Treasurer Resigns

by Mark Wies

Many students are unaware the Students Representative Council (SRC) has been without a treasurer for the past four months. Former treasurer Brian White resigned from the post in May. Since then the duties of the treasurer have been fulfilled by the SRC president, Angus Capstick and vice-president internal, Thomas Nisbett.

White was on the Pub Board of Governors for two years and was a member of the Senate last year. He was defeated in his first attempt at running for SRC treasurer in the 1978-'79 academic year. He lost that race to our present SRC president, Angus Capstick. White ran again last spring and was elected for the 1979-'80 term.

After three years at Saint Marys, White graduated with a Bachelor of Commerce degree. He was planning to enroll in the Faculty of Education for the upcoming year before he decided to accept a full time position with Kellogg-Salada. He is presently working for the management and marketing division in the Maritime region.

Nominations for a new SRC treasurer closed last Friday, September 21st. Wendall Carroll is the only candidate for the position.

Now in his fifth year at Saint Mary's, Carroll first received a Bachelor of Arts degree and is now in the Faculty of Commerce.

There will be a yes/no vote for treasurer during the by-elections.

There are five other positions to be voted on in the Oct. 2nd and 3rd by-elections.

A yes/no vote will be taken for an Engineering Rep. Paul Saulnier is the only candidate for the post.

There are two students seeking the position of First Year Rep: Jennifer Goddard and Stephen Sutherland.

Four people are competing to be the Residence Rep: Paul Arsenault, Connie Burns, Ross Oliver, and Danny Winton.

The Board of Governors had a seat open. Bruce Ferguson and Peter Murry are in the running for that one.

Three candidates are challenging the seat on the senate: Jack Abraham, Mary Martin, and Peter Murry.

Tragedy Strikes St. Mary's Student

by Robert MacLellan

Greg Landry, a Saint Mary's third year student, died suddenly last week after suffering a brain hemorrhage at his home on Jubilee Rd.

Greg was a Halifax native and came to SMU after attending St. Pat's High.

Greg will be remembered as a very generous person who was always willing to lend a helping hand to anyone needing it. In his spare time Greg enjoyed both sailing and skiing, excelling in both.

In his first year at SMU Greg enrolled in Commerce, but switched to Arts two years ago, and was hoping to be accepted into Law.

Greg was not an apathetic SMU student, he could always be seen attending SMU social events and Huskies games. Greg lived his life to the fullest, inspiring his family and friends with his courage and love.

We at Saint Mary's offer our deepest sympathy to Greg's family.

The Off-Campus Society wish to express their sincere condolences to the family of our fellow student, Greg Landry, who passed away suddenly Sept. 18th. He will always be fondly remembered by his friends here at Saint Mary's.

at Concordia

USA Students must be La Crème de la Crème

MONTREAL (CUP)—Tentative quotas have been imposed this year by the engineering and commerce faculties at Concordia University on the number of foreign students admitted to their programs.

The move was made after projections which forecast a marked increase in the number of CEGEP (community college) graduates applying to the two faculties were studied.

Foreign students have already been denied entry into the first year of the computer science department program because there were so many CEGEP applications this year.

The quotas are not intended to restrict the population of foreign students at Concordia but to give priority to Canadian students, according to Gerald Tait, assistant vice-rector of admissions.

But another reason, says assistant engineering dean James Lindsay, is that "taxpayers don't take too kindly to having their taxes going to educate only foreigners."

The quotas are tentative because there were no definite maximum figures set out.

The facilities have decided to "accept only the cream of the cream" of foreign students, leaving the other applications on hold because of the possibility of a high number of CEGEP applications.

And, according to Lindsay, education funding cutbacks are the root of the problem. He says other universities are doing the same thing as Concordia.

"I'm certainly aware that every university being faced with budget problems is doing the same thing. It's evident that across the country the number of places available to foreign students is quite limited."

Dear Fellow Off-Campus Students,
Welcome to, (back to,) St. Mary's University and the '79-'80 season.

Let me begin by emphasizing the fact that the University is not restricted to the physical confines of the campus. It, the university, must interact with the community and so must the students. In this aspect, the off-campus student is to the university community a valuable resource.

In the past, the Off-Campus Society has been active in social, extracurricular and academic activities that were a credit to all of the university community. You, as a freshman, or a returning off-campus student, will find this society a valuable tool which can assist you in both your social and academic endeavors at St. Mary's University. In closing, this is Your society and Your support is needed if this is to be an active one. Thank you.

LEISURE TIME ACTIVITIES

Leisure time activities at Saint Mary's University this year will include rhythm, dance and fitness courses. Organized by Saint Mary's Student Services, the program is planned primarily for the students of the University, but Saint Mary's alumni, staff and the outside community are welcome.

Rhythmical Fitness, Level I begins on Tuesday, September 25 and will be taught by Linda MacQueen of the Modern Gymnastics Federation. This is an introductory course based on rhythmical body movements accompanied by music and using small apparatus. It develops coordination, flexibility, good posture and poise.

Also beginning September 25 is a Yoga course taught by Jackie Surette.

Ballet, Level I will begin on Thursday, September 27. Nora Stovel of the Maritime Conservatory of Music, Dance Department, will teach this introductory course in ballet. It is designed to enhance the flexibility, grace, and appearance of the student. It will be followed by a Level II course after Christmas.

A course in Karate will start on Monday, October 1 and will be taught by Amin Nassar.

Jane Wallin of the Maritime Conservatory of Music, Dance Department, will teach

Social and Disco Dance, Levels I and II starting on Thursday, October 11. The first is a novice course designed to introduce the student to the basic movements involved in social and disco dancing. The Level II course, to be taught the same evening, is for those already having a background in Social and Disco dancing.

All of these courses will be offered on the Saint Mary's Campus. The costs range from $20-$30 per course with partial refunds offered to Saint Mary's students upon completion.

Except for the Karate course, which is longer and more intensive, classes will be held in the evening, once a week for about ten weeks.

For application forms or more information, contact Helen Castonguay at 422-7361, extension 120.

For more information contact Liz Stevens at 422-7361 extension 225.

Mr. Ted Ross, Co-ordinator of the provincial cultural federation: Visual Arts Nova Scotia has tendered his resignation from that position to the Board of Directors of Visual Arts Nova Scotia.

The Board of Directors will retain Mr. Ross's services until December 8, 1979 during which time the Board will seek an interim successor.

The Board of Directors of Visual Arts Nova Scotia has expressed its recognition and appreciation of the wide-ranging efforts Mr. Ross has made on behalf of Visual Arts Nova Scotia.

Mr. Ross has been an employee of Visual Arts Nova Scotia for three years.

CAREERS-EDUCATION DAY

The Canada Employment Centre on Campus in conjunction with the International Association for Students of Economics and Commerce (A.I.E.S.E.C.), Saint Mary's branch, will be holding a Careers-Education Day on Thursday, October 11 on campus.

The Careers-Education Day which has proved so popular with students and employers in past years will be held in the Collonade, Loyola Building, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. About forty companies and organizations are expected to participate this year.

Students, especially those in their first or second year, would be wise to attend and talk with company representatives. They will be able to find out now before it is too late just what courses, subjects, etc., will be required of them if they intend to apply to these companies for employment in their graduating year.

EDITORIAL

Well we are finally publishing much to the surprise of some people.

The Journal is the student-funded newspaper at St. Mary's. Coming out weekly it attempts to cover news on campus, national issues such as education spending or government policies, acts as an open forum for debate and raises issues that are concerns of students.

One issue that's important on this campus is student input into university affairs or rather the lack of it. Here at Saint Mary's students have representation on most of the governing bodies; such as the Board of Governors, the Senate and their various committees. Students also control their Student Association which provides the organizing framework for student activities and handles a budget of approximately $389,000.00 annually.

Students that are elected to these positions are supposed to represent student opinion. This involves talking with other students, gauging student opinions and speaking up at meetings. Successful student leaders seek out other students' opinions consistently. Ineffective ones don't.

There are by-elections for Student Representative Council, Senate and Board of Governors next Monday and Tuesday, October 2nd and 3rd. We are not going to spew out cliches about student spirit, and "making sure you get out and vote". What we do suggest is that students ask the candidates what they feel about the 1.5 academic regulation or tuition increases or more space for students in the Student Union Building.

Letting the candidate know your opinion and seeing if they will speak up for students is much more effective than circling a faceless name on the ballot.

Another way to get involved is to join the Journal. Student Newspapers try to keep the pulse of the campus and in particular student affairs. The Journal needs staff writers whether it be news, entertainment or sports. For those of you not interested in writing we also need photographers and layout staff.

Come on up and see us, we are on the fifth floor of the Student Union Building. There is a staff meeting this Thursday at 7:00 p.m. and lay-out next Tuesday at 7:00 p.m.

Staff Box

The Journal is published each Wednesday of the academic year by the Saint Mary's University Student Association.

The opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the Student Association, the University, the editor, or the staff.

The Journal welcomes contributions from students, faculty, and other interested people. We regret that for reasons of style, policy, lateness of arrival, or lack of space, we cannot guarantee that everything will be published.

All submissions, including letters to the editor, must be typed double-spaced, and signed by an individual. If a writer has a good reason for the request, we'll grant anonymity.

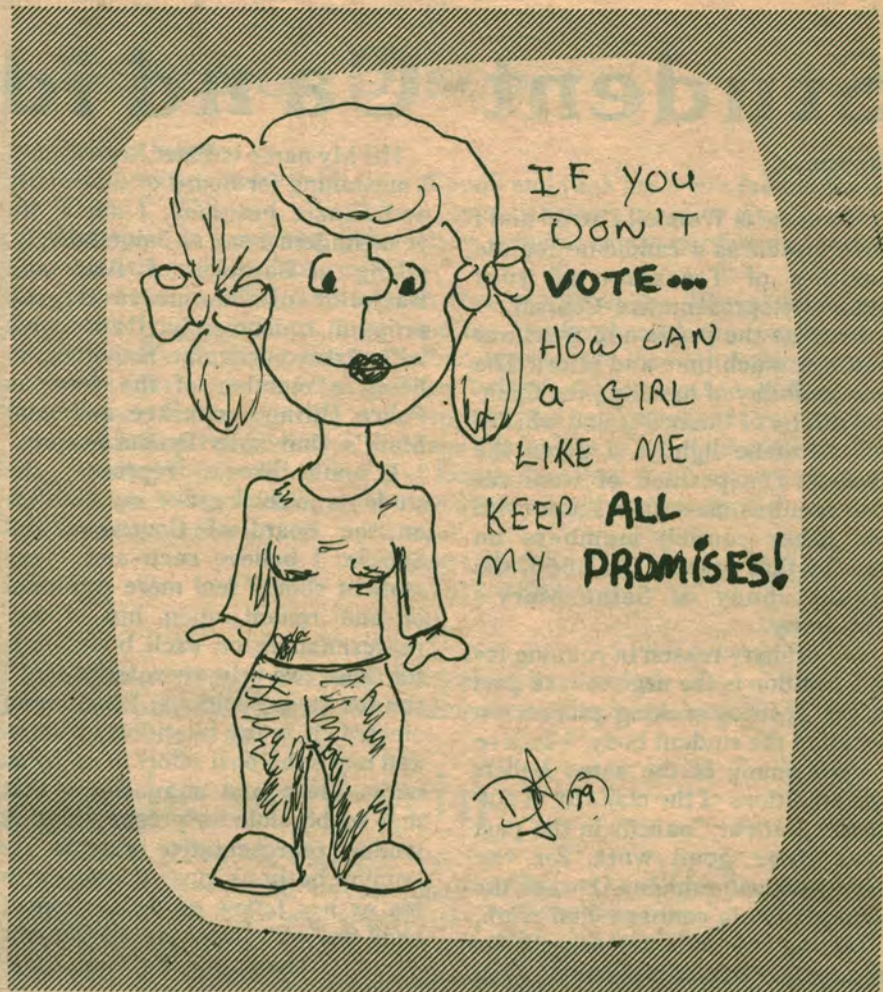

The Journal is a member of Canadian University Press, and adheres to the CUP statement of principles.

Student Candidates' Platforms

Treasurer

My name is Wendell Carroll and I offer myself as a candidate for the position of Treasurer of your Student Representative Council.

I realize the position of treasurer requires much time and effort. The responsibility of handling the financial affairs of Council is one which I will not take lightly, if given the chance. The position of treasurer also requires close interaction with the other council members on matters that concern you and I, the student body of Saint Mary's University.

My primary reason in running for this position is the urge to take part in the decision making process on behalf of the student body. I believe I share many of the same beliefs and ambitions of the majority of students. Student Councils in the past have done good work for the betterment of students. I want the chance to help continue that work.

Having attended St. Mary's for five years, I have gained a great interest in student affairs. Taking part in student affairs is a gratifying way to meet new people and to gain valuable experience in cooperation and leadership.

During my years at St. Mary's, I have been a member of the St. Mary's University History Society, St. Mary's University Education Association, Founding member of a bowling team that represents the University annually, and I have worked on previous Winter Carnival committees.

Presently I am a member of the Off Campus Students Society, a member of the Hiring Committee, and a bartender in the Student Lounge, a job which has lended me valuable experience in responsibility and the handling of cash.

I am a Senior Business Administration student, plus I have previously completed a Bachelor of Arts degree in History. I feel that my educational background, plus my experience of working with other student organizations, will enable me to successfully carry out the responsibilities of S.R.C. Treasurer.

I will not make any specific promises if elected, other than that I will work to my utmost capacity, in cooperation with Council and the entire student body, to make this school year as rewarding and enjoyable as possible. I would appreciate your support in the forthcoming election on October 1st and 2nd. Thank You.

Sincerely Yours,
Wendell Carroll

Hi! My name is Peter Murray and I'm running for Board of Governors and Senate positions. I am a 4th year student here at Saint Mary's, taking a Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Commerce degree program concurrently. I am active with extra curricular activities, in being a member of the Campus Police, Hiring Committee, and Saint Mary's University Drama Society.

I would like to represent the students to the best of my abilities on the Board of Governors and Senate. I believe each and every student should feel more confident of and reliant upon his or her representative on each body. It is for these two primary reasons that I run for these positions. Upon being elected, it is my intention to listen and make the best effort to apply as many ideas and suggestions that may be possible for presentation. A student representative must, in my opinion be in as close contact with his or her fellow students. This I shall do, with your vote on October 2 and 3. Thank you for your time.

SASKATOON—Students at the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon may have good reason to worry about a nuclear "China syndrome" becoming popular on their campus soon.

The university will be the site of a Slowpoke-2 nuclear reactor in 1980, according to the Saskatchewan Research Council.

The $2.5 million reactor will be used for commercial testing purposes. It will be used to reduce raw uranium ore into yellow cake uranium, which is a concentrated, low-radiation emitting form of uranium.

The production of yellow cake will lead to production of radioactive waste materials, according to the Research Council. The waste material will be temporarily contained at the university before it is taken away for disposal by Amok Corporation, the first contractor signed up by the council.

The reactor project is not merely for scientific investigation but will serve as a service to industry, with the council expecting to receive 40 per cent of the province's ore analysis business, according to the Financial Post. Currently Saskatchewan has no major ore analysis industry.

Construction is to begin immediately, with a completion target date set for July 1, 1980. However uranium mining in Saskatchewan has become a controversial issue in the past two years and protests against the reactor are likely.

Tired of Being a Feminist?

“Isn't it about time you found your place?”

Is the same old rousing rhetoric no longer quite so rousing? Are the joys of raising your consciousness (and that of others) beginning to pale, beside the hard, cold fact of an empty fridge? Feeling the urge to read a Harlequin Romance, or maybe tune in 'Another World' - if only to see how Rachel and Mack are doing?

Let's face it. Some days, a gal just isn't her own person - and that's when you start to wonder "was it all worth it?" Sisterhood is powerful: so are the blahs. When you've managed to persuade every man you know to subscribe to Ms. and they still open doors and still constantly propose marriage to you - what more can one woman do? Why not lay back and accept the simple realities of the world, and of the society we live in?

At the Society for the Promotion of Chauvinistic Attitudes we believe in helping troubled women regain their rightful place in life. Our charming, courteous and all-male counselling staff will first test your aptitude for a useful career in public school teaching, nursing, housewifery or dozens of other productive, traditional and female careers. Then you'll be told where you fit in; guided to your proper station and put there by dynamic, clever (and handsome, girls - handsome!) young men who will be only too glad to show you 'where it's at' in this man's world.

Think about it. For thousands of years women have been happy, where they belong. Why not you?

School Spirit Study

CALGARY (CUP)—What happens to school spirit between Frosh Week and Bermuda Shorts Day became a burning issue to the University of Calgary's senate this summer.

So senate decided to take a page from the federal government and set up a five-member task force to investigate spirit on campus.

“We're not looking at manufacturing spirit.” Bruce Ramsay, president of the Student Legislative Assembly and task force member, explained. But he said the task force will look at apathy on campus and concentrate on discovering ways and means of encouraging spirit.

Task force chairman Brian Norford says he hopes to investigate claims that spirit is high among some faculties and low in others and to see how serious the discrepancies are.

Julius Schmid would like to give you some straight talk about condoms, rubbers, sheaths, safes, French letters, storkstoppers.

All of the above are other names for prophylactics. One of the oldest and most effective means of birth control known and the most popular form used by males. Apart from birth control, use of the prophylactic is the only method officially recognized and accepted as an aid in the prevention of transmission of venereal disease.

Skin Prophylactics.

Skin prophylactics made from the membranes of lambs were introduced in England as early as the eighteenth century. Colloquially known as "armour"; used by Cassanova, and mentioned in classic literature by James Boswell in his "London Journal" (where we read of his misfortune from not using one), they continue to be used and increase in popularity to this very day.

Because they are made from natural membranes, "skins" are just about the best conductors of body warmth money can buy and therefore their effect on sensation and feeling is almost insignificant.

Rubber Prophylactics

The development of the latex rubber process in the twentieth century made it possible to produce strong rubber prophylactics of exquisite thinness, with an elastic ring at the open end to keep the prophylactic from slipping off the erect penis. Now these latex rubber prophylactics are available in a variety of shapes and colours, either plain-ended, or tipped with a "teat" or "reservoir end" to receive and hold ejaculated semen.

Lubrication

And thanks to modern chemistry, several new non-reactive lubricants have been developed so that prophylactics are available in either non-lubricated or lubricated forms. The lubricated form is generally regarded as providing improved sensitivity, as is, incidentally, the NuForm® Sensi-Shape. For your added convenience, all prophylactics are pre-rolled and ready-to-use.

Some Helpful Hints

The effectiveness of a prophylactic, whether for birth control or to help prevent venereal disease, is dependent in large measure upon the way in which it is used and disposed of. Here are a few simple suggestions that you may find helpful.

Packaging

First of all, there's the matter of packaging. Skin prophylactics are now packaged premoistened in sealed aluminum foil pouches to keep them fresh, dependable and ready for use. Latex rubber prophylactics are usually packaged in sealed plasticized paper pouches or aluminum foil.

All of these prophylactics, at least those marketed by reputable firms, are tested electronically and by other methods to make sure they are free of defects. Prophylactics are handled very carefully during the packaging operation to make sure they are not damaged in any way.

Prophylactic Shapes

Storage and Handling

It is equally important that you store and handle them carefully after you buy them, if you expect best results and dependability. For example, don't carry them around in your wallet in your back pocket and sit on them from time to time. This can damage them and make them worthless. Next is the matter of opening the package. It's best to tear the paper or foil along one edge so that the simple act of tearing doesn't cause a pinhole. And of course, one should be particularly careful of sharp fingernails whenever handling the prophylactic.

Putting Them On

The condom, or prophylactic, should be put on before there is any contact between the penis and the vaginal area. This is important, as it is possible for small amounts of semen to escape from the penis even before orgasm.

Unroll the prophylactic gently onto the erect penis, leaving about a half of an inch projecting beyond the tip of the penis to receive the male fluid (semen). This is more easily judged with those prophylactics that have a reservoir end. The space left at the end or the reservoir, should be squeezed while unrolling, so that air is not trapped in the closed end.

As mentioned earlier, you may wish to apply a suitable lubricant either to the vaginal entrance or to the outside surface of the prophylactic, or both, to make entry easier and to lessen any risk of the prophylactic tearing.

Taking Them Off

When sexual relations are completed, withdraw the penis while the erection is still present, holding the rim of the prophylactic until withdrawal is complete, so as to stop any escape of semen from the prophylactic as well as to stop it from slipping off. Remove the prophylactic and, as an added precaution, use soap and water to wash the hands, penis and surrounding area and also the vaginal area to help destroy any traces of sperm or germs.

And now for a commercial.

As you've read this far you're probably asking yourself who makes the most popular brands of prophylactics in Canada?

The answer to that is Julius Schmid. And we'd like to take this opportunity to introduce you to six of the best brands of prophylactics that money can buy. They're all made by Julius Schmid. They're all electronically tested to assure dependability and quality. And you can only buy them in drug stores.

RAMSES Regular (Non-Lubricated) & Sensitol (Lubricated). A tissue thin rubber sheath of amazing strength. Smooth as silk, light as gossamer, almost imperceptible in use. Rolled, ready-to-use.

FOUREX "Non-Slip" Skins—distinctly different from rubber, these natural membranes from the lamb are specially processed to retain their fine natural texture, softness and durability. Lubricated and rolled for added convenience.

SHEIK Sensi-Shape (Lubricated) & Regular (Non-Lubricated). The popular priced, high quality reservoir end rubber prophylactic. Rolled, ready-to-use.

NuForm Sensi-Shape (Lubricated) & Sensi-Shape (Non-Lubricated). The "better for both" new, scientifically developed shape that provides greater sensitivity and more feeling for both partners. Comes in "passionate pink." Rolled, ready-to-use.

EXCITA Gently ribbed and sensi-shaped to provide "extra pleasure for both partners." Sensitol Lubricated for added sensitivity. Also in "passionate pink." Rolled, ready-to-use.

Fiesta Reservoir end prophylactics in an assortment of colours. Sensitol lubricated for added sensitivity. Rolled, ready-to-use.

Frosh Vow for Revenge

by Cathy Cameron

Loud screams were heard this month as freshmen were formally initiated into St. Mary's University. On September the seventh at roughly three-thirty a.m., Campus Police, Student Aides, and Dons stormed the residences to round up the freshmen. Some courageous frosh resisted but subtle suggestions of a fate worse than death were effective in quelling any resistance. Freshmen were herded out onto the football field where blindfolds were produced and tied snugly around frightened eyes. Each frosh was given a guide well-versed in the art of lying to take them through the obstacle course.

The first event was leapfrog. Blindfolded leapfrog is not a graceful event to say the least. Developing friendships were nipped in the bud as more than a few people landed on their friend's heads rather than the ground, treating their new pals to their first, and hopefully last, taste of St. Mary's soil.

Next it was on to buckets of red and purple dye. Devious little minds were at work as frosh were told that if they could find the non-existent penny at the bottom of a bucket it was their ticket back to residence. Gullible people joyfully shoved their hands into buckets again and again only to have them surface clutching a handful of gravel. As a result of their exuberance, many freshmen could be identified for days by their bright purple palms and fingernails. That stuff just wouldn't come off!

Bobbing for onions came next. Actually, frosh were told that they were bobbing for apples, but one whiff of the contents of the buckets was enough to convince anyone that somebody out there wasn't telling the truth. Anyone who did find themselves "lucky" enough to have successfully bobbed, can tell you that biting into a large onion that has been soaked in warm water is not the best way to spend your Friday night.

The highlight of initiation came to one of three buckets, two of which contained sand sharks and the other of which contained a fetal pig. Depending on how sadistic the guide was, freshmen could either just touch what was in the bucket or would be graciously allowed to lift the little creature over their head. After sticking their hand into a bucket, freshmen were treated to a full color commentary by their guides of what they had been clutching. Some of these descriptions were so disgusting and so false that afterward, many frosh were relieved that it was only a fetal pig that they had touched!

Next came the sticky business. Frosh removed their shoes and socks and were led to a trough filled with cold oatmeal. After strolling through this they were taken to a mound of dirt for another little promenade. When guides were convinced that toes were thoroughly stuck together, frosh were generously allowed to put their shoes and socks back on over their now black and lumpy feet.

Freshmen were then led to a pie stand set up in the middle of the football field. After being told to smile, grinning frosh had cream pies smeared thoroughly over their faces. Flour was then sprinkled in large amounts over their heads and their transformation from university students to Pillsbury Doughboys was complete.

Kindhearted guides then allowed their freshmen to remove their blindfolds. Sighs of relief were quickly changed to groans of agony as frosh were told to crawl up the concrete bleachers on their hands and knees. Upon completion of this test of endurance the freshmen were presented with a little gift from their thoughtful guides. To save frosh the trouble of going back to residence to have a shower, they were given one at the top of the bleachers.

A plastic sheet was placed on the grass behind the bleachers. Frosh were pushed down the hill and onto the plastic which slowed them down long enough to ensure that they were soaked by the cold water coming from the hoses at the top of the hill. This was the most popular event and some freshmen went back for a second slide down the hill.

Singing "When the Saints Come Marching In" at the top of their lungs, the frosh then went to the home of the freshman president of the university, Dr. Kenneth Ozmon. The singing ended only when the president appeared in his bathrobe at the front door. Dr. Ozmon was then carried to the football field where he participated good-naturedly in all the events, adding his own comments, much to the amusement of observers. Most frosh then headed back to residence for a much-needed six o'clock shower, vowing all the way that they'd be guides during next year's initiation.

NSYO performs to enthusiastic gathering

by Michael Quinn

Ah, the joys of sitting in a cool breeze, listening to fine music. To the hundreds of ardent listeners the Nova Scotia Youth Orchestra more than provided the necessary elements for a marvelous evening. They were an event long to be appreciated by those who attended.

On the evening of September 15 the NSYO held a free concert, headlined by a presentation of Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture". The orchestra, conducted by Robert Raines, proved that not only is classical music not outdated, but that it is also a refreshing change of pace from contemporary music.

The program consisted of six selections, the primary being of course the "1812 Overture". The first two selections, Marche Militaire Francaise and Estirdiantina Waltz, were short, lighthearted, and well executed. The third selection, Star Wars, was the only flaw in the entire program. The fact that it is not an established classic made it sound awkward alongside the rest of the program. The fourth piece, Trumpeters Lullaby, was a fine piece of music, thanks to the expertise of the trumpet soloist. The selections from The Sound of Music were excellent. Easily recognizable, they were done with a distinctive flair that brought hearty applause from the delighted crowd.

The headline of the evening was of course "The 1812 Overture". The overture was done commendably well. The tone was powerful, and the music progressed evenly, without getting trapped by repetition. The easily recognizable finale was aided by Armed Forces personnel. The cannon fire crescendo was met with a well deserved standing ovation from the crowd. This ovation was indicative of the orchestra's entire performance.

The evening on the whole was very entertaining. The NSYO played well, and the overall quality of the music was excellent, in view of both the age of the players and the size of the entourage. Thanks, NSYO.

A sold-out and very exciting Minglewood Bash, on Saturday, September 8 was the highlight of a very successful orientation week. The band ran through all the old favourites as well as the excellent new songs from their newly released second album entitled The Minglewood Band.

CFSM back on the air

Radio St. Mary's is back on the air. We at CFSM welcome back returning students to St. Mary's, as well as the freshmen, hoping you have a pleasant and successful year at St. Mary's.

Radio St. Mary's has done some reorganizing over the summer and we feel we offer a very exciting and fairly unique format to radio in Halifax. A variety of music and information will constitute what you hear being broadcast over Radio St. Mary's. Album rock, blues, folk, top forty, and jazz are a good example of what you will be hearing. To complement the music, news, sports and informational shows, Critic's Choice, and Science Spot to name a couple, will be weekly features. As well, musical special shows featuring various musical artists will be another highlight of CFSM's broadcasting.

Each weekday, Monday thru Friday, Radio St. Mary's will be broadcasting from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 a.m. On weekends, the broadcast time will be from 12:00 p.m. to 12:00 a.m. CFSM is not a professional radio station. Although it would be nice, this is not possible. Radio St. Mary's is constituted of students of St. Mary's who volunteer their time to entertain the students of St. Mary's. It is not our goal to make professional "d.j.'s" out of our staff. We merely try to do the best we possibly can with our resources. So with this in mind, we hope this year that you will listen to Radio St. Mary's (CFSM), and enjoy the programs being broadcasted for you, the students of St. Mary's.

CFSM can be found at 660 on your a.m. dial.

SKYLINE

by Michael Quinn

Welcome back returning students and a hearty SMU welcome to all of the freshmen.

Hopefully, this article will be a weekly affair whose purpose will be to give a brief rundown on various aspects of entertainment in and around SMU. It will include bashes at SMU, and elsewhere, new records and books, and interesting cultural events around Halifax.

The past few months has brought an influx of new vinyl and books. New record releases include albums by Dylan, Minglewood, Chicago, Led Zeppelin, Trooper, and Cheap Trick (Dream Police is finally out).

There are several events happening or scheduled, that are worth looking into. Catherine McKinnon will sing at MSVU September 28, Jose Feliciano at the Cohn, also on the 28. Trooper will be at the Metro Centre Oct. 3, just in time to plug Flying Colors, their latest release. Also worth looking into is the Neptune production Billy Bishop, running until Sept. 30.

For those inclined to reading, two excellent new novels are out. For those interested in escapism, Anne McCaffery's new book The White Dragon is available. However the best new novel is The Final Assassinations Report, an excellent accounting of the slayings of John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King. Other new releases include works by Norman Mailer (Gary Gilmore is the subject of this waste of ink and paper), Richard Bach, and Taylor Caldwell.

Movies worth looking into include Alien, playing at Penhorn 3, and Americathon, at Downsview 1 and Scotia Square. Others that have been widely advertised are Rich Kids, North Dallas Forty, and The Inlaws.

The St. Mary's radio station is in operation again. The request line is 423-2505. For a student run station these guys are damn good, so listen in on 660 AM.

The following bash will be held on campus, Saturday, Sept. 29. The Stephen Barry Band, a blues act from Montreal will be performing for your pleasure. Tickets are $2.00 for students, $2.50 for non-students.

A final few notes. The rumor that the Beatles have been asked by the U.N. to perform a benefit concert for the boat people has yet to be substantiated, despite the fact that the Mail Star printed a column on it. And last, but certainly not least, thanks to Carny and S.M.U. Entertainment for the best bash S.M.U. has had in years. I have had nothing but positive feedback on the event.

Dump on Disco

By: Ken Storey

Somewhere 'twixt the realms of punk and funk lies a cult fad known as "Disco". This fad, bred from establishments named discotheques, developed as a meeting place where people actively participate in conversation, frolic and dance.

However, nothing lasts forever. Now one enters the "Disco" amid the glare of glitter, mirrors, lasars and fog, battles through the crowd to the high traffic vantage point by the bar, to peer into the high fashion crowd where character is often hidden behind the remnants of fragrant colognes, feature-altering make-up, and the loud mundane drone of the sexual "Top Forty" boogie. Perhaps I'm jealous of the fluid acrobats (often called Bump and Grind") of today's danseurs. Yet I ask the musical question: "Why I find disco . . . outside my list of preferences."

VIENNA (ZNS)—A Viennese bartender escalated the international fight against disco when he pumped a jukebox full of lead in the disco he works in.

Leopold Hofner just couldn't take it after an unidentified customer played Donna Summer's hit "I Feel Love" 20 consecutive times so he grabbed a gun kept under the counter for protection against hold-ups and shot the juke box until it stopped playing.

But romance, not disco hatred, was Hofner's prime motive in the slaying. "That record was the one my girlfriend and I always danced to," he told police. "Right before that man kept playing it, she phoned me to say she didn't want to see me again."

Meanwhile in other disco news, Steve Dahl, the Chicago disc jockey who organized an anti-disco night that saw about 70,000 disco haters destroy tons of seamless mix vinyl in a near-riot, has cut his own record.

Titled "Do Ya Think I'm Disco?", Dahl describes the song as a not-so-reverent parody of the Rod Stewart hit "Do Ya Think I'm Sexy?". Backing Dahl up on the record are the group Teenage Radiation.

Getting the lowdown on Lowe

by Terry Humphries

Nick Lowe: Labor of Lust

Nick Lowe is a definite force in today's music scene. For years he knocked around with Dave Edmunds in the highly touted, but little known group, "Rockpile." Then he was asked to produce a young unknown named Elvis Costello who went on to become the first New Wave superstar in the U.S. Lowe then released a solo L.P., "Pure Pop for Now People", a quirky but good L.P. which showed Lowe's Rockability and 60's pop music roots. Now "Labor of Lust" his newest L.P. brings Lowe to North America in a big way.

Lowe is backed on the L.P. by Rockpile, and the result is a tight, solid rock album. The single "Cruel to be Kind" is a very good example of Lowe's style. "Kind" is a bouncy song with a rockabilly back beat with a 60's style guitar. Lowe is more of a song stylist than innovator and "Cruel to be Kind" has more hooks than Ali. A simply great song is "Big Kick Plain Scrap." "Scrap" is a rousing instrumental about a good time boy, and is guaranteed to put a smile on your face. Unfortunately side 1 contains the one real turkey on the L.P., "You Make Me" which is a totally useless ballad.

Side 2 contains more of Lowe's tongue-in-cheek songs. "Switchboard Susan" and "Love so Fine" are the standout tracks on this side and prove that Lowe can rock with the best of them. As a whole this L.P. has a freshness and vitality that makes it such a joy among the other L.P.'s of much less energy and skill.

With such titles as "Dose of You", "American Squirm" and "Skin Deep", it is fairly obvious that most of the songs are sexual in nature. But Lowe delivers it with so much tongue-in-cheek humor as to avoid offending anyone but the most pious prude. I'm glad that Lowe is achieving the recognition he deserves and in closing I would like to say, Bravo Nick Lowe Bravo.

We Cut Corners

When cutting the pieces to make a pair of pants, straight lines are easier than curves. They also use less fabric. Some larger firms cut pants that way. With tens of millions of pairs a year, those savings add up.

But they don't add up to Howick. Our pants fit better because of all the slow, gentle curves in our patterns.

Howick's not a clothing giant, so you won't find our pants on every corner.

But then, you won't find those corners on our pants.

Huskies Axed 41-14 by Axemen

by Scott Whitman

When the Huskies travelled to Acadia to play the Axemen on Sept. 15 they found their hosts weren't very hospitable as the Axemen swamped the Huskies 41-14.

To summarize the game the Axemen opened the game with a single point on a missed 17 yard field goal by Bob Stracina. The Axemen struck again to open a 7-0 lead on field goals of 29 and 31 yards by Bob Stracina to round out the first quarter.

The Huskies were in trouble throughout the first quarter, but the defense did a superb job in limiting the Axemen to two field goals and a single in the first quarter. However it only stands to reason that if the defense is on the field three quarters of the time, your team is going to lose. Combine that fact with a superb Axemen running attack there is no way you are going to win. Coach John Huard of the Axemen threatened before the game that he was strictly going to utilize the ground game. His threats weren't idle as Acadia picked up 300 yards on the ground and only 50 in the air.

The offense of the Huskies made many crucial mistakes which cost them the game. On a kickoff James Boyd let the ball bounce by him and it was recovered by Acadia on the Huskie 11. This set up a 7 yard run by Palmaci of Acadia for the touchdown and with the convert the Axemen led 14-0. The Huskies scored on a 37 yard field goal by Neil Ellison after a brilliant 55 yard run by SMU quarterback Mike San Angelo. Acadia went ahead 21-3 as Haley of the Axemen knocked the ball away from San Angelo and scampered in for the major. The Huskies mounted their best drive of the game, but stalled on the Acadia 10 which resulted in a 17 yard field goal by Ellison. The score stood at 24-6 at the half as Stracina finished the scoring with a 32 yard field goal.

The Huskies looked ready to mount a comeback as Rick Reynolds hauled in a 32 yard pass for a touchdown. Ellison added the point after and it was 24-13 for Acadia. This set the stage for what proved to be the most deciding play of the game. The Huskies tried a short kickoff which appeared to be very successful as Tony States came up with the ball for the Huskies after it had travelled more than the required 10 yards. However on a call which even leaves Bob Orr perplexed to this day, the Axemen were awarded the ball. Consequently Hubie Walsh later ran 34 yards for an Acadia touchdown which put the Axemen in front 31-13. Bob Stracina later added a field goal and a convert and Palmaci scored on a four yard run to round out the Acadia scoring while Neil Ellison added a single for the Huskies.

The Huskie defense played a good game considering the amount of time they were on the field. The offense let the Huskies down as James Boyd could manage only 38 yards on the ground plus untimely miscues on the part of the offense. Acadia had a balanced ground game with Palmaci picking up 121 yards on 19 carries, with Hubie Walsh and Hank Sereneault each adding over 50 yards on the ground.

Soccer Huskies—A New Look

by Scott Mckellar

There will be a vast difference between the 79-80 SMU soccer team and the 78-79 squad. Gone from last year's team are six starters, two of which were All-Canadians, and a few other spares who have chosen not to pursue their soccer interests further. To compensate for these losses, Coach Roy Clements went scouting and came up with eight rookie additions, including two goalers.

The team will have to depend very strongly on the five three-year men—Ace Downey, Peter Wicha, Manuk Nazaryan, Ron Miller, and Darrell Jessome. The leadership shown last year by M.V.P. Captain Murray Reynolds (the only four-year man on the field) is needed. Although rebuilding, Murray feels the Huskies will be a contender but will depend on how injuries affect the team. It is obvious that much hard work and perseverance is needed for the soccer club to achieve last year's record of 10-2-1. This goal could more easily be reached if much needed fan support occurs at our home games.

SMU 3 at ST. F.X. 2

The X-men again showed their hard rough style of play, but this year's team has much better control.

This made for a much closer fought match with the SMU Huskies eventually coming out on top. After being down 1-0 at the half, Manuk Nazaryan got a penalty shot marker to tie the game. Ross Webb and Jim Sidey scored the other two goals.

SMU 7 at U de Moncton 0

On Saturday the Huskies again showed their dominance over the Blue Eagles, continuing from last year their all-out scoring spree while keeping the Eagles off the scoreboard. Ross Webb got things started for the Huskies with his first goal of three for the afternoon.

The squad seems to be providing the fact that they are a second half club with six markers coming after the break. As well as Ross's two goals. The last half showed Jim Sidey scoring two while Alan Routledge and Manuk Nazaryan each booted one. For Manny it was his second penalty shot of the early season. Mark Clark stood between the posts to earn his and the team's first shutout of the season.

SMU 0 at UNB 0

UNB and the Huskies both showed tough defence making it very hard for the offensive plays to get started. The Red Devils consistently marked Ross Webb and attacked the midfield area which Routledge likes to control. The strategy worked for defensive purposes but the Fredericton based team failed to muster any real threat of their own. The result was a no-score draw which now sees SMU 2-0-1. Congratulations to Mark Clark who recorded his second shutout of the weekend.

The latest national ratings for university soccer teams show Mount Allison ranked third and SMU a respectable ninth overall.

SMU Rugby Team looks good despite a few early losses

Rugby Opens

by Louis Lane

St. Mary's rugby season opened Sunday with an excellently played game against Dartmouth. The team has acquired a lot of speed over the summer with the addition of such rookies as Burt Fraser and Allan Serrio. There has been a lot of interest shown in the team this year and the calibre of play has improved considerably. The return of players like Gary Hollis and Brad Slavik lend an air of experience to the team. Steven Lusher has returned to the team after a two year absence. His experience and coaching capabilities are a great help to the team.

There is a lot to be said for this team. They receive very little university support and one of the players (David Joyce) also serves as coach. For the first time in years interest has been shown by a great deal of people coming out to the practices. Rookies like Michael Sheppard and Tim Dow have done a lot to improve the team. What is needed now is the support of the students. It is very difficult for a team to function with little or no fan support. Sunday's game must have been somewhat embarrassing for our team since the visiting team had more support than us. This would not have happened in any of our other sports here and perhaps it is time to start supporting this team. Rugby is a fast moving game and very exciting to watch. In Sunday's game our team suffered a 9-4 loss but there are definitely victories on the horizon.

Please go out and support this team. Admission to these games is free and it's lots of fun to watch. If Sunday's game is any sort of example this should be an exciting season.

Pennant Predictions

by Scott Whitman

Well once again October is upon us and soon the World Series will begin. It is my job to try and pick out who is going to win all the divisions and playoffs, plus a world series favourite. Last year I bombed out mostly out of hatred of the Yankees. At least this year I won't have to consider the pinstripes.

Starting with the National League East the Pirates and the Expos are involved in a close race that has certainly attracted great fan interest. As of Tuesday morning the Expos hold a slim 1/2 game lead over the Pirates. In comparing the teams the Expos pitching is slightly better than Pirate pitching, but the Pirates have better hitting. I give the edge to the Expos because of the way they have played through the many doubleheaders of September and gained ground on the Pirates. The Expos have the momentum which should be sufficient to get them a pennant shot. In the West the Reds who lead by 2 1/2 games over Houston are the favourites to win the west this year as Houston really had to take all three games from the Reds on the weekend to remain in strong contention.

This brings down a showdown between the Reds and the Expos. Both teams beat each other six times through the season. However the Expos pitching staff is better than the Reds, but the Reds have proven themselves as a money team in the past. However I feel the momentum of the Expos may be enough to win the pennant, besides the Expos play very well in Olympic Stadium.

In the American League the Orioles have already clinched their right to play in the A.L. finals. Out west California is finally going to win the division title that has eluded them for the last few years. However Baltimore pitching staff was summed up very well by a Minnesota scout when he said the worst Oriole pitcher compares with our best. The Orioles should win the American League in four games.

So far you are wondering how I can put this crap about the Expos making the World Series over on you. Hopefully you are as gullible as I am. At any rate the Orioles will beat the Expos in five games as the Oriole pitching staff, clutch hitters like Singleton, Murray, DeCinces, Dauer, and May provide too much timely hitting against the opposition.

Huskies Swamp U.P.E.I. 32-7

by Scott Whitman

On Saturday the Huskies entertained the UPEI Panthers although it is safe to say that UPEI was not very much entertained by the 32-7 defeat handed to them by the Huskies.

The Huskies were very fired up for the game as they had been through some very stiff workouts throughout the week. There was just absolutely no way that the Huskies were going to lose. As the result of a UPEI turnover, the Huskies marched 52 yards in 8 plays capped by the two yard touchdown run by Mark Cherneko. Neil Ellison added the point after and it was very quickly 7-0 for the Huskies. The Huskies had only begun as a few minutes later San Angelo caught Rick Reynolds all alone and he ran 91 yards for the major score. It was a very lucky break for the Huskies as the UPEI defender had slipped on the play causing Reynolds to be wide open. The Huskies opted for the two point conversion play, but were unsuccessful in their attempt leaving the score 13-0 in the Huskies' favor. The Huskies roared back again and this time on a third down play San Angelo threw a yard touchdown to Eddie Wells. Ellison added the point after and it was 20-0.

The second quarter looked as if it would be a repeat of the first quarter as the Huskies drove deep into UPEI territory. I'm sure one of the things that must have distressed coach Keith was the numerous penalties the Huskies had which nullified good drives. This was the story of the second quarter as the Huskies were often forced to go for the field goal. In mentioning field goals, the wet weather obviously was not in harmony with Neil Ellison as his 35 yard field goal attempt went wide and the Huskies settled for a single to take the lead 21-0. The Panthers for one moment installed fear into the Huskies as Ozzie D'Ippolito scored an 81 yard touchdown on a play that was very similar to Rick Reynold's touchdown. However, D'Ippolito's point after attempt was blocked and the score was 21-6 in favor of the Huskies. Late in the second quarter San Angelo capped an impressive St. Mary's drive with a 3 yard run into the end zone to up the score to 28-7 at the half.

The second half showed very little in the way of offense as both clubs drew stupid penalties to nullify gains. Neil Ellison rounded out the Huskie scoring with a single on a missed field goal from 31 yards, but then kicked a 36 yarder for a field goal. Ozzie D'Ippolito added a single for UPEI.

San Angelo continued his good quarterbacking as he completed 11 of 13 passes for 201 yards. Last year at times many felt he was suspect, but this year he is turning non-believers into believers of his quarterbacking ability. James Boyd had a very good game as he picked up 105 yards on 17 carries; which is reminiscent of the way he ran last year. However Boyd hasn't hit high gear yet and when he does people will realize why he led the nations in yards rushing. Brian Murray had 50 yards on 6 carries while Mark Cherneko picked up 38 yards on 10 carries.

The Huskies don't have all the bugs out yet as San Angelo was sacked three times. The offensive line has improved so far and by the time they meet X the offensive line should be a solid unit barring injury.

Neil Ellison had a shaky day in the wet, but you can be sure that in better field conditions Neil might have been good on all field goal attempts.

The Huskies have shown improvement every week and this improvement should continue here Saturday against UNB.

The Huskies receive full marks for their win as the defense played an almost flawless game with Bruce Cole, Mike DeGenova, Scott Riddell, Dan Norkin, and Ted Kozik leading the way.

BALLS & PUCKS

by E.G. & S.W.

First of all we would like to welcome everyone back for another exciting year of college sports at S.M.U. . . Football Huskies are back on track with their convincing 32-7 win over the Panthers of U.P.E.I. The offence looked much sharper and the defence more solid than last week. Our Huskies are improving every week and are going to be tough to beat once they get into high gear. In the season opener Saint Mary's was beaten by Acadia Axemen 41-14 in a game not indicative by the score. A few costly mistakes by the offence was its major difference. Contrary to what some people believe, our players feel Acadia can be beaten. . . Saint Mary's hosts U.N.B. Red Bombers Saturday afternoon in what is a must game for our Huskies. Meanwhile, St. F.X. is at home to Acadia. . . Our Rugby team looked impressive despite losing 9-4 to Dartmouth last Sunday. . . They host Acadia Saturday at 5:00 (following the football game) and Pictou Sunday afternoon. . . Soccer Huskies are back in top form following their 7-0 over U. de Moncton and scoreless tie with U.N.B. last weekend. . . I see that our Pucksters have started dryland training. They can be seen running the stadium stairs during the afternoon. While on the subject of hockey, the Vees were practicing at Huskie rink this week because the Metro Centre is without ice. From the Forum in Montreal to Huskie Arena. What a difference it must be for a player who got cut from the Montreal team. . . Broomball team is holding tryouts this week, next practice is Saturday, September 29 at 4 p.m. in the hockey rink. . . Two former Huskies who played last year are in N.H.L. camps. Greg Sanford is trying to latch on with Minnesota North Stars while hard-nosed defenceman Don McIver has a good chance of making the Winnipeg team.

UPEI will never make the big times but they could make a killing doing Tide commercials.
