

CASEY SUSPENDED FROM BOARD

MARY BETH WALLACE
Staff Writer

Student Disciplinary Board Chairman, Jay Casey, has been temporarily removed from that position for the hearings of students charged with multiple voting.

An unknown number of students will be charged by the SDB this year for "not upholding the laws of the country" by voting more than once in the recent SRC elections.

The recommendation that these students be charged evolved at Council meeting February 14th in the wake of a debate on the election of the Vice-President External Affairs. The election of this position was declared null and void and the election re-held because of allegations that students were abusing their voting privileges.

Casey, who was present at the meeting, stated that he felt it was the fault of the "system" and not of the students if some of them had voted more than once. Casey said he did not feel these students should be charged.

In reference to this statement, Director of Internal Affairs, Rod Doiron, moved at a Council meeting February 20th, that Casey be removed from the SDB on the occasion it hears these charges.

Council unanimously accepted Doiron's motion.

It was subsequently moved that Grad Rep Bill MacLeod be enstated as Chairman in Casey's absence. This motion was withdrawn when it was pointed out that Council does not have the right to appoint the Chairman.

It was then passed that MacLeod be temporarily enstated as a member and that the SDB members elect a Chairman from amongst themselves.

THE JOURNAL

PUB UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

BOBBY ORR
Staff Writer

The Gorsebrook Lounge is once again under new management. At a Pub Board of Directors meeting, held on February 18th, the Board decided unanimously to ask Harold Denton for his resignation, which they received on the next day.

The Directors then voted to have Bruce Ross and Sandy Stevens take over the running of the Pub until a new Bar Manager could be hired.

Ross told the JOURNAL that he had no plans of staying at the Gorsebrook beyond the middle of April, discounting Denton's claim that Ross had been the main reason for his being fired. Denton claims that Ross wanted the Managers job for the summer.

Ross further said that this was untrue because he could make more money as a waiter than he could as Manager, and that he already had job offers for more money when he graduates this spring.

The Pub Board of Directors sighted Denton's incompetence for his dismissal.

Several incidents where liquor arrived late for bashes and special events, his sloppy handling of Pub money, and discontent among the staff, were pointed out at the closed meeting and the seven members of the BOG agreed that this incompetence could no longer be accepted.

Denton had been warned several times that his job was in jeopardy.

The appointments of February 18th saw Ross take over the day-to-day running of the Pub while Stevens took over the book keeping chores.

PUB LAUNCHES NEW VENTURE

BOBBY ORR
Staff Writer

New Pub manager, Bruce Ross, has started a new enterprise in the Gorsebrook, and to date it has been quite successful.

The showing of movies filled the Pub on three consecutive nights during the slow period of March break. Ross gives the credit for the large crowds to the new form of entertainment.

The 75¢ cover charge allowed people to view the movies "Willard," "King Kong," and "Candy." On Tuesday, March 4th Three Stooges movies were shown in the Gorsebrook and Ross told the JOURNAL that it was the biggest Tuesday crowd the Pub has ever had.

Another new diversion that Ross hopes to set up in the Pub is a Mug Club.

Members of the Club would have their own personalized mugs, which they would be served with in the Pub and would be allowed to take with them when they graduate from the University.

Ross told the JOURNAL that this is not a sure thing as of yet because he is still checking on prices of mugs.

Also, he said there would be a continuation problem. When a new Bar Manager is hired, he may not want to keep up with the Mug Club.

He also said the number of members in the Club would be limited to keep it exclusive, and membership would be around $20.

LIBRARY COMPLETED SOON

With construction of the new library facility now approximately 70% complete the contractor has revised his completion date to June 15, 1975.

As of December 31, 1974, the contractor submitted progress claims valued at $1,920,000 and allowing for a 15% hold back has been paid a total of $1,632,000. The University has received two installments from the Province of Nova Scotia for a total of $1,263,418.46. As agreed by the Province these payments were approved when the project was 25 and 50% complete.

The University expects to submit a claim for the third installment upon receipt of the January claim from the contractor.

As of December 31, 1974, a total of 19 change orders have been issued and approved. These changes represent a net extra to the contractor of $33,548.00.

The major changes were: extra length of water main pipe and Public Service Commission charge (extra $1,851.89), extension of Walker Duct (electrical) outlets from 1" to 3" (extra $2,151.38), revision of washrooms in elevator core, all levels (extra $9,029.02), removal of extra rock (extra $3,948.00), primary service revisions (extra $5,963.90), installation of new yard drainage line (extra $18,535.00), deletion of skylights over reserve reading room and addition of lighting (extra $4,736.80) revisions to second and third floors (extra $4,451.00), installation of ceiling in the elevator core washroom (extra $1,905.75), and change from carpet to hard tile in lounge area (extra $1,047.00).

During the past several months the Library Building Committee have been attempting to provide an estimate of the expenditure required to complete the construction of the new library and also to recommend expenditures for items not covered in the present contract which it feels are needed in order to provide the University with the type of facility required to service the needs of present and projected programs.

Estimated costs for completion of the building under the existing contract total $3,019,162.00. This figure represents, in the Committee's view, the minimum expenditure required to complete items covered in existing contracts.

These expenditures do not provide for furnishings (other than the shelving), a library security system, a Multi-Media Centre, or landscaping (additional to contract landscaping) which totals about an additional $187,000.00.

The supplementary items noted above are not covered by any existing contracts or commitments and as such are not part of the construction costs. As stated previously, the Library Building Committee feels that these items should be considered within the total context of providing a complete library facility and that priority should be assigned to the items as listed.

In addition to the above items, consideration should also be given at this time to the feasibility of installing a centralized electrical distribution system for the buildings in the immediate area of the new library facility. This Committee proposal would involve an additional expenditure of $32,000.00.

If all of these recommendations are excepted, and the Library Building Committee wants the recommendations considered a package, the new Library could end up costing the University over three-and-a-quarter million dollars!

HAITIANS DEPORTED

Fifteen hundred Haitians living in Montreal have been ordered deported by the Canadian government. Also threatened with deportation is Rosie Douglas, a member of the Committee Against the Deportation of the Haitians and a respected leader of the Black community.

The situation is urgent! If deported, the Haitians could be jailed or sentenced to death by the Duvalier dictatorship.

The Committee Against the Deportation of the Haitians was formed on January 30, and is open to all individuals and organizations opposed to the deportations.

A variety of activities is planned by the committee to inform the public about the deportations and to pressure the government to reserve its policies.

The committee has also issued a call for protest demonstrations across the country on May 10.

ASIAN STUDIES TO VISIT CHINA

Saint Mary's University has announced that it is planning a four week study-and-travel visit to China as part of its Asian Studies Program. The trip will be part of a full credit course to be offered under the auspices of the Saint Mary's summer school.

The course will take students into China to view developments in that Country at first hand.

The students will be given an intensive week of orientation prior to entering the People's Republic of China, and on departure another week will be devoted to analysis and interpretation of individual experiences.

This study of China's development under communism will be undertaken from a variety of disciplines including history, economics, geography, politics, sociology and the arts.

The itinerary will include such places as Canton, Shanghai, Hangchoi, Yenan, Sian, Shih-chia-chuang, Peking and Kueilin.

The course will be conducted by Dr. Mary Sun, Chairman of Saint Mary's Asian Studies Program.

EDITORIAL

On March 5, the new Students Council met in the first official SRC meeting of the 1975/76 term. The meeting was routine; signing authority was transferred, Rules of Order accepted, committees established and the usual best wishes expressed by the old council and University Rep. Ken Bendelier.

The meeting was routine, but it was not orderly. It was characterized by an unnecessary degree of confusion, not the least of which was displayed by President Greg McHugh.

McHugh had an inadequate and inexcusable knowledge of parliamentary procedure. He thus failed to run the meeting efficiently and provided very little leadership in directing his council on important matters.

McHugh will undoubtedly develop sufficient knowledge and experience throughout the coming year.

But he will not become a strong and dynamic leader.

This is in contrast to the past president, John Stuart.

Following this editorial is a letter from Stuart to the JOURNAL. In a last desperate stab at procuring some credability before leaving Saint Mary's, Stuart, in his letter, holds himself up as a martyr to the cause of good student government.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Last year's council (which John Stuart affectionately refers to as "my") did not fulfill its potential because it was consistently harassed by conflicts and legalities which sapped a wasteful amount of its energies.

These conflicts were caused, in the main, by the executive of the SRC, under Stuarts effective Leadership who constantly overstepped their legal bounds.

Stuart was indeed harrassed at times.

But the purpose was not to stifle his imagination or leadership. It was to keep him from abusing the rights invested in him by the students.

Stuart says the allegations that he abused his privilege are "unfounded".

If so, why can he not disprove the great majority of them?

At one meeting during the past year Council passed a motion of non-confidence in the president and called for his resignation because he could not or would not account for a long list of charges against him.

He did not even have the courtesy to officially rebut the charges. Nor would he present a statement to Council explaining why he felt justified in refusing to resign.

Stuart correctly states that students at SMU have more rights than they do in any other university in Canada. This situation can only last as long as we exercise our rights in a responsible fashion.

"Why can't we learn to use it?" he asks.

Stuart did not use his rights. He abused them.

John Stuart was a strong dynamic president. He was uncontrollably strong in fact.

Greg McHugh has not displayed such dynamic tendencies. But at least I believe he will keep his council informed of his motives and actions.

McHugh will not be providing the students with the strong leadership on which Stuart prides himself.

And its a good thing.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER
GREG MCHUGH

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all the students who assisted me in my recent presidential campaign.

The success of my campaign can be attributed to the efforts of those hard-working students who worked many hours with me on pictures, posters and platforms. I can only say that I will do my best to represent them, and hope to prove that their hard work was not in vain.

Secondly, I would like to thank the students of St. Mary's University for their support in electing me as President of Student's Council. Representing 2,300 students is a very honorable position, one which I am very proud to hold. I believe your faith in myself will not be wasted, as I plan to act on your behalf in all the endeavours which your Council puts forth.

As of March 1st my official term as President began. If the joint victories of our hockey team and basket ball team over the weekend are any indication of the year ahead, then St. Mary's students can be very optimistic of an interesting and fulfilling future.

You, the students of St. Mary's University, have made me part of this exciting year ahead. I hope we can work together as one unit in the year ahead, giving everyone the feeling that they really belong at St. Mary's.

Dear Editor:

During the past year, I often became very frustrated and discontented in my position as President of the St. Mary's Student Union. In speaking to my predecessors I was informed that this was a natural phenomena which they had all existed with. This is a serious problem, as it often stifles the President, the result of which is less imaginative policy proposals going to Council.

I believe this year that your S.R.C. was able to produce some positive programs, even though I was continually harrassed about supposed conflicts of interest, mismanagement of funds and a host of other mis-founded allegations.

The new insurance policy which my council passed will be going into operation on September 5, of next year, this may seem to the casual on-looker as a straight forward policy inactment, but it took nearly one year from the date which I introduced this policy for it to be inacted by council. The reasoning behind this type of bureaucracy, escapes me in a structure the size of the S.R.C. Part of the problem lies in the members of the S.R.C., in this years council we have members who missed every meeting with the exception of one or two. Yet these members are right in there to complain, when something goes through council which they do not approve of.

Residence provided the council with another weak link to the students, repeatedly I tried to get people in these areas involved, but it finally required the appointment of a council. The success of this council in residence was also very limited because of poor organization and apathy by the residence students.

The two hardest components for a student government to acquire are continuity and creditability. I believe this is still the case with our student union. This year we set-up a system where-by every council member could receive $200.00 for his, or her years work. The payment of this fund was to be determined by a committee, selected by the S.R.C. and the decisions of

DISCOVER CANADA THIS SUMMER

Why not discover a part of Canada this year? - participate in the CONTACT CANADA program this summer and you will be able to explore in depth your choice of one of the following centres: St. John's, Newfoundland; Quebec, Quebec; Toronto or Thunder Bay, Ontario; Winnipeg-St. Boniface, Manitoba; Regina, Saskatchewan; Calgary Alberta; or Vancouver, British Columbia.

Contact Canada is an international exchange program, essentially educational, sponsored by the Secretary of State. Its purpose is "to provide an opportunity for young Canadians and foreign youth to broaden their knowledge of Canada, to strive toward mutual understanding and to further their own personal development".

The program lasts for three weeks. Session I is July 3-23 and Session II is August 1-23 - you have your choice of session. The first 17 days are spent in the region and the final 4 days the 9 groups from all regions meet in Ottawa. The 4-day program in Ottawa will emphasize the bilingual nature of Canada.

The stay in the region is divided into 3 parts. There is an educational session during which the participants learn about the social, cultural, economic, and political characteristics peculiar to the session area. There is a homestay period which the participant spends living with a family in the area.

The purpose of the homestay is to acquaint the participant with a community different from his own and at the same time to share differences, intraditions and culture with the host family. And there is a camping period - often the best part of the program as the experience of sharing and working together builds tremendous group spirit and solidarity.

Contact Canada is for people age 18 to 23 who are interested in learning about Canada and about other countries by meeting foreign participants. Each participant is, in effect, a good will ambassador so participation involves a certain amount of responsibility. The groups consist of 20 people - 10 Canadians and 10 foreigners. The cost to each participant for the three week program is $25.00 plus the cost of transportation from home to the session area. All other expenses including air fare home from Ottawa at the end of the program are covered by the Secretary of State.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES IN EUROPE

If you are a college student looking for a job you may end up working in Europe. Any student between the ages of 17 and 27 can have a temporary job in Europe. Most openings are in hotels, resorts, offices and restaurants in Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, Spain and Switzerland. Positions are available to all college students who submit their applications by mail in time to allow for processing permits and working papers.

Working periods vary from 60 days to one year, but some students have stayed longer. As no previous experience or foreign language is required, the door is open to anyone within the age limits. Wages range from $250 to more than $450 a month, plus free room and board, leaving wages free and clear.

In addition to living new experiences, and seeing Europe while you can, working in Europe offers the chance to travel on a pay-as-you-go basis without really being tied down. At several reunions recently held by students who had worked in Europe, the most heard comment was, "The experience alone was worth it".

Jobs and working papers are provided on a non-profit basis, and brief orientations are given in Europe just prior to going to work. These packed sessions speed adjustment to Europe and make certain all goes well on the job.

Any student interested in a temporary job in Europe may write directly to SOS - Student Services, 22 Ave. De la Liberte, Luxembourg, Europe. Requests for job listings and an application must include your name, address and one dollar or the equivalent in stamps or international postal coupons.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO MAKE A CAREER OUT OF A SUMMER JOB.

Once upon a time there was a student who selected herself out of a summer job. (Oh no, we're not just picking on girls. We've seen guys do it, too.) She wanted to be an architect, this kid. So she held out for a job that had something to do with architecture. None came along that year, and by the time she decided to settle for something else, it was too late. All the jobs were gone. So was her first year's tuition.

Moral: Don't hold out for the impossible dream.

Who knows. Your Canada Manpower Centre might introduce you to a whole new field. Maybe you'll like your summer job so much you'll want to make a career out of it someday.

HAVE A YOUNG SUMMER.

SEND DAVIS A NICKLE AND SAVE THE ENVIRONMENT

A province-wide campaign has been started to get people to send Premier Bill Davis a nickel, and the Tory bag-men aren't behind it.

But that's what Pollution probe of Ottawa and Toronto and other members of the Garbage Coalition are asking Ontarions to do.

The coalition is asking people to send Davis a nickel, the deposit on one returnable bottle, to show their opposition to the recent decision of his government not to ban non-returnable bottles.

"The Environment Ministry's own Solid Waste Task Force Report shows conclusively that a system of soft drink packaging using only returnable bottles would save Ontario consumers over $7.7 million every year" said George Matheson, one of the campaign organizers.

He said a ban on non-returnables would also save a significant amount of energy and non-renewable resources used in manufacturing, would reduce litter and provide increased employment.

"In light of this evidence, the recent announcement by Environment Minister William Newman not to ban non-returnables is irresponsible. We are calling upon Premier Davis to overturn this disastrous policy," said Matheson.

The major

The major thrust of the campaign will be a mobile display caravan moving across Ontario in the first two weeks in March. A forty foot tractor trailer will house a walk-through display showing the social and environmental benefits of a return to returnables.

The expected 8,000 visitors will be urged to send Davis one nickel, symbolizing their concern for the environment.

The Garbage Coalition will also present a collection of nickels to Davis at Queen's Park in Toronto on March 17, and will urge him to use the money to print new regulations banning non-returnables.

"If enough people write to the premier on this issue, we are confident the government will change its policy. The facts are so clearly on our side," Matheson said.

CHAPLAINCY SERVICES

Chaplaincy Service on campus wish to announce the opening of "The Chaplaincy Centre" (Room 205) in the Academic Residence Complex, located on the same corridor as Father Hennessey's apartment, Counselling Services and across from the laundromat.

It is the hope of the Chaplains on the campus that this room will be used by residence and day students as a coffee drop-in -- a quiet pleasing atmosphere where studens can lounge or study, talk and meet other students.

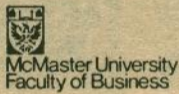

More formal activities such as meetings could also take place there as the Newman Community on campus uses the room in an ongoing way.

Residence students will find the room accessible to them through the Dons, who have agreed to sign out for the key. There is a time grid on the door. Please sign out your time on the grid to insure that you will be able to use the room at that specific time.

Day students may contact the chaplains on campus for the key; Fr. Jerry Herauf, SC 414 (local 211) and Rev. Wayne Gritter, SC 402 (local 194).

As the use of the room grows, it may be necessary to have someone on hand to act as host in short time segments.

If you are interested in this, please contact the chaplains indicated above.

Part-time

McMaster University now has a third option for students interested in proceeding to a Master of Business Administration degree: a co-operative option, whereby students alternate four-month periods of study and relevant work experience. A limited number of applications will be accepted for the semester beginning in September, 1975.

Co-op

An MBA degree from McMaster could help you to achieve your career objectives in the areas of management, administration, and education because the McMaster MBA program offers a wide range of optional courses (that can be selected to your needs) as well as providing a core of basic knowledge and skills. Although admission is restricted to those who have proven that they have the potential and commitment required to complete a demanding program, graduates in any discipline may be accepted.

Full-time

Academic standing is not the only entry criterion but, as a general rule, you can have a reasonable expectation of completing the McMaster MBA program if you have maintained at least a second-class standing in the last two years of your undergraduate program and if you can achieve a satisfactory test score in the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business.

Part-time

Applicants for the McMaster MBA who have taken relevant course work may be granted advanced standing in our program. If you are interested in exploring this challenging opportunity further, fill in and mail this form.

ED McBRIDE: FOURTEEN HAPPY YEARS

NEIL SAMPSON
Staff Writer

Edward J. McBride has been teaching university for fourteen years, and anyone who knows him can sense from his manner that they have been fourteen happy years.

Professor McBride joined the faculty of St. Mary's in September 1967, following six years instructing at St. Francis College in Pennsylvania. He described that institution as "a small liberal arts college of approximately fifteen hundred."

How would a man some 2500 miles away come to know about St. Mary's? The answer to this query is simple--chance.

The McBride's were married in 1965 and travelled to Nova Scotia during a three month summer honeymoon. While in Halifax they went on a tour of the city which ultimately led to a stop at St. Mary's.

"Right from the start," McBride said in a manner only found with someone who sincerely cherishes this university, "St. Mary's appealed to me."

So much was this the case that two years subsequent to his first visit McBride was still thinking of the university and decided to contact Dr. Dalton, then chairman of the Political Science Department. This eventually led to a phone call asking him to come to Halifax for an interview.

It was for personal reasons that Ed McBride chose to come to St. Mary's. Not only did he have great respect for Dr. Dalton, but in the three months he spent here he grew fond of Nova Scotia

"It is by the sea and Halifax is a pretty city," an appreciation that locals take for granted.

The sense of scale appealed to McBride's aspirations as well. "It is large enough to sustain fairly ambitious projects, but small enough to maintain a decent student-teacher ratio and spirit." He goes on to say that, "it is a rare bond, but it does need constant care, but one important thing is that we are doing it together."

"Even students who go on to grad schools and careers," he adds, "tend not to sever their ties with St. Mary's and this makes one feel good."

Professor McBride has "a long standing interest in the operational side of politics."

His high spot in the field was the Kennedy campaign in 1960, in particular in New York state where he worked with local democrats.

McBride was born in Utica, N.Y. and he inherited his interest from his family, who took great interest, "in the fortunes of one Democratic Party in New York state."

McBride was studying politics in Washington at the Catholic University of America during the first year of the Kennedy administration.

He tends to view politics as "an essentially conciliatory vocation," and as such regards the two great enemies of politics as "violence and ideological rigidity."

He likes to label himself as a "prudential liberal" a phrase he coined himself as opposed to "whatever McGovern was."

McBride considers himself a Nova Scotian now and although he probably will return to Pennsylvania next year--he will be on sabbatical--he and his wife will look forward to returning.

McBride will make good use of his year for he is presently working on two books. One is actually a three-part project to go hand in hand with his course on Canadian and American Comparative Constitutional Law. It will consist of a case book, a book of readings, and a book of techniques, which will help the student write briefs. He has been working on this project for four or five years and expects to have the book of techniques ready in the next few months, with the other two to follow within a few years.

It is on the second project that McBride talks of with affection. The book, to be titled--"President John F. Kennedy: A Professional Point of View," is an assessment of the Kennedy presidency according to the professional perspective brought to bear by political scientists."

The material for this book is fully assembled and four chapters are in rough draft.

The book itself is "organized around a standard approach to the presidency dealing with the various rolls,

PRESIDENT

Belinda Davis

I am a third year Arts student with a major in Political Science and English. Next year will be my third year living in Saint Mary's Residence. In the past two years I have become involved with the intricate running of this residence complex. My first year was spent meeting people and "learning the ropes". This year I am a don, Editor of the Residence Life, and am studying the "tone of life in residence".

In the past this residence has been a 'good' place to live. There has been a community atmosphere and a university spirit. Although the number of students in residence has increased, this mood

FRANK STEWART

For those of you that do not know me, I am running as President of the Resident Society. Having lived here for two years, I feel that this is the main qualification for running for this position. I feel that some things should be changed in Residence. The main problem is the food in the Resident Cafeteria. Until the food becomes of better quality and service, they will be the main problem of living in Residence.

Also, I feel that other things that we need in Residence are:

1. Cable Television
2. A place where people can store valuables for over the summer should still be here.

I am running for the position of President of the Residence Society for precisely this reason. I feel that Saint Mary's Residence has a good deal of potential to once again become a community, but I feel this is only possible through a strong Residence Society.

Shortly before the nominations opened, I met three other active, and interested persons who feel the same way that I do about the residence. We hope that we can serve you in the coming year. Your support is needed both in the election and in the coming year.

Remember, IT'S TEAMWORK THAT WORKS

- holiday
- 3. Old games room should be re-opened
- 4. A freshman day during Orientation week
- 5. Complaint box
- 6. More washers and dryers
- 7. Stricter control of outside visitors causing damage
- 8. Money from the Resident Judicial Board should go back into the hands of the Resident Society, not the Students Council.

These are some of the things I would like to see changed in Residence. Please vote for me and my running mates during the election March 12th.

VICE-PRESIDENT

I decided to seek office in the Residence Council because I feel that this year, residence was not what I expected. A University Residence is quite unlike any other thing in the world. It is a place, where for eight months, you will love people, hate people, and learn to live with different people. It is the place you expect to study in and learn in and it is also the place you expect to have some good times in. I am sure you will agree with me that our residences could use a lot of improvement. If this year the orientation had been a bit better, if the food had been a little easier to take, if there had been some kind of outside activities within the residence them we all would have enjoyed this place a hell-of-a-lot more.

I have joined forces with three other competent people, two of whom I did not know before the election, to try and improve the place we all live in. We met through mutual friends and found out we were all striving for the same things. All I ask for is a chance; together with you we can accomplish something positive. So on Wednesday, March 12th, I ask you to consider the phrase "It's teamwork that works", and vote for a better place to live in.

ALEX "KILLER" O'HANDLEY

Hello, My name is Alex "killer" O'Handley and I'm running for Vice-President of the Residence Society. As Vice-President I will work in co-operation with the President and the other members of the Council to the best of my ability.

There seems to be a great lack of support in St. Mary's for athletics and other student activities. I feel that by bringing back minor sports such as I, V. teams and a little more concentration on such as Volleyball, Wrestling, Curling, etc., more people will become involved. A communication board to keep residence students informed of what is happening could also be set up.

With these few points in mind, I urge you to come out and vote on Wednesday.

VOTING STATION

RESIDENT SOCIETY ELECTIONS

TREASURER

DAVID MACKELLAN (SMILEY)

I would like to introduce myself as your candidate for Resident Society Treasurer. Seeing that I have lived in Residence for three years, I feel qualified to run for this position and I know where the main part of our budget should go. The amount of this budget hasn't been determined yet, since the Student Council prepares their budget for September, which is actually given out by them to us.

Orientation Week this year, I feel, wasn't what it should have been. The Past Resident Society had nothing to do with this, since they came into office the middle of October and for the remainder of the year they only had a budget of $1,500 to work with. This budget went mainly towards the skating parties, which cost approximately $200 each time.

The Hen Fest is another big item on the budget, since this is strictly for Residence people. This even can not take place without your support. I feel myself and my running mates will do everything possible to make this, the event of the year.

Thank you for your support and the best of luck to my running mate.

MIKE ARSENAU

I am a second year Commerce Student and my interest for this election, although always there, has now really come to mean something important to me. My initial concern to get involved with the Residence Committee was stirred by the appalling lack of an organized orientation program and I seriously believe that this was the root cause of any apathetic feelings that many people felt existed among the residence students this year. It was with this in mind that I filed nomination papers, but since then I have become involved with three other energetic and experienced workers who opened my eyes to excellent ideas as to how life in residence can be further improved beyond the original orientation week, where hopefully St. Mary's students will learn to appreciate and respect their residence as a home away from home, and a great Place to live and meet new friends. So on Wednesday, March 12, please consider your choices carefully and vote for the people who will work hard and cooperate to give the students what they want. Remember:

"IT'S TEAMWORK THAT WORKS!!!!!!"

BY McFETRIDGE

SECRETARY

LOIS MCCARRON

My name is Lois McCarron and I'm running for Secretary of the Residence Society. Since about 40% of Saint Mary's Students live here in residence, our campus isn't just a place for us to visit when our timetables say it would be convenient to show up. It's much more - we have to live here for at least eight months and we must try to make the best of it.

What can and will help is a strong and active residence society - and I want to be a part of it. I am willing to devote much time and effort not only in my first few weeks in office, but all year through. I will be here throughout the summer to plan an orientation program whose key is involvement.

What SMU Residence needs is policies, not promises. I hope you read our platforms and make your vote wisely. Action not apathy is what we need. Your co-operation is needed so please get out and vote. Just remember:

"It's Teamwork that works!"

Thank you.

HAYES NICHOLSON

After two years in residence life I feel that its time a few changes took place. My name is Hayes Nicholson and I'm running for Secretary on the Residence Society.

If elected I'll write to Dalhousie, St. F.X., etc., to find out new ideas that they might have that will help St. Mary's Residence. Also, I'm going to prepare a survey which will ask residence students about the changes they'd like to see in residence.

If elected, I'll work in full co-operation with Father Hennesey and the staff of the Residence Society.

WILL YOU BE WEARING THIS BUTTON WHEN YOU GRADUATE THIS SPRING?

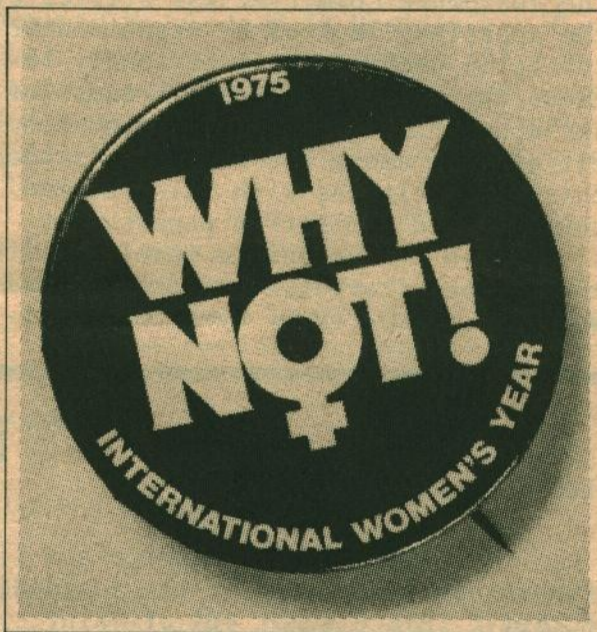

Canada has one of the finest educational systems in the world. But many Canadian employers unjustifiably underpay some very well-educated graduates of that system. Women.

A 24-year-old male, leaving university with a degree, earns on the average 19 per cent more in his first job than a woman of the same age with the same degree. A male high-school graduate can expect an average 34.2 per cent more than the equivalent female graduate. It just isn't right.

It just isn't right, either, that long before graduation, some schools still insist on channelling girls into home economics classes and boys into industrial arts.

Some girls make excellent mechanics and engineers. Some boys make excellent designers and chefs. Why curb their natural talents?

There is no logical reason why we should. Equal educational opportunities are guaranteed us under law, but there are prejudices and precedents. Society expects women to cook and sew because it expects them to get married one day. Don't men get married too? Maybe they should learn household skills as well.

When it comes to employment, the same kind of archaic thinking brings us less pay and recognition. Certainly women get married, but many keep on working. Of some three million women working in Canada today, more than 50 per cent are married. Why are they being paid less than their husbands? Because they are married? How about a single working woman? It costs her as much to live as a single working man. So why is she also being forced to live on less? Particularly when 50.0 per cent of all Canadian women in the labour force, having completed their high-school education, have gone on to take post-secondary training, compared to 39.3 per cent of the men. So no one can use the excuse that working women are less qualified.

The entire situation must change. But if it is to change, we have to start thinking of ourselves as equals. And demanding that others do, too. We have to teach our children to think differently. Because they are the next generation of educators and homemakers, employers and employees. We must break down the barriers of prejudice for ourselves and remove them entirely for our children.

If you would like more information on International Women's Year and the status of women in Canada, all you have to do is write us at: "WHY NOT!", OTTAWA, ONT., K1A 0A3.

The book, which will be completed within the next two years, will serve both an academic as well as a broader public purpose because it will be "a measurement of that individual president against the institutional standards held by the professionals."

McBride is an avid sports fan and peppers his lectures with analogies.

"It took two perfect throws to get him ...then it was worth it," refers to Richard Nixon and is only one of many such anecdotes.

Needless to say, McBride is a Huskie fan and attends games regularly. His father was a professional athlete (baseball) and during his college career at Colgate University of New York he was a three sport varsity player; being captain of both the basketball and baseball teams in addition to being the football team's quarterback.

Referring to St. Mary's, McBride says, "SMU athletics represent the Greek ideal of happiness. The full exercise of one's powers along the lines of excellence."

DISNEY OFFERS PYRAMID TO EGYPT.

The Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram reports that the Walt Disney organization has floated an offer to build a new pyramid outside Cairo -- not as a tomb, of course, but as a tourist attraction.

Not to be outdone by the ancient pyramid builders, the Disney pyramid would be constructed of glass, and house some sort of Egyptian - style Disneyland. It would stand alongside the three great pyramids of Giza near Cairo.

The paper said the Disney organization had also offered to set up an elaborate sound and light spectacle focusing on the Giza pyramids.

The government had no immediate comment on the offer.

this committee were to be final. When some members of the council did not receive the full amount the immediate result was to disband the committee and give every person the full amount. The only case where our creditability may have been hurt more was in the passing of the budget. We did not have the money to satisfy a number of financial requests, yet we gave KAMP, $3000.00 more than we could afford on the basis that, "Oh what the hell, next years council is going to have to worry about this, not us."

Selfishness by a couple of people in the S.R.C. worked as the major setback for this year's council. Whether this selfishness was in time, energy, or attitude makes very little difference, as it all worked to the detriment of the student.

Students of St. Mary's have more power than they do in any other university in Canada. Why can't they learn to use it.

I have enjoyed my year, as I hope has been the case with most students and hope that Greg and his new council have a good year next year, with you the students. I remain,

Respectfully Yours,

MOVIE REVIEW

MURDER ON THE ORIENT EXPRESS

"Murder on the Orient Express" recaptures the luscious, elegance of Continental trains and way of living for the 1930's, at least for those who had the good fortune to be independently wealthy. There is an all-star cast of suspects in the Calais Couch including Sean Connery, Laureen Bacell, Venessa Redgrave, Micheal York, and Anthony Perkins.

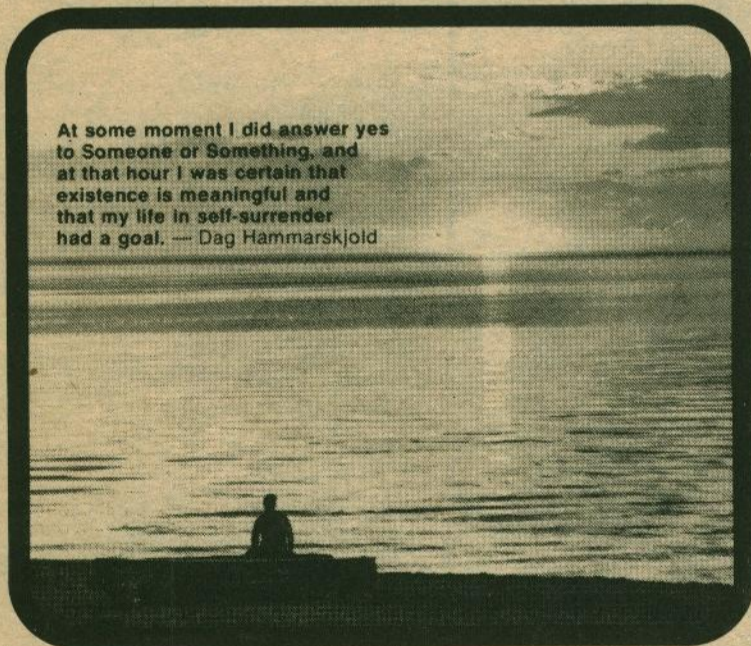

But who portrays that egotistical little Belgain, Hercule Poirot, that finichy, sauve ladies-man, gourmet and fashion plete with the large well-oiled head housing a brilliant mind. Albert Finney. Albert Finney? Yes. The same man who played Tom Jones. How does he do it? Mostly by plastering down his hair, hiding behind a large waxed moustache, dropping his chin down into his collar, and not smiling. Did it work? Not exactly, but Finney hams and mumbles his way through the movie anyway and has a good time.

The plot is of course the essence of the movie. The action is a little static but there is plenty of opportunity to match wits with Hercule. There are lots of clues (and red herrings) and the sleuthing culminates in the big scene where Poirot calls together all the suspects and delivers the verdict. As usual with Agatha Christie there is a special twist to the plot which makes the murderer and the motive singularly interesting. There will be no point in going to the movie because I am going to name the murderer on the next page in large black letters.

It is a good murder thriller of the old school in which the Sleuth pinions the guilty party with the sharp point of his brilliant logic rather than with the business end of a gun.

HEANEY DEFENDS STRATEGY

BOBBY ORR
Staff Writer

Over the last few days Brian Heaney, head coach of the St. Mary's basketball Huskies has been subjected to a great deal of ridicule from the press for the tactics employed by his team in the second round of the CIAU finals.

The Huskies came out for the game and started a stall that saw only four shots taken in the first eight minutes of the game. By the twelve minute mark of the half the score stood at only 10 to 6 for the Waterloo Warriors.

When the Huskies started to play "normal" basketball, the Warriors pulled away and opened up a 24 to 8 half time lead.

The press coverage in Toronto called the tactic everything from "questionable" to "ridiculous", but Heaney said if he were to play Waterloo next weekend, under the same conditions, he would use the stall again.

"I think I would do it to the half and go in the locker room and regroup. I would go to the half because you're not going to be down by 16 points then, you're only going to be down by six, if that."

Heaney, in explaining his using the stall said: "I thought that on a neutral court, at another time during the season it would be one heck of a basketball game between the two teams. But getting to Waterloo and seeing the mass preparations they went through, seeing the almost hysteria on campus with their having 6000 people in the stands and having the game played in their home court, I thought the odds were beginning to stack up very much against us to play them on any sort of an even keel.

"I decided that it would be to our interest not to play them for a full 40 minutes. What I mean by that is if we have the basketball under normal circumstances and we are holding it, then we are not in a position to commit personal fouls. Which means for a short period of time we have to play a normal basketball game and it gives us less time to commit five fouls and lose personnel. So, basically, stacking the odds against us, stacking the officials against us and taking into consideration the whole atmosphere at the tournament, I thought we needed something to equalize everything else. If we played them a 28 minute basketball game instead of a 40 minute game it would help keep our people in the game."

Heaney was completely displeased with the officiating. He said that before the game he approached the CIAU about the officials for the game and had asked that at least one of the referees for the game be from a neutral league. He was denied this request.

During the stall, Heaney said that the officials made some very poor calls "The stall itself didn't hurt us" but there were a number of questionable calls made by the officials in the stall itself and I felt that at some point after we started to freeze the ball in the four corner offense the officials realized that this was going to continue and we were not going to play this basketball game in the normal manner. thought, by virtue of the calls they made that they had decided to let us know, subtly, that we were not going to do this on that night."

"I just thought we would try to do something to upset them (the Warriors) and their fans, but never took into consideration that we were upsetting the referees and got them going against us, which is a factor I shouldn't have to contend with. They should be unbiased and understand the game of basketball and ref it within the rules."

In explaining the referees' reaction, Heaney said, "The move we made was perhaps radical here, but where basketball is big time, it is a very sound strategic move. Perhaps what we didn't take into consideration was that the referees had never reffed that kind of game before and they panicked behind their home crowd. I thought they did a very poor job while we were in the stall and I think that unsettled us quite a bit.

The Huskies, who beat the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds in the opening round of the CIAU finals by a 72 to 55 score won the consolation game over Acadia by an 85 to 84 score. Congratulations go out to coach Heaney and the rest of the team on a fine season.

ROOF FALLS IN ON ST. MARY'S

CIAU HOCKEY PLAY-OFF
by Tim Hayward

The Saint Mary's Arena will be closed temporarily as repairmen are busy mending the roof that fell in on the Huskies Sunday evening.

Bob Boucher and his talented ice men learned the hard way that there are sixty minutes to a hockey game, and against a team as potent as the Toronto Varsity Blues, fifty-five will just not suffice.

For two and three quarter periods, the Huskies looked as if they'd finally crack the six year reign of the Toronto squad, taking a 3-1 lead on goals by Randy Kellock, Moon Mullins, and Doug Abbass.

However, the Blues had other notions, and fired in five unanswered goals in exactly five minutes and twenty seven seconds. The Huskies literally died in the final minutes of the game, while the visitors picked up momentum to fashion an admirable comeback.

Friday night the Huskies nipped the Varsity team 4-2, then dropped Saturday's encounter 2-1 in double overtime to force the rubber game.

The creaky, ancient walls of the Arena undulated with the resonant vibrations of a thunderous, jammed-to-the-rafters, wide-eyed, gleeful crowd of Huskie supporters for all three games. The hockey displayed throughout the series was no less than truly magnificent, and the very atmosphere was saturated with the tingling electricity of play-off, chips-are-down, knock 'em out hockey.

Led by netminder Craig Haskins and defenceman Scott Grady, the Huskies, to a man, performed gallantly for all three contests.

Ray Monette's loss for the final match forced Coach Boucher to alter his lines slightly, but the team responded well. Each member skated his heart out, but faltered long enough for the U of T squad to win.

The Blues must be congratulated for their triumph, but at the same time should kiss Lady Luck for saving their hides on occasion, notably during some spine-tingling moments around netminder Logan in the overtime action of game two.
