Using This Calendar

Some of the courses described in this Calendar will not be offered in 1996-97. Students are therefore advised to consult the academic timetable for those courses which will be taught in the 1996-97 academic year and the time(s) when they will be offered.

Frequently in this Calendar, the masculine includes the feminine and the plural includes the singular, and vice versa, as the context may require. This matter is subject to ongoing revision.

Inquiries regarding academic matters should be directed to the Registrar.

Although a university calendar is used by numerous people for many different purposes, one of its chief functions is to provide information for students interested in studying at the university level. The following was prepared to assist in finding relevant material in this Calendar.

Section 3 of this book sets forth the requirements for the several degree, diploma, and certificate programs offered at Saint Mary's University.

These programs include:

Bachelor of Arts
Bachelor of Commerce
Bachelor of Education
Bachelor of Education (Vocational) Bachelor of Science
Diploma in Engineering
Master of Arts (in Atlantic Canada Studies, Education, History, International Development Studies, Philosophy, Women's Studies)
Master of Business Administration
Executive Master of Business Administration
Master of Education
Master of Science (in Astronomy, Applied Psychology)
Certificate of Honors Equivalency
Certificate in Chinese Studies
Certificate in Criminology
Certificate in Japanese Studies

After deciding on the academic program in which they are interested and studying the requirements of the program, students should consult Section 5 which contains descriptions of all the courses offered by the University's academic units. The timetable for the current academic year shows which courses will be available, when they will be taught, and by which instructor. Keeping within the requirements of the particular program chosen, students may then select the courses with the greatest interest and appeal to them. Frequently a course will have several sections often taught at different times. This is arranged in order to keep classes to a reasonable size and to provide time options for students in the preparation of their timetables.

The next step is to apply for admission. Complete information on how to proceed is set forth in the latter part of Section 2. This section also contains the academic regulations and provides academic information. Details on fees and financial information are found in Section 6, which also contains facts about academic awards and scholarships as well as bursaries and student loans.

Inquiries related to specific areas should be directed to the officers indicated below.

General Information

History

Since its founding in 1802, Saint Mary's University has developed into a modern, urban university with more than 7,500 full and part-time students. It is the oldest English-speaking, Roman Catholic initiated university in Canada. With meagre resources, the Reverend Edmund Burke founded the institution and, on being named Bishop of Nova Scotia, insisted that support for the college be continued as essential in fostering the Catholic community.

In 1841 the Nova Scotian House of Assembly gave formal recognition of the college's academic role and, eleven years later, granted it legal status. The next few years saw a great deal of uncertainty about the survival of the college. However, in 1913 the Christian Brothers of Ireland were asked by the Archdiocese of Halifax to direct the college and its academic programs. Its reputation as a liberal arts institution thrived in these years. Undergraduate programs were widely respected and new instructional programs were initiated, the most notable being the Faculty of Commerce which, when established in 1934, was among the first of its kind in Canada. In 1940 the Upper Province of the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits) was invited to succeed the Christian Brothers as administrators and teachers. For more than thirty years, until the new Act of Incorporation in 1970, the college remained under Jesuit supervision. It established itself in teacher education; initiated the first courses in continuing education in Halifax/Dartmouth; purchased the first computer in Atlantic Canada; and became coeducational. Also, the long-standing emphasis on liberal arts and commerce was complemented by new programs in engineering and science. The Act of 1970 gave legal status to the Board of Governors and Senate. Subject to the powers of the Board, the Senate is responsible for the educational policy of the University. In 1974, faculty members formed the Faculty Union which has become an influential voice in the affairs of the University.

From the Jesuits and their predecessors, Saint Mary's has inherited a strong commitment to meeting community needs and an equally strong tradition of emphasising excellence in teaching and excellence in research. During the past two decades Saint Mary's has evolved into a more complex urban university, with a full range of undergraduate programs in arts, commerce, education, and science. Now a publicly accessible, coeducational institution, functioning with a sense of its tradition, the University also offers pre-professional programs in law, medicine, engineering, theology, dentistry, architecture, as well as selected graduate studies. Through the co-operative efforts of the Division of Continuing Education, part-time students study in these programs and in a variety of non-credit programs all of which have been rapidly expanding both in numbers and geographic locations.

Over the last twenty years this commitment to academic and research excellence has seen the number of full-time faculty with doctoral degrees rise to 85 percent. Part-time faculty members are recruited on the strength of academic qualifications in addition to the expertise and experience they can bring to the classroom.

More dramatic evidence of faculty enrichment is demonstrated by their research activities. In the last ten years, sponsored contract and academic research has increased from $250,000 to more than $4,200,000. This 1580% increase reflects the University's firm belief that excellence in both teaching and research are essential for professors and that research is an integral part of the contributions that universities must make to society.

The quality of instruction to students has been a focal point of Saint Mary's University since its founding. This long standing tradition of commitment to excellence in teaching has seen the introduction of new initiatives. The Quality of Teaching Committee has assisted faculty members by offering workshops on instructional techniques and innovations in teaching methodology including the use of computers. Awards for Teaching and Research Excellence are presented annually to members of faculty.

More than eleven thousand students are enrolled during the academic year and in the two summer sessions at Saint Mary's University. They attend day and evening classes both on the 30 acre campus in the south end of Halifax and at off campus locations including the World Trade and Convention Centre in downtown

Halifax, and in Dartmouth, Truro, and several other communities. Saint Mary's boasts residence facilities for single and married students, a Students Centre, Science Building, the Patrick Power Library, which is linked via computer to several other Halifax-Dartmouth universities, a multi-million dollar Computer Centre, and "The Tower" which is Atlantic Canada's most modern recreation and fitness complex. Over the last number of years, Saint Mary's University has become a teaching and research institution where tradition meets the future.

The traditions formed by its founder and early teachers, built upon by the sound educational values of the Christian Brothers, and strengthened by the imaginative leadership of the Jesuits, provide a stable base for future development. Saint Mary's has been innovative in seeking co-operative ventures with other Maritime universities. The results have included the Regional Geochemical Centre as well as the Gorsebrook Research Institute which contributes to the understanding of our regional culture within a national context. Our 'internationalization' has seen formal teaching and research agreements signed with universities around the world including China and Japan as well as Mexico. The Atlantic Centre of Support for the Disabled has grown remarkably over the last several years and provides a variety of support to an increasingly important sector of our student population. It also provides assistance to disabled students studying at other Maritime post secondary institutions.

Saint Mary's University concentrates on its mission of providing excellence in its service to students and the larger community around the campus. Its reputation is one of quality education on a campus environment where individual development is paramount. Saint Mary's student population is drawn largely from Halifax and Dartmouth with fifty-seven percent of its students from this area. Nova Scotia is the home province of 87 percent of Saint Mary's students. There is also a distinct international aspect to the University with students from many countries including China, Japan, Bermuda, the United States, and Kenya. We are ambitiously pursuing a goal shared by many. It is a vision centred around continued academic excellence in teaching and research, accessibility for all Nova Scotians, strong community outreach, and facilities and instruction for the physically challenged. With its strong sense of where it has been, Saint Mary's University has focused clearly on the mission ahead — being "where tradition meets the future...."

Metro Halifax Universities Consortium

Recognizing that Nova Scotia and Atlantic Canada are at a crossroads, global forces including trade liberalization, economic restructuring, the information revolution, and the changing role of governments presents both threats and opportunities. In recognition of this and the fact that Nova Scotia's universities will play a key role in the province's transition to this new global economy and society, in 1995 the Metro Halifax post secondary institutions (Atlantic School of Theology; Dalhousie University; University of King's College; Mount Saint Vincent University; Nova Scotia College of Art and Design; Saint Mary's University; and Technical University of Nova Scotia) began serious discussions in response to the dual challenges of maintaining service to students and society while coping with anticipated unprecedented reductions in public funding.

The result has been the Metro Halifax Universities Consortium which exists in order to sustain universities - the source and site of intellectual development and academic enterprise - through a fiscal crisis. The impact of this crisis will not be limited to the particular institutions, programs and people involved, but will reverberate throughout the society, culture, and economy of the province at a time when the University's capability for research, development, problem-solving, and education of the citizenry will be even more greatly needed. The Mission of the Metro Halifax Universities Consortium is to secure cost savings and new sources of revenues for the metro universities and to promote the enhancement of teaching, research, and graduate studies through co-operative initiatives between or among partner institutions. The Vision is of a consortium that is academically strong, vibrant, fiscally responsible, intellectually dynamic, and most importantly, student-focused. Saint Mary's University has in the past and will continue in the future to play a significant role in the development of this consortium concept.

Statement of Objectives

The objectives of the University, as defined in the Saint Mary's University Act, 1970, are to:

- a. promote and disseminate learning and knowledge;
- b. give special emphasis to the Christian tradition and values in higher education;
- c. provide an atmosphere of freedom, responsibility, and mutual respect in the University community;
- d. aid in the improvement of society in all ways consistent with these objects.

Memberships

Saint Mary's University is a member of a number of organizations including Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada, Association of Atlantic Universities, and Association of Commonwealth Universities.

Affiliations

Saint Mary's University has been associated with the Technical University of Nova Scotia since 1916, providing the first two years of study leading to the degree of Bachelor of Engineering in civil, electrical, mechanical, mining, metallurgical, chemical, and industrial engineering. Formal association also exists between the University and Ignatius College in Guelph. The affiliation between Saint Mary's University and Regis College, Toronto, is presently in suspension in light of the association between the Toronto School of Theology and Regis College.

University Crest and Motto

The University crest was designed in the 1940s by the Reverend Daniel Fogarty, S.J., the then Dean of Education. Each symbol in the crest has a significance relevant to the various phases and history of the University.

On the outer portion of the crest the name and location of the University are inscribed in Latin, and in Roman numerals (1841), the date the University received its charter authorizing it to grant degrees.

The book shown above the shield represents learning and knowledge. The inscription on the page of the book is in Latin - "Age Quod Agis". This is the motto of the University which exhorts all those connected with the University to strive to do their best in everything that they do. This quotation is from the Irish Christian Brothers and symbolizes their contribution to the development of the institution.

The centre portion of the crest is a shield. The upper part of this has the official seal of the Jesuits with I.H.S. being the Latin initials for Christ's name. Below these initials are the three nails which represent the Crucifixion and surrounding these is the Crown of Thorns.

The two crowns in the lower part of the shield represent a dual loyalty - to the then Dominion of Canada and to the British Commonwealth. Below these crowns is the thistle, which stands for Nova Scotia's Scottish heritage.

University Colors

The official colors of the University are maroon and white.

The University Mace

The ceremonial mace, which is carried by the Marshal of Convocation at the head of the academic procession, was presented to Saint Mary's in April 1980 and used for the first time at the 1980 Convocation. It symbolizes the University's authority to grant degrees. It was made and presented to the University by Maritime Command in recognition of Saint Mary's alumni killed in both world wars and also serving members of the Canadian Armed Forces who have been students at the University.

The mace is made of oak with a cast brass crown and brass plates carrying traditional ceremonial engravings. The plates represent the contribution to Saint Mary's by the Jesuit Fathers, the Christian Brothers of Ireland, the Archdiocese of Halifax, the LaSalle Christian Brothers, the Lay Teachers, and the Armed Forces.

1. Procedures for Admission to Undergraduate Programs

a. Applications from Canadian students (except those transferring from other post-secondary institutions) must reach the Admissions Office by 1 July for September admission; 1 November for January admission. For non-Canadian applicants, the deadlines are 1 April for September admission; 1 August for January admission. The deadline for receipt of applications from students who wish to transfer from another post-secondary institution to Saint Mary's University beginning in September is 1 June; beginning in January, the deadline is 1 October. Enclose provincial certificates or other accredited school certificates giving final grades or marks, and a processing fee of $30.00 with the application form.

Note: Readers are advised that currently the matter of seat deposits for both new and returning students in all academic programs is under discussion at the University. If implemented, these deposits will be in place for the 1996-97 academic year and students will be advised as soon as possible on this matter.

b. Applicants who have completed courses at another post-secondary educational institution must request an official transcript be sent to Saint Mary's University. Failure to report all institutions attended will result in dismissal from the University.

c. (i) Former Saint Mary's University students who were not in attendance during the preceding academic year or during a period of up to four years; who were not required to withdraw from the University and who wish to resume studies in the same academic program in which they were formerly registered, must notify the Registrar in writing of their intent to return to the University before registering for any course, and must fill in a Data Sheet available from the Registrar's Office. The deadlines for filing this Data Sheet are the same as those found in 1a.

(ii) Students seeking to enrol in a different academic program, or who have not been registered during at least the preceding four years, or who have been required to withdraw, must apply for re-admission to the Director of Admissions (see Academic Regulations). The deadlines found in 1a apply.

d. Students who were registered in an academic program during the entire preceding academic year are not required to reapply for admission to the University. Such students will automatically be sent information with respect to registration for the coming year. This mail-out is sent to the students' home addresses unless an alternate address has been filed officially with the Registrar by the stipulated deadlines.

e. Once admitted to the University, the student agrees to abide by any and all rules and regulations affecting students officially passed and duly promulgated. The student agrees that failure to abide by such regulations and rules may result in expulsion from the University without refund of tuition or any other fees paid by the student to the University.

2. Requirements for Admission to Undergraduate Programs

a. General Considerations

(i) The following requirements have been established as a guide to applicants. Possession of these minimum requirements does not establish the right of an applicant to be admitted or readmitted to the University. An acceptance is valid only for the two summer sessions preceding an academic year (i.e., May to August) and the academic year (i.e., September to May). It cannot be deferred. An applicant who does not register in this twelve month time frame must reapply for admission. Admission is not guaranteed.

(i) Individuals interested in taking one or more courses at the University without being registered in an academic program can seek admission as a non-degree status student. Such students must meet the stated prerequisites for the course(s) for which they register. Students may take no more than five (5.0) credits as non-degree students. If non-degree students wish to continue to study at Saint Mary's beyond five (5.0) credits, they must formally be admitted to an academic program. Students who are subsequently admitted to academic programs from a non-degree status may count the university credits that they have earned as non-degree students. All courses attempted at the University will remain a part of the students' permanent records.

(ii) Under special circumstances and with the permission of the appropriate Dean, high school students may be admitted to enrol as non-degree students in Saint Mary's courses for which they have the necessary prerequisites.

(iii) Non-degree students must apply through the Office of the Director of Continuing Education. A separate application is required for each academic year or summer session(s) in which the student is enrolled with this admission basis.

b. Admission as a Transfer Student

Students who have been enrolled in an academic program at another university should follow the regular procedure for admission to Saint Mary's through the Admissions Office. In order to be considered admissible, transfer students are normally required to have achieved a minimum average of C. If admitted, transfer students may receive advanced standing credit in conformity with the principles and procedures stated in academic regulation 20. Failure to report all institutions previously attended may result in dismissal from the University.

c. Admission as an Upgrading Student

Students who already hold a degree or professional certificate may enrol in a course(s) to upgrade their qualifications. Special 'Application for Admission' forms are available in the Registrar's Office and must be filed by the deadlines found above in 1a. Students are required to follow normal registration procedures. Such students must meet the stated prerequisites for the course(s) for which they register. For this admission category, a separate application is required for each academic year or summer session. Except in Education, the maximum number of courses in which a student is permitted to register under this admission category is five (5.0). The Dean of the Faculty in which a course(s) is offered may authorize an additional course(s) over this limit. In Education, the maximum number of courses permitted is two (2.0). Further information is found in Section 3 of this Calendar, specifically in "General Information and Requirements", Faculty of Education - Graduate Programs.

d. Admission as a Student Auditor

Students who are interested in auditing a course (see academic regulation 2 below) are required to complete a special 'Application for Admission' form available in the Registrar's Office which must be filed by the deadlines found above in 1a. Students are required to follow normal registration procedures. These students must meet any stated prerequisites for the course(s) for which they register and pay regular tuition fees.

e. Admission as a Special Student on a Letter of Permission

Students currently enrolled at another institution, who have letters of permission to take courses at Saint Mary's University for transfer of credit to their home institution, must complete a special 'Application for Admission' form available in the Registrar's Office which, wherever possible, must be filed by the deadlines found above in 1a. Students are required to follow normal registration procedures. In addition, these students must file a Letter of Permission with the Registrar at Saint Mary's. In all cases, grades for all courses for which students register will be forwarded to the students' home universities. Saint Mary's shall not be held responsible for meeting the deadlines for submission of grades of other universities.

Note: All deadlines as promulgated in this publication, including the Calendar of Events, apply to all students regardless of their admission category.

5. Graduate Admission

Admission to a graduate program at the University is covered in Section 3 of this Calendar.

Note: At the time of initial application to a degree, diploma, or certificate program involving credit courses, each student is issued with a Saint Mary's University I.D. number. This number must be shown on all transactions with the University. If after being accepted, a student opts not to register for the upcoming summer sessions or the academic year, the I.D. number is cancelled.

Academic Regulations

Philosophy Behind Academic Regulations

Academic regulations exist to assist the students in academic matters; to delineate the terms of students' contract with the University; and to maintain the integrity of the University's academic programs. While regulations enable the system to operate smoothly and effectively, they also facilitate growth, development, and responsibility in students. Saint Mary's makes every effort to ensure that advice on academic matters is available to its students, but in the final analysis it is the students' responsibility to seek such advice.

The information, regulations, and guidelines contained in this section apply to all students at the University. Additional regulations pertaining to the Masters' programs are in Section 3 of this Calendar, while regulations pertaining to majors, honors, concentrations, and minors are found in Section 5.

Note: The University continuously reviews all of its academic regulations and hereby serves notice that significant revision(s) thereto may occur from time to time and will be duly promulgated officially.

Students, members of faculty, and administrative officers concerned with academic matters are all expected to be familiar with the rules, regulations, and procedures of the University as published in this Academic Calendar. The University reserves the right to approve academic programs and timetables, and to control access to courses and individual classes. It is the particular responsibility of students to ensure that the courses which they take are appropriate for their academic program, involve no timetable conflicts, and collectively satisfy all the requirements of that program.

Note: Academic administrators may appoint designates to carry out functions and responsibilities delineated in these academic regulations.

1. Number of Courses in a Year

a. Students must formally register for all courses. In the Faculties of Arts, Commerce and Science (excluding Engineering), the normal load in an academic session for a full-time undergraduate is five (5.0) credits per semester; while in the Division of Engineering, six (6.0) credits per semester constitute a normal full-time load. The Bachelor of Education program requires the completion of seven (7.0) credits. Undergraduate students registered for at least three (3.0) credits in a semester are considered to be full-time, while students registered for fewer than three (3.0) credits per semester are part-time. During the same academic year it is possible for students to be full-time in one semester and part-time in the other. Graduate students' registration status is determined on a program specific basis.

b. Students who have earned at least five (5.0) credits at Saint Mary's may elect to take up to an additional (1.0) course in the regular academic year. Permission is not required for such an overload.

c. Students may take up to three (3.0) courses during any one summer period, i.e., May to August.

2. Auditing Courses

Students may audit courses but they must formally register as auditors in these courses. Auditors participate in all regular class activities, but are not expected to prepare formal assignments, write papers, or take quizzes, tests, or examinations. With the permission of the instructor, however, they may perform these activities and receive an informal evaluation of their work. Audited courses are not given credit or regular grades but the notation of AU is included on the students' official record. Within the normal time limits for changing courses (see 13b), students may request permission to change from regular registration status in a course to auditing status or vice versa.

3. Academic Advising

a. Although students are responsible for ensuring that they meet the requirements of their academic programs, the University makes every effort to provide assistance in the selection of courses and programs. Students who have already declared their major, area of concentration, honors, or minor will be advised by the Chairperson of the appropriate departments or their appointees. All other students should seek advice from the Dean of their Faculty (Associate Dean in Arts and Commerce) who will, if necessary, assign special academic advisors.

b. Academic counselling is particularly recommended for the following students:

- (i) all students who are on academic probation as defined in regulation 7d;
- (ii) all students who have previously incurred probationary status and who, upon the completion of any subsequent course(s), have not yet achieved a minimum cumulative quality point average of 1.50;
- (iii) all students who do not attain a quality point average of at least 1.50 in any given semester;
- (iv) all students who are resuming their studies after having been required to withdraw from the University because of academic weakness [see regulation 7h(iii)].

4. Grading System

- a. The final grade for a course will be based on the quality of a student's work including, where appropriate, essays and exercises, class tests, end of semester examinations, final examinations, reports, class participation, laboratory work, tutorial sessions, projects and field work.
- b. Instructors must inform students in writing of the grading system to be used in each of their courses. The written statement must include the relative weight which will be given to class and/or laboratory participation, examinations, tests, written assignments and other means of evaluation. The statement must also show how these evaluations will be used to determine the final letter grades. This detailed grading system for the course must be given to the students on the first day of class in that course. Subsequent changes to this system must also be made available to students in writing. A copy of the grading system and any subsequent changes to it must be placed on file in the office of the Dean of the Faculty at the time when they are distributed to the students.

5. Undergraduate Rating, Grades and Quality Points

a. The rating of undergraduate students' performance is given as shown below in equivalent grades, quality points, and percentages.

Grades	Quality Points (Full Courses)	Quality Points (Half Courses)	Percentage Equivalents	Rating
A+ } A } A- }	4.000 4.000 3.667	2.000 2.000 1.835	80-100	Excellent
B+ } B } B- }	3.333 3.000 2.667	1.665 1.500 1.335	70-79	Good
C+ } C } C- }	2.333 2.000 1.500	1.165 1.000 0.750	60-69	Satisfactory
D } F }	1.000 .000	0.500 .000	50-59 0-49	Marginal Pass Failure or withdrawal after deadline (see 16 below)

b. The following grades shall be given when appropriate but will not be calculated in the quality point average:

Aegrotat standing (see No. 12)	AE
Authorized withdrawal from course (see 16a below)	W

c. The minimum passing grade is D (or its equivalent). Students should be aware, however, that a grade of D (or the equivalent) is regarded as a marginal pass and therefore carries negative connotations. For example, many programs require a grade higher than "D" in an introductory course in order to declare a major.

d. To receive a passing grade in a course, students normally must complete all course requirements, including all tests and examinations.

e. Students who have not completed the work of the course may, in special circumstances and with the approval of the Dean of the Faculty, be given the temporary grade IC (incomplete) by the instructor; if no final grade has been submitted to the Registrar by the instructor within six weeks of the last day of classes in the semester, a grade of F will automatically be substituted for IC, except in the following cases:

- (i) Honors level courses; and
- (ii) Graduate level courses.

In these cases the IC will not automatically be converted to the grade of F until the end of the semester following the one in which the IC grade was given;

- (iii) Practice Teaching [EDU 591.1(2), 592.1(2) and 593.1(2)]; and
- (iv) Masters' Theses/Projects.

In these cases the IC remains until the work is completed or the time limits for registration in the program expire.

f. The maximum time limit permitted for a change of final grade is six months from the last day of classes in the semester. Except for the changing of an approved "Incomplete" to a real grade, a grade change must be approved by the Dean of the Faculty in which the course is offered.

g. In cases where through no fault of the student, grades have not been received and processed by the deadline stipulated by Senate, a temporary grade of AI ("administrative incomplete") will be assigned but will not be included in the calculations of quality point and cumulative quality point averages. This temporary grade of AI is assigned by the Registrar.

h. Once a final grade has been determined, supplementary examinations or any additional assignments for the purpose of changing that grade are not permitted.

6. Quality Point Average

a. A quality point average (abbreviation: qpa) is used to determine the standard of a student's performance for the academic year.

b. Each letter grade is given a quality point equivalent as described in 5a above.

c. The quality point average is computed at the end of each academic year by dividing the total number of quality points obtained that year by the total number of credits taken.

d. The cumulative quality point average (abbreviation: cqpa) is based upon all courses taken for credit in any Faculty at Saint Mary's after 1 September 1974 other than those for which grades AE, W, or WP have been given. Courses for which grades of F or WF have been given are included in the calculation of the quality point average even if such courses are subsequently retaken and passed.

e. Grades for courses taken at other institutions for which advanced standing or transfer credit is given are not included in calculations for a quality point average, a cumulative quality point average, or in calculations for determining awards and distinctions.

7. Standing Required

a. The regulations governing continuance in a program are those in effect at the time students first register in that program, except as provided under (b) below.

b. In the case of students readmitted after an absence of five or more years, or after having been required to withdraw for academic weakness, or in the case of students transferring to a different academic program, the regulations in force at the time of readmission or transfer apply. In addition, the Dean may attach specific and binding conditions to the students' performance to assure that the normal standards of the degree requirements are met.

c. Satisfactory Standing

(i) To qualify for a Bachelor's degree in Arts, Science, or Commerce, a student must achieve a cumulative quality point average of at least 1.50. For this reason, performance in any individual course below the grade of C minus or a quality point average below 1.50 in any given semester is considered unsatisfactory.

(ii) To qualify for a Bachelor's degree in Education, students are required to maintain a quality point average of at least 2.00. For individual courses the pass mark is D, with the exception of Practice Teaching I, II, and III for which the pass mark is C. No supplementary examinations are provided.

(iii) To earn a Master's degree, a student must achieve a cumulative quality point average of at least 3.00. For this reason, performance in any individual course below the grade of B or a quality point average below 3.00 in any given semester is considered unsatisfactory (see paragraph 6 in Section 3 of this Academic Calendar).

d. Probationary Status

Probationary status is incurred:

(i) if, at the end of any academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May), full-time students have attained a quality point average between 1.00 and 1.50 for that year;

(ii) if, at the end of any academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May), part-time students have attempted at least 5.0 credits and attained a quality point average between 1.00 and 1.50 (all credits attempted between 1 May of a preceding year and the current year will be included such that at least 5.0 credits have been attempted).

(iii) on readmission after being required to withdraw because of academic weakness [see (h) below];

(iv) if students are required to confer with their academic advisor and fail to do so or fail to make appropriate efforts to resolve problems which are affecting their academic performance.

e. Removal of Probationary Status

Probationary status is removed:

(i) if, at the end of any academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May) full-time students on academic probation have attained a minimum quality point average of 1.50 on all courses attempted since being placed on probation.

(ii) if, at the end of any academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May) part-time students on academic probation have earned at least five (5.0) credits since being placed on probation and attained a minimum quality point average of at least 1.50.

Notes:

(a) Transfer to a different Faculty does not remove probationary status.

(b) Unless the permission of the Dean of the Faculty has been obtained in advance, courses taken at another educational institution cannot be used to remove probationary status.

(c) Probationary notations are retained permanently on students' academic records.

f. Required Academic Counselling

Students whose academic performance at the University is unsatisfactory may be required to confer with their academic advisor.

g. Required Withdrawal

At the end of each academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May) withdrawal from the University for a minimum of one calendar year is required:

(i) for all students (both full-time and part-time) on academic probation who have attempted and earned real grades (i.e., all grades but W's) in at least five (5.0) courses since being placed on academic probation and fail to attain a minimum quality point average of 1.50 on all courses attempted since being placed on academic probation; or

(ii) if students on academic probation fail to comply with any specific formal conditions governing their probation.

Students who are required to withdraw from the University for both academic and non-academic reasons may be denied the right to return to Saint Mary's.

Note: No credit will be given for any course(s) taken at another institution during the period of required withdrawal.

h. Admission after Required Withdrawal

(i) Students who are not eligible for readmission to their former institution are normally not admissible to Saint Mary's University.

(ii) Students who have been required to withdraw, and who wish subsequently to be readmitted, must apply to the Admissions Office by the deadlines stipulated above in Admissions regulation 1a.

(iii) If readmitted, students will be placed on academic probation and must fulfil the terms outlined in their letter of readmission. Students failing to satisfy all the terms of readmission may be denied the right to further registration. [See also regulation 7b.]

Note: Students are advised that all communications concerning probationary status and dismissal are sent to the permanent address on file in the Registrar's Office, unless an alternate summer address has been received by the promulgated deadline. Therefore students are urged to ensure that this address is both accurate and complete.

8. Examinations

a. At the end of a semester, at the discretion of the Department concerned, a formal examination may be held during the special periods set aside for this purpose in December and in April.

b. All formal examinations held during the above periods are to be scheduled by the Registrar. The maximum time allowed for each examination is three hours.

c. (i) In a two-semester course, no single test given in a regularly scheduled class period (50 minutes or 75 minutes) shall contribute more than 20% of the overall evaluation for that course.

(ii) In a one-semester course, no single test given in a regularly scheduled class period (50 minutes or 75 minutes) shall contribute more than 35% of the overall evaluation for that course.

d. To be eligible to write any type of test or examination in any course, students must be properly registered in that course. Students must write all such tests or examinations at the designated times and in the designated places.

e. Students are responsible for knowing the date, time and location for writing each of their formal examinations. Students are required to present their valid Saint Mary's University student identification cards at all tests and examinations for possible verification of their signatures.

f. The University acknowledges that due to the pluralistic nature of its community, some students may, on religious grounds, require alternative times to write tests and examinations. Accordingly, a student who requires an alternative test or examination time on these religious grounds should consult with the Dean (in the case of Science and Education) or the Associate Dean (in the case of Arts and Commerce) of the Faculty in which the course is offered regarding alternative arrangements. Such a request must be made in writing within one week of the announcement of the test or examination date.

g. Supplementary examinations are not offered.

9. Evaluations

a. At the end of each semester, instructors will submit to the Registrar, on the forms provided, their evaluations of all students registered in their courses. For full courses (i.e., designated .0), interim grades will be submitted at the end of the first semester and final grades at the end of the academic year. The time frames for the submission of mid-year and final grades to the Registrar are:

In the case of courses in which no formal examination was scheduled by the Registrar within the period designated by Senate for formal examinations, one week from the beginning of the examination period; and in the case of courses in which formal examinations were scheduled by the Registrar within the period designated by Senate for such examinations, five days from the day on which the examination was written.

b. First semester Grade Report forms are available for students to pick-up at the beginning of the second semester. They are not mailed except to students registered entirely for courses in extension centres or who are not registered for any courses in the second semester of that academic year.

c. As soon as possible after the conclusion of the academic year and each summer session, Grade Report forms showing the final grades for all courses in which students were registered are mailed to the students' permanent addresses, unless an alternate address card has been duly filed with the Registrar by the advertised deadline.

d. In the case of courses taught over the first three weeks of a summer session, final grades will be posted outside the Registrar's Office as soon as they have been received and processed. Grade Report forms will be processed and mailed as soon as possible after the completion of that summer session. Transcript requests for such courses cannot be honored until a particular summer session has been completed in its entirety.

e. Final grades are withheld from students who have money owing to the University, or who have either money or books owing the University Library system.

f. Grades given at the end of a semester shall not be made known to students except by the Registrar.

g. Grade changes must be approved by the Dean of the Faculty in which the course is offered before they can be accepted for processing by the Registrar. Reason(s) for the change(s) is required at the time of submission.

10. Special Examinations

a. A special examination may be arranged:

(i) if students present a legitimate reason, acceptable to the Dean of the Faculty, for not having taken a final examination on the scheduled date; or

(ii) if students have failed a course in exceptional circumstances which the instructor and Dean of the Faculty are satisfied justify a special examination being given; or

(iii) if the Committee on Academic Appeals has made a judgment that a special examination be given.

b. The standard grading system (see academic regulation 4) will be followed.

c. Special examinations will be scheduled by the Registrar. Except in the case of a(iii) above, a pre-paid processing fee of $10.00 for one examination and $20.00 for two or more examinations will be charged. This fee is to be paid the Registrar prior to the examination being written.

11. Academic Appeals

Students who have good reason to believe they have been subject to mistaken, improper or unjust treatment with respect to their academic work have the right to appeal to the Committee on Academic Appeals. An appeal must be based on solid evidence and not merely on injured feelings. This Committee's jurisdiction extends only to individuals currently enrolled at the University or enrolled during the previous academic year and required to withdraw, i.e., the Committee's jurisdiction does not apply to individuals whose application for admission to a program at the University has not been accepted. Appeals shall be governed by the following procedures:

a. Appealing of Final Grades

The only grades that may be appealed are official final grades. Students should be aware that when a grade appeal is launched, the grade can be raised, lowered, or remain unchanged.

(i) Students who wish to appeal a grade must first consult the instructor concerned within one month of receiving the grade and, if unsatisfied, should then consult the appropriate Chairperson and Dean. If the problem is still unresolved, students may forward their appeal to the Committee on Academic Appeals. This must be done in writing, through the Registrar, within three months from the last day of the semester in which the course is taken. This appeal statement must contain specifics as to when the instructor, the Chairperson, and the Dean were consulted, together with any other information the student considers relevant.

(ii) It is the responsibility of students and instructors to provide the Committee with all relevant available material on which the grade was based, such as examinations, tests, exercises, papers, reports and other graded material.

(iii) The Committee will normally appoint two qualified examiners to review the evidence presented and reconsider the grade. The examiners will submit their report and the evidence reviewed to the Chairperson of the Committee.

(iv) On the appeal for a change of grade, the decision of the Committee shall be final.

b. Other Appeals

On appeals other than those for a change of grade, the procedures shall be as follows:

(i) Normally within one month of the event or the decision being received by students, they shall submit their appeal in writing and direct it to the Committee on Academic Appeals through the Registrar.

(ii) The Chairperson of the Committee on Academic Appeals shall forward a copy of the appeal to the Dean of the appropriate Faculty, and, if relevant, to the Chairperson of the Department and the instructor.

c. Decision

Within one month, if possible, of receiving any appeal under (a) or (b) above, the Committee shall render and communicate its decision through the Registrar to all parties concerned. Pending possible further appeal, the Committee will retain the evidence presented to it for a period of six weeks after rendering its decision.

d. Appeal of Committee's Decision

Except in the case of an appeal for a change of grade, students shall have the right to appeal an adverse decision to the Executive Committee of Senate. Such an appeal shall be governed by the following procedures.

(i) Within one month of receiving the decision of the Committee, students shall submit their appeal in writing to the Secretary of Senate who shall forward the appeal together with all previously considered evidence to the Executive Committee of Senate for its consideration.

(ii) Within one month of receiving the appeal, the Executive Committee shall render and communicate its decision through the Secretary of Senate to the Registrar, who in turn shall communicate the decision to the student and to the Committee on Academic Appeals and take any further required action.

(iii) The decision of the Executive Committee shall be final.

e. Fee

All appeals to the Committee on Academic Appeals must be accompanied by a payment of a $25.00 fee. Further appeal under (d) above requires an additional payment of $25.00. In the event of a decision favorable to the appellant, all payments will be refunded.

Notes:

(a) Appellants may ask or be asked to appear before the committee(s) hearing their appeal.

(b) Members of a committee cannot participate in the hearing of an appeal arising from an action to which they were a party.

12. Credit without Final Examination

Students who, for medical or compassionate reasons, have been unable to write the final examination in a course but who have satisfactorily completed the other requirements, may apply to the Dean of the Faculty for a credit in that course without examination.

They must support their request with adequate evidence. If the Dean permits the request to go forward, instructors involved will be asked to assign an estimated final grade. If the instructors judge that the student should be given credit for the course but are unable to determine a precise quality point grade, then they will assign the grade of AE (aegrotat). This grade will not be included in computing the quality point average. Students may apply for aegrotat standing for a maximum of five courses during their undergraduate program. This grade of AE is available only as a final grade and therefore cannot be awarded at mid-year for full credit courses, i.e., those designated .0.

13. Course Changes

a. At the beginning of each academic session, a period of time is provided for students to alter their registration without the change being noted on their permanent records. During these periods, and subject to availability, a course (or section of a course), lab, or recitation may be added, dropped or exchanged for another.

b. For all these changes the period of time required from the first official day of classes is:

- (i) five working days during the academic year; and
- (ii) three days during a summer session.

c. Changes can be effected only by filing with the Registrar a Change of Registration form indicating the desired change(s). Consult the Calendar of Events for specific dates.

d. Only in extraordinary cases will a Dean or Associate Dean authorize any course changes after the time deadlines. Special forms for this purpose are available only from those with this signing authority.

Warning: Students are responsible for all required work in the course regardless of the date of their entry into the course.

e. Students cannot be registered in a course, lab, or recitation which has reached its maximum enrollment and hence regarded as full. In exceptional circumstances, heads of academic units (i.e., chairperson, subject area representatives, directors of divisions, or area coordinators) may authorize a student officially pursuing a Saint Mary's degree, diploma, or certificate program to register in a closed course, lab, or recitation. Special permission forms required for this authorization are distributed only to those with signing authority.

f. Only in extraordinary cases will a Dean or Associate Dean authorize any change(s) after the stipulated deadline. Special authorization forms must be used.

Note: Students are responsible for all required work in the course regardless of the date of their entry into the course, lab, or recitation.

14. Declaration or Change of Major, Area of Concentration, Honors, or Minor

a. In order to declare or change a major, area of concentration, honors, or minor, students must file a Declaration of Major form with the Registrar. This form must have been signed by the Chairperson of the Department in which the student has been authorized to pursue a major, area of concentration, honors, or minor. Students are strongly urged to declare their major, area of concentration, honors, or minor before registering for their final ten (10.0) credits and before 1 June. Declarations filed from 1 June to 15 September will not affect the student's category and priority for registration purposes.

b. The regulations governing the major, area of concentration, honors, or minor program will be those in effect at the time of declaration or change.

c. Students are advised that general regulations governing majors, areas of concentration, honors, or minors are found below in academic regulations 20 and 21; specific Faculty regulations are found in Section 3 of this Calendar; and specific departmental and subject area regulations are found in the relevant parts of Section 5.

d. Students must file a Change of Registration form indicating the dropping of their major, area of concentration, honors, or minor if they no longer intend to pursue it. Otherwise it will be assumed to be valid and the student will be expected to complete the requirements in order to qualify for graduation.

15. Procedure for Changing Faculty

In order to register an official change of Faculty, students must file with the Registrar, a Change of Registration form which has been signed by the Dean of the Faculty into which the students intend to transfer. Upon receipt of such a Change of Registration form, the Registrar, on the advice of the Dean of the Faculty, will inform the students of the number of credits being transferred to their chosen academic program. Students should be aware that a change of Faculty is not automatic and will not be processed during registration periods; therefore students are strongly encouraged to file for a change of faculty by 15 June. Changes made from 15 June to 15 September will not affect the student's category and priority for registration purposes.

Students on probation at the time of authorized transfer of Faculty or academic program automatically remain on probation.

16. Withdrawing from a Course

a. In the case of half-credit courses, after the time limits indicated in 13b above have expired, and provided the half-course still has one quarter of the instruction time remaining, students may withdraw from the course. In the case of full credit courses, after the time limits indicated in 13b above have expired, and providing the tenth day of classes in the second semester has not passed, students may withdraw from the course. In such cases a grade of W will automatically be awarded. Students withdrawing from a course after these time limits automatically receive a grade of F.

b. A student who registers for a course and does not withdraw is considered to be taking the course, and if no grade is assigned by the instructor, a grade of F will be recorded automatically. Non-attendance at class or non-payment of tuition fees does not constitute an official withdrawal from a course, lab, or recitation for which the student initiated registration procedures.

c. For purposes of registration, sections of courses, labs, and recitations are considered to be the same as individual courses. Hence academic regulations, procedures, and deadlines apply to all types of changes.

Notes:

(a) All withdrawals must be made officially on Change of Registration forms available from the Registrar. Should it not be possible for students to obtain such a form, a letter of withdrawal can be forwarded to the Registrar which must include the student's name, address, Saint Mary's I.D. number, and the courses (with section numbers if applicable), labs, and recitations involved in the withdrawal. Students must initiate the withdrawal from all courses, labs, and recitations. The automatic withdrawal from courses because of the withdrawal from another course which is a stated prerequisite does not occur. This same principle applies when students fail a course which is a prerequisite for another for which they have already registered. In these instances, students must initiate the withdrawal from the course(s) for which they lack the stated prerequisite.

(b) Students should note that the deadlines for academic withdrawal differ from those for financial adjustment and possible refund of tuition and related fees.

17. Retaking a Course

a. Students may retake any course. Although all grades, including failing grades, count in computing quality points for the year and for the degree, each course counts only once as a credit in the academic program.

b. In the cases where courses have been renumbered, changed in level, or where a full credit course has been split into two half-credit courses or vice versa, a student who received credit recognition for the original course is not entitled to repeat the course in its new format or on its new level for additional credit recognition.

c. Students will not ordinarily be given credit for a course taken at another educational institution which they have already taken and failed at Saint Mary's.

18. Withdrawal for Academic Reasons

Students whose participation, work or progress is deemed to be unsatisfactory may have their registration terminated and be denied the right to continue at the University by the Dean of their Faculty.

19. Academic Responsibility

a. University students are expected to have a reasonable measure of self-discipline and maturity. While the University's teaching resources are available for help and guidance, and instructors and staff will make every effort to assist students with academic or other problems, the final responsibility for success or failure in academic studies rests with the students.

At times there may be considerable pressure to achieve high grades. One may be tempted to obtain grades by dishonest means. The integrity of the University and of the degrees it awards are compromised by practices such as cheating and plagiarism. The University does not condone such acts under any circumstances and will take appropriate disciplinary action.

b. Plagiarism

Plagiarism is the presentation of words, ideas or techniques of another as one's own. Reference to or appropriation of another's work whether by direct quotation or paraphrase must be acknowledged by proper citation. When in doubt, one should seek the advice of the instructor before submitting the work. The above definition of plagiarism is not restricted to literary works and applies to all forms of information or ideas that belong to another (e.g., computer programs, mathematical solutions, scientific experiments, graphical images, or data).

Submission of the same piece of work for credit in more than one course is usually not permitted. The approval of the instructors of the courses involved must be obtained in advance.

c. Examinations

Cheating is the attempt to secure a grade by unethical means. Knowingly assisting someone to cheat is itself cheating. Cheating would include such practices as

- (i) arranging for someone to impersonate oneself at an examination or the impersonation of another at an examination;
- (ii) requesting, providing or accepting unauthorized assistance on a test;
- (iii) possession of unauthorized materials at a test;
- (iv) unauthorized procurement of a copy of an exam.

Anyone observed committing one of the above offences is presumed guilty of cheating unless the student can establish his/her innocence.

d. Other

It is an offence to falsify any academic record or to use a falsified record.

It is an offence to tamper with University library materials or computer system resources in any way which would deprive others of their use. The unauthorized copying, reading or use of programs or files are not permitted.

e. Sanctions

Usually, on the first offence of cheating or plagiarism a mark of zero will be assigned to the work in question. The student will not be permitted to withdraw from the course. The instructor will inform the student, Deans of the Faculty in which the student is registered and/or the Faculty in which the course is taught, and Registrar, in writing, of the offence.

In the event of a second offence, or serious first offence, the University may impose one or more of the following sanctions:

- (i) a grade of F in the course;
- (ii) a record of the offence on the student's transcript;
- (iii) suspension from the University;
- (iv) dismissal from the University;
- (v) revocation of degrees, diplomas or certificates.

Withdrawal from a course prior to the discovery of the offence does not restrict the University's right to take action.

20. Advanced Standing: University and Other Post-Secondary Institutions

After an official transcript has been received by the Registrar, and providing the students have identified the subject area(s) in which they intend to major or declare an area of concentration, students transferring from other recognized universities or post-secondary institutions to an academic program at Saint Mary's may be given advanced standing credit, if appropriate, in consultation with the Dean of the Faculty. To obtain a first baccalaureate degree or a diploma, they must fulfil all requirements for that degree or diploma and successfully complete a minimum of 50% of the credits required for their academic program at Saint Mary's, of which a minimum of four (4.0) credits must be in the students' major or area of concentration. In the case of students in an honors program, the minimum number of credits required at Saint Mary's is fifteen (15.0), of which a minimum of ten (10.0) credits must be in the subject(s) of honors.

For students admitted to the Faculty of Commerce, there is a special agreement for Transfer of Credit from the Nova Scotia Community College - I.W. Akerley Campus. For further details, consult Section 3 of this Calendar - Undergraduate Programs, Faculty of Commerce.

Notes:

- (a) A request for advanced standing will not be considered after one year from the date of the student's first registration in an academic program at Saint Mary's.
- (b) Advanced standing will be given only for courses with satisfactory grades as required by the relevant Saint Mary's program. Except for first and second year courses from other Nova Scotia post secondary institutions, grades of D or lower are not acceptable for undergraduate programs; grades of B- or lower for graduate programs.
- (c) Credit will not automatically be recognized for university courses completed more than ten (10) years prior to the students' return to university study. The Dean's assessment of the number of credits that students must complete to satisfy their degree requirements is final.

For further information on credit granted for work done prior to admission to Saint Mary's, see Admission Requirements.

21. Transfer Credit

a. While registered at Saint Mary's University, students may be authorized by the appropriate Dean to take a course(s) at another academic institution for transfer credit to an academic program at Saint Mary's. Students applying for such permission must provide the Registrar with a full description of the course(s) involved. The description from the academic calendar will suffice. The Registrar will notify the students of the Dean's decision and, if permission has been granted, will forward a Letter of Permission directly to the institution at which students are permitted to study. Students are responsible for completing the proper application and registration procedures at the designated institution. These same procedures apply to summer session courses.

b. Students who are permitted to take a course(s) at an institution other than Saint Mary's by means of a Letter of Permission are responsible for paying all appropriate fees to the institution at which they are taking the course(s). The only exception are a few formal exchange programs, details of which are available from the Business Office. These include, but are not limited to, the New England-Nova Scotia Student Exchange Program and the Canadian Universities Student Exchange Consortium (CUSEC).

c. In cases where the University has entered into a special arrangement with another educational institution for shared instruction in a particular program, the normal application and registration procedures will be followed.

d. In the case of distance education courses (including those by correspondence), the normal procedures for transfer credits are to be followed. In addition, proof must be presented that the institution offering the correspondence course also recognizes it for credit purposes toward an academic program.

e. Before transfer credit(s) can be considered, students must have the institution concerned send to the Registrar an official transcript of the work undertaken.

f. Students should also note that in some departments a grade of C or higher is required if the course is to be considered as part of the students' major, area of concentration, honors, or minor program. For graduate programs, no transfer credit will be given for courses with grades below B (or the equivalent).

Note: Students should note that 50% of all courses for any academic program (degree, diploma, or certificate) must be taken at Saint Mary's.

g. Except under the above provisions, students may not register concurrently at Saint Mary's and at another academic institution. Should a student's concurrent registration be discovered, the University, on the advice of the Dean of the Faculty concerned, reserves the right to deny the student any credit(s) for the course(s) taken at another institution and to cancel that student's acceptance and/or registration at Saint Mary's University.

h. Letters of Permission will not be authorized on a retroactive basis.

22. Advanced Standing Credit by Examination for Undergraduate Degree Programs

23. Students Whose First Language Is Not English

In the majority of cases the primary language of instruction at Saint Mary's University is English. Therefore, students for whom English is not their first language and who do not have the facility to communicate well, both verbally and in writing, are strongly encouraged to register for ESL 100.0 or other English language training prior to registering in their academic program at the University.

24. Requirements of Two Academic Programs (Dual Program)

a. If students are endeavouring to satisfy the requirements of two academic programs at the University, it may not be possible to satisfy the requirements of both of these within the minimum number of credits stipulated for either or both of them. The two programs include, but are not limited to: dual degree programs; double major/concentration; major in one subject and honors in another; and degree and certificate programs such as the Criminology Certificate Program. Students are advised that they must meet the specific requirements of each portion of their academic program or programs in order to qualify for graduation. Also see registration regulation 6 below.

b. It is possible to satisfy simultaneously the requirements for two baccalaureate degrees in the Faculties of Arts, Commerce or Science. To formally declare their status as dual degree, students must complete the appropriate form in the Registrar's Office and have it signed by each appropriate Dean. Prior to signing this form, each Dean will assess the students' university course work to date and inform the Registrar in writing of other general requirements that must be completed in order to earn a degree within that Faculty. The Registrar, in turn, will officially notify the student. Specific program requirements should be discussed with the Chairperson of the Department of the students' major or area of concentration. Students in a dual degree program are advised that in order to receive the two degrees at the same Convocation, they must meet the specific requirements of each portion of their academic program(s) and also achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00 in order to qualify for graduation. Dual degree students will receive both of their degrees at the same Convocation. Students who complete the requirement for only one degree and who graduate are considered to have discontinued the second degree program. Should they subsequently wish to resume their studies in the second faculty, they must reapply for admission and, if admitted, are considered to be pursuing a second undergraduate degree and hence required to follow the appropriate regulations and guidelines.

25. Second Undergraduate Degree

a. Students who hold a first baccalaureate degree may obtain a second baccalaureate degree in the same faculty, but with a different major, or in a different faculty and with a different major, by completing all requirements for that degree as specified by the Dean of that Faculty. The minimum number of credits required will be 50% of the number stipulated for a first undergraduate degree. Specifically, therefore, for a Bachelor of Arts degree and a Bachelor of Science degree with a concentration, a minimum of 7.5 credits will be required; for a Bachelor of Science degree with either a major or honors, as well as a Bachelor of Commerce degree, the minimum number of credits will be 10.0. Students must also complete the regulations of the Academic Calendar in existence when they officially began their program. In so doing, they must complete all of their credits at Saint Mary's. Any credits that have been used to satisfy the requirements for any previous academic credentials will not be permitted to count again for this second baccalaureate degree.

b. All students who wish to register in a program leading to a second baccalaureate degree must complete the appropriate application form available from the Office of Admissions at least three months prior to the academic session in which they expect to officially register for that second degree program.

26. Certificate of Honors Equivalency

a. The Certificate of Honors Equivalency was established by the University Senate to provide a means of granting appropriate recognition to those Saint Mary's graduates who did not follow the regular honors program of the University but have subsequently completed all requirements for graduation in such a program, and having already received a degree, cannot have a second undergraduate degree in the same Faculty conferred upon them. To earn the Certificate of Honors Equivalency, students must complete all the requirements for the appropriate honors program.

b. Students who have earned a first undergraduate degree from another post-secondary institution are not eligible for the Certificate of Honors Equivalency but may enrol as upgrading students if they wish to take additional courses to qualify for admission to a Master's degree program.

27. Convocation Dates, Degrees and Diplomas

a. Students must file an Application for Graduation from a specific academic program with the Registrar by the dates stipulated in the University Calendar of Events and pay the graduation fee. This fee does not have to be paid when the application is filed. If, at the discretion of the Registrar, there are circumstances which warrant waiving the stipulated deadline for filing the graduation application, the student will be assessed twice the normal graduation fee or permitted to wait until the next Convocation in order to graduate. If during the course of the students' final academic year at the University, a change is made in the Faculty or in the type of program in which the student is enrolled (i.e., from honors to major), it will be necessary for the student to reapply for graduation, and the above-noted deadlines will apply as will the Registrar's discretionary authority.

b. Normally there are two Convocations annually, in May and in October. Once all requirements are completed, students must graduate at the next Convocation. Students are permitted to receive two parchments at one Convocation only in the following instances, namely, registered in a dual degree program (see academic regulation 24b above) or a degree and certificate program.

c. Students are required to obtain the academic regalia appropriate to their academic program at the times, dates and locations indicated in the Graduation Booklet which is mailed to all students who have filed an application for graduation and who qualify as potential graduates. This mailing occurs approximately six weeks prior to graduation. It is the students' responsibility to ensure that they have received a copy of the publication.

Students will not be permitted to convocate if they are not attired in the academic regalia appropriate to their academic program at Saint Mary's University.

d. The parchment shows the academic designation (i.e., degree, diploma, or certificate) which has been conferred but not the major, area of concentration, or minor. This, however, is noted in the students' official academic record and hence appears on any transcript issued, whether official or unofficial. After Convocation, a new parchment can be ordered (at the student's expense) for any student who graduates with a distinction. These parchments carry the notation concerning the distinction. Please write to the Registrar within three weeks of Convocation to request a parchment showing the academic distinction earned. The fee for this reprint is $25.00 plus GST. Note: The subject of honors is shown on the parchment.

e. The University grants the following degrees:

Bachelor of Arts	B.A.
Bachelor of Commerce	B.Comm.
Bachelor of Education	B.Ed.
Bachelor of Education (Vocational Education)	B.Ed.(Voc.)
Bachelor of Education (in Association with The Nova Scotia Teachers College)	B.Ed.(N.S.T.C.)

Master of Business Administration	M.B.A.
Master of Education	M.Ed.
Master of Science	M.Sc.
Doctor of Civil Law, Honoris Causa	D.C.L.
Doctor of Commerce, Honoris Causa	D.Comm.
Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa	LL.D.
Doctor of Letters, Honoris Causa	D.Litt.
Doctor of Science, Honoris Causa	D.Sc.

Certificate of Chinese Studies	-
Certificate of Honors Equivalency	-
Certificate of Japanese Studies	-
Co-operative Education Certificate	-
Certificate in Criminology	CRM
Diploma in Engineering	D.Egn.

f. Details of the University's policies on the reissuing of parchments are available from the Registrar. If re-issued, the cost is $50.00 plus GST.

g. Students whose accounts are in arrears may be denied the right to graduate until the debt is cleared.

28. Degree or Diploma In Absentia

Provided that candidates have officially notified the Registrar in writing at least ten days in advance that they will not be present at Convocation, they may receive their degrees or diplomas in absentia. Failure to give such notification will result in a $10.00 penalty, which must be paid in addition to the graduation fee before the parchment or any other proof of graduation will be prepared and released.

29. Distinctions

a. (i) In the undergraduate degree and diploma program, distinctions are awarded to successful candidates on the basis of the following quality point averages in respect of the courses specified in (b) below.

Program:	Quality Point Average	Distinction:
B.A., B.Sc., & B.Comm.	3.91 - 4.00	Diploma In Engineering
summa cum laude	3.91 - 4.00	With greatest distinction
magna cum laude	3.81 - 3.90	With great distinction
cum laude	3.67 - 3.80	With distinction

(ii) Bachelor's degree with Honors: A Bachelor's degree with Honors will be awarded with the distinction "First Class" when the cumulative quality point average for all courses taken at Saint Mary's is at least 3.91. Otherwise the Honors degree will be awarded without special distinction.

b. The above-noted quality point averages will be calculated on the basis of all courses taken at Saint Mary's. Students must have taken 75% and no fewer than twelve (12.0) [ten (10.0) in Engineering] of their courses at Saint Mary's to qualify for a distinction. In the case of the honors degree, students must have taken a minimum of 75% and no fewer than seventeen (17.0) courses at Saint Mary's to qualify for a distinction. The only exception to this is when the student has earned the equivalent of five (5.0) credits at Centre international d'études françaises (C.I.D.E.F.) de l'Université catholique de l'ouest, Angers, France; and from exchange programs with which Saint Mary's University has entered into formal agreements.

c. No distinctions are awarded in graduate, education, and certificate programs.

30. University Medals

At each Spring Convocation the following are presented:

a. Governor General's Gold and Silver Academic Medals

These medals are awarded annually to the graduate (gold) and the undergraduate (silver) deemed to be the top candidates at their respective levels of study.

b. Faculty and Division Medals

In the Faculties of Arts, Science, Commerce, and Education, and in the Division of Engineering, medals are awarded to the undergraduate students with the highest cumulative quality point average. Medals are also presented to the students with the highest cumulative quality point averages in the M.A.(I.D.S.); M.Sc.(Applied Psychology); M.B.A., E.M.B.A., and the M.A.(Education)/M.Ed. graduate programs.

Notes:

(a) In the case of undergraduate degrees and diplomas, the cumulative quality point averages will be calculated on the same basis as that for determining distinctions (see academic regulation 29). In the case of a tie, Senate will determine the recipient of the medal. In the case of graduate degrees, students' entire graduate academic records will be considered.

(b) Students who graduate at Fall Convocation will be considered for medals at the next Spring Convocation.

31. Dean's Lists for Undergraduate Programs

Saint Mary's University recognizes students of high academic standing by placing them on the Dean's List. There are two routes by which students may qualify for placement on the Dean's List:

a. At the end of each academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May), full-time students whose quality point average indicates high academic achievement will be placed on the Dean's List and have that achievement recorded on their official academic records. To qualify for this recognition, students must have taken at least five (5.0) courses during that academic year, have achieved a minimum quality point average of 3.67, and received no "F" grades.

b. (i) For students registered in less than five (5.0) courses in an academic year to qualify for placement on the Dean's List, they must have taken and completed overall at least five (5.0) courses. They must have achieved a minimum quality point average of 3.67 and received no "F" grades on these courses. A minimum of five (5.0) of these courses must be from Saint Mary's University. After having been placed on the Dean's List, these students must take at least five (5.0) additional courses to qualify again for placement on the Dean's List. Placement on the Dean's List will be assessed at the end of each academic year (i.e., on or about 1 May) and recorded on students' official academic records.

(ii) Because the Student Information System cannot easily identify those who qualify for placement on the Dean's List under academic regulation 31b(i) above, only those students must apply for placement on the Dean's List. Application forms are available from the Registrar's Office and can only be filed after final marks have been processed and officially received by the students.

32. Students' Academic Records and Transcripts

a. Students' academic records, including their official University files, are the property of the University. Access to those records and release of information from them will be governed by the University's policies and by the laws of the province and the country. The University's official policy on this subject is contained in the pamphlet entitled, "Policy Regarding the Release of Information about Students". Copies are available from the Registrar.

b. Students' transcripts of records are privileged information and to that end will not be released by the Registrar to those outside the University without the prior written permission of the students. As required by their appointment, academic administrators within the University have access to students' complete academic records.

c. To request a transcript, students must complete the appropriate form obtainable from the Registrar or mail or fax a letter of request to the Records Office. It is not possible to accept a transcript request over the telephone. Transcript requests are processed strictly in the order in which they are received. Although the normal processing time for both official and unofficial transcripts is the same and is approximately ten working days, additional time will be required at peak periods. Transcripts include the following information:

(i) Faculty, program, major, area of concentration, minor, and/or honors;

(ii) advanced standing and/or transfer credits;

(iii) grades (failing as well as passing) in respect of all academic work attempted while registered at Saint Mary's.

d. Where appropriate, reference is also made to:

(i) placement and continuance on, and removal of, academic probation;

(ii) requirement to withdraw for academic weakness, or for non-academic (i.e., disciplinary) reasons;

(iii) distinctions and scholarships, including placement on the Dean's List.

e. The cost is $5.00 for each copy and must be received before the transcript is issued. Official transcripts are those forwarded directly from the Registrar's Office to an official third party. If detailed course descriptions are also required, there will be an additional fee of $1.00 per description. Students whose accounts are in arrears will be denied transcripts until the debt is cleared.

f. Upon prepayment, the University is prepared to fax a transcript which has been ordered in the official manner. Students are advised to check beforehand with the receiving institution to ensure that a transcript received by fax will be acceptable. The prepaid fees for faxing a transcript are: $7.00 - Halifax Metropolitan Area; $10.00 - elsewhere in Canada; and $20.00 - outside of Canada. Transcripts can also be forwarded by courier if the requisite fee has been prepaid and complete instructions have been provided. Transcripts will be faxed or couriered only after the requisite fees have been received and processed at the University.

g. While the University takes every reasonable precaution to ensure the confidentiality of student records, students should be aware that the University is connected to a number of external electronic systems, and a number of academic and administrative offices have access, at least on a display basis, to the Student Information System. Copies of the "Policy Regarding the Release of Information about Students", as approved by Senate in April 1994, are available from the Registrar.

33. Safety and Responsibility in Officially-Sanctioned University Activities

Saint Mary's University has policies on the safety and responsibility of students in laboratories, on field courses/trips, in exchange programs/courses, and involved in other university-sanctioned activities. Copies of those policies are available through the Offices of the Deans of the Faculties, the Office of the Safety Coordinator, and the Office of the Director of International Activities. In courses where a safety policy is particularly relevant because of the special nature of the course, or because of the place of study, instructors will make it known to students in writing at the first class, or in the case of study programs outside Nova Scotia, before the program begins.

Students undertaking sanctioned international activities are required to follow the short series of procedures which the University has identified as being compulsory prior to a student being involved in that international activity. These procedures include a pre-departure briefing(s); the signing of a liability waiver form; and registration as appropriate to the activity. Students are advised that adequate notice (6-12 weeks) is frequently needed, particularly in those instances where visas will be required for the international travel. Additional information can be obtained from the International Activities Office.

Registration

1. Procedures

Registration procedures are the responsibility of the Registrar and will be made known to students, instructors and administrators in the official Registration Book published annually, approximately mid to late July.

2. Automated Registration In August

The procedures by which students register will be announced in the 1996 Registration Book. Basically it will consist of regular registration exclusively by mail (or fax) in late July to early August. This will be followed in late August by a change of registration period conducted exclusively in person on campus. Students are expected to have completed their registration prior to the beginning of classes which, for 1996, is on Wednesday, 4 September.

3. Late Registration

The University strongly discourages students from registering late. In very exceptional circumstances and providing the Dean of the student's Faculty concurs, a student may register late in whatever courses, sections of courses, labs, and recitations still having seats remaining in them upon payment of a late registration fee.

4. Change of Registration: Courses, Labs, and Recitations

The 1996 Registration Book contains detailed information on the timetable and procedures for this process.

5. Change of Registration: Biographical Information

In addition to changes of courses, labs, and recitations, change of registration also consists of maintaining the accuracy of biographical information, i.e., addresses, telephone numbers, name, and application for graduation. Only students can initiate these changes; only the Registrar can officially process these changes. Changes made in any other way, formally or informally, are not honored.

6. Registration In Dual Degree Programs

Students are advised that if they are registered in a dual degree program, or registered for a degree and a certificate and/or diploma, and graduate with only one of these qualifications, they are assumed to have discontinued the second program. To reactivate their status, students must reapply for admission and qualify for the second program with the number of credits specified for that specific program.

7. Alterations In Timetable

The University reserves the right to change the times and the Instructor(s) of a course from those advertised in the official Timetable.

8. Cancellation of Courses

If the number of students registered for a course is insufficient to warrant being offered, that course may be cancelled by the Dean of the Faculty. Other circumstances may also require the cancellation of a course or a section thereof by the Dean of the Faculty.

9. Addresses

During the academic year, all communications are mailed to local addresses. Therefore students are urged to keep their up-to-date in the Registrar's Office. During the summer months, communications are normally sent to the students' permanent addresses unless an alternate address has been filed with the Registrar by the advertised deadlines. Further details are available in the pamphlet entitled "Your Address and the Registrar's/Records Office". Copies can be obtained at the Registrar's Office (MM134).

10. Identification Cards

At the time of first registration, students are required to purchase an I.D. card at a cost of $5.00. This card is issued upon presentation of the Registration Receipt. These I.D. cards provide students with an official University identification which can be required for the writing of examinations and tests. (See above academic regulation 8e.) These cards also serve as Library cards, permit computer terminal use, allow access to The Tower (Fitness and Recreation Centre), and enable students to qualify for discounts at some local businesses.

Each subsequent year I.D. cards are validated during registration. There is no charge for validation. A replacement card costing $10.00 for lost or damaged cards will be issued with proof of valid registration.

Students who have not received their I.D. card during registration can obtain one at the Library.

Faculty of Arts

Dr. Michael J. Larsen, Dean

Dr. Donald J. Nauls, Associate Dean

General Information

The Faculty of Arts offers programs of study leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Arts (Honors), and Master of Arts. The last of these is available in Atlantic Canada Studies, History, International Development Studies, and Philosophy.

The primary purpose of the Bachelor of Arts program is to provide a sound basic education in the liberal arts, combined with a study in some depth in at least one subject or other area of concentration. The honors program is designed for students of above-average ability, especially for those who intend to proceed to graduate work or who seek a professional career in the area of the honors subject(s). It requires greater specialization, and a higher level of performance, than the ordinary Bachelor of Arts program, and includes courses specially designed for honors students.

Proficiency In English

For the Bachelor's degree, students are expected to be able to express themselves clearly and cogently in the English language. To this end, instructors in all subjects attach great importance to clarity of expression and to the capacity to sustain a coherent argument (as well, of course, as to substance and relevance) in assessing written work. Students who are deficient in this area are therefore strongly advised to take immediate steps to remedy that deficiency, and in particular to use the compulsory courses in English to maximum advantage. Otherwise, however industrious they may be, and however extensive their knowledge, they may have difficulty in accumulating sufficiently high grades to qualify for graduation.

In a nation that is officially bilingual it should be unnecessary to point out the added advantage of acquiring a working knowledge of the French language.

Although the time required for study and review will vary from course to course, students should expect to devote a total of nine hours per course per week (including class periods and private study). Normally this will mean spending about two hours of private study time for each hour of class time. Term papers and lab exercises may require additional time. Students should note that some professors may include class attendance in their course grading scheme.

Faculty of Arts - Undergraduate Programs

Requirements for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts

Summary of Requirements for a Bachelor of Arts Degree

- (1) Total number of credits required: 15.0 (see below - Arts regulation 1)
- (2) 300-level or higher Arts credits required: 8.0
- (3) General Arts credits requirements: 5.0 (see below - Arts regulation 3)
- (4) Credits required for major: 6.0 - 8.0 (see below - Arts regulations 4 and 5; also departmental/subject area requirements, found in Section 5)
- (5) Cumulative quality point average for major: a minimum of 2.00 (see below - Arts regulation 7; also departmental/subject area requirements, found in Section 5)
- (6) Cumulative quality point average for graduation: a minimum of 1.50 [see academic regulation 7c(ii)]

1. Subject to the regulations set forth in this Calendar, for the Bachelor of Arts degree students must complete the equivalent of fifteen (15.0) credits, with a minimum of eight (8.0) credits in recognized Arts subjects at the 300 level or higher. Courses which begin with zero (0) are designed to prepare students for entry level course work and will not be credited toward any degree, diploma, or certificate.

2. During the regular academic year, a full-time student will normally take five (5.0) credits. In exceptional circumstances, students with a minimum quality point average of 3.00 in the previous year of full-time study may, at the discretion of the Dean, be permitted to take a sixth credit.

3. Students must complete:

- a. English 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2) or, at the discretion of the Chairperson of the English Department, an alternative credit in English;

- b. the equivalent of one (1.0) credit from the following:
 Philosophy 200 (Basic Logic) (No other Philosophy course satisfies this requirement.)
 or Mathematics or a language other than English or a natural science (except Psychology);
- c. the equivalent of one (1.0) credit from among the remaining humanities (Classics, History, Philosophy other than PHI 200.0, and Religious Studies); and
- d. the equivalent of one (1.0) credit in at least two of the following social sciences: Anthropology, Economics, Geography, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology.

Full-time students must attempt to fulfil these requirements in their first year. It is hoped that they will thereby be introduced to the basic skills required for university study, and be exposed at the introductory level to a variety of disciplines. Students with special interests can, with the Dean's permission, fulfil some of these in their second year.

4. Not later than the beginning of Year 2, students must declare the particular subject(s) in which they wish to major, or alternative areas of concentration. The following are recognized as Arts subjects in which it is possible to major: Anthropology, Classics, Economics, English, French, Geography, German, History, Irish Studies, Latin, Mathematics, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Sociology and Spanish. In addition, Asian Studies, Atlantic Canada Studies, International Development Studies, and Women's Studies are four areas of concentration which are formally organized. Details are available from the individual program coordinators. Alternative areas, tailored to the needs and interests of particular students, may be devised and approved by the Dean of the Faculty. Once major subjects or areas of concentration have been declared, students' programs must be approved annually and supervised by the departments/subject areas in which they are majoring or by the persons responsible for their areas of concentration. While a subsequent change of major subjects or areas of concentration is possible, students are advised that such a change may necessitate additional courses in order to meet graduation requirements. The regulations governing the major program will be those in effect at the time of declaration of the major. Students are strongly encouraged to declare their major prior to 1 May.

5. In addition to satisfying requirement-3, students must complete the equivalent of not fewer than six (6.0) credits in the subject of the major or in the chosen area of concentration; but may count among these six any relevant course(s) taken in fulfilment of requirement 3. Not fewer than four (4.0) of the six (6.0) credits must be at the 300 level or above. No department may require more than eight (8.0) credits in the major subject.

6. Within the limits imposed by these regulations, students may count towards a Bachelor of Arts degree, the equivalent of up to three (3.0) credits from outside the range of recognized Arts subjects as specified in requirement 4. The Dean of the Faculty may authorize an extension of this upper limit to meet special program requirements or where there are sound academic reasons for doing so.

Students registered in the Faculty of Arts should note that certain course offerings in the Faculty of Commerce are acceptable as Arts credits. These are MSC 205.1(.2); MSC 206.1(.2); MSC 207.1(.2); and MSC 225.1(.2). Other Commerce (also Science and Education) courses to a maximum of 3.0 may be taken in a Bachelor of Arts program but they cannot be counted as Arts credits.

7. In order to have major subjects or areas of concentration formally entered upon their records, students must have maintained a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.00 (or an average grade of C) in the courses specified in requirement 5, and must have fulfilled any additional requirements specified by their departments or areas of concentration. Students who fail to achieve this average may, provided that they fulfil all other requirements, graduate as non-majors.

8. Students have the option of declaring minor fields in addition to major ones. To satisfy the requirements for a minor they must complete at least four (4.0) credits in that particular subject or area of concentration. At least two (2.0) of these credits must be at the 300 level or above. For more specific departmental requirements, consult the departmental statements in Section 5 of the Calendar.

9. It is also possible to declare a double major, in which case the students must fulfil both faculty and departmental requirements in respect of each of the subjects declared. In some cases this may not be possible without exceeding the total number of credits normally required for graduation; but the Dean, with the approval of the appropriate departmental Chairpersons, may reduce these requirements in the light of a student's overall record.

10. In conformity with academic regulation 7c(i) students must achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 1.50 in order to qualify for graduation.

11. Requirements for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts - Honors

a. The Faculty of Arts offers honors programs in Anthropology, Atlantic Canada Studies, Asian Studies, Economics, English, Geography, History, International Development Studies, Mathematics, Modern Languages, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, and Sociology. It is also possible to take double honors in any two of these subjects.

For information about specific program requirements (which in some cases exceed these minimum requirements) consult the appropriate departmental and subject area statements.

12. Admission Requirements for Honors Program

a. Normally, after having taken at least three (3.0) credits in the discipline, or in certain cases at the conclusion of their second university year, students should make application for admission to the honors program on the special form obtainable from the Registrar.

13. Requirements for Continuance in and for Graduation with Honors

a. Students must earn twenty (20.0) credits.

b. To continue in the program, students must achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00.

c. To graduate, students must achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00.

d. Students must complete not fewer than ten (10.0) credits in the honors subject, of which eight (8.0) must be at the 300 level or above. Each year the students' programs must have the approval of the Chairperson of the department who may permit the substitution of up to two (2.0) credits from a related subject area as part of the ten (10.0) credits required.

e. In the courses presented to satisfy 13d, students must have a minimum quality point average of 3.00 with grades of B or higher in at least eight (8.0) credits and no grade lower than C (2.00).

Each year, the students' programs must have the approval of the Chairpersons of both departments involved.

b. To continue in the program, students must achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00.

c. To graduate, students must achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00.

d. In the courses presented to satisfy 14a, students must have a minimum quality point average of 3.00 with grades of B or higher in at least eleven (11.0) credits, and no grade lower than C (2.00).

15. Additional Requirements for Graduation with Honors and Double Honors

16. Students who fail to meet the requirements for an honors degree but who otherwise meet the requirements for the general degree, on formal application, should be awarded the general degree.

17. In addition to the overall quality point average noted in 13 above, every student in honors must attain a minimum quality point average of 3.00 in the honors subject(s), with grades of C in no more than two (2.0) credits, and no grade lower than C, in the same subject(s).

Certificate of Chinese Studies (CHI)

Canada is an integral part of the Pacific Rim, an area of rapid economic and political change. This certificate program in Chinese Studies is designed to provide linguistic, cultural and practical knowledge to persons interested in studying about or working in China. The program consists of four (4.0) credits. It is intended for undergraduate students, persons already holding degrees in any discipline, and mature students with relevant work experience.

Admission

The Certificate of Chinese Studies requires a formal application for admission. The official approval of the Asian Studies Coordinator is a prerequisite for admission to the program. Students majoring in Asian Studies at Saint Mary's University are not eligible for this program.

A student of the program must complete at least three (3.0) credits at Saint Mary's University. Relevant academic courses, work experience and linguistic capability may be considered for credit. Applicants should submit a resume of relevant work experience, official university transcripts and any other relevant documentation.

Program Courses

This program consists of two (2.0) required credits and a number of optional credits. All students are required to take Chinese 100.0 (Introductory Modern Chinese) and Chinese 200.0 (Intermediate Modern Chinese). Students must also select two (2.0) optional credits in at least two different disciplines from the following courses:

ANT 326.1(.2); ASN 300.1(.2); ASN 450.0; HIS 323.0; HIS 342.0; HIS 396.1(.2); REL 327.1(.2); REL 345.1(.2).

At least two (2.0) credits must be at the 300 level or above. Detailed descriptions are found under Departmental listing. Not all courses will be offered each year.

Requirements for Graduation

Students are encouraged to complete the program within five years. A minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.00 in the Certificate of Chinese Studies is required. Students who have completed all the courses without being officially admitted to the program will not be accredited.

Criminology Certificate Program (CRM)

This program of four (4.0) credits is designed to provide broad theoretical and practical foundations for persons interested in studying about or working in the criminal justice system and for persons already working with problems of delinquency, criminal behaviour, and the treatment of offenders.

The program is intended for undergraduate students, persons already holding degrees, and working officers in the police forces, in federal or provincial correctional services, court workers, and others working in the criminal justice system.

Application and Admission

Students must apply for the program by completing the application form available from the Registrar. The completed form (along with supporting documents, where applicable) must be returned to the Registrar, who will submit the application for approval to the Coordinator of the Criminology Certificate Program. Because academic and relevant work experience are important criteria for admission to the program, students are advised that applications to the Criminology Certificate Program are processed on a competitive basis. The deadline for applications is February 1 for entry the following September. Acceptance into the program is conditional upon review of the applicant's final university grades for the year of application.

Applicants must be enrolled in a degree program at Saint Mary's University, or have completed an undergraduate degree, or have relevant work experience. The Criminology Certificate Program requires a formal application for admission. Demonstrated academic ability or relevant work experience, and official approval of the Criminology Certificate Coordinator are prerequisites for admission to the program. To be eligible for the Criminology Certificate Program, a student without relevant work experience must have completed at least four (4.0) credits, one (1.0) of which must be SOC 210.1(.2) and either SOC 211.1(.2) or SOC 212.1(.2), or SOC 200.0 or any 1.0 credit course in introductory Sociology, as appropriate, and must have attained a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00. Potential applicants with work experience are encouraged to take one (1.0) credit in introductory Sociology. Once students are eligible they are urged to apply for the program.

Required courses in the program should be taken after the student has officially been admitted. In cases where students already have completed one (1.0) credit requirement or less in the program, they may be admitted to the program but will still be required to complete four (4.0) credits after admission. Alternative program courses will be selected and approved by the Coordinator after consultation with the student. Students who have completed more than 25% of the program credits will not be admitted. Transfer credits from other academic institutions are not accepted towards the Criminology Certificate Program. Applicants must submit a resume of relevant work experience, official university transcripts, and any other relevant documentation.

Program Courses

The program courses consist of three (3.0) required credits and a number of optional credits. All students are required to take the following courses: SOC 202.1(.2), 203.1(.2), 303.0, and 307.0; and to select one (1.0) optional credit from the following courses: SOC 315.0, 344.0, 388.1(.2), 389.1(.2), 390.1(.2), 431.0, 432.1(.2), 454.0, 455.0, 457.1(.2), 458.1(.2). Detailed descriptions of these courses are found in the Department of Sociology listings, Section 5 of the Academic Calendar. Not all courses will be offered each year, and students should expect to take at least two years to complete the program.

Requirements for Graduation

Students are encouraged to complete the program within six years. A minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.00 in the Criminology Certificate Program credits is required. Students who have completed the courses without being officially admitted to the Criminology Certificate Program will not be accredited.

Degree Program for Vocational School Teachers

1. Vocational teachers may be admitted to the Bachelor of Arts program if they have completed:
 - a. eight years trade training and experience,
 - b. Grade 12 or its equivalent,
 - c. the three-summer program at the New Brunswick School of Institute of Technology, or Nova Scotia Teachers College,
 - d. and three years successful teaching at a vocational high school or technical institute.
2. Teachers so admitted may qualify for the Bachelor of Arts degree by completing a minimum of twelve (12.0) credits in recognized Arts subjects and by completing all other degree requirements as specified in the above regulations.
3. Vocational teachers who have successfully completed a Bachelor of Arts degree at Saint Mary's University may receive the degree of Bachelor of Education (Vocational) by successfully completing at Saint Mary's University three (3.0) credits in Education which have been approved by the Dean of Education.

*4. Vocational teachers may proceed to the degrees of Bachelor of Education (Vocational) and Bachelor of Arts concurrently.

*Note: The program options are not available for 1996-97.

Dual Bachelor Degree Programs

Since it is possible to pursue two bachelor degrees from Saint Mary's University, students may desire to arrange their courses so as to obtain a bachelor degree in any two of the following three Faculties - Arts, Science, or Commerce.

While the total time required is somewhat longer, such dual degree programs are quite feasible. In essence, students have to fulfil the degree requirements of each faculty with respect to required courses. Courses which are common to both degree programs and electives can be counted toward both degree programs.

Students who contemplate pursuing any dual degree program should consult with the Deans of both Faculties before embarking on their program of study.

If a student opts to graduate after completing only one of the degree programs, and subsequently wishes to complete the second program, the requirements are those for a second undergraduate degree as stated in academic regulation 24.

Information concerning the Faculty of Arts programs at the graduate level is found later in this Calendar.

The Frank H. Sobey Faculty of Commerce

Dr. A. Scott Carson, Dean
Dr. Albert Mills, Associate Dean

General Information

In August 1992, the University paid tribute to one of Canada's premier business leaders by naming its Faculty of Commerce in honor of the late Frank H. Sobey, who founded Empire Company Limited, Stellarton, Nova Scotia. Its holdings include Sobeys Stores, Atlantic Shopping Centres, Empire Theatres, Lawton's Drug Stores, as well as extensive investments both nationally and internationally.

The Faculty of Commerce offers programs of study leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Commerce, Bachelor of Commerce (Honors) in Economics, and Master of Business Administration (including Executive Master of Business Administration). The purpose of these programs is to prepare students for meaningful careers in business and government.

Selected undergraduate and graduate programs have a Co-operative Education option. All programs, except the Executive Master of Business Administration, can be completed on a part-time basis involving evening and summer study. Certificate programs are jointly offered in co-operation with the Society of Management Accountants in the Maritime Provinces and the Human Resource Association of Nova Scotia.

The bachelor degree programs couple a broad educational foundation in English, Mathematics and other Arts and Science subjects with the study of a common body of business and economic knowledge. Students have the opportunity to attain an appropriate degree of specialized expertise in Accounting, Economics, Finance, Management, Marketing, Computing and Information Systems, Global Business Management, Human Resource Management and Industrial Relations, Small Business and Entrepreneurship, and Computing Science and Business Administration. The last two programs may include a Co-operative Education component.

The Master of Business Administration program encompasses a common body of business and economic knowledge and advanced study in Accounting, Economics, Finance, Management, Management Science and Marketing. In addition to the generalist program, concentrations exist in Professional Accounting (Co-operative Education) and International Development Management. An Executive Master of Business Administration program is available to qualified middle and senior managers.

Faculty of Commerce - Undergraduate Programs

Bachelor of Commerce

The following requirements apply to all entering Commerce students.

1. a. The Bachelor of Commerce program consists of twenty (20.0) credits beyond Nova Scotia Grade 12 (or equivalent). The Small Business and Entrepreneurship major requires twenty-one (21.0) credits. Students lacking the equivalent of Nova Scotia Grade 12 may be required to complete additional courses as specified by the Dean. Courses beginning with zero (0) are designated preparatory and will not be credited toward any degree, diploma or certificate.

b. By virtue of a formal agreement between the University and the Nova Scotia Community College - I.W. Akerley Campus, students who have completed both the one-year Accounting Course and the one-year Accounting Technology Diploma, or the two-year Business Administration Technology Diploma, with an overall average of 75% may be granted five (5.0) advanced standing credits. Inquiries should be made to the Associate Dean of Commerce.

2. In conformity with academic regulation 7c(i) students must achieve a minimum cumulative quality point average of 1.50 in order to qualify for graduation. Co-operative Education students must attain a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.50 and Honors students require a minimum average of 3.00.

3. During the regular academic year a full time student will normally take the equivalent of five (5.0) credits. (See academic regulation 1.)

4. For the degree of Bachelor of Commerce, each student is required to complete successfully the courses listed in regulation 6 below in Year 1 and Year 2. Students are expected to select a major at the end of Year 2. Requirements for Year 3 and Year 4 depend upon the major selected. Courses for each major and concentration are given in regulation 7. Credit value of each course is indicated in parenthesis after the course number. They are arranged by year as a guide to students in preparing their individual programs of study.

5. a. EGL 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2) are required of all students.

b. Nova Scotia Grade 12 Mathematics (or equivalent) is a prerequisite for MSC 205.1(.2) and 206.1(.2). In the event that students did not have Nova Scotia Grade 12 Mathematics on admission, they are required to take MAT 050.1(.2) and 051.1(.2) (or equivalent) prior to taking MSC 205.1(.2) and 206.1(.2). These are both preparatory courses and will not be credited toward any degree, diploma or certificate.

c. All undergraduate Commerce students are required to complete successfully at least three (3.0) elective credits offered outside of the Faculty of Commerce. At most, one (1.0) of these may be at the 100 level. Non-Commerce courses taken in lieu of Commerce courses cannot be counted as non-Commerce electives.

d. Each major has at least one and one-half (1.5) credits of free electives. A free elective may be chosen from any Faculty.

Co-operative Education Programs

The Faculty of Commerce offers a Co-operative Education major in Small Business and Entrepreneurship and a Co-operative Education option for the Computing Science and Business Administration major. Co-operative education is a dynamic approach to university education which integrates academic classroom studies with related practical work experiences outside the formal university environment. The principle upon which this concept is based is that learning and individual development are greatly enhanced when the concepts studied in the classroom are periodically applied, tested and observed by the students in meaningful work situations. Through this program, participating businesses have an excellent opportunity to observe and influence the education of bright enthusiastic students. They also benefit from the access gained to university faculty and expertise, while university faculty and students become aware of the concerns of business and the varied problems which they face. Ms. Mary Ellen MacEachern serves as Liaison Officer of the Co-operative Education Programs.

A "Co-operative Education" notation is entered on the parchments and academic transcripts of undergraduate students who successfully complete Co-operative Education requirements in addition to their regular degree requirements.

1. Admission Requirements for Undergraduate Co-operative Education Programs

a. Students may be considered for admission to some Co-operative Education programs in the Faculty of Commerce after the completion of the first semester of Year 2 and will be based on the student's grades. Final decisions on admission to the program will be made at the end of the second semester.

b. Students should make application for admission to the Co-operative Education program on a special form obtainable from the Co-operative Education Office. Students will be admitted to a Co-operative Education program on the basis of their formal academic achievement and interviews with the appropriate departmental Co-operative Education Advisor.

c. The normal prerequisite for admission to a Co-operative Education program in a regular Bachelor of Commerce program is a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.50 and a minimum quality point average of 3.00 in the course(s) of the student's declared major subject(s). Special requirements may apply for some majors.

d. Students will be admitted to a Co-operative Education program on the basis of their interest, aptitude and assessed ability to combine successfully the academic requirements of a major program together with the special work term requirements of the Co-operative Education program they wish to enter.

2. Requirements for Continuance in and Graduation from a Co-operative Education Program

a. Students must complete all of the regular requirements for a Bachelor of Commerce (see regulations 1 through 7 in the Bachelor of Commerce section of the Calendar). Since individual programs may have specific additional requirements for Co-operative Education students, students should consult the appropriate departmental section of this Calendar for a description of these regulations.

b. In addition to the above requirements, students must officially register for and complete three work terms (four work terms for Computing Science students) as specified by the department of their major program (see regulations below and departmental Co-operative Education regulations).

c. To continue in and graduate from a Co-operative Education program, students must earn a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.50 with a minimum quality point average of 3.00 in all courses in their major subject(s).

3. Policies and Regulations Governing Co-operative Education Work Terms

a. The University will make every effort to locate work term positions for Co-operative Education students in academically related areas of employment, but cannot guarantee placements. Employment settings may also be identified by Co-operative Education students, but require the approval of the appropriate departmental Co-operative Education Advisor.

b. The satisfactory fulfilment of Co-operative Education work terms require:

(i) the completion of three (four for Computing Science) terms of work experience in academically related, paid employment situations of 13 to 16 weeks duration. Under certain circumstances, and with the approval of the appropriate department, students may be permitted to satisfy their work terms requirements in an unpaid situation. Self-employment will be considered.

(ii) a satisfactory employer evaluation for each Co-operative Education work term (self-employed students will be evaluated by an individual selected by the department).

(iii) the satisfactory completion of a written report submitted within 30 days after the end of each work term detailing the student's work experience in accordance with departmental standards and expectations.

(iv) fulfilment of any other requirements specified by the department, such as the participation in seminars or workshops.

c. A notation will be included on students' academic transcripts following satisfactory completion of each work term.

d. Graduating students who have successfully completed their Co-operative work term requirements will have this noted on their academic transcripts. If, in addition, all other normal academic requirements are fulfilled, a "Co-operative Education" notation will be printed on their parchments.

e. Students may be required to withdraw from a Co-operative Education program if:

(i) they are dismissed from, quit, or fail to accept an appropriate and approved Co-operative work term position;

(ii) they fail to submit or successfully complete a work term report;

(iii) they do not maintain the required quality point average necessary for continuance in a Co-operative Education program;

(iv) in the judgement of their department, they are no longer suited for the particular requirements of a Co-operative Education program.

f. Students who voluntarily withdraw from or who are required to withdraw from a Co-operative Education program may remain enrolled in and continue with the major or honors degree program offered by their department, if such exist.

g. Co-operative Education students will be expected to attend any special seminars or colloquia developed by the Faculty of Commerce, or the Co-operative Education departments, which deal with employment orientation and the application of formal academic study to work experiences.

h. Since academic study during work terms is discouraged, registration in any courses during a work term requires the approval of the Dean of Commerce or appropriate departmental Co-operative Education Advisor. If approval is granted, no more than one (1.0) credit may be taken during a work term.

4. Registration and Fees for Co-operative Education

a. Students are required to register for all work terms at the Registrar's Office, according to normal registration procedures. Work terms will be officially designated on students' transcripts as:

Work Term 1 = COP 100.1(.2)

Work Term 2 = COP 200.1(.2)

Work Term 3 = COP 300.1(.2)

Work Term 4 = COP 400.1(.2)

b. Students pay for their academic courses as they take them.

c. Students pay a fee equivalent to the tuition for one (1.0) credit for each work term they undertake. This amount is paid to the Business Office within one month of the start of the work term.

Dual Bachelor Degree Programs

Since it is possible to pursue two bachelor degrees from Saint Mary's University, students may desire to arrange their courses so as to obtain a bachelor degree in any two of the following three Faculties - Arts, Science, or Commerce.

While the total time required is somewhat longer, such dual degree programs are quite feasible. In essence, students have to fulfil the degree requirements of each faculty with respect to required courses. Courses which are common to both degree programs and electives can be counted toward both degree programs.

Students who contemplate pursuing any dual degree program should consult with the Deans of both Faculties before embarking on their program of study.

If a student opts to graduate after completing only one of the degree programs, and subsequently wishes to complete the second program, the requirements are those for a second undergraduate degree as stated in academic regulation 24.

Diploma in Management Accounting (DMA)

Administrative Director Lois Wasteneys

The Frank H. Sobey Faculty of Commerce at Saint Mary's University and the Society of Management Accountants of Nova Scotia offer an innovative post-graduate diploma in Management Accounting. This program is designed to bridge the gap between the core program of the traditional B.Comm., BBA, or MBA and the advanced accounting knowledge required of professional accountants. Graduates of this non-credit diploma program will be eligible to challenge the entrance examination of the Society of Management Accountants of Canada. This is the first phase toward attainment of the designation of Certified Management Accountant (CMA).

In order to be eligible for admission to the DMA at Saint Mary's, students must:

- be members in good standing with the Society of Management Accountants (SMA) in the Maritime Provinces; and
- have been granted, by the SMA, standing in the following areas:

Core Area	Saint Mary's Courses
Introductory Accounting	ACC 241.1(.2)
	ACC 242.1(.2)
Commercial Law	CML 201.1(.2)
Organizational Behaviour	MGT 383.1(.2)
	MGT 384.1(.2)
Economics	ECO 201.1(.2)
	ECO 202.1(.2)

Quantitative Methods	MSC 207.1(.2)
Financial Management	FIN 360.1(.2)
	FIN 361.1(.2)
Strategic Management	MGT 489.1(.2)

Individuals who have not been granted standing in all of the core areas may take the equivalent Saint Mary's courses listed above. Such students must abide by all regulations of the University and satisfy necessary course prerequisites. Information on admission and registration at Saint Mary's as a non-degree or upgrading student may be obtained by contacting the Division of Continuing Education at 420-5492. Once students have achieved standing in the core courses, they will be eligible to register for the DMA program at Saint Mary's.

For more information on the CMA accreditation syllabus and for evaluation of previous academic work, students should submit official transcripts of their post-secondary education to the Society of Management Accountants in the Maritime Provinces, Purdy's Wharf, Tower II, Suite 1309, Box 42, Halifax, Nova Scotia B3J 3R7. Faculty of Science

Dr. David H. Richardson, Dean

Dr. William A. Bridgeo, Dean Emeritus

Dr. Douglas H. Williamson, Dean Emeritus

General Information

Students electing to pursue a program leading to the Bachelor of Science degree should consider which of three programs best suits their aspirations.

Honors

The honors program demands a minimum grade of C in all courses followed in the honors subject. Particular requirements for the honors in Environmental Science are found in this Academic Calendar, Section 5, "Environmental Science". This program is designed primarily for students who wish to proceed to graduate work or who wish to obtain professional status in the area of the honors subject. Students of above-average ability are urged to make application to follow an honors program before the end of Year 3. Formal application for admission to an honors program must be made on a form available in the Registrar's Office.

Major

The regular major program demands a minimum grade of C in all courses in the major subject. (Particular requirements for the major in Environmental Science are found in this Academic Calendar, Section 5, "Environmental Science".) The program is designed to meet the needs of those students who wish to be employed in work related to the area of their major. It will be useful to those wishing to practice as technicians or technical officers. Additionally, this program permits students to prepare adequately for continued study at the graduate level, if warranted by performance and motivation.

General

The general program is designed to give a person a good educational background for life in today's technological world, and an understanding of the importance of the relationship between science and society. The general program is broader in scope than the major or honors programs, and students are encouraged to supplement their science studies with courses in the humanities and social sciences. Students taking this program as preparation for entrance to professional schools are urged from the beginning to place special emphasis on a high standard of performance.

Co-operative Education Programs (Major and Honors)

Mary Ellen MacEachern, Liaison Officer, Co-operative Education Programs

The Faculty of Science offers Co-operative Education programs in Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Studies, Geology, and Computing Science. Co-operative Education is a dynamic approach to university education which integrates academic classroom studies with related practical work experiences in the major subject. The principle upon which this concept is based is that learning and individual development are greatly enhanced when the concepts studied in the classroom are periodically applied, tested and observed by the students in meaningful work situations. Through this program, participating industries have an excellent opportunity to observe and influence the education of bright enthusiastic students. They also benefit from the access gained to university faculty and expertise, while university faculty and students become aware of the concerns of industry and the technical problems which they face.

A "Co-operative Education" notation is entered on the parchments and academic transcripts of undergraduate students who successfully complete Co-operative Education requirements in addition to their regular degree requirements.

a. Application for admission to the program is normally after the first semester of Year 1. Final decision on admission to the program is made at the end of the second semester.

b. Students should make application for admission to the Co-operative Education program on a special form obtainable from the Co-operative Education Office. Students will be admitted to the Co-operative Education program on the basis of their formal academic achievement and interviews with the Liaison Officer of the Co-operative Education Programs, and the appropriate departmental Co-operative Education Advisor.

c. The normal prerequisite for admission to the Co-operative Education program in a regular Bachelor of Science program is a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.50 and a minimum quality point average of 3.00 in the course(s) of the student's declared major subject(s).

d. Students will be admitted to the Co-operative Education program on the basis of their interest, aptitude and assessed ability to combine successfully the academic requirements of a major or honors science program together with the special work term requirements of the Co-operative Education program they wish to enter.

Requirements for Continuance in and Graduation from the Co-operative Education Program

a. Students must complete all of the regular requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree (see regulations 1 through 13 above). Since individual programs may have specific additional requirements for Co-operative Education students, students should consult the appropriate departmental section of this Calendar for a description of these regulations.

b. In addition to the above requirements, students must officially register for and complete a minimum of four work terms as specified by the department of their major program (see regulations below and departmental Co-operative Education regulations). Official registration is on the regular forms.

c. To continue in and graduate from the Co-operative Education program, students must earn a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.50 with a minimum quality point average of 3.00 in all courses in their major subject(s).

Policies and Regulations Governing Co-operative Education Work Terms

a. The University will make every effort to locate work term positions for Co-operative Education students in academically related areas of employment, but cannot guarantee placements. Employment settings may also be identified by Co-operative

b. The satisfactory fulfillment of Co-operative Education work term require:

(i) the completion of four terms of work experience in academically related, paid employment situations of 13 to 16 weeks duration. Under certain circumstances, and with the approval of the appropriate department, students may be permitted to satisfy their work terms requirements in an unpaid position.

(ii) a satisfactory employer evaluation for each Co-operative Education work term;

(iii) the satisfactory completion of a written report submitted within 30 days after the end of each work term detailing the student's work experience in accordance with departmental standards and expectations.

c. A notation will be included on students' academic transcripts following satisfactory completion of each work term.

d. Graduating students who have successfully completed their Co-operative work term requirements will have this noted on their academic transcripts. If, in addition, all other normal academic requirements are fulfilled, a "Co-operative Education" notation will be printed on their parchments.

e. Students may be required to withdraw from the Co-operative Education program if:

(i) they are dismissed from, quit, or fail to accept an appropriate and approved Co-operative work term position;

(ii) they fail to submit or successfully complete a work term report;

(iii) they do not maintain the required quality point average necessary for continuance in the Co-operative Education program;

(iv) in the judgement of their department, they are no longer suited for the particular requirements of the Co-operative Education program.

f. Students who voluntarily withdraw from or who are required to withdraw from the Co-operative Education program may remain enrolled in and continue with the major or honors degree program offered by their department.

g. Co-operative Education students will be expected to attend any special seminars or colloquia developed by the Co-operative Education Office which deals with employment orientation and the application of formal academic study to work experiences.

h. Since academic study during work terms is discouraged, registration in any courses during a work term requires the approval of the Dean of Science or appropriate departmental Co-operative Education Advisor. If approval is granted, no more than one (1.0) credit may be taken during a work term.

Fees for Co-operative Education

a. Students are required to register for all work terms at the Registrar's Office, according to normal registration procedures. Work terms will be officially designated on students' transcripts as:

Work Term 1 = COP 100.1(.2)
 Work Term 2 = COP 200.1(.2)
 Work Term 3 = COP 300.1(.2)
 Work Term 4 = COP 400.1(.2)

b. Students pay for their academic courses as they take them.

c. Students pay a fee equivalent to the tuition for a full-credit course for each work term they undertake. This amount is paid to the Business Office within one month of the start of the work term.

Year	Fall	Winter	Summer
2	AT3	AT4	WT1
5	AT7	AT8

In general, the Co-operative Education program takes one year longer to complete than the corresponding traditional program, but the academic content of both is the same. Students may, with the permission of the Department, transfer from the Co-operative Education program to the non Co-operative Education program.

With a Saint Mary's University Diploma in Engineering and without examination students may enter the Technical University of Nova Scotia and obtain the degree of Bachelor of Engineering (Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Mining, Industrial, Agricultural, or Metallurgical) on the successful completion of the Technical University of Nova Scotia portion of the Bachelor of Engineering program. Applicants for the Bachelor of Engineering program cannot be guaranteed that they will gain entry to the department of their choice since all departments are subject to a known maximum number of annual admissions. Thus students are required to specify their choice of at least three departments, in preferential order, and at a predetermined date departments will select students for admission, the basis for selection being the academic performance of the applicants. The length of the Technical University of Nova Scotia program normally is three years.

The objectives of the Engineering programs at Saint Mary's University are to offer programs, accredited by the Associations of Professional Engineers of the Provinces through the Canadian Accreditation Board, which will assist students in developing the following qualities:

- a basic scientific understanding
- a competence in engineering design
- creativity
- social understanding
- an appreciation for continued learning.

Faculty of Education

Dr. Michael J. Larsen, Acting Dean

For the 1996-97 academic year Saint Mary's University will not be admitting students to any of its programs in the Faculty of Education. Students who have been accepted and are currently pursuing their studies will continue to follow the rules and regulations delineated in the Academic Calendar in existence when they began their program. In addition, the Acting Dean of Education is available for consultation as required.

Educational Exchange Programs for National and International Study

Year of Study Abroad: China

Scholarships are awarded yearly to Saint Mary's University students for study at Xiamen University, Xiamen, People's Republic of China. The scholarship includes full tuition, room and board, but not travel expenses or a living allowance. A program of study including a course in the Chinese language is designed for the students selected. The study period is for three months and credits may be applied towards the Bachelor's programs at Saint Mary's University. For further details, contact the Office of the Dean of Arts.

Year of Study Abroad: Japan

Scholarships are awarded yearly to Saint Mary's University students for language and cultural studies at Hokkaido University of Education, Hakodate, Japan. The scholarship includes free tuition and homestay where possible, but not travel expenses to and from Japan. A program of study including courses in Japanese language and culture will be offered to successful students. The study period is for a maximum of three months and credits may be applied towards the Bachelor's programs at Saint Mary's University. For further details, contact the Office of the Dean of Arts.

Year of Study Abroad: Angers, France

Many years ago Saint Mary's University entered into an arrangement whereby qualified students have the opportunity to study at the Centre international d'études françaises (C.I.D.E.F.) de l'Université catholique de l'ouest in Angers, France. Permission to participate in this program is granted by the Dean of Arts, the Chairperson of the student's area of concentration, and the Chairperson of the Modern Languages and Classics Department. Usual registration procedures are to be followed, except that tuition fee payments must be made directly to the University of the West.

Study at the Université du Québec

Special arrangements exist for students, competent in the French language, to undertake regular studies at the Université du Québec à Chicoutimi, Rimouski or Trois Rivières, and to receive credit for these studies towards their Saint Mary's degree. Further details are available at the Registrar's Office.

Nova Scotia/New England Student Exchange Program

Saint Mary's University is also a participant in the Nova Scotia/New England Student Exchange Program. Currently there are 18 New England post-secondary institutions participating.

The most important feature of the program is that accepted students in either their junior or senior year of study at participating Nova Scotia institutions remain registered full-time at their home institutions and pay tuition and academic fees there. Any existing Canadian financial aid may be maintained. Further general details are available at the Registrar's Office.

Study in Vietnam

In December 1993, Saint Mary's University signed enabling agreements with six Vietnamese Universities, with emphasis in language and commerce areas. These institutions are: Hanoi University for Teachers of Foreign Languages; Ho Chi Minh City Polytechnic University; Ho Chi Minh City University of Education, Vietnam; National Economic University, Hanoi, Vietnam; University of Economics, Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam; and Hanoi Foreign Language College, Vietnam.

Trilateral Exchange Program for Business Students in Canada, Mexico, and the United States

Saint Mary's University has joined a consortium of colleges and universities in Canada, Mexico, and the United States to facilitate exchanges among the three countries for Bachelor of Commerce and MBA students. Students may study for a semester, summer, or full academic year and pay tuition at their home institution. Further details are available through the Office of the Dean of Commerce.

Other Exchange Programs

Other official exchange agreements have also been negotiated with The Bermuda College; the University of Newcastle-Upon-Tyne; Oslo Business School; Universidad La Salle (Mexico); and the University of Sussex. Further details are available at the Registrar's Office.

Specific period of time, Department Chairpersons and/or Program Coordinators concerned must make their recommendations on either of the above matters to the Graduate Studies Committee which will consider the matter and communicate its final decision to the Chairperson of the Department or the Coordinator of the Program.

Students may apply to the Committee on Graduate Studies through their Department Chairperson/Director for official withdrawal, for non-academic reasons, from their graduate program. If granted, students would then be required to reapply for admission at the point in time when they are in a position to resume their studies. If readmitted, the Department Chairperson/Director would be responsible for delineating the terms of readmission, including the outstanding academic requirements and the deadline for completion of the entire graduate program.

5. Evaluation

In order to qualify for a Master's degree a student shall obtain a quality point average of 3.00. Failure of any full course (or the equivalent) ordinarily will require withdrawal from the program. In exceptional circumstances, the Department and the Dean of the Faculty concerned may allow the student to remain in the program. In such a case, failure of a second full course (or equivalent) will require withdrawal from the program.

Letter grades and quality points for graduate courses will be assigned as follows:

A+	= 4.00	= Excellent
A	= 4.00	= Excellent
A-	= 3.67	= Very Good
B+	= 3.33	= Good
B	= 3.00	= Satisfactory
B-	= 2.67	= Below graduate standard
C	= 2.00	= Marginal pass
F	= 0.00	= Failure
IP	= —	= In Progress (Reserved exclusively for thesis, dissertation, major research paper/project, and practicum courses; also for Co-operative Education work terms.)

The following grades shall be given when appropriate but will not be calculated in the quality point or cumulative quality point average:

Abrogat	AE
Authorized withdrawal from a course	W
In progress	IP

Grades earned on advanced standing and transfer courses are also not included in the calculation of averages.

In the case of advanced standing and transfer courses, credit will not be awarded for less than a grade of B (or the equivalent).

7. Thesis (If required)

To be eligible for graduation at Spring Convocation, the student's finished thesis must be submitted to the Department no later than the last day of classes of the regular academic year and by 30 September for Fall Convocation.

The thesis must be ruled acceptable by the Examining Committee appointed by the Department. Any suggestions by the Committee concerning corrections, additions and other necessary changes must be either carried out or formally refuted by the students before the thesis can be accepted.

Saint Mary's University offers an interdisciplinary program in Atlantic Canada Studies (ACS) that integrates the teaching and research expertise of 30 faculty members in ten different Departments.

The program was established in 1975 in response to a clearly defined need for regional research and as a unique experiment within the growing area of Canadian studies. At the time, a study of higher education had concluded that there was a remarkable level of ignorance in Canada about the Atlantic Region.

There are sound intellectual and practical reasons for pursuing an interdisciplinary program of regional studies. It offers a unique combination of social-scientific and cultural-historical perspectives. The program takes an interdisciplinary approach to three areas of specialization: the culture, political economy, and resource development of the region. Students learn to apply the conceptual perspectives and analytical tools of one or more academic disciplines in their research and study.

There are particular advantages to an interdisciplinary approach to further study. This applies, for instance, to people employed by government at various levels. It also applies to managers in public and private enterprise, members of the teaching profession, business people, policy makers, and individuals whose occupation requires them to deal with social, economic, political, or cultural problems. For many of these people, a broad understanding of the region's political economy and culture is vital.

Admission to the program is through an honors degree in Atlantic Canada Studies, or a degree which the ACS Committee deems to be equivalent. At the discretion of the Committee, a student may be admitted to the program subject to the prior completion of such qualifying work as the Committee shall prescribe. Once the student has embarked full-time on the Master of Arts program, the normal goal is completion within 12 months, although in some cases thesis work may extend beyond this time period. The degree may also be taken through part-time study.

The general requirements for the Master's degree (delineated above) apply to the graduate program in Atlantic Canada Studies.

Specifically, the Master's degree in Atlantic Canada Studies involves the following considerations and includes the following requirements:

1. The normal qualification for entry into the one-year Master's program is an honors degree in Atlantic Canada Studies, or a degree which the Atlantic Canada Studies Committee deems to be equivalent. At the discretion of the Committee, a student may be admitted to the program subject to the prior completion of such qualifying work as the Committee shall prescribe.
2. The ACS Coordinator will work with all Master's students from the earliest stages of their participation in the graduate program to determine the area of a thesis topic and to select a thesis supervisor. The thesis supervisor will be the Graduate Faculty Advisor for the duration of a given student's participation in the program.
3. For the Master of Arts in Atlantic Canada Studies, all students must complete an acceptable thesis. It is not possible to satisfy the requirement for a thesis by means of extra course work.
4. Students are expected to produce a thesis which shows both originality and the analytical-critical skills of sound research and interpretation. The topic must deal directly with an Atlantic Canada subject matter.
5. All students must present and defend a thesis proposal and ultimately a thesis, before a Thesis Examining Committee. This Committee consists of a thesis supervisor, the ACS Graduate Studies Coordinator (or appointee), and a third reader acceptable to the thesis supervisor and the ACS Committee.
6. Students must complete four (4.0) credits at the 600 level approved for the ACS graduate program. Two (2.0) of these credits must be selected from the following ACS seminars:

ACS 620.0 Culture of Atlantic Canada

ACS 630.0 Seminar on Atlantic Canada Ecology and Resources

ACS 640.0 Atlantic Canada Political Economy Seminar

ACS 660.0 History and Society: The Atlantic Provinces Seminar

7. All students, as part of their four (4.0) credit program, must complete ACS 690.0. Credit for the course will be determined when the student satisfies the thesis supervisor that both thesis research and all other preparation for the successful handling of the thesis topic have been completed. Supervisors may require a demonstration of language competence or extra course work as preparation for the treatment of certain thesis topics.

The following constitute the offerings in this graduate program. Detailed course descriptions are found in Section 5 of this Calendar.

Graduate students of History learn techniques of research and analysis which enable them to make critical evaluations, whether in reading a newspaper, studying a report, or in many other fields. Someone with a historical background will be able to look beneath the surface, to question and analyze what is written.

History is a discipline in which students learn to declare themselves after preparing and arguing the best case they can. The ability to evaluate evidence and make a judgement about it is important for everyone, but especially for people who may later be dealing with evidence in a legal context. It is also useful in business or journalism, where judgements must often be based, as in historical analysis, on evidence that is less than complete.

Historians must communicate the knowledge they gain, and good fluency and communication skills are something a student of History can expect to learn.

Graduate training in History can also be invaluable for more specialized purposes. In addition to working as university scholars, historians are needed in the teaching profession and are employed by such government departments as Parks Canada. There are growing opportunities for contract work writing historical articles and books on commission. A graduate training as a historian also provides a good background for specialization.

The University's general requirements for admission to graduate studies and for the Master's degree apply to the Department of History. Applicants for admission to the graduate program in History must submit a succinct statement of their anticipated field of study and anticipated choice of a thesis topic.

The following are the research interests of members of the Department of History:

Northeastern North America, 1480-1725
 U.S. Revolution and Early National Eras
 Atlantic Canada (particularly Sport, Leisure and Medicine)
 Higher Education in Canada
 Crime and Punishment in Canada
 Canadian Juvenile Delinquency
 History of Science (particularly in the Maritimes)
 Marriage and Family in Canada
 Western Europe (Germany, France, Italy and Spain)
 Latin America Since Independence
 19th and 20th Century South Africa
 Immigrant Colonial Experience (particularly within the British Empire)
 Age of Revolution
 18th and 19th Century Radicalism and Social Change
 Scottish and Irish Emigration (particularly to Eastern Canada)
 World History
 South East Asia
 Historiography
 Religion in Canada
 Canadian Nationalism and Politics

The particular requirements of the Department, which include a thesis as well as course work, are as follows:

1. Students with a general Bachelor of Arts must satisfy the course requirements of the honors program in History or its equivalent before entering a one-year Master's program. Candidates must then complete two (2.0) additional history credits at the 600 level in addition to HIS 650.0 and 690.0. The program of each student must be approved by the Department.

2. All Master of Arts candidates in History, whether studying on a full or part-time basis, must register for HIS 650.0 and 690.0 in their first semester.

3. The student will be required to demonstrate a reading knowledge of at least one language other than English. The Department will accept the equivalent of no less than a satisfactory grade in Saint Mary's 200-level undergraduate language courses, or a pass in the Department of Modern Language's French Proficiency Exam. French is normally required of students intending to write a thesis on any aspect of Canadian history.

4. The subject of the thesis must be decided in consultation with the thesis advisor.

5. Upon completion of the thesis, an oral defence will be required. Two months prior to this defence, the student will be invited to select an examination board subject to the approval of the Department of History. While the Department will make every attempt to meet individual requests, it cannot guarantee full compliance.

The following constitute the offerings in this graduate program. Detailed course descriptions are found in Section 5 of this Calendar.

The graduate degree program is based on a core program of policy-oriented courses in the field of International Development Studies in addition to offerings by associated academic Departments, primarily Economics, Sociology, and History, but also Anthropology, Political Science, Geography, International Business (Management and Marketing), as well as Finance and Management Science.

The interdisciplinary program of courses offered in International Development Studies has as its primary focus an analysis of the problems experienced by developing countries in the Caribbean, Latin America, Asia and Africa; and of the social, cultural, economic, historical and political structures and forces that underlie and produce these problems. Another concern of the program is with the development strategies pursued by groups of people and governments in these developing countries. An evaluation of the different models and strategies for national development that countries pursue in an increasingly global context is an important feature of the program.

The graduate program of study will be useful to those seeking employment in national and international settings, as knowledge of the Third World is increasingly needed in many departments of the Federal government (CIDA, External Affairs), international development agencies, refugee and immigration services, non-governmental organizations like Oxfam and CUSO, and professions such as teaching, journalism, development planning, administration, and business.

Graduate courses are available to students registered in the Master degree program; other students must have approval of the Coordinator of International Development Studies.

2. Degree Requirements

- a. The student will take a total of three (3.0) 600-level credits, and in addition will write a thesis (696.0 Master's Thesis). In some cases graduate students will attend undergraduate classes, but in all cases they will follow an independent syllabus agreed on between the Graduate Officer, the course instructor, and the student.
- b. As soon as possible after acceptance into the Master of Arts program, the student will submit a thesis proposal to the Departmental Graduate Studies Committee. After satisfying itself that the proposal is academically sound, and that a supervisor and examiners will be available, the Committee will authorize the student to proceed with the writing of the thesis. In consultation with the student and faculty members concerned, and subject to Departmental approval, the Graduate Officer will appoint a thesis supervisor for each graduate student. Normally the thesis will have a length of approximately 20,000 words (eighty pages). The thesis must exhibit an understanding of the issues with which it deals, an ability to construct cogent arguments concerning them, and an ability to make cogent criticisms of positions and arguments.
- c. When the thesis is completed, the student will submit it to the Departmental Graduate Studies Committee, which will, subject to Departmental approval, appoint three examiners, one of whom will normally be the thesis supervisor. Copies of the thesis will be made available in advance to the examiners. The Graduate Officer will set a time for the thesis defense, to which members of the academic community will be invited. Following the thesis defense, the examiners will report their assessment to the Graduate Officer and the student in writing.

Master of Arts in Women's Studies

Offered jointly by Mount Saint Vincent University, Dalhousie University, and Saint Mary's University

Faculty

Consult the Academic Calendar of the three cooperating institutions. More than forty faculty members across the three universities are available to serve as student supervisors in the Master of Arts in Women's Studies.

Program

This degree is offered jointly by Mount Saint Vincent University, Dalhousie University, and Saint Mary's University. The degree will be granted jointly by the three cooperating universities and each student's program will be approved by the Joint Graduate Admissions and Program Committee (GAPC).

The Master of Arts in Women's Studies emphasizes the interdisciplinary basis of Women's Studies, its community linkage, and the emerging body of feminist theories and methodologies. Drawing on the collective resource of faculty members across the three universities, the program invites applications from students whose research interests fall within eight broad categories: feminist theory and methodology; women and work; gender and development; women and health; North American women's history; feminist literary/cultural theory and practice; gender and education; and women and social change.

Admission Requirements

To be admitted to the Master of Arts program, students normally will be expected to have completed an Honors B.A. or equivalent with a minimum average of B or equivalent.

Admission will also be based on the availability of Women's Studies faculty with the expertise to supervise in the student's proposed area of research.

Some students may be required to do qualifying courses to develop their background in social sciences, humanities, and/or Women's Studies.

In addition to following normal university procedures for application to graduate programs, students must submit official transcripts, three letters of reference, and a supplementary application form. Application can be made to any of the three universities. Decisions on admission are made by the Interuniversity Joint Graduate Admissions and Program Committee (GAPC) for Women's Studies. Enrolment is limited.

Program Requirements

The one-year program includes both course work and thesis and can be pursued either full-time or part-time.

The program requires a minimum of five credits (5.0), including four required half-credits (Theories of Feminism, Feminist Methodologies, Graduate Seminar, and Directed Study) and a two-credit thesis.

Remaining electives can be chosen from among a range of graduate level courses offered by other departments at the three universities, in consultation with the student's faculty advisor.

GWS 601.1	Theories of Feminism
GWS 602.1	Feminist Methodologies
GWS 603.1	Graduate Seminar (half-credit, meets throughout both semesters)

Faculty of Commerce - Graduate Programs

Director

Adjunct Professor Dr. Timothy O'Neill

The Program

The Executive MBA is a four-semester program designed to meet the unique needs of both mid-career managers who have demonstrated the potential to reach senior management positions and senior managers who want to increase significantly their personal and organizational effectiveness. The Executive MBA is structured as an integrative program that will enhance participants' ability to think across functional lines and understand better the "whole enterprise" in its global competitive situation.

Governance of Program

The program administration is under the direction of the EMBA Director, reporting to the Dean of Commerce.

All program policies are formulated and guided by an EMBA Council. This Council consists of one member representing each of the Departments in Commerce; the EMBA Director; a representative from the MBA Graduate Council; and representatives from the Alumni, the EMBA students, and industry.

In matters of course scheduling and required withdrawal of students, the EMBA Council will make the decisions and communicate these to appropriate administrative bodies through the EMBA Director. In the matter of recruiting, faculty members will be recommended to the Dean by the EMBA Council.

Each year the EMBA Council will constitute a subcommittee called the "Admissions Committee". This Committee shall have two EMBA Council members, both of whom are instructors in the program at Saint Mary's and the EMBA Director. The Dean of Commerce may also opt to sit on this Admissions Committee.

An EMBA participant who fails in a course will be required to withdraw from the program. No credit will be recognized for the other courses which the student may have successfully completed.

An EMBA student who is required to withdraw may, after the lapse of one calendar year, seek re-admission. The application for re-admission shall be evaluated by the EMBA Council (and not the Admissions Committee alone). The Council may deny re-admission or re-admit subject to stipulated conditions. A student may withdraw voluntarily and seek admission in later years. After a lapse of three years, credit for previous EMBA courses will not be recognized.

Qualifications for Admission

The EMBA Admissions Committee will consider an applicant's prior academic record, scores on the GMAT, military or work experience, extracurricular activities, letters of recommendation, and the written application. While each of these general criteria is important, the applicant's entire profile will be evaluated, where significant strengths in one area may help compensate for weaknesses in another.

Test scores and academic records will be evaluated as evidence of academic quality; however, the Admissions Committee will also look for personal qualities, such as leadership and motivation, which are important for success as a manager.

A written application, including a statement of the objectives of the student, and interview will be the basis of the Admissions Committee's decision. Applications will not be evaluated until the application is complete, including test scores. It will be the responsibility of the applicant to ensure that the application is complete.

In general, an applicant for admission to the Executive MBA Program will have:

1. substantial experience at the senior management level;

2. sponsorship by an employer who agrees to pay all or part of the fees and guarantees the involvement of the employer to facilitate successful completion of the program; or the ability to pay the fees independently;

3. a bachelor's degree with high standing or equivalent qualification (in certain cases, consideration will be given to students who do not hold a bachelor's degree);

4. taken the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT), or its equivalent, such as the GRE;

5. two letters of reference from work-related or academic sources

Upon acceptance, each student will be provided, as appropriate, with orientation materials designed to upgrade skills in Quantitative Methods, Computer Literacy and/or Appreciation of Financial Statements. Where necessary, courses will be run on campus prior to the commencement of classes, so that students are fully conversant in a computerized-learning environment and possess the quantitative skills expected.

Master of Business Administration (MBA)

Director Dr. Russel Summers

Program Objectives

The primary objective of the Master of Business Administration program is to provide an intellectual and social environment in which the students can discover how to develop potential for effective management. The Saint Mary's MBA Program will ensure that students develop an understanding of how the different functions of a business interrelate in the business situation. This is a priority in the student's educational experience that is achieved through the integration and business simulation activities as well as the focus placed on business strategy and policy. The program also provides students with the flexibility to design a program of study that is general in orientation or more focused and specialized.

Qualifications for Admission

Admission to the program is open to students with a bachelor's degree from a recognized university, whose academic record indicates that they should be successful in studying management and administration at the graduate level, and who obtain a satisfactory score in the GMAT. A small number of places are reserved for mature students lacking an undergraduate degree. These students will be assessed individually in such areas as their work experience, grades in a number of post-secondary university credit courses, and their GMAT scores.

Application Procedures

Applications for admission to the MBA Program should be made as early as possible. The normal deadline for the receipt of all application material is May 31, for entry the following September, except for international students whose applications and all supporting documents must be received by April 1.

Application material and program information may be obtained by contacting the Director of Admissions at the following address:

Director of Admissions
Saint Mary's University
Halifax, Nova Scotia
B3H 3C3
Tel: 902-420-5415
Fax: 902-496-8100

To be considered for admission, students will be required, where applicable, to submit the following to the Director of Admissions:

- completed application forms;
- two copies of official transcripts for all previous university work undertaken;
- two letters of recommendation;
- a typed one-page statement of career goals sought in pursuit of the MBA degree;
- GMAT results (Note: 0958 is the appropriate code for the MBA Program at Saint Mary's University);
- for students whose native language is not English, a test in English (TOEFL) (TOEFL score of 600 or better is normally required);

g. a non-refundable application fee of $30.00.

Note: Inquiries regarding the documentation supporting an application for admission are to be addressed to the Director of Admissions. Inquiries concerning the program itself and decisions on applications for admission should be made to the MBA Program Manager.

Financial Aid

In addition to Canada Student and other loans, financial aid is available through University scholarships and assistantships. The number of scholarships are limited and are granted based on information provided in the student's application; students do not apply for scholarships. Applications for assistantships should be made to academic departments in the Faculty of Commerce (see Section 6 for additional information).

Registration

A non-refundable confirmation of acceptance deposit in an amount equal to the tuition cost for a single course is applicable to the MBA Program.

Part-Time Basis

The program is available on a part-time basis for students who wish to complete it in part, or whole, while remaining in full-time employment. If possible, at least two courses from each year of the program will be offered in evening classes each semester. Subject to satisfactory enrolment, courses will also be offered during the summer sessions.

Teaching Methodology

The program is neither discipline nor case oriented, but courses embrace combinations of lectures, case discussions, seminars, and assignments according to the requirements of the individual subjects. Since the Faculty has extensive business as well as academic experience, attention is focused on both the practical and the academic aspects of the materials covered during the program.

Studying at Other Institutions

Students may use a Letter of Permission to enrol in courses at other universities and receive credit for the courses in the MBA degree. This flexibility enhances the opportunity for students to develop a program that best serves their careers and draws on the course offerings of other universities. Credit for courses completed using this option will only be granted for courses for which a B or better grade is obtained. In completing the MBA degree, for students enrolled in the regular program (see below) a minimum of six (6.0) credits must be completed at Saint Mary's.

Program Features

Regular Program

The Regular Program is available for those students with a previous university degree in a non-business, non-commerce area. This program involves eleven (11.0) courses. Normally, admission into this option is available to those students who have obtained a B or better grade average (i.e., a cumulative quality point average of at least 3.00 on a 4.00 scale) in their previous program of university studies and meet the necessary standards on other criteria for admission (i.e., GMAT, etc.)

Exemptions and Waiver Exams

Based on previous course work and/or work experience and/or successful completion of waiver exams, students in the regular program may receive exemptions for up to five first year courses (2.5 credits).

Advanced Standing Program

The Advanced Standing program is available for students with a previous degree in business or commerce. It is expected that students entering this program will have previously established the essential competencies normally established in the first year of the regular MBA Program option. Normally, entry into the advanced option is restricted to those students who have obtained at least a B+ average (i.e., a cumulative quality point average of at least 3.33 on a 4.00 scale) in the last ten (10.0) business/commerce courses completed in their previous degree. Entry into this option will also be contingent on satisfactory standing on other admission criteria (i.e., GMAT, etc.)

Exemptions

Students admitted into the advanced program are automatically given exemptions for all of the first year courses (5.5 credits) of the regular program.

Professional Development and Integrating Activities

Both the regular and advanced standing program require that students participate in professional development seminars and a number of integrating activities. The professional development seminars focus on presentation skills and team work. The integrating activities include business simulations and case competitions. Program fees for these components of the program are in addition to tuition fees for courses.

Management Research Project (MRP)

Each student is required to complete a project, preferably on an in-company basis, involving the practical application of the concepts and techniques learned in a specialist area, under the direct supervision of a faculty member in that area. As part of the Research Project students will first complete a Research Methods Seminar based in the same discipline.

Alternative Program

It is recognized that some students, particularly some of those enrolled in the program on a part-time basis, may already have substantial management experience and be aspiring towards general management positions soon after graduation. Such students could be offered the opportunity of following a program specifically suited to their needs.

MBA Professional Accounting Concentration

Co-operative Education Program

Program Objectives

Accounting major undergraduates typically enter one of three professional programs. The MBA concentration will provide accounting students with the opportunity to acquire an up-to-date understanding of this field of study and the technology surrounding it together with a cross section of modern management practices so critical to a long term career. Expectations are that students should write their professional certification examinations after one year of further professional experience and an examination preparation course tailored to the specific professional association of interest. The two Co-op terms indicated as part of the program should permit graduates to receive commensurate professional exemption from their association's service requirements.

Negotiations are ongoing with the Institute of Chartered Accountants, the Society of Management Accountants and the Certified General Accountants Association to establish the nature of their service requirements. In addition, accreditation of the courses in the program is a matter that is under review by these groups.

Qualifications for Admission

Admission to this program will require satisfaction of normal MBA admission standards and satisfaction of the credit waiver requirements for three (3.0) credits as specified below: ACC 540 and 548; ECO 500 and 501; FIN 561 and one-half (0.5) credit from any of MKT 571, MGT 585, MGT 586, MSC 506, MSC 507, and MSC 521. Notification of credits will be given with the notice of admission. Make-up courses will be necessary where credit requirements or prerequisite requirements to 600-level courses cannot be obtained on entrance.

Policies and Regulations Governing Co-operative EducationWork Terms

1. The University will make every effort to locate work term positions for Co-operative Education students in academically related areas of employment, but cannot guarantee placements. Employment settings may also be identified by Co-operative Education students, but require the approval of the Departmental Co-operative Education Coordinator.

2. The satisfactory fulfilment of Co-operative Education work terms requires:

(i) the completion of two terms of work experience in academically related, paid employment situations totalling 30 weeks.

(ii) under certain circumstances, and with the approval of the Department, students may be permitted to satisfy their work requirements in an unpaid position.

(iii) a satisfactory employer evaluation for each Co-operative Education work term;

(iv) the satisfactory completion of a written report following each work term detailing the student's work experience in accordance with Departmental standards and expectations.

3. Students may be required to withdraw from a Co-operative Education program if:

(i) they are dismissed from, quit, or fail to accept an appropriate and approved Co-operative work term position;

(ii) they fail to submit or successfully complete a work term report;

(iii) in the judgement of their Department, they are no longer suited for the particular requirements of a Co-operative Education program.

4. Students who voluntarily withdraw from or who are required to withdraw from a Co-operative Education program may apply to continue in the MBA Program.

5. Co-operative Education students will be expected to attend any special seminars or colloquia developed by the Department which deal with employment orientation and the application of formal academic study to work experiences.

Fees for Co-operative Education

- Students pay for their academic courses as they take them.
- Students are not expected to pay fees for work terms.

Note: Students entering this program of study and receiving credits will not automatically be able to transfer to the regular MBA Program without prior approvals.

Detailed course descriptions are found in Section 5 of this Calendar.

MBA International Development Management ConcentrationProgram Objectives

Canada's international trade partners number nearly 200 countries. In particular, Newly Industrialized Countries (NICs) such as Singapore, South Korea, Brazil and Argentina play a very critical role. In the future, other developing countries (e.g., India, Nigeria and Mexico) are expected to play an important role in bi-lateral trade with Canada. The cultures of these societies are vastly different from those of Canada's traditional trade partners. Further exposure to the business and social practices in these countries is imperative if Canadian managers are to successfully compete with other countries such as Japan, Germany or the U.S.

The concentration does not seek to make the manager a global management expert. Nor will this program make the person an expert on Asian, South American or African management systems; rather, it will sensitize the students to these cultures and unique demands posed on managers in developmental settings.

Astronomy has been closely linked with Saint Mary's University for many years. In 1974 Saint Mary's became the first and only university in Atlantic Canada to offer a program of instruction in Astronomy, a distinction it still holds. Two years earlier a 40-cm reflecting telescope had been installed in an observatory atop the newly-completed Loyola high-rise residence complex on campus, and was opened for a regular weekly program of observing tours of the heavens. Named in honor of Michael W. Burke-Gaffney, S.J., the very enthusiastic and respected astronomer, engineer and educator who had popularized astronomy at Saint Mary's over the previous three decades, the Burke-Gaffney Observatory has played an important role in widening the public appreciation of the universe and our place in it. During the academic year the Observatory is also used heavily by undergraduate and graduate students, supporting projects which range from sketching surface features of the Moon and planets to imaging stellar spectra and solar prominences.

Formal introductory Astronomy courses have been offered at Saint Mary's since 1957. Prior to 1971 these were taught by Father Burke-Gaffney. Between 1971 and 1974 three astronomers joined the Faculty in response to the University's decision to build on the tradition established by him. With the founding of the Astronomy Department in 1974, Saint Mary's launched its first graduate program in the sciences, a two-year program leading to the Master of Science degree. Increasing student interest over the years stimulated a gradual expansion of undergraduate offerings, culminating in 1989 with the Astrophysics major program offered in cooperation with the Department of Physics. In 1993 the Astronomy and Physics Departments at Saint Mary's united into one Department, and a new program of study was created to provide students with a strong undergraduate experience in astronomy and physics and a more comprehensive graduate education in astronomy and astrophysics.

Research and Facilities

The complement of the Department includes a balanced mix of observational/experimental and theoretical interests. Observational and experimental research includes interstellar chemistry and gas outflows from young stellar objects, the study of open clusters and associations of various ages, the evolution of massive stars and pulsating variables, globular clusters, the cluster distance scale, interstellar reddening in the galactic disk, the origin and structure of early-type galaxies, radio interferometric observations of extragalactic radio sources and their environs, and large-scale structure of the universe. Theoretical research includes particle physics and the solar neutrino problem, the modelling of stellar pulsation modes, magnetohydrodynamical modelling of the interstellar medium, the study of supernova remnants and extragalactic radio sources, and the propagation of cosmic rays and their associated emissions. Observational research involves photoelectric, photographic, and CCD imaging and spectroscopy obtained from various sites, the Sudbury Neutrino Observatory, and the Very Large Array radio interferometer in the U.S. Theoretical research makes use of local computing facilities as well as Cray-class supercomputers accessed remotely from local workstations. Graduate student projects are normally initiated on the basis of student research interests and the identification of an appropriate faculty supervisor.

The Burke-Gaffney Observatory, situated on the roof of the 23-story Loyola academic/residence building on campus, houses a modern 40-cm reflecting telescope equipped for several different types of astronomical observing, namely photometry, spectroscopy, and photographic and CCD direct imaging. The 40-cm reflector is the largest professional telescope in Atlantic Canada and is heavily used for public tours, undergraduate and graduate training in observational astronomy, and less frequently for astronomical research. Faculty members and graduate students normally make use of other observatory sites around the world to obtain the scientific data used for their research, with the facilities at Saint Mary's being used to analyze the observational material gathered in this manner.

The Patrick Power Library on campus and the city-based NOVANET system give students and faculty access to extensive library collections of books and journals in astronomy and astrophysics, and these are supplemented by faculty subscriptions to additional key journals and preprints. Computer facilities are quite extensive. Saint Mary's has ready access to other academic sites world-wide via Internet on the University's newly acquired DEC-alpha machines, which can be accessed by terminals and workstations in faculty and student offices. Within the Department itself are several Sun SPARC workstations, a NEXT workstation, several Macintosh and DOS-based computers, an LSI 11/23 system, laser printers, a colour ink-jet printer, and various other peripherals. The Department also has a Cuffey Iris Astrophotometer. Several powerful and widely-used data reduction software packages are available, including DAOPHOT, IRAF, VISTA, SPECX, and AIPS. Also to be found in the Department are a Joyce-Loebl microdensitometer, a Gaertner measuring engine, various low-power microscopes for plate viewing and spectral classification, and complete northern and southern hemisphere sky surveys, including the digitised Palomar Sky Survey.

Admission Requirements

Full-Time Students

Graduate students in Astronomy come from diverse university backgrounds. Some have previously had no exposure to Astronomy at the undergraduate level, although such exposure is clearly desirable. Admission to the two-year Master of Science program at Saint Mary's normally requires an honors degree in astronomy, mathematics, physics, or the equivalent, with a minimum graduating average of B. Students who have not completed such a program, or who have weak backgrounds in mathematics or physics, may be admitted into a qualifying year in which they take additional courses in these areas prior to attempting graduate courses in astronomy. Prospective students who are in doubt about their qualifications should write to the Chairperson of the Department, enclosing an up-to-date transcript with their inquiry. Applications for the graduate program received by May 1 will be given the highest priority.

Part-Time Students

Under special circumstances, students may enrol in the program on a part-time basis. In addition, full-time students may change their status to part-time should circumstances warrant the change. While entrance requirements are the same for all students regardless of their registration (i.e., full- or part-time), part-time students are not normally eligible to receive financial assistance from the department.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Science program is normally of two years duration and involves course work, seminars, an oral comprehensive examination, and an original thesis on an astronomical topic. If desired, course work may be concentrated in the first two or three semesters so that students may work almost exclusively on their thesis during the summers and the final one or two semesters.

Full-time students must complete at least three (3.0) credits per year, for a total of six (6.0) credits over two years. Of these six (6.0) credits, students must take AST 695.1(.2) (Graduate Seminar I), AST 696.1(.2) (Graduate Seminar II), AST 697.0 (Research Project in Astronomy), AST 698.0 (Thesis), and three (3.0) additional credits drawn from the AST half courses numbers 430 or greater or from the upper-year courses offered in Physics, Mathematics, or Chemistry where recommended by the student's supervisor). Normally, AST 695.1(.2) is taken in the first year and AST 696.1(.2) in the second year. AST 697.0 may be taken in either the first or second year, while AST 698.0 is taken when the student has passed the oral comprehensive examination. To be eligible for graduation, students must achieve an overall grade of at least B (qpa = 3.00) on courses taken for credit. In all cases, the student's program must be approved by the Department.

Students must also pass an oral examination in which they are expected to demonstrate comprehensive knowledge of basic areas in Astronomy, including first-year undergraduate Physics. The examination is normally taken at the end of the first year of study. Students must also prepare and defend an original thesis on a topic selected by the student and the student's supervisor. The thesis shall be examined by a committee of no fewer than three faculty from Saint Mary's University plus, when available, one member external to the University and competent in the subject area of the thesis. The student will be examined on the thesis by the committee in a formal thesis defence normally scheduled near the end of the second year of study.

Full-time students are normally accepted into the program with provisions for support from various sources, including graduate scholarships, University teaching assistantships, and research assistantships drawn from faculty grants. The normal level of support is usually sufficient to cover living expenses and tuition for one year.

Graduate Scholarships for Students in Astronomy

Qualified students are eligible for a variety of graduate awards, including NSERC postgraduate scholarships and Saint Mary's University graduate scholarships. Certain named graduate awards are restricted to full-time students in the Astronomy Master of Science program. These include the Father Burke-Gaffney Memorial Scholarship, which was established by the Saint Mary's University Alumni Association in memory of Father Michael Walter Burke-Gaffney, S.J., one of the original group of Jesuits who came to the University in 1940, and the John Despard deBlois Scholarship, which was established by Marcia Watts deBlois in memory of her late husband, a former professional photographer employed by the National Research Council of Canada who had a long-time interest in Astronomy. Graduate students in Astronomy are also eligible for the Reuben and Helen Hornstein Bursary, which was established by Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hornstein in 1982. Reuben Hornstein, a former meteorologist for a local television station, is an honorary degree recipient of Saint Mary's University.

Master of Science in Applied Psychology

- Chairperson, Professor V. Catano
- Professors D. Bruce, J. Darley, K. Hill, R. Konopasky, I. Lenzer
- Associate Professors G. Pretty, P. Street, B. Vulcano
- Assistant Professors H. Chipuer, L. Methot
- Adjunct Professors S. Danquah, C. Hayes, C. Humphreys, C. Maté-Kole
- Professor Emeritus J. Chadwick-Jones

The Department of Psychology offers a Master of Science in Applied Psychology in two fields: Clinical and Industrial/Organizational Psychology. Students are admitted with either full-time or part-time status. Full-time status students will need at least two years to complete all degree requirements, and must finish these within three years; whereas part-time status students must complete all requirements within five years. Normally, part-time students are concurrently employed in an occupation related to Applied Psychology. Students completing Master of Science degree requirements in this area are eligible to apply for registration as a psychologist in Nova Scotia and may pursue careers in public organizations, independent practice or consulting. They may also continue their graduate education in a Ph.D. program. Further information can be obtained from the Graduate Program Coordinator.

Clinical Psychology

The Clinical program is designed on the scientist-practitioner model and aims to educate students in the assessment and treatment of a variety of psychological problems ranging from normal developmental crises to severe and chronic forms of distress. Students will acquire a theoretical and practical understanding of applied research. The Psychology Department at Saint Mary's is a member of the Co-operative Ph.D. program in Clinical Psychology at Dalhousie University and students may take graduate courses in this program with permission of both Departments.

Industrial/Organizational Psychology

The program in Industrial/Organizational Psychology prepares students to examine and understand the behavior of individuals and groups in organized environments. Since Industrial/Organizational psychologists may perform a variety of jobs in industry, business and the public service, students in the program are expected to have a solid understanding of quantitative and research methods, acquire skills which will help them in the training and selection of personnel, the design of jobs, workplaces and habitats, and the development of social skills and work-team structures. Students in this program may also be permitted access to courses and supervisors in the MBA Program at Saint Mary's.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the program requires an honors degree in Psychology or its equivalent [the equivalent of ten (10.0) credits in Psychology including an independent research project]. Admission materials are available from the Director of Admissions, Saint Mary's University. A completed application form, official transcript, letters of reference, and Graduate Record Exam scores must be forwarded to the Director of Admissions no later than March 1st. Within recent years the minimum quality point average (hereafter qpa) of successful applicants has been 3.25. Consideration will also be given to relevant work and volunteer experience. First year students who wish to change their admission status (full-time or part-time) after they have received notice of their acceptance must make this request to the Chairperson before July 1st. Change in status is not guaranteed and must be approved by the Department.

Program Requirements

Students are required to take the equivalent of four (4.0) credits, in addition to completing a supervised 500-hour practicum (PSY 690.0) and preparing a thesis (PSY 695.0). The following first year courses are required for all students: PSY 601.0 (Advanced Psychological Statistics) and PSY 603.1(.2) (Advanced Assessment). In addition, students must take at least one of the following: PSY 604.1(.2) (Clinical Assessment), PSY 605.1(.2) (Assessment of Work Behavior), and PSY 606.1(.2) (Neuropsychological Assessment).

Students must achieve an average of at least B (3.00). A review of students' progress will be undertaken by the Department at the end of the first year of study [three (3.0) credits]. Notwithstanding students' quality point averages, the Department reserves the right to recommend to the Dean that students be required to withdraw from the program.

Each student must submit a thesis on a topic chosen in consultation with their Thesis Committee, which shall consist of the student's advisor, one other member of the Department, and one person from outside the Department, recommended by the Department on the advice of the supervisor. The Thesis Committee is normally formed towards the end of the first year of study for a full-time student, or after completion of three (3.0) credits by a part-time student. Each thesis must be approved by the student's Thesis Committee, after which it will be presented orally to the Department and interested scholars from the community.

Financial Aid

Students are eligible to apply for several types of University awards and graduate assistantships. Application forms for these awards can be obtained from the Director of Financial Aid at Saint Mary's University. The competition for graduate scholarships is adjudicated by the Psychology Department on the basis of gpa, GRE scores, research experience, and letters of reference. Graduate assistantships are also provided by the Department as remuneration for assisting professors in course and lab instruction.

The Asian Studies degree program at Saint Mary's University has been in operation for over twenty years. In that time frame, the Arts and Commerce faculties have played a vital part in helping Saint Mary's students understand Canada's changing role in a global society and especially in defining its relationship with Asia. An increased knowledge of Asian languages and cultures is an essential component to this program and every effort is made to assist students of the program to travel to Asia and experience this vast continent themselves. Students are encouraged to pursue a double major in Asian Studies and a related discipline.

An academic background in Asian Studies will help to prepare students for careers in the diplomatic service, in international trade and industry and in the secondary and university teaching fields.

Saint Mary's University is the only institution in the Atlantic Provinces offering a comprehensive program in Asian Studies.

Regulations for Majors

Although it is possible to complete a major in Asian Studies with 15.0 credits, extra time and additional credits will often be desirable and necessary. Facility in an Asian language is important and possible participation in cultural exchange programs in Asia will provide a deeper understanding of Asian societies. Students intending to complete a major in Asian Studies are required to complete 7.0 credits. These 7.0 credits must include the following with a minimum of 4.0 credits at the 300 level or above.

1. 2.0 consecutive Asian language credits (Introductory and Intermediate).

2. ASN 300.1(.2) and ASN 400.1(.2).

3. 4.0 additional core credits from at least two different disciplines other than language. The list of core courses is given below.

Information concerning the requirements for the Certificate of Chinese Studies Program and also the Certificate of Japanese Studies Program are found in the Faculty of Arts (Undergraduate) portion of Section 3 of this Calendar.

Dual Degree Program

Since it is possible to obtain two undergraduate degrees from Saint Mary's University, for Commerce students it may be very attractive to combine a degree in their field with a major in Asian Studies, especially in light of the interest which the Canadian federal and provincial governments and private industries have in developing trade with the Pacific Rim countries. It is relatively easy to combine Commerce and Asian Studies if Commerce students select their non-commerce and free electives carefully. The second degree can be obtained in a year or less in addition to the normal time requirement for a Commerce degree. For more information please contact either the Dean of Arts, Dean of Commerce, or the Coordinator of Asian Studies, and also consult the material at the conclusion of the Faculty of Arts entry in Section 3 of this Calendar.

Astronomy (AST)

Astronomy is an ancient science which can trace some of its earliest practitioners to the neolithic builders of Stonehenge and to Minoan navigators of the third millennium B.C. The modern version of this branch of the physical sciences is interdisciplinary in nature, and draws heavily upon its roots in the cognate areas of physics and mathematics as well as in the fields of chemistry, space science, geology, biology, and computer science. Current research in astronomy and astrophysics relies upon space age detectors and modern computer systems to acquire and analyze large quantities of data. So its graduates are usually familiar with new technological developments as well as with the often-unique analytical approaches used to study objects in the universe. Like physicists, students of astronomy and astrophysics are well qualified to pursue a variety of scientific or teaching careers.

The Department offers programs of study which are designed to provide students with a strong undergraduate experience in both astronomy and physics. In addition to providing courses for degree-seeking students in these areas, the Department offers courses for the non-science major who wants to explore astronomy and physics using a less mathematical and more intuitive approach. AST 201.0(.2), AST 216.1(.2) and AST 217.1(.2) are non-mathematical credit courses intended for non-specialists. AST 202.0 is an introductory course for science students which provides a broad background in all areas of astronomy. The 300 and 400-level courses and 500-level credit courses (0.5 credits) in a variety of areas in astronomy and astrophysics, and are suitable as electives for science majors (see the Faculty of Science requirements for Undergraduate Programs), including students in Co-operative Education programs.

With renumbered or restructured courses, students are advised that they are not eligible to take a course for credit if they already have a credit for a comparable course, even if that course was taken at a different level. For example, AST 201.0 has become AST 215.1(.2) and AST 216.1(.2).

Astrophysics (ASP)

Bachelor of Science programs are available to students wishing to study astronomy and astrophysics. These are the major program and honors program in astrophysics. Because astronomy depends heavily on physics, the astrophysics programs emphasize physics as well as astronomy.

The major program is designed for students who want to obtain a solid introduction to astronomy and physics but who do not plan on going to graduate school in astronomy. The honors program is designed for students who intend to continue their education in astronomy at the graduate level. Students in the major program must complete seven (7.0) physics credits and three (3.0) astronomy credits with those courses listed in the program being required courses. Students in the honors program must complete ten (10.0) physics credits and three (3.0) astronomy credits, with those courses listed in this program being required courses. Electives fill out both programs to the required twenty (20.0) credits. The astrophysics program demands a minimum grade of C in all physics and astronomy courses required for the degree. The program of study must be approved by the Chairperson or the Undergraduate Coordinator.

Physics (PHY)

Physics forms the foundation for all other sciences. Considered to be the most fundamental of the natural sciences, physics deals with the observation and modelling of phenomena on scales from the subatomic to the cosmological. In the broadest sense, physicists seek to enunciate physical laws and develop mathematical models of natural phenomena consistent with experimental evidence.

With their training in understanding complex phenomena, in applying analytical and computational methods, and especially in critically analyzing problems, students of physics are uniquely qualified to pursue careers or postgraduate studies in a wide variety of fields - particularly in a high-technology society where basic and applied science touch every aspect of human life. The aerospace, communications, energy and health care fields are all areas of employment for physics graduates at all degree levels.

The Department of Astronomy and Physics offers programs in physics designed to provide students with a thorough preparation in physics. Contingent on University and Faculty of Science degree requirements, three Bachelor of Science programs are available to students wishing to study physics: the general program (physics concentration), the major program, and the honors program. The major program is designed for students who want to obtain a solid introduction to physics but who do not plan to continue their studies in physics in a graduate program. The honors program is designed for students who do anticipate a continuation of their studies in physics at the graduate level. All students considering a degree program in physics must consult with the Chairperson or the Undergraduate Coordinator.

Atlantic Canada Studies is an interdisciplinary major, minor, and honors option in the Arts Faculty which has developed out of an increasing demand by students, faculty and the community generally, for a more organized study of this region.

Students who complete a major, minor, or honors in Atlantic Canada Studies will have helped to prepare themselves for a fuller and more meaningful participation in the life of Atlantic Canada, and will have acquired a useful background for careers in teaching, trade and industry, and the various bureaus of the provincial and federal civil services. Their attention is particularly drawn to the advantages, from a career point of view, of taking Atlantic Canada Studies as part of a double major or honors.

Students are required to choose their courses in consultation with a member of the Atlantic Canada Studies Committee, and are strongly urged to select one of its members to advise them for the duration of the program, and to provide the necessary liaison with the Committee. The following are the regulations for the major, minor, and honors programs. Details concerning the Master of Arts in Atlantic Canada Studies degree are found in Section 3 of this Calendar.

The program of the Department of Chemistry is designed to satisfy two functions:

a. Fulfill requirements for the general degree of Bachelor of Science, the degree of Bachelor of Science with major, and the degree of Bachelor of Science (Honors).

These degrees will permit graduates to enter the work force or graduate school with a background at least equal to that provided by other universities in Canada and the United States.

b. Introduce students in other disciplines to the ideas of chemistry and provide them with the chemical skills necessary for their professional development.

All members of staff are engaged in active research projects, and senior undergraduates are expected and encouraged to contribute to these projects. Some jobs, both during the term and in the summer, are available for senior undergraduates.

The core program for a major in chemistry consists of one of CHE 201.0, 202.0, or 203.0; and CHE 312.1(.2), 313.1(.2), 322.1(.2), 323.1(.2), 332.1(.2), 333.1(.2), 344.1(.2), 345.1(.2); and any two (2.0) 400-level credits in chemistry. Students may take two additional chemistry courses of their choice. Major students are also required to complete PHY 205.0 and this course should normally be taken in Year 1.

The core program for an honors degree in chemistry consists of one of CHE 201.0, 202.0, or 203.0; and CHE 312.1(.2), 313.1(.2), 322.1(.2), 323.1(.2), 332.1(.2), 333.1(.2), 344.1(.2), 345.1(.2), 412.1(.2), 413.1(.2), 443.1(.2), 444.1(.2), 498.0, and 500.0. Students are required to take one to three additional chemistry courses of their choice. Honors students are also required to complete PHY 205.0 and this course should normally be taken in Year 1. Honors students and students taking a major in physical chemistry must take MAT 310.1(.2) and 311.1(.2) in Year 2.

The core program for both double majors and double honors consists of: one of CHE 201.0, 202.0, or 203.0; three of CHE 312.1(.2), 313.1(.2), 322.1(.2), 323.1(.2), 332.1(.2), 333.1(.2), 344.1(.2), 345.1(.2); and one (1.0) 400-level credit. In addition, it is strongly recommended that students complete MAT 210.1(.2)/211.1(.2) to fulfil the mathematics requirement, and PHY 205.0 as one of their science electives.

Note: Students who fail the laboratory component of a course will fail the course.

Economics (ECO)

Assistant Professors	A. Akbari, S. Novkovic, J. Taheri

Department Statement

Economics has been defined as "the study of how men and society end up choosing, with or without the use of money, the employment of scarce productive resources, which could have alternative uses, to produce various commodities over time and distribute them for consumption, now and in the future, among various people and groups in society." (Paul A. Samuelson)

Economics borders on other academic disciplines, such as political science, sociology, psychology, anthropology and business administration. It also draws heavily on the study of history, statistics and mathematics.

Students who desire some minimum understanding of economics are encouraged to consider taking one or more courses at the 200 level. Entrance into higher level courses ordinarily requires a full-year of principles of economics, but this may be waived with the approval of the Department.

The Economics Department is able to offer students with a special interest in economics the opportunity to undertake some concentration beyond the core of required courses in the following areas and associated courses.

- Money and Banking: ECO 307.1(.2), 407.1(.2)
- Public Finance: ECO 318.1(.2), 319.1(.2)
- International: ECO 365.1(.2), 413.1(.2), 414.1(.2)
- Quantitative: ECO 302.1(.2), 303.1(.2), 309.1(.2), 409.1(.2)
- Urban-Regional: ECO 324.1(.2), 325.1(.2), 430.1(.2), 450.1(.2)
- Natural Resources and Environment: ECO 361.1(.2), 362.1(.2), 363.1(.2)
- Comparative Systems: ECO 315.1(.2), 323.1(.2)
- Growth and Development: ECO 306.1(.2), 310.1(.2), 317.1(.2), 318.1(.2), 410.1(.2)
- Labour: ECO 339.1(.2), 340.1(.2)
- Industrial Organization: ECO 316.1(.2)
- Other theory courses: ECO 312.1(.2), 400.1(.2), 401.1(.2), 404.1(.2), 405.1(.2), 412.1(.2)

Students who desire a major in economics are encouraged to enrol in an appropriate program under the guidance of a faculty advisor. There are two general programs: (1) Bachelor of Arts with a major in economics, and (2) Bachelor of Commerce with a major in economics.

The former requires a total of fifteen (15.0) credits. The latter requires a minimum of twenty (20.0) credits. See Faculty of Arts and Faculty of Commerce, Section 3 of this Calendar, for the basic requirements for these degrees.

Regardless of the degree sought, the Department of Economics requires that the program of study leading to a major in economics include the following:

1. Nova Scotia Grade 12 MAT 441 or 442.
2. EGL 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2).
3. One (1.0) credit in university mathematics beyond the level of difficulty of Nova Scotia Grade 12 Mathematics or equivalent. [MSC 315.1(.2) and 225.1(.2), which are required of all Bachelor of Commerce students, and recommended for all Bachelor of Arts majors in economics, satisfy this requirement.] Bachelor of Arts students, majoring in economics who entered Saint Mary's without Nova Scotia Grade 12 MAT 441 or 442 or equivalent may substitute ECO 300.1(.2) and 301.1(.2) for the above requirement.
4. One (1.0) credit in the humanities (classics, history, philosophy or religious studies), or languages (English or modern languages). In special circumstances, with the permission of the Chairperson, all or part of this requirement may be fulfilled from among the following: ECO 306.1(.2); 312.1(.2); 315.1(.2); 323.1(.2); 406.1(.2); and 412.1(.2). Philosophy 200.0 does not satisfy this requirement.

- e. One (1.0) credit from the social sciences other than economics.
- f. The following economics courses:
 - ECO 201.1(.2) Principles of Economics: Micro
 - ECO 202.1(.2) Principles of Economics: Macro
 - ECO 206.1(.2) Introduction to Quantitative Methods for Economists II or MSC 206.1(.2) Introduction to Quantitative Methods for Commerce II

Introductory English

EGL 201.1(.2), English Composition, and EGL 202.1(.2), An Introduction to Literature, are designed to meet the various needs of students entering the University from junior or senior matriculation. They satisfy the requirement for an English course stipulated by the Faculties of Arts, Commerce and Science. Composition courses are divided into many sections to ensure as much individual attention to each student as possible. Classes meet three hours per week.

Advanced Courses

The standard prerequisites for entrance to courses above the 200 level are a pass in EGL 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2) or permission of the Department. For additional prerequisites in some courses, see the individual course descriptions.

All advanced courses meet three hours per week.

The Major Program

All English major and honors students will be assigned members of faculty as advisors with whom they can consult on all matters relating to their degree programs. Students who declare a major in English, or a double major in English and another subject area, should select their courses in consultation with the departmental advisors.

Students wishing to major in English must complete, in addition to EGL 201.1(.2), Composition, and EGL 202.1(.2), Introduction to Literature, six (6.0) additional credits. In the second year, they must complete the equivalent of three (3.0) credits at the 300 level, at least two (2.0) credits of which must be chosen from among the following courses:

- either EGL 308.1(.2) Development of English Prose Style, or EGL 311.1(.2) Modern English Language;
- either EGL 323.1(.2) Practical Criticism, or EGL 324.1(.2) Introduction to Theory;
- either EGL 341.1(.2) Introduction to Drama I, or EGL 342.1(.2) Introduction to Drama II;
- either EGL 391.1(.2) Study of Short Fiction, or EGL 392.1(.2) Study of the Novel;
- EGL 393.1(.2) Study of Poetry.

What this means is that the student will complete four half-credit courses (2.0 credits) within the areas of linguistics, poetics, drama and narrative fiction, and one (1.0) credit in any other area available at the 300 level. A student must complete the sequence with an average grade of C or better in order to continue in the major program.

In the third year, students will complete a further three (3.0) credits at the 400 level.

The Minor Program

A minor in English consists of at least four (4.0) credits in English, at least 2.0 of which must be at the 300 level or above. Students may also minor in creative writing or linguistics.

Students who declare a minor in creative writing must take at least two (2.0) credits in creative writing in at least two of the four genres offered (fiction, poetry, drama and non-fiction). Students are also required to take two (2.0) more English credits beyond the 200 level.

Students who wish to major in English and minor in creative writing must take 8.0 English courses above the 200 level and fulfil the requirements of both programs. Dr. Brian Bartlett is the Creative Writing Coordinator.

The Honors Program

All prospective honors students should refer to the section of this Calendar pertaining to honors degrees. Students should apply to the Registrar for admission to the honors program after having taken at least three (3.0) credits in English or at the end of their second university year.

While students are encouraged to enrol formally in honors as early as possible, those who apply later will be considered if they have the requisite minimum 3.00 cumulative quality point average.

Honors students must complete the requirements listed below. A slight adjustment in the honors English requirements will be made for those in a double honors program.

Honors in English consists of ten (10.0) credits. Students who seek admission to the honors program must satisfy:

- a. the general requirements set out by the Faculty of Arts;
- b. EGL 201.1(.2), Composition, and EGL 202.1(.2), Introduction to Literature;

General Information

In its broadest sense geography studies the relationship between people and their surroundings. It derives much of its educational value from its interdisciplinary approach to such relationships. At the same time it is a subject of practical importance in such fields as urban and regional planning, resource development, industrial location, marketing research, and environmental management. The Geography Department has developed four major programs. The first is a general major which will be of particular interest to teachers and prospective geography teachers. The second structured major is for people interested in the field of urban and regional development. The third major is in coastal and marine studies while the fourth is in environmental studies.

Departmental Policy

- The Department regards GPY 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2) as service courses for the university in general and basic introductory courses for geography majors and honors students. Higher level courses are designed to serve the interest of geography majors but may be of interest to students in cognate areas. In some cases, the Department may allow a student from a cognate area to take the course without the stated prerequisite: for example, economics students may be admitted to GPY 321.1(.2) or 331.1(.2). History majors may be allowed to take GPY 429.0.
- The course content in most geography courses is cumulative.
- Where a prerequisite is specified, a student wishing to take the course must have obtained at least a C grade in the stated prerequisite.
- Normally 300 and 400-level courses are not open to students in their first year at university.
- Students may enter courses without the stated prerequisites, providing they have permission of instructors.
- Because program changes occur from time to time with numbered or restructured courses, students are advised that they are not eligible to take a course for credit if they already have a credit for a comparable course, even if that course was taken at a different level or under a different number.

General Requirements for Majors

- To obtain a major in geography a student must complete the equivalent of seven (7.0) university credits in geography.
- The following courses are required for the major:
 - GPY 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2).
 - Three of GPY 326.1(.2), 336.1(.2), 356.1(.2), 366.1(.2), 376.1(.2), and 476.1(.2).
 - One (1.0) credit at the 400 level.
 - Three and one-half (3.5) other credits in geography.
- In order to graduate with a major in geography, a student must obtain a quality point average of at least 2.00 in geography courses counting towards the major.
- All majors must follow a program of study established in conjunction with, and approved by, a member of the Department of Geography and must have the program approved by the Department at the beginning of each year.
- For more complete information on the geography program, the student should obtain a copy of Notes and Guidelines for Geography Students from the Departmental Secretary.
- GPY 326.1(.2), 336.1(.2), 356.1(.2), 366.1(.2), 376.1(.2), and 476.1(.2) are normally open only to declared geography major and minor program students.

Geography Major with a Minor in Geology

A student may, with approval by the Chairperson of the Department of Geography, major in geography with a minor in geology by fulfilling the following requirements:

- In addition to fulfilling all the requirements for a geography major, students must complete four (4.0) credits in geology, of which at least two (2.0) must be at the 300 level or above. Note: Courses that are cross-listed between geography and geology may only count towards the geology minor if they are taken as geology credits. (If they are taken as geography credits they can only apply to the geography major.)
- Students accepted into the geology minor program will be allowed to count all four (4.0) geology credits towards their Arts degree requirements.

Honors Program

- To be admitted to the honors program, a student normally must have a B standing in geography courses. The student must have obtained satisfactory grades in non-geography courses. Possession of the minimum requirements does not establish the right of an applicant to be admitted, or readmitted, to the program.
- To complete the program students must complete the following courses in geography:
 - GPY 201.1(.2) and 202.1(.2).
 - GPY 326.1(.2) and 336.1(.2).
 - Two of GPY 356.1(.2), 366.1(.2), 376.1(.2), and 476.1(.2).
 - GPY 406.1(.2) and 416.1(.2).
 - GPY 526.0.
 - Seven (7.0) other credits in geography.
- Each year a student's program, including electives, must be approved by the Chairperson, and each year at least a B average in geography courses must be maintained.
- Students admitted to the program are responsible for finding a member of the department to act as their thesis supervisor.
- Complete details regarding the program and honors research project are contained in Notes and Guidelines for Geography Students and Regulations for Presentation, Submission and Marking of the Honors Research Project.
- In addition, students must meet the general Faculty of Arts requirements for honors students.

Minor Program in Geography

To earn a minor in geography, students must complete the following requirements:

- A minimum of 4.0 credits in geography, with an average of C (2.0) or higher in geography courses;
- GPY 201.1(.2) and GPY 202.1(.2); and
- At least 3.0 other geography credits.

Geology (GEO)

Chairperson, Professor	J. Dostal
Professors	G. Pe-Piper, Q. Siddiqui, J. Waldron
Associate Professor	V. Owen
Adjunct Professor	G. Williams

The Department of Geology offers programs of study for students enrolled in the degree of Bachelor of Science with concentration in geology and for those registered in the degree of Bachelor of Science with major and honors in geology. In addition, a combined geology/geography program emphasizes environmental aspects of geology.

The courses of the core program for a student majoring in geology are: GEO 200.0, 301.1(.2), 302.1(.2), 312.1(.2), 313.1(.2), 320.1(.2), 321.1(.2), 325.1(.2), 413.1(.2), 441.1(.2) and 442.1(.2). Students are required to take at least one (1.0) additional geology credit for a minimum total of seven (7.0) credits in the Department.

The core courses for the honors program, in addition to those for majors, are GEO 550.0 and one (1.0) other credit in geology at the 400 level. Honors students must take sufficient additional geology courses for a minimum total of ten (10.0) credits.

Science students interested in geology, including those who are entering the major and honors programs in geology, would normally take GEO 200.0, GEO 204.0 and GEO 205.0 are designed chiefly for students in Commerce, Education, and Arts, including Atlantic Canada Studies. Two courses, GEO 200.0 and 204.0, give a broad survey of the discipline. Only one of these courses may be taken by science students as a science elective. In exceptional cases where a student has taken GEO 204.0 with high standing, that course may, with the permission of the Department, be accepted in the geology core program in lieu of GEO 200.0. Under special circumstances, some prerequisites for 300, 400 and 500-level courses may be waived with the permission of the Department. It is strongly recommended that all geology major and honors students take GEO 300.1(.2).

Students should seek the advice of the Department as to their elective and supporting courses.

Year 4 students are encouraged to participate in the research projects being carried out in the Department.

The topic "Globalization of Business" has received considerable attention in all media for several years. The focus has been increasingly on the lack of competitiveness of Canadian companies internationally. Now even small entrepreneurs have to compete against foreign companies. Multinational organizations hire and transfer employees around the globe. Japanese and Canadians, Indians and Australians, Chinese and Malaysians learn to work together, to communicate effectively, and to manage as a global team, with synergy instead of conflict.

Managers wish to deal with the rest of the world on the same basis. They must learn to adapt psychologically, to communicate effectively, and interact socially with other cultures. Global managers are expected to speak more than one foreign language. The Bachelor of Commerce in Global Business Management offers the opportunity to study the skills essential for a successful career in this arena.

386.1(2) The Invention of Australia

The image that Australia presents in its official tourist brochures is of an exotic "outback" populated by peculiar flora and fauna and the occasional aboriginal, counterbalanced by glimpses of an urban culture symbolized by Sydney Opera House. How are such national images formed? This course will explore this question by examining the changing perception of Australia from the 18th to 20th century. We shall see how exploration, penal settlement, bush-ranging, gold-seeking, British Imperialism, industrialization, sporting tradition, warfare and urban architecture have all, in turn, contributed to our contemporary image of the southern continent.

387.1(2) The Invention of Canada

Canada has been imagined in a number of ways throughout its history: as a storehouse of staples commodities, a raucous frontier society, a mature colony that evolved peacefully into nationhood, as a bi-cultural and/or multi-cultural society, a land of regions, a cultural appendage of the United States, and as a peacemaking middle power. How have these images been created, and whose interests did they serve? To what extent have these popular representations incorporated an appreciation of class, ethnic, gender and racial differences? This course will look at the invention of national images from the 17th to the 20th century, using anthropological, architectural, literary, artistic and cultural sources.

The Minor Program

Pictures have always played an important part in interpreting human experience. They take a variety of forms from film to photograph, from woodcut to painting, from sculpture to drawing. This minor offers students the opportunity to examine, from the critical perspective of several disciplines, both the attributes and cultural functions of images.

Students may declare a minor in Image Studies after consultation with the Coordinator.

A minor in Image Studies requires successful completion of four (4.0) credits accredited in the Image Studies curriculum. Courses must be selected from at least three departments involved in the Image Studies Program. Prerequisites for courses in the Image Studies Program can be waived only with the permission of the course instructor.

The undergraduate program in International Development Studies is offered collaboratively between Saint Mary's and Dalhousie Universities. "Development" is a broad concept and refers to problems that range from the socio-economic impact of a new hydroelectric dam to the rapid changes in family structure and gender roles that often occur during periods of rapid demographic and economic change. As the list of recommended courses below demonstrates, "development" has political, social, cultural, economic and historical dimensions. The International Development Studies Program combines theoretical insights and practical skills from both the social sciences and the humanities. The goal is to help students take a multidisciplinary approach to problems of development and the possibilities for change in countries that loosely comprise what has been termed The Third World in the context of an increasingly global political economy.

A program in International Development Studies can be taken towards a Bachelor of Arts (Honors) degree at either university. A degree in International Development Studies can also be combined with a degree in one of the major disciplines involved in the program. Joint major concentrations can be worked out by consultation with the IDS Coordinator and the relevant department at either university.

In addition to the general university requirements for a Bachelor of Arts degree, the following requirements will also apply to a program in International Development Studies:

c. the remainder (2.0) must be courses with a clear International Development component and must involve at least two different established disciplines within International Development Studies.

The Honors Program

For the Bachelor of Arts (Honors) degree in International Development Studies, all students must complete no fewer than ten (10.0) credits from the International Development Studies Program, of which:

- three (3.0) must be IDS 301.1(.2), 302.1(.2), 401.1(.2), 402.1(.2), and 500.0;

305.1(.2) An Introduction to Mediaeval Welsh Language

Mediaeval Welsh, a P-Celt language, is a valuable tool in the study of the Celtic tradition, giving the student an insight into the non-Gaelic mediaeval cultures of Wales and southern Scotland, and the related culture of Brittany.

306.1(.2) An Introduction to Mediaeval Welsh Literature

The traditions, motifs and metaphors of such works as The Gododdin and The Four Branches of the Mabinogi are very similar to those of Gaelic (Irish and Scottish) literature. The second semester, focusing on the 20th century, will treat authors like Morley Callaghan, Leo Kennedy, Margaret Duley, Edward McCourt, Sheila Watson, Brian Moore, Harry Boyle, Dennis Patrick Sears, Alden Nowlan, Leo Simpson and George McWhirter.

The Minor Program

The minor in linguistics offers students the opportunity to gain insight into the functioning of language as a system through an introduction to linguistic theory and training in the methods of linguistic analysis. It also serves as the gateway to the numerous practical applications of linguistics. Linguistics provides the groundwork for the teaching and learning of languages, as well as sign languages and computer languages. It forms the basis for the understanding of bilingualism, for language planning in multilingual countries, for developing tools for increasing literacy, and for enhancing the efficiency of translation services. Linguistics is also useful in the field of special education in the understanding and treatment of language disorders and reading problems.

To minor in linguistics, students must complete the following courses:

a. The equivalent of three (3.0) credits from among the following:

ANT 391.1(.2)	Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology
ANT 392.1(.2)	Language, Culture and Society

Students are advised to consult with the Coordinator as to the availability of courses when planning their minor. Students cannot count the same course for a major in any discipline and for a minor in linguistics.

300.0 Introduction to Linguistic Analysis

Natural languages are systematic and this course will examine how this fact makes human communication possible. A basic introduction to modern methods of linguistic analysis, the course will enable students to understand the structure of their own language and to compare it with other languages. By familiarizing them with the basic concepts of linguistics, the course will prepare students for more advanced or specialized courses in this area.

310.1(.2) Phonology

Prerequisite: LIN 300.0 or another 1.0 credit from the listed courses in Linguistics.

Phonology is the study of the sound patterns of language. The course describes how speech sounds are produced and perceived, how they are used in spoken language, and how we can record them using symbolic notation. The universal principles by which sounds are organized in language through phonological rule systems are examined, as well as the processes which account for language-specific diversity.

320.1(.2) Morphology

Prerequisite: LIN 300.0 or another 1.0 credit from the listed courses in Linguistics.

Morphology is the study of word formation and structure. The course examines how words are made up of smaller, meaningful elements. Processes of word formation such as derivation and compounding are analyzed: how roots combine with other elements to form larger units. The course also discusses the manner in which morphology relates to the other components of language: phonology, the lexicon, and syntax.

330.1(.2) Syntax

Prerequisite: LIN 300.0 or another 1.0 credit from the listed courses in Linguistics.

Syntax is the study of sentence structure: how words are organized into larger meaningful units. The course examines the nature of speakers' underlying knowledge of the rules for combining words into higher-order structures. Students will learn how complex sentence patterns can be reduced to simpler forms and will be introduced to the principles of transformation which form part of linguistic competence. The fundamental similarities in sentence patterning among different languages will be addressed.

340.1(.2) Semantics

Prerequisite: LIN 300.0 or another 1.0 credit from the listed courses in Linguistics.

This course analyzes how words and sentences convey meaning in language. Students will learn how lexical items can be represented in terms of their semantic components and how interrelated groups of words form semantic fields. At the sentence level, grammatical, pragmatic and logical aspects of meaning are introduced. The course also explores idiomatic expressions and the ubiquity of metaphor.

Department Policy - Modern Languages and Classics

The Department of Modern Languages and Classics offers major programs in Classics, French, German, and Spanish; language and literature courses in ancient Egyptian, Greek, and Latin; introductory language courses in Chinese and Japanese; and English as a Second Language.

The program in Classics is comprised of courses of instruction in languages, literature, history, culture and civilization. One of the language courses may be used to satisfy the 3b requirement of the Faculty of Arts while the other courses in Classics may be used to satisfy the 3c requirement.

Recognizing the significance of the cultural links between the classical civilizations of Greece and Rome and their later European descendants, the Department encourages its students to explore language as an evolving tool of communication and expression. Students majoring in Classics are strongly advised to study at least one of the classical languages; Latin is a valuable asset for students majoring in French, German or Spanish.

The student's eligibility to enrol in language and literature courses, and in specific sections of those courses, is determined by the Department in light of the student's ability level in the language concerned, previous course work completed at university or elsewhere, and overall size of the course or section of a course. In matters of placement, the decision of the Chairperson is final.

The Department of Modern Languages and Classics supports a policy of regular class attendance by students. Frequent, unexplained absences from class will result in a lowering of the final grade in a manner to be determined by each faculty member.

Students enrolling in any French course below the 300 level will be required to take a placement test (unless they have previously taken a French course at this University at the 200 level). Since this test is administered on the first day of classes, attendance at this first class is required.

Major and Minor Concentrations

Students intending to major in Classics, French, German, or Spanish are required to consult the Chairperson of the Department for advice about, and approval of, their academic programs. Where appropriate, supporting courses offered by other departments will be suggested. The following general requirements apply:

Major in Classics

A major in Classics consists of six (6.0) credits, four (4.0) of which must be at the 300 level or above. One (1.0) credit is required in an ancient language, e.g., Egyptian, Greek, or Latin.

The following are recommended as core courses for the major:

CLA 202.1(.2)	Mythology of Greece and Rome II
CLA 301.1(.2)	Art in Greece and the Ancient Near East
CLA 302.1(.2)	Art in Rome and Christian Europe to the 14th Century
CLA 303.0	History of Greece
CLA 304.0	History of Rome

Those having a solid background in French, especially Francophones and high school immersion graduates, are urged to begin their studies with courses beyond FRE 250.0. Students who have taken French at another university are asked to consult with the Chairperson before registering. Normally, a placement test is administered on the first day of classes in FRE 110.0, 200.0, 230.1(.2), 231.1(.2), and 250.0 in order to provide students with the course that best suits their needs.

Students interested in teaching French as a career should seek advice on course selection and teacher training programs as early as possible.

There is an honors program in French which follows the general university requirements.

Minor in French

A minor in French consists of four (4.0) credits in French beyond FRE 110.0, with at least two (2.0) of these being at the 300 level or above.

Certificate of Proficiency in French for Non-Majors

This certificate signifies that the student has earned four (4.0) credits beyond FRE 200.0, has passed an oral and written examination and, in so doing, has demonstrated an acceptable level of proficiency in understanding, speaking, reading and writing. Students interested in the certificate program should consult with the Chairperson in order to determine their program of study and to register for the examination which is usually given in the spring. The student's transcript will bear an entry signifying that the certificate has been awarded.

Four (4.0) compulsory credits in German language/literature will include GER 100.0, 200.0, and two (2.0) credits at the 300 or 400 level. The remaining two (2.0) credits may be taken in German language/literature, or may be from courses given in English and taken from other departments. Those courses will stress German history, cultural roots, and civilization, and can only be taken after consultation with the Coordinator of German Studies or the Chairperson of Modern Languages and Classics.

200.0 Basic Logic

The aim of the course is practical rather than theoretical: to enable the student, in practice, to do such things as define terms accurately, construct sound arguments, identify fallacious thinking, and adopt a scientific approach to problem solving. No special knowledge or abilities are presumed, and students should take the course as early as possible in their program.

201.0 Introduction to Philosophy

Philosophy covers a wide variety of issues and questions with which any educated person will wish to be acquainted such as: law, morality, justice; the problems of freedom; the nature of what is mental, what physical; death; the nature of knowledge, scepticism, rationality; theism, agnosticism, atheism. Philosophy does, and ought to, play an important role in the education of doctors, lawyers, scientists, statesmen, educators, writers, theologians, and others. The introductory course is designed to acquaint students with the field of philosophy by covering some of these problems, and to encourage them to develop their own critical intelligence through a study of major past and present contributions toward the solution of these problems.

222.0 Ethics for Modern Life

The course examines competing moral perspectives on topics such as capital punishment, suicide, euthanasia, abortion, genetic engineering, friendship, marriage, parenthood, discrimination, inequality, poverty, foreign aid, and the environment. The aim is to help the student to develop a coherent set of principles to deal with these and other topics.

302.0 Ethics

An introduction to moral philosophy designed to lead the student to examine the foundations of their moral positions. To this end historical and contemporary answers by philosophers to questions such as the following will be examined: What ought I to do morally, and why ultimately ought I to do it? Are ethical positions simply relative: (a) to a person? (b) to a society? What is the relation between science and morality? Why be moral?

305.1(.2) Environmental Ethics

The nature of the ecological crisis will be examined. Philosophical responses to it will be presented which will involve analysis of the concepts of animal rights, of the intrinsic value of nature, and of obligations to future generations. A portion of the course will be spent on the application of the theoretical concepts to specific ecological issues including population and world hunger, pollution, and the sustainable society. Part of the objective of the applied section will be to raise issues of public policy within a philosophical framework.

310.0 (610.0) Political Philosophy

Prerequisite: a philosophy or political science course.

An examination of some philosophical concepts basic to any philosophy of politics: society and social obligations, the common good, the individual and individual rights, law, freedom, tolerance and repression, popular consent, sovereignty. The course will investigate the relationship, if any, between ethics and philosophy of politics and, with reference to contemporary experience of differing state systems, raise the question of whether the expression "making a better world" has any meaning.

This course continues and develops the work of PHI 200.0. It offers students of all faculties opportunities for further growth in reasoning skills, in part through supervised practice in the logical appraisal of extracts from a variety of important writings. Some branches of logic are developed beyond the level of PHI 200.0. The complete predicate calculus (with identity) is applied to arguments of ordinary English. Inductive logic, and practically significant areas of logical theory, are developed considerably. Scientific method and the general methods of some other disciplines are analyzed in some depth.

315.0 Mathematical Logic

Prerequisite: one of PHI 200.0, a course in mathematics, or a course in computing science.

A systematic introduction for students of philosophy, mathematics or computing science to the most fundamental topics of mathematical logic, proceeding from the propositional calculus, through the predicate calculus, and Boolean algebra, to set theory (as a 'foundation' for mathematics). Emphasis is placed on the development of facility and rigour in the use of natural deductive and axiomatic methods, and in the use of semantic tableaux and trees. There is an examination of such metalogical topics as consistency, completeness and decidability. Some attention is also paid to practical applications, such as circuit simplification, computerization of problem solving and formalization of theory.

317.1(.2) Philosophy of Economics

This course examines the basic assumptions on which economic theory rests, asks whether economics is a science, and explores the extent to which economic analysis can be used in other areas (for example, in medicine and the law). No knowledge of economics is presupposed or required.

325.1(.2) Ethical Issues in International Development

This course will examine the ethical problems raised by international development. Among the issues addressed will be the extent to which those who are well off have a duty to aid those in need, the limits to which it is morally acceptable to place conditions on the receipt of aid, the rights of those receiving development assistance to preserve and protect their culture, and what justification can be found for the various schools of thought on how to organize development programs.

Students who intend to complete a major concentration in political science must take a minimum of seven (7.0) credits in political science, including POL 200.0 and 304.0. The Department strongly recommends (but does not require) that a student take POL 401.0 and courses in each of the basic subfields of the discipline: Canadian politics, comparative politics, international relations, and political thought. For students wishing to pursue graduate studies, the Department also strongly recommends at least one 500-level seminar.

Departmental Policy for Honors

The objective of the Bachelor of Arts honors program in political science is to attract and graduate students with a demonstrated capacity to successfully complete postgraduate studies. Students interested in pursuing postgraduate degrees are particularly encouraged to apply.

Admission Requirements

Students should apply for admission officially to the honors program. Forms are available from the Registrar's/Records Office. After admitting students to the honors program, the Department, in consultation with the honors applicants, will assign honors committees, as well as approving both the major and minor areas of concentration. Students should normally complete the formalities for admission to the political science honors program not later than Christmas of Year 3.

A student, in order to be considered for admission to the political science honors program, must normally have a cumulative quality point average of 3.33 in both political science and non-political science courses.

Students are reminded that the admission requirements mentioned above constitute a minimum.

Requirements for Continuance In and for Graduation with Honors in Political Science

Students must meet the Faculty of Arts requirements for the Honors Bachelor of Arts degree.

In order to continue in, and graduate with honors, students must achieve and maintain a yearly and cumulative quality point average of 3.33 in both political science and non-political science courses.

Honors students must complete no fewer than twelve (12.0) credits in political science, of which at least eight (8.0) must be at the 300 level or above. It is expected that not fewer than four (4.0) of these credits will be at or above the 400 level.

The Political Science Department offers courses in four major subfields of the discipline: Canadian politics, comparative politics, international relations, and political thought. Honors students are required to declare one of these subfields as their major area of study and a second subfield as their minor area of concentration. In addition, it is strongly recommended that honors students complete POL 401 (Scope and Methods), and at least one (1.0) credit in each of the four subfields of political science.

Honors students must receive credit for at least two political science seminar courses at the 500 level, in addition to POL 500.0 (Honors Reading Course).

Honors students must pass oral examinations in their major and minor areas of concentration. The examining board will consist of a minimum of two departmental members. Ordinarily, honors students will submit review essays in each of their two subfields. These essays will form the bases of the oral examination(s). The honors oral exam will be two hours in length and will normally be held in March of the final year of study.

An honors student is encouraged to register for five (5.0) credits in the honors year.

Departmental Policy for Minors

Students who intend to take a minor in political science must complete at least four (4.0) credits in political science, including POL 200.0 and POL 304.0. Additional requirements are found in the Faculty of Arts regulation 8 in Section 3 of this Calendar.

The Psychology Department offers a broad range of courses and programs designed to meet the needs of students from a variety of backgrounds and with varying degrees of interest in psychology. The Department offers an area of concentration for the general Bachelor of Science degree, a major and honors for both the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, and a program of study leading to the Master of Science degree in applied psychology.

The Undergraduate Program in Psychology

The psychology undergraduate curriculum consists mainly of semester courses worth 0.5 credits. The majority are grouped into two broad categories—Group A and Group B. Courses in Group A are representative of psychology as a natural science and offer instruction in the areas of (1) brain and behavior, (2) biology, evolution, and behavior, and (3) cognition. Courses in Group B are representative of psychology as a social science and provide instruction in the areas of (1) development, (2) social behavior, and (3) personality and psychopathology. A few courses are more general—the introductory course, methods courses, and courses in diverse subjects—and hence do not belong to Group A or Group B.

The undergraduate psychology curriculum was revised to take effect as of 1 September 1995. Students who have already taken psychology courses from the old curriculum (which is described in the Academic Calendars of previous years) or who have progressed to a major or honors standing under the old curriculum may now be uncertain about how to apply such courses or how to proceed toward the completion of a major or honors in psychology. For clarification or answers to any questions about the relation between the old and new curricula, students should consult the Chairperson of the Department or the Department of Psychology main office.

Psychology at the 200 Level

Students who wish to major in psychology should begin by selecting foundation courses from PSY 210.1(.2), 220.1(.2), 230.1(.2), 240.1(.2), 250.1(.2), and 260.1(.2). Although recommended for majors, these 200-level courses are open to Arts and Science students and count towards Faculty of Arts regulation 3d. Students may take as many of these courses as they wish; however, they should be guided in their selection by the stated prerequisites for 300-level courses. Additionally, students in the Faculty of Arts should be mindful of the need to complete at least eight (8.0) credits at the 300 level or higher.

PSY 200.1(.2) is NOT a prerequisite for other 200-level psychology courses and is not intended for those who plan to major in psychology. PSY 200.1(.2) should be taken only by those students who are choosing psychology as an elective subject. However, Arts and Science students who have taken PSY 200.1(.2) and who then wish to major in psychology or to take other 200-level courses may do so without losing credit for PSY 200.1(.2).

Psychology as an Elective Subject

Students who wish to take psychology as an elective should begin with PSY 200.1(.2), Introduction to Psychology, which is a broad survey of the discipline. Completion of PSY 200.1(.2) will permit enrollment in selected psychology courses at the 300 level. 400-level psychology courses are normally available only to those planning an area of concentration or a major in the discipline. Students who meet the prerequisites of a 400-level course or who obtain permission of the instructor, however, may register for the course. Arts students seeking to fulfil degree requirement 3d or who wish to minor in psychology, Science students seeking to fulfil degree requirement 3e, 3e, or 7b, or who wish to minor in psychology; and Commerce students seeking to fulfil degree requirement 5c should contact the Department Chairperson for guidance in selecting courses relevant to their needs.

Psychology as an Area of Concentration

Students taking a general Bachelor of Science degree may elect an area of concentration in psychology. The requirements are: (1) 5.0 but not more than 7.0 credits in psychology; (2) at least 1.0 credit from courses in Group A and 1.0 credit from courses in Group B; and (3) at least 0.5 credits from 400-level psychology courses. For students seeking a concentration in psychology, PSY 350.1(.2) is a prerequisite for all 400-level psychology courses.

Psychology as a Major Program

Psychology is both a natural and a social science. Thus students may major in psychology and obtain a Bachelor of Science or a Bachelor of Arts degree. The course requirements for a psychology major are the same for both faculties: (1) 7.0 but not more than 8.5 credits in psychology; (2) at least 2.0 credits from courses in Group A and 2.0 credits from courses in Group B; and (3) at least 1.5 credits from 400-level psychology courses. For students majoring in psychology, PSY 350.1(.2) is a prerequisite for all 400-level psychology courses. Students in the Faculty of Arts must maintain a minimum cumulative quality point average of 2.00 (an average grade of C) in the courses used to meet the minimum credit requirements for the major—Arts requirement 7. Students in the Faculty of Science must obtain a grade of not less than C in every course used to meet the minimum credit requirements for the major—Science requirement 9. Students seeking a double major in psychology and another subject must meet the requirements for a major in psychology as stated above. Students who intend to declare a major in psychology are advised to consult the Psychology Chairperson as to whether the Bachelor of Science or the Bachelor of Arts is better suited to their career goals.

Psychology as an Honors Program

The Psychology Department offers honors study leading to a Bachelor of Arts (Honors) degree, a Bachelor of Science (Honors) degree, and a Certificate of Honors Standing (Honors Equivalency)—academic regulation 26. The honors program is intended for students of above average ability who wish to proceed to graduate work in psychology or related fields or who intend to pursue careers in psychology. For admission to honors in psychology, students at the time of application must have a minimum cumulative quality point average of 3.00 and must have completed at least 3.0 credits in psychology, including PSY 350.1(.2). (It is recommended that students complete PSY 401.1(.2) as well before applying.) These requirements are minimum standards only. Because the Department has limited resources for offering the honors program, some students who meet the minimum standards may have to be denied admission. The Department reviews applications for admission to honors in January and in June. The application deadline for January review is January 10; the application deadline for June review is May 31. Applications from students who do not meet the minimum standards as outlined above at the time of application will not be processed.

The requirements for honors in psychology follow the general regulations for the Faculties of Arts and Science as stated in the Calendar. The course requirements are as follows: a minimum of 10.0 credits in psychology, including at least 2.0 credits from courses in Group A and 2.0 credits from courses in Group B. Of the minimum 10.0 credits, at least 6.0 must be at the 400 level or above, including PSY 401.1(.2), and at least 1.5 credits from the following courses: PSY 400.1(.2), PSY 407.1(.2), PSY 408.1(.2), PSY 409.1(.2), PSY 410.1(.2), PSY 413.1(.2), PSY 414.1(.2), PSY 442.1(.2), PSY 445.1(.2), and PSY 486.1(.2). Honors students who wish to enrol in PSY 549.0, Honors Thesis, must first secure the consent of a member of the Department to supervise their work before attempting to register for the course. To determine a program of study that is appropriate to their future plans, honors students should consult with the Chairperson of the Department.

The Graduate Program in Psychology

The Department offers a Master of Science degree in applied psychology with concentrations in clinical and industrial/organizational psychology. Students are admitted with full-time or part-time status. Applications must be received by March 1. First year students who wish to change their status after they have received notice of their admission must make this request to the Chairperson before June 1. Change in status must be approved by the Department. Requirements for the Master of Science program for full-time and part-time status students are detailed elsewhere in this Calendar. Undergraduate students who wish to gain admittance to the Master of Science program should note that a normal entrance requirement is an honors degree or its equivalent. Undergraduates should also be aware that there are a limited number of placements available in the program and that competition for these positions is extremely high. Additional information on the program may be obtained by contacting the Graduate Program Coordinator in the Psychology Department.

Religious Studies (REL)

Chairperson, Professor	P. Bowlby
Associate Professor	S. Armstrong
Assistant Professor	A. Dalton
Professor Emeritus	E. Stiegman

The Religious Studies Department offers courses on the religious dimension of human life. In fulfilling that task the curriculum includes courses in three areas:

1. Comparative Religion

The comparative study of religion includes courses on the major religious traditions of the world as well as courses which compare characteristics of religious life across several religious traditions.

2. Thematic Studies in Religion

Thematic courses are offered as a way to explore various disciplines and their approach to the study of religion or to engage in a debate around a theme structured to include both religious and non-religious views. Such courses may examine a theme comparatively in order to show the views of different religious traditions or a theme may be presented in terms of a debate between religious and non-religious understandings.

3. The Christian Tradition

By virtue of its charter and history, Saint Mary's University has a special responsibility to teach courses on Christianity. The Religious Studies Department fulfills that purpose by offering a number of courses on the Bible, on issues of debate within the Christian Tradition, and the formative role of Christianity in Western Culture and Tradition.

Electives

Students seeking an elective may take any Religious Studies course at the 200 or 300 level.

Degree Requirements

Religious Studies courses at the 200 or 300 level satisfy a humanities requirement in the Arts Faculty; free electives in the Commerce Faculty and the two humanities requirements in the Faculty of Science.

A Minor in Religious Studies

A minor in Religious Studies may be completed by taking four (4.0) Religious Studies credits. Two (2.0) of the credits must be at the 300 level. An overall grade point average of 2.00 must be maintained in the four (4.0) credits.

A Major in Religious Studies

Students majoring in Religious Studies must fulfill the following requirements:

1. the equivalent of six and one-half (6.5) credits in the Department;
2. two (2.0) of the six and one-half (6.5) credits must be at the 400 level. (Normally, 400 level courses are supervised only by faculty in the Religious Studies Department. Students must have Departmental and course instructor approval to complete a 400 level requirement in a cross-listed course.);
3. in addition to the two (2.0) 400-level credits, majors must complete REL 480.1(.2) Advanced Seminar for Majors in Religious Studies;
4. an overall minimum quality point average of 2.00 in the courses counted toward the major;
5. at least one (1.0) credit from each of the three general areas in the Department: Comparative Religion, Thematic Studies in Religion, the Christian Tradition.
6. while not required for the completion of the major, one (1.0) credit in a classical language (Hebrew, Greek, Latin, or an alternate acceptable to the Department) or in an Asian language acceptable to the Department, may be among the courses counted toward completion of the major in Religious Studies.

Advanced 400-Level Courses for Majors and Honors Students in Religious Studies

All Religious Studies courses at the 300 level are also given a 400 number. The 400 number is to be used only by Religious Studies majors and honors students to indicate the courses in their program taken at an advanced level. Requirements for these 400-level advanced courses are approved by the Department and normally involve reading a supplementary bibliography and preparing more advanced writing assignments than are required of students taking courses at the 300 level. A student may not receive credit for a course at both the 300 and 400 levels.

Honors in Religious Studies

Religious Studies offers an honors program in conformity with the Faculty of Arts requirements for an honors degree. In addition to those requirements, an honors student must complete four (4.0) credits at the 400 level; REL 480.1(.2) Advanced Seminar for Religious Studies Majors; at least one (1.0) credit in a classical language (Hebrew, Greek, Latin or another acceptable to the Department) or in an Asian language acceptable to the Department and a Department Honors Seminar (590.0-595.0). An honors essay will be written in conjunction with the honors seminar.

Admission to an honors program normally requires Departmental approval no later than the beginning of Year 3. A minimum quality point average of 3.00 in Religious Studies courses is required for admission to, and continuation in, the honors program.

Student Counselling

Majors and honors students must have their Religious Studies courses approved by the Chairperson on an annual basis. In some instances, majors and honors students will be requested to take prerequisites for Departmental courses. Suggested prerequisites are kept on file in the Department. With renumbered or restructured courses, students are advised that they are not eligible to take a course for credit if they already have a credit for a comparable course, even if that course was taken at a different level.

Notes:

(I) Students may also take elective courses at the 300 level without a prerequisite.

(II) With renumbered or restructured courses, students are advised that they are not eligible to take a course for credit if they already have a credit for a comparable course, even if that course was taken at a different level.

Introductory Courses

201.0 The Religious Dimension of Human Life: Introduction to Religious Studies

There are many common life experiences (for instance, the quest for personal identity, the encounter with death, suffering, loneliness, sexuality, wonder, good and evil) which most men and women have sought to address in the context of an organized religion. In addition to studying these experiences which point toward the religious dimension in human life and the ways in which several religions have dealt with them, we shall also look at some secular approaches to the same experiences.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 2 semesters.

202.0 Introduction to Comparative Religion: When Great Religions Meet

The biblical faiths of Judaism and Christianity took shape against the background of other Near-Eastern religions. Zen Buddhism emerged out of the encounter between Chinese religious traditions and Indian Buddhism. After looking at various examples of meetings between religions, the course will examine how religions develop in the encounter with other traditions and how living religions interpret other faiths. These themes will form an introduction to comparative religion.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 2 semesters.

203.1(.2) Introduction to the Bible: Old Testament

A critical approach to the Bible, involving an inquiry into the cultural and historical context of biblical literature, the meaning and relevance of the Bible for today.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

In this course, special attention will be given to the ways in which biblical notions of power and weakness represent a reversal of more ordinary understandings.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

302.1(.2) [402.1(.2)] Wisdom and Foolishness

No one likes to be thought a fool - still less to be one. This course will explore and contrast biblical and contemporary notions of foolishness. An understanding of where and how wisdom is to be found is central to most religious and quasi-religious approaches to life. In this course, special attention will be given to the ways in which biblical notions of wisdom and foolishness represent a reversal of more ordinary understandings.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

Did Christianity conform, from the beginning, to patriarchal society, betraying its own insight that in Christ "there is neither male nor female" (Galatians 3:28). Has Christian tradition legitimated male dominance? What can the cause of women's equality hope for from Christianity?

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

The telling of stories and the recounting of myths in ritual settings are two major characteristics of religious traditions. The course will examine in translation a variety of stories and myths from the literature of major world traditions. Critical examination of the myths and stories will involve both locating the myth or story in the religious context of a particular faith and the comparative analysis of major themes. Literary sources will be drawn primarily from Hinduism, Buddhism, Islam and the biblical traditions.

336.1(.2) [436.1(.2)] Creation and Evolution: The Religious Issues

The theory of evolution is a powerful tool for answering scientific questions about life in this world. The success of the scientific enterprise has led many people to seek answers to their religious questions in "evolutionary" ideas. On the other hand, the biblical account of creation is a fruitful source of insight into religious questions about why the world is as we find it. The central importance of biblical truth for Christians and Jews had led many of them to seek answers to scientific questions in the creation story. What are the relevant religious questions?

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

337.1(.2) [437.1(.2)] Hindu and Buddhist Religious Art

Art and architecture have given concrete expression to religious ideas and ideals in South Asia. The course will examine historically both Buddhist and Hindu art and architecture in association with the religious conceptions fundamental to these traditions.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

338.1(.2) [438.1(.2)] Religion and Art: The West

In what ways may art be religious? Through a rapid thematic survey of the visual arts in Western civilization and an enquiry into the relationship between religious experience and the arts, the student is led to recognize various levels of religiousness in works of art.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

339.1(.2) [439.1(.2)] Images or Idols?

Prerequisite: completion of a minimum of 5.0 courses at the University.

Telling sacred stories through pictures, sculpture and even architecture is historically both an essential and hotly debated aspect of western religious traditions. Judaism, Christianity and Islam selectively employ such arts. Each distinguishes between sacred and profane images and names unacceptable images "idols". Use of such a term symbolizes one of the most serious issues dividing western and eastern religious traditions. The purpose of this course is to examine the western religious debates about images and the arts with a view to understanding the significance of those debates for comparative religion and the encounter between religious traditions.

340.1(.2) [440.1(.2)] Japanese Religious Traditions

Japan's religious life has its origins in Shinto ritual and myth. Its tradition develops from the Shinto root in comparison with Daoist, Confucian and Buddhist teachings. This comparative history will be examined along with contemporary issues facing religious teachings in Japan.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

341.1(.2) [441.1(.2)] Political Theology: East and West

Religious traditions both in the east and west have proposed non-violence as a comprehensive ethical response to the problem of violence between nations, in families or among individuals. The course examines how religious traditions have diagnosed the problem of personal and collective violence; arguments for both the control and legitimate use of violence as a means to resolve disagreement; and selected major voices calling for a non-violent religious, social and political ethic.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

342.1(.2) [442.1(.2)] Religion and War

Religious attitudes toward war have ranged from pacifism, through vigorous efforts to enforce limits on war's destructiveness, to outright support for specific wars. The course will examine comparatively the views of major religious traditions on war; the use of war and the warrior as religious symbols; the crisis of religious views on war in the nuclear age.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

343.1(.2) [443.1(.2)] Jewish Religious Tradition

The course examines the origin and development of the Jewish faith as it is remembered in the Hebrew scriptures and tradition. Selected contemporary debates in Jewish faith and tradition will be studied.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

345.1(.2) [445.1(.2)] Chinese Religious Traditions

What did Confucius say? How does a Taoist and a Buddhist conceive of the world and his place in it? How have Chinese religious traditions shaped the character of Chinese culture? These questions will be examined through the reading in translation of selected Chinese classics such as: Confucius' Analects, Lao Tzu's Tao te Ching, The Buddhist Platform Scripture and selected writings of Chairman Mao.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

346.1(.2) [446.1(.2)] Religion and the Social Order

Employment opportunities frequently lead university graduates into business, into science and technology, or into careers associated with government — activities which society has traditionally linked to religion only in weak, external ways. In this course, the student is led to work out an understanding of the relationship between these specific activities and ultimate human well-being. Two issues are studied: In what ways does religion influence one's attitudes to work? And, how does religion, which preserves society, become for some the force which must overturn the social order?

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

347.1(.2) [447.1(.2)] Ecology and Religion

The course reviews the phenomenon of human ecology in order to advance to further questions: In the human relationship to nature, does nature have rights? To reduce pollution, may the rich deprive the poor of advanced technology? Is a low-consumption life-style desirable in itself? Should we leave development and progress to the experts? Such questions prepare the ground for a theology that finds religious meaning in the worldly realities of science, commerce, and government.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

348.1(.2) [448.1(.2)] Religion and Ecological Issues in the Developing World

This course will examine the religious and moral issues involved in contemporary debate around the implementation of environmental programs in the so-called developing nations. Population control, competing interests in natural resources, and the role of women's groups will be among the topics discussed. Attention will be paid to the religious voices involved.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

351.1(.2) [451.1(.2)] Love

Our culture has represented love, variously, as effecting self-fulfilment, the affirmation of another personality, union with deity, merit for a future life; or, as sex, a passing neurosis, an unreasoned self-annihilation, or a social contrivance. This course explores the assumptions and implications of these views, particularly as they involve ultimate human concerns, that is, religion. The course can be continued into REL 352.2 where a coordinate theme is studied in a similar manner.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

352.1(.2) [452.1(.2)] Death

The student considers such questions as what dying is really like, whether dying provides a valuable point of view of living, whether people continue in some form of existence after dying, how one is to understand the symbols in religious talk about death, and why mythologies deal so heavily in death.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

355.1(.2) [455.1(.2)] Religion and Social Issues in Canada

The question of the interaction of religion and society is a key issue for religion because all religion seeks to influence the behavior of its adherents. While some religious groups are content to do so by appeal to persons as individuals, many religious groups often take public stands on public policy, organize pressure groups, or even form political parties. This course will examine the influence of religion on social issues in Canada. Representative personalities and organizations from various religious traditions will be studied.

Classes 3 hrs. a week. 1 semester.

Department Mission

The Department of Sociology offers a wide range of courses that represent the faculty's research and teaching interests. In addition to an intensive major program, professors accept their responsibility to offer an interesting and challenging array of courses for other students. Courses are also mounted that support programs in Asian Studies, Atlantic Canada Studies, International Development Studies, Linguistics, and Women's Studies.

All students are welcome into the Department's sequence of introductory courses, SOC 210.1(.2) and SOC 212.1(.2). These satisfy the prerequisites for almost all 300-level sociology courses. Majors follow a different path: after SOC 210.1(.2) they must take SOC 211.1(.2), which also satisfies the prerequisites for almost all 300-level courses. In addition, this gives students access to the required theory and methods courses at the 300 level and the required 400-level seminars. Students who meet both University and Departmental requirements are invited to consider the honors program.

In any particular year or summer session, the Department has resources to offer only a portion of the courses listed in this Academic Calendar. It is the student's responsibility to secure an up-to-date timetable prior to registering for any sociology courses.

Introductory Courses

Starting in 1995 when the Department offered three introductory courses, all students begin sociology with SOC 210.1(.2). Thereafter, potential majors with at least a grade of C in SOC 210.1(.2) must take SOC 211.1(.2). Other students may take SOC 212.1(.2). Since almost all 300-level courses require both SOC 210.1(.2) and either SOC 211.1(.2) or 212.1(.2), non-majors interested in taking courses beyond the introductory level will have to complete SOC 212.1(.2).

Students who have received credit for SOC 200.0 cannot receive additional credit(s) for any of these courses. SOC 200.0 also serves as a prerequisite to courses at the 300 level and to the major.

Major Program

The following requirements apply to all students who declare their major on or after 1 September 1995.

Students are expected to decide on a major in sociology during their first course, SOC 210.1(.2). If students complete that course with at least a minimum grade of C, they fulfill the prerequisite requirement to enrol in SOC 211.1(.2), which offers an introduction to sociology as a social scientific research practice. This course will be taught in controlled enrolment sections in specific areas of faculty interest. The achievement of a minimum grade of C in this course allows students to apply for a major in sociology.

To complete a major in sociology, students must satisfy the following requirements:

1. Both Introductory Sociology [210.1(.2)] and Critical Issues in Social Analysis [211.1(.2)] must be completed with a minimum grade of C.
2. All other courses required for the sociology major must be completed with a cumulative quality point average of at least C.
3. While acceptance as a major in sociology depends on the student's final grade in SOC 211.1(.2), potential majors are expected to file a "Declaration of Major" form while enrolled in the course. Once final grades have been received and processed, the Department will notify the student whether their request to major in sociology has been accepted or rejected. Those students who are accepted are responsible for seeking faculty advice.

4. Normally in the second year of a three-year program, but certainly after the completion of SOC 210.1(.2) and 211.1(.2) (which are prerequisites), students must complete Classical Sociological Theory [362.1(.2)]; Contemporary Sociological Theory [363.1(.2)]; Research Design [364.1(.2)]; and Data Analysis [365.1(.2)]. Students are advised to note that SOC 362.1(.2) and SOC 364.1(.2) are also prerequisites respectively for SOC 363.1(.2) and 365.1(.2).

5. Complete 2.0 credits at the 300 or 400 level.

6. Complete the equivalent of a full-credit (1.0) seminar at the 400 level. Students are advised to check carefully as to which courses do not fulfil this requirement. These are noted in the Academic Calendar.

Minor Program

The minor in sociology requires 4.0 credits in sociology completed with a minimum quality point average of C. These courses are:

1. Introductory Sociology [210.1(.2)] and either Understanding Society [212.1(.2)] or Critical Issues in Social Analysis [211.1(.2)].
2. The equivalent of 3.0 credits in sociology at the 300 or 400 level.

Honors Program

This is a selective program to which students may either apply or be invited to apply for admission. Successful completion assists students in applications to both graduate and professional schools. While the program follows general University requirements as found in Section 3 under Faculty of Arts, there are also some regulations particular to the Department of Sociology. Students should obtain these detailed requirements from the Department before making application for honors. In any case, students are expected to make application no later than 1 February of the year before they wish to begin the honors program and to register in the Honors Seminar course, SOC 530.0. The application for honors must be accompanied by a faculty member's written agreement to serve as a supervisor of the research paper, which is an integral part of the requirements of SOC 530.0.

Each honors student's program is supervised by the Department and requires the following:

1. Honors Seminar [SOC 530.0];
2. either Quantitative Methodology [460.1(.2)], or Survey Analysis [461.1(.2)];
3. 0.5 credits in Advanced Sociological Theory: either SOC 495.1(.2) or 496.1(.2);
4. 3.0 additional 400-level sociology credits. Including Directed Readings in Sociology [SOC 406.0], no more than 2.0 of these 3.0 credits may be from the following: SOC 407.0; 408.0; 409.1(.2); and SOC 410.1(.2).

Certificate Program in Criminology

The Department of Sociology administers the Certificate Program in Criminology (CRM) through its Program Coordinator. Detailed requirements for admission to this program are found in Section 3, Faculty of Arts, of this Academic Calendar.

Note: All courses are the equivalent of three hours a week each academic year, although specific course schedules are decided by the Department.

First Courses in Sociology

There are two sequences to the introductory courses that are prerequisites for almost all other courses in sociology. One sequence is for those planning to major, the other for those with different plans. Potential majors must take SOC 210.1(.2) and 211.1(.2); other students take SOC 210.1(.2) and 212.1(.2) if they wish to take other sociology courses.

210.1(.2) Introductory Sociology

This course is intended to give a basic introduction to the discipline and will examine the sociological imagination which understands human life as fundamentally explained by our membership in social groups. 212.1(2) Understanding Society

Prerequisite: SOC 210.1(2).

This course is for non-majors. It follows SOC 210.1(2), Introductory Sociology, and will be concerned with some of the basic questions sociologists consider important. The course will establish that the method of defining deviance is essential for considering what types of deviants exist, how they might be enumerated, what life experiences they will enjoy as a buffer, and how their behavior can be explained.

In working collectively for social justice and social change, how have women organized? What organizational forms have they used? How have they related to the larger society? The Saint Mary's Women's Studies program is designed to facilitate cooperation with other universities in the Halifax area. The program offers an interdisciplinary Bachelor of Arts degree in Women's Studies as well as a minor in Women's Studies for students majoring in other disciplines.

Courses in Women's Studies lead to a fuller understanding of women's lives, culture, ways of knowing, struggles for social justice and change, and feminist theories and methodologies. Students in the program learn about the forms and structures of discrimination that prevent women from participating equally in society. They learn how many of the personal problems that confront women are generated by society rather than being particular to the individual. They study the process by which women's issues become public and lead to social change.

Women's Studies programs and departments have now become established throughout Canada and internationally. They are widely recognized as playing an important role in broadening our definition of knowledge and helping amend the bias and narrowness of many disciplines and courses.

Governments and large institutions are now acknowledging the need to work towards sexual equality; consequently graduates who can demonstrate their expertise in this area can expect opportunities to find practical uses for their knowledge.

Requirements for a Major

1. Students must complete six (6.0) credits in Women's Studies. Normally they will accomplish this by taking the following courses:
 - a. WMS 100.1(.2)
 - b. WMS 420.1(.2) and 421.1(.2)
 - c. the equivalent of one (1.0) credit with a clear focus on feminist theory, feminist methodology, and/or feminist analysis [e.g., such courses as WMS 448.0 (from Saint Mary's); WOM 210 A/B, 310 A/B, 311 A/B (from Mount Saint Vincent); or WOST 3500 A/B (from Dalhousie)].
 - d. three and one-half (3.5) additional WMS credits offered by Saint Mary's, Mount Saint Vincent, and Dalhousie Universities. Courses from the latter two institutions are subject to the established Saint Mary's regulations governing transfer credits and will be processed through the Letter of Permission system.

2. All courses for the major must be approved by the Coordinator of the WMS program at Saint Mary's.

3. Students must satisfy all the requirements for a major in the Faculty of Arts as delineated in Section 3 of this Calendar.

Requirements for a Minor

Students must complete four (4.0) credits, including either WMS 420.1(.2) and 421.1(.2) or one (1.0) credit as described in regulation 1c, for a minor in WMS.

Note: The abbreviation for undergraduate courses in Women's Studies is WMS.

This seminar will be used to discuss student research proposals and to provide a forum to integrate material from other classes. As part of this seminar, each student will be required to engage in field-based learning (i.e., community-based, developed in the context of each student's program). This class will meet bi-weekly throughout both semesters.

d. Fees and withdrawal scales as outlined above do not apply to the Executive Master of Business Administration degree, the Master of Education degree offered in Prince Edward Island, or the Master in Business Administration degree offered in Cape Breton.

6. Residence Withdrawal and Refunds

Students who withdraw from residence and do not simultaneously withdraw from the University, or are dismissed from residence by the University, are not eligible for an adjustment of room fees and will be assessed fees for the entire academic year. The University will use its best efforts to rent the vacated room for the balance of the academic year, and if successful in doing so, will rebate to the student an amount equivalent to the rent received from the new occupant of the room, as well as an adjustment of board fees.

Students who withdraw from residence, and simultaneously from the University, are eligible for an adjustment of room and board fees on a proportional basis, calculated in weekly units. The minimum charge for residence is $250.00 regardless of the date of withdrawal. No fee adjustment is granted after 15 November in the first semester and 28 February in the second.

7. Scholarships, Bursaries, and Sponsorships

a. Only one-half of the value of any scholarship or bursary awarded by the University will be credited to the student's account during each of the two semesters. Unless the value of the scholarship or bursary is equal to or greater than the total fees for the year, payment is required by the student (section 3a and 3b). If the award exceeds the total semester's charges, refunds will be given by the Business Office to those students requesting them, after 15 November for the first semester and after 28 February for the second semester.

b. Students whose fees are to be paid by government or some other sponsoring agency (excluding Student Loan Programs) are required to present a signed statement, certificate or other appropriate supporting document at the time of initial registration for the academic year.

8. Miscellaneous

- a. Students will be charged for damage to University property.
- b. Cheques returned by the bank are subject to a $10.00 charge. Replacement of such cheques and future payments by the payee must be by cash, money order, certified cheque, debit card, Visa or Mastercard. N.S.F. cheques are considered a serious offence and may result in de-registration.
- c. Income tax receipts will be automatically mailed to all students by the middle of March. Duplicate receipts will cost $2.00 and must be ordered from the Business Office.

In the case of currently enrolled students, the local address on file with the Registrar's/Records Office will be used. If no local address on file, the permanent address will be used. For students not currently enrolled at the University, the last permanent (home) address on file will be used.

- d. Students may be entitled to a tuition discount if they, their spouse, or parents are employees of the University. In order to receive this tuition discount, the University employee must apply to Personnel Services. This tuition discount does not apply to the Executive Master of Business Administration degree.
- e. Students who are Canadian citizens or permanent residents and are 60 years of age or over on the first day of classes in September will be granted a full tuition waiver.
- f. Fees cannot be deducted from wages/honoraria paid to students by the University.

Saint Mary's University Undergraduate Scholarship Regulations and Application Procedures

a. By 25 May, candidates for scholarships must apply each year to the Financial Aid Office. Named Undergraduate Scholarships, Alumni Leadership Awards, and Faculty Union Scholarships require applications. Application packages are available from late March until the deadline of 25 May. Applications are not required for Achievement Scholarships.

b. Each award is granted for one academic year only. However, scholarships may be renewed each year on a competitive basis providing the students reapply and qualify.

c. Students are responsible for notifying the Financial Aid Office of late course completions and grade changes which were not recorded at the time when scholarship applications were filed. These must also reach the Financial Aid Office by 25 May.

d. In order to be considered for an undergraduate scholarship, students must have completed at least five (5.0) credits in the immediate preceding academic year (i.e., September to May). Courses taken at other institutions during the regular academic year and accepted as transfer credits at Saint Mary's University will be considered by the Senate Scholarship Committee provided that they appear on the student's record by 25 May or that the student notifies the Financial Aid Office of any possible transfer credits by that date.

e. Students who receive scholarships from Saint Mary's must register in at least five (5.0) credits in order to be eligible for the scholarships for that academic year. An exception will be made for graduating students who require only three (3.0) or more credits to complete their degree program, as well as disabled students. The criteria for retaining any scholarship will be outlined in the letter from the Financial Aid Office.

f. Students who are full-time in one semester and part-time in another or withdraw or complete their studies after one semester will receive one half of their scholarship.

Atlantic Canada Centre for Environmental Science

The Atlantic Canada Centre for Environmental Science was established at Saint Mary's University in 1991. Its primary function is to foster interdisciplinary teaching and research related to the environment.

Objectives

The purposes and functions of the Centre are to provide:

1. a mechanism for interdisciplinary teaching and research relating to the environment;
2. science graduates better prepared to meet the challenges of the 21st century;
3. opportunities for interaction of faculty and departments in a common theme;
4. a focal point to facilitate discussions with business and government agencies for research grants and contracts relating to environmental subjects;
5. opportunity for employment of Co-operative Education students on projects within the Centre.

Structure

Membership of the Centre is open to Saint Mary's faculty members and other qualified professionals interested in any aspect of Environmental Science in the broadest sense of the term. The Centre is administered by a Director who reports to the Dean of Science and operates in consultation with the membership and an advisory board composed of members from industry, environmental non-government organizations and federal, provincial and municipal levels of government.

Resources

The Centre uses the resources of the Dean of Science and of the individual members of the Centre. These members are drawn from the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Finance and Management Science, Geography, Geology, and Mathematics and Computing Science. Additional activities are funded from contract overheads. Projects of the Centre complement the B.Sc. Environmental Studies major.

Research

Members of the Centre are engaged in a wide range of activities including studies of climate change and its impacts, air pollution, geothermal energy, hydrogen economies, energy storage systems, energy cogeneration, hydrocarbon separation processes, impacts of mining on the landscape, weathering of mine tailings, environmental impacts of marine mining, coastal erosion, coastal zone management, ocean dumping, harbour pollution, fisheries management, effects of pollution on fish parasites, uses of fish waste, microbial insecticides, water pollution, acid drainage and palaeoenvironment analysis.

Business Development Centre

The Saint Mary's University Business Development Centre was established in 1989 as part of the University's community outreach initiatives. It has two basic objectives:

1. to provide top quality Commerce and MBA students with practical experience with the problems and opportunities facing small and medium sized businesses; and
2. to assist start-up and small businesses in becoming more viable.

Experience gained through the Centre demonstrates for students the necessity for planning, for training and development, for marketing plans, for financial management and cost controls, etc. It contributes substantially to their understanding of the realities of the market place. Exposure to the problems of small business is relevant not only to would-be entrepreneurs but also to trainee professionals, many of whose clients will be small businesses, the bankers, accountants and consultants. Students will be more effective in the world of business because of the experience gained through the Centre, whatever their future careers.

The services offered by the Centre to start-up and small businesses were found by a reviewer to be "not only worthwhile but perhaps vital to the economic growth of the area" (Robbie Shaw: Peat Marwick Stevenson & Kellogg, 1992). The services are accessible to micro businesses because of the very low fee scale charged by the Centre, low fees which are made possible because of the funding support of the Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency, Saint Mary's University, the Province of Nova Scotia and corporate sponsors. In addition, the Business Development Centre is strongly supported by the City of Dartmouth and the Metro Halifax Chamber of Commerce. The Centre is located in the Stems Building at 81 Alderney Drive in downtown Dartmouth.

This partnership of the University, government and business was intended to find ways to service the needs of small business in Atlantic Canada and to encourage new initiatives in entrepreneurship. These activities are ongoing. In September 1994, the Centre was responsible for establishing the Micro Enterprise Equity Fund, a unique partnership among the University, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, and the Cooperation Agreement for Economic Diversification. The fund provides small loans to would-be small business owners who, because they lack equity, do not have access to conventional sources of funding.

Gorsebrook Research Institute for Atlantic Canada Studies

The Gorsebrook Research Institute for Atlantic Canada Studies was established at Saint Mary's University in 1982 to enhance and strengthen the research component of the University's well established Atlantic Canada Studies program. The Institute gives particular emphasis to the study of regional political economy, resource development, and the culture of the Atlantic Provinces.

Objectives

The primary aim of the Institute is to encourage and facilitate research pertaining to Atlantic Canada, and to disseminate research findings to the regional, national, and international communities. The Institute emphasizes interdisciplinary, interuniversity and university/other-sector research cooperation.

Structure

The Gorsebrook Research Institute was established by the Senate/Board of Governors of Saint Mary's University and, in turn, operates under its own Board of Directors. Comprising the Institute's Board are the President of the University or his designate, the Coordinator of the Atlantic Canada Studies Committee, four members of the University Community, six members external to the University, and the Executive Director of the Institute, ex officio. Ultimately, the Institute's Board of Directors is responsible to the Board of Governors and Senate of Saint Mary's University.

Resources

The Gorsebrook Research Institute utilizes and complements the resources of Saint Mary's Bachelor of Arts degree program in Atlantic Canada Studies, which was introduced in 1975, and corresponding Master of Arts program, which began in the fall semester, 1983. Both programs are interdisciplinary in nature, drawing on the expertise of 25 faculty members whose teaching and research is focused on the Atlantic Region. In addition, the Institute draws on faculty associated with the International Development Studies program, and on Research Fellows and Associates of the Institute. The Institute operates a survey research centre which provides services to researchers in the region.

Research

A number of projects have been undertaken as part of the Institute's research program. These include a co-operative investigation involving faculty at both Saint Mary's and Dalhousie Universities focused on Nova Scotia's fishing industry, a study examining the contribution of women's work to local single-industry communities, a project considering the relationship between the structure of manufacturing in Halifax and economic development and employment generation, compilation of a comprehensive bibliography of printed sources dealing with resource industries in the four Atlantic provinces, preparation of a comprehensive catalogue of Nova Scotian films, and a study of comparative aspects of forestry policy development in Sweden and Nova Scotia.

Activities and Programs

In order to improve regional research communication the Institute publishes the Atlantic Canada Research Letter twice a year. This publication reports on current research on Atlantic Canada in the social sciences and humanities, and aims to provide individuals with a ready source of reference for what is happening in their respective fields. Additional activities include faculty seminars, workshops, public forums, and conferences that have dealt with such regional concerns as the future of fisheries policy, assessment of the real potential of oil and gas development, and the impact of micro-chip technology on the workplace and employment. The Institute publishes a book series with Acadiensis Press entitled Studies in the Political Economy of the Atlantic Region. Four books have been published to date. The Institute also publishes an occasional paper series.

Institute of Human Values

The supporters of the Institute believe that knowledge, morality, and freedom form an interdependent triad, and that the contemporary break-down of this relationship threatens all three aspects of human development. The Institute seeks to restore these vital links through discussion, teaching, research, and publication.

The contemporary crisis to which the Institute addresses itself is fourfold:

1. A crisis in the humanities, the social and the natural sciences, stemming from the failure to produce a theory of knowledge consonant with their characteristic functions and activities, and with their essential complementarity.
2. A moral crisis deriving from the divorce of personal morality from knowledge on the one hand, and from personal and social well-being on the other.
3. A crisis of leadership in all aspects of human activity, deriving from a widespread inability to make any meaningful connection between knowledge and judgement.
4. A crisis in the area of political freedom which derives, at least in part, from a loss of the sense of the historical relationship between moral values and the winning and defence of that freedom.

The Institute does not attempt to grapple with these problems as a self-sufficient entity, but acts rather as a catalyst through which the human and physical resources of Saint Mary's and other universities are brought to bear upon them.

Institute Activities

1. The coordination of the work of the members of the Institute in the various disciplines.
2. Research on all aspects of the relationship between knowledge, values and freedom, as well as upon urgent contemporary problems in which values are deeply involved.
3. The advising of students who wish to supplement their majors with problem and theme oriented core programs.
4. Liaison with faculties and departments with the object of implementing and improving such programs.
5. The advising of students who wish to follow a program related specifically to human values.
6. The arranging of special lectures and symposia designed to explore all aspects of knowledge, values and freedom.
7. The editing of The Vital Nexus, a journal concerned with the relationships between conscience, justice, and freedom.
8. The production of video and sound tapes on values problems for distribution to the University Community and to the public at large.
9. The organizing of interdisciplinary symposia at the annual meetings of the Canadian Learned Societies.
10. The establishment of a clearing house of information on questions related to knowledge, values and freedom, as a service to its members within the University and throughout the world.

International Activities Office

Saint Mary's University is committed to the ongoing process of the "internationalization" and "globalization" of its campus. Priority is placed on developing global competence which is necessary for effective communication and dialogue with people, institutions, governments, and business from other cultures and nations. In addition, the University places emphasis on international contacts and activities which strengthen the competitive position of Saint Mary's in relation to international contracts and projects, sponsored research and employment opportunities for its students.

Demonstrating Saint Mary's University's commitment to the internationalization process, an office responsible for International Activities was established in July 1992. The role of this office is to coordinate the international activities of the University, serve as liaison with governments, non-governmental organizations and international agencies involved in overseas programming, and assist in developing and managing the University's international contracts. An important function of this office is to assist academic departments in internationalizing their curricula and in pursuing international contacts.

Parallel to the International Activities Office, an International Activities Advisory Committee has been formed. This committee was established to provide advice to the Saint Mary's President on international matters and their relationship to the University Community. Members of the committee include representatives from Saint Mary's and external members from the Nova Scotia government and private sectors.

Program Organization

The Director of International Activities is supported by a project-based secretariat. The International Projects Office is responsible for managing international project activities on campus. It works in conjunction with the responsible faculty who are involved in a specific international project, and provides administrative and logistical support to the project activities.

The International Centre

The International Centre is an integral part of the internationalization of Saint Mary's. It was created to serve as a resource to the University and the community and as a service for international students. The International Centre houses the office of the International Student Advisor (ISA), a lounge, and the Resource Centre.

The International Centre is a place for interaction between Canadian and International students, a place for discussion, relaxing, reading, and programming. The Centre can be made available to student organizations in the evenings for meetings and small gatherings.

Alumni Association

The Alumni Association is an organization of graduates and former students of Saint Mary's. The Association seeks to promote the welfare of the University, and to foster continued association with the University and with one another. The activities of the Alumni Association are coordinated by the Alumni Office in conjunction with an elected executive which includes six members to the University's Board of Governors.

The Alumni Association sponsors the Student Alumni Association. These students are known as the SMU AMBASSADORS who serve to promote interaction between students and alumni and encourage students to become loyal, active supporters of Saint Mary's University. The SMU AMBASSADORS plan several programs each year that provide services to students, improve the quality of campus life and promote a sense of pride in the University. These programs include taking part in Alumni Weekend, the Christmas Daddies Telethon, Student/Alumni Mixers, Chocolate Rose Campaign, Exam Survival Packs as well as various other campus activities. At each Convocation, special Alumni pins are presented to each graduating student. In addition, the Student Alumni Association and the Saint Mary's University Bookstore provide an on-site framing service for parchments at each Convocation.

Annually, the Association in conjunction with the Faculty Union awards the Dr. William A. Stewart, S.J., Medal for Excellence in Teaching; the Gold Medal for the outstanding undergraduate in Science; achievement awards for academic merit among resident students; and awards for graduating athletes.

Athletics and Recreation

The Department of Athletics and Recreation organizes and operates a variety of activities, providing an opportunity for all students at Saint Mary's University to participate on a number of different levels. The intramural and recreational programs are designed to promote fun, recreation, and sportsmanship by encouraging students to compete on a friendly basis. Emphasis is placed on participation. The club sports program provides an opportunity for all students to participate and/or compete in sports not included in the varsity program.

Saint Mary's is a member of the Atlantic Universities Athletic Association (AUAA) and the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU). Our varsity teams compete in regularly scheduled league play with other universities in the Atlantic region and non-conference competitions with teams across Canada and in the United States.

Bookstore

Situated on the second floor of the O'Donnell-Hennessey Student Centre, the bookstore utilizes 3,600 square feet of retail space to serve the University Community.

The bookstore's prime role is to supply textbooks for current course offerings. In addition to textbooks, the bookstore carries an array of supplies, from pens to calculators, as well as an assortment of sundry items, including imprinted giftware, glassware, and crested clothing.

During the academic year, various services are available:

Used Book Buy-Back - At the end of both semesters, the bookstore conducts a buy-back of used books. Half price is paid for re-adopted textbooks, lesser amounts for books no longer used at Saint Mary's.

Ring Days - Rings can be ordered any time of the year, but during the special ring days, special discounts apply.

Diploma/Degree Lamination - This method of preserving diplomas or degrees utilizes plastic sealing on a hardboard backing with attractive woodgrain finish.

The bookstore's regular hours: 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday to Friday (7:30 p.m. on Wednesday). These are extended during rush periods.

Computer Services

The computing environment consists of over 1,000 workstations (PCs, Macs, Unix, terminals) in faculty/staff offices, or in general access departmental computer labs. About 800 workstations are connected through Appletalk or ethernet to the high speed campus backbone ethernet network. The remaining connections to the backbone are through terminal servers. The campus backbone ethernet network contains Digital Equipment Corporation ALPHAs, Novell and AppleShare file servers, CD ROM servers, and connections to the world-wide Internet system. Campus usage of the world-wide Internet system is high. Saint Mary's internet address is husky1.stmarys.ca. Several electronic-mail programs are available for campus and internet usage including: Eudora (Mac), Pegasus (PC, Mac), POP (PC), Trumpet news reader (PC), E-mail, Charon mail gateway, NewsWatcher (Mac), Netscape.

The main academic mainframe computer is a Digital Equipment Corporation Alpha running the Open VMS operating system. Languages and compilers include: BASIC, C, COBOL, FORTRAN, MACRO-11, PASCAL, and DEC EDT editor. Statistical packages include: Minitab, SPSS, SAS, TSP (Time Series Processor), Shazam Econometric Program, Bulletin Boards, survey data bases, Kermit, TeX, and MatLab. A multi-user Unix system (a DEC ALPHA running UNIX), administered by the Department of Mathematics, is also available.

Off-campus users may connect to the academic ALPHA, Unix systems through several dial-up telephone lines. Remote PCs and Macs may also dial-up the campus Novell and AppleShare file servers using PC AnyWhere or Appletalk Remote Access respectively.

There are ten general access computer labs containing about three hundred micros (PCs and Macs) and one general access terminal lab with thirty-five terminals. All micro labs are connected to the campus backbone ethernet network and access Novell file servers for software, printer sharing, and e-mail. A very wide range of PC and Mac software is available for statistics, graphics, charting and map drawing, CAD, financial and mathematical applications, and word processing. Printers include: dot matrix, laser, and Ink Jet color. In addition to the general access micro labs, there are several departmental computer labs. Instructors can show actual computer system usage in most labs and several classrooms using computer data projection systems.

Besides the typical computer hardware and software used for data processing, there is a wide range of specialized computer equipment including: CAD (Computer Aided Design), OCR (Optical Character Recognition), digitizing tablets, multi-media, CD ROM servers, desktop publishing, and dedicated analogue/digital data logging systems.

Computer Services manages the academic and administrative ALPHAs, general access computer labs, and the campus backbone ethernet network. They also provide repair for most university-owned computer equipment. Most university administrative systems are maintained by Computer Services. Tours of computing facilities and assistance in using the ALPHAs and the public access microcomputer labs are also available. The latter is in addition to the liberal assistance available to students through their courses and labs. Computer Services provides technical advice relating to the selection and purchase of computer hardware and software. Many computer manuals and pamphlets are produced. Saint Mary's is also involved with several other universities in providing computer resources for academic and research purposes.

Patrick Power Library

The library was officially opened on campus in June 1976 and is named in honour of the late Patrick Power, a generous benefactor of Saint Mary's in its early years as a college.

In 78,000 square feet of space, the three storey structure provides study space for students and accommodation for 300,000 volumes. The library's collections are selected to support the teaching and research programs of the University. As well as the general book and serial collections, the library maintains a number of separate collections including reference, rare books, microforms, annual reports of major corporations, Canadian government documents, and the University archives.

In conjunction with other university libraries, the library uses the latest technological advances to facilitate acquisition and cataloguing of books. Novanet, the library's on-line catalogue, gives access to holdings in eight Nova Scotia universities' libraries.

The library subscribes to a number of information retrieval systems including CAN/OLE, DIALOG, IDRC, and INFOGLOBE, as well as many bibliographic data bases on compact disc (CD ROM). These systems are networked to provide access to a large number of computerized data bases covering a wide range of subject areas including science, language and literature, education, the social sciences, business and economics, religion and philosophy.

The library offers a library instruction program to students through subject-specific library research sessions or through library workbook assignments.

A conference room and discussion rooms may be booked by groups of varying sizes. Photocopying and fax service are available.

The Ferguson Library for the Print Handicapped is located on the main floor of the library. The Ferguson Library provides a free service to the print-handicapped - individuals who are either medically certified blind or whose physical disability prevents them from reading printed material. This service is available to both post-secondary students and professionals.

The holdings of the Ferguson Library consist of a permanent collection of complete titles on cassettes and also a substantial temporary collection, composed of short articles and selections from books. The Ferguson Library has a Kurzweil Reading machine which reads printed text by means of a scanner and a synthesized voice as well as a Magnilink to enlarge print up to fifty-four times.

The University Archives, located on the third floor of the library, collects and preserves materials which reflect the history of the University. The collection includes records of the administration, departments, institutes and project offices, societies and associations, and related members. Materials can be used either by visiting the Archives or by making a special request.

The Media Centre is the headquarters of Media Services and is located on the third floor of the library. It provides playback facilities for audio and video cassettes, slides, films, filmstrips, film loops, and recorded plays, as well as a previewing service. Media Services provides closed circuit video viewing to 31 classrooms campus-wide.

The Language Laboratory, located on the second floor of the McNally Building, provides individual carrels where students and classes may listen to a variety of language tapes at a speed suitable to their requirements.

In addition to the services of the Patrick Power Library, students have access to the collections of other libraries in the area, and, through inter-library borrowing, to libraries all over the world. More detailed information on library collections, services, and hours of operation can be found in a series of printed guides available in the library.

Observatory

The Rev. Michael W. Burke-Gaffney Observatory at Saint Mary's University was opened in 1972.

The revolving aluminum dome measures five metres in diameter and rests upon an elevated pad atop the 23-storey academic-residence building. The Observatory's 0.4-metre reflecting telescope, among the most powerful in Eastern Canada, is used primarily for student instruction. The telescope is controlled by a computer located in the adjoining observer's office. A second computer operates an electronic camera capable of recording stellar spectra, or images of star clusters and galaxies.

The Observatory is open to the general public for viewing sessions on the first and third Saturday evening of every month. Further information is available from the Department of Astronomy and Physics, or by calling (902) 496-8257.

The Observatory is named for the late Professor Emeritus, Rev. Michael W. Burke-Gaffney, astronomer, engineer, and educator, who was at Saint Mary's University from 1940 until his death in 1979.

Student Services

At Saint Mary's University the Department of Student Services includes the Office of the Director, Chaplaincy, Counselling Services, Atlantic Centre of Support for Disabled Students, Financial Aid Counselling, Health Services, Cultural Activities (including the Art Gallery), Student Employment Centre, University Residences and Food Services, International Student Advising, and Student Discipline.

Chaplaincy

Because of its traditional commitment to Christian education, Saint Mary's University continues to emphasize personal and social values deriving from the experience of Christian civilization. Its students and teachers represent a diversity of cultural and religious backgrounds and the University encourages participation in activities related to all faiths.

The Roman Catholic chaplaincy is found in Room 145 of the Loyola Residence; weekday Mass is provided in the Rice Chapel. In addition, a special University Mass is held every Sunday in Canadian Martyrs' Church located on the edge of campus. Protestant and Jewish services are available in nearby churches and synagogues.

Pastoral guidance is available from the University Chaplain and from clergymen of all major denominations.

Counselling Services

Saint Mary's University Counselling Centre staff provide free, professional counselling services to full and part-time Saint Mary's University students. To make an appointment, students may drop by the Office (4th Floor, Student Centre) between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday to Friday, or call 420-5615. Students may come to Counselling Services on their own, or they may be referred by a member of the University or outside community.

A variety of services are offered through Counselling Services. While some students request counselling to deal with personal problems, others participate in groups for support in dealing with stress and loneliness, to improve their study skills, or define their career goals. The following describe the various services available through Counselling.

Personal Counselling

Students are seen individually for assistance with a range of personal problems including anxiety, depression, difficulties in relationships, family conflicts, sexual orientation, poor concentration, drug and alcohol abuse, eating disorders, and other problems. Both male and female counsellors work with students to help them feel better about themselves and develop healthy ways of solving problems.

Counsellors are available during the day to see students; however, there is no after hours coverage.

Women's Group

A Women's Group provides an opportunity for women to get together on a weekly basis with a Counsellor to deal with problems in a supportive, caring atmosphere. This group validates the complexity of women's experience and allows for personal growth and learning. Students interested in being part of the Women's Group should contact Counselling Services for more information.

Men's Group

A Men's Group provides an opportunity for men to meet on a weekly basis with a Counsellor to deal with men's issues. The group provides support, feedback, and an opportunity for men to share together about life's journey as a man. Interested students should contact Counselling Services for more information about the Men's Group.

Assertiveness Group

This is a six-week group which teaches participants the skills of assertive communication. Topics of discussion include: blocks to assertiveness, learning to stand up for your rights without violating the rights of others, components of an assertive statement, and the differences between passive, assertive, and aggressive messages. Weekly goals and journal writing are incorporated into the program. For more information, contact Counselling Services.

Career Counselling

Students are invited to attend Career Orientation Sessions presented throughout the year, during which the range of career assessments and services available to students will be described. Included in these services are CHOICES CT, a computerized career exploration program, the Strong Interest Inventory, the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator and individual career counselling. These services are designed to assist students who are having difficulty selecting a career, choosing a major, or simply locating career information.

Saint Mary's University Student Peers (SMUSP)

SMUSP volunteers are trained students working in the SMUSP Office (4th Floor, Student Centre). Volunteers provide all students with information on study skills, career resources, campus services and student services programs. Volunteers also offer a group program, "Life at Saint Mary's", to first-year Saint Mary's students. This program looks at how to choose a major, campus life, study skills and programs offered for students. Interested students should drop by the SMUSP Office during office hours or call 496-8245.

Sexual Harassment/Sexual Assault

To ensure and facilitate the pursuit of knowledge, Saint Mary's University is committed to the provision of an equitable environment for work and study for all University Community members. Sexual harassment/sexual assault can seriously undermine the fulfilment of this primary goal by destroying the trust that is necessary for personal and educational freedom. In 1986, the Senate established procedures to discourage the presence of sexual harassment through education, and to investigate and resolve complaints of sexual harassment expeditiously and with fairness to all concerned. In 1995, Senate revamped this policy to include Sexual Assault.

Saint Mary's provides an advisory service to all members of the University Community. The office of the Sexual Harassment Advisor is located on the fourth floor of the Students Centre. The Advisor is available by appointment by calling 420-5113. Inquiries outside these hours can be made through Student Services at 420-5615.

The Advisor is available to answer all inquiries concerning sexual harassment, and can provide educational programs for all campus groups. The Advisor is also available to consult with concerned individuals on a confidential basis, to suggest and explore a number of informal problem solving methods. She is also able to mediate formal disputes, and will advise complainants and respondents of correct procedures if involved in an investigation of sexual harassment. All inquiries are welcome, and will remain strictly confidential.

Atlantic Centre of Support for Disabled Students

The Atlantic Centre of Research, Access, and Support for Disabled Students is one of three "Centres of Excellence" created under the Department of the Secretary of State's Centres of Specialization Fund. The purpose for creating these Centres was to mobilize a truly Canadian effort in making post-secondary education accessible to hearing-impaired Canadians.

The Atlantic Centre commenced operations in January of 1985. Since August 1987, the Atlantic Centre has been operating under a grant jointly funded by the Nova Scotia Department of Social Services and the federal Department of Health. Although the Centre has a mandate to provide support services to all disabled students, the major focus, until 1987, was to implement programs to assist hearing-impaired students in the post-secondary system.

The Centre, located on the third floor of the O'Donnell-Hennessey Building, is a demonstration centre which will assist in transforming the campus into an environment that is accessible to all students.

The Centre has acquired a limited number of devices, such as a Personal FM system, for students to borrow for classroom use. These technical aids will ensure that the campus is well equipped to meet the needs of hearing-impaired students.

The Atlantic Centre, the Fitness and Recreation Centre, the Ferguson Tape Library for Print-handicapped Students, and other features such as accessible buildings, demonstrate the commitment of Saint Mary's to a totally accessible educational experience. Other universities within the Atlantic Region and throughout Canada will be able to experience first-hand how such an environment can assist a disabled student to complete a university education.

Ensuring that support services are available to hearing-impaired students attending Atlantic universities continues to be a vital role of the Atlantic Centre. The Visual Language Interpreting Program, a one-year course, is offered at Saint Mary's to develop entry-level interpreters capable of working in the university classroom.

A Tutor/Notetaker Program is being implemented in order to provide much-needed services. A Screening-in Program, which will evaluate admission requirements and examine criteria allowing for the screening-in (and not out) of hearing-impaired students, and computer-assisted instruction, are two other facets of the overall program providing hearing-impaired students with support services never before available in Canada.

The Atlantic Centre has on staff a deaf Educator/Counsellor who is qualified to provide counselling services to hearing-impaired students. The Educator/Counsellor is also available to faculty members for advice and intervention on behalf of faculty members or the hearing-impaired student.

Financial Aid Office

Scholarships and Bursaries

Scholarship and bursary brochures are available from the Financial Aid Office. These booklets provide detailed criteria and application procedures for all awards administered by the University. Graduate students should contact the Senate Office regarding fellowships. The Admissions Office administers entrance scholarships.

Applications for undergraduate scholarships for continuing students based on high academic standing are available from the Financial Aid Office from late March until the 25 May deadline.

Applications for bursaries are available after October 1 from the Financial Aid Office. These are primarily based on need and satisfactory academic standing. The awards range from approximately $200 to $500.

This information is also forwarded to the Dean's office for posting. Students are encouraged to drop by for updated information.

Student Health Services

The C. Henry Reardon Medical Centre is located on the 4th floor of the Student Centre and is named in honour of the late Dr. C. Henry Reardon who served as its initial Director from 1967 to 1980. It provides the students with the same service they would receive from their family doctor. Referrals to specialists may be made through the clinic.

Office hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1:00 to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. A nurse and secretary are in the office during office hours. The Doctor's office hours are 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon only. It is preferable that students make an appointment (420-5611).

During the evening or night a physician may be reached at 453-3511. For emergency service call 428-2043/428-2948 or go directly to the Victoria General Hospital Emergency Department, 1278 Tower Road. Emergency services are also available at the Halifax Infirmary, 1335 Queen Street, telephone: 496-2700.

In response to the serious health problem created by AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome), in the fall of 1989, Senate and the Board of Governors of the University developed a policy for all students, staff, and faculty. Details on this official policy are available on request.

Medical Insurance

Each year the Health Insurance Committee decides which insurance company will carry the health plan and they, along with the insurance company, are responsible for the administration of the plan. The following description applies to the 1994-95 academic year. Please note that the health plan for Canadian students is under review, and may not be available in its present form in subsequent years. A description of the benefits in any revised plan will be available on request from Health Services.

1. Full-Time Students (Canadian and Non-Canadian)

An extended health care plan arranged by the Students' Health Insurance Committee is compulsory for all full-time students. Students who are already covered by a similar plan may opt out. (See Financial Information section of this Calendar for details.) This plan includes such benefits as prescription drugs, ambulance service, accidental dental, physiotherapy, life insurance, etc. For information on premiums, please consult the Financial Information section of this Calendar.

Full-Time Canadian Students

All Canadian students, with the exception of those residing in the Yukon or Northwest Territories, are either covered or have access to basic hospital and medicare coverage in their province of domicile. It is the students' responsibility to see that they are in good standing with the Provincial Hospital Insurance Commission in the province of origin. If the province requires monthly payments, the students must make certain they are properly enrolled and maintain payments.

Full-Time Non-Canadian Students

Students not eligible for basic Canadian hospital and medicare coverage must be insured by the Blue Cross comprehensive health and hospital plan which has been arranged through the Students' Representative Council. For information on the premiums, please consult the Financial Information section of this Calendar.

Students who provide proof at the time of registration that they have the equivalent to Nova Scotia's Medical Services Insurance (M.S.I.) are exempt from the non-Canadian portion of the University's compulsory comprehensive coverage.

2. Part-time Students

Part-time students are not eligible for either the extended or the comprehensive health plan.

Cultural Activities

Performing Arts

The performing arts program at Saint Mary's University brings a cross-section of excellent musicians and entertainers to the campus each season. From chamber orchestras to modern jazz, concerts provide musical adventure for every preference.

Artist-in-Residence

The Artist-in-Residence program is designed to cover the spectrum of the arts with the intention of developing a varied program for both the University and the community at large. Not necessarily limited to musicians and the fine arts, the program is designed on a broad scale and intended to enrich the lives of both students and citizens.

Saint Mary's Artist-in-Residence program has included such outstanding artists as Israel-born pianist Shulamit Ran; bassoonist George Zukerman; Halifax painter C. Anthony Law, and Cape Breton native and New York based vibraphonist Warren Chiasson; and presently, watercolorist and printmaker J. R. Leighton Davis, who is also Curator/Director of the Saint Mary's Art Gallery.

In the past the artists have conducted instructional sessions with the University's music program, workshops for community musicians and artists, the local school music program, and various performing sessions including public concerts.

Art Gallery

Designed and constructed to National Gallery of Canada standards, Saint Mary's University gallery is located on the ground floor of the Ignatius Loyola Building.

Opened in October 1971, the gallery was the first University Art Gallery in Halifax. The initial exhibition consisted of sculptures and graphics by Eskimo artists, and since then approximately 160,000 visitors have attended 700 exhibitions and other cultural events.

The gallery also sponsors lectures and slide demonstrations on the history of Canadian Art, and life drawing and painting classes by the University Artist-in-Residence.

The Halifax public as well as the University Community has been able to view the work of internationally known artists at Saint Mary's University; for example: an exhibition of works by George Roault, Wilhelm Webels, Otto Dix, and Harold Town; an exhibition of contemporary Christian Art, Ars Sacra '77, which included works by Graham Sutherland, Bernard Buffet, Salvador Dali, Carol Fraser, and Bruno Bobak; an exhibition, In Memoriam, of the works of Miller G. Brittain; for the first time in Canada, an exhibit by Friedensreich Hundertwasser, the Austrian Master of Ornamentalism; and, more recently, a display of primitive art and artifacts from Papua, New Guinea.

A permanent collection of Nova Scotia pottery exists at Saint Mary's University Art Gallery in which potters such as Alma and Ernst Lorensen and Max Roulston are represented. The University Art Collection has been made possible through the generosity of private donors and organizations who have enjoyed the facilities of the Art Gallery.

Student Employment Centre

Saint Mary's administers a Student Employment Centre to assist students in finding full-time and part-time employment.

In addition to professional guidance to graduate and undergraduate students, the Employment Centre provides current labour market news, career information, and assistance in preparing resumes, preparing for interviews, and completing job applications.

Personal interviews are also arranged with representatives from many companies and organizations who visit the campus each year to meet prospective employees. On-campus interviews generally begin in early October; hence students are encouraged to register early.

Students are also encouraged to visit the Centre regularly as job opportunities are posted regularly regarding part-time summer and casual employment.

The Employment Centre is located on the 4th Floor of the Student Centre and is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

University Residences

The University does not require students to live in residence; however, it highly recommends residence life and encourages all first year students to reside on campus. Living in residence puts you at the centre of University life. Friends, activities, advice and support are right there on your doorstep. Saint Mary's University is committed to providing a living environment that is comfortable, secure and conducive to the academic and personal growth of students. The residences are much more than a place to eat, sleep and study; they are a great place to develop lasting friendships and share social and educational activities with people of different backgrounds.

There are three residences. The Edmund Rice Building is coed and has 17 floors of apartments, each with two double bedrooms, kitchen, bathroom and living room. Students in Rice can either opt for a meal plan or cook for themselves. The Loyola Residence houses men and women and has 19 floors with single and double rooms in suites for six with shared bathrooms. Students must purchase a meal plan. Vanier House is a women's residence which provides accommodation in suites containing two double and two single rooms with shared washrooms. There is a common lounge on each floor. Residents must purchase a meal plan. All residence rooms have basic furniture and drapes; students need only bring the personal items that will turn a room into a home.

Family Housing (Ignatius Loyola Residence)

One and two bedroom unfurnished apartments are available for student families on a 12-month lease basis. These are available to married students, single parents, graduate and mature students. Further information is available from the Director of University Residences.

Application for Residence Accommodation

Further information and applications for residence are available from the Director of University Residences.

Fees for accommodation in each of these residences and for various food plans are specified in the Financial Information section of this Calendar.

Food Service

The University provides a complete food service program during the academic year. Food Service outlets include the Residence Cafeteria, Student Centre Cafeteria, Colonnade, and Mini-Mart.

Meal Plans

Residents of Vanier House and Loyola Residence are required to purchase a meal plan.

The Declining Balance Plan

The Declining Balance Plan features a computerized meal card with a declining balance. With each food purchase you make, the amount will be deducted from your account balance. You may receive an update of your balance at any cashier outlet.

The Residence Dining Room features an a-la-carte food service program. At other outlets on campus service is a-la-carte. Fees for meal plans are specified in the Financial section of the Calendar. (Meal plan features are reviewed annually in consultation with students and hence may vary from year to year.)

Information describing the Declining Balance Meal Plan is sent to residence students each summer. Inquiries may be directed to the Food Services Office at 420-5604.

International Student Advising

The International Student Advisor (ISA) provides information and referral services in response to questions or problems international students may encounter during their adjustment to a new country and university. The ISA organizes orientations and social programs for international students. International students with questions, financial concerns, or immigration problems are encouraged to meet with the ISA. The ISA Office is located in the International Centre, Burke Building, and students are encouraged to drop in or call 420-5436.

Day Care Service

The University has a day care service on campus which accommodates 36 children. A limited number of subsidized spaces are available to qualified applicants. For more information, contact the Director of Child Care Services.

Student Discipline

a. Student Behavior

Saint Mary's University, in accepting students, takes it for granted that they are prepared to engage seriously in the pursuit of learning within an ordered academic institutional environment. Rules and regulations which affect student behavior are intended to ensure that the quality of life of students and of those associated with them in the work of the University is respected and preserved.

The largest measure of responsibility for maintaining standards of conduct rests with the students themselves. The University reserves the right, however, to counsel, admonish, limit the activities of, impose penalties on, or dismiss any student or group of students whose conduct violates normally accepted standards of civilized behavior or is in conflict with the University's objectives, policies, rules and regulations.

b. Discipline System

The Senate-approved disciplinary system operates under the general responsibility and direction of the Director of Student Services. The Saint Mary's University's Discipline Code was officially passed by the Academic Senate on 22 September 1995. Copies can be requested from the Director of Student Services. Several administrative officers of the University receive complaints, examine the evidence, and make decisions with respect to the disposition of cases. If there are appeals against these decisions, they are heard by the three-person Student Disciplinary Appeal Board. Decisions can involve monetary fines, suspensions, or expulsion from the University.

c. Students and parents (or guardians) of students are advised that Saint Mary's University does not agree to accept custody guardianship or responsibility for any student, whether under the age of 19 or otherwise. The University is not responsible for acts or omissions of any student.

University Security

The maintenance of order, conduct, and safety on campus is the responsibility of University Security. This department includes a contracted force of Canadian Corps of Commissionaires and a student component composed of full-time and part-time students. As well, in partnership with Saint Mary's University's Students Association, a drive home service, the Husky Patrol, is provided to the University Community. Students wishing to be members of the student component of University Security must be of sound academic standing, of a general demeanour consistent with the normally accepted standards of conduct required of students at the University. The various components fall under the direct supervision of the Manager, University Security. Interested students may apply for a position with University Security by forwarding a resume to the office of the Manager, University Security.

The student component of University Security provides students with an opportunity to obtain valuable experience in the field of security and people management skills, as well as providing funds to defray their education costs.

Saint Mary's University Students Association

Incorporated in 1966, the Saint Mary's Students Association (SMUSA) is the official representative organization of the students of Saint Mary's University. Every student is automatically a member of the Association.

The goal of the Association is to promote and represent the interests of its membership. The Association seeks to foster understanding and fellowship among all sectors of the University Community as a whole. It also coordinates artistic, literary, educational, social, and recreational activities for Saint Mary's students.

The Association is governed by a sixteen member Student's Representative Council. The Association organizes scores of activities for students as well as provides a service and representative base for its members.

The extracurricular organizations for students are recognized by the University. Students who represent the University in any public activity - dramatics, debating, oratorical contests, or athletic competition - or who hold office in any student organization, must be in good academic standing at the time of their election or appointment.

A detailed description of student societies is available in the Student Handbook which is distributed by the Students' Representative Council in September.

Charter Day

It takes a lot of different things to make the university experience a complete one. Along with classes, exams and academic standards, there is a social side of university life. Each year a number of interested people take time from their busy schedules to get involved in student affairs and to take part in student government, societies and clubs. Annually, a Charter Day Awards Committee solicits nominations for its 15 awards from members of the University Community. Awards are presented at the Charter Day Dinner held toward the end of March. Traditionally it marks the end of extracurricular activities for the academic year.

In 1983, the Alumni Association, in cooperation with the Faculty Union and the Students' Representative Council, established the Reverend William A. Stewart, S.J., Medal for Excellence in Teaching. This award is open to faculty members who have made an extraordinary contribution to the education of Saint Mary's students through teaching in the University's tradition of quality undergraduate education. b. President's Award for Excellence in Research

Established in 1989, this annual award honors outstanding research conducted by a full-time faculty member who has been employed at the University for at least three years. Presentation of the award takes place at Convocation. A detailed nomination procedure has been delineated whereby each Dean of Faculty may select one member of his Faculty who has been nominated by the 15th October, and whose candidacy he is prepared to support. Other sponsors must be researchers, at least two of whom must be from outside Saint Mary's University. The award is adjudicated by the Senate Research Committee, which has the authority to decide which nominee, if any, is deserving of the award. The selection criteria consists of two component parts, namely productivity, whereby the nominee must have a record of continued exceptional contribution to research/scholarship; and secondly, recognition. The nominee must have attained national or international recognition as an authority in a major field of knowledge. The President's Award for Excellence in Research consists of a framed certificate presented at Convocation together with a cheque for $1,000. Previous winners of this significant award are:
