Exciting Evenings for SMU Students

By: Trevor O'Brien

Societies offer a valuable part of your University career that a textbook cannot. They are a great way to meet new people, develop lasting friendships and possibly meet a potential employer. The SMU Commerce Society is just one of our societies that does just that. On March 8th, they will be holding their 25th Commerce Business Dinner at the World Trade and Convention Centre. Every year a successful individual is asked to speak at this event. This year it will be a former SMU graduate, Irwin D. Simon, who is the President and CEO of The Hain Food Group. Many businesses in the community will be attending this event and they are there to meet students. No matter what faculty you are in, the Commerce Business Dinner is a great opportunity to meet perspective employers and I would encourage any student to attend. If you are interested, drop by the Commerce Society Office on the 2nd floor of the Loyola Academic Building to obtain more information.

Every year, SMUSA holds their annual Charter Day awards ceremony to thank and recognize students and faculty for their contributions to our University. There are many awards that will be awarded and if you know of any deserving individuals please let us know by March 11th. All you have to do is stop by the SMUSA offices on the 5th floor of the O'Donnell Hennessey Building and nominate that person. I hope everyone has a great month and I would like to congratulate our new executive for the 1999-2000 year on their victories.
