Recreation Centre May Be A Reality

by Kevin Biggs

This year's Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission (MPHEC) Financial Plan has recommended that the government grant over six million dollars to Saint Mary's University toward the construction of a Recreation Centre.

Last year's MPHEC Financial Plan also recommended a grant but the Provincial Government could not fit it in their budget. This year, however, President Ozmon is much more optimistic that the government will follow through with the recommendation.

Saint Mary's has been applying for the grant every year since the MPHEC's inception in 1974. The Administration has a proposal for the Recreation Centre that includes a twenty-five metre swimming pool and a gymnasium big enough to hold three basketball courts. Also included in the proposal are facilities for music and drama organization.

President Ozmon feels that "This proposal is probably only a dream", but quickly adds that there is a definite need for better recreational facilities than we presently have.

The government should be announcing next year's financial grants within the next two months.

President Ozmon also said that if a recreation centre were constructed, it would leave a lot more room in the McNally

Building for academic uses.

Additional funding for a recreational centre would be achieved by a fund raising campaign that is scheduled to start sometime this spring.

French Student Studies Abroad

by Leslie Small

Spend your university year in France and still get your five credits at Saint Mary's. Sound good? It can be done. The Modern Languages and Classics Department are again offering their Study-Abroad Program. This program allows students from Saint Mary's to attend The Centre International d'Etudes Francaises which is an integral part of the Universite Catholique de l'Quest at Angers. The C.I.D.E.F. receives between 250 and 280 students a year from all over the world and places them with families in the area along with providing support for those students away from home.

The program begins in September with a compulsory four week session of intensive language classes (120 hours) designed to acquaint the student with the language spoken in France. The rest of the academic year is divided into two semesters which run from mid-October to mid-June. Breaks at Christmas, Easter and during February give students a great chance to travel; and with Paris only two hours away, who can resist. Students who successfully complete the September pre-university session and the two semesters of course work receive five university credits at Saint Mary's. These five credits may concentrate on French or on literature and civilization including courses in history, geography, philosophy and many others.

The program is open to students in any department but the student must have completed French 200.0 and finished with a B average. This year there are eight students from Saint Mary's studying in France; two of these are commerce students hoping to become bilingual. In speaking with Dr. Karen Flikeid of the Modern Language Dept. and one of the organizers of the program, it was suggested that the best time to go is your second year, but it's never too late.

The cost for the program may be surprising. The tuition for Anger is actually lower than that at Saint Mary's; approximately $950 compared to $1377, and the monthly rent is about $90 for a room, as arranged by the C.I.D.E.F. Two meals a day (lunch & dinner) at the university cafeteria cost as little as $5.40 and books are cheaper.

Students with loans and scholarships may apply them to their studies at Anger. Travel is the responsibility of each individual but there are reasonable air fares for students. There is one problem however, because they will be studying in Europe they will require a Student visa. The problem lies in the fact that you can't work on a student visa so you must remain financially independent all through your stay.

Studying at Angers is not all work and no play. The university is situated in one of the most beautiful areas in France. It is steeped in history and culture and is one of the major wine growing areas of France.

It has a population of about 150,000 which makes it a more personal place but you're still not far from the night life in Paris. And for us Canadians it has a warm, moist climate.

For more information, get in touch with either Professor LePierres or Dr. Flikeid in the Modern Languages Department.

Tenth Annual Business Dinner

by Staff Reporter

With the tenth annual Commerce Society Business Dinner only a week away, ten months of planning is near its end. Robert McPhee, President of the Commerce Society, and his committee are hoping that this year's dinner will be better than ever.

This year's guest speaker will be Louis Comeau, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Nova Scotia Power Corporation. The theme of his talk will be, "In Search of Excellence". Mr. Comeau is a former Saint Mary's student. He graduated in 1962 with a Bachelor Degree in Science.

About three hundred people are expected to attend, with more than one hundred of them being local business people. One of the aims of the Commerce Society is to let students meet and talk with prospective employers. Students and business people are encouraged to mingle at a reception held before the dinner and the seating is arranged so that each table has both students and business people sitting at them.

This is the Commerce Society's major event of the year. Despite the high price tag on the tickets, a full course meal will be provided by Saga Foods, the Commerce Society does not plan the Dinner as a source of revenue. "It is a service to the students" says Robert McPhee.

As well, awards to the Commerce Student and Commerce Member of the year will be given. And this year, awards will be given to the winners of the Saint Mary's Business Competition as well.

Tickets can be purchased at the Commerce Society's booth during Arctic Alley or at the Commerce Society's office on the fifth floor of the SUB.

The programme features songs by and about women, performed with voice and guitar. The performance starts at 12:30. Admission is free.

EDGAR NEOGY-TEZAK: RECENT PAINTINGS

Saint Mary's University Art Gallery will present an exhibition of paintings by Austrian-born artist Edgar Neogy-Tezak from February 9th with the artist present.

Edgar Neogy-Tezak was born in Graz, Austria in 1949. From 1969 to 1973 he studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Vienna. Since 1970 he has shown extensively in Europe in cities including Vienna, Munich, Madrid and Koln. In 1980 and 81 Edgar spent two years living and studying with traditional Indian sculptors in temples in south India. In 1982 he moved to New York City where he is currently living.

In reviewing the artist's 1983 exhibition "Thirty-two Days in Space" Austrian art critic Jan Tabor said of him: "Among the new artists, Tezak is without a doubt, the most outstanding. He is formulating out of old metaphysical forms, new enquiries and questions."

The works in the present exhibition are among the artist's most recent and will include 16 large oils as well as a number of smaller works on paper. This is the first time that Edgar Neogy-Tezak's work will be shown in Halifax and is an excellent opportunity for the public to view work by an artist who is beginning to gain much attention in both Europe and New York.

LOUIS R. COMEAU SPEAKS AT 10TH ANNUAL COMMERCE SOCIETY BUSINESS DINNER

For years it has been a tradition at Saint Mary's - a fine dinner, a prominent guest speaker, and an interesting mix at the dinner table of professors, students and business people (prospective employers and employees) - the annual business dinner has always provided an atmosphere of interest and opportunity for the business community and especially, for the student.

This year, the Saint Mary's Commerce Society continues that tradition with an invitation to the president and chief executive officer of the Nova Scotia Power Corporation, Mr. Louis R. Comeau to be the guest speaker at the Tenth Annual Business Dinner.

The dinner is scheduled for Thursday, February 9th at 7:30 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room, and tickets are available from the Commerce Society at $10.00 for students.

Running Ailments Can Turn Exercise to Masochism

by Alan Montgomery
reprinted from the Martlet
Canadian University Press

Hobbling behind the ever-increasing number of runners is a growing horde of people who experience severe pain due to sore knees, shin splints, and various other lower body ailments.

These problems may transform light exercise and healthy fun into an exercise in masochism.

According to University of Victoria physical education Professor Richard Backus, most of these problems begin with the feet.

"Upwards of 80 per cent of all people have feet which are either too flat or are prorated, that is, twisted so that the outside of the foot strikes the ground before the inside."

This twisting motion most often puts stress on the knee of the runner, but it may also be a prime cause of shin splints and lower back pain.

As Backus puts it, this is "a very common, very significant problem."

Runners experience their environment entirely through feet via a complex series of movements. Prorated or flat feet may lead to a knock-kneed effect, thus putting a tremendous diagonal stress on the knees.

This problem may be rectified by the use of orthotic inserts. Orthotic inserts are rigid plastic insoles which fit beneath the heels and arches. These devices act to modify the relationship of the bones in the feet.

Backus custom fits runners with inserts which, depending on the feet, may act to cushion the heel, raise the arch, and twist the foot.

Before going through this process, however, Backus suggests that runners should look closely at the shoes they wear with their problems in mind. He recommends to about 90 per cent of his patients that they throw out their shoes and replace them.

Manufacturers are developing a wide line of shoes which are designed for the 80 per cent of us who do not have perfect feet.

Vandalism, Vomiting Prompts Pub Closure

THUNDER BAY (CUP) - Increased vandalism, rowdy behaviour and public vomiting prompted the student union executive at Lakehead University to impose a sudden two-day closure of the pub.

And student union president Peter Harper promises further closures if the "irresponsible actions of both the pub staff and their patrons," don't soon desist.

Harper fears the recent rash of broken windows, damaged washroom fixtures and alcohol related violence may cause the administration to close the pub permanently.

Student union vice president Tim Sinclair complained more and more students are vomiting, caused by a new practice where patrons chug down a mixture of any drinks remaining on the tables at closing time.

"This practice tends to make people sick," Sinclair said.

Harper defended the autocratic closure of the pub, arguing the administration could close it at any time. "I hope this sparks the attention that something has to be done right away," he said.

Harper blames many of the pub's problems on its staff who "haven't been taking their jobs as seriously as they should" and drink or do homework while on duty.

"There seems to be an anarchistic theme to all this," lamented one student. "Students have to play it cool as well as student employees."

Acting pub manager Jennifer Matson was unavailable for comment.

Letters To The Editor

PLEASE NOTE

The surveys which were printed on our back page last week lacked a direction as to what to do with them. Well, just to be safe, I'll say you should fill it out. This survey will allow us to give you better service. Next, take your completed survey to the submission box by the residence desk in the Loyola Building or bring it up to the Journal office. If the door is shut, just stuff it into the envelope on the door.

Thanx
The Staff

Dear Readers

I come to you now to address a minor problem which concerns many of us. A good number of you take the time to generate a vital amount of input for The Journal. These submissions take the form of, mostly, Unclassifieds, some Letters To the Editor and occasionally some articles. We at the Journal find these items invaluable as a source of material for the paper and as an indication of student involvement. There is just one small problem; some of them are not signed. Please make no mistake, this is very important to the process of sending us anything.

If you want to say something to us, the staff, not to be printed in other words, then just say so, but sign your name. We are too pleased to receive mail (it gives me a chance to use my letter opener) and would not chance offending you; well most of you.

If, on the other hand, you submit something for publication, then it is important that it be signed. First of all there is the risk we run in being charged with libel or slander. Because our printer is also responsible in such a case, they will not allow us to print letters which cannot be shown to be written by a non-staff member. As well, the letter lacks credibility if unsigned. Now, let me say that this does not mean that you have to give up on your letter because "your boss will fire you if he finds out". We demand that the letters be signed, but with a sufficient reason we can withhold your name. This means that only three people know who wrote such a letter; the staff member it was addressed to, myself and the RCMP Officer assigned to open our mail (ha ha).

Entertainment

Where can you buy a record album, t-shirt, or a night for two at a hotel for an astronomical sum of money? Better yet, where do you come up with the necessary thousands of dollars? The answer to both: the Monte Carlo Night, last Saturday night in the SUB.

Music was provided by the local group, Syndicate, in the cafeteria. Syndicate is a basic cover band - little to watch, but great music.

The big event at the formal was the casino, run by the Canadian Progress Club, in the quiet lounge. Everyone was given five hundred dollars in chips at the door with which to gamble and amass enough to buy a prize at the auction at the end of the evening. If you lost your first five hundred early, you could purchase more. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves as they risked vast fortunes at the tables.

The auction was conducted by Dave Hendsbee in two parts. He kept going up, but no one wanted to bid on him.

The academic year of 1983-1984 marks the Saint Mary's Dramatic Society's (S.M.U.D.S.) thirtieth anniversary of continuous production. Although there has been drama at SMU since 1907, it did not become a regular feature of campus life until 1954. In that year it was decided to have at least one major production every academic year. The trend has continued and has been so popular that the Society now performs two major productions per year as well as a variety of smaller productions.

So far the anniversary year has been a busy one. In September, from the invitation of Keith Hotchkiss at Student Services, S.M.U.D.S. staged its first President's Evening in the Theatre Auditorium. The purpose of the event, held during Orientation Week, was to welcome new and returning students to the campus. With this in mind, S.M.U.D.S. presented a compilation of scenes from various past productions that concerned "relationships, love, and its often maddeningly mundane nature."

In October "Sketches by Woody Allen" were performed in the Art Gallery for the "Lunch with Art" series. As always the "Lunch with Art" was well attended and both audience and performers enjoyed the hour's entertainment.

The first major production of the year, Pride and Prejudice, was staged in November. The play by Constance Cox was adapted from Jane Austen's novel and closely follows the story of the Bennet girls and their matchmaking mother. This production of Pride and Prejudice was directed by Nancy Ellen Whyte whose previous credits include Loot and Shylock.

The success of the first President's Evening prompted Mr. Hotchkiss to invite S.M.U.D.S. to stage a second President's Evening on November 25th. This time the event was held in the Art Gallery and was to thank the host families who have invited foreign students into their homes to welcome them to the city. On this occasion S.M.U.D.S. presented "Lennon Lines", a compilation of the "writings and songs of John Winston Lennon" taken from A Spaniard in the Works and In His Own Write. The format of readings interspersed with songs was enjoyable and the evening was pronounced a success.

Last Friday, S.M.U.D.S. was again the feature of "Lunch with Art". This time the group, under the direction of Claire Milton, performed some dramatic sketches by Noël Coward written from 1922 to 1928. Over one hundred people were in attendance for what proved to be a hilarious and enjoyable hour.

Recently S.M.U.D.S. began rehearsals for their second major production of the year. The play chosen is The Diary of Anne Frank, adapted from the diary by Francis Goodrich and Otto Hackett in 1958. Jim Spurway will be directing Diary; in March, 1983 he directed The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie for S.M.U.D.S. Auditions were held last week and, although not finalized, the cast has been picked. Rhonda Mclean, a second year student at SMU, has been chosen to play the title role. She has been involved with S.M.U.D.S. since 1982, taking the roles of Barbara Calhoun in The Happiest Days of Your Life (1982), Jenney in The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie (1983) and most recently, Jane Bennet in Pride and Prejudice (1983). She has also been involved in the Noël Coward "Lunch with Art".

Big Brother

SMU has probably seen its last mid-year formal. This is the word from the entertainment department, after the S.R.C. took a beating at the door of the Monte Carlo night.

As a student, I know how hard it is to afford one bash in two or three weeks let alone three in the space of one week during Winter Carnival. Saint Mary's doesn't have the population to support such events.

The two bashes left this week, Gill, and The Spoons, promise a good time. Hopefully people will find the green to go to them, not to mention the time, a precious commodity this time of year.

Many of the vents were held late on school nights. A university student can not function with out sleep, plus it is difficult for off-campus students to get home after minight, as many of the buses are taken off their runs at that time.

For a complete schedule of the remaining events, see last week's Journal.

Record Reviews

by Carter Newson

Bob Smith/Journal

The Expression is one of the newer bands from Down Under, poised and ready to crack the North American market. If Men At Work can do it, these guys sure can. All the tracks are a masterful combination of guitars, synthesizers, and well-crafted pop melodies and harmonies. In keeping with the latest musical trend, the lyrics are suitably detached and analytical. The Expression is as suitable a name as any for this group, with their lyrics expressing an objective view of various aspects of the human condition. Although they may, at first glance, appear to be a second-rate Duran Duran imitation, they show a great deal of diversity and competent musicianship.

Time will tell if these guys will be as popular as some of the other bands which have emerged from Down Under recently. If this album is any indication, they at least have a fighting chance.

Stevie Ray Vaughan (rave on-get it?) has got to be the greatest blues guitarist to emerge on the scene since Johnny Winter. On Texas Flood, he leads his power trio through two sides of some of the best blues-rock around today, highlighted by the shuffling "Love Struck Baby" and "Pride and Joy", now in heavy rotation on the FM stations. On the slow, whiny Texas Flood, he demonstrates his Jimi Hendrix influence, while his singing is reminiscent of such old blues greats as B.B. King. On Rude Mood, an instrumental which opens side 2, the playing is so fast and fluid that a casual listening is nearly impossible. Vaughan's fiery leads are played so rapidly that he could easily rival Alvin Lee, and he may be easily recognized as the Mr. Ultimate Speedfingers of the 80s. He receives more than adequate support from bassist Tommy Shannon and drummer Chris Layton. The result is a very enjoyable album from one of the finest axcemen to emerge in a very long time.

Big Week for Heald's Troops

by Scott Gillis

The St. Marys Huskies played host to the two New Brunswick teams in their division on Friday evening (Jan. 27) and Saturday afternoon (Jan. 28). On Friday against the Mt. Allison Mounties the Huskies came out on top 90-70. In Saturday's matchup the UNB Red Raiders went down in defeat 95-71. Both games were worth 4 points each for the Huskies and with a record of 7-3 for 18 points is good enough for 3rd place in the AUBC.

Said Coach Gary Heald: "We played very well and won 2 big games against two tough scrappy teams over the weekend."

SMU 90 MT. A 70

The St. Marys Huskies combined strong offense and tough zone defence to defeat the Mt. Allison Mounties 90-70 before a near-capacity crowd in the SMU Gym, Friday night. They controlled the game at all times and took a 44-32 lead into the locker room at halftime. The only time the Huskies seemed to lose command at all was when the lead was narrowed to 7 early in the second half. After the Huskies adjusted to Mt. A.'s press, they took complete charge again and never looked back.

The Huskies shot 51.6% from the floor and 66.7% from the line in the win. The five starters all had impressive nights. Center Rob Latter led the effort with 22 points. High flying Ron Lardge hooped 20 points netting 10 out of 15 fieldgoal attempts. Besides playing strong defence, Bill Marshall penetrated Mt. A.'s zone for 15 points. Rod Buckland hit from the outside for 14 points as did Gary Bratty for 13. All told, the Huskies grabbed for 39 rebounds, led by Rob Latter with 10.

Mt. A. had a very difficult time penetrating St. Marys 1-3-1 zone defence so the task of putting points on the scoreboard went to shooter Randy Field who picked up 16 points. John Johnson added 12 including a break off the opening jump to give the Mounties a 2 point lead after just 2 seconds of play. That's the only time the visitors led. They shot 46.9% from the floor and 75% from the line. The Mounties rebounded for 20. The leader in this department was Doug Bothwell with 8.

If there was any question that the Huskies would have trouble getting up for the game against Mt. A., as compared to a team like St. F.X., the doubts were quickly extinguished after their strong showing.

According to Captain Rod Buckland: "This year we don't have trouble getting up for teams like Mt. A. We knew going into it that it wouldn't be a 40 point blowout. They're a competitive team and they proved it tonight. We must have been used to playing St. F.X. though. Against them we had to keep the zone back because of Hatch and Sellitri. Tonight we didn't bring the zone out enough, and the shooter picked up a few hoops."

SMU 95 UNB 71

On Saturday afternoon the Huskies took to the court against the visiting UNB Red Raiders and defeated them 95-71. Of the two weekend events, this second one was the more exciting. The Huskies established a 16-3 lead just 3 minutes into the contest and led 48-33 at the break. The lead dwindled to 7 early into the second half but the Huskies regained their composure and widened the margin.

The offensive highlight of the game came with 5:24 left in the second half when Gary Bratty made a lovely steal in his own end and lobbed a beautiful pass to the breaking Ron Lardge for the slam dunk. This highlight is no small honor for it beats out such fine plays as Rob Latter's faked pass and layup that wasted Red Raider Anthony Walker, and also two fine passes by Ron Lardge to Gary Bratty for 2 point layups.

As a team, the Huskies shot 60% from the floor and 64.7% from the line. In the losing effort, the Red Raiders shot 50.8% from the floor and 73.3% from the line.

Ron Lardge led the offensive charge for the home squad with 28 points. His stats (13/16 from the floor and 2/2 from the line) are very much indicative of the excellent day he had. He was threading the needle from all parts outside the Red Raider defensive zone. As usual Lardge played particularly well at home.

"I love playing at home," he said after the game. "I always did. I love the crowd and the whole bit."

Rob Latter also had a big evening with 25 hard earned Basketball action from this past week's AUBC play. The Huskies won three games and picked up 10 big points to move near the top of the AUBC standings.

points. Over the weekend he had two better showings from the foul line which had been the part of his game that had been under par.

"I've been in a slump lately on the line but it's getting better," he commented after the game. "I tend to drop my right shoulder a bit in the follow through on foul shots. Coach Heald has been watching me and has helped me correct it."

There was some joking in the pre-game warm-up at the Huskies end that it looked like Buckland was hot. Well, it carried into the game as he scored 15 points and led in the teams rebounding total of 28 with 10.

Donald McCormack, who may look a bit heavy to be any kind of offensive threat proved to be the Red Raiders big scorer with 24, netting 11 fieldgoals in 16 attempts with 2 freethrows. He demonstrated an excellent touch. Chris McCabe also added 16 points. Ed Crowe was their leading rebounder with 9 or the team's total of 30.

The Huskies next home game is against the St. F.X. X-men on Saturday, Feb. 4 at the Metro Center.

It's finally over! Wayne Gretzky's point scoring streak ended at 51 games last week when the Oilers were beat 4-2 by Los Angeles. I love it.

As you probably may have guessed, I am not a Wayne Gretzky fan. Yes, I concede he is the greatest offensive hockey player to ever don the blades and I marvel at his many accomplishments, however, as far as we know he is only human and the glory years are about to subside. Two years ago I wrote in this column what I thought of Wayne Gretzky (not that my opinion is worth a pinch of coon shit) and to this day I firmly believe it. Wayne Gretzky is a Whimp!

Last year the New York Islanders proved my point and exemplified what I've been preaching for years; hit the little whimp around, hit his bully friends around, and you have shut down the complete Edmonton Oiler offence. Mind you, there are not many teams in the league capable of doing what the Islanders did. They have the perfect combination of finesse, talent, and workers, and there isn't a whimp on the team. They have won 4 Stanley Cups in a row (on their way to a fifth) by doing what they do best; grind and bump, hit hard, forecheck tenaciously, and capitalize on opportunities. However, this is the only legal way to stop Gretzky, something teams will have to learn how to do.

Gretzky's success reminds me a lot of that enjoyed by Guy Lafleur 5-6 years ago. Granted, Lafleur did not score 200+ points nor consecutively in 51 games, but he did control the tempo of any game he played in and his presence was greatly felt, much like Gretzky. Where is Lafleur today? Certainly he is not the Lafleur of old. The difference is that teams started to hit Lafleur until the injuries started and the duMaurier's were lit up on the bench. The same will happen to Wayne Gretzky. Count on it!

Basketball Huskies Win in O.T.

SMU 71 ST. F.X. 69

by Scott Gillis

At the Metro Center last Tuesday night (Jan. 24) the St. Mary's Huskies taught a very important age-old lesson to the 3600 fans in attendance: to never count them out until its over. The lesson, most definitely, sunk in deepest for their arch-rivals, the St. F.X. X-men, who led most of the game and enjoyed a 7 point lead with 1:37 left. Then it all began to fall apart bit by bit for the Antigonish squad with the help of the pressing Huskies, well timed timeouts called by Coach Heald, and Ron Lardge's jumper with only one second left on the clock. The well executed final minute and a half plus the end to end action brought the spectators to their feet. The final score: SMU 71 St. F.X. 69.

"We've been talking about intensity all season and tonight you've seen it," said Associate Coach Allan Waye after the game.

There's a lot of truth in that. Consider the comeback and then consider that Latter, Harris, and Buckland had all fouled out. Most of the overtime was played with a staff of six Huskies.

The first 35 minutes of play weren't that exciting. The crowd, being so far removed from the action, had trouble getting into the game. Both teams did a lot of shooting but neither was that effective. The Huskies were 40.7% in field goal attempts and 50% from the line. The X-men were 38.8% and 59.3%, respectively. The Huskies outrebounded their opponents 37-26 and both teams committed 11 turnovers each. But the final minutes were so intense that it looked like both teams were playing for the AUBC title all over again.

"Ron Lardge made them when he had to," said Head Coach Gary Heald. Lardge was the Huskies' high scorer with 25 points (12/23 from the field and 1/1 from the line). His biggest hoops came when he put the last six points on the scoreboard to tie the game 62-62.

Captain Rod Buckland made his presence well felt offensively, netting 5 out of 11 attempts from the field and 3 of 6 from the line for a 13 point game. Rod Latter and Cliff (Pop) Harris hooped for 11 points each.

Latter played a physical game under the boards and was SMU's leading rebounder with 15. But the physical play got him into foul trouble early in the second half and he fouled out with a little over two minutes left in regulation time. He and X-men forward John Hatch were on top of each other much of the evening.

"I play a more physical game against Hatch because he plays very physical. If we can hold him to around 20 points in a game we'll win, no question. He hasn't really hurt us yet with a 48 point game like he did to Acadia."

Bill Marshall, defensive stronghold, who also scored 7 points adds: "Defensively against St. F.X. we concentrate on the rest of the team. You can't really shut down guys like John Hatch or our Rob Latter. They're probably two of the finest players in the country."

In his fourth game in a Huskies' uniform, Florida native Cliff (Pop) Harris is quickly proving himself. His strong leaping ability (like his Ft. Lauderdale buddy Ron Lardge) is making him a powerful force on offence and defence.

"I really love it here. The team, the students, the teachers - they're all great. The weather is... well, you know all about the weather. By the end of the month I should be totally adjusted and in gear with the team."

Naturally, the atmosphere on the other bench wasn't as light. X-men Coach Steve Konchalski looked very disturbed as he watched his team's lead dwindle away in the final minute and a half. He looked even more displeased when his team marched to the foul line and missed time and time again especially during the overtime. It's no surprise that John Hatch and Chris Sellitri were the big point getters for the X-men. The power forward Hatch 12 10/22 from the field and 9/15 from the line for 29 points. He also grabbed 8 rebounds. Sellitri was 4/10 from the field and 4/6 from the line for 12 points.

The St. Marys Huskies and the St. F.X. X-men will go at it again at the Metro Center on Saturday, Feb. 4 at 3:00 p.m.

Talbot wins with 1st Round TKO

by Dale Rafuse

Fast and furious is about the only way you could describe Ken Talbot's kick boxing bout on Saturday at the Olympic Gardens. He stopped Gary Craft at 0:59 seconds of the first round when Craft refused to fight following several kicks to the head and a totally fictitious kick to the mid-section, that put him on the mat.

"If the guy doesn't have the guts to fight he shouldn't be in the ring!" said a disgusted Talbot after the fight. "Man, I was having a great fight, I felt great."

The fight had capped a five fight presentation promoted by Paul Talbot and sanctioned by the Canadian Kick Boxing Federation.

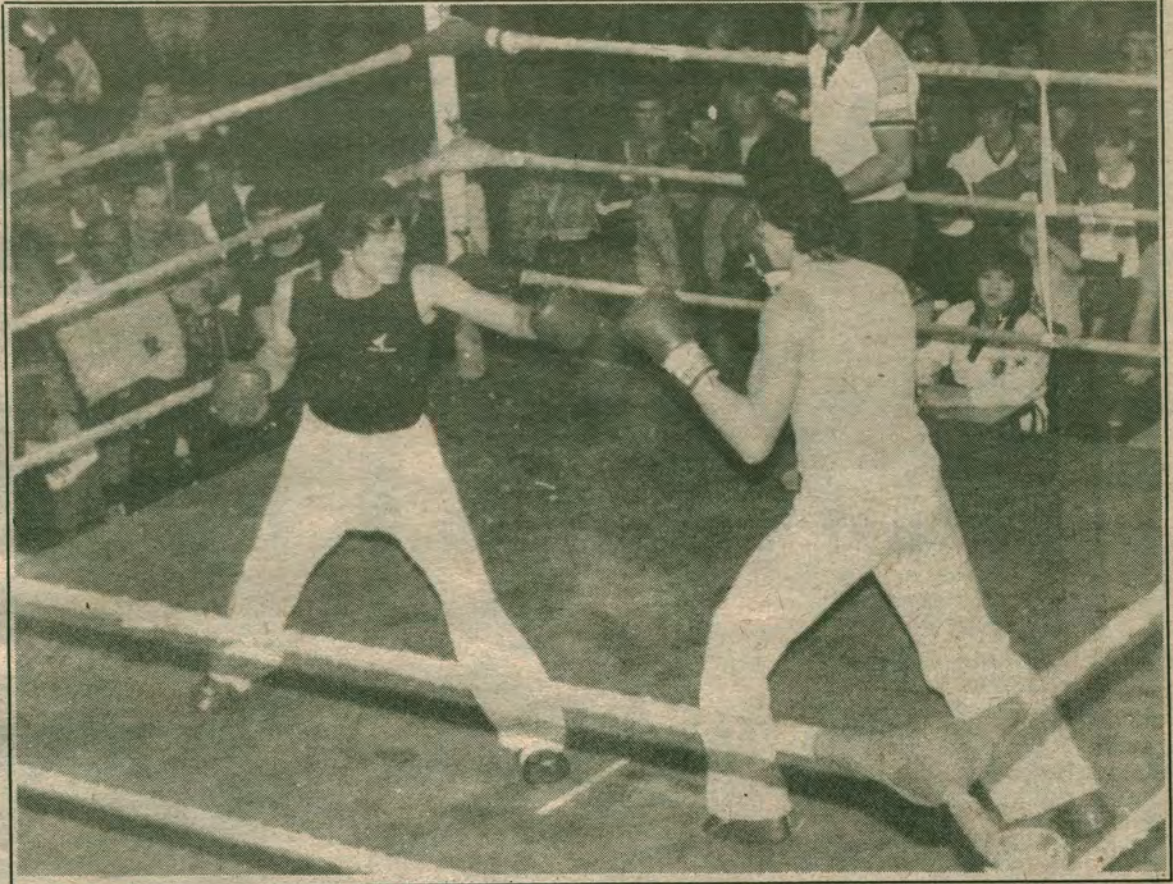

The best fight of the day, and the only one to go the three round distance, was the semi feature, featuring Ken's brother, Paul Talbot, and Greg Mitchell. Mitchell was the aggressor and carried the fight to the counter-punching Talbot, but went away with the most punishment. Time after time Mitchell would lead with a kick, only to be sent reeling by a combination of punches. In the second round a mouse developed under Mitchell's right eye and by the end of the fight the eye was all but closed. Talbot was awarded an unanimous decision for his efforts, Mitchell got a bloodied face.

On the undercard Mike Nolan stopped Tiny Brown with a 2nd round TKO; Craig Mollins knocked out Wayne Miller at 1:35 of the first round; and in the curtain raiser, John Hart stopped Mike Dorey with a 3rd round TKO.

An excellent crowd jammed the Olympic Gardens for a very entertaining day of kick boxing. Former Canadian Middleweight Champion, Ralph Hollett was the referee and entertainer Tony Quinn was the Master of Ceremonies. An excellent halftime presentation was delivered by Mr. Nova Scotia, Larry Lee, and his array of male and female bodybuilders, and by comedians Kenny MacKaye and Leonard Kaye.

Promoter Paul Talbot and Ralph Hollett are now making plans for near-future Kick Boxing cards for Moncton and Halifax. Judging from their first endeavors, their future cards should be a big success.
