TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL RALLY FEATURES WEEK-END ACTIVITY

Saint Mary's Host For C. C. S. M. C.

"We, the members of the Canadian Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, promise today life-long loyalty to the interests of Holy Mother Church, especially in all that regards her activities in the Home and Foreign Missions Fields, pledging our support to all that is embodied in the official watchword of the C.C.S.M.C."

Such was the pledge of the throng of Catholic students on Sunday, March 8, when Saint Mary's University had the privilege of being host for the twenty-ninth annual rally of the Canadian Catholic Students' Mission Crusade. Representatives from the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Saint Patrick's Boys' High School, Saint Patrick's Girls' High School, Saint Peter's High School, Saint Patrick's Girls' Veterans, Halifax Infirmary, Mount Saint Vincent Academy, Mount Saint Vincent College, Saint Mary's University High School, and Saint Mary's University were in attendance at the general assembly at 3:00 p.m.

After the Crusaders' Hymn "God Wills It", and the introductory remarks of General Chairman, Rev. Joseph E. Mills, B. Mus., Rev. Harold Drake, S.J., Vice-President of the University, delivered the Address of Welcome to those assembled.

One of the features of an especially well planned program was a radio presentation entitled "Why Catholic Students Should Go On For Catholic College Education", in which the following students participated: Coleen Courtney, Marguerite Flynn, Elizabeth MacNeil, Dorothy McCrossin, Roderick Bowie, Robert MacGillivray, and Patrick Napier.

Next on the programme was a talk by Rev. William Daly, S.J., who spoke on the life of a priest working in the Canadian Jesuit Mission in Darjeeling, India. His Excellency, Auxiliary Bishop Leverman, who spoke next, drew emphasis on the zealous work of Father Daly and his fellow Jesuit Missionaries. Bishop Leverman also urged prayers for the success of the Missions and for vocations to this vital cause from some of those young Catholics students present. Father Mills thanked the speakers, and then the assembly participated in the Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. After Benediction, General Chairman, Rev. Father Mills again took the floor and led the Crusaders in their pledge of support. "Hail Holy Queen" was then sung to close the afternoon's activities.

Four Candidates For Presidency

On Monday, March 15, the elections for the office of Student Council President will be held. We urge all to vote.

The Journal had planned to run the campaign speeches of the various candidates; however, due to lack of space, this is not possible.

The candidates for the office of President are Jack Carey, Stan McFadden, Pat Napier and Bill Jerrett, all of whom have taken part in many and varied activities in the university. We need not go into the relative merits of each participant—for each has the necessary moral and scholastic standing to hold the office of president, and you are already acquainted with their platforms. It is sufficient to say that they are excellent candidates, worthy of your consideration over the weekend before you cast your ballot on Monday.

Shortly after the Student Council President elections, candidates will be named, and campaigns will get underway for the election of the President of the A.A.A. It is hoped that this office will be filled before the M.I.A.U. Conference in Sackville, N. B.

It is vital to remember that this office is, in its own right, just as important as the Council Presidency, and we hope you will give it as much consideration as the former.

Philosophers Honor Saint

The Philosophy Faculty of Saint Mary's University presented a skit in honor of the Feast of Saint Thomas Aquinas on Saturday evening, March 7 at the University.

The skit illustrated and refuted Barkley's idealistic interpretation of sense perception.

Following this, a choral group under the direction of Ed Murray, with Roy Grant accompanist, sang comic philosophic verses to familiar melodies.

The skit was under the direction of Rev. H. LaBelle, S.J. Those taking part were Ross MacDonald, Bernard Murphy, Stan McFadden and Albert Roach.

Juniors Win Far Away Opener Over Places . . . Sydney

Frolicking Frank Baldwin and his merry men of Junior Basketball gave Sydney Y.M.C.A. a lesson in the finer arts of the court sport as they walloped the best that C.B. had to offer, 51-29. As a result of the scoring spree, Saint Mary's will carry a 22 point bulge into the second game of the total point final series for Provincial Junior honors.

The Saints, after the hard fought series that they had for the City championship, were awed at the lack of power in the Sydney lineup and were quick to take advantage of it.

Sydney, suffering from stiff "glubius maximus" muscles as a result of the long drive from the C.B. capital were off stride for the whole game, said the Sydney coach Mason MacDonald. Their shooting was off and their defence was definitely lacking. However, in their third quarter scoring display, the Y-men showed that they will probably be tough to beat on their home court, so coach Baldwin is still working his charges daily lest they get beaten by the "overconfidence bug".

To gain the win the Saints ran up a 9-3 lead in the opening quarter, ran it to 20-6 at the half and 33-14 in the third quarter. In a wide open final quarter the visitors were outscored 18-15.

High-scoring Pat MacDonald was held scoreless for the first time in many games but Ian Cato made up for it as he plunked in 16 points. Ken fellows sank 11 and Joe Pottie made 7 to help the attack. For the losers Leo MacNeil racked up 8, with

Sodality News

The Sodality adopted the cell type of organization at the general meeting of February 27.

Kenneth Robertson explained that the Sodality would divide up for action into three cells, under Bob O'Connell, Bernard Murphy and Ken Robertson.

The Executive controls as before, but the cells meet separately each week, with only one general meeting a month.

The Halifax Infirmary Student Nurses' were hosts to a group of Saint Mary's Sodality members at a discussion and social, Sunday evening, March 1. Don Cable and Bernard Sheehan gave the feature talks on "Fraternal Charity" for Saint Mary's.

"The Holy Shroud of Turin" will be the subject of an illustrated talk by Rev. H. Cormier, C.J.M. on Friday, March 13. Twenty-five cents will admit anyone. All students are invited to bring their parents, other members of the family and friends.

The delegates will travel by train to Montreal and from there to India and back by a chartered aircraft. All expenses will be paid by the WUSC, so the cost to the delegate will be nil.

If anyone is interested they may obtain application forms from the Registrar. If further information is desired, contact WUSC Chairman, Ray Waller.

Jack Flynn and John MacKillop sinking five points each.

Saint Mary's: Cato 16, Fellows 11, Pottie 7, Carey 6, Falconer 5, Nolan 4, Murphy 2, MacDonald.

Sydney: MacNeil 8, Flynn 5, MacKillop 5, Aucoin 4, Evans 4, Colbourne 3.

Guest Speaker

Continuing the practice of inviting guest lecturers, the Sociology class was treated last week to one of the most informative talks of the year, as Katherine M. Dunne, A.B. (Elmira), M.S.S.W. (Fordham) addressed the student on Social work in Halifax.

Miss Dunne is the full-time supervisor and lecturer for the Maritime School of Social Work and her talk illustrated the methods and ends of this organization. In addition she outlined the wage scales now prevailing in the field, as well as showing the increasing need for workers brought about by the growing exigencies of our present era.

Suggestion

It is not the purpose of this paper to dictate policies to the various organizations throughout the University. However, suggestions are often made, some very good ones, by those not connected with the organizations concerned which we feel should be passed along for what they are worth. At a general student rally, two weeks ago Tuesday, one of those present made the proposal that the Student Council hold at least one open meeting to the students, who would act only in the capacity of spectators.

The proposal was dismissed without due consideration. The reason for this, undoubtedly, was the proponent's motive. He wished to ensure that 'the wool wasn't being pulled over our eyes', and to see 'that we were not being railroaded'. I would like to make it quite clear to our suspicious classmate that the Student Council, composed of students, is not trying to railroad him, and even if it was, one open meeting would not disclose the fact as the items on the agenda would be handpicked.

That student's motive for the meeting was asinine. However, that is no reason to dismiss the proposal without consideration. It does not seem that any evils are inherent in it, while on the other hand some definitely good aspects might evolve. Other than a chance to see the Council at work, creating interest and faith in its members, some of the misconceptions that the students have of the purpose of the Council might be eliminated.

Criticism

Criticism is one of the best spurs that was ever invented to keep those in the newspaper field on their toes. Even a paper of our meagre magnitude receives its shares of tirades. One piece of criticism that has recently been levelled against the Journal came as a result of the paper turning down the literary attempt of one of our students. Unfortunately, the person submitting the manuscript took its rejection as a personal insult. That is lamentable, but we cannot do much about it. Our paper, just as any other, has certain requirements in mind when it selects submitted items. The article should be typewritten, and possessing average journalistic qualities. Moreover, the paper must have an immediate need for it. And finally, the nature of the article, spiritual or otherwise, does not ensure its inclusion in any issue.

We print these requirements, not to dampen enthusiasm, but to make it quite plain to those persons, whose manuscripts we must at times reject, that any number of reasons, other than those in the minds of the submitter, may necessitate its rejection.

LETTERS WELCOMED

Dear Editor,

On the sports page of one of your issues there was a supposedly amusing cartoon of a mangled and bandaged hockey player continuing the roughshod-gridiron-tradition on the ice. And from the looks of things, our hockey league had turned into a slaughter house football match on ice.

What justification can possibly be given for such tactics? Oh, it is true of course, that accidents do happen, injuries are given without malicious intent, and the odd blow is given in a hot-headed moment. However, when a murderous feud evolves from the meeting of two hockey teams, when the general feeling of 'hit those fellows as hard and as often as possible' is allowed to prevail, something is wrong.

I am not suggesting that we should assume the role of 'namby-pambies'; a good hard check is a vital part of the game, but something should be done when sticks are allowed to play just as active a part on a fellows head as they are on the ice, when elbows are used for rib crushers, and not levers for putting a shot away, and when the boards are looked upon as important in that they make good bone bruisers, rather than as mere boundaries of the ice surface.

This letter, of course, although it is addressed to you, is written not with the idea of complaint in mind, but to point out to those participating in hockey matches the barbarous nature of much of their 'prowess'.

I sincerely hope this letter will stimulate some thought.

The Spirit Of Lent

By ROBERT LEDDY

Lent seems to be a difficult time for many of us. Too often we grudgingly accept the penances of Lent. We rebel not only at those disciplinary practices placed upon us by the church, but also find our self-imposed penances burdensome. We attempt to justify our need for a dispensation from fasting. If we are unable to obtain a dispensation, we become envious of those who have. If we "give up" smoking or sweets or movies we become irritable or bored and sometimes very difficult to live with. We concentrate so much on the negative aspect of Lent that we sometimes forget its positive meaning.

Mortifications in themselves are sterile and fruitless unless the purged powers of soul and body are unleashed to create a new man within us. Self-restraint and discipline have their fullest value in giving us the moral strength to re-focus our thinking and re-direct our love toward God. From this first fruit will come a purer, more detached taste for God's creatures and creation.

The positive approach to Lent includes attendance at daily Mass and the reception of Holy Communion. We should further strive to attend Lenten devotions, perform works of charity, and pray for the intentions off the Holy Father. Our Holy Father is greatly distressed by the persecutions that have been inflicted on members of his flock in certain parts of the world.

The practice of spiritual reading during Lent provides an opportunity for deep thoughts and creative love. The library abounds with reading matter intended to strengthen the spiritual life.

Then too, little acts of kindness and humility should not be neglected. We should seek to have a better understanding of our fellow man and the trials and difficulties he may have to encounter.

These are a few practices we could easily include in our observance of Lent. They are certainly worth a try. We will reap huge dividends in both the material and the spiritual order if we approach Lent in the right way.

Policy Clause Outlined

According to word received from James Gibson, Student Health Officer, some of the more important clauses of the Student Accident Insurance Policy are as follows:

Section 1: Medical, Surgical and Hospital Expense Reimbursement.

If any male student, while on the university grounds or under direct supervision of authorized university officials elsewhere than on the university grounds, as a necessary result of injuries suffered through accidental means and within thirty days of the date of accident shall: (a) undergo medical and/or surgical treatment including dental treatment by a duly licenced medical practitioner; or (b) be confined to hospital, the insurer will pay to the insured the amount actually expended by the insured for medical and/or surgical treatment and hospital confinement, not exceeding $50.00 in the aggregate per male student for any one accident.

This means medical, surgical, dental and/or hospital bills up to and including $50.00 will be paid for by the Student Accident Insurance Policy provided that (1) The injury is seen by a duly licenced medical practitioner within 30 days of the accident; (2) The accident takes place on university grounds or while taking part in an organized sport off the university grounds; (3) An "accident form" obtained from the Student Health Office, Room 213, or Rev. M. J. Belair, S.J., Principal, or Rev. M. O'Donnell, S.J., Dean of Men, is completed by the injured student and attending physician.

This policy is for accidents only, and cannot be utilized for infectious diseases, herniae repairs, etc.

Additional details of the policy will be discussed with the injured student when the accident is reported.

On and Off the Campus

Greetings, gents. Here I am for my first attempt at writing a column. To be honest, I really wanted this job all year, but it wasn't until now that I received the chance to "ride" a few of you guys. Here goes . . .

If anyone ever asked me, "Who are the "big wheels" in Saint Mary's?", I'd have to tell them "Webby" Martel, for "Webby" (also referred to as "Pie", "Pretzel" and "Prowler") is known far and wide as the guy with the most pull around the University.

The Sirois Report underwent a face-lifting recently when "Spike" Matthews showed up with an armload of mimeographed Economics Two notes for class distribution. Unknown to the Hon. Mr. Sirois, the raids of the James and Dalton gangs on the early Canadian railroads didn't help our transportation system a whit, and the fact that Jane Russell proved an added incentive to move West was completely overlooked by the famous gentleman.

Back in God's country after spending the early part of the year in the backwoods of Dartmouth, Leo Crowley now resides in the residential section of Halifax (the South End, that is). Such a move necessitates place Leo high on the list of intelligentsia at Saint Mary's . . . smart kid!

There's one room that even "Webby" can't enter, in spite of his abundance of drag . . . the office of the Queen's Guard, sometimes referred to as the C.O.T.C. Room. The members of this august body, inspired by "Mousey" Beaton and "Hated" Hemphill, have issued a decree proclaiming that mess members only shall be permitted in the C.O.T.C. Room. How do you like that . . . ? Discrimination in a University, especially one the size of Saint Mary's, deserves at least two words of condemnation . . . "Get Lost!"

Ravelle and Renee, dancing instructors of some repute, must be thinking that Saint Mary's is attended only by students of six feet and over, if they're to judge by two of the gentlemen whom I observed leaving that establishment in the past few weeks. The two, Brian Ahearn (6'7" at least) and "Chuck" Jones (6', 4") are trying to get away with the story that they were there merely on business. Who do they think they're kiddin'?

Jim Pakenham (or Peter Tweedle, as you prefer), is being hailed as our next "white hope". Called "Ding-dong" by some, due to the fact that he goes into a fighting stance just at the mention of the word "bell", Packy really protects that net of his during a hockey game, as Bob Moir and Charlie Dixon will testify.

A new orchestra, under the direction of Laurie Bowes, has come into existence. Laurie, who has performed at Darteen, as well as various other stampeding grounds, mentioned a few days back that his group, playing under the name "Skinny Banana and His Bunch" will be available for any and all dances, regardless of the size. As for their ability, Laurie vouches for the fact that they're pretty good, even going so far as to risk perjuring himself by swearing to "tell the toot, the whole toot, and nothing but the toot".

"Monkey-of-the-Month" honors are bestowed upon Dave Pelham for his part in rearranging the Interfac Hockey schedule, unbeknown to the A.A.A. . . . that was monkey business of the first water. Have a coconut, Dave?

"Just for a handful of silver he left us,
Just for a riband to stick on his coat."
The words of Robert Browning, written so long ago, lead me to believe that he must have known "The Rope". Lorne, you know, has been doing Lanfranchi's work in an effort to be invited into "Salon Ralph" for a post-hockey game sandwich and coke. The fact that Lorne was refused admittance after he told everyone he favored the rule barring guests from the C.O.T.C. Room must have had something to do with it.

"Chuck" Jones had better watch himself, since his latest fiasco all but caused the mounting ire of the student body to explode in his face. Even Dinny Mantin, his long time buddy, is after his scalp. But then again, that latter gentleman would cut his grandmother's pegs from underneath her, if she dared contradict him.

From where I SIT

BY CHARLIE "CHUCK" JONES

All-Star Team

With the hockey season rapidly drawing to a close, it's just about time that we picked an All-Star Interfac team. Despite the fact that some players will feel slighted when their names don't appear, the team has been confined to two goaltenders, four defencemen and two forward lines. Here it is:

- Goal: Pakenham (Boarders), Frowd (Commerce)
- Defence: Cleary (Boarders), Bill Currie (Arts), Paul Flynn (Commerce), and Bill Reid (Engineers)
- Forwards: Butler (Commerce), Nolan (Engineers), Hawkins (Arts), Murray (Arts), Dixon (Commerce) and Richard (Engineers).

Inter-Collegiate Loop?

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of . . . baseball. Even though it's only March, the sight of the Campus, completely bereft of snow, has prompted a few of the students to go out and "toss the ball around".

Should we be fortunate enough to have an early Spring, it's quite possible that a round-robin series between Saint Mary's, Dalhousie and Tech could be arranged. Several years back, when Saint Mary's had such stars as Joe Hemsworth, Bill McCoombs, Frank Graves and Elmer MacGillivray, a game between the Saints and Tech was played on the old College campus. That the southpaw slants of "Skit" Ferguson proved to be the Saints' undoing is a matter of little consequence. The fact that there was a game proves that it can be done. With the player-talent now attending Saint Mary's, a City Intercollegiate Title appears, at least on the surface, a fairly easy honor to attain. For instance, we have Bill Currie, "Spike" Matthews, Don Cable, Joe Pottie, Ron Cole, Jack Hawkins, Lorne Hemplill, and yours truly, who has also played a little 'ball. There are probably as many more players not mentioned who could do O.K. in Intercollegiate baseball. With the year drawing to a close, the time is coming to give a thought or two to the possibilities which might be exploited in this direction.

Baldwin-Men Continue Pace

Frank Baldwin's Junior Basketball squad overcame a five-point deficit in the second game of a total-point series with the Comets last week. The Saints' next opposition will be the Cape Breton winner, and should they be successful against the Islanders, their following competition will come from Upper Canada. Pat MacDonald continues to provide the scoring-spark in the Junior machine, potting from 15 to 25 points in nearly every outing. With Baldwin at the helm, the crew of MacDonald, Pottie, Fellows, Carey, Cato, Murphy and Falconer will carry the hopes of all Saint Mary's students for a Canadian championship on their shoulders. Good luck, fellas.

Rough Week for A.A.A.

The uproar caused by the A.A.A.'s decision to uphold a Boarders' protest has just about died down. What amuses me is the fact that the perpetrators of the whole issue were completely overlooked, while the A.A.A. was subjected to a week of insults, gibes and veiled threats by those of the students who disregarded the fact that the A.A.A. makes its decisions in the best interests of the University as a whole, putting the interests of the respective faculties secondary.

To make matters worse, one member of this organization, dissatisfied no doubt with the outcome of the vote, immediately voiced his calumniating opinions in the nether regions of the Common Room. What this member failed to recognize, and acknowledge, are several things which I shall attempt to bring to light . . . First: As a member of the A.A.A. he should, regardless of how he himself may have voted, uphold any and all decisions of that body.

Second: It is not his right to reveal to the outside world by what margin any motion is carried or defeated.

Third: He should not, at any time, nor under any circumstances, disclose his ideas as to which members voted for or against a particular motion, and thus, by implication, narrow the field down to a point where he may claim to know how certain members voted.

One of the members of the A.A.A. flouted all the rules of good government mentioned above, and like a precocious child carried his own garbled tale of woe to a handful of misinformed, misled, pseudo-sympathetic, rabble-like listeners, who in turn pursued several members of the A.A.A. with their twisted and exaggerated version of what took place at the meeting.

MEET SHEARWATER IN DECIDING TILT SHORTLY

Lose 9-5 To Flyers

Saint Mary's lost their chance to eliminate Shearwater Flyers when they dropped a 9-5 decision at the Dartmouth Rink last Saturday night.

Flyers took an opening period lead of 1-0 on a goal by Roberts, who took a blue-line pass from Lajoie to beat Ron Cole in the Saints nets cleanly. Shearwater had the better of the play in this frame, and only the superb goaltending of Saint Mary's Cole kept the Flyers from adding to their lead.

Shearwater won the game in the second frame when they outscored their rivals 8-3 in a wide-open session.

Puddy Reardon opened the scoring for the losers at the 3:55 mark on a pass from Linihan to tie the score 1-1. Shearwater took the lead once again with Roberts netting his second tally on a play setup by Lajoie. Linihan put Saint Mary's back in the game taking Chaisson's behind the net pass to tie the score once more. In a space of six minutes, Shearwater netted five tallies to take a 7-2 lead with only five minutes remaining in the second frame. Reardon cut the lead to three goals at the 18:20 mark, but Mingo and Betchold tallied Flyers final two markers with a minute and thirty-three second remaining. Inability by the losers forwards and defencemen in clearing the puck out of their own end in this period proved very costly. Ronald Cole in the Saints nets fanned on a few easy shots that seemed to take the steam out of the rest of the team.

Trying desperately to get back in the game, Saint Mary's made a vain effort in the final stanza to try and overcome the early lead built up by the bustling Flyers. Linihan scored the first tally at the 4:44 mark to put some life in the team, but Saint Mary's couldn't dent the winners defense again until the 16:05 mark when Harold Flynn closed out the scoring for the game. Shearwater played a close checking game in this frame and didn't manage too many shots on the losers cage.

Boarders Out

What will probably go down in history as the roughest Interfac fixture in years was played last week at the Forum, as Commerce defeated Boarders 3-1. Nineteen penalties, four of them majors, were called by referees Fultz and Walsh, 11 of the 19 coming in a hectic third period, that saw little hockey and plenty of roughing.

The winners rapped in two tallies in the opening frame, with Jim Butler and Ross MacDonald scoring in that order. Two penalties were called both minors.

Play livened up in the second frame, when six penalties, all minors, were called. Neither team scored, but both Frowd and Pakenham were called upon to make some nice stops.

In the third period Boarders put on an early drive, climaxed when Bill Wilson scored. Craig retaliated by potting an unassisted marker to give Commerce a 3-1 victory.

style by Ron and took advantage of the breaks to take the win 5-3.

In an opening period that saw Shearwater outshoot the winners 13-10, the Saints took an early one goal lead as big Jim Warner connected after taking a pass from Bob Chaisson. The sailors got this one back 11 minutes later as Les Shatford, a going concern all night, converted Scotland's pass.

Saint Mary's went two up in the second session as Pud Reardon and Linihan beat Briand in the Shearwater nets. Reardon's was a sole effort, while Linihan took his pass from Don Cable, after Cable had faked the lone defenceman.

As the third period got under way it looked like a rout for the Collegians as they ran the count to 5-1 before the seven minute mark. Linihan scored his second of the night at 4:59 and Joey Johnston, bespectacled defenceman closed the scoring for the Collegians at 6:51. Laying back now to make sure of the win the winners were caught napping twice before the period ended and the Flyers slammed their other two goals past Cole. Bechtold picked up the second Shearwater goal and Peron closed out the scoring for the game.

Cole, Linihan Star In Win

Ronnie Cole turned in his usual sensational display, and Jackie Linihan connected for two goals to give Saint Mary's the opening game of the best of three Senior Hockey league semi-finals. The maroon and white, outshot for the first two periods, were backed up in fine

Believe it or not Lent is still with us, therefore there is still time for some renewed penance and sacrifice. For the most part the Boarders have grasped the significance of the season and acting accordingly. Attendance at Mass, Rosary and the Sacraments are all up. Many of the boys made the supreme sacrifice and gave up smoking while others have given up water skiing, mountain climbing and the like. It's really amazing what you can do if you really try.

Although the food this year is not exactly what you would get at home, it is still very good and still a great deal better than you could get at most colleges. It's so good, in fact, Majih Diab and Dick Pereira still eat here although they are no longer Boarders. And speaking of food, it was interesting to read the article on our favorite subject in a recent issue of the Ensign. The feature included the story of the eating set-up at Saint Mary's and also a front page picture of our celebrated chef, Mr. Wallace.

The biggest laugh we've had in months came when Garceau invited us in to hear Radio Moscow. It was interesting to hear what the Reds think of us and what they think of themselves. That young lady who reads the news is probably crying in her vodka, now that her glorious leader has gone to his reward.

Council News

On March 4, the Student Council met to discuss several matters of importance. The main item on the agenda was the problem of the year-book. Father Fogarty outlined the difficulties with which he was faced. Since there was not much more he could do, he placed the problem in the laps of the students. Either they would have to be content with a book that was not up to standard, or find the means to put out the type of book that was generally desired.

Various committees were set up under the general direction of Peter Heenan. Ross MacDonald is to look after a raffle, and Bill Flinn was given the task of ensuring that an extensive advertising scheme was carried out.

Other matters that were discussed were the redesigning of the Shield, corsages for the graduation ball, the campaign and election day dates, who was to be on the dance committees, and candidates for the Student Council presidency.

Aquinas Day

Saint Mary's University was the scene of varied activity throughout the weekend; not the least in importance was the Communion breakfast and day of intellectual activity held in honor of Saint Thomas Aquinas, Patron Saint of students. Saturday marked the second annual feast day celebration held by the university in commemoration of the renowned angelic doctor.

After the Communion breakfast, Ronald Dulhanty, fourth year Arts student gave a talk on the life and philosophy of Saint Thomas.

The highlight of the day was a second session of the Albertus Magnus Guild's seminar on "Philosophy and Science". The seminar featured a talk by Reverend J. L. Quinan, P.P., of Saint Thomas Aquinas Parish, on the topic: "The Hylomorphism of Saint Thomas Aquinas in the Light of Modern Science". Fathers Burke-Gaffney, Quinan, Stuart and Labelle, along with Doctor Duffie then participated in a panel discussion.

In the evening, Bernard Murphy, Stan McFadden, Bill Reid, Albert Roach and Ross MacDonald staged a comic farce written by Reverend Labelle, Dean of Saint Mary's Philosophy Department.

With "THE HEMP"

The semi-final playoffs have been here and gone. Engineers "B" swamped Engineers "A" in series A while Commerce "B" had to work for a victory over Arts "B".

Engineers "B" had very little trouble with Engineers "A", winning the right to advance into the finals, in a one-sided match. Captain Paul Napier, Don Currie, and Emmett Berrigan all posted double scores of over 200 to lead the "B" Labmen in sweeping aside their opponents.

Engineers "B": Currie 215, Napier 210, Berrigan 204, Schmidt 185, Hickey 96, Slaunwhite 94 (1005).

Engineers "A": Scriven 188, MacDougall 183, Richard 160, Mansour 156, Beck 149 (836).

The second match of the day was one of the closest and most hard-fought matches in the Bowling League this year. Commerce "B" showed their superiority in the clutch as they pulled the victory out of the fire and shattered the hopes of Arts "B" for getting a crack at the title in the finals.

The Latin Scholars had the Debitmen worried and threw many a scare into them throughout the match.

Jack Linihan became the hero of the day as he led his mates to a three pin victory in the first string while Don Reardon was the big man in the second as his squad won by thirteen pins to insure their chances of advancing to the finals. Don Smith and Enrique Mulford, with their steady bowling, almost reversed the tables.

Commerce "B": Cable 192, Reardon 187, Lenihan 181, Beaton 163, Mickle 87, Frowd 79 (889).

Arts "B": Smith 182, Mulford 180, Driscoll 178, Meuse 172, Sullivan 86, Carleton 75 (873).

Next week Commerce "B" and Engineers "B" will hook up in the final match of the year. Both these teams have been setting the league on fire throughout the regular schedule and the semi-final round. This final series will prove to be the battle of the year.

Arts Advance To Finals

Arts will meet Commerce in the Interfac finals as a result of their win over Engineers Srs. last Saturday.

Bill Reid opened the scoring as he took Cyril Courtney's pass to beat Jerrett from close in. Minutes later Breen teamed with Carleton to knot the count at 1-1 and finish the first-period scoring.

Early in the second frame Arts went ahead for the first time when Carleton stole the puck from Nolan and scored. MacDougall tied the score with an unassisted tally, but Carleton teamed up with Thibeault and Hawkins to put Arts ahead 3-2. With Buckley in the sin-bin, Nolan made the score 3-3.

Midway in the third, the Labmen again went ahead when Cyril Courtney scored on a shot from well out. With less than four minutes to go, big Jack Hawkins took a pass from Buckley, drove in on Sullivan, and scored. Sullivan foiled Hawkins' attempt to score on a breakaway as the period drew to a close.

In the 10-minute overtime, Hawkins climaxed a solo rush by potting the winner. Engineers, in a vain effort to tie the game, played nearly a full two minutes without a goaltender.
