White

Fall 1986

Saint Mary's University Alumni Association

University President visits Alumni in Far East

Dr. Kenneth Ozmon and his wife Betty spent a hectic summer touring the Far East. The initial reason for their journey was a meeting of the Executive Heads of the Association of Commonwealth Universities in Penang, but it rapidly turned into an opportunity to meet some of the University's Far Eastern alumni on their own turf.

The Ozmons spent three days in Singapore, where they were royally entertained by alumni. Dr. Ozmon says "I really liked it. It is a beautiful city, very clean and very bustling." He comments on how well the alumni he met are doing in their lives and says "They really are so loyal to Saint Mary's and wanted to know about their former professors and about many other things, including the hockey team."

Describing the visit he says "During the day we would visit various parts of the country. We had a gathering over dinner one night and the night before we left we had a big formal function in the Tanglin Club. It was a banquet with speeches, gifts and multiple toasts to Saint Mary's, Canada and Singapore."

Such was the enthusiasm of the Singapore graduates that the Ozmons' morning of sight seeing normally began at 7:00 o'clock. However, one morning their hosts felt sorry for them and kindly let them sleep until 7:30!

Next stop on the tour was Kuala Lumpur, the capital of Malaysia, which the Ozmons reached after a 6-hour train ride through jungle and rubber plantations. He says "The first evening we went out to dinner with one of our alumni who is an executive with the Shell oil company. The second night we had dinner with as many alumni as we could organize on short notice, which was about 20." The dinner was held at a traditional Malay restaurant and this was the occasion on which Dr. Ozmon tried his skill at Malay dancing as he and his wife took part in a re-enactment of a traditional Malay marriage ceremony.

The Ozmons also visited China and were delighted to have an opportunity to meet Saint Mary's alumni who live in Hong Kong.

Dr. Ozmon reports that alumni in Singapore and Kuala Lumpur are interested in taking part in the Capital Campaign and that the groups in both cities are planning to meet and discuss the possibility of setting up a scholarship to Saint Mary's for students from those countries.

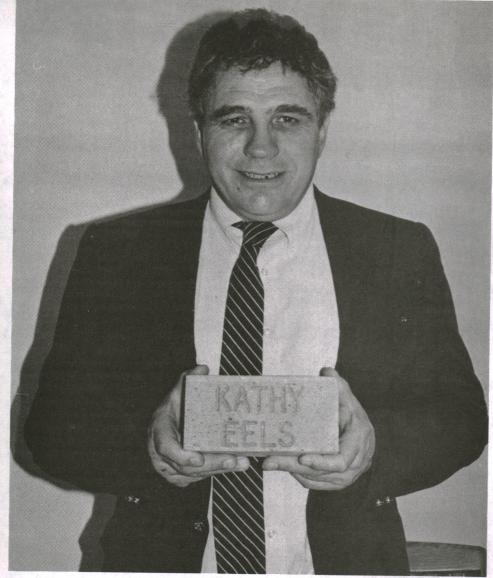

The Maroon and White asked Dr. Ozmon whether the trip had changed his view of the Far East. He says, "I do not think I was aware of the tremendous potential the area has. One thing I was struck by is the number of young people there. We are living in an ageing society in North America, but over there, there are so many young people you can see that, given the right combination of education and the proper exploitation of their natural resources, they are really going to be an economic force to be reckoned with in the years to come."

One of Dr. Ozmon's current concerns is the government imposed increase in fees for foreign students. Along with senior administrators of other Canadian universities, he is lobbying to have the differential fee paid by foreign students cancelled. Saint Mary's has seen a reduction in foreign students this year and Dr. Ozmon feels "The size of the fees has proved a deterrent to (foreign countries) being able to send students to study."

The Ozmons with treasures they brought back from their Far Eastern trip

The hectic pace of the trip continued as the Ozmons travelled to Beijing. Here Dr. Ozmon received an honorary professorship from one of the Beijing universities with which Saint Mary's is associated. He and Mrs. Ozmon arrived back delighted with all they had seen and done, but exhausted. "I think I have had enough of long trips for a while" he says.

Bob Hayes

Buy a Brick and Gain Immortality

One end of the lounge in the new Fitness and Recreation Centre at Saint Mary's will be more than just a brick wall. Many of the bricks will have names carved on them; the names of people who have pledged $500 to help build the Centre.

This great idea is the brain child of Bob Hayes, former football star, coach and heaven knows what else and now Executive Assistant to the President. Bob is selling bricks in his own inimitable style and with an irresistible line of sales talk. One pitch goes like this: "The next time you see your name in stone, your wife will be on her way to Florida on the insurance money. Do it now!"

Bob once saw a brick inscribed with the names of Prince Charles and Princess Diana, so when fund raising for the new centre came up, he conceived the idea of carving names on bricks with the simple tool the University uses to make name plates for doors.

The bricks themselves will come from the factory of L.E. Shaw Ltd of Elmsdale, just outside Halifax, a company that has already been a generous donor to the University. The carving will be done in the raw clay before the bricks are fired.

Bob is being helped in his task by alumni Kathy Ellis, Stewart O'Brien, Reg Ryan, Wilfred Moore and Brian Cooper. Their aim is to sell 300 bricks and raise $150,000 for the Centre before the lounge opens in the spring, but Bob can see the idea gaining ground and says there could be room for as many as 3,000 bricks on the wall.

Reasons why people decide to buy a brick are many. "Some people are buying them in the name of deceased people," he says. In addition, he suggests they will be appreciated by the offspring of alumni who attend Saint Mary's and will be able to "Throw beer bottles at them."

Bob says, "We might have to cut small letters with long names," and adds "I am heavy on trying to sell bricks to former students in Hong Kong who have short names." Whatever your name, however, you can be sure Bob will fit it on somehow!

Editor-in-Chief: Tom McDonell '80 Editor: Anne West Design, Typesetting, Layout: Kathi (Petersen) Benneworth Printing: Dartmouth Free Press

Contributing to this issue: Geraldine Dunnigan, Debbie Woodford, Chris Mitchell, Alexa Thompson, Ed McBride, Kevin Cleary '57

Alumni Association Executive: President: *Paul Lynch '76 Resident: David Hendsbee '82, John Bishop '74, John Garroway '73, Robin Falconer '58, *Paul Edwards '70, *Lorraine Lafferty '78, *Mary Phippen '77, *Dan Rice '66

Board of Governors: Don Reardon '57, Gerald Walsh '76, Steve Clancy '62, Mike Hornby '68, *Jim Crane '68, *Bob Shaw '68

Non-Resident: Graham Black '78, Linda Johnson '79, *Dan McCarthy '76, *Michel Arseneau '77

* denotes expired term in April, 1987

Submissions welcome! Please forward submissions to: Saint Mary's University Alumni Association Saint Mary's University Halifax, N.S. B3H 3C3

Deadline for next issue is February 1, 1987.

The Editor reserves the right to edit all materials submitted.

Annual Golf Tournament

The 10th annual Saint Mary's Alumni Golf Tournament was held on Thursday, August 28th, at the Oakfield Golf and Country Club. Under a threatening sky, 126 golfers teed off and all but a few had finished before the umbrellas opened.

The Low Gross Winners were Tom Osborne, winner of the Dr H. G. Beazley Trophy, second — Burt Stark, third — Lee Richardson, and ladies winner — Dawn Mitchell. Winners for Low Net were Darren Pickrem, taking the Father M. J. O'Donnell Trophy and the coveted gold putter, Jim Sullivan — second, Ken Skinner —third, Doreen Campbell — ladies. The team winning the Low Net was made up of Steve Clancy, Terry Gallagher, Paul Cable, and Terry Cooper. The longest drive was delivered by Ken Skinner. Helen Castonguay, providing the only spot of sunshine with her yellow outfit,

The Hon. Terry Donahoe ('64) (left) presents Carl "Soupy" Kelly (centre) and Granville "Bullet" Kelly ('61) with plaques in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the Alumni Association's Annual Golf Tournament. The two have been the driving force behind the success of this event for the last 10 years.

was chosen the best dressed female golfer, while John Landry with his "wet weather golf shoes" was chosen the best dressed male. The most gentlemanly player award went to Derek "Hoss" Watson.

The "dynamic duo" of Granville and Carl Kelly were presented special awards by Terry Donahoe, in appreciation for all the work they have done and the loyalty they have shown, over the years, for the Golf Tournament.

Out-of-town golfers included Doug Harrington '71, in from Texas, and John McIssaac '62 who was here on business from London, Ontario and stayed on for the tournament.

The feeling was that there should be more women involved. Of the 126 golfers this year, there were only seven women. More female participants are encouraged and would make the tournament more reflective of the present enrollment at Saint Mary's which now is about 48 per cent female.

The idea for the Alumni golf tournament came about when Granville Kelly read in the paper about St. FX's annual tournament and thought it would be a good idea for Saint Mary's alumni. He approached Charlie Vaughan of the Development Office with the idea. Charlie agreed it was a good idea and suggested Granville organize it, which he has every year since.

That first year, 1977, the tournament was held at Oakfield for a total of 23 golfers on a rainy, windy day. In 1978, the switch was made to the Halifax Ashburn course, where each Saint Mary's member of Ashburn took out three other members of the Alumni as green fees. The number had climbed to about 30. This was a difficult method of accommodating golfers however, so the next year it reverted back to Oakfield and has been there since.

The hope of the original planning committee of 1977, was that the tournament would be a day when the neckties would come off, business and promotion would cease, and the day would be devoted to fun and companionship. All would agree this is the case.

Granville's ideas for the future include an out-of-town tournament, held in Chester or the Valley, with buses providing the transportation. Even more ambitious, is the thought of an out-of-country tournament sometime in the spring, in a central place like Bermuda, where alumni from the Eastern States, the West Indies and Central Canada could join. It could be combined with a family vacation if it was held at a time like March break.

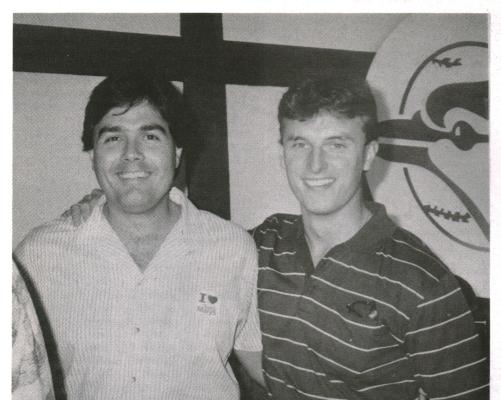

Whatever the program, wherever the place, here's to the next decade of annual golf tournaments.

Annapolis Valley Football

Saint Mary's Alumni living in the Annapolis Valley met in Wolfville to encourage our football Huskies in a game against the Acadia Axemen. Although our rooting fell short as the Huskies were defeated by the Axemen, a reception following the game helped to ease the pain as old friendships were renewed over food and beverage.

In particular, two loyal Santamarians who had been lost in our records attended the days activities, Joe Barrett (Dip. Eng., '33), and Joe Walsh (B. Comm., '52). Others in attendance included Carol King, Bill Phillpot, Chris Coffin, Dan McGrath, John Murphy, John Stuart, and Marc and Pam Rafuse. A special thanks is extended to Pam Rafuse, Dan McGrath, Randall Balcome, and Ed Connolly for their efforts in planning the event.

We hope to see more Valley Alumni out next year, this time to cheer the Huskies on to Victory!

Baseball fever

Saint Mary's Alumni gathered at National and American league parks this past summer for Expos and Blue Jays ball games. In late June Toronto and area alumni gathered to watch an American League contest between the Yankees and the Blue Jays. A strong contingent of Saint Mary's supporters attended the pre-game luncheon in the Time Out Lounge at Exhibition Stadium. Thanks go out to Danny McCarthy, David Gray, and Brian Cooper for organizing another pleasurable outing for Alumni in Southwestern Ontario.

One month later it was alumni from Ottawa and Montreal who caught the fever, this time invading a National League park as the Montreal Expos hosted the Cincinnati Reds at the Olympic Stadium. Michel Arseneau and Lyne Mercier in Montreal and Margaret Crook in Ottawa organized the event that began with dinner at Salon 76 in the Olympic Stadium followed by the game.

Former Hockey Huskies renew friendships in the Time Out Lounge, Exhibition Stadium, prior to the game between the Yankees and the Blue Jays. L to R: Mark Locken ('85) and Brian Fulton ('85).

Alumni tennis tournament

The Park Athletic Club in Dartmouth was the venue for the Sixth Annual Alumni Tennis Tournament. Needless to say, this Club has never seen tennis action like that displayed on the courts June 7th. With tennis notables such as Doug Blackmore, Joanne Napier, Jayne Mills, Robin Falconer, Chris Ritchie, Rob Muir, Gary Christian, Bill Laurette, Don Davidson, and Richard Perlin the tournament was a complete success. Other Competitors included brothers Ozzie and Lloyd Burke and Earl and Greg Walsh.

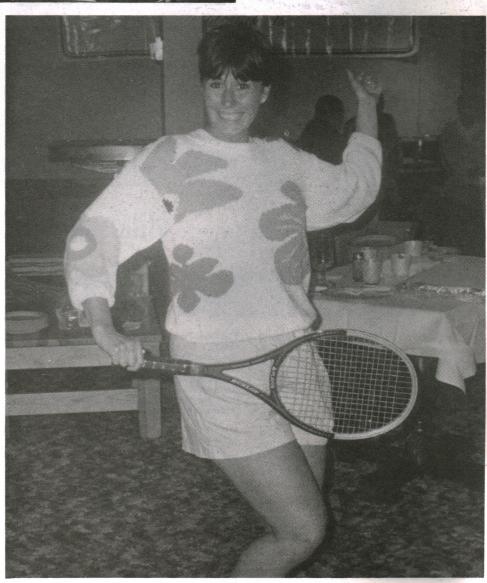

Twenty-six alumni participated in the men's, ladies, and mixed doubles competition. Tournament organizer for the last number of years, Kent Ritchie, again did a commendable job in planning this year's event.

Capturing the Men's Doubles event were brothers John and David Goode with second place going to Peter Nolen and Mike Downey. Ladies Champs were Cynthia Hallett and Annette Sherlock. Mixed Doubles awards went to Annette and Pat Sherlock in first place and Jill and Kent Ritchie in second.

Jayne Mills ('79) warms up before tennis match

YEAR BOOK PATRONS

For the small sum of $5 you can see your name in the Year Book one more time. Send your name, degree and graduation year along with your $5 contribution to: SMUSA, c/o Yearbook, 5th Floor, Student Centre, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, N.S. B$H$C3. All contributions will be gratefully received by the students now struggling to finance the 1987 Year Book.

Come rain or snow, sleet or . . .

Mary Phippen ('77), above, barbeques up a storm at Alumni Executive BBQ.

Alumni Executive and guests barbeque at the Oaks, right.

The effort, the ordeal, the struggle your Alumni Association Executive members endure throughout the year to keep the Association vibrant are paramount. Never was this so evident as when on August 16th executive members held their annual barbeque.

Feasting on barbequed delights in less than favourable weather conditions, those in attendance enjoyed themselves nonetheless. The afternoon featured some heated croquet matches with Head Football Coach Larry Uteck overpowering all with his athletic prowess. The weather conditions also initiated some interesting cooking techniques, with Mary Phippen showing the way.

The outing also provided the Executive the opportunity to recognize special guest, Dr. John Young, this year's recipient of the Father William A. Stewart, S.J., Medal For Teaching. Paul Lynch, President of the Association presented Dr. Young with a cheque for $1,000.00 representing the monetary portion of this distinguished award.

All in all the day, despite the weather, was a great success.

In August Colin Dodds, Director of the M.B.A. Program and Chairperson of the Department of Finance and Management Science paid a short visit to Singapore enroute to Halifax from a C.I.D.A. assignment in Thailand. The Singapore chapter of Saint Mary's Alumni met him and took him on an extensive sightseeing tour of the city which included a banquet at the Spring Court Restaurant. Pictured above, (L to R) are, Irene Kee, Wee Hau Young ('85), Willni Low ('85), Yew Guan Chia ('86), Siew Li Lim, Joo Fong Goh ('85), Mui Eng Wang ('86), Colin J. Dodds, Judy D'Cruz ('85), Hui Lin Kee ('86), Angela Tan ('85), Wee Heong Yong ('84).

Dodds visits Singapore

Alumni appeal begins!

As an important part of the University's $13 million Capital Campaign, alumni are now being contacted and asked to pledge a donation to Saint Mary's over the next five years. The appeal is being organized by Rosalie Courage of the Development Department.

The current campaign was preceded by an ambitious search project in which more than 6,000 alumni were tracked down and their current addresses and telephone numbers were recorded. This took place during the summer and has allowed the University to get back in touch with many alumni who had been lost during their moves around Canada and the rest of the world.

With the list up-dated and computerized, Rosalie and her band of student helpers were ready to start asking alumni to support their alma mater. The appeal, which is being conducted by graduating year, starting with the most recent graduates, is being carried out with the help of a U.S. company, International Development Council.

Rosalie has been staggered by the willing response the students have received from the alumni they call. Only 16 days into the campaign, $171,220 has been pledged.

Each former student of Saint Mary's first receives a letter from the president, Dr. Kenneth Ozmon, asking them to consider the appeal carefully. They then receive a letter from Ronald Downie, Chairman of the Board of Governors, which sets out exactly why the University is making the appeal and asks for their support. Following this, a Saint Mary's student telephones to ask for their pledge to the appeal.

During the recent Reunion weekend a 1982 alumnus was heard to say. "If they had asked for a ridiculous amount, I would have laughed and sent them $100. But it was a figure I could handle and I thought, why not?"

The appeal to the alumni, the first such major appeal the University has ever made, is expected to raise up to $500,000 for the campaign.

Laurie Smith Scholarship Fund Reaches $30,000

The fund to provide scholarships in the name of revered Santamarian Laurie Smith has reached $30,000. The target for this project is $50,000, which will enable the University to provide scholarships to Saint Mary's for students who qualify in a number of ways which would be close to the heart of the late Laurie Smith.

Don Keleher, the University's Director of Development, reports that the volunteer committee which is spearheading the fund-raising efforts met in mid-October to make plans to reach its goal. The committee consists of a broad cross section of people from the teaching profession in Halifax, the clergy and alumni, staff and faculty of Saint Mary's. It will soon be contacting a large group of people who have yet to make a contribution to the fund.

If you would like to help establish this worthy memorial to Laurie Smith, please contact Don Keleher at 429-9780 (extension 2152) or write to him c/o Saint Mary's University, Halifax, N.S.

R3H 3C3

Students calling from the special telephone centre that has been set up in the Student Centre.

Lobster Draw

Large numbers of Alumni living outside Nova Scotia responded to our request, in the last Maroon and White mailing, for information to update alumni records. Those who returned the questionnaires became eligible to win 30 lbs of fresh Nova Scotia lobster, delivered to their door.

Well those lobsters certainly travelled a long way, in fact all the way to the West Coast. The winner, William McGowan (B.Ed., '60), lives in Vancouver, B.C. William lived in Dartmouth for 30 years prior to his moving to British Columbia in 1961 with the Navy. Having retired from the School Board in Vancouver, William now works with North Shore News, a local newspaper. Congratulations William!

Capital Campaign Reaches $9 Million!

In October funds pledged to Saint Mary's $13 million Capital Campaign topped $9 million. The jump was largely due to a magnificent $300,000 donation from the University's long time benefactor, the Patrick Power Estate.

University President Dr. Kenneth Ozmon and Development Director Don Keleher are renewing their activities on the corporate and foundation aspect of the campaign. They will be working vigorously on the local and national scene and Don Keleher says "We are setting ourselves a target. By the end of the year we would like to be around the $9.5 million mark.

Continuing Education at Saint Mary's

Are you interested in returning to Saint Mary's to learn about computers, upgrade your professional knowledge or sit in on a class of your favorite professor? The Division of Continuing Education offers microcomputer courses featuring IBM-PC and MacIntosh systems; professional programs with the Real Estate Institute, Appraisal Institute, Institute of Canadian Bankers and Canadian Institute of Management; and special non-credit courses, seminars and workshops. As well, the Division has information on evening credit courses beginning in January. For descriptive brochures on any of the programs, call the Division of Continuing Education at 429-9780, extension 2143.

Rambeau manages Anne Murray

Leonard Rambeau, class of '67

Leonard Rambeau, class of '67, says "I am tone deaf, I couldn't carry a note if my life depended on it," but that hasn't stopped him succeeding in the world of music.

Leonard is personal manager to Nova Scotia's own singing star, Anne Murray, a partnership which has lasted since 1971 and which looks set fair to see out the careers of both of them. Anne received an honorary degree from Saint Mary's in 1982.

Len was born in Smelt Brook, near Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and moved to Dartmouth when he was ten. He was always involved in whatever was going on, right from high school days. "If I brought up a suggestion at a meeting," he says, "someone would say 'OK, go to it!" He first met Anne Murray in 1969, when he was organizing a benefit concert for a Dartmouth youth club. Anne had just begun to make her name on Singalong Jubilee. "We paid her $125," says Len.

A year later, Len was helping organize a fundraiser for the alumni and invited Anne to perform. "It was Anne's first big solo concert in the Maritimes and the following day her first album on Capitol records was released. There were about 1,800 people in the gym and afterwards we had a reception. In the course of the reception, she said, if she went into it full time, would I work with her."

The Capitol record included the now legendary "Snowbird," which, says Len, "Became a monster hit for her. She got a 1 million seller and a gold record. She decided to move to Toronto in January 1971 and in April she called me and said 'Are you ready to come?"

Len says "We came to Toronto in May 1971 for two years, to give it a try. That was 15 years ago and a lot of miles have been logged since then." Having started as road manager and held numerous other positions, Len is now President of Balmur Ltd, the company which manages the entire Anne Murray phenomena.

Management used to be shared between Balmur and various American agents, but Len says "Anne went off and had babies, she took a fair amount of time after William was born. After that we took the big plunge and we discovered there were no experts, so since 1977 we have done everything on our own."

Travelling plays a big part in Anne Murray's life, and that of her manager. Len says "Anne goes on tour roughly seven times a year, about 12 days at a time. Most performers do 150 to 200 days, but she doesn't want to be away from the children too long. She takes the summer off to go to Nova Scotia."

Although trips to Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Holland and England are frequent and they have visited over thirty countries on tour, Len says "Eighty-five per cent of the travel is in the United States. Once a month I go into Los Angeles, New York and Nashville." Len used to go on all road trips, but now he may just start off with them to make sure everything is going smoothly, then dart off somewhere else to organize a future engagement. When the Maroon and White telephoned him in Los Angeles in September he was working on an engagement for 1988 before meeting Anne in Reno for a conference on new songs, then going up to Vancouver to watch her perform at Expo.

Does Len enjoy his jet-set lifestyle? "I'm still looking for glamour," he says, "I enjoy every minute of it, no two days are the same." Asked what the highspots of his career have been, he says "Opening night at Carnegie Hall; being in places like Japan, Holland and England, and watching Anne receive the Companion of the Order of Canada." He also looks back with delight on "The evening that Anne won the Grammy for best pop female vocalist when the competition was as high as Barbara Streisland and Olivia Newton John." He says "It is great to stand back and see people appreciate something you have been associated with."

Asked about his business relationship with Anne, Len says "I am godfather to her eldest son and she is godmother to my eldest son, so friendship has transcended business. All these years I have had no written contract. We have worked on a handshake since 1971."

What about the future? Len originally thought working with Anne Murray might lead him to a career in politics, but he seems to have given that up. He still has plenty of ideas for his star's future. "Anne will be going back to Radio City Music Hall," he says, "and probably in 1987 will do a tour of the Maritime Provinces and a seven night stand in Toronto." Of the longer term he says "I see this going on a number of years, we still have not tapped the world of movies. I have ideas about taking Anne to Broadway, that is just another aspect of this business."

Len emphasizes that managing Anne's career has been done with care. "We have never allowed our short-term greed to get in the way of long-term aims. Her career has been programmed to last a long time. All you have is that unique voice." He adds "People are always asking how Anne relates to her success, what is the secret of her durability, and in my small side of the world, people say, 'How did you do it? How did you get where you are today?" He believes, "There is an element of Maritime common sense and we decided to stay in Canada rather than move to Hollywood. Anne's business manager is a Maritimer and there are Maritimers in the band and working in the office."

Anne Murray, Hon. '82

Len, who was President of the Student Council and received a Gold "M" award, says "It probably all goes back to the training and discipline and education I received at Saint Mary's."

Does Len have time for a private life? His wife Caron was born in Harrow, just outside Windsor, although they met in Toronto. They have three children, Derek (5), Scott (3) and Julia who is one. Len says "Caron comes on some of the engagements. She came to Australia; she was in England when we did 'Sound from London,' but we have three children now and she just cannot get up and go as she did."

Show business spells glamour and opulence. The Maroon and White asked Len if he had any luxurious toys. Nothing ostentatious, he feels, a nice house in an area of Willowdale referred to as 'Hog Hollow' and "A double A-frame and four acres of land in Antigonish, 18 miles from where I was raised." The family spends six weeks there each summer and Len says "We can be with the kids morning, noon and night. We wanted them to have some sense of history and roots. Their great-grandparents are still alive. We get out of the city, wander the fields and pick berries."

Special Olympics at Saint Mary's

by Alexa Thompson

For 350 young athletes, aged ten years and up, June 13 to 15 was a weekend to remember. They were at Saint Mary's University to compete in the Nova Scotia Special Olympics. On hand to greet them were 200 games volunteers, drawn mainly from among Saint Mary's alumni, staff and students, who had spent four months planning for the three-day event.

The volunteers donated their spare hours to sit on committees, plan the daily events, act as hosts, runners and time keepers, or decorate Saint Mary's facilities to make the weekend a special one for these athletes.

"A committee of University staff and alumni, chaired by Saint Mary's Registrar Elizabeth Chard, began meeting last February. Among the committee members were Karen Henderson, an alumna who works for Maritime Life and acted as co-chairperson; Paul Goodman, an alumnus and accountant with Thorne Riddell; Kathy Mullane, Intramural Sport Coordinator; Helen Castonguay, Field Hockey and Women's Basketball Coordinator; Keith Hotchkiss, Director of Student Services; Don Keleher, Director of Development; Dana Martinello, Conference Office Coordinator; and Heather Weld, the one committee member not directly associated with Saint Mary's.

Mrs. Weld, who said a neighbour, a former director of the Special Olympics, convinced her to offer her help, coordinated the activities of the 200 or so volunteers, many of whom were Saint Mary's students.

The joy of achievement (Photo 67)

Alumnus Don Reardon makes a presentation during the Special Olympics (Photo 67)

"I was so impressed with the attitude of the University toward this community event," she said. "All the volunteers did an amazing job. Their attention to detail, their feelings for the athletes, just their being there when needed, was wonderful."

Her volunteers officiated on the field, acting as runners to take results to the announcement booth, or as stoppers to restrain runners at the end of a race. Many of these athletes have difficulty slowing down after an event and need someone to physically stop them. Other volunteers planned parties, staffed information booths, or escorted participants to their residence rooms.

Karen Henderson oversaw most of the daily events and stood in for Mrs. Chard who was unable to attend the games. Ms. Henderson praised the alumni who were involved in every facet from registration to handling medal presentations after each track and field and pool event. Swimming competitions were held at Dalplex. Individual athletes were awarded gold, silver and bronze medals in the Olympic tradition.

Organizing track events at Saint Mary's fell to Helen Castonguay and her crew. She made sure the facilities for track and field events were booked, took care that the equipment was in working order and the starting blocks in place, and kept an eye on the opening ceremony.

The games were officially opened on Friday afternoon at Huskies Stadium by Al Bolin, National Chairman of the Special Olympics. As the athletes paraded into the stadium behind the torch bearer, each held aloft a helium-filled balloon. Similar balloons and streamers decorated the stands and the VIP section.

That evening, Kathy Mullane, in charge of entertainment and hospitality, arranged a variety show in the Theatre Auditorium to welcome the athletes. There, they were entertained by magicians, mimes and clowns, all of whom donated their time and talents.

Kathy also organized a dance on Saturday evening. It was the highlight of the weekend for many of the athletes and Kathy, with the help of students, friends and family, filled the Multi-Purpose Room in the Loyola complex with colourful balloons and streamers. Two disk jockeys who specialize in rock music and videos provided the entertainment. It was worth it, said Kathy. "When the athletes walked in, their eyes just lit up."

While the athletes competed in events or enjoyed themselves at the special attractions put on for them, other volunteers worked hard to make sure that meals were on time, accommodation satisfactory, and all needs met. This was the responsibility of Dana Martinello, who was helped by summer residence staff and chamber-maids

Between 375 and 400 athletes, coaches and chaperones were housed in the Loyola and Vanier Residences. As they registered, the athletes were greeted, provided with arm bands inscribed with their names and room numbers, and escorted to their rooms.

So many people helped to make the games a success and not all can be mentioned here. Helen Castonguay perhaps best summed-up the feelings of the volunteers toward the Special Olympics. "It was really enjoyable to be there," she said. "The volunteers, athletes, everyone gained something special from it."

1973 Football Team

Saturday, November 24, 1973 was wet. It rained all day in Toronto, but nothing dampened the ardour of the fans or dulled the skills of the Huskies football team as they fought their way to glory as winners of the Vanier Cup, the highest achievement in the world of Canadian university football.

On October 24 that star-studded team were honoured by induction in the Nova Scotia Sports Hall of Fame.

Bob Hayes, who was then Athletic Director of Saint Mary's, remembers some of the problems overcome by our team. He says "The CIAU organizing committee put the Saint Mary's team in a dressing room under the bleachers where rain came through the ceiling continuously. The committee also forgot to bring the balls for the game, which created a situation where both teams were using wet practice balls. Coach Al Keith was less than pleased with these arrangements."

Bob adds, "The game was a close contest, with very few long passes or runs due to weather conditions and very wet footballs. Saint Mary's fans were standing on the sidelines with our team and mass confusion reigned during player changes. In the final quarter McGill threatened to pull ahead, but Ken Clarke of Saint Mary's punted the ball 60 odd yards and put the game out of reach."

By the time Hayes introduced the Huskies to Federal opposition leader Robert Stanfield after the game, the water in the dressing room was one inch deep.!

The 1973 Huskies made their mark in provincial, regional and national sport. They were the first Maritime team to win a national college football championship. During the run up to their big day they won the conference championship with a 21-6 win over UPEI and seized the Atlantic Bowl by beating Wilfrid Laurier 19-17. In Toronto, they beat McGill 14-6.

Twenty-one of the roster were drafted by the Canadian Football League, eight of them being first draft picks. Five of those picks have had lengthy CFL careers, which have included 11 Grey Cup rings. 1973 team member Ken Clark is still with the Ottawa Rough Riders and Hector Pothier is with the Edmonton Eskimos.

Fraser MacDonald, left, and Ken Clark, hoist the Vanier Cup in celebration of the Huskies' C.I.A.U. championship victory at Varsity Stadium in Toronto, November 24, 1973.

The 1973 edition of the Football Huskies held a reunion party in the Alumni Lounge at the University on Friday, October 24, 1986. The following day the team was inducted into the Nova Scotia Sport Heritage Centre Hall of Fame, in recognition of their outstanding 1973 football season. Pictured at left are some of the members of the 73 Huskies, 13 years later.

Kevin O'Brien and Fitness & Recreation Centre

Saint Mary's magnificent new Fitness and Recreation Centre is due to open in time for the 1988 academic year and Kevin O'Brien has been appointed Manager of Facilities and Operations.

Kevin O'Brien

Glace Bay native Kevin has returned to his home province with just the right experience under his belt to undertake the myriad tasks necessary to bring the new Centre on stream. After leaving school back in 1970, Kevin headed for the bright lights of Halifax to seek his fortune, or at least a job. He spent four years in the construction industry, then went to Dalhousie and obtained a degree in recreation. This reflected his lifelong interest in sport, although he says he is no medal winner, "I just dabble and enjoy myself." During his undergraduate years he obtained valuable experience working with Halifax's "City Field" department.

Next step was to enroll at North Texas State University to obtain a Master's degree in recreation. While there he taught park planning and design and worked part time for the Dallas parks and recreation department. He enjoyed his time in the States and says people he met there "Thought the Canadians were a little ahead in the recreation area."

In 1979 he returned to Canada, to become the Director of Parks, Recreation and Tourism in Bathurst, New Brunswick. While there, he says, "We constructed seven new parks, with soccer fields and baseball fields. The parks had a combination of active and passive areas." In order to carry out this massive improvement program for the city, he also had to raise around $500,000 of his $1.5 million annual budget by seeking grants from the federal and provincial governments. He says, "One of the major projects was a $2.5 million aqua-leisure project. I saw it through from proposal to programming."

With construction on schedule, Kevin is faced with many different tasks to prepare the building for use. Staff have to be appointed and trained, equipment purchased and installed and furniture and lockers put in. Computers have to be installed, a registration system set up and programs developed. In addition, membership schemes have to be decided on, and marketing and promotion must take place.

Kevin is delighted with the Centre and sees it as a place for both family recreation and serious sport. He intends to "Make it the sort of place where you want to stay to lunch. (The restaurant) will be warm and friendly, part of the whole experience. There will be something for those who would like to look at fattening foods and also a juice bar and salad bar for those who are keen to keep lean."

Kevin's wife June is no stranger to Saint Mary's. Some of you will remember that she taught commerce here back in 1976. Kevin and June have an eight month old son, Jaren. In addition to his heavy schedule at the University, Kevin is acting as contractor for their new house in Rockingham. They hope it will be finished in time for Christmas.

The new Fitness and Recreation Centre

Dr. Beazley receives Alumni Award

During the Annual Alumni Dinner on October 18, Dr. Harold Beazley, Dean and Professor Emeritus at Saint Mary's, received the Alumni Association's Distinguished Community Service Award.

Dr. Beazley is the third person to receive this award, which has also been given to Senator Richard Donahoe and Provincial Social Services Minister Edmund Morris.

The award was presented to Dr. Beazley in appreciation of the great contribution he has made to the business and academic community through his pioneering efforts in the development of Saint Mary's business program. This program is now one of the largest and most highly respected in Atlantic Canada.

During his many years at Saint Mary's, Dr. Beazley was known for his innovative program design as well as for his commitment to a broad education. He is also well known for his contribution to the development of such financial organizations as the Society of Management Accountants and the Financial Executive Institute.

The purpose of the Award is to recognize outstanding service in the community, to Saint Mary's University or in the recipient's own discipline. It is given only when a truly worthy individual is nominated.

Dr Harold G. Beazley ('36), left, receives the Alumni Association's Distinguished Community Service Award from David Hope ('61).

Alumni Dinner

Sandy Ryan, below left, talks to Miss Nova Scotia, Nancy Regan

Reunion 1987

If you belong to the classes of '37, '62, '72, '77 or '82, put a note in your diary NOW. Your reunion weekend will be held in October, 1987.

Reunion Weekend a Wow!

John Dickey, Q.C. ('36)

Mick Ryan ('69)

Hon. Gerald Regan (Hon.'82)

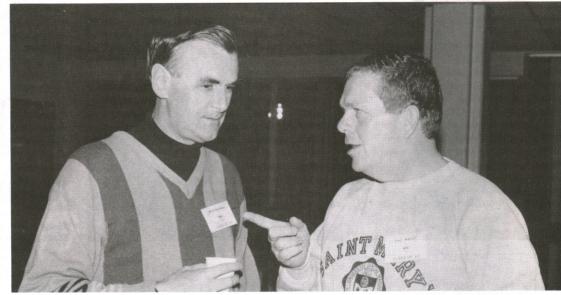

Robert MacLellan ('81)

Rod Doiron ('76)

he weekend started with receptions for each of the years being honoured. The classes of '61 and '81 gathered in the Student Centre on campus, while the class of '76 swopped memories in the Schooner Lounge at Oland Brewery.

After the receptions, 100 brave souls embarked from Cable Wharf on the Harbour Queen, a replica of a Mississippi sternwheeler which provides excitement and hospitality for visitors to Halifax. Although it was too cold and wet to lounge on deck, an excellent party was held in the warmer regions of the vessel, where a disk jockey played nostalgic music from the appropriate eras. The boat toured Halifax Harbour and Bedford Basin, but the alumni mostly concentrated more on each other than on the dark and rain washed scenery outside.

On Saturday almost 30 hardy souls were up and about in time to enjoy a champagne brunch at the Thirsty Duck and some managed to make it to Huskies Stadium to watch the Football Huskies maul the Mount Allison Mounties 50-14.

High spot of the weekend was the 1986 Annual Dinner and Monte Carlo Night held at the World Trade and Convention Centre. This was open to all alumni and over 400 people made a night of it.

Guest speaker at the dinner was the Hon. Gerald Regan, who was accompanied by his daughter Nancy, who is this year's Miss Nova Scotia. Other head table guests included Alumni Association President Paul Lynch and his wife Lisa; University President Dr. Kenneth Ozmon and his wife Betty; and Mr. Ron Downie, Chairman of the Board of Saint Mary's University with his wife Marie. Also seated at the head table were Dinner Chairman and MC for the evening, Mickey Ryan and his wife Sandra and Father John Mills, Chaplain of the University.

During the evening Senator Richard Donahoe presented the first cheque of a five year, $300,000 pledge to the University by the Patrick Power Estate, of which he is a trustee. In addition, the Class of '36 was honoured and Dr. Harold Beazley was presented with the Alumni Association's Distinguished Community Service Award. The evening was also punctuated by messages from representatives of each of the classes holding reunions.

After dinner the guests enjoyed a Monte Carlo casino with funny money provided by the Halifax Progress Club and the evening ended with an auction at which items valued at over $2,000 were sold.

Clockwise from top left:

Senator Richard Donahoe (R) presents a cheque to Dr. Kenneth Ozmon on behalf of the Patrick Power Estate.

William Murphy (L) and John Stuart of the Class of '61.

L-R Kim Given, Casey Shouse ('81), Chuck Given ('81), Pat Scallion ('81)

The Class of 76. (Bob Brooks photo)

The Class of 81. L. to R: (back) Rita and Ian MacClure, Kathy Burgess and David Milsom; (front) Rob MacLellan and Bruce Fitzner.

David MacAdam (L) and Earl Walsh, Class of 61.

Arthur Inglis

Is he Saint Mary's Oldest Alumnus?

by Chris Mitchell

Arthur Inglis, Saint Mary's College, Class of '18, was born near the corner of Robie Street and Coburg Road, just around the corner from the comfortable apartment he now uses during his visits to Halifax. "Born on the kitchen table," he says, showing his birth certificate, which reads May 10, 1896.

Well-tanned from his annual seven month stay in the Canary Islands, Mr. Inglis appears much younger than he is: "A dizzy old ninety," he says, "and I have an incurable disease too . . ." Breaking into the broad, toothy smile that punctuates his conversation, he says "old age."

The Saint Mary's College calendar for 1916-17 lists seventeen young men studying at the college level, two in engineering and fifteen in arts. Arthur Inglis was a freshman in the latter group.

A first year of college in those days meant taking Christian doctrine, english, latin, french, history, algebra, geometry, trigonometry and chemistry. The old calendars featured class by class listings of students and the young Mr. Inglis ranked consistently in the middle of the class during his first year, doing well in english, french and geometry.

Mr. Inglis does not recall shining in english, but he proudly relates being lauded for his fine pronunciation in french. He remembers the Christian Brothers who taught at the school as being very good teachers and he believes he received a "Good, sound, basic" education.

A year's tuition in 1916-17 was $40. "I can remember," Mr. Inglis says, "taking the money to Monsignor McManus and getting a receipt."

Boarders at the school paid $180 for one year's tuition and board. "We never had much regard for the fellows who boarded there. The boarders!" Mr. Inglis snorts in contempt, "They didn't know from nothing." Two boarders stuck in Arthur Inglis's memory, one by the name of Alf McCasey: "Alf was the local bully until I came along, but I took care of him. I was the big guy then, until this sturdy fellow from Newfoundland came along. He was built like one of those brick edifices . . . solid. He bounced me around pretty good, but I took no backwater from him, and he laid off me after that."

The College was on Windsor Street in those days, a square, brick, three-storey building; Mr. Inglis remembers perching on the roof with Father McManus, putting shingles on. He and his chums would steal a smoke in the furnaceroom, with the furnace man shovelling coal while the students blew their smoke into the furnace.

Arthur Inglis was a keen hockey player, seeing it as something of an escape from school. "We were the only college at that time who had a hockey rink. From four o'clock until six o'clock every afternoon, our team would be there to play any other seven people who wanted to challenge us. We used to beat them all. We were only a small crowd, small physically, compared to some of those big, healthy country boys, but we knew what a fellow's playing habits were, where he would be at a certain time. We weren't individually very outstanding hockey players, but as a team we were something to be contended with."

"If only we had the gear and the nice conditions that fellows have now, we'd have been better still," he says, "but the conditions that we had to contend with: flooding our own ice the night before, pumping the water up from down below, and the back of the net was always frozen down on the ice."

One winter tragedy interrupted school and hockey. "I was walking up to Saint Mary's and I was a little bit late. I met a former student of Saint Mary's who had graduated and was now in the seminary. I met him at the corner of the Willow Tree, and we stood there talking. I was facing north and I noticed this big, rich, silvery grey puff go up in the air, so I said to him 'Ben, look at that.' And just then a yellow flame licked up through the cloud and the next thing he and I knew, we were completely across the street, sucked over by the vacuum that was created by this big explosion, and our arms around each other's necks. Neither one of us remembers how we got there, but thank heavens I was late for school because I might have had some broken glass in my eyes."

"The next day was pelting snow something terrific. The day after that, Boston had a full hospital rigged up in Saint Mary's College. They brought their own nurses, their beds, their blankets, the whole complete hospital outfit. And God bless them, because they did a marvelous job."

"Our home down here, all the windows were broken, and you couldn't buy a roll of tar paper anywhere in the city or a pane of glass. Completely gone." That mischievous smile crosses Arthur Inglis's face. "We were kind of happy in a way, because we didn't have to go to school then."

Mr. Inglis received his diploma in engineering from Saint Mary's in 1918 and went on to the Technical College to study mining engineering. This was followed by a stint in the Royal Flying Corps, which made the young man see things in a new light.

When he returned from Europe, he says "I didn't want to go back to mining engineering because I had seen too much of the world and I wanted to be a playboy. So I never got my degree in mining engineering, but I'm just as glad because mining engineering, well," he says, with a wave of his hand, "you didn't know where you were going to be sent. That's no life." And so Arthur Inglis ended up as a subcontractor in the building trade, dealing in marble, ceramic tile, terrazzo and floor coverings. Of his class of 1918, Arthur Inglis is the only one left, but he has not forgotten his fellow engineers. "Charlie Beasley ended up working for the Nova Scotia government. He was the boss of protocol, Charlie was. Luke Feetham was the engineer for the harbour board."

"I remember a professor at Tech told us 'Fellows when you graduate, you will be surprised just how much part Luck is going to play in your life.' And that," concludes Arthur Inglis, with an enigmatic smile "was true."

On Campus

Rick Hansen visits Saint Mary's

Hearing impaired student Kim Misener introduces Provincial Education Minister Tom McInnis at the opening of the Atlantic Centre of Support for Disabled Students. (Parsons photo)

Grand Opening of Atlantic Centre

October 9 saw a ribbon cutting ceremony that officially opened the University's Atlantic Centre of Support for Disabled Students. Federal Minister of Public Works Stewart McInnes cut the ribbon and in his speech referred to the opening of the Centre as "A significant break through in providing equality of opportunity for disabled students."

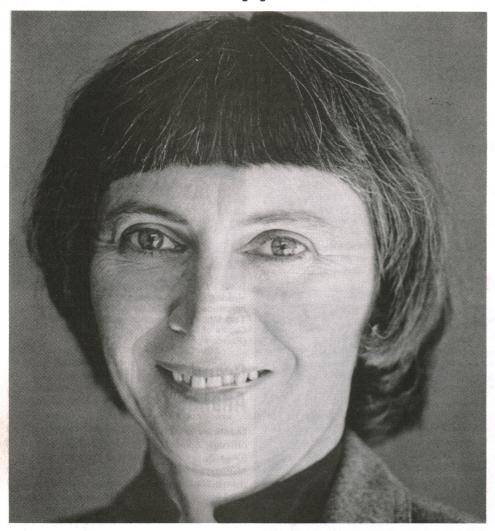

The ceremony, which commemorated the five years of hard work that have gone into the creation of the Centre, was also attended by Provincial Education Minister Tom McInnis and Provincial Social Services Minister Edmund Morris.

The Atlantic Centre, which is one of the three "Centres of Excellence" funded by the Secretary of State, includes many facilities to help disabled students participate in university life. As well as many advanced facilities to help sight impaired students, it is now equipped to assist hearing impaired students.

During the opening Dr. Kenneth Ozmon said "Five years ago we began to investigate the special needs of other handicapped students, particularly hearing impaired students. Our investigations showed that, almost without exception, if hearing impaired students wished to pursue higher education, they had to go to the United States." Thanks to the hard work and vision that have gone into the establishment of the Atlantic Centre, this is no longer the case.

Wheelchair athlete Rick Hansen visited Huskies stadium September 18. Here he is seen being escorted into the stadium by Registrar Elizabeth Chard, who was Co-Chairman of the Publicity and Special Events Committee for the Board of Directors of the Nova Scotia division of the Man in Motion tour (West photo)

Alumni Officer Appointed

Geraldine Dunnigan is the first person to hold the position of Alumni Officer at Saint Mary's and she is enthusiastic about her new role.

When Geraldine and her family moved here 22 years ago, they stopped at the Nova Scotia border, and heard the piper playing. "I think he is playing to welcome us," she said, and loved the province from that moment on.

After rearing four children, two girls who are now 24 and 25 and two boys of 15 and 17, Geraldine learned secretarial skills at night school and went into the workforce. After a short spell at that, she turned to selling real estate. This proved too demanding when combined with kids, dogs, cats, rabbits and a north end rooming house, so for two years she helped run a business college in Halifax.

The next step was to go back to school, after rationalizing home life by moving into a downtown apartment and divesting herself of property and pets. "We have a co-op established in our house," she says, "everyone is responsible for their own laundry, ironing and cleaning and everybody has a night to cook."

Geraldine spent her first year studying business administration at Mount Saint Vincent University. For her second year she moved to Saint Mary's and took a business and arts combination. She says "That is when I started thinking about sociology. I am interested in finding out why groups behave the way they do, so I decided to major in sociology."

Geraldine Dunnigan

Meanwhile, the alumni officer job came up. "The reason I applied," says Geraldine, "is that I really fell in love with Saint Mary's." She is still studying sociology part time and intends to finish her degree one of these days.

Geraldine sees three major thrusts to her new job. She is very involved with students on campus and tries to make them more aware of the work of the Alumni Association, so they will become active members after graduation.

She also says "In order to reflect the increased female enrolment figures at Saint Mary's, I am trying to get more of the women alumni involved in planning and social events." She feels that in the past, the association may have focussed too much on activities for male alumni and their wives and believes it should change its program to reflect the changes that have occurred in the social structure of our society.

Geraldine is also aware that people are living longer and that many senior citizens are going back to school. Her message to alumni nearing retirement is "What about coming back to Saint Mary's and taking the fun courses you were always too busy to take during your undergraduate years."

THE JOURNAL

THE JOURNAL has been the official student publication of the Saint Mary's community for 52 years. A subscription to THE JOURNAL is a great way to keep up with campus events.

JOURNAL subscriptions are available for the cost of mailing: $18 for 22 issues over 8 months. Phone (902) 422-1234 or make cheques payable to The Journal Publishing Society, The Journal, Room 517, Student Centre, Box 24, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, N.S. B3H 3C3.

Art Exhibition

Now is the time to start preparing for the annual faculty, alumni, student and staff art exhibition. The show runs from January 9 to February 1, 1987. Anyone associated with the University is invited to submit up to three original works of art in any medium. Past exhibitions have included paintings, drawings, sculpture, photographs and ceramics, although other media can be considered.

In previous years exhibits have included the paintings of staff member Laure Jeanne Arsenault, the photographs of Chemistry Professor, Dr. Keith Vaughan and the sculptures and drawings of library staff member Ms Norma Corbett.

Artist Jane Shaw is also a regular exhibitor and this year she will be having a retrospective exhibition at the gallery directly after the faculty, alumni, student and staff exhibition. She studied painting in the United States and Quebec and has exhibited at a number of American and Canadian galleries.

Even if you are not artistically gifted, make a note in your diary to attend the exhibition and enjoy the work of this diverse group of artists.

If you do want to submit work for exhibition, remember that it should be delivered to the Art Gallery on Tuesday, January

For further information call 429-9780, extension 2549.

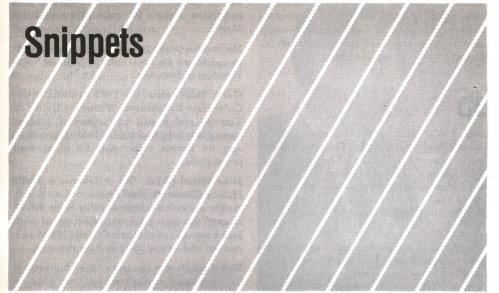

Speakers Bureau

The International Education Centre at Saint Mary's sponsors a Speakers Bureau. Its primary purpose is to send people from developing countries into the classrooms of Nova Scotia, but it also makes speakers available to adult community groups.

Speakers are available from thirty-nine different countries, ranging from Antigua and Angola to Thailand and Zambia. All of the speakers talk about the general culture and lifestyle of their countries and suit their material to the age of the children they are with. Some speakers will deal with more specific topics such as food and nutrition, apartheid, or refugees.

The Bureau also supplies speakers from ethnic groups in Nova Scotia who can talk about their culture. These include Acadians, Micmacs, Blacks, Lebanese and Jews.

Book speakers through Molly Hurd, International Education Centre, Saint Mary's University, 429-9780 extension 2546.

40

A $20,000 donation to the Saint Mary's University Capital Fund was made by Mahon's Stationery in September. President Cliff O'Laughlin Sr., who attended Saint Mary's High School, said the excellence of our MBA program appealed to him.

41

Reverend W. Donald Campbell last June celebrated the 40th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood with the help of St. Joseph's Parish Council. Following a Mass of Thanksgiving, Judge Pat Curran (BA, '65, B.Ed., '66), Chairman of the Parish Council, presented a gift to Father Campbell. Also in attendance was Dorothy Garrison (B.Ed., '83), Vice-Chairman of the Parish Council.

46

On June 3, 1986, Father William T. Slaney celebrated his 30th anniversary of ordination with a mass and reception at St. Christopher's Church, Hatchet Lake, N.S. Fr. Slaney attended Saint Mary's College High School from 1944 to 1946. He is currently the Parish Priest of Star of The Sea Parish, Terrance Bay, N.S.

Ken Reardon Sr. of Scotch Village was named to captain a four-member Canadian team which left this past summer for a month in Europe to compete in several tennis tournaments.

52

Ted Riordan is a Supply Administration and Systems Officer at CFB Moncton.

Reverend Eric L. Theriault, just transferred from St. Peter's Church in Ketch Harbour, N.S., is now at St. John The Baptist Church in Halifax. Fr. Theriault has also just returned from 5 months of study at the Catholic University of Lounain in Belgium.

53

"It sure would be nice to meet with any people from Saint Mary's, so if any are ever in sunny California please look me up," writes Chuck Keating. Chuck, a graduate of Saint Mary's High School, is currently the Vice-President and Manager of American Savings & Loan in Riverside, California. Chuck also writes that he would be more than pleased to arrange a golf game for anyone travelling his way.

56

Reverend Patrick Malone, who was President of Saint Mary's from 1956 to 1959, celebrated 50 years of service in the Society of Jesus with a Mass of the Thanksgiving in Canadian Martyrs Church, Halifax, on Sunday, September 13. Father Malone was also academic vice-president from 1951 to 1956 and Director of Evening Division from 1956 to 1959.

57

Kevin J. Cleary, Arts' 57 brings us up-to-date on the doing of alumni from '55 to '59:

Carol Parker, Arts '57, and Carl Dujay, Commerce '57, visited with Father Bob Hallett, Arts '58, this summer. Bernard Murphy, Arts '57, dropped in to the office in August. He is living in Washington, D.C., where he is a consultant with the U.S. Department of the Navy. Dan MacDonald of 50's thesbian fame directed the Summer Theatre in Yarmouth. Some of the advance publicity was handled by John Nause, Arts '59, who is teaching at Yarmouth High School. Bob Hanrahan, Commerce '58, has recently been appointed Dean of Accounting and Finance at Brock University. Bill Curran, Commerce '57, was in town in September. Betty and I met him at Senator and Mrs. Richard Donahoe's 50th wedding anniversary. Come to think of it, there were quite a few alumni there:

Arthur and Terry Donahoe, Ellen and John Feehan, Paul Neidermeyer, Edmund Boyd, and Charles McGuire, just to mention a few.

Father P.J. Malone, S.J., also celebrated an anniversary in September, 50 years as a Jesuit. Some of the Alumni who were in attendance at that reception were: Don Reardon, Nick Walsh, Gerry Conrad, Gerry Burns. Father Vernon Driscoll, Arts '57, has taken up new duties as Pastor at St. Pius X Parish in the city.

One of the many interesting things about the May 1986 Convocation, in addition to the fact that it was held in the Metro Centre, was the number of the Alumni of '55, '56, '57, and '58 who were represented by sons or daughters who themselves were graduating. Some of them were: Tim Bailly, Arts '86; Donald Flinn, Commerce '86; Stephanie Cleary, Science '86; Dale McClare, Arts '86: Tracey Frowd, Arts '86: John Inglis, Science '86. Arthur Murphy, Arts '58, completed his Masters in Theology at the Atlantic School of Theology last year and has embarked on study for the permanent diaconate with a view to working in the University Community. Did you know that Fathers Lynch. Malone, Stewart, and Murphy are all resident in the Jesuit Community in Halifax?

58

LeRoy P.M. Heffernan, a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, specializing in Neurology, has recently been appointed Head of the Division of Neurology, Department of Medicine, Dalhousie University. He is also Chief of Neurology Service and Director of the Electrodiagnostic Laboratory at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax.

LeRoy remains active in sports. He was involved in varsity track and football while at Saint Mary's, as a soccer referee at the youth level.

59

The Honorable Arthur Donahoe, Speaker of The House of Assembly for the Province of Nova Scotia, ran the final leg in the RCMP Torch Run that officially kicked off the Nova Scotia Special Olympics Summer Games. The games were held June 14, 15, and 16 at Saint Mary's Stadium.

60

Daniel W. O'Brien, a social work professor and a former associate dean of the Faculty of Health Professions at Dalhousie, was appointed Director of the School of Social Work, Dalhousie Schools of Physiotherapy, in August 1986. Daniel has been on faculty at the Maritime School of Social Work since 1969. He has also worked with the Victoria General Hospital, the Canadian Mental Health Association, the University of Toronto and the Ontario government's Department of Social and Family Services. Congratulations Daniel!

61

This year, on July 25, Father Charles S. Bathurst, a former Bursar, celebrated his 50th year as a priest.

On July 22, the Royal Wedding Day, many Nova Scotians got an early start, among them, approximately 60 or so guests attended a Royal Breakfast at the restored 1860's Victorian home of Halifax Law Professor John Yogis. Guests were tuned into four televisions while they sipped champagne and orange juice and feasted on such delights as Crownberry muffins, "Quiche Sarah," and "Brioche Andrew."

62 DON'T FORGET REUNION WEEKEND OCTOBER 1987

Michael R. McGrath, Treasurer for the Atlantic Pilotage Authority, has been granted a Fellowship Designation from the Certified General Accountants Association of Canada.

McGraw-Hill Ryerson Limited recently presented Dr. Wai P. Lam, CA, of the University of Windsor, with a leather-bound copy of his book "The Basics for Business Decisions, Fourth Canadian Edition." The book has sold more than 130,000 copies, an achievement shared by few Canadian academic authors. Dr. Lam is also co-author of two widely used textbooks, "Intermediate Accounting" and "Principles of Auditing." He has served as a member of the Auditing Standards Committee of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants from 1981 to 1984.

While in Halifax this summer attending a dental convention Dr. James Cleary, of Boston, returned to the campus to visit his daughter Sioban, who was attending summer school.

Alphonse Gaudet is a full Professor and Director of the Education Administration Program at the University of Moncton.

63

William Cunningham, living in Jupiter, Florida, is employed with the Florida Power and Light Company as a Coordinator of Quality Training. Bill and his wife Lili have two daughters, Alix, 4, and Christina, 2.

64

Elected Vice-President, at the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nova Scotia Annual Meeting in June, 1986, was Douglas Sampson, CA. Doug is a partner with Deloitte, Haskins & Sells.

Roger Henderson is with the Bank of Nova Scotia in Port of Spain, Trinidad.

Piercey Supplies recently announced the appointment of Dan Landry as Store Manager. Dan is returning to his home province, with his wife and family, having worked in Manitoba, Ontario and P.E.I.

W. Clenworth (Clen) Francis is the Manager, Programming, for Automotive Dealer Systems Ltd. in Scarborough, Ont. Clen has four children, Roma, 22, Paul, 20, and Peter, 19, attending Carleton, Western, and University of Toronto respectively. Youngest son John, 11, attends St. Michael's Choir School, Toronto.

65

Judge Pat Curran, a long-time supporter of the Alumni Association, is the Chairman of St. Joseph's Parish Council. Vice-Chairman of the Parish Council is Dorothy Garrison (B.Ed., '83). Both Pat and Dorothy were on hand last June to celebrate the 40th anniversary of ordination to the priesthood of Fr. Donald Campbell (BA, '41).

Last year's Alumni Tennis Tournament champ, Scott Moore, was recently appointed Vice-President of the Pictou District N.S.T.U. in charge of Economic Welfare and local contract negotiation. The appointment follows a sabbatical in training as a school psychologist at Mount St. Vincent University. Scott is married to Georgia MacLean R.N. They have two children, Chris, 13, and 7 year old Laura.

Making a presentation at Computech '86 — The 3rd Annual Halifax Computer/Office Automation Show and Symposium was Richard Grantham, Portfolio Manager for Radio, Paging and Cellular Radio Services, Maritime Telegraph and Telephone in Halifax.

67

Rick Dougherty was recently named to the Federal Law Enforcement Training Centre's Anti-Terrorism Unit. Rick was a Special Agent for the U.S. Treasury Department for ten years and an instructor at the Centre for the past six years. In 1973 he received his Master's degree in International Law and Relations from the Catholic University, Washington, D.C. Rick, married in August, 1985 and with his first child expected in October, 1986, is living in Brunswick, Georgia.

Dr. Mike Antle is working out of the Moncton Medical Clinic and living in Riverview, N.B. Mike is also the team physician for the Moncton Golden Flames of the American Hockey League.

David Miller is the Organizing Committee Chairman for the Canadian University Men's Basketball Championship. The championships will be held this year at the Halifax Metro Centre, March 12-13, 1987.

68

James L. Crane, Executive Director of Correctional Services with the provincial Attorney General's Department, was presented with the John Dunlop Memorial Award for outstanding contribution to the criminal justice system and the community, last spring. In addition to his work in this area, Jim also found time in his hectic schedule to act as Chairman of the Alumni Section for the University's Capital Campaign for 1985-86. Congratulations Jim and many thanks for your efforts at Saint Mary's.

Michael Sayeau recently joined Nabisco Brands Inc., located in Parsippany, N.J., as Vice-President of Personnel.

Garry Morehouse, the 1966 Atlantic Inter-Collegiate Badminton Winner is living in Toronto and is still competitive in racquet sports. Garry is the National Credit Marketing Manager for Eatons, responsible for direct mail promotions.

Mike Wetzel (B.Ed., '70), a Teacher with the Halifax County-Bedford District School Board, caught up with a couple of other Saint Mary's alumni this past summer. Mike visited with Jack Lyons ('71) and Garrie O'Neil ('70). Mike is married and he and his wife have two sons.

Dick Loiselle was executive Vice Chairman of the provincial committee for the "Man in Motion" tour which brought Rick Hansen to Saint Mary's on September 18, 1986.

69

Paul Goodman, CA, was elected Secretary of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nova Scotia for 1986-87. The elections were held June 28, 1986. Paul is a partner with Thorne Riddell.

Mike O'Sullivan went out to Regina to do an MA in Political Science after receiving his BA, and stayed. His thesis took him on research work to Chile and when he returned, he began a dual career as part-time lecturer in Political Science (and sometimes Sociology) and investigator for the Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission, eventually becoming Director of Education for them. In 1981 he left to take a Ph.D. at the Universite du Quebec, having decided since he had to learn Spanish to do his MA, why not learn French to do his doctorate. He returned to the University of Regina to lecture full time until leaving August 1, 1986 to become regional field co-ordinator for Latin America with CUSO where he will be joined by his wife Sandra and their 5 year old daughter,

After leaving Saint Mary's Len Gougeon completed a Ph.D. in American Literature at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Mass. Since 1974 he has been teaching at the University of Scranton, a Jesuit liberal arts institution in Northeastern Pennsylvania, where he is a Professor of American Literature. Len lives in Glendale, Pa. with his three children and his wife, Deborah Jean, who is an Assistant Professor of Statistics in the University of Scranton's School of Management.

Jim Stewart is the Vice-President and General Manager of The Training Corporatation in Toronto, Ont. Last year Jim and his wife Jinty travelled throughout Australia and New Zealand with their children Andrew, 11, and Robin, 9.

Jim Schmitt and his wife Pam (nee Welsh) vacationed in Halifax this past summer. Living in Batavia, New York, Jim is employed by Rockefeller College State University of New York at Albany as a Consultant for the New York State Department of Social Services.

After five years with the William Neilson Company, Irwin Simon has accepted a position as Director of Business Development with Haagen-Dazs Company in the state of New Jersey.

David J. Hennigar has been appointed Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors of National Sea Products Limited.

70

Larry Hood, of Thorne Ridell, married Halifax lawyer Nancy Ripley on September 27. Congratulations from the Alumni.

The winner of the "Trip for Two to Halifax" offered at the Annual Dinner of the Toronto Alumni was won by Rick Hayes. Rick and his family made the trip in September and were "quite impressed with the growth and activity around campus, particularly the sports complex. It should make us all proud."

71

Pat Murphy is a Section Supervisor with Correctional Services Canada (Parole) in Moncton, New Brunswick.

Recently discharged from active naval service, William (Billy) Thomas is employed as a Flight Test Engineer with the Hughes Aircraft Company in California. Billy is a group head with Hughes in their Flight Test Department, flight testing the F-14 Tomcat fighter aircraft and its weapons systems.

Chuck LeCain is head of the Social Studies Department and teaches at Bridgewater Jr. and Sr. High School. He is married to Judith (nee Higgins) (B. Comm., '75) and they have two children, John Peter and Elizabeth.

72 DON'T FORGET REUNION WEEKEND OCTOBER 1987

John G. McLaughlin took up a new position this summer as Vice President Operations, Hospital Management and Developments Ltd., for Extendicare in Toronto.

John McCaustlin is a unit manager with the Department of Health and Community Services in Moncton.

Effective September 1, 1986, Fr. Jack Hall, S.J., has been appointed Parish Assistant at St. Pius The Tenth Parish, St. John's, Nfld.

John M. Webb is employed with the Department of Social Services, Province of Nova Scotia. Recently appointed Regional Supervisor for Family Benefits, Halifax Region, John is married with one child, Christopher, 10.

Michael Mullins is a Section Manager — Marketing, with Telecom Canada in Ottawa. He is on a three year loan assignment with Telecom Canada from Maritime Tel in Halifax. Michael and Dorothy have two sons, Michael, 9, and Christopher, 8.

73

Joanne E. Walsh (nee Ward) is a Teacher with the Halifax County-Bedford District School Board. She will be moving to St. Catharines, Ontario for the 1986-87 school year on a one year teaching exchange program.

Lynn Boudreau (nee Landry) (B. Ed., '74) has been a School Teacher at Amirault Hill School in Yarmouth County, N.S. for the past 12 years. Lynn married Gary Boudreau in 1975. They have two children, Jennifer, 9, and Eric, 5.

Tricia Weir is a pension officer with the Federal Government in Shediac, New Brunswick.

The Nova Scotia Racquetball team, that played in the National Championships in Toronto in May, included Ron Maida.

Ed James is a teacher/counsellor at Fort LaBosse School Division in Manitoba and is married to Margaret Heritage, also a teacher. They live in, and are restoring, a historic property known as "The Brotherhood House," in Elkhorn, Manitoba. Ed also runs a photographic business, along with restoring and collecting antique cameras. They were in Halifax this summer and had an enjoyable stay at Saint Mary's University.

74

Margaret Scriven (nee MacEachern) is the proud mother of a new baby, her first, born in January and named Christina. Margaret is living in Toronto and is Head of Personnel with the United Church of Canada.

Ken Clarke is a veteran with the Ottawa Roughriders of the Canadian Football League.

Former Huskies hockey coach, Bob Boucher, was named Coach of the Year in the Nova Scotia

L to R: Cal Bungay, RCMP Superintendent and President of the Nova Scotia Criminology and Corrections Association presents the John Dunlop Memorial Award to Jim Crane.

Senior Hockey League, at the league's annual banquet last June.

At Acadia University's spring graduation William White, of Lower Sackville, N.S., received his Master of Education degree. Congratulations William!

A true entrepreneurial spirit is practiced by Pamela Fortune (nee O'Brien) who has her own accounting business and seems to be starting her own future Saint Mary's Varsity team having had her 3rd son Brian, in 1983 and her 4th, Scott, in 1985.

Donna Frederick (nee Falkenham) is a grade 2 Teacher at Rocky View School, Division #41, Calgary, Donna writes, "Enjoy teaching very much. Mountains are OK but miss the ocean and great people in Halifax." Donna is married to an RCMP Constable, and they have a son. Donna hopes, "all her drinking buddies are OK and will keep in touch."

Tibor (Peter) Lukacs is in his 11th year as a Junior High School Teacher, specializing in the sciences, with the Metropolitan Separate School Board in Islington, Ont.

Victor Thibodeau is employed with Morris & Richard Consulting Eng. Ltd. as an Electrical Engineer. Victor is married with one daughter, Angela. A second child is expected in November.

Alexis Marie Little (nee MacEachern) (B.Ed., '75) works as a Teacher/Librarian in a junior high school for the Halifax County-Bedford District School Board. Alexis and husband Jim have two children, Alexander, 4, and Catherine, 9

Donald F. Rice (B.Ed., '75) is teaching Grade 8 and 9 science at Bridgewater Junior/Senior High School. His own two kids, Jennifer 10, and Timothy 8, are "growing like weeds."

Cathy Hopper Murray is a nurse at the Moncton City Hospital.

Jim Brennan is Regional Marketing Analyst for the Atlantic Provinces for Imperial Tobacco Ltd.

75

Bob Kelly is employed with the Toronto Dominion Bank in London, England. Bob and his wife Rose had their first child, a son, Bradford, on November 29, 1985. Bob has informed us that his son does not speak with an accent, yet! He also completed his MBA at the City University Business School, London, in July, 1986

Employed as a Speech/Language Pathologist for the Lincoln County Board of Education, Brian Smith is also currently enrolled in a doctoral program at Indiana University. He is researching the supervisory process in speech/language pathology and language/learning disabilities.

Scott Grady is sales manager with Moncton Honda Motors.

Vincent J. Marsh has had his own architectural firm, Vincent J. Marsh Architects, in Dartmouth for 3 years.

Bill Robinson is the executive director of the Nova Scotia Sport Heritage Centre in Halifax.

William Smith (B.Ed., '79, BA, '81), living in Fort McMurray, Alberta, is the Controller for Clearwater Concrete (2000) Ltd. William also writes that he is completing his M.Ed. in Administration at the University of Alberta.

Doug (Chugger) Green stopped in at the Alumni Office this past summer on his way through Halifax. Living in Calgary for the past 10 years, Chugger is employed with the Calgary Exhibition & Stampede.

Debbie Reeves is living in New Ross, Nova Scotia, and working in the family business. She is presently Vice-President of Murray Reeves Forestry Limited, and President of M,D&J Reeves Express Ltd.

76

Saint Patrick's High School football team is lucky to have as new coach this year Frances (Buzz) Theriault, a former guard on the Huskies 1973 Football team which was recently inducted into the Nova Scotia Sport Heritage Hall of Fame

Dale Turner is teaching in Moncton, New Brunswick.

W. Christian Robart (B.Ed. '82) left this past August for a two year volunteer teaching assignment in Malawi, Africa, with the World University Service of Canada.

Brenda Knox-Townsend, who is a social worker with the Family and Children's Services of Queens County, had her first child, Sarah Elizabeth, on April 7, 1986.

An alumnus who "often thinks of the good times at SMU" is John Slaunwhite who after working in sales and marketing with Multifoods, a Labatt's subsidiary, has established himself in marketing management with Corporate Foods Limited. He has also established

A passing pigeon proved to be an easy target for one of these triplets in the Public Gardens in mid-July, but her two sisters seemed to have their hearts set on something else. Kelsie, Nicole, and Stephanie Redding, class of 2005, are the daughters of Elizabeth Jardine and Greig Redding (B.Comm., '76).

himself as a parent with the birth of his first child, a son, Robert,

Paul McAdams is an instructor at the Arctic College in Fort Smith, NWT.

Charles G. Owen is an Employment Counsellor with the Public Service, Province of British Columbia.

Agnes Parker (B.Ed. '77), retired Supervisor of Special Programmes, graduated from Dalhousie University with a Master of Education degree in 1986. Agnes continues to keep busy through community volunteer work and five lively grandchildren. "Looking back on my years at Saint Mary's University brings back memories of the many friends' I met there and the quality of education we received. The professors of the English Department were excellent and what I learned from them has helped me in all my studies since that time," she says.

Having lived in Toronto since 1978, Beverley De Bruyn (nee Brown) accepted the position of Executive Director of the Canadian Foundation for the Study of Infant Deaths (SIDS Foundation), in August 1984. Beverley writes, "One of the proudest accomplishments of my life is my degree from Saint Mary's — it took a little longer than normal to get —after a "false start' 20 years before, at Queen's in Kingston."

77 DON'T FORGET REUNION WEEKEND OCTOBER 1987

"There is no place like home!" says Kathy Lynn Taylor (nee Crewe). Since leaving Canada in 1978 Kathy has lived in Manila, Saudi Arabia, Houston, Bombay, and most recently in Dubai, United Arab Emirates. She returns at least once a year "to touch down on good ole N.S. soil." Married in 1978, Kathy has two children, 3 year old Mathew, and 8 month old Caitlin. Future plans for Kathy include some more travel followed by permanent residence in Nova Scotia.

Hector Pothier is an offensive lineman with Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League.

Michel Desy has accepted a position as an Industrial Engineering Officer with Canada Post Corporation Divisional Office, on Bedford Row in Halifax.

On May 31, J. Roger LaRade, S.J. was ordained to the priesthood. After leaving Saint Mary's and entering the Jesuits, Father LaRade spent the usual two years in Guelph, before receiving his MA in Education and Theatre at Gonzaga University, Spokane. He then went on to teach for two years at St. Paul's High School prior to his studies in theology at Regis College, of the Toronto School of Theology.

Although Dr. Sara Gordon has had a career change from journalism and writing to dentistry, she will still have a reporter's view, but this time from new husband Reg Fendick, of the Daily News. Dr. Gordon is dividing her practice between an office she shares with her sister, Elaine, in the Halifax Professional Centre and the new north end Gladstone Professional Centre.

The Nova Scotia Bluenosers, winners of the national masters womens' field hockey championships in August, had two Alumni as members, Joanie Selig (nee Langley) and Susan Dunbrack (nee Beazley). It was virtually the same team that had hosted and won the national senior tournament 11 years ago.

Janet Latter has really been on the move since she left Saint Mary's. She worked in Edmonton for a year as a substitute teacher before coming back to N.S. to work as the co-ordinator of a Learning Disabilities Program for the Yarmouth area. Following this position, she was a teacher of the learning disabled at the elementary level for the City of Dartmouth. In 1985, she participated in a teaching exchange program to Canberra, Australia and travelled extensively in Australia, as well as visiting Tokyo, Hong Kong, Singapore and Tahiti. After a summer of visiting Vancouver and Expo '86, Janet is back at Hawthorne School, in Dartmouth, to teach an elementary L.D. class.

A member of the Saint Mary's Board of Govenors, Jerry Redmond, is now the provincial Deputy Minister in charge of Policy Board.

Leslie Houlihan (nee Simpson) and husband Frank (B.Comm., '76) live in Scarborough, Ont. with their two children, Laura, 4, and Thomas, 2. Leslie keeps a busy schedule between home and aerobics classes while Frank is the Head Office Branch Manager in Toronto for the Bank of Montreal. Frank tells us that he spends his leisure time in traffic tie-ups and playing racquetball at a competitive level.

Leonard Hall is a Peace Officer with the R.C.M.P. in Langley, BC. Leonard and wife Jane have one daughter, Morgan Margaret.

David J. Woodford says he has two all-star defencemen for the Hockey Huskies of future years with the birth of his second son, Timothy Luke on May 22, 1986 in Toronto. Older brother Benjamin will captain the squad, and Dad says he's working on the remainder of the team! Wife Trish Abram (U. of T. grad) says old rivalries die hard and thinks her sons will play for the Varsity Blues! What she hasn't yet discovered is that Huskies pride and loyalty run much deeper and that her boys will, in fact, don the Maroon & White colours.

Malcolm and Rosalyn (nee Lacovetsky) Millar, Bachelor of Commerce graduates are living in Sydney, Nova Scotia. Malcolm is a Chartered Accountant with Doane Raymond in Sydney. Up until the birth of their son, Rosalyn was an Assistant Administrator with the Bank of Commerce.

As provincial men's champion, William Campbell represented Nova Scotia at the 1986 Labatt Brier Canadian Curling Championships. At the Brier William was awarded the Ross Harstrong Memorial Trophy for Sportsmanship and Ability. William is employed with the Province of Nova Scotia Management Board as Coordinator of Program Evaluation.

Carol Denyar, a teacher with the Halifax District School Board, will be teaching in Calgary this year as part of a one year exchange program. Carol's brother Bill Denyar and his wife Sue are pleased to announce the birth of their second son, John Robinson, born June 9, 1986. Bill and family also reside in Calgary.

Congratulations to Cyril John Gillis (B.Ed., '78) and his wife Lynn on the birth of their first child, Kyle Broch, on March 1, 1986. Cyril is presently a Chemistry Teacher with the Inverness District School Board in Port Hawkesbury, Nova Scotia.

On July 19, in Saint John, N.B., Kevin Whelly married Bernadette Pomeroy. Currently residing in Halifax, Kevin is a Financial Consultant with Merrill Lynch of Canada.

78

Bonnie LeFrank, who has been running for six years now and was named Nova Scotia's female athlete of the year for 1985, had to abandon plans to attend the Commonwealth Games due to a knee injury. Bonnie, is part of a family very much involved with Saint Mary's. Her father, Roger (Demon) LeFrank, (BA '50) is retired from the Armed Forces and is now employed with the Post Office in Yarmouth. Bonnie's brother, Andres, is a student at SMU.

Laurie Glenn is currently employed as an Educational Officer with Cumberland County Museum in Nova Scotia.

A baby girl, Stephanie Mary, was born to Jana Gray and husband David (MBA '81) on April 9, 1986.

Barry Abbott, public relations officer at the Atlantic Centre of Support for Disabled Students, has more freedom of movement since acquiring "Atari," his Seeing Eye dog, in April of this year. Barry spent a month at Seeing Eye Incorporated in New Jersey, learning to work with Atari before bringing him home. Barry says it now takes half the time to walk to work with Atari sharing the sidewalk. If you look in Barry's office, you can see Atari stretched out on the floor under his desk — a good place to be on a Friday afternoon around here.

Peter Goosens (B.Sc., '78,BA, '78,B.Ed., '85) is living and working in Holland. For the 1986-87 school year Peter has been appointed The International Baccalaureate Program Coordinator and the Academic Counsellor for subject choices. Peter writes, "Summer in Holland is great this year," however he also informs us that he has not taken advantage of the good weather as he has spent the summer painting and renovating his residence.

Patrick Daly is the Vice-President of Advance Leasing Inc. of Halifax.

Hazel Hemeon is currently working in Northern Alberta, for the Alberta Government, as a Social Worker. After obtaining her Bachelor of Social Work from Dalhousie in 1981 she founded and directed Supportive Action for Women in Bedford for five years. Having also worked at Saint Mary's for a number of years, Hazel would like to say "hi!" to old friends and students.

Camille Cameron, who was both a Dalton Scholar at Saint Mary's and a Beaverbrook Scholar at the University of New Brunswick Law School, practices law with Stewart, MacKeen & Covert in Halifax. In addition to her law practice, Camille will be offering seminars in civil procedure this term at Dalhousie Law School.

79

Jack Dehmel sends this message, "Hi and congratulations to Brenda "Madonna" Boutilier." (see Maroon & White, Summer '86). Since graduating in 1979 Jack has progressed through the Bank of Montreal as Administration Manager, Corporate Auditor, and Personal Loans Officer, to his present position as Branch Manager in St. John's, Nfld.

Anne Uteck (sister of football coach Larry Uteck) has received her law degree from the University of New Brunswick and is articling with the Halifax firm of McInnes Cooper & Robertson.

Dave Rogers, who holds an LL.B. from the University of New Brunswick Law School and an LL.M. from Tulane in Admiralty Law, is an associate of the firm, Gilbert, McGloan, Gillis, Saint John, New Brunswick. Dave is the author of "Admiralty Jurisdiction in Canada: Is There a Need for Reform," Journal of Maritime Law and Commerce, October, 1985. Dave's professional activities have not prevented him from savouring the success of the Boston Red Sox this past summer.

David Miller received his Bachelor of Education degree May 5, 1986 at Acadia University's spring convocation.

Mike Steeves is Branch Operations Manager with Borg-Warner Acceptance Corporation in Moncton.

Mike McWilliam is with the law firm of Anderson, Sheenan & McWilliam in Moncton.

John Nazar and his wife Heather vacationed in Halifax this summer with their first child, Sarah, 3. On September 3, 1986 their wish came true with the birth of their son, Bradley David. John is employed with General Motors in St. Catharines, Ont.

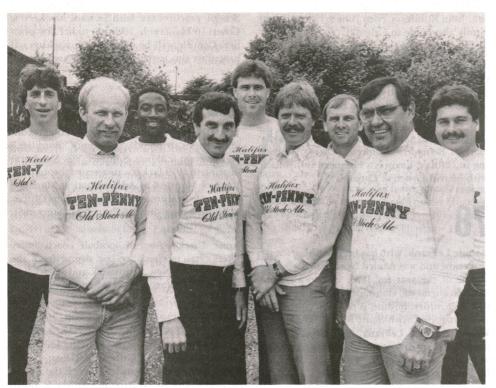

80

Scott MacLean has a new appointment as Manager, Bower Place Mall in Red Deer, Alta.

Jocelyn M. Nixon (nee Howell) is a Police Officer with the Vancouver Police Department. Jocelyn married Ken Nixon, also a Police Officer with the City of Vancouver, on December 14, 1984.

In the last issue of the Maroon & White we reported that Martha Gordon (nee Ellwood) was moving to Beijing, China with her husband on a two year posting with the CAF. Martha writes that their plans have changed and she and her husband have been posted to Ottawa.

Tim Westhaver and Rob Bevans ('81) were assistant directors of the Halifax Herald Modified Marathon Run, held in June, attracting 364

Saint Mary's Alumni have made a name for themselves in recent years playing slow pitch baseball in Nova Scotia. Halifax Ten-Penny won the Fifth Annual James Ready Slow Pitch Tournament in early June. Pictured above are members of the winning team. L to R: Mickey Fox (BA, '76, B.Ed, '77), Rick Hook (B.Ed. '83), Pat Slawter (Dalhousie Grad), Jim Keating ('71), Ross Quackenbush (BA, '83, B.Ed., '84), Bruce Hopkins (B.Comm., '75, B.Ed. '76), Bill Robinson (B.Comm., '75), Dick Loiselle (BA, '68), and Brian Gulazzi (Dalhousie Grad). Missing is John Gallinaugh (B.Comm.'74, B.Ed., '76).

runners, with proceeds turned over to Rainbow Haven

Margaret Kreuse is now a chartered accountant with Peat Marwick Mitchell and Company in Vancouver.

The human resource consulting firm of Robertson-Surrette, (the company was formerly Robertson-Roy) has as a managing partner, Saint Mary's alumnus Mark Surrette.

Carol Tung (nee MacKay) (B.Ed., '81) and husband Willie vacationed in Halifax this Fall. Residing in Toronto, Willie is employed with a florist shop in the Sheraton Centre while Carol is doing some substitute teaching while looking after their new son.

David Beattie, who married Dalhousie nursing graduate Kristina Rawtaharju in October 1985, received a B.Sc. in Geology from Dalhousie in 1983 and worked offshore for 3 years.

81

In the Spring of 1986 Kathy Rogers was elected as a Councillor in the Saint John, N.B. municipal elections. In winning her seat she also has the distinction of being the youngest Councillor ever elected in Saint John. In addition to her public duties Kathy is also the Director of Volunteers with Centrecare Saint John Inc.

Robert Fleming is living in Toronto and working for the Ontario Ministry of Colleges and Universities.

Tarno Lo is working in Toronto as a Chemical Engineer with Plastics PSF Ltd. and living at 48 Jubilee Crescent, Weston, Ontario. He would like to get to know any Saint Mary's alumni members in the Toronto area.

Saint John was the scene for the wedding of Michael A. Sullivan to Julie Dickson in May, 1986. They presently reside in Ottawa.

Graduates from this year admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia, in August, included Cathy Smith, daughter of the late Laurie Smith, and Gavin Giles.

82 DON'T FORGET REUNION WEEKEND OCTOBER 1987

"I just don't see myself in a suit and tie in Ottawa," Walter Rawle (Dip. Eng., '82) said at the end of the article in the May 1982 issue of the Saint Mary's Times. Since that time Walter has gone on to complete his Bachelor's degree and most recently received his Master's in Applied Science from the Technical University of Nova Scotia. Since January he has been working in the area of applied electro-magnetics at the University of Manitoba.

Lynn Connors and Karen Oldfield, both graduates of this class, were admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia in August.

Maria Jose Faria Graca, a Diploma of Engineering graduate, is currently enrolled at the Technical University of Nova Scotia (TUNS).

Gerry Taylor is employed as a Sales Representative in Moncton with Cadbury Schweppes Canada. Michael C. Walsh (MBA, '85), employed with Burroughs as a Computer Programmer, was married to Janet Reardon on August 24, 1985. Gerald "Nick" Walsh (B.Comm., '52) is Mike's Father and Janet is the daughter of Bob "Puddy" Reardon (B.Comm., '61), both wellknown Saint Mary's Alumni.

"After graduating in 1982 I lived in Ireland and Paris for a year," writes Sharon Glynn. Sharon is currently enrolled, since September of 1985, in Law School at the University of Ottawa. This summer she worked for Student Legal Aid, putting some of her legal skills to the test.

Sharon Cunningham, a regular participant in alumni activities, is a Consultant with Heritage Financial Planning in Toronto.

A baby boy, Graham Benjamin, was born to the family of Graham C. Bagnell Jr. in December of 1985. Graham (the father, not the baby) is working as an engineer in Halifax with Rowan Co. Inc.

Jim Polley is working with Van Water & Rogers as a Sales Representative in Moncton.

83

Brett Clements married Dana Martenello, Coordinator of Saint Mary's Conference Office, this past summer. Brett is a Chartered Accountant with Doane Raymond in Dartmouth.

Ross Webb is a member of the Halifax King of Donair soccer team which took part in an allstar soccer game at Huskies Stadium this past summer in benefit of the Grace Maternity Hospital.

Robert Muir has a new position as Consultant, Microcomputer Systems, with Doane Raymond in Halifax.

The University librarian, Ronald Lewis, who has been part of a faculty-student group interested in special teaching aids for blind students, tells us their efforts have now produced a library within a library. The newly named Ferguson Library for Print Handicapped Students, has, through the genorosity of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Ferguson, gained a Kurzweil reading machine.

Kurzweil, a computerized reader, has been programmed with a memory of millions of words, and the ability to scan a sheet of text and, using its sense of recognition and great memory bank, read aloud.

Among the 21 clients using the facility last year, two were Saint Mary's spring graduates.

Harold Shea, an honorary degree recipient, retired as President of the Charitable Irish Society of Halifax in June.

Peter McGill, his wife and four children, have exchanged house and teaching position at the New Brunswick Community College, Saint John Campus Branch, with a fellow teacher from the Camosun Community College in Victoria, BC. Peter is teaching Personnel Administration using a text written by Saint Mary's Dr. Schwind.

Richard Wilson is the Branch Administration Officer with the Royal Bank of Canada in Moncton. A former Director of Liquor Services at Saint Mary's, Richard expects that he will be relocated somewhere in the Maritimes in November, 1986.

John K. Sullivan married Jennifer A. Downie on October 12, 1985 at Canadian Martyr's Church.

Nancy C. Pipes (nee Plant) is a Jr. High School Teacher with the Calgary Board of Education. Nancy gave birth to her first child, a son, Samuel Frederick, July 3, 1986 in Calgary. Congratulations Nancy!

Hiew-Kwang Han is living in Brunei Darussalhm. He is currently employed as an Account Supervisor with The Island Development Bank Berhad.

Bill Allwright (M.Sc., '85), is a Research Assistant in the Department of Physics at McMaster University.

84

Leslie Patriquin (nee Fullerton) married M.Cpl. Kevin Patriquin on May 10, 1986, in Oxford, Nova Scotia. Leslie and Kevin are currently residing in Geilenkirchen, West Germany at the NATO Airbase.

Mitchell Landry received his Bachelor of Education degree from Acadia University on May 5, 1986 at their annual spring convocation. Congratulations Mitchell!

Raymond Johnson is a Supervisor with the Daily News in Halifax. Raymond is married to Shelley Weeks (BA, '82). They have one daughter, Jessica Elizabeth, born December 14, 1985.

85

Leah Fraser is teaching English at a college in Northern China, through an educational services exchange with China. Leah began her second year as a teacher in China this past September.

Choon Lay Poh is a Systems Engineer and Software Consultant in Auckland, New Zealand. Just last winter Choon Lay was a key organizer of a dinner for Dr. Rick Miner, Dean of Commerce, in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Good luck in your new position Choon Lay!

Paul Armstrong obtained his Bachelor of Education degree from Acadia University this past year. Congratulations Paul!

Carolyn Theriault is still at the books, but this time at the University of Toronto where she is taking her Master's in Egyptology.

Having been an entertainer for the past 12 years (Hypnotist, Magician, Escape Artist), Kevin Crowell is in the process of putting together a full stage act, to be titled "The Act of Discovery." Kevin also owns his own company, Crowell International Marketing Associates, specializing in time management and income development.

Saint Mary's provided Donica Pottie with the opportunity to study for two years at Shandong Teachers' University in The Peoples Republic of China which led directly to her recent appointment as Project Coordinator of the Ontario-China Exchange Program at the University of Toronto.

David Gormley was married in May of 86 to Patti Dart of Oakville, Ontario. The wedding, held at Canadian Martyrs Church, helped to reunite the 1985 members of the D. Hope Simpson Geology Club of Saint Mary's.

The Nova Scotia Amateur Kick Boxing Association elected Ken Talbot chairman for 1986-87, at a meeting held in July. Ken, a member of the 1985 grad class executive, is a Bachelor of Arts graduate.

86

The Prince and Princess of Wales Scholarship, valued at $1,500, was awarded to Victor Fraser in late July. The scholarship was established in 1981 as a wedding gift to Prince Charles and Princess Diana to help disabled students gain a post-secondary education.

Vic, considered legally blind, is continuing his studies in the Education Program after completing his BA last spring. He hopes to receive a post-graduate degree in special education. Congratulations Vic!

Angela Webber (nee Mader) is presently employed with the Bank of Nova Scotia in Chester.

I.M.P. Group Limited, has announced the appointment of Stephen Rowe as a management trainee. He will be initially located in head office in Halifax.

In June 1986, Christopher J. Connolly, was recognized as the outstanding graduating Sigma Chi from his area and was named the regional recipient of the Balfour Award, the fraternity's highest honour bestowed upon an undergraduate member. Each of Sigma Chi's 194 campus chapters throughout the U.S.A. and Canada is encouraged to nominate one graduating senior for this award.

The International Balfour Award winner will be selected at the fraternity's 39th annual Leadership Training Workshop in August. TV sportscaster Merlin Olsen, a Sigma Chi alumnus from the Utah State University, was the 1962 recipient of the International Balfour Award. Good Luck Christopher!

Michael Shane who graduated magna cum laude, majoring in History, plans to attend Dalhousie University Law School this fall.

Angela Drake, a Bachelor of Commerce graduate in 1986, is employed with the Office of the Auditor General of Nova Scotia.

The University of Missouri's (Columbia Campus) top scholorship, The Higgins Fellowship, has been awarded to David Dobson. This Fall David commenced graduate studies in English and Creative Writing at the University. The Higgins Fellowship is valued at over $8,000 per year for a three year period. In addition, David also received an Arts & Science Scholarship. Congratulations David!

Heather Louise Brown received a Graduate Fellowship from Dalhousie University and is pursuing a Masters Degree in Public Administration.

Hartford Manning has received a Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council Scholarship and will continue his studies towards a Ph.D. in chemistry at the University of Alberta.

Deaths

Douglas Joseph MacLellan, 39, ('70) died Monday, July 7, 1986 in the Halifax Infirmary. He was former principal of William Ross and Humber Park schools, in Halifax County.

Martin Gill, 23, ('86) died of pneumonia, in Edmonton, on Saturday, August 16, 1986. Martin, a former goaltender for the Cole Harbour Dairy Queen Scotia Colts, was paralysed in a diving accident in Alberta in 1983. He had come home, to Saint Mary's, to receive his Commerce Degree at the May convocation.

Ernie MacArther, 28, ('79), who had been practicing law in Vancouver, died in July of this year.

Margaret Horsham ('77) of Kingston, Jamaica died on April 1, 1986.

Douglas J. Dixon ('73) died in June, 1986 in his hometown of Sudbury, Ontario.

Catherine A. Donkin ('74) deceased.

Dr. C. Henry Reardon, a student at Saint Mary's College in the early 1940's, died Monday, October 13, 1986 in Halifax. After graduating from Dalhousie Medical School in 1945, he practiced medicine in Halifax until 1980. During that time he held a number of positions in the medical field, one of these being the Director of Student Health at Saint Mary's University.

He was active in the community and served as a member of the Nova Scotia Legislature from 1956-63. He was past president of the Halifax Lions Club; Director of the Nova Scotia Hearing and Speech Clinic; a member of the Annapolis Royal Heritage Society, the Royal Canadian Legion, Cornwallis chapter, and the Knights of Columbus. Dr. Reardon also served terms as a member of the Board of Governors of Dalhousie and Saint Mary's Universities.

In 1984 Pope John Paul II bestowed on Dr. Reardon the Medal Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice in recognition of his distinguished service and dedication to the church.

Alumni Calendar

November

Southwestern Ontario Chapter Annual Dinner November 22, 1986, 6:30 p.m. Oakham House, Ryerson Campus 63 Gould Street Toronto, Ontario

Ottawa Alumni Wine & Cheese Reception November 27, 1986, 6:00 p.m. Commonwealth Room, 2nd Floor Centre Block Parliament Hill

December

Alumni Family Skate Christmas Party December 14, 1986, 1-3 p.m. Saint Mary's University Alumni Arena

February

New England Alumni Gathering Boston, Mass. Details T.B.A.

April

MBA Annual Business Luncheon Saint Mary's University Details T.B.A.

Alumni Cruise April 4-11, 1987 Goliger's Travel with Holland America Line

Alumni Association Annual Meeting April 23, 1987 Saint Mary's University

At the Art Gallery

November 6 - December 14, 1986 Susan Gibson: Ten Years

January 9 - February 8, 1987 The 7th Annual Faculty, Alumni, Student & Staff Art Exhibition (Alumni submissions encouraged)

February 17 - March 22, 1987 Jane Shaw: Watercolours, 1937-1987

April 1 - May 15, 1987 The Expressionist Image: Drawings by Carol Fraser Live Art Program
Fridays at 12:30 p.m.

November 21, 1986 Susan Gibson discusses her work

November 28, 1986 Fool's Paradise Returns (Mime & Theatre Production)

Evening Performances

The Halifax Chamber Musicians: The Gallery Series

December 7, 1986 February 1, 1987 March 15, 1987

November 27, 1986 "Consonare" with composer & Musician Sandy Moore
All concerts commence at 8 p.m.

Alumni Family Skate

Sunday, 1-3 p.m. November 2 - March 22, 1987 Saint Mary's Alumni Arena Halifax, Nova Scotia

Need More Information?

Please contact
Tom McDonell, Halifax (902) 429-9780
Paul Lynch, Halifax (902) 434-1366
Danny McCarthy, Toronto (416) 922-3358
Margaret Crook, Ottawa (613) 234-9439
Michel Arseneau, Montreal (514) 526-5687
Graham Black, Saint John, N.B. (506) 657-7908
Bob Warner, Moncton, N.B. (506) 386-7652

Alumni Executive Elections

The Saint Mary's Alumni Executive has instructed the Nominating Committee to begin it's search for candidates to sit on the Alumni Association Executive for the term beginning in May, 1987. If you are interested in serving your Alumni Association as a member of the executive, please get in touch with a current executive member for further details.

What's New?

Please update our records! Are you planning a move? Have you been promoted? Are you . . . ? If it is important to you, it is of interest to us. Keep us in the know.

Name	Year(s) of Graduation & Degree(s)
	Occupation
	Employer
	•••••
Telephone
Personal News for Snippets	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·