including France, Britain, Spain, Korea, Japan and Thailand. Not only do these highrise jungles add colour to drab city streets, they also help to purify the air. Refreshing! (Courtesy Patrick Blanc)

► BUDGET TRAVEL. Space exploration isn't just for NASA anymore. Two students from MIT recently put together a rig that flew 27 km into the stratosphere and took hundreds of photos along the way. Justin Lee and Oliver Yeh filled a weather balloon with helium and hung a styrofoam beer cooler underneath to carry a cheap Canon compact camera. Instant hand warmers made sure the batteries stayed warm enough to work, and a prepaid GPS-equipped cellphone inside the box was used to track the voyage. Eventually, as the balloon rose, the air pressure became so great that the balloon burst (right), allowing the cooler to drift back to earth, where it landed about 40 km from where it had been launched. Total cost, including duct tape? $148. (Courtesy Oliver Yeh, Justin Lee, Eric Newton.)
