AUTUMN WEEKEND QUEEN HEATHER DAWSON ... for the benefit of those who missed Autumn Weekend ( or have only hazy memories of it ) we present this Autumn Weekend Special.

"Obligation to Display Uniqueness"... Rambeau

BY STEVE ANDERSON

SRC President Leonard Rambeau termed Saint Mary's present status as a fairly small University "helpfully unique", at the University's annual Assembly October 5th, and declared our obligation to display this outside our campus.

Commenting that size does not make a University great, the Dartmouthian president pointed out that when the Administration, faculty, and student body are bonded by a common spirit, the result is the kind of atmosphere which size alone cannot bring.

Though the General Assembly was a one-sided affair (for some mysterious reason those students who bothered to attend gathered almost entirely on the right-hand side of the auditorium), the speeches were informative and well-received. Reverend Father Fischer opened the affair with three words: Knowledge, Character, and Leadership. He commented that we, as students, were expected to develop an aptitude for mature individual thinking; that we should question the presentations of our professors and use the facts which we obtain to make sound judgements. He said that the University was a community and that everybody (faculty and administration included) were continually learning through the various processes of University Life.

NOTE: THE DETAILS OF THIS ASSEMBLY ARE PRINTED FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE MAJORITY OF THE STUDENT BODY, WHICH DID NOT BOTHER TO ATTEND THIS FUNCTION.

Father Fischer hoped that we, as Santamarians, would use Saint Mary's to develop our own characters and personalities and thereby become men of principle. He explained that Saint Mary's was unique in the sense that it presented many opportunities to develop the spiritual facets of life. He stressed that the quality of living inherent in S.M.U. was safeguarded and manifested by the conduct of the student body; exemplifying this, he cited the benefit and importance of "proper student attire".

Continuing, the University head said that we, as individuals had an obligation to display leadership - by leading others in our community, in the business world, or whatever the case may be. He said that we had been given special opportunities and as a result had special responsibilities, each individual with his own talents.

Father Hennessey, Dean of Men, explained his obligation to enforce the rules and regulations for the maintenance of honor, peace and harmony. He commented also on the disturbing lack of enthusiasm in the student body.

The following speaker, Doctor Sheehan, emphasized to the freshmen that the first three months of enrollment were the most critical time in the course of obtaining a degree. After this period, he said, the freshmen are an integral part of the student body and have due rights and responsibilities as such.

His speech becoming broader in scope, Dr. Sheehan, Dean of Arts and Science, declared that the generation of which we are a part faced great challenges for even greater demands, and that our heritage is a paradoxical mixture of instruments for mass death with a social structure at present inadequate to cope with the situation. We must leave Saint Mary's, the Dean continued, with the necessary equipment to survive in our world of rapid technological change. He impressed upon the students their responsibilities as vital, vigorous members of our generation in the search for the right, the meaningful, the real, and the beautiful.

Len Rambeau closed out the assembly by calling on us to realize the advantages of being Santamarians. He pointed out that this year was an important one in the life of Saint Mary's, as it marked the incorporation of the Student Body as a legal body. Mr. Rambeau pointed to the new buildings rising on the campus as a visible mark of the progress which Saint Mary's is making, and to the advantages of our student-professor relationship and our "vital Jesuit training".

CUS PRESIDENT TO VISIT U of A

LENNOXVILLE (CUP) - Canadian Union of Students president Doug Ward will be in Edmonton Oct. 16 and "available to anyone who wants to come over and talk to me."

His visit to Edmonton will come almost one month from the date U of A students severed their CUS ties.

Ward said he has been in contact with Pro-CUS, the Edmonton-based student group trying to reverse the council decision by which U of A left CUS, and expects to meet them.

Edmonton's council president, Branny Schepanovich, who led Edmonton's withdrawal from CUS, has also been informed of Ward's impending visit.

The Edmonton stopover will be part of an abbreviated Western tour the CUS president is taking this month. He will speak to Simon Fraser University students, and take part in a seminar sponsored by the University of British Columbia, during his trip.

SRC Affirms CUS Membership

The question of Saint Mary's belonging to the Canadian Union of Students has been settled - at least for a few months.

In the course of three special meetings, Council passed six controversial resolutions introduced by C.U.S. Committee chairman Gerald Beech, affirming S.M.U.'s membership in the 160,000 member national students' union. Beech's resolutions recognized that C.U.S. is unsatisfactory, but urged Council to work towards reform instead of pulling out.

The resolutions were summarized as follows:

(1) Recognition that the basic principle of a national student association is good.

(2) Recognition that the basic principles and aims of CUS are good.

(3) Declaration that particular application of these principles is not always good, but that S.M.U. is willing to work to improve matters.

(4) Recognition of the rights and responsibilities inherent in a continued membership.

(5) Affirmation of membership.

(6) Recommendation that the CUS Committee be granted a voting seat on Council in the new By-laws.

SRC President Rambeau remarked that he hopes a referendum will be held during February in order to find out the opinion of the student body on the matter. He feels that the students as a whole will have had time and opportunity to make up their minds on the issue, provided that this year's CUS Committee is effective, and that this year's Council should avoid "passing the buck" ... to the new Council which could be plagued with the problem" next spring.

In most Canadian Universities, this has been a year of grave considerations regarding C.U.S. membership. Although some campuses, particularly in Western and Central Canada, have little or no anti-CUS faction, five Universities and Colleges, from Alberta to Newfoundland, withdrew this fall.

First attacked seriously by Roger Henderson's editorial "GET OUT OF CUS" in the JOURNAL in December, 1965, S.M.U.'s membership was constantly a hot issue until last week.

An actual motion to withdraw from the Union was presented last February, but died in a compromise which set up a committee to study and report on the relevance of CUS to Saint Mary's. The report which ensued was pessimistic and refused to encourage continued membership.

The next clash came over the sending of delegates to the 30th Congress of CUS held this fall, with nearly half the Council feeling that we had neither the money nor the interest in the organization to send three delegates. A vote from the chair broke a tie to solve a hotly fought argument.

Not surprisingly, when the three delegates returned this fall, the complaints of last spring's report were still largely valid. Beech's six resolutions demonstrate that Council still considers its membership to be worth maintaining.

Dalhousie Quits WUSC

HALIFAX (CUP) - Amid charges that World University Service of Canada is "ingrown" and "financially irresponsible", Dalhousie University students dropped their WUS ties Monday night (Oct. 3).

The withdrawal, to be for a one-year trial period, came after a debate in which Dalhousie students' council president John Young said his university has attempted to introduce reform measures at recent national WUSC conferences, but all efforts have been frustrated.

He said the pullout was made necessary by "irresponsible" financial dealings of the national WUS office in Toronto.

Council spent more than two hours debating the motion before backing it 8-3 with 6 abstentions.

Dalhousie WUSC chairman Brendon Yazer opposed the motion, saying it would be a "negative move" to withdraw. He asked council to send a delegate to this week's national assembly in Windsor in "one last attempt" to bring about reform.

Kerans Appointed Alpha Sigma Nu Moderator

S.R.C. President Len Rambeau announced the appointment of Father Kerans, S.J., as moderator of the Saint Mary's Chapter of Alpha Sigma Nu, the Jesuit Honour Society.

Father C.J. Fischer, S.J., appointed Father Kerans as the second moderator since Saint Mary's became the first non-U.S. University to join the Society. Organizational meetings will be held immediately between the S.R.C., Father Kerans, and the interim moderator, Father J.J. Hennessey. Candidates will be chosen from the Junior and the Senior classes.

Alpha Sigma Nu is designed to honor male students of Jesuit colleges and universities who distinguish themselves in scholarship, loyalty, and service.

ON CAMPUS ...

Let's Stop Talking

BY BOB BRITTON

New Hours

S.R.C. President has posted the following office hours during which he hopes students will drop in to see him whether they need his assistance or simply want to discuss some matter:
MONDAY to FRIDAY - 3:30 to 5:00 p.m.

Belair To Give 'Tips on Studying'

All students are invited to attend three one-half hour talks on the subject of studying, to be delivered by Father Belair, S.J., director of Adult Studies.

The talks will be given at one p.m. on the three last Mondays of October.

Film Club Begins Series

The C.A.M. Film Club is beginning its first season on Sunday, October 23 with the National Film Board's production of NOBODY WAVED GOODBYE. Show-time is at 2 p.m. in Theatre A of the Library. Father Belair will introduce the film and lead a discussion following the presentation.

When the picture was released early in 1965, TIME called it "a winsome if wobbly essay on the plight of two affluent delinquents swimming against the stream of life in Toronto".

Brendan Gill, reviewing it in THE NEW YORKER expanded that comment: "what NOBODY WAVED GOODBYE offers isn't a grim sociological study of the evolution of a juvenile delinquent, but a STORY, commensurate in the purity of its intentions, and even in the artistry of its execution with, say, THE CATCHER IN THE RYE".

The form of a movie is that of a documentary in depicting the pitfalls of family life. And instead of a repetition of the old parent-child communication problem, the director has turned out a picture filled with spontaneity, so that at times it has the sensitivity of a poem.

C.A.M. is reserving other films for both this year and next, with the next confirmed showing being LONELY ARE THE BRAVE, November 20.

And do something about the obvious lack of communication between local and foreign students. Living together in the university community, it is pathetic to see the void in understanding and interest which exists among us. In many cases this is not due to any prejudice but rather a sense of unawareness. For example, many of the Chinese students at Saint Mary's appear to remain apart from the rest of the student body. However, if one considers the nature of the Chinese to be traditionally conservative and yet quite friendly, it may become clear that any relationship may require that the initiative be taken by the local student.

We are losing out on a great opportunity to help ourselves to a better understanding of peoples and cultures because of our "isolationism". At a small university such as Saint Mary's, personal contact among students should not be a difficult problem. Therefore, I exhort you to go out of your way to meet the foreign students and make them feel a part of our university -- the part which in fact they are. They will appreciate the opportunity and you certainly will not regret having made another friend.

Student Government In Perspective

BY BOB BRITTON

Certainly the most difficult and most important task facing the Students' Council this year is the formulation by them and the acceptance by the student body, of a new Constitution (By-laws) which must be created in order to put meaning into the Bill passed in the Nova Scotia Legislature last year, making us an incorporated students' association. During the summer months, several men spent hours drawing up a set of By-Laws for consideration by the Council. Therefore on Sunday the twenty-fourth of September and the first of October the Council, the Directors of the Association, the Parliamentarian, the Recording Secretary and several other individuals were asked to attend meetings to discuss the proposed By-Laws in order to eliminate as many errors as possible. Such work is certainly not very exciting, but quite important, especially in this case since the By-Laws which are passed are going to live indefinitely - that is, they may not be withdrawn but rather any change, be it only one word, requires an amendment and a referendum.

Sunday, October 1st, the President, Leonard Rambeau and the V.P. of External Affairs, Mike O'Sullivan, were the ONLY members of the Students' REPRESENTATIVE Council to attend the meeting. Where were the other EIGHT members of the Council? Your guess is as good as mine although I have heard rumors that there was a PARTY on the preceding evening. Members of the Students' Council are supposed to be leaders - and the "eight" seem to be "leading" the students in indifference and irresponsibility. In conclusion, might I remind the "eight" that with power comes RESPONSIBILITY. I assure you they are aware of their power.

A Perennial Problem - Solved?

Every year elements of Student Government here are faced with the problem of the administration of the weekly dances. In the past several attempts have been made to create a workable system, all with little success. This was probably due to the fact that many of the involved organizations were not consulted. Indeed, on the few occasions on which they were asked to express opinions, personal jealousies confused the situation. This year, under and in cooperation with Mike Langan, V.P. of Internal Affairs, the vast majority of officers in student government have created a committee composed of responsible students who are not office holders at Saint Mary's. This committee, under the chairmanship of Mike Langan, will control the dances and the allotment of funds to the various societies. There is a strong possibility that this is not the final and perfect solution to the problem. However, for the first time, all parties concerned seem to realize the necessity of making a concentrated and co-ordinated effort to solve it and in this there is the indication that Student Government and the officers who compose that organization are maturing at a more than favorable pace.

S. R. C. Broadens Scope of Activities

S.R.C. President Len Rambeau has established ten new committees to prove and report upon various facets of student life. Each committee is under the chairmanship of a member of the S. R. C. and is to include "at least five member-students not presently involved in student government". Topics for the various committees investigations range from Student Discipline (under Tom Flemming) to the social life of students (under John MacDonald).

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,
I would like to extend my personal congratulations to the people responsible for the Variety Show in aid of the Heart Fund. They have a worthwhile goal, and the show was better than average. But what a farce was made of it by turning it into a hopeless talent show. It takes more than mismanagement to do this.

The idea of a variety show is excellent for the promotion of this very worthy cause; why spoil it by asking three people to judge it, when their ability to judge the relative merits and demerits of such a diversified program is at best questionable, if such merits can be judged at all. Congratulations on a first-class farce. Here's to the Engineer's Talent Show?????

(A Santamarian).

Dear Sir,
Sunday evening last saw the second Annual Intercollegiate Variety Show, which was produced and directed by Karl Desmarais and which was, in my opinion, a success. However, I feel obliged to comment on the representation made by St. Francis Xavier University.

Last year the "X Men of Note" representing that university, were an accomplished group of musicians and performers and placed second in the competition. This year, the "X" representation, namely "Purple Splintered Night" not only did not place but actually forced some twenty people to leave. "Bad" certainly isn't a valid adjective; "horrible" is far more suitable. Nevertheless, this letter is not directed to these "musicians" but rather to the Students' Council of St. F. X. of whatever body is responsible for permitting that group to represent their university. Finally, I can in all fairness say that NEVER has Saint Mary's University, with less than half the total enrollment of "X", been so poorly represented at ANY function as was St. Francis Xavier here Sunday night. Respectfully,
Robert W. Britton

From The Editor's DESK

Early Christian History tells us of the Seven Sleepers, a group of obscure saints who earned fame and canonization by being shut up in a cave during a religious persecution, to emerge living several decades later.

Strange as this may sound, the record is being contested this year by not seven but ten men.

We are referring to the students' Representative Council. Commendably, the Council has already made a few appointments, distributed money, and approved the Treasurer's budget. It has at long last taken a definite stand with regard to its own stand on the participation of SMU in the Canadian Union of Students. And individually, its members have issued noble declarations on the glories of our new status as an incorporated body, the Saint Mary's University Students' Association (SMUSA).

But where the hell are our By-laws?

Regrettably, the most important job facing any SMU Students' Council in recent years has been postponed regularly, and we are told that the By-laws of the SMUSA should be ready for presentation to the students "in two or three months" ... in other words, some time after Christmas.

The task facing the committee which drafted those by-laws over the summer was surely as hard, or harder, than Council's task of revising these By-laws to suit their own desires. Nevertheless, these By-laws were drafted between May and August in order that they might collect dust in the S.R.C. office this fall ... and as the sleepers doze on, it will take as long to present the By-laws to the members of the SMUSA as it did to start from scratch in drafting them.

The key to Council's delay is a lack of a general willingness of the members to make a few basic sacrifices. Granted President Rambeau has called a number of special meetings (most of which have actually amassed a quorum of members), but this has clearly not been enough. Council owes it to the students whom it supposedly represents to have more, longer meetings to dispose of this most pressing matter. We doubt whether it would ruin the love lives or academic careers of any Council members if two or three evening meetings were called, even if necessary, on weekends. Even in the inglorious history of past SMU Councils, meetings have been known to run from seven in the evening to two or later in the morning. In view of the abolition of the Thursday Assembly Period, and of the usual size of the "gallery" at Council meetings, are there any grounds on which to dismiss the idea of evening or night meetings? Only the personal preferences of the Council members!

If the executive takes decisive action and the rest of Council acts in the interests of the SMUSA, this matter will be cleared up by the end of this month, before anyone starts wondering whether Student Government is actually mature enough to run itself as a Corporation ought.

TIM'S HUDDLE

Friday night's game with St. Dunstan's was quite a surprise for anyone who attended, including our football team. The Saints from Charlottetown came into Halifax with upset in their game plan and most of all in their minds. They had the attitude, the plays, the coaching, and the spirit. Saint Mary's had the talent.

I'm sure a few teams in the league were surprised when they heard the score. The least surprised team was Saint Dunstan's. They have a good, sound football team and in the Bluenose Conference they should win a few games. They will lose to St. F. X., but the other games will be hard-fought, good football games.

The league schedule continues to amaze me. Mount Allison Mounties, who were beaten 60-7 by the Huskies two weeks ago, played St. F. X. the following week. St. F. X. had no trouble in rolling to a 58-0 rout. My question is, why force a very weak team to play the two powers on successive weekends? Mount Allison took a tremendous physical beating in the SMU game and although they had seven days to recuperate, I'm sure they were not 100% fit. Quite a few of their starting ball-players either limped off or were helped off in the SMU game. Injuries are bound to happen, and I'm sure the Mount A coaching staff expected a few against a big team like the Huskies. More than likely, some of the injured did not play against "X" and some of those who did played on guts alone. There's no need for any team in the league to face SMU and "X" on successive weekends.

BLOCKS AND TACKLES

Bill Baldwin is doing a great job for the Huskies running out of his halfback slot. It is hard to believe that Bill never played high-school football. Bill was a super-star in the inter-fac football league, where no doubt Coach Goodwin spotted him. He was not only a fine ball-carrier but also a sure tackler, as a defensive tackle on the inter-fac team, and a very good one too.

THIS WEEK:

The Huskies will be on the road again, this time to Fredericton, N.B., where they will meet the University of New Brunswick. They trounced Dal last week and will be at home when they meet the Huskies, which will be a big advantage. They would like nothing better than to trip up SMU. They won't. The Huskies are too big and fast. SMU, 44-13.

AROUND THE COUNTRY

Queen's, as usual, is sitting on top as the number one team in the country. St. F. X. is number eight and the Huskies number ten. Queen's just squeaked by McGill 28-16 and the Huskies certainly weren't out-classed by McGill. This week's ratings:

1. Queens
2. Toronto
3. Western
4. McGill
5. Waterloo Lutheran
6. McMaster
7. Alberta
8. St. F. X.
9. Manitoba
10. Saint Mary's

Huskie SOCCER

BY J. De VERTEUIL

The Autumn Weekend proved to be extremely favorable as far as the soccer Huskies were concerned. On Thursday, they tangled with Acadia and beat them rather easily, with a score of 4-1. Jacques de Verteuil netted one and Dennis McCulloch scored a hat trick. This was the opening game of the league and the Huskies proved that they were then called upon to play U.N.B. The latter had been rated a strong force and thus it proved to be as the Huskies managed only a 1-0 win on a penalty shot by Stu Henderson. Even though the greater part of the battle took place in the U.N.B. end of the field, the Huskies lacked the final punch and thus wasted many good opportunities.

On Monday morning the Huskies took to the road to tackle netted nine goals and a few assists in the Habs first four games.

Keep watching the Dallas Cowboys. They will win it all. The Junior Canadiens are improved and will do better in the playoffs.

the Mount Allison "Steamers". In the first half the play was rather ragged and the S.M.U. squad couldn't settle down, with the result that the "Steamers" led 1-0 at half time. The second half was, however, completely different. It was all Huskies. They were all over the place with the inevitable goal coming about fifteen minutes after the whistle. Julio Aranaz let go a beautiful drive on a pass from Hamish Herrera and the Mount A. Goalie had no chance whatsoever. The Huskies kept at it and two minutes from the end were regarded with a penalty when the Mt. A defence handled the ball in their own area. Once again Stu Henderson calmly put it in the back of the net, and it was all over for the "Steamers".

The Huskies are now halfway through the league schedule and their record stands at 3-0 with two of the toughest teams out of the way. They have a really tough one coming up against St. F. X. on Sunday, and if that one is a win, then the championship is just a "hop, skip, and a jump" away.
