Academics and Sport in Harmony

Grant and Colleen Thomson

Grant and Colleen Thomson believe in a responsible approach to their education. The Thomsons, married four years ago, are both graduating with Bachelor of Commerce degrees. Although the Thomsons are Dean's List students, academic excellence is not their only distinction. Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Thomson, was voted the Outstanding Male Athlete of the year, and has been an invaluable member of Bob Boucher's Hockey Huskies. Colleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Durnin, has given an outstanding performance for Kathy Mullane's Belles and was voted Most Valuable Player on the basketball squad.

The Thomsons place their education first. They came to Saint Mary's because of the educational opportunities the institution offered; sports have always come second. The academic and athletic records of both Grant and Colleen are testimonies to their responsible attitude to education and self-discipline.

Grant and Colleen have found the demands of academics and sports somewhat restricting but through careful management of their time they have been able to combine both. Colleen explained that the hardest aspect of their dual involvement was finding time together. Aside from their daily classes, the Thomsons had to attend two practices a day. Then, of course, there were the road trips. Colleen went on to explain that neither their classes nor practice times coincided, so she and Grant were always on different schedules.

Grant and Colleen are natives of Brandon, Manitoba, where they attended Neelin High School. They completed one year of university while in Brandon before leaving Canada for a tour of Europe. As a result of Colleen's correspondence with Kathy Mullane, the Thomsons decided to continue their education at Saint Mary's University.

Although academics and university sports claimed most of their time, Grant and Colleen enjoy reading, music, tennis, and fishing. Their plans for the summer include "a good rest", some travel, and "a lot of fishing".

Paul B. Dockrill, son of Dr. Fred and Mrs. Ann Dockrill, Dartmouth, has been awarded a Nova Scotia Power Corporation Scholarship. The Scholarship is for a term of two years at $850 per year, and is awarded on the basis of academic excellence, personality, and extra-curricular interests.

Mr. Dockrill is graduating this year from Saint Mary's University with a Diploma in Engineering. He attended Dartmouth High School and graduated from that institution in 1976.

An avid sailor, Paul's other interests include motorcycling, squash, tennis, and hockey. This summer Mr. Dockrill will work at the Bedford Institute where he will be involved in mechanical fabrication.

Next year Paul will attend The Nova Scotia Technical College where he will finish his degree in Mechanical Engineering.

Graduate to Study at Oxford

Nicki Hubbard

Nicola (Nicki) Hubbard, a Saint Mary's University student graduating this year with a Bachelor of Arts degree, will begin studies at Oxford University in the fall. She begins a two-year Master of Philosophy program and will continue her studies specializing in prehistoric archaeology.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David King of Halifax, Nicki was born in Ontario but spent most of her life in Halifax where she attended Queen Elizabeth High School. While at Saint Mary's she majored in Anthropology and participated in both the Dramatic and Anthropology Societies.

An outstanding student during her years at Saint Mary's, Nicki was on the Dean's List and was runner-up for a Rhodes Scholarship.

During the summer she hopes to take part in the excavation and restoration work at the Halifax Citadel.

Saint Mary's Student Wins Fellowship

Mark Canty, who will graduate at Saint Mary's University Spring Convocation with a Bachelor of Arts degree, has been awarded a Dalhousie University Graduate Fellowship totalling $5000.00. Mr. Canty, an Honors English student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Canty, Dartmouth.

Mark and his wife Andrea are residents of Saint Mary's University. While a student, Mr. Canty received three University Financial Awards from Saint Mary's. He has served an apprenticeship in the University's Art Gallery, under the direction of former Curator, Robert Dietz, and has also worked for Residence and Information Services.

Plans for the summer include working for Mr. Keith Hotchkiss as Conference Assistant at the University.

In the fall Mark will attend Dalhousie University where he will begin a one-year Master of Arts program.

Conferences Mean Revenue

The role of the conference coordinator is becoming more and more important as universities look for new sources of revenue.

The University of Manitoba booked so many conferences into its residence facilities during the summer of 1977 that residence fees were cut by $65 for each student. In 1978 the residence was so busy that the administration hopes to be able to reduce residence fees by $80 per student. The residence office at the University says it's not concerned about making a profit because that's almost impossible with the amount of fixed overhead on the buildings, but does hope to continue expanding its summer services to offset the cost of rooms to winter students.

Keith Hotchkiss, Director of Student Residences at Saint Mary's University, believes that the revenue generated from summer conferences at Saint Mary's cuts student residence fees by approximately $60. per student.

MPHEC Announces Financial Aid to Students Study

The Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission (MPHEC) has announced a Study of Financial Aid to Maritime Students. The purpose of the Study is to make recommendations to the MPHEC on the provision of financial assistance to Maritime students enrolled in programs outside of elementary-secondary school. This Study is undertaken as a result of the MPHEC's responsibility, as outlined in its Act, to recommend programs of financial and other assistance to students in the Maritimes. It is expected to be completed by January 1980.

The Study will be conducted by Mr. Keith Wornell under the direction of a Study Committee. Mr. Wornell is Secretary to the Prince Edward Island Treasury Board and is also a member of the MPHEC. The Study Committee includes students from Maritime post-secondary institutions as well as personnel from universities, community colleges, provincial governments and the MPHEC.

The Terms of Reference of the Study include a review of the historical pattern of student aid, comparison of existing plans and proposals in Canada and in other countries, costs and benefits of student assistance, accessibility to post-secondary education, and aid for those involved in continuous learning.

The Study Committee will be inviting interested persons and groups to make submissions on any aspect of financial aid to Maritime students. Following receipt of the submissions, a series of public meetings will be held in a number of Maritime centres. The meetings are tentatively scheduled to be held in October 1979.

Copies of the Terms of Reference are available through the MPHEC offices in Fredericton.

New Conference Coordinator Anticipates a Busy Summer Season:

by Mark Canty

Patricia Worsley Lyall, Saint Mary's University's new Conference Coordinator, anticipates a steady workload for the summer season. As the new Coordinator, Mrs. Lyall replaces George Munroe who is now involved in a private business venture in Halifax.

Mrs. Lyall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Worsley, Truro, is a native of Halifax. She attended Central Catholic High School in London, Ontario. She graduated from Saint Mary's University with a Bachelor of Science degree (Biology) in 1977. During her studies at Saint Mary's Mrs. Lyall served one year each as campus policewoman, female don, and coed don. She was also assistant to Saint Mary's former conference coordinator, Mary Ann Hotchkiss, in 1976 and 1977.

Before her Halifax appointment Mrs. Lyall worked for the Royal Connaught Hotel in Hamilton as sales representative. In this position Mrs. Lyall's duties included promotion of the hotel for greater use by touring groups and conventions as well as acting as hostess for visiting organizations.

Essentially Mrs. Lyall's job at Saint Mary's is to promote and coordinate conferences. She is also responsible for coordinating non-academic events at the University. In addition she is in charge of the Student's Centre, and is responsible for the Campus Police.

Besides organizing university facilities under her own control Mrs. Lyall, in some instances, can arrange with people responsible for other areas effecting overall coordination of facilities for non-academic functions.

Where special services such as food, liquor, and audio-visual facilities are required, the Coordinator will ensure that those persons booking the premises are directed to the person in charge.

All facilities are "booked" by filling out university forms which are available at the Conference Coordinator's Office. They require a lot of information in detail, but the more information you give, the less chance there is of something going wrong.

All student functions are booked through the Conference Coordinator and Campus Police for such functions are arranged at the time of booking.

The Conference Coordinator also books all outside groups requiring facilities—not only in the way of classrooms but also residence accommodation from mid-May until the third week in August. Revenue from the various outside groups provides a significant source of income to the University and brings people into the area who could not otherwise afford the services. It also provides an opportunity for the various groups to experience campus life.

The steps to be followed in the booking of non-academic functions are as follows:

- Contact the Conference Office to ensure that the desired facility is available.
- Obtain a booking form which should be filled out with as much detail as possible giving not only the nature of the function but numbers of chairs, tables, ashtrays, etc. Of utmost importance is making clear the hours needed for the facility.
- Should food, audio-visual, liquor, etc., be required, the appropriate person should be contacted.
- Should any alterations in the original arrangements be needed, the Conference Coordinator should be contacted as soon as possible.

In addition to the above, the Conference Coordinator assists in conference and convention organization, arranging for support services, special personnel, etc. Saint Mary's University is the only educational institution in the Maritimes which provides a Conference and Convention Organizing Kit.

All liquor arrangements must be handled by Mrs. Lyall's office. You are not permitted to bring alcoholic beverages on Campus for a function, except in certain circumstances when a special Occasion Permit may be obtained.

Pat Lyall

Mrs. Lyall is responsible for the following facilities:

- All audio visual requirements are handled by Audio Visual Services (Multi Media Centre).
- Requirements for tables, chairs, astrays, room arrangements, etc., are to be given to the Conference Coordinator for non-academic functions and to the Director of Physical Plant for academic functions.
- Booking of facilities for student-sponsored activities is the responsibility of the Conference Coordinator.
- Booking of facilities for outside groups is the responsibility of the Conference Coordinator. If residence accommodation is required, combined with other university facilities, the Conference Coordinator should also be contacted.
- All academic requirements for facilities should be directed to the Assistant Registrar. All internal non-academic requirements for facilities should be directed to the Conference Coordinator.

FOOD SERVICE

Saga, the Saint Mary's University Food Service, provides private dining facilities for parties from ten to several hundred in many styles of service: waited, buffet, cafeteria, and formal banquets.

The Tradition of the Valedictory and the Hood:

Each year students vie for the opportunity to deliver the Valedictory address to the graduating student body. All hopeful Valedictorians must submit an application form indicating that they have been nominated by their fellow students. A board, comprised of students, academics, and members of the administration, judge each nominee on the basis of the speech they present and on the effectiveness of their delivery. Finally, after careful deliberation, two students are selected, one representing the faculties of Commerce, Education, and Masters of Business Administration, and a second, representing the Arts and Science faculties. The runner up in each division receives the distinction of being hooded during the Convocation ceremony.

The hood itself is worn by each graduating student and symbolizes the degree into which the student will be admitted. The tradition of the hood can be traced back to the Middle Ages where its prototype, a cowl-like appendage and tail, was used to cover the head and shoulders in the cold and draughty medieval buildings or in inclement weather. Gradually the garment was modified and the hood assumed an academic, rather than functional significance. The coloration of the hood's trim determines the university, faculty, and degree. A white trim stands for Arts, gold symbolizes Science, and grey symbolizes Commerce. Variations in the width of the trim distinguishes between a Bachelor and Master's degree. At Saint Mary's the hood is lined with red satin and has a white trim.

Originally, all graduates were hooded, but over a period of time it has become traditional to hood one student on behalf of the entire graduating class. To be hooded during the Convocation ceremony is truly a great honor, and the recipient is granted the distinction of representing their fellow students in a time-honored tradition.

Ethical Issues in Medicine

Saint Mary's University is offering a course in the first summer session on Ethical Issues in Medicine. This course will be of particular interest to people in the health professions. Although it is a 300-level (junior year) course, people employed in the health professions need no prerequisite to enrol.

Advancing medical technology has created moral issues that cannot be settled on the basis of medical facts. Both the medical profession and society as a whole must make value decisions before life and death issues such as abortion, mercy killing and treatment of the insane can be settled. This course is intended to help the student reach reasoned conclusions on these issues through clarification and appraisal of arguments.

The course is being taught by Dr. Wayne Grennan, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, and classes will be held daily, Monday through Friday from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., May 15 to June 28.

Additional information on the course may be obtained by phoning Dr. Grennan at Saint Mary's University Philosophy Department, 422-7331, extension 134.

Chinese Exchange Students

Again this year, three students from the People's Republic of China, will attend Summer School at Saint Mary's University. They are: Miss Fu Shou-chao, who is studying at the University of Western Ontario; Miss Ting Ching-ping, who is also studying at the University of Western Ontario; and Miss Wang Chi-hung, who is attending McGill University. At Saint Mary's they will study English and Canadian Literature during the second Summer session. The three students are Chinese History majors.

Dr. Paul Bowlby, Religious Department, is coordinating the students' activities while they are in Nova Scotia and he hopes that a special effort can be made to show them as much as possible of this part of Canada. He would appreciate receiving any suggestions on organizing a program of academic and extra-curricular activities which would give the students an insight into Atlantic Canada.

Dr. Bowlby can be reached by calling 422-7331, extension 316.

After a successful college career at Saint Mary's and three years of high school teaching in Ontario, Al Keith returned to his alma mater in 1969 to undertake assistant coaching duties under the direction of former coach, Robert Hayes. Mr. Keith became Head Coach in 1970, and led four of his six teams to the league title before stepping down in 1975 to pursue business interests in Halifax. Mr. Keith is "delighted to be back" after his absence from Saint Mary's and is optimistic about the approaching season.

Summer Residence Policy

During the summer months, May-August, the Residence provides accommodations for students, individuals, and small or large groups. Preference is always given to Saint Mary's University students and faculty.

The Residence does not provide accommodation on an overnight basis. Groups and individuals must make their bookings in advance and should contact either Conference Coordinator, Mrs. Pat Lyall, or Director of Residence, Mr. Keith Hotchkiss. It is not Residence's intention to compete with the local hotel and motel industry. Saint Mary's provides accommodation for groups which otherwise might be discouraged from holding a convention because of the high cost. In addition, the University houses many summer students and groups on tour.

Married residence is available to only Saint Mary's students, faculty, and staff and the University does not provide accommodation for the general public.

This is the last edition of THE TIMES for the academic year. The next edition will be published in September and the deadline for that issue will be August 17.
