Mantin Is New Collegian Editor

The Students' Publications office announced yesterday the selection of Dennis Mantin as the new editor of the Collegian. Mr. Mantin has long been a leader in literary and academic activities at the University. And this last mark of the University's esteem comes as a seal of approval on his excellent work on the JOURNAL during the year. Mr. Mantin's outstanding and prize winning contribution to the 1951-52 Journal literary round-up published in the essay of last spring indicate bright hopes for a year book to excel all former year books.

Assisting Dennis Mantin will be Charles Jones, George Hansen and Peter Heenan, as associate and advising editors. In the Advertising and Financial departments and under the direction of Faculty member, Mr. Eric Theriault, will be Bob Connell and John Garceau. Picture Editors will be Ray Carey and Vic Cleyle.

At a recent Student Council meeting representatives enquired whether a better cover and binding for the Collegian might not be possible. The Collegian staff would be only too glad to bind and cover its effort more expensively if students felt they could afford the extra unit cost.

Tri-Service Ball

The Gun Room at H.M.C.S. Stadacona will be the scene of this year's Tri-Service Ball, to be held on Thursday, February 12 from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Among those attending will be the Resident Staff Officers of Saint Mary's University, Major Ryan and Captain Thompson, along with the various members of Her Majesty's Armed Forces now enrolled in Saint Mary's and other Universities.

Don Warner and his orchestra will provide the music, and no corsage is necessary.

X Proves Fine Host

The trip to Antigonish is a thing of the past. However, it would not be fair to say that it will soon be forgotten by any of the students who were fortunate enough to accompany their hockey and basketball teams to the College town, whether they travelled by bus or by car. Because the hospitality extended to the students of Saint Mary's by those of Saint Francis Xavier demands at the very least a few words of appreciation.

Never shall we be able to say that the Xaverian hospitality was not of the highest calibre. On the contrary, the only items lacking were Santamarian victories on the ice and on the basketball floor. Everything else was at our disposal, even their sleeping accommodations. Such

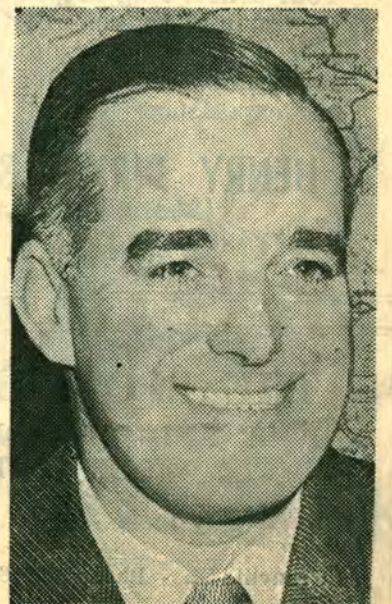

New Executive Inducted At Annual Rally

REARDON IS VICE-PRESIDENT

The members of the Alumni Association met on Sunday evening and elected a new slate of officers for the 1953 term. Topping the list was Rt. Rev. J. W. Burns, D.P., V.G., and Vicar Capitular of the Diocese as well as Chancellor of the University, who was elected Honorary President. The Hon. Harold Connolly, well known local figure in Provincial affairs, was elected President. Lawrence Smith, instructor at Saint Patrick's Boys' High School, and recently returned from post-graduate studies at Fordham University became Secretary, while John Fry took over the post of Treasurer. The important position of Vice-President was given to Gerald Reardon. Among Committee chairmen permanently elected for the year were William Dalton, William B. Murphy, Roy Power, Louis Zwerling and Eric Theriault. As additional members at large of the Executive, in the capacity of executive directors were: Alban M. Murphy, the retiring president, Very Rev. Frederick J. Lynch, President of the University, Dr. E. I. Glenister, Peter O'Hearn and Douglas Kline.

Monsignor Burns delivered the address of the evening, a stirring recapitulation of the amazing progress made by His Grace the late Archbishop, coupled with an encouraging glimpse into the heartening future, not only of our new University, but of the whole of the Diocese.

Due to the illness of newly elected President Connolly, the Vice-President, Mr. Gerald Reardon took the chair, and after voting thanks to the retiring executive, the meeting was adjourned. The assembled alumni retired to the theatre on the floor above to see the film version of the 1952 World Series. The new executive will meet on Wednesday evening to discuss plans for the coming activities.

Sodality Day Is Successful

In observance of the Feast of the Purification of Our Lady, the Sodality of Saint Mary's University held a day-long celebration on Monday, February 2.

Very Reverend F. Lynch, S.J., President of the University opened the proceedings with High Mass in the Chapel, at which Ken Robertson led congregational singing. Following the Mass, breakfast was served in the main dining hall. Father Lynch then addressed the gathering on the functions of a Sodality in a University.

Father Gallagher, Moderator of the Sodality, then spoke on the responsibility of every Catholic to cooperate with Christ in bringing His truths, laws and graces to the world. This talk was followed by a period of Mental Prayer and an Examination of Conscience, directed by Father Labelle.

At the afternoon session Father Gallagher spoke on Christ the King and His call to every soul to labor with Him. With the Prefect of the Engineers Sodality in the chair, a panel discussion was held on Catholic Action in the family, in the parish, and during leisure hours. Members of the panel were Jack Carey, Chairman; Stan MacFadden, Bernard Sheehan, Cyril Courtney.

At 6.30 that evening Father Lynch gave Benediction, after which a dance was held in the University lobby.

One of the highlights of the evening was the entertainment provided while refreshments were being served in the dining hall. Among the students of both Saint Mary's and Mount Saint Vincent, who donated their talents were Tom Chaisson, Bill Reid, Enrique Mulford, Wajih Diab, Harry Slaunwhite and Gil Correia, all of Saint Mary's, and Angelina Comeau, Margaret Sutherland and Rosemary Maillet of the Mount. Mrs. J. Donohue, who very capably rendered several Irish numbers, was accompanied by Mrs. J. Inglis at the piano.

Special thanks are due to Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Buckley and Miss MacDonald, for their work on the Refreshment Committee; to Mr. and Mrs. T. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Buckley, chaperones; to Ed Murray, Master of Ceremonies; and to all those who gave their time and energy to make the whole day the success that it was.

Prayers Requested

Joe Dysart, Freshman Commerce student here at Saint Mary's, has asked that his father be remembered in your prayers. Mr. Dysart is very ill, and as Catholic students it is only fitting that you offer up prayers for his recovery.

A. M. Guild To Publish New Directory

The Albertus Magnus Guild, rapidly proving to be one of the most active groups in Saint Mary's University, has undertaken a new project. This project, in the form of a Students' Directory, is well on the way to completion, and it is expected that the Directory will be available in the near future.

In addition to listing the names, addresses and phone numbers of all the University Students, the booklet will also provide a source of information on the various Student Organizations in and about the University. Some of the groups whose structure and operation will be outlined include the Students' Council, the Athletic Association, the Albertus Magnus Guild, The Sodality of The Blessed Virgin Mary, and the Philosophers Academy.

SYMPATHY

In the top corner of our front page is the device: "The Voice of the Students". Consequently now for more than a year we have observed that that device is being used more or less archly by our contributors to prove a variety of things: for instance that student publications should not have faulty direction or that items that are neither news nor of student interest should be published. Never in all that time have we observed that argument used in support of the Journal itself.

If this is the voice of the students, why shouldn't the students do more of the work involved in publishing it. It is our privilege as students to express ourselves freely in our own publication. But with this, as with every privilege, goes a duty: The duty of supporting that publication with our keen interest, our eager cooperation and our devoted labour. If the JOURNAL is a free organ of expression for all students, the toil that makes it a fortnightly reality is also the responsibility of ALL the students.

Among that majority of the student body that takes so small a part in other activities, surely there can be found some few who are willing to devote a small part of their time to the interesting task of writing, editing, financing and circulating their own newspaper. We, the Editors will welcome them. They will have read into the Journal's device the duty as well as the privilege.

In the two years since Windsor Street, Saint Mary's has mended many fences and laid a few psychological ghosts. The old college spirit that perhaps nodded a bit in its last years in the little old brick building, has found rejuvenation on its new campus. But even with new life, there is always room for improvement. And one department where improvement could be made is in student competition for the undergraduate literary award. With the year half departed, painfully few essays have been submitted in the annual contest. Our interviews with faculty members reassure us that there is lots of literary talent. Our own circumstances remind us that even a course assignment with minor alterations may be submitted. So there cannot be any lack of ability or of time or opportunity.

This College spirit, so proudly rejuvenated, so fast growing into the giant we want it to be, cannot live and grow on athletics and social functions alone. It needs high competitive interest in academic pursuits. It needs a contribution from each and every student of the best essay he can produce in competition for the Annual Literary Award.

Adelaide U. Professor Is Guest Lecturer

On Wednesday, February 4, Saint Mary's University was graced by the presence of Professor Elliott, a member of the staff of Adelaide University in Australia.

Currently touring Canada in connection with his work on the Humanities Research Council, Prof. Elliott addressed a number of the students on Australian Literature, in which field he is well known.

Several Australian ballads were read in part, one of which, "Billy Barlow", proved to be particularly interesting.

Professor Elliott was thanked for his enlightening talk by Father P. Malone, S.J., Dean of Studies at the University.

Philosophers' Academy Activities

The Philosophers Academy met twice during January, under its Moderator, Rev. Father H. LaBelle, S.J.

At the meeting of January 12, Dennis Mantin read a paper on "Education." This paper provoked a stimulating and highly enjoyable discussion under the capable chairmanship of Ross MacDonald.

January 26, Gordon Hayes read a well received paper on "Criminal Co-Operation." Wilbert Martel was chairman.

Other members present at the meetings were B. Helton, P. Heenan, E. Murray, D. MacIntyre, S. McFadden, W. Jerret and B. Murphy.

There is at present one vacancy in the Academy. Anyone interested in applying for membership should give his name to the Secretary, Stan McFadden. Conditions of membership are enrolment in Philosophy 2, 3 or 4, and willingness to participate in the discussions. Applicants will be voted in by secret ballot of the present members.

Next meeting's paper will be "Pavlov's Conditioned Reflex Theory", to be given by Edmund Murray.

treatment as this, when accorded to us by those whom we regard as our greatest rivals in the field sport, should go a long way toward cementing the already firm relationship between the two Universities.

On behalf of the players, officials and fans who made the trip to Saint Francis Xavier University last week, the Journal takes this opportunity to extend a sincere vote of thanks to our hosts, the students of Saint F.X.

Engineers Plan For Feb. 11th

The Engineering Society, under the direction of William G. Flinn, has announced that the Annual Engineers' Banquet and Ball will be held at the Lord Nelson Hotel on Wednesday, February 11, 1953.

The reception, prior to the banquet, will get underway at 6.30, continuing until 7 o'clock, when dinner will be served. Approximately sixty Engineers, with the ladies of their choice, are expected to attend, along with a group of Engineering Alumni.

Among the guests will be Father J. Murphy, S.J., Father M. Burke-

Dear Editor:

I would like to congratulate you and your staff for your fine paper. I realize that you put a great deal of time and work into it and that you try to cover all the activities of the University. But it is lacking in one thing.

This is a Catholic University. Do you not think that a newspaper of such a University, should in some way cover the spiritual activities of this institution. You call yourself "The Voice of the Students". This I accept. But you seem to be more of a material voice than a spiritual voice.

You print a complete sports coverage and you seem to cover all the activities except the spiritual activities. You do your utmost to publicize society dances, but do you ever think to push the Rosary in the Chapel at 11.50? This is a student activity in which more should and can participate.

I consider it news that thirty-five students have already pledged themselves to say the Rosary, to go to Mass and Communion on the first Saturday of the month and to perform one sacrifice a day for the conversion of Russia. I also consider it news that on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception sixty or seventy students gathered here around the altar for a High Mass and to receive Our Lord in Holy Communion. I could also mention the Apostleship of Prayer and the weekly Mission Collections as student activities to be supported.

From appearances the Journal looks like any other college paper, with nothing to indicate that Saint Mary's is a Catholic University. There is no indication that the voice of the students is a religious, Catholic voice. I may be wrong, but maybe it is because the students do not think as Catholics. I say this from one observation and that is the few students who attend the Rosary in the Chapel. It takes only five minutes and yet they are not there. They are either on their way home, or in the common-room eating and playing cards. Therefore, I feel that it is your duty to help them brush away the cobwebs of material things from their minds and make them think as Catholics.

Yours sincerely,

C. E. Murray, Jr.

Arts II.

We agree heartily with the excellent sentiments expressed above. But we have to depend on students to report and write up such spiritual activities. Where are the reporter-representatives of such organizations and functions at press time? Surely such Societies do follow the recommendations of last year's JOURNAL and actually appoint such reporter representatives for each of their functions.—Editor.

At this date neither a guest speaker for the banquet nor the dance chaperones have been announced.

Dress will be formal at the head table, semi-formal at the remaining tables and at the dance. No corsages are necessary, and Don Warner's orchestra will be in attendance from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

On and Off the Campus

Honors for being one of the fastest "operators" on the Saint F.X. jaunt apparently fall to Bill Flinn, who had only to step off the ice after the game ended to find himself confronted by a starry-eyed blonde. Bill, President of the Engineering Society, was chased for honors by another Society President, Ed. Fitzpatrick, the "big wheel" of the Arts Faculty. "Fitz" appeared at the basketball game with a "sweet young thing", and to all appearances the situation was well in hand, if I know Eddie. However, the prestige of the Commerce Society was sadly neglected by Ross MacDonald... I guess he "just ain't got it!"

Most likely candidate for the "Monkey of the Year" award is Ed Murray, last seen hanging from the balcony-rail in the Saint F.X. gym, trying to shake coconuts out of the basket. The frantic antics of acrobatic Ed failed to disturb the shooting eyes of the Xaverian forwards however, as they chalked up a 70-57 victory.

On the heels of the Red Feather Campaign and other allied charities comes another worthy cause, this time in the form of assistance to aged and infirm referees. Chairman of the drive for funds is Jack Linihan, who reports that all proceeds will be used for the purchase of white canes, tin cups, dark glasses and Seeing-eye dogs for a pair of Antigonish referees who officiated at the recent Saint Mary's-Saint F. X. contest.

Among the loyal supporters who made the trip to Saint F. X. was one Eric Duggan, who pulled what is probably the bonehead statement of the year while driving toward Antigonish. Coming around a bend in the road, Eric spotted a flock of sheep some distance ahead, and came up with the following remarkable comment: "Funny lookin' dogs, ain't they?" (He was dead serious, and don't believe him if he tells you differently.)

The latest columnar addition to the Journal, Platter-Chatter, has evidently aroused the song-writing urge in at least a few of our better-known students. Ralph Beck, for instance, composed two new ditties on the way to Saint F. X. . . . "Don't Let The Hood Get In Your Eyes" and "Put on a New Grey Bonnet", both of which came as an aftermath to a slight mishap. Joe Murphy, too, has come up with a Franco-Mexican tune, entitled the "Gauthier Serenade", and written immediately following the Sodality Social last Monday night.

Departing slightly from my usual sneering, not-too-subtle sarcasm, your Jotter would like to toss a verbal bouquet to the girls of Mount Saint Vincent. Proving to be better mixers than old Tom Collins himself, the Mount girls donated both time and talent in an effort to brighten up the evening for our Sodality, and it goes without saying that they succeeded admirably. Even the Jotter had a girl, (not intended as a reflection on her taste) which proves that there are a few charitable people in the world, anyway. Thanks a lot, girls, you were swell.

This one is too good to leave out. Dennis "Anti-Social" Mantin is finally coming into his own, even going so far as to trip the light fantastic (along with anyone who happened to get in his way) at the post-hockey game Dance in Antigonish. Someone should tell him that "God Save the Queen" is definitely not a waltz.

Whoever wrote "Sleeping Beauty" must have had Don (the Fearless one) MacIntyre in mind, for when Mac finally got to sleep Saturday night, after some trying, his handsome features were the picture of boyish innocence. How unusual, especially after such a rugged evening!

SAINT MARY'S TAKES "X" SERIES

By GEORGE HANSON

The big news for this issue, or is it the big news, is the fact that the X-men of Antigonish caught up to our own high flying squad in their home rink last Saturday. It can be said, however, that to tag Saint Mary's with their first loss of the 1952-53 season, the Xaverians had to battle all the way, and it can be noted also that it took them six periods of slam-bang hockey to get the win. After three periods in Halifax, the locals came up with a 5-2 decision, and it wasn't until 5:39 of the third period in Antigonish that the Blue and White sank the tally that was needed to chalk up the victory.

Ronnie Cole, who returned to the nets this year in the familiar garb of Saint Mary's, after flings in Junior, South Shore, etc., is one of the main cogs in the wheel of success that has become synonymous with our team this season. Saint Mary's this year is a lot like the Atlantics in the Big Four, that is they are offensively minded; a band of high scoring players that can go all out for sixty minutes, and in so doing, know that as long as they can score a few goals, remarkable Ron will always hold up his end of the game.

The faithful who ventured to the rink on the hill from our own Halls of Learning on Saturday were treated to Ron at his best. Forty (yes 40) times he turned that hard black disc, known as a puck, from the nets that he was guarding while letting six through. Yes, although they were clipped by the home team, Saint Mary's gave a good account of themselves, and while this corner has spent a lot of space in praises of Cole, I do think that he deserves it. After all, isn't the goaltender the forgotten man of hockey?

On the series as originally planned, Saint Mary's were the victors taking the two games 9-8. Now Saint Francis Xavier want another crack at the "upstarts" from Halifax who dared to profane a 5-year record. What will come of it is anyone's guess, but should it materialize it will be played in Halifax. It is conceded that it is hockey suicide in a rational sort of way to tackle the X-men on their home surface.

The X rink is their stomping ground. On it they are not quite perfect, but are darn close to it. Remember what happened to Truro early this year? The Bearcats, who are a senior team in the A.P.C. league, edged the Collegians in Truro, but what happened in Antigonish was a nightmare. X came through with a 20-4 revenge.

Saint Mary's proved that they are a fighting Irish team upon which the alumni may look with pride and compare with teams of the "good old days". They have balance, fight, and a tradition to uphold . . . all the prerequisites of a good team. When they reached St. F.X. they did not lie down and die, as teams seem to do when faced with the might of "X" on their home grounds. Rather they battled hard enough to take the series, if it is a two-game affair, and were only beaten by two quick goals in the last period of the second game.

Playing in the St. Francis Xavier ice palace presents a variety of sidelights as the players will testify very readily. Hanging over the ice surface Saturday was a replica of a Saint Mary's player, complete in his hockey garm and hempen necktie. Also present for home games is an X "jeer" section with band and hats, whose sole purpose it is to yell, jeer, make noise and generally let visiting players know just where they are playing. One thing that we learned at the game was that the old College spirit is not dormant, not a thing built up in the movies, nor is it a thing that we hear about from the alumni; it is a real thing at a lot of colleges . . . perhaps when the return match comes off we can show the Xaverians that Saint Mary's still has the spirit for which it has been long famous . . . the spirit that was almost absent when the blue and white were last here.

The last day of January was a dark day for Saint Mary's, for aside from losing their first hockey game this season the basketball team was downed by the X-men, also for their first loss of the season. Still, it could be mentioned here, not as an excuse, mind you, but merely as fact that the winners were using three of their varsity team against our own maroon and white.

Twin losses could be looked upon as a catastrophe. But in losing the games, away from home, on strange ice and basketball floors, the teams went down to defeat graciously, and after all, the men who can take losses in that manner are men in the true sense of the word, and bring more honor to the school than if they had won with the sneers all too present in modern athletics.

St. F. X. Wins B-Ball Tilt

In an exhibition basketball tilt played in Antigonish last week, the Saint Francis Xavier Junior Varsity defeated the Saint Mary's University Juniors 70-57 in a well-played game.

Although never in the lead for more than a few minutes, the Santamarians put up a game battle against their more polished opponents, several of whom are reported to be members of the Senior Saint F. X. aggregation.

Most consistent scorer on the floor was the Santamarian's Pat MacDonald, who caged 22 points. Erratic shooting under the Xaverian basket led to the defeat, as the Halifax forwards continually out-jumped their opponents, only to fail in their scoring bids.

For the Antigonish squad Richards scored 14 points, to take individual honors in that department. McFarland and Carrigan with 12

Cole Stars In Both Tilts

Two quick goals in the third period enabled Saint Francis Xavier University of Antigonish to skate off with a hard-earned victory over Saint Mary's University in the return match of a home and home series played in Antigonish last Saturday. One week previously the Maroon-and-White squad defeated the Xaverians 5-2 in Halifax, giving them a one goal edge in the two games.

Each team scored twice in the first period, with McLellan taking a goalmouth pass from Dixon to beat the overworked Ron Cole and put the X-men one up. Jack Linihan, smooth-skating left winger, tied the score on a play with "Puddy" Reardon at 10:42 of the first period, and Jimmy Warner made a rink-length dash down the boards and caged a difficult angle-shot to put Saint Mary's out in front 2-1. This goal, coming at the 13:02 mark, was one of the picture plays of the contest, rivalled only by Kenny Flynn's tally a few minutes later. Flynn, apparently loafing in the centre-ice zone, suddenly burst into speed, picked up a flip-pass from team-mate Allmand and roared in on Cole, flipping the rubber over the Saint's netminder as he fell to the ice to block the shot.

Forcing the play in the second frame, the Santamarians finally went into the lead as Don Cable blinked the light in a play with Art Flynn and "Pud" Reardon. Lanky St. F. X. centre, Jackie McLellan, scored his second goal at the 17-minute mark to tie the score once more. The rangy centre brought the crowd roaring to its feet on several occasions, making rink-length rushes, and proving particularly effective in killing off Xaverian penalties.

Saint F. X. struck early in the third period, as Gene Swartzack took a pass from McLellan to put the X-men ahead 4-3. Saint Mary's fought back desperately, with "Puddy" Reardon finally scoring on a play with Jim Warner at the 2:14 mark. From that point on it was all Saint F.X. Bob "Lugs" Rae, assisted by MacLean and Gardner, scored what proved to be the winning tally at the 5:39 mark, and Gene Swartzack potted an insurance marker slightly less than two minutes later.

For the Santamarians, Ronnie Cole was a tower of strength, kicking out 40 shots, many of them from point-blank range. McLellan with two goals and two assists was the big gun for the Xaverian crew, while defenceman Cyr proved to be a stumbling block, breaking up many of Saint Mary's plays at the blue line with his shifty poke-checking.

On The Cuff: The refereeing in the Saint F.X. game left much to be desired. For the most flagrant violations on the part of several Xaverian players, the men in white said simply . . . "I didn't see it".

Jackie Linihan, linemate to "Pud" Reardon and Don Cable, rapped in the first Santamarian counter. Jack doesn't score too many, but he is nevertheless one of the better skaters on this year's squad.

Interfac Hockey rolls merrily along, with no serious incidents to mar its beauty. Commerce are still leading the pack with a record of six straight victories and no defeats.

Bowling, under the capable direction of Lorne "The Hemp" Hemphill, remains the top event for Saturday mornings. Engineers "B" lead the League, with a three-point margin over their closest competitors, Commerce "B". "Pretzel" Martel leads the individual averages with 96.9, followed by Don Cable with 95.2. Only one other bowler is over the 90-mark — "Chuck" Jones of the Commerce "C" aggregation has a mark of 91.4. "Chuck" also holds both the High Single and the High double, having racked up 131 for the first-mentioned, and 222 for the latter.

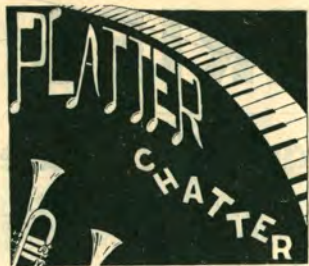

Another note of interest on the Interfac Hockey League—Commerce, current League-leaders and favorites to cop the crown, have scored 49 goals and had only 14 scored against them. Arts and Engineers Seniors, tied for second slot, have scored 34 and 24 respectively, against 26 and 16.

Canada's Mildest Cigarette

By ED MURRAY

Well, what d'ya know, I'm back again. First, let's get something straight, it's not my desire "to go walking by the river" with Ella Fitzgerald; that was an error and not on my part.

I shall attempt to "split some long hairs," in other words review some classical records. Being strictly a "crew cut" enthusiast this will be a little difficult. Well, anyway here goes:

Victor is boasting about their "new orthophonic sound" and they have a right to do so. The first sample of this broadened recording process is present in Toscanini's superb performance of Brahms "Fourth Symphony" (in E minor, Op. 98). There are few more various, shaded, subtle or power Toscanini performances on records, but none that captures the delicate relationship between conductor and orchestra better in its engineering. (Victor 12" LP).

Similarly attractive in its sound is the newest of complete Verdi opera recordings, this one of "Il Trovatore" with Zinka Milanov, Jussi Bjöerling, Fedora Barbieri, Leonard Warren, the Robert Shaw Chorale, and a studio orchestra under Renato Cellini. The singing is generally good, the recording super, and Nilanov in the role of Leonora absolutely beyond compare, on or off records. Her part of the "Miserere" is faultlessly contributed; her singing of the lovely "D'amor sullali rosee" offers a continuity of beautiful and expressive sound not often equaled in any vocal register, thick when necessary, fine when called for, perfect in intonation and color. (Two Victor 12" LP's in a set)

There is also Beethoven's "Concerto No. 5 in E flat" for piano, known as the "Emperor Concerto" played by Vladimir Horowitz with the RCA Victor Symphony under Fritz Reiner.

Let's see what's on popular records. Decca has just launched a new series of recordings, the "Curtain Call" series. Under this attractive name are gathered the songs associated with star performers. First there are the Decca standbys; the Mills Brothers doing "Paper Doll" and "Tiger Rag"; Bing Crosby in his early recordings of "I Surrender Dear" and "When Blue of the Night"; the Sisters, the Andrews, of course, in "Bei Mir Best Du Schoen", the side that first brought them fame; the Ink Spots, with the sides that also brought them fame, "If I Didn't Care" and "Do I Worry", there are these and also sides by the giants, of show business and the old timers, such as Jimmy Durante, Eddie Cantor, etc. Both groups are available on L.P. and 45 r.p.m. albums.

Another album that is worth a listen is The Voice of Walter Shumann, this is an L.P. by Capitol Records.

Well, I'm down to my last needle and that's starting to wear out. So I guess I'll pack up the rest of the discs 'til next time. But in the next issue I'll take a good look at those cool and crazy sounds of the Jazz Scene.

"Chuck" Jones, bowling with an end in mind, blasted away at the pins so furiously that when the splinters of the felled wood settled he had succeeded in capturing the high single mark with a score of 131. In the second string, although not attaining the dazzling score of his first, he managed to take the high double mark also, with a two string total of 222.

Webby Martel is still leading the pack with an average of 96.9, closely followed by Don Cable with 95.2. "Chuck" Jones is third with an average of 91.4.

Engineers "B" were hit hard by Ross MacDonald's Commerce "C" squad when they lost all three points to the sixth place team. "Chuck" Jones was the deciding factor in the match with his double of 222. Ross MacDonald had a 188. Bernard Hope was the big man for the Engineers, but he didn't have enough to salvage even one point. Commerce "C" lost three points to Commerce "A" in a match the previous week. Lorne Hemphill was the big gun for Mantin's Men, rolling a 194.

Arts "A" picked up three points in the two weeks. Arts "B" three points; Commerce "A" had the best record for the two weeks with five points. Commerce "B" took three points as did Commerce "C", Engineers "B". Boarders had the poorest average taking only one point.

NEWSPAPER ASKS FULL STUDENT SUPPORT

STAFF MEETING FACES COLD FACTS

At a staff meeting of Saint Mary's Journal, held this week, much concern was expressed by the seemingly lack of interest of the students in their newspaper. The burden, it was stated, of publishing the newspaper was falling upon the shoulders of two or three men and the increasing obligations towards their studies made it imperative to acquire aid.

Newspaper work is one of the most practical extra-curricular activities in the University. It is one organization where there is plenty of work and prestige for everyone if they but offer their services. Also it has the widest scope of positions; including such jobs as photography, advertising, writing, both columns and news articles, proof-reading, composition and structure.

The Award System, which gives Journal members high points for their work, is ample proof that the Students' Council consider it one, if not the most important organization in the University. Since the Journal is the official undergraduate voice of the students as well as the leading advertising medium of the University itself, pride and interest are a must if it is to accomplish its job.

One member pointed out that the staff was too small to publish the paper the way that it should be published and that if more members were not added then the students could expect to receive their copies no longer, because the present staff was unable to continue under the present conditions. The two main functions of the paper are to get the news and write it. Many students have neither the time nor the inclination to write, but it certainly takes little of either to drop into the Journal room to let the workers in on the news. It is a simple matter then to write out the reports.

Any student, either High School or University, who wishes to start some extra-curricular activity, can do so with the Journal. We need a larger staff if the Journal is to function properly. Since every copy was taken last week, it seems evident the paper is read. To ensure future copies the Journal is asking for more help.

Student Council Again Wrestles With Pt. System

The Students' Council of Saint Mary's University held their first meeting of the second term last Tuesday night, with President Peter Heenan in the chair.

Among the minor topics discussed were the expenses of the Saint F.X. trip, the Canadian University Press Conference, and the Athletic pins. The Caution Committee had very little to report, other than the fact that an itemized account of all damages would be obtained as soon as possible.

The Scholastic Shield was the next item on the agenda, with several changes being made in the allotment of points. Convention delegates may claim ten points, while any student elected to a National Executive may claim 26. The Chairmen of the C.F.C.C.S. and W.U.S.C. Committees have been made eligible for 15 points each, and M.I.D.L. debaters, win or lose, are now on even terms. Faculty representatives to the Senior Debating Society may now receive 20 points, instead of the 10 previously awarded.

Several changes in the point-awards to Journal and Year Book staffs were also suggested and passed by the Council members; the Pics Editor is a thing of the past, and the points for photographers have been increased to 20. Associate Business Managers for the Year Book, a previously unmentioned office, may claim 10 points toward their Shield.

Only one change was made in the Faculty allotments; each yearly representative may now receive 10 points, an increase over last year's point-scale.

Discussion on the points to be awarded to Boarders Executive and members of the Engineers' Sodality was deferred until the next meeting.

The revised point system will be published in the next issue of the Journal, on or about February 13.

HIGH TIMES

By TED FLINN

As the intermural hockey league gets stronger, all four teams are showing some fine, but rugged play. Eleven "A" and Grade Ten battled to a hard fought 2-2 draw which saw everything a game could have. The scoring was opened by Al Rorai, who broke in from the blueline and shot the puck past Byrne. George Leach tied up the scoring with a beautiful shot from about ten feet out. Eleven "A" again took the lead when Mike MacDonald let go a screen shot which rolled under Byrne's legs. During a scramble in front of Teddy Stenton, the Eleven "A" goalie, Houlihan managed to pot the tying goal. Both teams tried desperately for the tie-breaker, but neither got it. Ron McCulloch was the bad man with three sinbin sittings.

The High School sodality is campaigning for students who are willing to join a five-year plan of prayer and penance for the Conversion of Russia. This plan is put on by the World League of Reparation of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. It consists of: the daily rosary, one daily sacrifice and first Saturday practices. None of these promises bind under pain of sin.

Father Gallagher is pleased that our "clothes" drive was a success. Thanks go to all who contributed.

Curling Team In Action

By the time this edition is published the students will have learned of the success or failure of the high school curling team in their bid to capture the Provincial championship. The tournament will be held this year in Bridgewater and the draw is slated for 9.00 o'clock on Friday morning.

The squad, skipped by Bob Hanrahan includes Don Gillis, Joe Heenan, Peter Campbell, and Mike Bryne. Coach Laurie Brean expects his charges to do well in this meet although they have been handicapped by lack of practice.

Curling is one of the few sports, in which Saint Mary's have not captured a Provincial title. This sport however, is comparatively new to the University. Introduced in 1949, mainly through the efforts of Bill Flinn, it has been listed as one of the most popular sports in the high school. This will be their second bid for the Nova Scotia crown. As winners of the City championship in 1951, they represented Halifax but were defeated as Truro took the title.

have enjoyed the privilege of supplying class insignia for Saint Mary's for many years.

It is our sincere hope that we shall always enjoy this privilege and continue to merit your confidence in the future.
