THE MAROON

AND WHITE

Alumni President Outlines Objectives

Earl Walsh, partner in the Chartered Accountant firm of Thorne Gunn & Co., was elected to the presidency of the Saint Mary's University Alumni Association last month.

Particular objectives which he and his executive will pursue during the next year will be:

- 1) The establishment of the position of treasurer on the Alumni executive to control the budgetary functions and enhance the function of general financial reports;
- 2) An increase in annual dues and a concerted effort to persuade members who are delinquent in paying their dues to bring them up to date.
- 3) A continuing effort to establish a full time Alumni director which is in part contingent on the above;
- 4) The enforcement of constitutional changes that would in particular permit the election of the executive from the Alumni at large, rather than from those chosen by a committee of past presidents.

Mr. Walsh announced that the major Alumni events planned for the next year will be the Summer Homecoming in August; a special social evening; the annual Alumni dinner; Alumni athletics and Receptions at sporting events.

In his acceptance address, Mr. Walsh congratulated the class of '74 and welcomed the graduates to the Alumni Association. No fees are levied for the first year after graduation.

Since many of you will be taking up residence in different locations to pursue your chosen career, we request that you keep the Alumni office informed of your whereabouts.

We invite your active participation in Alumni affairs and hope you will find time to attend the various events sponsored by the Alumni Association and to assist serving on the various committees set up during the year to organize these events.

If at any time you wish to become involved, I assure you the Alumni office will welcome you with enthusiasm. Please leave your phone number with the Alumni Secretary, Krishna Capstick.

The support of those loyal Alumnus who are always available to lend a hand when needed is greatly appreciated and we hope will continue in the year ahead.

If you know of any Alumnus with whom the Alumni office has lost contact for one reason or another, please ask that they contact the Alumni office, giving their present address so that they may receive the various mailings during the year.

HOMECOMING '74'

Alumni of the Seventies

HEATHER HARRIS

"As we go our separate ways and use the confidence, the tools, we acquired at Saint Mary's, we will remember each other and we will hang on to each other because we are all members of the class of 1973 and we will always have Saint Mary's University in common. That quiet, warm, happy feeling we will have as a memory in the future is a result of our time and the experience we were a part of together during these last years."

That was part of Bryan Duffy's Valedictory Address last year and, I feel, expresses the sentiments of many students and graduating classes that have "passed through the portals" of this university. Having graduated from, worked, and lived at Saint Mary's, my own ties are very strong and have been made so in many ways. For many of you Keith Hotchkiss, Ken Clark and Mike Quinn are outstanding athletes but Saint Mary's has made them more than that for me. Mike, his wife Nancy and daughter Kelly were my neighbours in residence and Mike's prowess at furniture moving was as greatly appreciated as his stick handling. Keith was a classmate in Chinese history and many a day we drove Dr. Mary Sun right up the Great Wall of China by our western pronunciation of "Hangchow" — Mary was ready to hang us! And, of course, Keith, Ken Clark and Rick Clare were among the stalwarts who manned the desk at High Rise 11 when I lived there.

David Hope, Paul Cormier, Pat O'Neil, Mike Larsen, Jack Radford, George Hallet, Ken Bendelier, Kevin Cleary, Laurie Smith, Bruce Smith and Murray Wilson are, for many of you, either part of the faculty or administration of the university but they are also Santamarians who gained part of their education in the same school as yourselves. Brian O'Byrne was Dean of Men in Residence and he and Dennis Reardon are remembered as captains of the hockey and basketball teams but, for me, their most memorable moments were not in the rink or the basketball court but in the limited confines of the history grad students room. There O'Byrne, Gerry Kelly, Murray Barkhouse, Bill Casely, Terry Punch and myself had Dennis almost convinced that he was indeed one of the world's greatest authorities on the rise of French Canadian nationalism.

Those are the kinds of feelings to which Bryan Duffy referred. For Bryan himself those memories would include Lennox Phillips, Paul Height, Bill Arthur, Malcolm Butterfield, Madeline Yogis and the rest of the Commerce crew.

Convocation represents the end of one stage of Saint Mary's life but opens the door for another — and the unsung heroes (not too many females have been involved as yet) who have kept the alumni association going, bid you welcome! They will keep you in touch with the school, the people in it and the people you met there. Through the alumni association you will meet others sharing your common bond. If you want to see this in action join in the fun of Homecoming '74 — it's your year so why not come and meet those who have gone before you? Last year's Homecoming brought some of the finest back to Halifax — Bob Healy, Roger Bilodeau, Ted Chandonnet, Maurice LeBlanc, Ron Maloney and Cos Marandos, to name a few. Along with these men came some of the nicest wives and sweetest kids you'd ever hope to meet. We had lots in common and made lots of Homecoming memories together. You would find out that in meeting someone like Bob Healy you were meeting the John Gallinaugh of the class of '63.

Bryan Duffy's words began this article and I'll let him finish it with the conclusion of his Address which was, in fact, taken from the song sung at last year's Baccalaureate Service — and again at this year's —

"Friends I will remember you, think of you, pray for you,
And when another day is through I'll still remember you."

Calgary

Reg MacDougall, Class of '62, a Principal with the Calgary Separate School Board, reports a get-together of some of the SMU western alumni in Calgary.

Others present who are teachers in Calgary Separate Schools were Doris Garagan '70; Jim Darrach '68; Nancy Connolly '70; Harold Greene '65; Elizabeth Vogan '65; Kevin Joncas '61; and Bud Garagan '63.

FRIDAY-AUGUST 2 TO

HOMECOMING

I Came Back

It all started with a modest flyer from Saint Mary's around February about a Summer Homecoming in August. It looked like a great deal. As spring moved into early summer many of the guys in our area talked about what a time it would be if we all went up together. I think the moving force in this area (Manchester-Nashua, N.H.) was Cos Marandos who seemed to force guys into making the decision early and when word got out that a few were going, and then a half dozen, the excitement and anticipation grew.

In making some general comments about the Homecoming: after ten years it was a great feeling to be with Halifax people again. It was an eye-opening experience to see the physical results of Saint Mary's growth. The events-packed-week really never allowed us to unpack which was fine with most of us. Al Keith, Heather Harris, and their committee did an outstanding job. Why was the Homecoming a success — in my opinion, first of all — any alumnus would enjoy coming back to see how the University has grown. Speaking as an American, most Alumni would enjoy coming back to the special kind of hospitality that to me is unique to Nova Scotians. It was great seeing some old friends after ten years. What I think made the program was a jam-packed week of activities — each of which enabled us to enjoy the activity itself plus get together again with some old friends. All of the activities were optional but most of us took part in all of them.

For many of us, we had never been to Halifax in the summertime, and the girls really enjoyed the day trips that took them to Mahone Bay, Peggy's Cove and the shopping spree in Halifax. I think people make the success of any effort like a Homecoming, and we had three main groups of people that all wanted it to go well (the Committee, the Saint Mary's people in Halifax and the Homecomers). The Homecoming had such an impact that all of us are planning to make it again in a few years. It can't miss as a long term future activity.

Plaques Presented

On behalf of Saint Mary's University Alumni Association, Terry Donahoe, President of the 1973 Alumni Association and Dr. Carrigan, President of Saint Mary's, recently presented plaques to Father O'Donnell and Father Hennessey in appreciation of their long and dedicated service to the University.

The inscriptions:

"This plaque was presented to Saint Mary's University in honour of Rev. John J. Hennessey, S. J. upon the occasion of the first Alumni Summer Homecoming, August 10, A.D. 1973.

Father Hennessey's impact upon life at Saint Mary's was immediate, invaluable and enduring. As Dean of Men, Athletic Advisor, and as a friend of all who needed kindness, compassion, friendship or assistance of any kind, he gave of himself without reserve.

In recognition of, and gratitude for his unswerving loyalty, his unselfish dedication, his wise counsel and above all his passionate love of Saint Mary's, this plaque will serve to remind all who walk its halls that this University is the greater because of him."

"This plaque was presented to Saint Mary's University in honour of Rev. Michael J. O'Donnell, S. J., upon the occasion of the first Summer Alumni Homecoming, August 10, A.D. 1973.

For over thirty years he has devoted his abundant energies to Saint Mary's University as Teacher, Counsellor, Athletic Advisor, Dean of Men and Alumni Director.

Because of his absolute commitment to Alumni affairs, the lives of the graduates and friends of the University are to some extent, and in a special way, more closely united.

As a remembrance of his generous and unselfish contribution to every aspect of life at Saint Mary's University, this plaque is respectfully dedicated to him as a true Santamarian."

Comments from Keith

AL KEITH

Last fall I was asked to contribute an article for the Maroon & White section of The Times. As an alumnus who is presently employed at Saint Mary's as football coach, and as one who had noticed a certain apathy about alumni affairs, I welcomed the opportunity.

At that time I recall asking all fellow alumni to "give a damn". This was meant to draw to your attention the fact that a concentrated effort is being made to make the alumni association a more viable organization. To date, this year there have been meetings of groups of alumni in three centres in New England, in Toronto-Niagara, Montreal, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Saint John's, Newfoundland as well as the several functions in the Halifax/ Dartmouth area. The New England Branch of the Alumni Association has had its constitution approved by the executive and both Toronto-Niagara and Vancouver constitutions are expected shortly.

The new format of the Maroon & White (as an insert in The Times) is another effort to get more information to you, and I invite your comments as does Mrs. Corinne Noonan, the editor of The Times.

A second Summer Homecoming is planned from August 2 to August 7 and if you haven't been back to Halifax for some time, make plans to bring your family and have a good time. I can assure you that the face and style of the city and the University are changing almost daily. Please read the specific information in this edition of the Maroon & White.

These, and many other things, indicate that the Alumni Association is "giving a damn" as are more and more individual members, especially those out of town.

In looking for an address, I often have occasion to check the Alumni records and am amazed to discover that of our four thousand potentially active Alumni members only a little over six hundred pay their ten dollars a year membership dues. I recall asking the secretary if so and so's address is right and her replying that we have not heard from him in six years, and since mail is not returned, we assume that he is either living there or that the mail is being thrown away. Even if you do not want to pay your ten bucks, drop us a line to let us know your address is correct.

I have a great feeling that the Saint Mary's University Alumni Association knows where it is going and that all of us, regardless of where we live, will profit from supporting it.

Athletics have come to the fore at Saint Mary's over the past few years to the point that we now have the reputation of being Canada's top University in the major sports field. As a coach I can't let this opportunity to communicate to the Alumni go by without thanking you for your support and asking your help. Each of our coaches spends considerable time recruiting. It is tough to find and talk to students who are potential athletes at Saint Mary's. If you know of any outstanding young athletes who may be interested in attending Saint Mary's University we would like to know of them and appreciate your talking us up. I personally am in all areas from Thunder Bay east to Halifax and south to Philadelphia a couple of times a year and am willing to talk with anyone. We want to retain our reputation and would appreciate your help.

See you at Summer Homecoming '74!

Al Keith

Homecoming Committee

Homecoming '74 Committee will be headed by Al Keith, Terry Donahoe and Heather Harris. As Bob Healy so aptly expressed it last year at the closing dinner, "Homecoming '73 was Al's idea and those that came really appreciated the work our busy football coach put into it." Terry and Heather will assist Al with this year's "week" co-ordinating as they did last year and will have a group of local alumni involved with organizing the events. Come and join them in planning this fun-filled week.

We are hoping our newly organized Western Chapters in Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver will join in the summer fun by holding mini-homecomings of their own in the next few months. Al Keith will be in Calgary in June and Heather Harris will be visiting Calgary and Edmonton soon.

OBITUARY

Mildred Harrington, died March 5, 1974 in Halifax.

Mildred Harrington
R.I.P.

When Mildred Harrington came to Saint Mary's fifteen years ago she had already completed a distinguished teaching career in her native P.E.I. However, to label her as a "teacher" is less than accurate because her main interest was developing human beings rather than imparting enough subject matter for a student to pass an examination. This was the role she played at S.M.U. for 15 years. She was much more a tutor than a teacher. Her greatest interest was in the student who was having difficulties studying. Her greatest skill was teaching students how to study, how to learn, how to be self-reliant. And it was this concern that endeared the students to her.

But along with this serious dedication to human beings and their personal development, there was a social dimension in her life that was almost apostolic. She loved fun. A party was always livelier when she was there. And it was not often she was not there. But even here there was a serious dimension. Socializing was a way of opening herself to others and of helping others to be open with one another. This ability to celebrate was for her an important part of being human. It was anything but an escape from reality. It was an important part of being human and a way of helping others to be balanced human beings.

The homilist at her funeral service concluded his remarks with a quotation from that part of the Book of Proverbs that describes The Valiant Woman. People who knew Mildred well and had worked and played with her over the years thought it was very apt.

"Charm is deceitful, and beauty empty. The woman who is wise is the one to praise. Give her a share in what her hands have worked for, and let her works tell her praises at the city gates."

Miss Mildred Harrington served Saint Mary's well and her memory will linger long in the halls of academe she loved so much.
