SAINT MARY'S ATTEND ANNUAL W. U. S. C. CONFERENCE AT LAVAL

By RAY WALLER

Dr. J. A. A. Duffie and Ray Waller attended the annual policy making conference of the World University Service of Canada (formerly I.S.S.) held at Laval University in Quebec on 17, 18 and 19 of October. Faculty and student delegates and observers attended, coming from 22 Canadian universities, as far west as the University of British Columbia and as far east as Dalhousie University and Saint Mary's University in Halifax.

The conference opened Friday, October 17, with an address of welcome by Msgr. Vandry, Rector of Laval University. Msgr. Vandry said that what the world needs today is charity and that the W.U.S.C. is a great work of charity. He called upon God to assist and guide the delegates in all their endeavours. On closing Msgr. Vandry pledged the full support of Laval in anything the W.U.S.C. decided to undertake.

Friday evening and Saturday morning were mainly devoted to discussion of W.U.S.C. policy and its part in the International Program at Action to be followed in 1953 by World University Service. Miss Muriel Jacobson, General Secretary of W.U.S. spoke to the delegates on this program and stated that at present the main aim was material relief. She also stated that W.U.S. needed more financial support from its national levels such as W.U.S.C.

Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday morning the conference was broken into five commissions. Commission 1 was that of Finance, whose job it was to draw up the budget for the running of the National Office in 1954. Ray Waller of Saint Mary's was the Secretary of this commission. Commission 2 was the Constitution Commission, which drew up the new constitution for W.U.S.C. Dr. Duffie of Saint Mary's was on this commission. Commission 3 dealt with the local campus committees and the problems they face. Commission 4 worked on the W.U.S.C. part in the International Program of Action for 1953 and Commission 5 worked on next year's seminar in India and other international educational enterprises.

The delegates were tendered a dinner on Saturday evening by Laval at which Dean DeKonink, Dean of Philosophy at Laval, spoke. His short talk was on Communism and following it he answered any questions on the subject proposed by the delegates. After dinner commission work was resumed.

Sunday afternoon the Commission reports were read and discussed by the whole conference. The budget drawn up by the Finance Commission was accepted and the Constitution was tentatively adopted pending final ratification by next year's annual conference. The report of Commission 3 was referred to local Father Stuart, S.J., its first Moderator. The members endeavour to meet every two weeks during the university year. A chairman is appointed for each meeting, the secretary being the only permanent executive.

Alumni Is Active

HALIFAX, Oct. 28 — Yesterday the President's Office simultaneously with the Students' Council Executive announced that the undergraduate students would attend the Solemn Mass of Requiem to be sung at Saint Mary's Basilica on Tuesday, November 11 at 9.00 a.m. for the repose of the souls of all past students at Saint Mary's University. The four hundred and fifty active Alumni members of the city should stage a heavy turnout according to Fr. Fogarty, Alumni Director.

Tuesday, November 11, Remembrance Day, will be most fittingly commemorated with the Solemn Pontifical Mass of Requiem to be sung by His Excellency, the Most Reverend Alfred E. Leverman, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Halifax. Himself, one of the most active and enthusiastic of the younger members of the University Alumni, Bishop Leverman along with the city clergy, almost all of whom are old Santamarians, rejoice in this opportunity to gather again as supporters of the University and offer sincere prayers for the spiritual welfare of those of us who were once companions and have now passed on to their reward.

Very Rev. Frederick J. Lynch, President of the University will assist the Bishop as Deacon of the Mass, while Rev. Patrick Malone, (Continued on Page Two) campuses and the reports of Commissions 4 and 5 were referred to the Administrative Committee for actioning.

The highlights of the conference could be summed up in the following points:

- (1) The adoption of a Constitution.
- (2) The inclusion of C.F.C.C.S. in this constitution. This was moved by Saint Mary's and was seconded by Laval and Assumption and carried unanimously.
- (3) The agreement of all colleges to attempt to increase their respective contributions to the national office for relief work.
- (4) The drawing up of a plan of Technical Assistance Scholarships to bring foreign students to Canada for post-graduate studies in Science, Engineering, Medicine, Agriculture, etc.
- (5) The drawing up of the budget for the coming year.

Alumni Hold Fall Rally

The University Alumni Association newly organized last year after six minor and one major rallies of city members continues the high standard of helpful activity set last year.

President of the Association, Alban Murphy, reports that his executive met on September 24th and again on October 3rd to discuss activities for the '52-'53 year. The executive had planned the following:

A large fall dance planned and to be managed by the younger members enlisting the help of the young Alumni wives as ticket captains.

Four or six smaller group smokers to be held here at the University under the direction and including the members of age groups in the four faculties.

A large but more informal dinner in Convocation week next May.

Then on October 7 a general rally was called at the University and the men voted to postpone the fall dance until they had managed their first smoker which is planned to include an old-fashioned Tombola such as old students remember in the old days up on Windsor Street. This function will take place in mid November. So watch this column for dates.

The Alumni Association along with the Dean and faculty of the Adult Studies Series of the University are sponsoring this semester's lecture series in the "Art of Communications for Businessmen" by Rev. Daniel Fogarty, S.J., each Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. until and including December 10.

The Association will have its own bulletin appearing also on November 7.

Commerce Take Debate Opener

Commerce represented by Lloyd Byrne and John Miller captured the first scheduled debate of the season when they defeated the Arts standard-bearers, Laurie Brean and Doug Murray.

Commerce, the leading debating team for the last three years, got off to another fine start by defeating the resolution, "Resolved that Our Schools are Neglecting The Three R's" Judges for the debate were, Rev. Fr. Labelle, S.J., a member of the Saint Mary's faculty, Rev. Fr. Mills of Saint Mary's Basilica, and Mr. Alexander Allen, a graduate of Saint Mary's.

As first speaker for the affirmative, Mr. Brean showed that scientific tests proved that students do not have sufficient foundation in the three R's. His colleague advocated a return to the "Little Red (Continued on Page Two)

by STAN McFADDEN, Secretary

The Philosophers' Academy held its first meeting of the academic year on Wednesday evening, October 15, under the direction of the new Moderator, Rev. Father H. Labelle, S.J.

Rev. G. R. Hoffman, S.J., last year's Moderator, left last spring to study Theology at the Jesuit Seminary in Toronto.

The year's program was discussed, and the members decided upon a less restricting schedule than last year's seminar on the ethical problems of "The Just Wage." This year members will prepare papers on subjects of their own choice.

Three new members, Bernard Murphy, Gordon Hayes and Edmund Murray, have brought the Academy back up to the full strength of twelve with a Moderator, called for by the Constitution. Other members are Don MacIntyre, Dennis Mantin, Bill Jerret, Brian Hernon, Ross MacDonald, Ron Dulhanty, Wilbert Martel, Ray Waller and Stan McFadden, Secretary.

The Academy is restricted in number in order that its purpose of philosophical investigation and discussion may be properly achieved through all members participating in the preparation and discussions.

The Academy started two years ago under the guidance of Rev.

EDITORIAL

The time has come for Saint Mary's students to bestir themselves, shake off their lethargy and get interested in extracurricular activities. In the past many Saint Mary's functions and organizations have died a slow ignominious death. This year, however, Saint Mary's have committed themselves to two national organizations which means that, if we do not hold up our end, we will be set down in the opinion of other Canadian universities. With our present drive for national recognition we cannot afford such a black mark.

Most of us have been content to allow a certain few to do all the work and have not been too interested in the outcome unless it affected us personally. If we are going to make a success of these undertakings it will be only with the co-operation of all the students. This is a time for action, so act now and support the C.F.C.C.S. and the W.U.S.C.

Excerpt from S.M.U. Blue Book

Over a period of years, civilized communities introduce and adopt certain ways of living, of speaking, acting, dressing. Codes of behaviour, private and public, gradually crystallize and gain ever wider popular acceptance. One who obeys the code is known as a gentleman—a person who has acquired "gentle" ways. Various epochs insist on varying points of etiquette—but no matter how wide the divergence in details, there remains a body of general rules universally accepted over long periods of time—observance of which distinguishes the gentleman from all others. Saint Mary's students are supposed and expected to be and to act at all times as gentlemen. That all may know what the Faculty means when preaching gentlemanly behaviour, the following directives have been drawn up, and all Saint Mary's students are expected to act in conformity with both the spirit and the letter of them.

The primary, fundamental characteristic of a gentleman is the ever-present consciousness that he is a member of a social group, the other members of which have rights at least equal to his own. A consideration for others, then, marks his every action. Never knowingly and willingly does he violate the rights of others. By justice, honesty and truthfulness, he respects the rights of others to security of person, of property and of social intercourse based on mutual trust between man and man. The true gentleman respects not only the rights, but also the convenience and the good pleasure of others, particularly of the handicapped, the weak, the aged: he is neither a boor nor a bore.

Who? – What? – Why? Is The C.F.C.C.S.?

Here Are The Answers

Just what is the C.F.C.C.S.? What are its objectives? Just what has it actually done? Just what is it actually doing? I shall try to answer these and other unvoiced questions concerning the C.F.C.C.S., the Canadian Federation of Catholic College Students.

First of all, its objectives: (Allow me to quote part of Article 4 of the Constitution): "The purpose of the Federation is to aid the integral formation of the Catholic student, by stimulating spiritual, intellectual, social and cultural endeavour."

There are means galore by which we can accomplish our objectives. One very fine way to do it is through an exchange of ideas between the different colleges within the Federation. What proved successful in, say, Windsor, Ontario, might become an absolute triumph in Halifax, by using the same tactics. But the thing is, we need a Federation of this sort to promote closer relations, and thus to spread the exchange of worthwhile ideas.

Of its past achievements, I think the best known is the "Bring Christ back to Christmas" campaign. Yes, that's a C.F.C.C.S. endeavour. The Mount, right here in Halifax, set the ball rolling. But the other colleges within the Federation have mapped out campaigns in their own individual cities and towns, some with astonishing results. We have even received inquiries from other countries. Both the United States and the British West Indies have asked to help us. So the C.F.C.C.S. seems to have started one worthwhile project at least.

Some of the colleges are carrying on campaigns against obscene literature. They are trying to get rid of some of the filth so common on the printed page today. The few colleges that have been working on it have had a fair amount of success, but they have been too few, up to now. Certain magazines have been boycotted by whole colleges. But one or two institutions can't really do much. Here is another project for Saint Mary's perhaps.

The C.F.C.C.S. belongs to a co-

Mr. Byrne opened for Commerce by showing how schools today, with their more varied studies, are broadening the minds of our students, they are now being educated rather than schooled. Mr. Miller supported this view by showing that modern methods were applying these fundamentals to other subjects.

Journalism Course

HALIFAX, October 28—On successive Tuesday evenings of November, (Nov. 4th, 11th, 18th, and 25th), Father Fogarty will give one hour lectures in the practical production of a college paper. He will treat Copy and Head Writing, The Editorial, Column Writing, Typography, Type and Half-tone Reproduction Mechanics, How to Compose a Picture, How to Boost and Control Circulation, the Relations of an Advertising Agency to a College Paper and several other local problems.

The course will be geared to continue into early December with a fifth or even a sixth lecture if profitable further information can help staffs and publishers of undergraduate publications in this city. There will be no charge for the registration or admittance to these lectures and although Journalism students will follow the course, it will collect no credits.

ordinating committee of Canadian Catholic University Student Federations. There are in Canada three of these Federations. Besides our own there is the Canadian Federation of Newman Clubs and the French speaking, Canadian Federation of Catholic University Students (C.F.C.U.S.)

The co-ordinating committee of the three federations, has, as you can well imagine, quite a voice. When something of importance comes up, this Committee, speaking for thousands of Catholic college students, exert no little influence.

The C.F.C.C.S., then, is not just another one of "those organizations for organization's sake." In its first years, perhaps, little was accomplished. Now however, it has come of age. It is doing things, many things! It is up to us at Saint Mary's to be a strong link in the chain which is the C.F.C.C.S.

to be present should parish duties not make it impossible for them to attend. Among those expected are: Rev. J. L. Quinan, Pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Parish, Rev. Francis L. Carroll, Chancellor of the Archdiocese and Pastor of St. Catherine's Parish, Rev. Louis Graham, Pastor of St. Agnes Parish, Rev. Ferdinand Martin, Pastor of St. John the Baptist Church, Rev. Leo Murphy, Pastor of St. Stephen's Parish, Rev. William Smith, Pastor of St. Peter's, Dartmouth, and Rev. William McCarthy, Pastor of Immaculate Conception Parish, Dartmouth.

Rev. Albert O'Driscoll has consented to fulfill the office of Master of Ceremonies and Rev. Joseph Mills of the Basilica staff is preparing a Mass with full choir for the occasion. Rev. Edward Granville of the University High School staff and Director of the St. John Berchmans Society will settle upon what students shall be honored with minor offices at the Mass.

"I COME FROM

(Tennyson)

Dear Friends; (If I still have any friends).

While swinging by my tail from the goal posts one day I saw a very interesting spectacle. Shades of "Wrong-Way Corrigan". It was Jim Butler making a beautiful tackle, only trouble was that he tackled Don Cable who had just recovered a fumble. Just whose team was he playing for?

Has anybody a spare ticket to Montreal laying around that he would like to donate to Joe Murphy? Just why Joe wants to go to Montreal isn't quite clear. He claims he's interested in the C.F.C.C.S., but we're inclined to think it's not the work he's interested in. Could it be the delegates? How about it, Joe?

Ray Craig might be called the most broken man on the campus. Last week it was his heart, this week his knee. Just what does that boy do to deserve so much bad luck? Maybe he just doesn't live right.

That was quite a game between Commerce and Engineers last Sunday. After the smoke had cleared away the field looked like the Arena of Nero's time. Broken bodies littered the ground. May we offer a helpful hint to the managers for the next game? Just phone 3-6601, Snow & Co. guarantees expert and sympathetic service.

Do you suppose that we have right here in Saint Mary's the next "WHITE HOPE"? The local grapevine tells me that Don MacIntyre, besides having a fad for flamboyant finery, also has rare moments of pugilistic prowess. Anyway he seems to think so. If you don't believe me just ask Paul Leydon. Is anybody interested in managing this slender slugger?

It seems that a lot of people really worked hard to make the C.F.C.C.S. conference a success with very little reward or recognition. I take this opportunity to thank these fellows for their hard and unselfish work. To Ed Fitzpatrick, who organized the show, to Pete MacGillivray who arranged the transportation, to Don MacIntyre, who looked after accommodations, and to all the others, THE JOTTER says "Good show! A job well done".

The reform movement seems to reach even into the most remote corners. Last year, a certain Dennis Mantin was accused of being anti-social. The Mighty Mite has taken this to heart and has turned over a new leaf. He has a "steady" on Wellington Street. He might be called the Duke of Wellington.

The night of dire needs and weird witchcraft is here. While goblins ride the night little children in fantastic and horrible costumes will roam the streets. We ask all Saint Mary's students to wear masks on this night so as not to frighten these children too badly.

Goodbye for now, little simpletons.

Yours very tauntingly,
THE JOTTER

From where I SIT

by GEORGE HANSON

So very early in the year, and yet the A.A., the newly revamped A.A., in whom we had such great hopes for this sports' year, has seen fit to bring the wrath of the student body upon itself. The group, who in past semesters has waited until later in the year to bring their despotism into play, has fooled us all by getting a flying start in '52.

We are all aware of the difficulties under which this body is forced to work, and it is for sure that for the most part they have the pity of the student body. However, this year the first sport to be played, Inter-fac Football, has under the guidance of Cable Inc. developed to the stage that it has been tagged an Inter-farce League. Why must this be? Why must a group of students, when elected as representatives of the students, after the first meeting turn into a little dictatorship, immune to the requests or suggestions of those whom it represents? Why does it have to wait until the moment before a game to tell the players that at the last meeting (usually several days before) the league was kaput and the previous games were mere work-outs.

It is the purpose of this column to bring out both laudable achievements and also those that provoke the ire of the students as a whole. In reference to the president's sudden-and-secret or rash conclusions, the experience of some students in the locker room previous to a game several weeks ago showed what the average student can expect from the A.A. When asked when the decision had been made concerning the league folding, who had made it and why it had not been posted, the President of the body not only refused to answer, but actually got angry because he was questioned.

No, it is impossible for any body to carry on in such a state. It would behoove the A.A. to take a short glance at the Constitution and find out just what it owes the tuition payers at S.M.U.

ENGINEERS VS. COMMERCE or HOW TO FILL THE INFIRMARY

Sunday's exhibition of legalized mayhem was without a doubt the worst ever seen in an Inter-fac game at Saint Mary's. Injuries were common and it is only by Providence that they came after the game was brought under control by Father Rourke. Had they occurred during the time when tempers were flaring, there would have been without a doubt, severe repercussions.

Deliberate injury seemed to be on everyone's mind and for awhile the game resembled a battle scene from Ivanhoe. Here were schoolmates against schoolmates, all out for blood. Why? Sure, it is admitted that experienced referees were not available and the ones used were lenient, but leniency does not lead to rough play; unfair decisions, yes, but never leniency. No, the fault lies in the players. In the Inter-fac league there are one or two perpetual instigators who, by their dirty play and big talk can, in the heat of a hard fought contest, turn a friend into a blood-seeking foe. Everyone know who these few are. Surely they are not so valuable to a team that they cannot be done without. Why can't the A.A. take some action to bar these incorrigibles, bar them from teams until they wise up and remember the rules of sportsmanship for which former S.M.U. athletes were famous. Through their actions they are tearing down a standard set up over the years. Now is the time for action, before even ping-pong evolves into a grudge game.

SPORTS SHORTS

Hockey time has once again rolled around to S.M.U., and a team from Saint Mary's will help make up the new Halifax-Dartmouth Senior League, with Saint Mary's and Dal opening the schedule at Dal on November 6. . . . "Chuck" Jones once again has his bowling league functioning smoothly on Saturday mornings. With cooperation from the players "Chuck" can always be counted on to keep the league rolling. . . . Frank Baldwin has once again started his basketball ventures with his first workout on Thursday night at St. Francis' Gym. . . . Get the skates and armor ready gang. . . . hockey, inter-fac style starts on November 8.

Correia Stars For Boarders

Led by the "Bermuda Buzz Bomb", Gil Correia, the new entry in the inter-fac football league, representing the Boarders, walloped Arts to the tune of 34-0. Played on a fast field and in perfect football weather, the winners could do nothing wrong as they bucked, ran, passed and kicked the Latin scholars literally into the well-mown turf of Saint Mary's campus.

The only threat offered by the losers came when Jolting Joe Pottie could shake himself loose around the end zone. Sparked by Pottie, the Artsmen caught fire a couple of times but then bogged down when Joe conceded that even he couldn't carry the ball on every play.

The Bermuda Kid ripped the Arts' line to shreds as he picked up yard after yard and found his way to paydirt twice. He was also batting .666 in conversions as he suc-

Engineers Commerce Deadlock

No Winner in Rough House Contest

Engineers, defending champs, and Commerce went through sixty minutes of dirty bruising football that threatened to get out of hand several times to a 10-10 draw Sunday. The game, one of the roughest played in the league for many moons, saw one player banished and three suffer minor injuries. The tilt lost all semblance of football from about the two minute mark in the first quarter until shortly after the start of the second half when the iron hand of Father Rourke took over the officiating and forced the combatants to take a swing at football instead of their opponents.

When the teams played the game as laid down in the book, some nice plays were to be seen, but there were so many obvious infractions of even the most fundamental rules that the good plays were lost in the shuffle.

Duck Reardon proved to be the big gun for Commerce, as early in the second quarter he scored the first of two t.d.'s. The ball was bucked and run up to the Labmen's four-yard line by the one-two punch of Frowd and Bailly. Reardon took the ball on a second down and went through the centre to paydirt. The convert attempt was missed by Frowd. Late in the quarter, shifty Al Spagnolli went through the Commerce line on a succession of bucks that could not be stopped. Setting himself up on the ten, he finally successfully split the uprights on four occasions out of the six that he tried. Quarterback Ronnie Cole, who played a steady game, shook himself loose around the end zone and romped across for five points.

Boarders took to the air to add to their total and racked up three more t.d.'s. Passes from the hand of Cole found the waiting hands of Wilson, Jarrett and Crockett behind the goal line for majors.

The officials for the contest were "Tangar" Delaney and Brendon Dempsey.

The Father Doyle coached squad will now wait for a winner between Engineers and Commerce to play in a sudden death contest for the league title. The game will probably be played a week from Sunday.

broke loose and went over the line with two defenders hanging on to him. The convert attempt by Fultz was missed.

The teams battled through a scoreless third quarter which saw the contest literally turn into a pier six brawl and the banishment of Bill Bailly from the contest.

The final do or die quarter opened fast and rugged and saw the inevitable happen as in succession Ray Craig, Andre Bernard and Jim Butler retired with injuries.

Play resumed and Commerce fought to the Engineers' two. The ball was snapped to Reardon and he went through centre again for his second major. Again the convert was missed. Engineers fighting to what could have been the bitter end drove the Beazley men to their own one yard line, and on two bucks and an end run could not break through. Commerce took the ball, bucked to the two and then kicked. Spagnolli took the kick on the Commerce 25, swivelled through the whole bug-eyed Commerce team to score. Once again the convert was missed.

Journal Starts Circulation Drive

A concentrated circulation drive is currently being conducted by Saint Mary's Journal. Former students are being contacted in order to build up the circulation of the paper. Here is an excerpt from a reply to the distributed circulars from a Saint Mary's graduate of 1950.

"... I am also very happy to hear from you and be given the opportunity to subscribe to the Journal. I am also happy to say that your letter did not fall into the category of so many others which inevitably wind up in the scrap basket.

The idea of concentrating a little more closely on the Alumni Society and giving it a wider coverage is, in my opinion, an excellent one. Take my own case for example. Since leaving Saint Mary's I have lost all contact with my old classmates, and for the most part haven't the faintest notion where they are or what they are doing. It would be nice if I could pick up my copy of the Journal when I receive it, and read of the doings and locations of the students with whom I spent so many happy and profitable hours. This, along with the present day happenings and short story contributions of the students (something I never mastered myself), will be well worth the amount of the enclosed cheque."

There will be many Alumni reading this edition of the Journal. But the reader percentage of the Society is small and, for the most part, even those reading now have no assurance that they will receive the next copy. A cheque for one dollar will bring the Journal to your home every two weeks. The benefits derived from the reading will apply to three groups, yourselves, the Alumni Society, and the University itself. Your personal benefits will be much the same as that of the author of the letter. You will re-establish contact with your old classmates which was broken upon graduation. Besides the added publicity and a medium of announcements, The Journal, by renewing this contact among the Alumni, will contribute to one of the major aims of that Society. As most of you know Saint Mary's University is in the midst of an expansion program. It is the aim of all concerned to make the name of Saint Mary's famous in other collegiate circles. This can only be done by advertising and our paper should be doing much of that work through its circulation. It is obvious that a large subscription list is a must for the completion of this task.

We are asking all who read this notice to subscribe to their paper. For it is still your paper in the same way as Saint Mary's is still your University. We are not asking for charity. High School Hears Open Lecture

HALIFAX, October 27—On Wednesday morning, October 22, the High School students attended an open lecture on the forms, purposes and methods of Journals and weeklies in Canada and the United States. Father Fogarty, of the University's English Department, also stressed the theme and ideals of a University course in Journalism and sketched an outline of the business fields in which Journalism is the essential preparation course.

Taking the Halifax Mail-Star as a good example of an excellent daily for a city the size of Halifax, Fr. Fogarty explained where the news came from and just what happened to it from news-wire and reporters desk all along the line until it began to pour out on the street in a twenty-six page edition. He also offered to conduct a tour of smaller groups to three sources of concrete information on his subject: The Maritime Photo Engraving plant in the Mail Building, the news, advertising, composition and press rooms of the paper itself and a more detailed examination tour of the new printing press.

Fr. Fogarty was introduced by Father Doyle, who inventive interest has provided several such extra lectures for the High School boys.

Sodality Holds Full Meeting

With Brian Hernon in the chair, the Sodality held its weekly meeting as usual on Thursday afternoon at 4.30 p.m. with about 30 members and candidates.

Since one of the main objectives of the meetings at present is to bring home to Sodalists and candidates the knowledge and practice of the rules, Bob O'Connell led a lively discussion on Rule One.

The Sodality through its Eucharistic Planning Committee has undertaken to handle the work of the Liturgical Commission which Saint Mary's University accepted at the C.F.C.C.S. Convention. Plans are also underway to start the Apostolic work of teaching catechism to the blind and of visiting the sick and infirm.

We have just heard that at next week's meeting Fr. J. Murphy, S.J., will be on hand to give a short explanation of mental prayer.

Fr. Gallagher is now making the necessary arrangements to insure that the Engineers, who cannot attend meetings on Thursday afternoons, will still be able to be or become active Sodalists of Our Lady.

HIGH TIMES

By TEDDY FLINN

Last Sunday night the members of the Knights of the Blessed Sacrament were received into their organization. The boys recited their promise of receiving Holy Communion at least once a week. Rev. Fr. Burke-Gaffney, S.J., spoke to the group. In a previous meeting the committee was elected which includes Hugh Bryne, President; Bob Gough, Vice-President, and Gilbert Frontain, Secretary.

The Cadets have started again and this year they are under a new affiliation, that of the East Coast detachment, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals. The Signals course, worth $35.00 if passed, will be resumed this year.

Don't forget 'Tubby' who can get you anything in sportswear at the sports store.

Some students are looking awfully gloomy. Why? Anybody can answer that because we all know the tests are being written and they are not a gift from Santa Claus.

The so-called Boarders had a party last Saturday night. Could this have been a Hallowe'en party for kindergarten children? Well anyway they had it and it was stag, (natch). If not, they would never get the Boarders to bed.

Music Club Inaugurated

The first weekly session of the Music Appreciation Club was held last Sunday evening. The evening proved very enjoyable for the club members who were present.

With a couple of Rossini Overtures, a Bizet Suite and a Bruchner Symphony, the heads were nodding—not from sleepiness—but in time to music. Excerpts from Verdi's fast-moving Rigoletto provided a bit of controversy.

The music was supplemented by a few discussions. Plans were made for weeks to come. All in all, the club has a good chance to be a 'big success.
