HISTORICAL SKETCH.

AND

PROSPECTUS.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE was founded about fifty years ago to provide for the higher education of Catholic Boys in the diocese of Halifax. As now, so at that time, the authorities recognized the necessity of such an institution for the proper training of youth, to fit them for the manifold duties of life, and especially to enable them to make the best of the talents with which they had been blessed by Providence.

Like all institutions, it has had its trials and reverses. For nearly thirty years, a struggle for existence was maintained. Finally in the early eighties, owing principally to the withdrawal of Provincial grants, the college was obliged to suspend.

During a long interval of more than twenty years, efforts were unavailing, either to establish a new institution or continue the old. Hence, for a whole generation, were we deprived of all the fruits which such an institution bears for the community in which it exists. The spirit of loyalty on the part of the people became sensibly less and less, until at the end of this long lapse of time the conviction of the usefulness or necessity of a college was, to all appearance, killed.

Under most trying and heart-breaking circumstances was the resurrection of St. Mary's College attempted by the lately deceased Archbishop O'Brien in 1903. The usual difficulties of such an undertaking were augmented by unforeseen obstacles; to deal with which here would serve no good purpose. Suffice it to say, that having surmounted these with indomitable courage, His Grace formally opened the institution in September of that year. Step by step it has advanced towards the goal the Archbishop had in view.

It is to be hoped that the people of this city and diocese will come to view with one mind this sacred enterprise, sacred because it is fraught with greatest importance to the people of our province and to the future well-being of our growing generation.

As for the character of the institution, let it be said that that will be such as its supporters desire it to be. No effort will be spared to place it in a high rank and to entitle its graduates to that esteem accorded by men of intellect to those of real worth. In times gone by, there have gone forth from the halls of St. Mary's College, men who have forged to the front and who have honored their native province.

Such results can be attained now also. But all the zeal, all the sacrifices, will be in vain unless we have the true and steadfast support of our people.

The work of the last four years has shown a steady growth in character. A full collegiate course of studies is being gradually provided. All the best features of modern systems are to be adopted, and the course of studies, whilst giving ample scope for the attainment of literary and classic scholarship, will be so shaped as to fit young men for commercial life and for positions in the industrial world of to-day. The management of the College is not bound by traditional methods, nor by hard and unbending rules. It is alive to the needs of the hour, and if generously encouraged and supported, it will meet those needs as the Catholic Church alone can meet them.

The household arrangements of the boarding college are in charge of the Sisters of St. Mártha. The supervision exercised over boarding students will enable them to prepare their class-work more thoroughly than would be the case if drawn away by the distractions which usually attend the day scholar's career. Their comfort, and bodily well-being will be as carefully looked after as their spiritual training. In short, the adage of "a sound mind in a sound body" will be lived up to, as far as it is possible so to do.
