

Alumni Establish Irish Christian Brothers Scholarship

The Chairman of the 175th Anniversary Development Fund, J. Philip Vaughan, this month announced the establishment of a Trust Fund in support of the Irish Christian Brothers Scholarship.

Donations to date amount to $5000.00 and the Trust Fund will now make it possible to award the first scholarship in September, 1978.

In the following months, as existing pledges continue to be honoured and new donations are received, it will be possible to award additional scholarships in honour of the dedicated men who from 1913 to 1940 did so much to enhance the reputation of Saint Mary's.

Alumni of every generation will take great pride in the latest achievement of this, the most loyal and supportive segment of the association. The graduates of the Brothers are once again in the Vanguard.

Alumnus Appointed To Diplomatic Post in Bangladesh

"Fr. William Wamboldt, B.A. '66, a priest of the archdiocese of Halifax, left Head of Chezzetcook in March to become attache to the apostolic nunciature, the Vatican's embassy in Dacca, on April 1, 1978."

The post is the first for Father Wamboldt since he was received into the Vatican's diplomatic corps in February, after three-and-a-half years of intensive study in Rome. Father Wamboldt is one of seven candidates to join the corps this year and the second English-speaking Canadian priest to become a career diplomat for the church. The only other Canadian now in the service of the Vatican's secretariat of state is Archbishop William Carew of St. John's, Nfld., who is apostolic delegate to Jerusalem, pro nuncio to Cyprus and apostolic visitor to Greece.

Father Wamboldt was in the archdiocese of Halifax for a two-week holiday after obtaining the requisite doctorate in canon law for his present diplomatic post. Although Bangladesh is considered the most densely populated country in the world, and also among the poorest, by standards of individual income and economic resources, Father Wamboldt said he felt "a certain sense of excitement about going."

Father Wamboldt said he expects one of the priorities of the delegation is distributing international aid, especially money flowing from papal charities into the country for development projects.

Bangladesh, viewed in Christian terms is "in its infancy—a germ of the church"—with an approximate Christian population of 0.3 per cent. Eighty per cent are Moslem and about 10 per cent of the people are Hindu.

Because the Christian church is comparatively small, he said it means more work for Nuncio Msgr. Edward Cassidy, an Australian, in his role of apostolic delegate. As apostolic delegate, he is responsible for providing a channel of communication with representatives of the "local church" and the Holy See, and for assisting the church's work and growth. In addition, he must institute the canonical process by recommending candidates to the pope to fill vacancies in the episcopate.

Vatican delegations he said "are not only concerned with Catholics. The Holy See is concerned with any kind of religious or human rights problem."

Unlike conventional diplomatic missions he said the object is not better trade or defense. The diplomatic corps is an instrument of the church that allows it to be heard at the highest eschelons of government in more than 100 countries where diplomatic relations with the Vatican are maintained. He said the presence of the church at the diplomatic level in international affairs provides the church leadership in Rome with useful information about the church's welfare. In the face of adversity, he said, the information can be used "to marshal the moral and religious force of the Holy See to international issues." Contrary to some opinion, he said, the weight of the church can be significant.

Ontario Alumni hold meetings in Ottawa and Toronto

Ottawa Executive Darryl Carter, Vice-President Sandi McMullen, President John Louis Dube, Treasurer.

OTTAWA

A general meeting of Alumni from the Ottawa area was held in the Richelieu Room of the Skyline Hotel on Tuesday evening, April 4, 1978.

The first hour of the meeting was given over to socializing. A slide presentation depicting the growth of the University from 1950 to 1978 was presented by the co-ordinator of Alumni Affairs who also reported on the response to the 175th Anniversary Fund.

The more formal portion of the meeting, which was chaired by the president of the Ottawa Chapter, Sandi McMullen, dealt with proposed plans for Alumni activities in Ottawa. As a result of these deliberations it was decided to hold a Barbeque cum Corn Boil in late August or early September.

Alumni who attended the meeting were:

Sandi McMullen, Comm. '76

Dan McNeil, Lana and Mike Duffy.

"We'll drink to that!" Carl Dujay, Ken L. Langille and Jim Colford.

David Gray and Mike Baker "One of the few serious moments that evening."

TORONTO

On Thursday, April 6, 1978 the scene shifted to Toronto where a general meeting of Alumni from the Toronto area was held in the Valhalla Inn. Fourteen Alumni braved a rainy night to spend a convivial evening in the Board Room at the Inn. One of the unexpected bonuses of the meeting was the attendance at the meeting of Bob Ruotolo, the immediate past President of the Alumni Association. Bob was taking part in a human relations seminar being conducted at the Inn.

As in Ottawa the slide presentation prompted a lively discussion on the growth and development of the University. This in turn led to a discussion on future activities for the Alumni in the area. It was decided that the practice of holding a dinner on the feast day of the University, December 8, would be resumed this year.

Alumni in attendance at the Toronto meeting were:

Mike Baker, Arts '74
 Lana Duffy, Arts '75
 Lou Cuccia, Sci. '60
 Ian Campbell, Comm. '62
 Glen Francis, Sci. '64
 Mike Connolly, Comm. '68
 Jim Theriault, Comm. '70
 David Gray, Comm. '75
 Mike Duffy, Comm. '75
 Don Boyd, Arts '47
 Dan McNeil, Edu. '77
 Dan Becar, Comm. '78
 Leonard Rambeau, Arts '67

Ted Hoganson and Pat Flinn display a critical interest in Kevin's point about getting each Alumnus to pledge $100.00 over five years [which incidentally would give the 175th. Alumni Fund its $500,000 goal]. [5000 alumni x $100.00 equals $500,000.]

Alumnus Appointed

"I don't think people realize the value of diplomacy in general because it is done in secret and things done in secret cause two reactions. One is (persons) impute sinister motives to the activity, or else they think because diplomacy is carried on in secret, you don't do anything." They get this image of people having a good time at cocktail parties . . . Diplomacy isn't the most important work of the church but it certainly is important."

Without the liaison provided by the diplomatic corps he said it would be more difficult for the pope to give credible leadership to the world's Roman Catholics.

"In order to speak for the whole church, the pope is aided by knowing what is happening to the church internationally," he said.

In the face of a severe priest shortage in the archdiocese of Halifax he said it is significant the church's leadership is generous enough to recognize the needs of "the universal church," at Page 2 a cost to itself.

"I am in the (diplomatic) service because of the wish of the Archbishop (James M. Hayes) for me to give this witness to the universal church."

It is the same kind of thinking, he said, that has sent needed priests to Peru for the mission there sponsored by the archdiocese. These expressions of international concern show an understanding of the true mission of the church, he said, and they are demonstrative of the belief in the principle, "if you give, you get."

Traditionally, new graduates of the Pontificia Academia Ecclesiastica, the school in Rome for the Vatican's diplomatic candidates, are sent to third world countries. Of the six other priests who entered the diplomatic corps this year, three were posted to Asian countries—India, Korea and Indonesia—one was sent to South America—Brazil—and two went to African countries—Uganda and Ghana.

Besides Father Wamboldt, two other graduates this year had connections with Halifax. Rev. Gino Pezzuto, an Italian, now posted in Ghana, was assistant at St. Mary's Basilica last summer, at the invitation of Archbishop Hayes. Rev. Emil Tscherrig, a Swiss priest who is to take up a position with the nunciature in Uganda, was a former visitor in Halifax as a guest of the Archbishop.

Father Wamboldt, a son of William Henry and Mary (Burke) Wamboldt of Head of Chezzetcook, has been on loan to the secretariat of state in the Vatican for the last four years.

Since his ordination May 30, 1970 in St. Genevieve's Church, East Chezzetcook, he served the archdiocese in the Parishes of St. Patrick's, St. Stephen's and St. Joseph's, Halifax before travelling to Ottawa to continue his studies in canon law at St. Paul's University. While in Ottawa he acted as secretary to the papal pro nuncio before he was requested to continue his studies in Rome. He is a graduate of St. Francis school, and St. Patrick's High School and received his B.A. with a major in Philosophy at Saint Mary's in 1966.

Double your Gift To The 175th Anniversary Fund

If you are associated with one of the companies whose names appear in this listing, your gift to Saint Mary's University will be matched by your employer.

Gift matching is only one way in which business is supporting the objectives of higher education, but it has become an increasingly significant source of annual funds for colleges and universities.

Each "Matching Gift" Company has its own system of processing applications from employees. Generally you will need to obtain a special form which is enclosed with your own gift to Saint Mary's. The Development Office will take it from there. Be sure to see your personnel or industrial relations department. Your effort will mean a second gift for your Alma Mater.
